MILITARY BALL IS TO BE BROADCAST

PARTY WILL BE DESCRIBED IN ONE AND A HALF HOUR PROGRAM FROM KSAC

John Barhydt Will Handle the Microphone as Master of Ceremonies—Presentation of Honorary Officers

An hour and a half broadcast at 10:30 p. m. over station KSAC will describe the procedure of the tenth annual military ball tomorrow night at the Wagon Wheel ballroom. It was recently announced by Albert A. Thornbrough, cadet colonel of the regiment and in charge of the ball.

The grand march and presentation of the honorary cadet colonel and three honorary cadet majors will be the climax of this all-school formal. Military caps will be presented to these four cadets selected as honorary field officers for the year.

They were recently elected by the entire regiment from a group of seven upperclass women nominated by the advanced students in R. O. T. C. The candidates are Virginia Dole, Salina, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Donna Johnson, Cleburne, Chi Omega; Gladys Niles, Liberal, Delta Delta Delta; Ivernia Danielson, Manhattan, Alpha Delta Pi; Pauline Crawford, Luray, Alpha Xi Delta; Lucille Johnitz, Abilene, Alpha Delta Pi; and Betty Powell, Topeka, Chi Omega.

Pres. and Mrs. F. D. Farrell and Lieut. Col. and Mrs. John S. Sullivan will be in the receiving line at the ball.

For the broadcast Lyle Longsdorf, program director for KSAC, will give the station announcements, and John Barhydt will be master of ceremonies. Pee Wee Brewster's band will play for the dancing.

Cadet Colonel Thornbrough has appointed the following committees to have charge of details for the ball: Dean Swift, cadet lieutenant colonel, as chairman of the committee on ticket sales; Joe McNay, cadet major, as chairman of the committee on grand march and procedure; Howard Moreen, cadet major, as chairman of the committee on invitations and broadcast; and W. E. Combs as chairman of the committee on decorations.

Tickets for the ball this year are lower than they have been for a number of years. They may be purchased from nearly any student taking advanced R. O. T. C.

SENIOR MEN'S PAN-HEL NAMES HERB BECKETT

Don Porter and Leonard Zerull Are Vice-President and Secretary-Treasurer

Herbert Beckett, Phi Delta Theta, has been elected the new president of the Senior Men's Pan Hellenic organization. Other officers elected at the meeting Monday night at the Alpha Gamma Rho house were Don Porter, Delta Tau Delta, vice-president; and Leonard Zerull, Phi Kappa, secretary-treasurer.

Part of the business meeting was devoted to the planning of the winter party which will be held February 2. A discussion of the new rushing rules was also important.

Retiring officers are Bill Asbill, Kappa Sigma, president; George Kerr, Acacia, vice-president; and Bill Seales, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, secretary-treasurer.

STAGE SHOW AT VARSITY

Troupe of Twenty Singers and Dancers Here Two Nights

A cast of 20 or more musicians and dancers will appear on the stage of the Varsity theater Friday and Saturday. Lela May and her southern beauties and Erwin Gline and his Kentucky Kolonels will be included in the troupe. Milton Wolf, singing and dancing master of ceremonies, will present McCurdy and Gill in a minstrel skit; Miss Armstrong, acrobatic dancer; Andre and Marianne, aristocrats of the dance; King and Armstrong, variety dancing team; George King, California dancing pantomimist; and Eddie Steeland, piano accordion expert. The show is said to have a group of unusually pretty dancing girls.

Maxine Campbell, a freshman in general science, was one of those awarded $25 at bank night at the Varsity theater last night.

SCIENCE CLUB MEETING

The plains shelter belt project will be discussed by Paul H. Roberts, acting director of the project, at a meeting of the science club next Monday evening at 7:30 in room 58 of Calvin hall. The public is invited to attend.

Graduation Date Is Moved Up—Finals Period Is Shortened

The customary 6½-day exam period has collapsed into a straight four-day endurance grind.

No more can the poor students groop out of the strenuous sessions for a reviving smoke or that coke that refreshes and incidentally, for some extra dope on the next exam from a pal who happened to be hanging around. Instead there will be need of traffic officers to hold the Anderson entrances open while the mass of colors and forms pushes through from one test to the next in order to complete their schedule in the brief four days.

The fellow who planned to have a lot of time for cramming is terribly disappointed, and we hear a few complaints from others although we realize that most of them would have asked for their exams in the first few days of the period anyhow.

Perhaps we don't all know that this heart-rending decision came to us at the hands of our board of deans. There was a necessity for changing the commencement date in the spring from Thursday noon to Monday evening. Because spring exams begin on Thursday morning before baccalaureate Sunday, the proper time for them to end seemed to be at 6 o'clock Monday evening before commencement and thus it was planned. Of course, it would not be fair to curtail the spring exam period and allow 6½ days for the winter semester exams, so the final ruling fixing the examination period at four days each semester end.

The music department still has a heart and will endeavor to quell the tempests within the brains of the harassed and bewildered students during the period January 21 to January 25 inclusive. This attempt will be in the form of a 30-minute recital each day beginning at 12:30. If the sweet strains of music can quiet ferocious beasts or soften the hearts of savages its effect upon these exam-ridden students should be marvelous. We only hope that many persons who spent the previous night in study do not relax completely and fall to awaken in time for their next examination.

KANSAS STATE GRAD'S ART WORK ON DISPLAY

EIGHTEEN OIL PAINTINGS BY STANLEY P. HUNT HERE

On Third Floor of Mechanical Engineering Building—Praised by Parisian Art Magazine

Eighteen oil paintings by Stanley P. Hunt, who received his bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering here in 1919 and later took more work here from 1923 to 1926 under Prof. John F. Helm and Walter Dehner, are on exhibit on the third floor of the mechanical engineering building.

Some of the same works that are on exhibit here were recently given laurels by La Revue Moderne Illustrée, an artists' magazine published in Paris, when it told of an art exhibition in New York. Enumerating Mr. Hunt's accomplishments and possibilities, the magazine article praised the many things he had done for art and "his noticeable ability by composition of his landscapes . . . that he has known how to use the resources of his profession in the greatest expression of its quality . . . It is not important where he studied before but the thought which animates the work of this painter follows uses of his own conception." His luminous works and his attention to details were praised highly. Two of his works, Red Cliffs and Red Rocks Canyon, were given special praise. Both of these pictures are in the engineering building.

The Rocky Mountain News of October 2 also praised Hunt's work. It says, "His pictures are filled with energy, and the paint surfaces are pitted with a vigorous palette knife technique often raw, sometimes chaotic, they have a certain dynamic quality of landscape expression which compels the observer to pause and consider them. We feel that in each of them there is an attitude of courage and independent working out of unusual problems, expressed through the love of rather highly surfaces of pigment. They are nearly expressionistic with tensioned and furrowed surfaces, patterns which writhe, and color which glitters almost coldly. There is a promise in these pictures, a promise which sustains their lack of clarity in composition and their deficiency in color mechanics."

Dr. Howard T. Hill was the speaker at the monthly meeting of the Collegiate 4-H club Thursday evening.

LOOKING AHEAD IS FORUM SUBJECT

AIMS, OBJECTIVES OF FARRELL'S 20-YEAR PLAN DISCUSSED TUESDAY NIGHT

A Rather Lively Discussion Takes Place at Dynamis-Sponsored Meeting—J. T. Willard Speaks For the President

The aims and objectives of President Farrell's 20-year plan was the subject of a rather lively discussion Tuesday night at the student faculty forum. The purpose of the meeting was to look to the future progress of Kansas State college in curricula, examinations, and housing.

Dr. J. T. Willard, vice-president of the college, representing the faculty, summarized the recommendations which the various divisions of the college have made to President Farrell concerning needed improvements. He said that no great changes in the curricula were anticipated but that many of the courses would be liberalized, especially in the divisions of veterinary medicine and engineering. To do this, he said, might mean the lengthening of the veterinary course to six years, and the engineering courses to five years.

Leslie King, president of the college Y. M. C. A., representing the students, said there was an overproduction of college graduates today and that more attention has been paid to the quantity than to the quality of graduates. If colleges wish success in their systems they must have a definite method of placing their students after graduation, he said.

After giving a short history of the college, he compared the plan of teaching here, with the European plan and also with the plan used by the University of Chicago and Harvard.

Miss Frances Aicher talked on the probable development of the curricula. She stressed the need of a liberal education. Especially should more attention be given to written and spoken English, she said.

The "project system" in use at the University of Chicago was described by Clarence Bell. In this system, the student is held responsible for the material presented in class, but is not required to attend. He also discussed examinations as to type and frequency.

Miss Sarah Ann Grimes discussed the building recommendations of a faculty committee of which Prof. Paul Weigel, head of the department of architecture, is chairman. This committee has proposed the completion of the stadium and library and the addition to the administration, engineering, agricultural, and veterinary buildings.

In the general discussion which followed, Prof. E. R. Lyon, of the department of physics, suggested that fraternity and sorority officers be required to pledge their allegiance to the student governing association, so that in the case of an emergency the S. G. A. would have an organized group behind it to enforce its decrees.

Student opinion varied as to curriculum and types of examinations. However, Professor Lyon said that problems could not be corrected by courses, but by more application on the part of the student.

NUMBER OF STUDENTS ON MEAL PLAN DOUBLE

Thirteen Cents a Meal and Three Hours Work a Week Is The System

During the first semester of this school year the number of students working on the cooperative meal plan at the college cafeteria has doubled, according to Mrs. Bonnie Brooks West of the institutional economics department. Thirteen cents a meal and three hours work a week will assure well-balanced meals for 200 Kansas State students during the second semester, which begins January 20.

"Of course, the meals are the same quality we serve to our regular cafeteria patrons," Mrs. West said. "They are planned by the department of institutional economics and prepared by cafeteria cooks."

A representative group of students taking part in the plan would show debaters, athletes, musicians, fraternity and sorority members, she said. Working hours are adjusted to fit class schedules.

Meal tickets will go on sale January 15 to students working under the plan. The tickets are $9 each and include 68 meals. Seventeen meals are served each week, none being served Saturday evening or Sunday.

In addition to obtaining good meals economically, the students enjoy the social advantages of eating in a group," said Mrs. West. "They plan parties for their group, too, whenever they choose." The plan of cooperative meal work is a service to students, it was explained especially to the men students for whom the college has no residence hall.

INTO ALPHA KAPPA PSI

Plans were discussed for the initiation to be held soon for 7 pledges taken into the organization in November at a business meeting of Alpha Kappa Psi, men's professional fraternity in commerce, held Tuesday evening at the Phi Kappa house. Charles Engel, Woodbine, was elected treasurer to succeed D. P. Teed, who left college to accept a position with the Gifford-Breidford Auditing company.

The new pledges who will soon be initiated into the organization are: Carl Kirk, Winfield; L. K. Lancaster, Junction City; Fred Bramlage, Junction City; Maurice Gunn, Great Bend; F. J. Rohen, Topeka; K. E. Johnson, Newton; and Wayne Thornbrough, Lakin.

FIFTY APPLY FOR LOANS

Approximately 50 students have applied for loans for the coming semester since December 26. These 50 applications total $3,145, according to Kenney L. Ford, alumni secretary. Other applications were approved before this date. During the first semester the loans amounted to $9,000.

Department of physics, suggested that fraternity and sorority officers be required to pledge their allegiance to the student governing association, so that in the case of an emergency the S. G. A. would have an organized group behind it to enforce its decrees.

Student opinion varied as to curriculum and types of examinations. However, Professor Lyon said that problems could not be corrected by courses, but by more application on the part of the student.

FINAL EXAMS BY A NEW SYSTEM

ONLY FOUR DAYS FOR THE TESTS WILL BE ALLOWED

Week and One Day Formerly Given for Finals—All Current History Finals Conducted During the Same Period

The close of this semester will witness the introduction of a new system for giving final examinations at Kansas State. The examination schedule is made out to provide only four days for the taking of tests, whereas in the past a week and one day have been allowed for exam taking.

In contrast to the past practice of starting finals on Friday and completing them on Saturday the following week, this year's finals will start at Tuesday noon and end the following Saturday at noon.

However, one hour classes scheduled for Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, or Saturday only, will hold final examinations during the regular class period on January 21, 15, 16, and 19 respectively.

All other classes scheduled for those days will meet as usual, the tests coming later. One hour classes meeting Thursday and Friday only are shown in the schedule, printed in this issue of the Collegian.

Another change this year is holding all classes in Current History Friday afternoon, January 25, at 3 o'clock. All examinations in Library methods will be given at 4 o'clock, Friday, January 25.

Last year one hour classes meeting on Friday only were held on Friday at the regular class period. Other one hour classes were taken care of in the examination schedule, and no regular classes were held from Saturday to Saturday, only exams.

Classes of two hours or more, one of the meeting days of which is Thursday or Friday, are taken care of in the schedule this year.

THE 'LITTLE ROYAL' FOR FARM, HOME VISITORS

STUDENTS WILL PARTICIPATE IN MOCK LIVESTOCK SHOW

Block and Bridle and Dairy Clubs Will Sponsor Contests in Judging Pavilion Feb. 7

The Little American Royal held annually in connection with Farm and Home week is scheduled for Thursday, February 7, at the college judging pavilion. The Little Royal is sponsored by the Block and Bridle and Dairy clubs, assisted this year by the Agricultural association.

The purpose of the Little American Royal is to furnish good entertainment for visitors at Kansas State college during Farm and Home Week as well as to benefit students participating in fitting and showing animals.

Those on the program committee are Dr. W. E. Grimes, acting dean of agriculture; Prof. David L. Mackintosh of the animal husbandry department; Prof. L. C. Williams of the division of extension; Walter M. Lewis, Larned, president of the Block and Bridle club; Everett Byers, Hepler, president of the Dairy club, and A. A. Thornbrough, Lakin, president of the Agricultural association.

Professor Mackintosh and Walter Lewis head the committee working on the animal husbandry program. Doctor Riddell and Everett Byers are in charge of the committees working on the dairy program. A trophy will be given by both the Block and Bridle and the Dairy clubs to the winners in their contests. Eight ribbons in each of four classes in the animal husbandry contest will be awarded by Block and Bridle; three ribbons in each of eight classes in the dairy contests will be presented by the Dairy club.

The drawing of animals for both dairy and animal husbandry contests will be Saturday, January 26, at 2 o'clock in the judging pavilion. An entry fee of 25 cents will be charged. Students, both boys and girls, from all divisions of the college are eligible to enter the contest.

The program featuring the work of the dairy husbandry department will begin promptly at 7:30 and end not later than 8:45, while the program featuring the animal husbandry department will begin promptly on the termination of the dairy program and end not later than 10 o'clock. ## K-STATE COURT TEAM BEATEN BY WICHITA U

Playing Without Groves, the Wildcats Fail to Hit and Lose, 50 to 34

The Kansas State basketball team, playing without the services of its star center, Groves, lost to the Wichita university team Tuesday night, 50 to 34. Erratic passing and inability to hit the basket, in spite of many opportunities, contributed to the loss.

Railsback and Thornbrough opened the scoring with a goal and free throw for Kansas State, but Wichita soon tied the score and went on to gain an early 14 to 4 lead. From then on the Kansas State team was never close.

Kansas State seemed to have gotten over its jitters somewhat after the first half, which closed 22 to 10. The second half was much more evenly contested with the scoring almost divided. Kansas State's offense functioned well except for the erratic passing which allowed many interceptions by the Wichita players during the early part of the game.

Coach Root expects Groves, who was injured in the Oklahoma City university game Monday night, to be out of the Kansas university and Iowa State battles. An x-ray of Groves' foot showed no fractures. Freeland and Springer took over the center post for the two games.

Coach Root said that Freeland played a good game at center but was needed at forward, where he has been doing excellent work. Younger members of the squad obtained much valuable experience which will be of use later in the season. President Jardine of Wichita university, former Kansas State president, and Dean L. E. Call were guests at the game.

FIVE TOPICS FOR STUDENT DEBATE

PRACTICE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY WILL DISCUSS STATE PROBLEMS NEXT WEEK

All Subjects Chosen Are in Line with State Legislation—Landon May Deliver Own Message to Group

Gov. Alf. M. Landon has not yet indicated the subjects to be presented in his message to the Students' Legislative assembly to be held here next Friday and Saturday, and therefore officers of Pi Kappa Delta, forensic fraternity sponsoring the program, have suggested five topics for debate. Delegates are expected to come with bills ready to hand in to appointed committees for consideration.

The assembly itself is a "new idea" in forensic meets, being a practice law-making session modeled closely after the state legislature which is now in session at Topeka. Nearly 100 debaters from Kansas colleges and universities are expected to gather in recreation center to participate.

Governor Landon will be present for at least one session of the miniature legislature, and he will be the guest of honor and principal speaker at a banquet for the delegates Friday night. The governor will be introduced by Hal Harlan, former speaker of the Kansas house of representatives.

Several other state officials have been invited to be present. The governor may be present at the Friday morning session. If so, he will deliver his own message to the group. Otherwise some other state official will read it.

The subjects for bills to be considered by the assembly are all of current interest to the entire state. Revision of the state tax system is one of the subjects which will come in for the most discussion. It will be attacked from the angles of adoption of a sales tax, abolishing the state general property tax, and broadening the base of the property tax.

State support of education as recommended by the State Teachers' association and approved by the "little legislature" is also expected to draw considerable argument. Old age pensions is another topic and one which will get a thorough "going over" in the legislative session in Topeka this month.

Civil service for all appointive officers similar to the plan recommended by Governor Marland of Oklahoma, and legislation fixing definitely the maximum legal content of beer are also subjects on which bills will be formed. The delegates will decide the issues by a vote which will be taken at the last session.

In his message to the state legislature Wednesday, Governor Landon recommended that a more equitable assessment plan be adopted as a means of placing on the tax rolls property now escaping taxation and thus relieving the burden "by a better distribution" of taxes.

He also called for consideration of any constructive program for old age pensions and asked that a law be formed to fix definitely the legal alcoholic content of a malt beverage. Bills on the other subjects to be debated here have already been handed in to the state meeting.

The Saar Votes

Sunday the people of Saar territory, a small elliptical area of 730 square miles lying between France and Germany, will vote on whether they are to be united with France or to be reunited with Germany or to remain, as at present, under the control of the League of Nations.
The vote is in accordance with the Treaty of Versailles following the World War and will be carried out under the direction of the League.
The most interesting aspect is the League of Nations sending international troops to a foreign country to see that the voting proceeds with orderliness. It is the first clear cut case of the League of Nations' using something besides words to back up its decisions. It means the League has cut its baby teeth.

The question immediately looms:
Can the baby teeth grow into real fangs? Will the League of Nations become a power that nations will not dare defy? If so, world peace would be practically assured. Utopia on earth.

The development of the League of Nations is being watched with keen interest. Is it a step on the long, long path to peace on earth?
Other such developments have occurred of which few persons have doubtless taken note. In the days of the Roman empire, war meant slaughter of women and children as well as combatants. It meant the burning of homes, laying waste to all the land. Prisoners of war were exterminated like so many rats.

But in the slow progress, another step came. Slavery. Rather than kill prisoners of war, it became the custom to use them as slaves. Slavery a step forward? It was.

Non-combatants now spared.
Prisoners into slavery, rather than to death. What steps forward. Next, to the victor belong the spoils, so why destroy the spoils? Homes and property of the conquered were spared.

Next what? War lords held some of their prisoners of war for ransom—sold them back to the prisoner's friends. On the heels of this, came the exchange of prisoners.
This in the Civil War.

The last great step was giving of medical care to the prisoners, this in the World War. The American Red Cross! How the world had changed since prisoners were either butchered or put into slavery!

And now the current development—it has not proved yet to be a step—the League of Nations. A court where balm will be spread on international grievances.

But if a nation sticks its tongue out at the League, when it does not agree with the League's decision, and challenges, "What are you going to do about it?", what is the League going to do about it?

It can't do much about it before it has even cut its baby teeth. But in generations to come, it may cut some that will grow into menacing fangs, fangs that will force difficult decisions without war.

So this Sunday the world will be watching that tiny Saar territory, the hot spot of Europe, trying to determine if the League of Nations will grow into a power to be reckoned with, or whether it will glimmer and fade into history as just another attempt to prevent what seems inevitable, war.

Teacher Pensioning

A school is like a watch. It can be stripped of its chain and charm, and still it runs. But its works must be perfect. A school may have the best of equipment and buildings, but without an efficient, energetic faculty it is not properly serving those who pay taxes for its upkeep and those seeking learning.

After many years, teachers, like the works of a good watch, wear out; they lose that efficiency and energy. But, unlike a watch, they cannot be discarded with no thought of their future. What shall we do with out-teachers when they get old? Down through the years these public servants have had a small income and many demands upon it, partly due to community activities; hence they have usually saved little. Dictates both of humanity and of justice forbid sending them to the poor house. The pension is the only fair solution of the problem.

Teacher pensioning would also insure better instruction for Kansas youth by making the profession more attractive to a superior type.
It would tend to eliminate the transient teacher and make it possible to raise standards and qualifications.

The idea is not a new one. The United States government cares for its civil service employees after they have given many years of governmental service. Religious organizations and large industrial institutions have retirement pensions for their aged, and thus they have increased employee efficiency.

Twenty-five states have teacher pensioning. Thirteen of them secure funds for these pensions from three sources: the Carnegie foundation, state appropriations, and annual contributions from the teacher himself. Twelve other states have somewhat similar plans, though with no aid from the Carnegie foundation.

The aged teachers in the schools of Kansas should have pensions when they are no longer an asset to their institutions. A comprehensive old age pension may not be practicable now. But one for old teachers would not draw too heavily on the state treasury and would be a step in the right direction.—D. F.

Justice To Our Feeble-minded

The State Planning Board should and undoubtedly will soon give some consideration to the institutions for the feeble minded.

The stated purpose toward these inmates, "to render them more comfortable, happy and better fitted to care for themselves," is most certainly not now being carried out in these Kansas institutions. They have no adequate medical attention, no recreational program and practically no educational or vocational opportunities.

Humanity, justice, and economy are all reasons why Kansas should give the inmates the best care and supervision possible. Secondly, the inmates should be grouped according to their mental ability. Educators have long recognized the psychological value of this type of mental grouping.

Future plans should include some sort of vocational work under supervision of trained social workers.
Put the inmates to work! Why keep them in a cell with nothing to do but eat and sleep and stare dully into space?

It is only right and humane that the planning board in the future recommend the above changes. It will be to the advantage of both the state and the institutions.—G. A.

The Delinquent Child

The child of today is the foundation on which the society of tomorrow is built. On him depends whether the state of tomorrow will be a noble structure or a shack.

Broken homes, maladjustments in family life, too much or too little money, or a combination of circumstances beyond the child's power to control causes a large percentage of child delinquents. In Kansas these youthful delinquents must be dealt with by the judge of the county probate court, whose time and energy are too often absorbed by other duties to the lasting detriment of his juvenile work.

Kansas needs three practical improvements in state control of children:

1. A separate juvenile court with greater power and wider jurisdiction.

2. Better trained judges and probation staff.

3. A social welfare clinic which will cooperate with the judge and probation officer.

True, professionally trained men require higher salaries; more men on the staff and the organization of a clinic would be an added expense.

The expense of these preventive measures would in the long run be cancelled, however, because such reforms would result in fewer crim-inal's for the state to deal with later. It is because we are so in-efficiently inefficient in our handling of first offense cases that the cost of crime in the United States has reached the staggering proportions of two billion dollars a year.

Legislators and those who influence public opinion are personally responsible for the laws governing ward children.—M. O.

Painless Learning

A "painless" way to an education is the desire of most students. Few like to grind, fewer still like to be called grinds.

One way, and perhaps the only way, to learn with a minimum of effort is to develop the reading habit, reading books, newspapers, magazines, and reading principally for pleasure, incidentally for knowledge. For example, the English history student can supplement his course by reading Hugh Walpole's books on the Herries family. These books are all interesting. On their pages is painted the pageantry of English history, customs, traditions, down through generations of English life.

Reading newspapers, following up each story of importance keeps one in touch with present day problems of business, economics, world af-airs. This is invaluable in courses such as economics, current history, and the like.

The reading habit is not difficult to acquire. The only requirement is time and desire. By starting with reading the things one likes to read, throwing in just a touch of really serious reading, one builds up a taste for better books or magazines. A person's tastes mature, just as he matures, and the process is effortless, almost imperceptible.

Reading is fun, if one doesn't attempt too heavy a diet until able to enjoy it. The resulting knowledge is invaluable. And no professor would guess, or even care, that the facts one knows were gleaned not from a careful study of the text, but from a novel that was downright fun to read.

A Bible Question

By Dr. A. A. Holtz

Was Jonah swallowed by a whale?
The Bible does not say so. In fact, the word "whale" does not appear in the book of Jonah. Why not read the book of Jonah and discover its real story and purpose?

It is a great missionary challenge.
The author of Jonah uses a mixed metaphor, and while telling of his being in the belly of a fish, also states, "The waters compassed me about even to the soul; the depths closed me round about; the weeds were wrapped about my head," and again, "I went down to the bottoms of the mountains; the earth with her bars was about me forever."
For a figure of speech often used in the Old Testament, compare Jeremiah 51, verse 34: "Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon hath devoured me, he hath crushed me, he hath made me an empty vessel, he hath filled his belly with my delicacies, he hath filled his belly with my delicacies, he hath cast me out."

The Snooper

The biggest thing that will happen this weekend is the Military ball. This show is held for several reasons. The first being so that the military department, with the cooperation of those taking military (even the resisters can get in on this), can decide who is to be the honorary colonel, major, and what have you. The second reason is so that the social season can be re-opened with an all-school party so that everybody can get together in monkey suits and the formal attire usually attributed to women—that is, the evening gown. The last reason, and perhaps the hidden secret of it all, it offers a chance for the new advanced students to wear their new uniforms. The party is to be broadcast so that fond parents may have the opportunity to hear Junior swishing around the dance floor.

The other day one of the most sterling of the silver-throated Sig Eps went down town for a glass of —, we mean that he happened to be down—, anyway he started looking at a new car which happened to be a demonstrator. The energetic salesman, seeing the possibility of a sale and not knowing that he was a college boy, started in on his sales talk; the affair ended up with the promise of a demonstration the following day—and the college boy being an old meanie and practical joker gave his name as Hugo Shade and said he lived at a certain address (which happened to be the Phi Omega Psi house). It all goes to show the quick-wittedness of some people and the fact that some people are just half as quick as others.

One of the newest romances is really coming along quite unmercifully. Soapy Woodbury and the little Chi Omega bundle of joy, Max-line Huse, seem to believe themselves that maybe there is really something to this love business after all. If we're wrong do not hold it against us, you can't find something to write about all of the time.

Can you imagine a Phi Phi with a bad taste in her mouth? It seems that Marlene Dappen, she's such a quiet gal, too, was in some sort of a chemistry class and had to suck some reaction into a pipette and it happened to get into her mouth; that didn't even phase the gal so she immediately let the instructor feed her some other mixture and it really made one big, bad taste in her mouth. Let us add that she was injured in no way whatsoever. She has learned one thing, that's just how some of the people feel when they wake up in the morning.

Basketball Season Thus Far

Frank Groves, star center, leads the scoring of the Kansas State basketball team in the six games which they have played so far this season. Groves, who has played in only five of the six games due to a foot injury, has made 20 field goals and 8 free throws for a total of 48 points. Lee Rallsback, guard, is next in the scoring with 10 field goals and 6 charity tosses for a total of 26 points. Capt. Oren Stoner, a guard this year after playing two years at forward, follows with 6 goals from the field and 12 throws from the charity lane for a total of 24 points. Thornbrough and Freeland are close behind with 21 points and 18 points, respectively. Art Tellejohn, forward, is the lowest scorer of the regulars with 2 field goals and 1 free throw.

Of the regulars, Groves is credited with the most field goals, 20, and Wayne Thornbrough, forward, is next with just half that number. Art Tellejohn is the perfect free thrower of the regulars, making 1 out of 1. Rallsback is a close second with 6 out of 7. Captain Stoner is third with 12 out of 20, and Groves trails with 8 hits in 21 tries. Captain Stoner leads the team in rough play having committed 17 fouls; Groves follows with 10. Gilpin and Tellejohn are the easy-going Wildcats, each having been called only five times.

The following is a chart of the players who have gotten in the six games played thus far:

Player	F.G.	F.T.	Made	T.F.T.	Fouls
Groves, c	20	8	21	10	48
Rallsback, g	10	6	7	7	26
Stoner, f (c)	6	12	20	17	24
Thornbrough, f	10	1	3	9	21
Freeland, f	7	4	7	10	18
Gilpin, g	3	3	6	5	10
Ayers, f	3	3	4	2	9
Armstrong, f	2	2	3	2	6
Tellejohn, f	2	1	1	5	5
Marshall, f	2	0	0	2	4
Plick, g	1	0	0	0	2
Hays, g	0	1	1	0	1

As a whole, the team made 192 points against opponents 246. Considering the exhibition games with K. U. as being under regular game conditions, the total points would be K. S. 174, opponents, 226. Kansas State leads opponents in only one phase of the game thus far this season and that is in their ability to foul. Kansas State has fouled 73 times during the six games but their opponents are close behind with 65. Kansas State has made 55.26% of their free throws, or 42 out of 76. The opposition has garnered 62.5% of their charity tosses, getting 50 free points out of a possible 80. Out of a possible 18, Kansas State took 16 time-outs and opponents took only 11.

The following chart compares Kansas State with the teams it has been up against thus far this season, namely, K. U., Oklahoma university, Oklahoma City university, and Wichita university:

Teams	F.G.	Made	T.F.T.	Fouls	T.Pts.
Kansas U.	9	8	13	8	35 or 26
K. S. (first game)	11	6	9	14	39 or 28
Kansas U.	11	7	11	8	40 or 29

Sportseye

Lee Morgan, former Kansas State athlete, helps Frank Root's many headaches by suggesting that what the Wildcats need is Morgan and Blaine at the guard positions. He also mentions that if the 12-foot baskets had been in use last year the Morgan-Blaine combination wouldn't have shot so many balls over the backboard. . . . to all of which we say "amen."

Kansas State's basketball team took a trip to the southward, had a good time, but failed to win any games. . . . and the main trouble, as we see it, is the defense. In three of the four games played, the Wildcats scored over thirty points. . . . enough to win most ordinary ball games. In their two game series with Oklahoma, Kansas State scored a total of 68 points as compared to 85 for the Sooners. Against Wichita university the score was 50 to 34, every Wildcat was hitting. . . . but so was Wichita. With the shifting of Paul Gilpin from guard to a forward position Coach Root seems to have found a good combination. Gilpin is a good defensive man and can also sink 'em once in a while. . . . In the six games played, and counting the goals made in the two exhibition games with Kansas as two points instead of three, the Wildcats have scored 174 points and have allowed 226 to be chalked up against them. Frank Groves leads in individual scoring with 48 points, Rallsback is runner-up with 26, Captain Stoner has 24, and Thornbrough takes fourth place having 21. . . . Thus we have two guards, not to mention a center, ahead of the forwards in the scoring list. . . . which is somewhat out of the ordinary. . . . but don't pull that one about Kansas State not having an ordinary basketball team. . . .

K-STATE MEETS IOWA WASHDAY

FIRST BIG SIX HOME GAME FOR COACH FRANK ROOT'S MEN MONDAY NIGHT

Five Lettermen Back—Arrive Here Sunday From Lincoln Where They Meet the Cornhuskers
Tomorrow Night

When the Kansas State basketball team meets Iowa State in its first Big Six home game in the Nichols-gymnasium Monday, January 14, they will be playing a team that is at the head of the conference with Kansas and Oklahoma.

The Iowa team has five lettermen back this year and these men are playing most of the game. One non-letter man, Jack Flemming, a sophomore, has been seeing a lot of playing in the place of John Cowan.

Iowa will be wearing the colors cardinal and gold. Their nickname as many fans already know is the "Cyclones." The captain of the Cyclones is Frank Hood. He is a senior and plays guard.

This Saturday they will play Nebraska at Lincoln and then will come here Sunday for the game Monday night. Iowa does not play a double round robin as some of the teams so this will be the only game that the fans will get to see them play.

As for the Kansas State team no definite squad has been selected for the game with Iowa. The injuries of Frank Groves and Ralph Marshall have changed the formation of the squad very much says Coach Root. If Groves is able to play the regular squad will be used but it is doubtful that he will be over his injury.

The starting lineup for Iowa will be:

	Pos.	H.	W.
Jack Cowan	F	6'11"	185
Jack Flemming	F	6'	155
Holmes	G	5'11"	167
Frank Hood	G	6'2"	205
Waldo Wegner	C	6'4"	197

Announces Engagement

Miss Mary Porter, Delta Delta Delta, chosen queen of the Ag Barnwarmer last year and one of the popularity winners in a Manhattan contest, and Mr. Jake Spring, Phi Delta Theta, nominated last year as Kansas State's best dressed man, announced their engagement last night. Miss Porter is a member of Enchiladas. Mr. Spring will graduate this year from the division of veterinary medicine.

Fulton-Alexander

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Fulton-Alexander, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Independence, Missouri, December 23, at the First Methodist church in Wichita.

Zeta Tau Alpha announces the pledging of Genevieve Johnson, Frankfort, Louise Reed, Parsons, was a guest at the house Thursday night.

Phi Beta Phi had its annual football banquet Thursday night. The guests were Dick Armstrong, Leo Ayers, Orin Stoner, Henry Kirk, Paul Fanning, Orin Burns, Ivan Wassberg, George Maddox, Leland Shaffer, Dan Partner, Bob Holland, Ralph Churchill, Red Plentroppe, Maurice Elder, Ted Warren, Jim Edwards, Jim Freeland, Lloyd Sconce, Dean Griffing, Don Beeler, Barney Hays, Gene Sundgren, and Bob Kirk. Dinner guests Tuesday night were Shirley Ann Sanders, Elizabeth Nabours, Mildred Beatty, and Maxine Danielson.

Clover announces the engagement of Helen Hayward of Valley Falls to Leo Flentis of Centralia. Ellen Brownley was a guest at Wednesday night dinner. Clover held open house for Phi Lambda Theta on Tuesday evening. Mary Courtis spent the weekend in Overbrook. Mildred Hoch visited in Emporia Sunday.

Alpha Delta Pi: Mr. and Mrs. George Meese, of Hutchinson, visited their daughter, Georgia, on the way to Topeka this weekend. Miss Helen Ywener, Junction City, was a guest at the house Sunday evening.

Delta Delta Delta: Ruth Wilson was a dinner guest Wednesday of Mary Leo Braerton.

This'n' That

Finally we have something on the Tri Deltas! These girls were so highly insulted when it was suggested once before in these columns that nothing ever happened at the Delta Delta Delta domicile that they should appreciate any publicity that they get whether it be adverse or not. Anyway—one of the pledges (we promised not to say who because it might ruin her chances with the fellas and we really wouldn't want to do that) is engaged to a fellow back in the old home town, but while in school she wears her diamond on the right hand. Also she is favoring one of the Sig Ep hot shots this week-end and taking him to the Goldiggers ball. . . . Leo Ayers will be a bit more careful about stepping out on Oda Mae next time. It sounds as if she really meant business when she said that he could come up and get his picture just anytime. . . . These football boys aren't so dumb after all. When someone asked "Rockfist" Shaffer to the Goldiggers ball he ejaculated, "Nothin' doing. I went to one of them things once and I'm never goin' to another. Not even with the Queen of England I wouldn't." . . . But others like Bill Butz and Jimmy Mayden are conceited enough to believe that they would get cut if they did get asked and no one will ask them. . . . Not to be outdone by the Chi Omegas the Alpha Deltas reported the marriage Tuesday noon of one of their pledges, Virginia McFarland of Chase to her home town boyfriend. Virginia's love, however, either could not afford to keep her in school or else thought it would be nicer to have her at home because she's quit school—and po-o-f-f goes another house bill. . . . Although engagements have been practically ignored due to the excess of more definite leaps, Camilla Wallace passed the chocolates at the Alpha Delt house Wednesday night. Probably her K. U. boy friend doesn't realize how things are being done here or else he has enough money to be able to afford a pin (or a diamond) and a ring too. . . . In order to save his reputation of other years (we didn't say what reputation) Dannie Partner is going to Hutchinson and bring Pettibon back for the brawly Friday night. . . . All the Phi Phi pledges ought to be able to make their pins this year if studying can do anything for them because they are certainly going to have enough time to spend over their books. After being skipped out on for the third time the activities decided to take things under control and clamped a week's campus on them. No dates, no jelling, no sitting on the wall, no riding in cars, and no nothing. . . . It is said in Tri Delt circles (or should we say triangles) that Mary Porter and Frankie Jamison will not be in school next semester. We wonder why? . . . Plans to board up the third floor of the ADPI house are being made. Five of the girls are having to move in the dormitory next semester because they are home economics students. . . . Why not ask Stoner how he likes to play pudgy-wudgy?

FRY NEW COACH; WALDORF TO EVANSTON

WALDORF ASS'T IS NAMED BY COUNCIL

ACTION ON FRY'S ASSISTANT DEFERRED—WALDORF TO NORTHWESTERN'S HELM

"Difficult to Find Place to Coach Where Athletic Policy As . . . Wholesomely Administered As Here," Says Fry

The athletic council of Kansas State college voted yesterday afternoon to recommend to the state board of regents that Wes (Flowboy) Fry, be appointed new head coach of football to succeed Lynn O. Waldorf, who goes to Northwestern university. Action on a new assistant coach has been deferred until the athletic council can interview prospective candidates for the position.

Wes Fry, in a statement to the press after the board meeting, said, "I am very happy over the opportunity here, especially after receiving the council's vote of confidence after being here such a brief period of time. It would be difficult to find a place to coach where the athletic policy is as soundly conceived and wholesomely administered as here. That fact, conjoined with a very fine attitude toward athletics on the part of the citizens of Manhattan provides a real setting for athletics as they should be conducted.

"We all regret the loss of Lynn Waldorf whom I regard as one of the country's finest coaches but I

FRY'S ASSISTANT UNNAMED

However, Stanley Williamson of Oklahoma is one of prominent candidates

No assistant to Wes Fry has been named yet. However, Stanley Williamson, assistant coach to Fry at the University of Oklahoma City, and the successor to Fry's position as head coach of that school, is regarded as a prominent candidate. Williamson is a line coach. He gained national prominence playing for the University of Southern California, in the line, under Howard Jones. Fry played under Jones at Iowa.

feel sure the school, city, and squad are happy for him in his professional advancement and certainly wish him success.

"I have no predictions to make except that we guarantee not to excel the conference record of this year. We have a fine squad both as football players and as boys, which should provide us with some sort of football team for next year.

"There will be little change in our style of football and none will be made for the sake of being different. There are several good ways of playing football but all of them come back to the same thing and include speed, hard blocking, and alertness, together with the desire

COMMISSIONS MEET

A joint meeting of the Freshman Y. W. and Y. M. commissions will hear Prof. Roy C. Langford of the department of education discuss the psychology of worrying about final examinations in rec center Thursday evening at 7:15. The meeting will be over by 8:30. Special music and a mixer are included on the program.

Waldorf's Farewell

A Professional Advancement He Feels He Cannot Afford to Turn Down—Regrets Parting with Squad

I leave Kansas State with many regrets. This year has been the most pleasant year that I have ever experienced. But I believe that the opportunity to coach at Northwestern offers a professional advancement that I could not afford to turn down. I feel that at Kansas State there is the finest and most wholesome athletic spirit to be found in any school in this part of the country. I want to particularly express to the student body my appreciation for their fine spirit and support this year. I particularly hate to part from the fine group of boys on the squad to whom I have become greatly attached during the time we have been together.

MISS DONNA JOHNSON IS HONORARY COLONEL

At the tenth annual military ball Saturday night at the Warehouse ballroom, Miss Donna Johnson, Cleburne, was announced as honorary cadet colonel of the R. O. T. C. regiment for the year. Honorary cadet majors presented were Miss Gladys Niles, Liberal, first battalion; Miss Ivernia Danielson, Manhattan, second battalion; and Miss Betty Powell, Topeka, third battalion.

In the receiving line were Vice-President J. T. Willard, Mary P. Van Zile, Lieut. Col. and Mrs. John S. Sullivan, Miss Virginia Dole, and Cadet Colonel A. A. Thornbrough. Guests present included Dean and Mrs. R. W. Babcock, Dean and Mrs. H. J. C. Umberger, and cadets from the Kansas and Wichita university R. O. T. C. units. Miss Natalie Ring, honorary cadet colonel of the Wichita regiment, was conspicuous in a white military suit, overseas cap, and riding boots.

An hour and a half broadcast beginning at 10:30 was a distinctive feature of the ball. John Barhydt was master of ceremonies with P. E. Warner describing the grand march. Pee Wee Brewster's band played.

TOWNSEND PLAN DEBATE SUBJECT

CALIFORNIA TEAM HERE FOR FORENSIC MEET TOMORROW NIGHT

Both Sides of Much Discussed Old Age Pension Plan Will Be Argued in Rec Center

Kansas State debaters will argue with representatives of the University of California on the widely discussed Townsend old age pension plan in recreation center tomorrow night at 8 o'clock. The program is open to the public with no admission charge.

Great national public interest in the program, which is the product of a retired California physician, prompted the west coast university to send two of its best forensic speakers, Ervin Anderson and Lucarna Detering, on an eastern tour to support the proposition in a series of debates. Beulah Brown, Abilene, and Nathan Shapiro, Manhattan, will present the negative side for Kansas State. Under the California doctor's plan all persons over 60 providing they were not habitual criminals, would receive a pension of $200 from the government each month. They would be required, however, to spend all of it in the United States within 30 days. Supporters of the plan claim that if it is adopted the resulting increase in demand for goods will boom industry and bring the depression to an end. In theory other advantages of the program at work would be a noted decrease in crime because of security from poverty in old age, and the creation of 8 million additional jobs. The financing of the plan would be taken care of by a sales tax on all commodities. It would be financially impossible to operate because of the huge sums—24 billion dollars annually—involved, opponents of the plan declare. The annual operating cost would be more than 75 per cent of the total sales of 1933 and over 50 per cent of the sales for 1929.

Debaters of the negative side claim that the plan in action would not bring about an increased purchasing power but would be merely a transfer of money. If the measure is adopted it will result in economic ruin for the country, they state. The author of the plan is now in Washington to get a bill introduced into congress. Townsend claims to have 25 million followers in the United States and the support of practically every senator and representative in the mountain and pacific coast states.

Once Aroma of Food in Kedzie; Inky Smell Now

Where Students Now Gather to Read the Exchange, Cooks Once Cut Roast Beef and Baked Pies for Kedzie Hall Once Housed the Cafeteria—Thompson Hall Relieved Heavy Congestion

By Max Beeler

One would hardly believe that Kedzie hall, with its professionally journalistic atmosphere and inky smell, once was subjected to the aroma of cooking food, or that in the Collegian room where one now hears the click of many typewriters there was once the clink of many knives, forks, and thick plates.

But it is true. A photograph on the bulletin board in K30, and a sign in front of the main doors of the building, that before 1922 explained Kedzie as "Printing and Cafeteria," prove it.

Cafeteria in Kedzie Before and during the days when Thompson hall, more commonly known to Kansas State students as "the cafeteria," was merely a blue print, Kedzie was the place where ravenous students came to satisfy the cry of that inner man. The front offices were occupied by the manager of the cafeteria and by her (or it might have been his) assistant.

Those students who are anxious nowadays about printing grades and should happen to find themselves in Prof. Ed Amos' office could scarcely believe they stand on a spot where sundry student dishwashers fearful of being late to one o'clock classes once hurried to get the clean dishes stacked back on the shelves, or that just outside the door in the orderly and dignified (?) reading room, where future reporters and others now gather to read the world's latest developments from daily newspapers, the cafeteria cooks once cut roast beef and baked pies, or that on the walls now decorated by shelves of newspapers once were placed pots and pans. It was in those days before 1922 the second floor of Kedzie saw the journalism and English departments functioning in cramped quarters of very little floor space. What is today an English professor's office was then a crowded Collegian practice room. Neither department appreciated the cramped quarters. Each was experiencing growing pains and needed room to change from the rompers of youth into the long trousers that denote collegiate young manhood. And then the new cafeteria was completed. Journalism, tired of its strained condition, probably breathed a sigh of relief before it fell downstairs to cover the lower floor and basement.

Ate in Collegian Office All traces of the kitchen and dining room with their culinary airs disappeared and in their stead, in a section of the dining room, the equipment and busy atmosphere of the Collegian practice room. In the remainder of the old dining room students now are busy in job composition and typography labs working on type cases where once Kansas State students worked on steaks and soup. The little "back porch" which had been more or less of a private tea room became a club room, ready for sessions of Sigma Delta Chi and Theta Sigma Phi, journalism honoraries.

The evolution of Kedzie was not confined to the first floor, however. The English department extended and expanded to include the entire second story and now English professors preside over offices that once had been cluttered with newspapers and copy.

C. L. MORGAN TALKS ON MODERN ARCHITECTURE

SPEAKS BEFORE CONTEMPORARY THOUGHT CLASS

An Architect Must Learn What to Leave Out of His Structure, He Tells Students

"Modern architecture is like a tree in its growth. There is always balance, but never perfect symmetry," said Professor Charles L. Morgan, of the architecture department in a talk on modern architecture to a class in contemporary thought Saturday.

The speaker said that the most important fact which an architect must learn is what to leave out of his structure instead of what to put into it. Eliminating unnecessary elements from architectural structures may be compared to the author's difficulty in condensing an entire story into a few words, rather than lengthening it to the novel form.

Professor Morgan defined architecture as the finest of useful arts. He emphasized the fact that simplicity in architecture was a result and not a cause, and pointed to Taliesin, the architectural school in Wisconsin, as a good example of this simplicity.

"Taliesin has a tradition—that of organic architecture for America," he said. "The school is a center line for valid culture." "Action in the sense known at Taliesin is unthinkable as academic. Good correlation, a good background, a sane feeling for what we call the work of art and the ability to work with some initiative are the essential qualifications for apprenticeship at Taliesin. We must have true and more rhythmic and free interpretations of life in all these things we live with and live by, and most of all in ourselves."

Professor Morgan quoted Frank Lloyd Wright as saying that the cause of the school at Wisconsin was the need for a refuge from universities. There are no examinations and no teachers, but merely a sort of relaxed spontaneous activity. The students work for culture in education, and competition (Continued To Page 2)

IOWA DOWNS K-STATE MEN

EARLY K-STATE LEAD FADES TO 22 TO 7 HALFTIME SCORE FOR I. S.

Stoner, Thornbrough, and Groves Engineer Rally in Last Half But Fail To Close Gap

An Iowa State cyclone ripped over the Kansas State campus to carry a victory to the tune of 29 to 25. The Wildcat men started the game with a bang, scoring on the first play and sinking a free throw soon after but were unable to hold the small three point lead.

Kansas State took the tip on the first play. The ball was passed to Tellejohn who rang up two points to start the Wildcat men on their way. Soon after this play Wegner fouled Groves who dropped a free toss into the basket giving Kansas State a 3 to 0 lead over the Cyclones.

Iowa State soon recovered the lead when Jack Cowen, Cyclone forward, dropped one in from the side and Holmes went in for a set-up. Thornbrough, Kansas State forward man, rang up another goal from the side and scored a free throw after Holmes fouled him. Iowa State then made two counters out of four free throws to tie the score 6 to 6.

WARNS AGAINST HAVING PICTURE TAKEN LATE

PHOTOGRAPHERS TIME LAST FEW DAYS IS FULL

And the Deadlines Will Be Enforced, Says Yearbook Editor—Seniors is January 25

"We ask everyone who wants a picture in the Royal Purple to arrange for it immediately if they have not already done so as the photographer's time is always full the last few days before the deadline dates," said Spencer Wyant, editor, last night.

The deadlines announced will be strictly enforced according to the staff. They are: For seniors and for organizations having group pictures, January 25; for underclassmen and for the fraternity and sorority sections, February 6. About a thousand students have already had pictures taken for the yearbook.

Members of organizations which have decided to use individual pictures for their pages must also arrange for the extra prints before January 25. The staff suggests that every organization take as much space as possible in the yearbook as the amount of space in next year's annual (at no cost for space) must be determined largely by the amount of space taken this year by an organization.

Copy is being prepared for the organization pages at the present, and pictures are being sent to the engraver as fast as possible. A number of proofs of engravings made from pictures already sent in have been returned.

SIEVER ISSUES WARNING

Due to the fact there are four cases of measles in the college hospital, Dr. C. M. Siever, student health physician, warned that all cases of any contagious disease among college students should be reported to the health office as soon as detected to prevent further spread of the disease. The following students are under quarantine at the present time: Alice McDonald, Eldon; Horton; Mariam Cross, Wilson; Voigt Fisher, Atchison; and Robert Smith, Winslow, Arkansas.

WONDER COACH' TO NORTHWESTERN U.

LEAVES FOR EVANSTON THIS WEEK TO MEET THE FOOTBALL SQUAD

Spring Practice There from March 1 to April 15, Then Will Return to Manhattan to Complete Semester Here

When the Kansas State football team prepares to defend its Big Six championship next fall, it will be without the guidance of Lynn O. Waldorf, "wonder coach" of the conference last season.

Waldorf Sunday definitely confirmed the report that he had accepted the head coaching assignment at Northwestern university.

HISTORY REVERSES ITSELF Kansas State Got Bachman from Northwestern

When Lynn O. Waldorf accepted the head coachship at Northwestern university yesterday, history reversed itself. Charles Bachman, head coach of football here from 1920 to 1927, resigned his position at Northwestern to come to Kansas State. Now Waldorf resigns his position here to go to Northwestern.

ment at Northwestern university, a member of the Big Ten conference, and added that he will go to Evanston this week to meet the football squad. He will begin spring practice there March 1, which will probably keep him until the middle of April, after which he will return to Manhattan to complete the semester at Kansas State.

Ratification of Waldorf's appointment to succeed Dick Hanly, who resigned recently, was approved by the Northwestern athletic board and ratified by the trustees of the university Saturday. Waldorf was notified of his appointment late Saturday night.

Waldorf's assistant next fall will be Bert Ingwerson, former head coach at Iowa and now assistant at Louisiana State. Ingwerson is to be line coach and Jack Vance, former Evanston, Illinois, high school coach, is reported to be the new backfield coach.

Waldorf showed his reluctance to leave Kansas State when he stated that his stay in Manhattan had been the most pleasant he had spent anywhere and that he was

STILL A WILDCAT COACH

And Purple Wildcats, Too, Lynn Will Coach Next Year

Lynn O. Waldorf is still coach of the Purple Wildcats, anyway. For Northwestern university's colors are purple and white and their mascot of the feline family, the wildcat. His team will still fight for the purple and the white.

leaving with many regrets. Lynn, commenting on his choice, said that Northwestern is one of the 10 or 15 outstanding football coaching positions and presents an opportunity that, "in justice to myself, I don't feel I should pass up."

U. OF C. HAS MOST STUDENTS

Survey Shows Full-Time Enrollment To Be 18,892

The 18,892 students attending the University of California comprise the largest full-time enrollment of any American university, according to a survey released yesterday by Dr. Raymond Walters, president of the University of Cincinnati.

The survey shows that Columbia university, New York, ranks second with 13,891 students. Full time students at New York university number 12,347, and the enrollments of the Universities of Minnesota and Illinois are 12,168 and 10,747 respectively.

New York university has the largest enrollment for both part and full time students with 27,682, a number that exceeds the population of the entire city of Manhattan approximately three times. The survey also shows that Columbia has the largest faculty with 2,182, and that Harvard university, with 1,728 faculty members, ranks second.

The Sports-Eye

by Dan Partner

Well, Waldorf is leaving and the only music that sounds sweet to the ears of the football squad is Chopin's funeral march. . . or something in that order. Because the boys really like the Methodist bishop's son. He knows nothing of the use of heavy sarcasm and he was n't in the habit of pulling his hair when some "rockfisted" end dropped a pass or some dumb tackle missed a block. He stayed only one year but in that short time he won a place in the hearts of his players and fellow coaches that will make him remembered in future years. Lynn accomplished much more than merely winning a conference championship.

It has already been said that Kansas State's loss is Northwestern's gain. . . and so it be. But Kansas State's loss is not as bad as it could be and Northwestern's gain could be much larger. For Wes "Flowboy" Fry is going to keep his address as Manhattan, Kans. Waldorf would like to take Fry with him but a Big Ten conference ruling passed in 1924, when pro football was making inroads on the collegiate sport, forbids any "ex-pro" players as coaches in the circuit.

"Bo" McMillin was excused from the rule because he played before it was passed. Fry will probably use the same system that Waldorf brought with him from Oklahoma A. & M. He used a much similar one at Oklahoma City university. . . . That Wes knows his football is a foregone conclusion. . . . that everyone likes him is a certainty. The Kansas State football situation would really be in a mess if a new coach, with a new system, had to be found before next September.

If Stan Williamson comes to Kansas State to be a line coach the state of Oklahoma should be given a vote of something or other for keeping Kansas supplied with football professors. First, Mike Ahearn started the fireworks by calling Waldorf and suggesting that he coach the Wildcats. Lynn evidently liked the idea and got Wes Fry from Oklahoma City university as his assistant. Waldorf goes to Northwestern to coach the Wildcats of that institution, and Fry steps into the head man position. . . . and he may go to Oklahoma to get his helper. Williamson, now coach at O. C. U., played center for Southern California, coached the freshmen there after he graduated, and succeeded Fry at Claassen high school and Oklahoma City university. . . .

While you are wondering why Kansas State doesn't win a basketball game you might ask yourself the same question in regard to Missouri. The Tigers have dropped something like six straight games. . . . which probably reminds them, with a bad effect, of their football season. . . .

One girl in college is using a comb that her grandmother used to use—sort of an old family hairloom.

Vacant Vera is saving her current history papers so that her sister won't have such a hard time next fall.

Life is full of disillusion. We are expecting any day to have someone tell us that Gandhi really wears trousers around home.

We wonder what a nudist would leave off at a formal party.

We still think one of the surest signs of intelligence is being able to say "I don't know" at the right time.

What New Testament book was written first?

New Testament scholars are in general agreement that Thessalonians I, a letter written by Paul to the Thessalonians, was the first book of the New Testament to be written. In fact, most of Paul's letters were written before the gospels.

Jayhawks Expected to Win Four Matches in Meeting Thursday at Lawrence

The Kansas State wrestling team which was defeated by two points by the Missouri Tigers last week will meet the K. U. grapplers at Lawrence Thursday night.

Unemployment Insurance

The state of Kansas faces at present the task of devising some system of state-wide social insurance. Just what Kansas intends to do with the unemployed—and not the unemployable casual laborers, but the skilled men who are in the streets with that despairing look to their future—is a question which demands the utmost consideration.

Our legislators would do well to look toward Great Britain for a most worthy and timely lesson. Great Britain has something to teach for Britain was not only the first country to adopt compulsory insurance, but its plan is the most far-reaching of any in the world.

Britain's recent legislation has dealt comprehensively with all the able-bodied unemployed men and women in the industrial population. The country has spread three great nets to catch and assist those who, for one reason or another, are unable to earn a living. The first net catches the man who has lost his job; that is unemployment insurance. The second net is an extension of the insurance system, but with easier conditions and with benefits from the Treasury instead of from the Insurance Fund. The third net promotes relief administered by local authorities.

Today, in Britain, an adult man out of work may claim a weekly benefit of $4.25 for himself, and if an adult dependent he may claim an additional $2.25.

To Kansas legislators the British unemployment benefits might appear too small to do any visible good. It would perhaps greatly interest them to know that the British worker regards himself as better off than the American worker today because the benefit is at least secure. However, it is not the jobless Britain's idea of a desirable state to be in, which ought to be an answer to those who consider unemployment insurance a means of making unemployment attractive.

Britain's unemployment insurance fund is maintained by contributions from every locality in the country, thus relieving the small parish from the burden of their individual unemployed who have become a detriment to society through long periods of forced idleness.

Could not Kansas work this same arrangement, and profit by it? The following of this system does not necessarily guarantee an immediate substantial reduction in the number of unemployed, but it would provide a sound basis in the assumption of State care for its jobless men, around which new features could be added and old ones changed.—V. M.

KANSAS STATE DROPS RAGGED GAME TO K. U.

Wildcats Are Badly Beaten, 40 to 14—Frank Groves Not in Game

The Kansas State basketball team was defeated Friday night by the University of Kansas quintet 40 to 14 in the first conference game of the season between the schools.

Kansas ran up a 15 to 1 advantage before Jim Freeland made the first Wildcat field goal after 16 minutes of play. The score at the end of the first half was 19 to 5 enabling Coach Allen to use his reserves most of the last half. It was a rough, ragged game with Freeland of Kansas State and Allen of Kansas being expelled for excessive fouling.

Kansas State played without Frank Groves, center, who has an injured foot. Groves was leading the conference in scoring before this game.

The Snooper

By FRANK SHIDELER

To start out this new idea with the wide columns and that trick "T" we shall bring up the latest ATO-Kappa feud. It seems that one of the Hanson twins (we shall call him Dit—proof-read this carefully Mr. Editor.) called up Margaret Louise Bryan for a date to the Military Ball. Dit got sick during the day and his twin, we shall call him Dot, took the date. The Kappa happened to make the remark during the evening that she could tell the boys apart by the slight extension of their ears—she didn't know it but she was talking to the one with the longest ears all of the time. The whole deception went along all right until some time Sunday when the poor girl found out about the foul play. Incidentally the Hansons and Miss Bryan are from the same town.

Requests
We have gleaned several little items of (doubtful) interest: We have a request to request to request through these columns to say something "dirty in our stinking column" about "Duck-waddle" Powell. Since we have said or inferred the above let us drop that right now. Also a request to print something about Joe McNay (he's getting quite popular in these here columns) monopolizing the telephone at the Sig Ep house—and make it nasty." It seems that Joe talked to Jean Johnson for one hour and twenty-seven minutes Sunday night and he didn't say a thing." And still Joe still maintains he is just a big brother to her. The members of Theta Sigma Phi and Sigma Delta Chi have conceived the idea of throwing a "5c a dance" shindig during the last day of registration—it is only an idea in the development but it still should be something of a go. The sleepy cheer leaders during the game last night reminded several people of the demonstration of a mattress factory (without the mattresses). The editor of The Collegian had the headlines written for the Kansas State-Iowa State basketball game early in the afternoon BEFORE the game; read 'em and weep, or sarcastically say "poo-o-h pooh."

Beauty
Can you feature a certain coy (what a word) little beauty candidate—she finally DID receive some recognition for her charms—wearing a dress that was the same color, shape, design, style, etc., as a girl from KU? This girl's name happens to be Gladys Niles, she goes with Stoner you know, she has been trying to boost Tri Delta for several seasons and now with her name as a honorary major the Triangle lodge scrap-book should be full of plenty of material about her.

More Beauty
Judging from the general consensus of opinion the judgement for the beauty queens was entirely square. Some of the campaigning that the cadet officers did do a little good and really most of the people think that the election was on the level; it is probably one of the first ones to be un-influenced by the ability of most beauty queens to make the proper advances and deployments for credit in the big battle for beauty, brawn, and bull.

Less Beauty
As you probably have read the This 'n That column before this may we, the male side of the show, give our opinion of the broadcasting of programs from college functions. The This 'n That column states that the girls were all stuck during the program, then seem to forget that the boys had something to do with the dancing—and it wasn't their fault either. Fond fraternity brothers and friends were absent or at least wouldn't take bribes to cut in on the dance. College affairs, if they are to be broadcast, should be like commercial broadcasts with a siege of announcements to break the dullness of the affair or visa versa.

Adv.
A suggestion for the space getters of the Royal Purple—One college annual had the pictures of all members of TNE in their yearbook. Of course the members had hoods on and couldn't be identified but just the same it was quite a novel idea. The names of the student members, and the faculty members, were written below in some sort of chemical symbols.

Another Adv.
Do you have any enemies? Do you have any friends? If you do or don't have any friends, of course, get a snapshot of them taking a bath, stealing money from a blind man, studying, praying, or anything "just too cute" (as it were). Some of these snapshots will gladden the hearts of the Royal Purple staff because the pictures would make very entertaining copy for THE Royal Purple for THIS year. The editor is Spen—oh, well, you know all of that old line, anyway.

Finis
As a bit of too pre-mature warning you'd better be catching up on the old shut-eye and courtin' because the finals will be upon us before we know it. Also be prepared to absorb the pep talks handed out by the faculty with a grain of salt.

At The Theaters

DICKINSON
"County Chairman"

Will Rogers fans will thoroughly enjoy his new picture, "County Chairman," the scenes of which are laid in Wyoming in the year 1898. It's the old story of romance interwoven with politics which the world has always known with new and original dialogues and characterizations which entertain and amuse. Against his will and to help a very dear and old friend to whom he is indebted, a young lawyer allows himself to be run as a "dark horse" in the county election for prosecuting judge against his fiancée's father, a veteran politician. Throughout the county, incensed by a long standing feud between the young lawyer's campaign manager and the rival candidate, a heated campaign is made which quite naturally results in a broken romance. With the returns of the election the young lawyer wins both the office and his fiancée and the picture closes with a novel ending.

Will Rogers as county chairman does his usual fine acting in his own inimitable manner that makes him such a favorite. Lovely Natalie Venable and Kent Taylor are very good in their roles, and Step-N-Fetch-It who has become a looked for character in Will Rogers' pictures is present in his usual state of fatigue and more amusing than in previous pictures.

Miss Sina Faye Fowler, who received her master's degree from Kansas State in 1933, has replaced Miss Ellen Blair as manager of the student cooperative plan at the college cafeteria. Miss Blair resigned to become a county demonstration agent. During the past year Miss Fowler has been a staff member of the Duke university hospital.

is a form of voluntary cooperation. It is the speaker's opinion that all schools in reality live the principles begun at Taliesin. He thinks that most students are striving to beat themselves, and not each other.

"Truth without compromise comes nearest to the expression of the ideal in art."

Professor Morgan said that modern architecture had nothing in common with any state of decadence. He stated that Thomas Jefferson, who was one of the best architects of his age, would never think of constructing the homes of his time today and expect them to be a successful expression of present human thought.

Professor Morgan displayed pictures of certain buildings at the World's Fair which he described as merely "tombstones to human vanity." He said that they were not real, but empty and expressionless monuments.

It is the speaker's belief that our modern architecture could be made less expensive to maintain if the architect would build an aluminum structure which would eliminate our present heating system. His idea of an ideally constructed building is one built of glass and insulated by air spaces. This material is called thero-pane and is plastic, yet solid enough to withstand pressure.

Buildings which are constructed on the span principle are exceptionally strong structures. Professor Morgan has experimented in these elements of construction and has learned of their value.

"Architecture is a subject in which everyone should be interested," said the speaker. "We are always in buildings or else we are going from one building to another. We have the opportunity to observe every conceivable type of structure, but we seldom think of architecture as the living vital thing which it really is."

Prof. Harriet W. Parker, department of English, was prevented from meeting her Monday classes by illness.

Keeping Up To Date Scrapbook For 221 Cosmos Quite A Job

Keeping a page in her scrapbook for each of the 221 active and alumni members of the Cosmopolitan club is more than a hobby for Miss Myrtle E. Zener, alumni secretary of the club.

Since its reorganization on May 3, 1921, Miss Zener has kept her scrapbooks, which have grown to three in number, up to date with pictures and snapshots of the club members, maps of the countries where the members were born, stamps and letters from their countries, the motto of the club "above all nations is humanity," clippings about the members taken from newspapers and letters, and many other interesting items.

Miss Zener keeps in touch with all alumni members by sending at least one letter a year to each one. Through the years the club has had members from 35 foreign countries including Argentina, Armenia, Bolivia, Brazil, Bulgaria, Canada, Chile, China, Colombia, Denmark, Egypt, Finland, Germany, Greece, Haiti, Hawaii, Hungary, India, Italy, Japan, Korea, Mesopotamia, Mexico, Palestine, Panama, Persia, Philippine Islands, Rumania, Russia, Serbia, Sweden, Switzerland, Syria, Turkey, and the Union of South Africa.

The annual Feast of the Nations given by the club at which a dish from each of the countries represented in the club, is a unique social event every year.

At the national convention of the Association of Cosmopolitan Clubs held recently at the University of Kansas, the Kansas State chapter was represented by 11 persons. They were M. H. Radi, Egypt; Chung Wong, China; Tony Peris, Panama; S. M. Ahi, Persia; Sarah J. Lister, Josephine Jelinek, Miss Jessie McDowell Machir, Miss Albee Melton, Miss Myrtle Zener, and Louise Sklar, all of the United States. ## This 'n' That These Tri Deltas are either awfully farsighted or else a marriage is in the offing. Anyway one of the girls keeps her 'hope chest,' equipped with everything from skillets and dishpans to fine linens, at the house. It seems that since her parents do not exactly endorse the fellow to whom she is engaged she doesn't want the seriousness of her intentions known to them so she keeps her chest out from under their discriminating eyes. And it is rumored that she plans to be married next semester. . . . Also Philena Merton seems to be making plans for the future. While home Christmas vacation she had the pearls removed from her crescent and diamonds put in their place. . . . Most prominent of the "grandstanders" attending the Goldiggers' ball were Mary Jeanne Edelblute, Maxine Huse, and Esther Hedges, who bought cigars and smoked them in the Palace at intermission. It was noticed that the stogies were lacking after the party, however, and the girls didn't feel so gay after indulging. These three "cuties" were also the ones who started the idea of putting their pins on the fellows that they had dates with, but the idea spread so fast it seemed to be the usual thing. . . . Shideler, one of the few bashful dirt columnists in existence, stated in an advertising class that he had found the "hidden faces" in a picture ad in hopes of winning a pony, but when they sent him a box of perfume to sell he backed out. . . . To date, Franklin Collday, Max Wickham, Orin Stoner, and Mark Kannal have been the victims of the "pudgy-wudgy" wave that seems to have taken the campus by storm. . . . Speaking of games, there is evidence of one having been in progress last week, but we haven't been able to find out just who was "it." The story is as follows: A week ago Saturday night the Deltas received a telephone call from a female that announced sweetly that she was from Nebraska university and brother Paul Smith of the Nebraska chapter had told her to call and the boys would fix her up with dates, as she didn't know anyone in town. Obligingly the Delta showed the gal, who was blond and a shade plumpish, (anyway that's the description that was given to us) about town in royal D Tau D manner. For a week this went on—until Saturday night for reasons unknown to us the Delt whom she had called to favor that evening went to the telephone and none too politely told her to go to hell. So exited the Deltas. But this girl was not to be thwarted so easily. Pronto she called the Beta house and gave them the same 'brotherline,' which they promptly swallowed, that is, until Thursday, when the Betas and the Deltas got together. And that wrote 'fits' to that game. Maybe you could make suggestions as to who was "it." . . . After a strenuous weekend for everyone but Bill Lutz the Sigma Nus theme song is "I've got the jitters, but I'm too tired to quiver." . . .

A movement has been started to do away with broadcasting the programs of dances after three-fourths of the female population at the military ball were "stuck" for the full broadcast without even a chance to get taken to their respective (we didn't say respectful) dates.

Waves No Longer Popular As Braid Becomes New Fad

New fads certainly take the country by storm and Manhattan is no exception. One remembers the days when crossword puzzles were really in vogue. Everyone went around the place with a puzzled expression on his face and no one was alarmed because they knew the poor fellow was only trying to think of a word to fit into that vertical space.

In place of cross word puzzles, came the jigsaw puzzles. For a while everyone was agog with excitement over them. They, too, however, had their day and merchants are now trying to give them away.

The newest fad now is not a form of a puzzle. It is a braid. A plain old fashioned braid like grandmother used to wear. Men are not so interested in this vogue, except concerning the price, but women are going braid crazy! Let us review plans for the future. First, the hair was straight and perhaps swirled a little toward the face. Next curls were predominant and then waves along with curls came into style. Now, no one seems to be correct without a braid tied around the head.

In their own way, braids are all right but for most people they don't weigh enough. Several girls have lost theirs in the shuffle, and who wants to lose a good braid after paying money for it? Of course, it isn't so bad if it was your grandmother's hair but the mother of the girl might feel a trifle bad about that. After all, it was her mother's hair!

These braids are the most recent fad and believe it or not (according to the beauty shop) they are in to stay, Madame! Step right up and we will fit the braid right to your head. How much? Never mind, we will send the bill to your husband.

from under the basket, and Railsback scored from the center. During this time, Flemming for Iowa State scored once and Jack Cowen counted for a free throw making the score 19 to 25, still in Iowa's favor.

After 12 minutes of the first half had passed, Groves took the ball under the Iowa goal, dribbled the full length of the floor, and dropped in a set-up then for the Wildcats making the count 21 to 25.

Wegner then slipped around Groves for a set-up and tallied another goal from the side. Gilpin shot a set-up with his back to the goal and Groves dropped in another from back of the free throw line. With one minute and twenty seconds of play left in the game and the score standing at 25 to 29, Iowa State called time.

After play was resumed, Iowa State took the ball from center and put on a perfect exhibition of stalling for one minute and fifteen seconds. This left the Wildcats 5 seconds to score two field goals and tie the game. After a jump ball, Stoner dribbled half way down the court and shot a long one from center, but the trigger was pulled while the ball was still in the air and the ball fell short.

'HELP-YOURSELF' PLAN PRESENTED

NATHAN SHAPIRO FORMS IT FOR FAST COMEBACK IN DEBATE WITH CALIFORNIA

Would Give All Between 20 and 30 $1,000 a Month If They Had Never Told A Lie—Large Crowd Attends

A crowd which overflowed recreation center Wednesday night and in which the older people of Manhattan were well represented heard the Townsend old age pension plan argued in a non-decision debate between teams representing the University of California and Kansas State college.

Ervin Anderson and Richard Detering upheld the question for the west coast school with Beulah Browning, Abilene, and Nathan Shapiro, Manhattan, furnishing the negative opposition. Prof. J. O. Faulkner of the English department was chairman.

In theory the plan, which is the product of a retired California physician, would end the depression by increasing the purchasing power and booming industry with a $200 pension paid each month to all over 60 years of age, with the provision that it be spent in 30 days. To be eligible to receive the monthly payment the individual could not be a habitual criminal and would be required to give up any wage earning job.

"People want to try out the capitalist system first so will not turn to socialism," Detering said in commenting on the various plans which have been suggested to bring prosperity back into the fold.

If adopted the Townsend plan would relieve the condition of overproduction and under consumption by putting plenty in the midst of plenty, was the contention of the affirmative in declaring that the government plans to take care of the 23 million now on relief rolls are inadequate because they would eliminate plenty in the midst of want.

Overproduction would be taken care of by taking some of the workers out of the field and placing them in a position to be larger consumers, Ervin Anderson said in speaking for the affirmative. The money is in the hands of the few now, and the Townsend plan in operation would help to keep credit opened up and money from stagnating in the banks, he said.

The negative in attacking the California doctor's proposed program labeled it foolish and impossible, and claimed that it would result in decreased buying power and consumption and increased unemployment. "Results of this crazy plan would make the last depression seem like a little picnic," declared Nathan Shapiro.

The chief bone of contention and the negative's strong point of argument was the sales tax on all commodities which would be levied to finance the program. It would be impossible to raise funds to cover the total cost without assessing a tax of at least 50 per cent, contended Miss Browning in opening for the negative. It would take 24 billion dollars to furnish pensions for the 10 million eligible old people. Eleven of the 12 million unemployed would be accounted for if Doctor Townsend's plan were adopted, Anderson pointed out. Three million would be required to take the places of those having to give up jobs on receipt of the pension, and an additional eight million would be put back to work when the pension money was placed in circulation.

In reply to the negative side's charge that the young would be required to pay for the maintenance of the old, the California debaters pointed out that in reality they would merely be paying an annuity which would be returned to them when they reached the age of 60. The turn over of money and the buying power would be greatly increased if the nine billion dollars now in circulation were increased by the 24 billion paid under the pension plan.

In reply to the California team's request that the negative form a plan of their own if they thought the Townsend program foolish Nathan Shapiro presented the "help-yourself-first-revolving-fund." Under its provisions the government would give each individual between the ages of 20 and 30 a monthly pension of $10,000 with the provision that it be spent in 30 days. Only those who had never told a lie would be eligible to receive these payments. The reason that the 20 to 30 age limit was set was because at that age they could

What! No Society Today? Don't Give Me That Stuff Boys

Gripe, darn ya, gripe!! All you frats just jump on your little high horses and raise all the heck you can! Doggone you anyway, you make me sick! And in case you want to know who I am and what I am talking about—I am a harassed society reporter.

I call you and ask with all the politeness of my boarding school training if you have any news today. You say, "Wait a minute." Then what in the name of mud you do is a mystery, but after half an hour or so you wander back and drawl, "I s' sorry but there isn't any news." And I even thank you for that—so great is my politeness. And then behind my back you dash to the editor's desk and sob out a tale of woe to ye editor of how you haven't been called for news for at least two months (and it wasn't over five minutes ago) and you say that even when you do hand in some it isn't printed (bla on that, brother, the paper is crying for society).

And then ye editor lies in wait until I, harassed and discouraged, tired and confronted with a dead beat, stumble into the office and he lands on me—and how he lands! I tell him it's a lie, a ghastly lie, so he calls the frat and bawls out the poor pledge who answers the telephone and there we go—round and round.

Why the heck don't you get a regular society writer and tell him to leave his news on the phone table where that pledge can give it to me on Monday and Thursday? Whatta headache you'll save me—and apparently—whatta belly-ache you'll save your brothers.—V. A.

THE PRESIDENT'S BALL TO BE HERE JANUARY 30

IS ONLY ONE OF 5,000 OVER UNITED STATES THAT NIGHT
Seventy Percent of Proceeds to Fund for Crippled Children in This Locality

One of the outstanding events of the vacation following final examinations will be the President's Birthday ball, January 30 at the Wareham ballroom. This ball is one of 5,000 presented at the same time in the United States to celebrate President Roosevelt's birthday. It is deserving of attendance since 70 per cent of the proceeds will remain in this locality for the purpose of helping children crippled by infantile paralysis. The money will be administered by the local medical association. The remaining 30 per cent of the money will be used to establish a laboratory at Warm Springs, Georgia, for the purpose of discovering a serum for the prevention of infantile paralysis.

College authorities are cooperating with the local committee to make the ball a success. Music will be furnished by Bailey Rose and his eleven piece orchestra. Admission will be one dollar.

RIFLE TEAM MATCHES

William F. Stewart High Scorer So Far This Season

The Kansas State rifle team has fired postal matches with Ohio State university, North Carolina State college, and the University of Akron, during the past week. The K. State team defeated North Carolina 3573 to 3464, lost to Ohio State 1361 to 1366, and the results of the Akron match have not been received.

William F. Stewart, Kansas City, was the individual high scorer with a total of 390. According to Capt. William F. Rehm, coach of the Kansas State team, this is an excellent score and includes the exceptional score of 95 in the standing position. Stewart was high scorer last season and won the individual prize event at the Kemper matches last year.

Other individual scorers on the Aggie team were as follows: J. P. Caumer, 370; Ed Waller, Wellington, 364; S. A. Swoyer, 357; George W. Honick, Morrill, 355; P. F. Wendall, Topeka, 355; Horton Laude, Manhattan, 353; M. P. Rogers, Glasco, 347; G. T. Anton, Lexington, Missouri, 347; and Roger West, Manhattan, 345.

This week's matches are with the Universities of Kentucky, Maryland, and Maine.

spend money faster than at any other age.

In closing their rebuttal the affirmative team declared that the plan would not create national wealth but would utilize it. "We are forced by economic logic to accept the plan," was their claim.

HOME EC CLINIC THIS AFTERNOON

EXPERT ADVICE ON ALL PROBLEMS OF HOME WILL BE GIVEN

"Bachelor" Students Can Have Their Menus Planned—Overweights Can Learn to Reduce—From 3 to 5 o'clock

Puzzled hostesses, budget makers, overweight girls and others with many and varied domestic problems will welcome the weekly service to be innovated by the members of the division of home economics this afternoon. Every Friday afternoon from three to five o'clock in Calvin, home ec faculty members will be available to answer many questions on home problems.

This service is being extended from the food clinic service which has been serving the college and town for several years. Many students as well as town people have wanted to ask questions concerning other domestic affairs and have hesitated because they were afraid it would cause too much trouble. Now, this time has been set aside to solve these problems and the representatives of each department will be more than willing to help anyone who cares to come.

Dr. Martha Pittman is the representative from the food department and she helps people with meal planning and balanced diets. Four boys who were in light house-keeping came to Doctor Pittman a small time before this new service was started, and asked if they might have a menu for themselves so they would have well balanced and easily arranged meals. Their request was granted and the boys are getting along much better than they were before. This is an example of how useful this department can be.

Miss Alpha Latzke is in charge of the clothing department and with her help many new clothes can be planned and old ones fashioned to look like new. Formal functions are looming up and if a girl would like to feel well dressed she can rely on Miss Latzke's advice.

Students sometimes have difficulty in arranging their money to the best advantage and for this reason Miss Myrtle A. Gunselman was called upon. She helps with budgets and shows one how he must spend more wisely. If a sorority, fraternity, church or any social group is planning a banquet, Mrs. Bessie Brooks West is prepared to help. Her ideas are fascinating and a banquet with her aid is usually a success.

There are also some who feel that their surroundings are not arranged to the best advantage. Miss Dorothy Barfoot, of the art department shows how rooms can be arranged to correctness and comfort. One would hardly believe all these things could be accomplished but when the members of the division of home economics get together, amazing results follow. Domestic troubles can and certainly will be settled if taken to Calvin hall on Friday afternoons.

Galaxy Of Gorgeous Gals Will Feature First 'Shin-Kicker'

A 5 cent taxi dance is in store for Kansas State students Wednesday, January 30, when Sigma Delta Chi and Theta Sigma Phi, professional journalism organizations, sponsor their first annual "Shin-kicker." It will be held at the Avalon ballroom and will offer continuous relaxation for that "after enrolment slump" from 2 till 5 o'clock and from 8 till 12.

A galaxy of gorgeous gals (or should we say a bevy of beautiful bovines) will preside as charming dance hall hostesses in the afternoon. After that it's up to the men to worry as to whom they will dance with. Tea and cookies, or their equivalent, will be served throughout the afternoon.

The party will be conducted on the 5-cent-a-dance-plan plus 5 cents admission to the ballroom. Representatives from the various sororities will be present at different times of the day to "entertain." The Collegian for January 29 will contain detailed information about the event.

DEBATE TOWNSEND PLAN
Kansas State and Emporia Teachers' college students will engage in a radio debate here at 4:30 o'clock tomorrow. Station KSAC will broadcast the speeches. The Townsend plan for old age pensions will be the subject.

RECEPTION FOR WALDORF Northwestern Makes Plans to Receive New Coach

A reception for Lynn O. Waldorf, head coach of athletics, is being planned at Northwestern university when he arrives to spend a few days in getting acquainted with his new surroundings and associates before he takes up his duties as head coach of football there.

Waldorf will have dinner with the football team, and then will be the guest of honor at a reception in the gymnasium to which the public has been invited.

HEADS FORUM COMMITTEE Ruth Jorgenson, Manhattan, has been chosen chairman of the World Forum committee and Dan Shiel, Pittsburg, secretary. "The College Student in Modern Life" will be the theme for the spring forums which begin in April.

K-STATE WRESTLERS WIN OVER JAYHAWKERS
FIVE WINS, ONE DRAW, SCORE 18½ TO 9½

Dukelew In Fine Showing Against ex-Big Six Champ—Moore of K. U. Throws Holland

The Kansas State wrestling team came back from Lawrence, last night with a decisive 18½ to 9½ win over the Jayhawks. The university aggregation lost five matches and received a draw on a sixth, creating somewhat of an upset in pre-match dope.

David Dukelew, Kansas State, made a fine showing in the 155-pound class by holding Noland, K. U. captain, and last year's Big Six champion in the 145-pound class. Dukelew is a sophomore and has shown much improvement lately. It became the saying on the Kansas State team last night that the moon was coming over the mountain with "Tiny" Moore, Kansas U. ## Present Grading System Is Questioned By Student

Editor's note: There has recently been much discussion as to the value of a grading system in schools. Some pro, some con. The following article is presented as interesting observations on the present system.

"To hell with grades," mumbled a freshman college student as he jammed a ten-page type-written term paper into a waste-paper basket.

Grades! And I thought—Bang, Bang, Bang—grades, grades—bang, bang, bang—grades, grades—bang, bang—grades, grades—what a clamorous noise—what a rhythmic hammer, pounding punctually its metallic cry. Incessantly it bangs. Never soothingly, never softly—always it is harsh, dull, forced!

Do classrooms escape it? Listen in—"Shakespeare died in 1616—(you've got to make those grades, grades, grades)—the earthworm is classed as an Annelida (write it down or you won't make those grades, grades, grades)—the war involved sacrifices, but society lived on (who wouldn't know that, but you'd better remember—grades, grades, grades).

Five years old, the child enters kindergarten. One year to get acquainted, one year to learn that Santa Clause, isn't Santa Clause, one year for a childish good time and first grade opens its doors. The brightest from the best families have already stepped to the front. They expectantly recite the leads in the annual school pageant. With this feat in the back of their heads, they seem to have an eye on the front seats and the top of the chart that lists best grade-makers highest.

They have, in first grade, set their standard. Let it drop? Never. A spelling word must be correct even if it has to be copied; if a problem must have the right answer, it too can be copied. The gold stars, the A's, the 100's glitter for the perfect paper.

Junior high continues—a boast of the educators who unify school systems. High school isn't a jump in student learning, it slides in smoothly with the rest of the educators managed "fred-mill." The senior year promotes honor societies—scholar's clubs—from which organizations students slide into college, expected to debarb on an "Island of Success."

That set standard can't be dropped now. Yet what can't be done when a cold, immovable line chalks the boundary between these

SENIORS URGED TO GET PHOTOS

JANUARY 25 DEADLINE WILL BE ENFORCED, SAYS EDITOR

The 1935 Royal Purple is to be Delivered by May 1, Editor States—Many Have Arranged for Pictures

A large number of seniors have arranged to have pictures in the Royal Purple this last week, according to Spencer Wyant, editor. However, there are still a few who have not done so.

One week from today, January 25, is the deadline for all senior pictures for the Royal Purple! That is also the day when all group pictures for non-social organizations must be taken.

The staff urges all seniors to arrange for pictures immediately if they have not already done so. Only one week remains to get the pictures taken and the last few days the photographer's time will be well filled. With finals from Tuesday through Friday, it might be impossible to get a sitting at the Studio Royal. The deadline for underclassmen and fraternity and sorority sections is February 6.

A senior may pay the $1.50 photography fee now and make a note for the remainder of the senior dues payable as late as March 1.

The 1935 Royal Purple is to be delivered by May 1 so all pictures must be sent to the engraver at an earlier date this year than before. A number of students have paid for pictures but have not yet had them taken. No refunds may be made on pictures paid for but not taken before the deadline dates. Absolutely no pictures will be taken after the deadline dates, according to the staff.

FOR FUTURE FARMING

Plans for Meetings Over State of Kansas Completed

Plans for a series of regional farm congresses to be held over the state to work out a unified plan for the future of Kansas farming have been completed. Kansas farmers, business men interested in agriculture, and representatives of Kansas State college will meet at these sessions.

The first meeting will be held in Parsons January 30 and 31. Later congresses will be held at Hutchinson February 14 and 15; Salina March 5 and 6; and Dodge City March 7 and 8.

The state board of agriculture, the Kansas Bankers' association, local chambers of commerce, local farm bureaus, regional press associations, boards of trade, railroad officials and others will take part in the congresses in order to make them a success.

A major farm enterprise, such as dairy, poultry, general livestock, and crops, will be represented at each meeting.

BREESE TRAINING HERE

Pro Boxer Looking Forward to Alcantara Bout

"Bus" Brees, the Manhattan lightweight and former Kansas State student who is to meet Joey Alcantara next Wednesday night in Kansas City in a 10-round bout which he hopes will advance him another step toward a title honor, has been training in the college gymnasium.

His routine work consists of jumping rope punching the punching bag and boxing three-minute rounds with his sparring partners. John Hemphill, a Kansas State boxer, has been acting as one of the sparring men for Brees.

Other routine work that Bus will do calls for road work and wood-chopping. He is planning to follow his own method of training.

SAME STORY WHEN COACHES CHANGE JOBS

John W. Jarrell writing in the Topeka State Journal has it all figured out just what sort of news stories break when and before a football coach is hired, fired, or resigned, as the case may be. Here's what happens, according to Jarrell:

The number of news stories it takes to elect a new football coach at any collegiate institution:

- 1—Rumors old coach will resign to take post at Whoozis university.
- 2—Old coach reported to have closed deal with Whoozis.
- 3—Old coach says, "Nothing to report that I will leave Slawsh for job at Whoozis. I love old Slawsh."
- 4—Whoozis announces old coach has left E. Swash to come to Whoozis.
- 5—"I hated to go," says old coach. "But Whoozis is a fine place, is a professional advancement."
- 6—Henry Snort of Womem college supposedly leading candidate for Slawsh job.
- 7—"I am happy at Womem," says Henry Snort. "I have made no overtures to Slawsh."
- 8—Henry Snort almost certain to go to Slawsh, rumor says.
- 9—Slawsh athletic committee meets; nothing definite, but Henry Snort said to have been favorably discussed.
- 10—Slawsh committee meets again; makes selection, but doesn't announce it. Henry Snort believed to be the selection.
- 11—Slawsh athletic committee says Snort is selected, subject to approval of trustees.
- 12—Trustees to meet tomorrow, believed they will okay Snort.
- 13—Trustees okay Snort.
- 14—"This comes as a complete surprise," says Snort. "I am very happy."

LONDON A VISITOR ON CAMPUS TODAY

GOVERNOR WILL ADDRESS STUDENT LEGISLATURE AT 11:30 THIS MORNING

Nearly 100 Debaters From 11 Kansas Schools Will Attend Novel Forensic Meet—Hal Harlan to Introduce State Executive

Gov. Alf M. Landon will be a Kansas State college visitor this morning when he comes here to deliver a message to the Students' Legislative assembly which convenes for its first session in recreation center at 11 o'clock. Nearly 100 debaters from Kansas colleges and universities will be present here to start a two day practice session of law making and discussion on state problems.

The governor's message, which will come about 11:30, is expected to be somewhat like his opening address to the state law making group January 9. He will be introduced by Hal Harlan, former speaker of the state house of representatives, who will be present for the two day session to act as adviser on matters concerning legislative methods and procedure.

Although crowded conditions may exist the townspeople, students, and faculty members are invited to attend any of the sessions, according to an announcement by officers of Pi Kappa Delta, national honorary forensic fraternity sponsoring the assembly. The banquet which was scheduled for tonight has been called off because several of the delegates will be unable to attend.

Schools that will be represented in the meeting here today and tomorrow are as follow: Kansas State college, Bethany, Bethel, College of Emporia, Kansas State Teachers college of Emporia, Kansas Wesleyan, University of Kansas, Washburn, Wichita university, Independence junior college, and Hutchinson junior college.

The first meeting of the group will be for organization, adoption of rules, and the election of a speaker, speaker pro-tem, and chief clerk. The delegates will also present their bills and resolutions.

Letters received by Dr. H. B. Summers, debate coach, so far indicate that bills will be introduced on the following subjects: revision of the state tax system, state support of education as recommended by the State Teachers' association and approved by the "little legislature," old age pensions, civil service for all appointive state officers similar to the plan recommended by Governor Marland of Oklahoma, and legislation fixing the maximum legal content of beer.

The bills and resolutions will be referred to committees who will consider them this afternoon. Five committees will be appointed on taxation, education, insurance, employees, and judiciary.

A feature of the afternoon program will be a radio debate broadcast over station KSAC between forensic teams of the Kansas State Teachers college of Emporia and Kansas State. They will argue on the question of adoption of the Townsend plan.

The session starting at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning will close the "practice legislature" with the reports of committees, and the consideration of measures. Debate on each subject will be limited to one hour with no member except the author of the bill speaking more than five minutes. Vote on the final passage of each measure will be taken by roll call.

NEW MATHEMATICS COURSE

Higher Algebra Will Be Offered Next Semester

The department of mathematics announces a new three hour course in algebra to be offered next semester. The course is named higher algebra and is designed for those who wish to extend their mathematical training beyond the usual freshman year subjects. It is also valuable for those who plan to teach secondary mathematics in high schools. The necessary prerequisites do not extend beyond the subjects usually offered in the first year of college work. The subject will be taught by Prof. C. F. Lewis.

GRIMES RETURNS

Appropriate for the coming week of final examinations is the following rhyme which every student would do well to keep in mind:
You can lead a horse to water,
But you can't make him drink.

And you can lead a pony to class,
But you can't make him think.

The Snooper

By FRANK SHIDLER

Fare-Thee-Well

This issue, our dear friends, of the Collegian is the last for this semester. During this time we have enjoyed having you with us, and the rest of that old stuff. In the future we hope you will enjoy The Collegian as much as we hoped you would enjoy it the past semester. We have tried to keep for the sterling brains of our student body such corruptive practices as peddling too much about the peace club; trying to curb athletes' feet in the gymnasium; and we have tried so terribly hard to keep the name of Neddie Kimball out of our dirty column, or visa versa.

A Journalist

It seems that Prof. F. E. Charles was checking up on a story that was to appear in the Industrialist—the paper edited for apparently no good reason at all. He found that the story had altogether too many errors in dates, names, and spelling, so he immediately went to see Mr. Lashbrook about the deplorable condition of Collegian reporters. For a few minutes the "dumb reporters of the college newspaper" really caught the proverbial —. Finally Mr. Lashbrook looked through his files and found the copy of the story which had the same "F. E. Charles" glaringly written across the top.

Complications

There's a secret romance going about the campus. It seems that somebody is in love with a girl from Van Zile hall. (this is the truth even if it is stranger than fiction), and he calls her asking for dates which she will not consent to give him. Now this lover has a very tactful roommate who knows another girl in VZ hall. This roommate called the party of the second part telling her to pretend that she was the party of the first part. Now after the smoke has cleared the boy that was calling the girl for a date has a date with the second girl for Saturday night and—oh well figure it out for yourself.

Audience

At the debate between KSC and the California students on tour the California lads mentioned that "this was the best crowd that they have talked before on their current tour." Many of the old people rendered applause while the younger students were thinking of the reports they HAD to get-in order to get out of a final in Extemporaneous speaking.

Fight Results

The Chi Omegas have been given a certain rushee quite a bit of house lately, that in itself is nothing unusual, but read on. This girl is in high school but is coming to college this next semester. She decided to go Chi Omega and even consented to wear the ribbons of Chi Omegadom. Now comes the good part—the Pi Phi's had the rushee over to their house ONCE and she decided to be a Pi Phi and told the Chi O's of her decision. The Chi Omegas are really tearing their hair now. What we wonder is how the Pi Phi's can get those hot-boxes, surely they cannot offer their pledges jobs because they play football.

Timely

The Kappa Sigs can be given credit for something at last—they have planned to hold their party the Saturday night that finals are over. According to the local standards a party at this time and under those conditions should be something of a go; that is if proper authorities do not get the idea to take the matter strictly in hand.

Shin-Kicker

The idea for the Shin-Kicker sponsored by Theta Sigma Phi and Sigma Delta Chi has at last opened into a reality. The struggle is to be held at the Avalon ballroom and will be held at various times during the day, probably between 2 and 5 o'clock in the afternoon and from 8 'til 12 o'clock Wednesday night. The cost, not including 5 cents for entrance, will be 5 cents a dance. The second, third, fourth, and etc., nickels go for dancing, music, divans, and the general indirect welfare of the University department. No extra tax will be charged for Sigma Nu jittering so come up and watch the boys perform.

Society

One of the best known members of the faculty was recently asked to join a play reading club which he and his wife at the time thought to be a good idea. But after thinking it over they decided to decline the idea altogether. To start the declinations they decided to pay a call to a member of the club and tactfully refuse the honor. They went into the caller's house, that is, they thought it was the caller's house, only to find that they were in the wrong house but just the same they very non-chalantly turned the occasion into an opportunity for social betterment. Later the club decided to put on a play and selected the near refusing "member" to play the part of Napoleon.

Paying Good Dividends

Within the last year the division of veterinary medicine at Kansas State college discovered the cause of and developed a vaccine against an infectious intestinal disease in cats in answer to appeals from farmers. Because of the depopulation of cats from the disease, depredations of rats and mice on farms became extensive enough to result in serious financial loss. Many times greater than the savings to farmers through this latest discovery has been that resulting from the development of modern blackleg vaccines, the outstanding piece of research in veterinary medicine at the college. It has resulted in a saving to livestock interests greater than the total cost of the college to taxpayers since its establishment.

Individual treatment is given every year in the veterinary clinic to 12,000 to 15,000 animals. They come from all parts of Kansas and from as far away as Florida and California. Each year thousands of letter inquiries from Kansas livestock owners are answered by the veterinary division, the information given often resulting in great savings to Kansas livestock interests.

The division of veterinary medicine maintains close professional relationship with the veterinary practitioners in Kansas, Dean R. R. Dykstra reports, because it believes that the highest type of service for the prevention and cure of livestock diseases can be rendered through the Kansas graduates in veterinary medicine. Early in the century the Kansas legislature, feeling that livestock owners should be protected against incompetent veterinary service, passed a law virtually limiting the practice of veterinary medicine to persons who had completed a college curriculum in veterinary medicine. At that time there were more than twice as many non-graduate veterinary practitioners in Kansas as graduates. In the years since, the ratio has reversed until now there are approximately three times as many graduates as non-graduates practicing.

The new vaccine for ailing cats, the blackleg vaccine, the veterinary division's ranking as the second largest of its kind in the country, the progress in general of veterinary medicine in Kansas all testify to service well performed.—Kansas Industrialist.

Prospects for a winning season in track appear to be good, with fifty men reporting.—Industrialist, 1910.

Mrs. R. F. White Tells of Turkey Home Economics

"I'm so glad to be back to sliced bread and Woolworth's," said Mrs. Raymond F. White. Mrs. White, back in the United States after six years in Turkey at the International College at Smyrna, thinks all the joys of traveling do not offset the inconveniences. Mr. White, who had charge of the agricultural work and experimental farms at the college in Smyrna, is taking graduate work here at Kansas State. Mrs. White is taking a course in short story with the idea of using some of her experiences as material.

In an interview Mrs. White discussed the trials of keeping house in a country where there is inadequate refrigeration and food can be had only in season, and where ironing is done with a charcoal iron about the size of a "small trunk." There are some advantages to cooking with charcoal, of course; for instance, charcoal toast (made over charcoal) is delicious.

These inconveniences are evidently not to be the order of things for long, for Mrs. White says that Mustafa Kemal in seven years has instituted an amazing number of sweeping reforms, for which he is praised and respected almost to the point of adoration. He has raised the literacy percent from ten percent to eighty percent by establishing night schools, public schools, and by raising teaching standards.

Mustapha Kemal changed the alphabet from the old Arabic to the Latin script and now the people go to school for three months and are able to read newspapers.

For a long time the Turk had no name other than a given name followed by the conventional Bey (Mr.). However, Kemal Pasha, as he is known, has instituted the custom of family names and now every man has a family name and the title Bey is used before the name instead of after. The name Kemal has taken for himself is Gazi Kemal Ata Turk, the Gazi meaning "the conqueror." All other titles ordinarily used by the Turks have been abolished.

Some of the more common titles that Americans have been in the habit of mistaking for names are Effendi for esquire, Pasha for the equivalent of duke, and agha for uncle. The titles Hadja and Hadji have a religious significance, the first meaning a preacher in a mosque and the second meaning "pilgrim" and used by those who have made the pilgrimage to Mecca. Along with other reforms Gazi Kemal has started a five-year industrial plan with one of the first innovations a hydro-electric plant with machinery imported from Russia. In return for this aid Russia expects payment in goods over a long-time period.

In addition to modernizing the school systems and industrial features of the country Gazi Kemal has suppressed old religious customs and has established national holidays for the long-established religious holidays.

Mrs. White says there is scarcely any food preservation except in jams and very little tin canning. The foods utilized were necessarily only those in season. One Turkish delicacy that is not so palatable to the American is the tail of the fat-tailed sheep. That special cut has a peculiar flavor that is not at all pleasing. The ordinary oil used for frying is olive oil.

The animals that the Turk uses for dairy purposes are sheep, goats, and cows, with sheep and goats in favor because most small farms can support either of the two more economically than a cow. As would be expected, the national meat is sheep, of which the head and eyes are used along with the other cuts.

Among other features of modernized Turkey is that of women's dress. The working women and country women still wear the long black skirt and head shawls but Mrs. White says that some of the smartest gowns she saw while away were those seen at the Red Crescent ball in Smyrna. The Red Crescent corresponds to the Red Cross in this country and its yearly charity is quite typical in its fifty-cent sandwiches and its other rack-ets.

Some of the lesser-known things about Turkey that it practically has a world monopoly on birdseed and locofice. That may sound very amusing but even birdseed and locofice have their more lucrative moments.

Mrs. White did not let six years go by without collecting some of the lovely examples of handicraft. Among them is a lovely deep red Turkish rug with a blue design. All the Turkish rugs have symbols characteristic of the section of the country in which they were made. The prayer rugs always have a point in their design that is placed in the direction of Mecca when in use. The border of a prayer rug has a zigzagging design that is symbolic of the Meander River in Turkey and from which the English language gets its word meander.

Mrs. White has some lovely Kut-ahya pottery in a deep blue design and several pieces of brass, including one tall brass candlestick from a mosque, that is now used as a floor lamp.

The collection of weaving and needlework that is now on display in Calvin hall belongs to Mrs. White and is typical of that done in Turkey. The Turkish brides have the habit of making lovely embroidered pieces for their hope chests and then putting pears, stuffed with spice in the chest, with the result that the materials are stained brown. The brown stains are therefore indicative of the genuine Turkish article.

Just as we were getting ready to predict that Kansas wouldn't lose a game and take the conference basketball title hands down, the Oklahoma Sooners, after taking an awful beating the night before, knock the Jayhawkers off 36-26. . . . So it looks as if this year's race will be a repetition of past campaigns, with Kansas and Oklahoma fighting for the crown. . . . The only difference being that the Missouri is conspicuous by its absence from the top half of the standings.

Kansas State without Groves is like Kansas without Ebling, Oklahoma without Browning, or Iowa State without Wegner. He is very necessary to the well-being of the team. Despite his poor condition due to a foot injury Groves controlled the tip easily, out-jumping Iowa State's all-conference center, and had been feeling good it is probable that he would have given a very fine exhibition of plain and fancy goal shooting. . . . With a few of the ordinary breaks the Wildcats would have won the Iowa State game. Inability of the Kansas State guards to get the ball off the backboard gave the Cyclones a decided time advantage in having the ball. . . . Forward Tellejohn had some hard luck on three shots that should have been a neat six points. . . . but what hurt the most was Wegner's turn-wrist-flip shots from the free throw line.

Nightmares of a basketball coach. . . . Coach Frank P. Root tells one that he experienced the night after Groves injured his foot down Oklahoma way. . . . It seems that Coach Root finds himself in some large, strange gym with a game coming up that night and he has no center. . . . when, lo and behold, who should come in the door but a tall fellow about 6'7" and in each hand he carries two bushel baskets (that's eight points). . . . Root is overwhelmed with joy. . . . victory is in the bag. (Enter the pathos.) . . . while looking down to examine the player's feet, Coach Root finds that one ankle is swollen to about the size of a large-sized watermelon. . . . and the rest you've probably already guessed. Coach Root sits on the bench during the game beside his center, who still has the two bushel baskets (eight points) and cannot get into the game. . . . And for the lack of a center the game was lost.

The only conference game scheduled for this weekend is the clash between the Missouri Tigers and Nebraska tomorrow night. Monday the Cornhuskers invade Manhattan. . . . and don't be surprised if the Wildcats break into the win column. With Groves in shape and Captain Stoner recovered from his cold, the Wildcats are due to click

Basketball Intramural Championship to Independents on Pan-Hel Winner's Defeat

An audience of about one hundred people saw the Wesley Foundation Athletic Club win the intramural basketball championship of the school by defeating the Kappa Sigs, winners of the fraternity groups, 32 to 19, at Nichols gymnasium last Tuesday night.

The W. F. A. C. team is composed of three members of last year's Manhattan high school team, and the other two former members of the Leavenworth high school team.

The game was a rough affair at times, fouls being called frequently. The Kappa Sigs had an off night missing a large percent of their close in shots. John Hanson, Kappa Sig forward, who scored eight field goals in 11 tries in the previous game, scored only four points in the game last Tuesday night.

Klimek, W. F. A. C. forward, was high point man for his team with 11 points, scoring three field goals and 5 free throws. Abbey and Cooley tied for scoring honors for the Kappa Sigs with 8 points each.

This'n That

P-o-o-f—and another semester reaches a climax. At this late date the usual frantic rushing for finishing projects, handing in reports, reading the text book, and collecting previous quiz papers crowds all other activities of a more trivial and slightly scandalous nature off the map. Hence, a new low in This'n That columns. . . . It's positively uncanny how completely a class can be disrupted—and for no apparent reason at all. Several advanced students actually had to be called down by the instructor in an American lit class when a coy co-ed, dramatically giving a report on a book of poetry, said: "You know, Miss Wiley has my philosophy of life exactly—when you've got to go, you might as well go happy." . . . What we'd like to know is—how do the Pi K A's entertain with their housemother out of town? (This is not a hint, merely a crack) . . . Someone asked us to put in the column about Wilma Lee Matherly's not getting to the two varsities immediately after being elected beauty queen—but after all, maybe the girl would rather not dance. Could be it that someone's jealous? . . . It seems that some people just won't ever learn. Anyway, the pride of Sigma Alpha Epsilon is repeating his sad mistake of last year by rushing a girl who already has a fellow that goes to school at the university. Maybe it's because he's taking 'Ag that he can't seem to swing it like he should. He even sent this 'blonde venus' a box of candy last week. . . . This sending candy is not original with him, however. Pat Murphy, the rosy-cheeked SAE, sent chocolates to Doris Dalton last week, too. And she still has Dale Dixon's pin, even if she isn't wearing it. . . . Evidently the Sigma Nus are cutting down on their pledges this week (a little late, we might suggest) because when we called a pledge on the phone last night to get some news, an active came into the phone booth and gave said pledge the devil for being out of his room. Possibly the active was only afraid that he would miss a telephone call, though. Such is the rivalry at the shanty on Thurston. . . . We believe in love and all that stuff, but not at eight o'clock in the morning for three days a week. Something must be wrong with the couple that can sit and moon and hold hands at that early hour. Incidentally, one of these love birds is a professor's daughter. . . . One of the Tri Deltas breezed into the Collegian office last night and informed us with very little persuasion that the pledges who were campused (and there were "just gobs of them," she said) played "hide-and-seek" over the weekend. Is this a subtle way of informing us how the Tri Delt pledges get around? . . . McNeal scores again! Surprising the population by getting a date on the 'up and up' to the Goldiggers' ball, he even got asked for a late date—and practically got rushed off his feet by said dame. (And when we say 'dame' we mean just that.) . . . In order to prove to his D Tau D brothers that he actually did rate he told the girl to call at the house at one o'clock and he'd try to be there—but here's the surprising thing—McNeal passed the offer up like so much coolidge.

MADSEN TO EDIT ENGINEER

Linn Helander Is Chosen Faculty Adviser

L. D. Madsen of Corbin was chosen editor of the Kansas State Engineer to succeed V. A. Elliott, McPherson, at a recent election of the engineering department. Professor Linn Helander, new head of the mechanical engineering department, will be faculty adviser. Others elected to assist Madsen on the staff are W. E. Peery, Manhattan, assistant editor; N. E. Davidson, Yates Center, alumni editor; Florence Wheeler, Jewell, review; Ray Lippenberger, Manhattan, architectural news; and T. C. Wherry, Sabatha, assistant business manager.

DICKINSON "County Chairman"

Will Rogers fans will thoroughly enjoy his new picture, "County Chairman," the scenes of which are laid in Wyoming in the year 1898. It's the old story of romance interwoven with politics which the world has always known with new and original dialogues and characterizations which entertain and amuse. Against his will and to help a very dear and old friend to whom he is indebted, a young lawyer allows himself to be run as a "dark horse" in the county election for prosecuting judge against his fiancée's father, a veteran politician. Throughout the country, incensed by a long-standing feud between the young lawyer's campaign manager and the rival candidate, a heated campaign is made which quite naturally results in a broken romance. With the returns of the election the young lawyer wins both the office and his fiancée and the picture closes with a novel ending.

Will Rogers as county chairman does his usual fine acting in his own inimitable manner that makes him such a favorite. Lovely Natalie Venable and Kent Taylor are very good in their roles, and Step-N-Fetch-It, who has become a look-alike character in Will Rogers' pictures, is present in his usual state of fatigue and more amusing than in previous pictures.

The holding over for the second week of "The Lives of a Bengal Lancer" at the Newman theater and "Imitation of Life" at the Uptown theater in Kansas City necessitates a change in dates at the Dickinson theater here.

VARSITY

"Romance in Manhattan"

"Romance in Manhattan" playing at the Varsity theater Friday and Saturday of this week is composed of everything that goes to make a first rate entertainment, but there is something lacking. The story has the colorful setting of little old New York. Francis Lederer, attractive as he is sincere, is the immigrant boy with the desire to make a living in America. Ginger Rogers is the hard working chorine, interested only in caring for her young brother, Jimmy Butler as the brother does a good piece of acting. The story drags along until Farrell McDonald appears on the screen in a police station sequence that is really funny.

—throughout the years what one thing has given so much pleasure..so much satisfaction

Early Colonial planters shipped hundreds of pounds of tobacco to England in return for goods and supplies.

They came looking for gold . . . but they found tobacco

. . . and tobacco has been like gold ever since! The tobacco raised in Virginia and exchanged for goods helped the struggling colonists to get a foothold when they came to America.

Later on, it was tobacco that helped to clothe and feed Washington's brave army at Valley Forge.

Today it is tobacco that helps—more than any other commodity raised in this country—to pay the expense of running our Government.

In the fiscal year 1933-34 the Federal Government collected $425,000,000 from the tax on tobacco. Most of this came from cigarettes—six cents tax on every package of twenty.

Yes, the cigarette helps a lot—and it certainly gives men and women a lot of pleasure.

Smokers have several reasons for liking Chesterfields. For one thing, Chesterfields are milder. For another thing, they taste better. They Satisfy.

Refuse To Fight If U.S. Aggresses

But Students Are Willing To Wage Defensive War, Digest Poll Reveals

Early returns in the college peace poll conducted by the association of college editors and the Literary Digest reveal that out of 30,000 votes cast so far, 24,508 students indicated their unwillingness to fight in the next war if the United States is the aggressor. The votes from Kansas State were not included in the results.

In the other questions voted on majority opinion in all the colleges included in the poll indicated that if the United States were attacked the students would be willing to fight, that students believe that the United States can stay out of war, and that government control of armament and munitions and universal conscription of capital labor in time of war is a good thing. In all the colleges with the exception of Georgia, Indiana, and Purdue the majority believed that a navy and air force second to none was not an assurance of peace.

The vote was the closest on whether or not the United States should enter the League of Nations, 15,731 favoring our entry and 14,072 opposing it.

These same questions with some revision to fit the special case are being submitted to the Canadian University, Queen's, to test undergraduate anti-war sentiment in that country.

Normal Number For Enrolment

Large Group of New Students Expected—Many Usually Drop At Half-Year

All indications point to a normal sized second semester enrolment today and tomorrow, according to Miss Jessie McDowell Machir, registrar. The amount of correspondence received recently at the office of Vice-president J. T. Willard causes a large group of new students to be expected this semester.

This will not necessarily mean a larger enrolment than first semester because many new students drop school at the end of the first semester. The second semester registration is always smaller than the first, according to the registrar.

The enrolment started this morning in Nichols gymnasium at 7:45 o'clock. In making out the registration schedule, a mistake was made. The group of students who were scheduled to enrol this afternoon, will enrol between 7:45 and 9:30 tomorrow morning. This group includes all students with the last names beginning with the letters E, F, O, U, and W.

The complete schedule of enrolment is:

January 29—7:45 to 9:30, J, L, M, and X; 10 to 11:45, B, F, T, V; 1 to 2:30, K, N, Q, S, Z.

January 30—7:45 to 9:30, E, F, O, U, W; 10 to 11:45, C, I, G, R, 1 to 2:30, A, D, H, Y; 2:30 to 4, all special students and any who failed to report during the period provided for their group.

Founder's Day Program Over NBC Network

DRAMATIZATIONS, HISTORY OF KANSAS STATE AND MUSIC WILL BE FEATURED

Originates At KSAC

Celebration of Seventy-Second Anniversary Will Be Broadcast at 7:30 February 16

Dramatization of college academic work and social activities, 15 minutes of college songs and instrumental music, historical and descriptive matter concerning the land grant college system of which Kansas State college is a member, and a brief talk by Pres. F. D. Farrell, will be included in a 30-minute radio broadcast over the NBC blue network from 7:30 to 8 o'clock, central standard time, in the evening of February 16 celebrating the seventy-second anniversary of the founding of Kansas State college.

The program will originate in the studios of radio station KSAC in the Nichols gymnasium. Alumni throughout the country are urged by Kenny L. Ford, alumni secretary, and by members of the program committee, headed by H. W. Davis, to communicate immediately with their favorite radio station and with other stations in the NBC blue network in the territory. These stations should be urged to use the Founder's day program, as it is optional with the stations on whether they use this program or not.

Half of the broadcast will be classical or semiclassical music and dramatic entertainment, instrumental music and college songs. The Alma Mater, Wildcat Victory, and the college yell will be a few of the familiar songs which will go out to the alumni throughout the country. Interludes of music will separate dramatizations.

STUDENT LOANS MADE

A Total of $100 Advanced By Alumni Association

Kenny L. Ford, alumni secretary, who is in charge of student loans stated yesterday that the committee was still approving loans.

Yesterday the committee met and approved loans which totaled as much as $700. The average student loan for registration, Mr. Ford said, is $40. Loans of several thousand dollars have also recently been approved.

Last semester student loans were about $9,000.

Former K-State Athlete Is Outstanding Pro Boxer

Bus Brees, former student at Kansas State continues upward and upward in his fight career as the lightweight title contender. Brees began his career while attending Kansas State college and being

He was enrolled in the boxing class, but showed, at first, no amazing ability in this line. Brees' introduction to the ring was purely accidental. Coach Patterson was taking his team to Kansas City to meet an arena team and at the last minute his entry in the lightweight class became ill. Needing a contender to take the place of the sick man, Patterson asked Brees to substitute for him. Brees fought the scheduled three rounds and won his match. This was in 1931 and proved to be only the beginning for Brees in the fighting game.

Brees continued to fight in the amateur class. Most of his bouts for the next two years were for Kansas State under the training of Coach Patterson. Other fights that were picked up by Brees during these two years were almost entirely arranged by him.

In 1933 Brees turned professional and has hit the professional circles, displaying the same careful, clean fighting rules he always used in his collegiate and amateur matches. Brees still is his own manager and is showing as good judgment in his managing as in his fighting ability. Brees intimates that his desires are centered upon either a try at the Junior lightweight crown held by Frankie Klick, or at winning from Barney Ross, the lightweight champion.

Brees continues to call Manhattan his home, and still works out with the Kansas State boxing squad under the direction of Coach Patterson. According to Patterson Brees is a great help to the Kansas State men; working out with them, and showing them their mistakes.

While attending Kansas State, Brees became interested in boxing, coached by B. R. "Pat" Patterson. Brees became interested in athletics while going to high school. He became a good broad jumper, 100 yard dash man, and played a good game of tennis. His tennis game on the Kansas State courts attracted the attention of many spectators because of his speed and footwork on the court.

TAXI DANCE HERE TONIGHT

Journalism Fraternities Sponsor Novel Event at Avalon Ballroom

Kansas State students will have something new tonight in the way of college rhythm at the Avalon ballroom from 8 to 12 o'clock. It is a shin-kicker (Shades of Arkansas in '07, you're thinking) but there will be nothing demoted about the music from the Gold Coast Band and admission to the ballroom is only five cents with an additional five cents each dance. It is being sponsored by Sigma Delta Chi and Theta Sigma Phi, honorary journalism fraternities. Just wander in any time, dance, then go jelly or hunt up additional nickels, then come back, dance some more.

Find Skeletons Near Manhattan

Sperry and Byrne Inspect Indian Relics Overcome by Workmen West of Town

Prof. A. B. Sperry, head of the geology department reported that he and Prof. Frank Byrne, geology instructor discovered additional Indian relics yesterday at the building site of the dam for the county lake on the C. E. Fairman farm two miles west of Manhattan where workmen recently unearthed seven Indian skeletons, beads, and arrowheads.

The remains were found at the foot of the slope of a ravine while Indians in this vicinity ordinarily buried their dead on top of hills. Mr. Sperry believes that the Indians were probably camped under an overhanging mass of dirt or in a cave which collapsed, imprisoning them.

Charcoal which was mixed with the remains, he said, indicated that it was an old camping ground. When the skeletons were discovered over a week ago, Professor Byrne expressed the opinion that this was an old battlefield and those killed were buried nearby.

The geologists stated that the fragments are undoubtedly of recent origin although it will take some time and careful examination to fix their age which will be determined chiefly from bits of pottery found with the skeletons.

Workmen indicated that the bones were found from six to ten feet underground. The first skeletons discovered were damaged badly by the plows which dug them out. The bones were fragile and there was no indication that they had been buried in a container. One of the skeletons had a string of beads around its neck, other beads were found in the graves, and two large stones for grinding tomahawks.

Although the skeletons were buried in clay there is much shale in the surrounding territory, Professor Sperry stated.

Speakers For Forums Named By Committees

STUDENT FORUM TO BEGIN FEB. 6—CHRISTIAN WORLD FORUM APRIL 5-7

Noted Speakers

Authority on Rural Homes, a Former Communist Soldier, a Missionary From Japan and Dr. Hill to Speak

Three speakers for student forum have been announced by the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A., sponsoring organizations, and one speaker has been announced for the annual Christian World Forum, also sponsored by the two "Y" organizations and in addition by the Ministerial Union of Manhattan.

The first student forum speaker, on February 6, will be Miss Connie Bonslage, state home demonstration leader in Arkansas and considered an authority on all types of rural homes. She has spoken on Farm Women's programs abroad.

Dr. H. T. Hill, head of the public speaking department at Kansas State, will be the second speaker, on February 13. Dr. Hill, who is well known as a speaker, will talk on "The Tenantless House."

John Bekker, a former member of the Communist army and now a student at the University of Kansas, will be the third speaker on February 20. Bekker was a speaker at the recent Cosmopolitan national convention held in Lawrence.

Student forum this year is in charge of Janet Samuels, Manhattan, and Joe Wetts, Colwich. The meetings are held Wednesday noons in the college cafeteria, and are open to all students, faculty members and townspeople. Each year speakers on economic, social and political problems, who are well known either in the state or nationally, are brought here for this series of forums.

Student forum is culminated by the Christian World Forum at which time speakers nationally and internationally known are brought to Manhattan. Usually four speakers are obtained and they speak at the forum meetings, student assemblies, fraternity meetings, church groups, and before other organizations. This year world forum will be April 5, 6, and 7.

Dr. H. B. Benninghoff, of Waseda university in Japan, is the only speaker who has been announced. He is a lecturer on Occidental civilization and on the ideals of Christianity, and is being brought here by the board of education of the Northern Baptist convention.

The ministerial union is composed of seven churches: the Baptist, Christian, Congregational, Episcopal, Methodist, Presbyterian, and the United Presbyterian.

The world forum committees are: Program: Elizabeth Pittman chairman, Dr. A. A. Holtz, advisor, George Hart, Alice Sloop, and David Reid. Arrangement: Ruth Gresham, chairman, the Reverend B. A. Rogers, advisor, Ray Sollenberger, Frances Farrell, and Ellen Payne. Publicity: Vernon Rector, chairman, Ruth Haines, Y. W. C. A. secretary, advisor, Pauline Compton, Max Burk, Joe Martinez, and Faye Young. Finance: Wayne Herring, chairman, the Rev. W. U. Guerrant, advisor, Helen Vickburg, Ruth Crouch, and Horton Laude.

The executive committee is composed of Ruth Jorgenson, Dan Shiel, and the chairmen and advisors of the other committees.

Farm - Home Week To Stress Drought Relief

PROGRAM ALSO DEVOTED TO ADVANCEMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Little Royal Feb. 7

Fitting and Showing Contest For Students To Be Held in the College Judging Pavilion

Kansas State will again become the center of interest to the agricultural population of Kansas, when the annual farm and home week opens February 5 to 8. Because of the drought the program this year will emphasize remedies for the conditions resulting from last summer's aridity.

Although the drought's ravages were severe, Kansas agriculture is not looking backward, officials say. "In spite of its difficulties," said L. C. Williams of the extension division, "Kansas agriculture has moved ahead. The 1935 farm and home week will be devoted to plans for continuing that advance and for making farm life richer and more satisfying."

Of particular interest to college students is the Little American Royal which will be held February 7 in the judging pavilion. This is a fitting and showing contest in which only students participate. Livestock furnished by the college will be used by the students.

On the opening night of the farm and home week will be home talent night. Delegations from various counties will compete for prizes in presenting stunts.

The first day of farm and home week will be poultry day. H. L. Kempster, chairman of the Missouri university poultry department will be the featured speaker.

The following day, February 6, will be devoted to dairymen. Two prominent out of state speakers will be on the program. They are Jack Shelton, Tulsa, Tex., president of the American Jersey Cattle club, and A. J. Glover, Fort Atkinson, Wis., editor of Hoard's Dairyman and president of the Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

A demonstration by Prof. D. L. Mackintosh on curing, storing, and handling pork, and a swine symposium will be the features on livestock day Thursday, February 7.

Clarence Henry of the Chicago board of trade will discuss imports and exports on agronomy day, Friday. A meeting of the Kansas Crop Improvement association will also be held Friday in which will be discussions on the shelterbelt, the farm seed situation, Clarkan wheat, pasture re-establishment, and spring management of wheat pasturing.

Despite the drought the usual blue ribbon seed corn show will be held. The champions in this, the beef and poultry production champions, premier seed growers, and Kansas master farmers will be selected as usual and presented at the achievement banquet to be held Friday night. This banquet climaxes and ends the farm and home week.

A program as interesting as the women's has been arranged for the men who attend the meetings. Information will be given to guide the homemaker in more profitable buying. Among the speakers will be Miss Connie Bonslage, state home demonstration agent of the extension service of the College of Agriculture, Little Rock, Ark.; Mrs. George H. Berry, Montana home maker; and Dean Margaret Justin of Kansas State.

TRACK TEAM TAKES FORM

Prospects Are Good For Strong 2-Mile Relay Team

The Kansas State track team is shaping up and will resume practice after registration. It is not too late yet to go out for any of the track events.

At present the team is greatly in need of field men. Early trials have shown that the Wildcats have strength in the hurdles, 440, 880, mile, and two mile events. Prospects are also good for a fine 2-mile relay team for the winter and spring relay carnivals.

David Shrade, prominent weight man in his freshman year last year, is ineligible for the coming semester. George Bell, letter-man in the weights last year is returning to school this next semester.

Coach Ward Haylett stated yesterday that there is some possibility of a dual meet with Kansas University at Lawrence, Saturday, February 9.

The President's Greeting

It is a pleasure to welcome students who are entering or reentering Kansas State College at the beginning of the second semester. Many of these students are able to be in College only because they or their parents have made extraordinary sacrifices.

The practice of foregoing present pleasures, comforts or conveniences to obtain future benefits is a characteristic of intelligent, far-sighted persons everywhere. When the practice involves college training is especially valuable to those who follow it.

College officials and teachers are eager to aid students wishing to advance educationally to make full use of the numerous facilities available here. All such students may be assured of a sincere welcome and wholehearted cooperation.

Sincerely yours,
F. D. Farrell,
President.

President's Ball Wednesday Night

Proceeds To Go To Local Poor And To The Victims Of Infantile Paralysis

The second annual President's birthday ball will be held Wednesday evening from 8 to 12 o'clock at the Wareham. This ball is one of 5,000, which are being given all over the country in honor of the President's fifty-third birthday.

The entire profits of this ball will go for medicinal purposes. Of the local ball, 70 per cent of the proceeds will be retained here and distributed by a local medicinal society as it sees fit. Thirty per cent of the money will be sent to the Warm Springs, Ga., foundation for the treatment of infantile paralysis. It was at these springs that Pres. F. D. Roosevelt was treated. The members of the Bailey Rose orchestra, which will furnish music and special entertainment, are paying back part of their salary into the fund.

SUGGESTIONS FROM OTHER CAMPUSES

The interest recently created by the Dynamics forum discussion concerning proposed changes in the school that might take place in the next twenty years naturally arouses interest in the proposals advanced by student thinkers in other universities. The suggestions listed below were condensed from the college press by the editor of "What the Colleges Are Doing."

1. Cut out ruthlessly the loafers from among both students and faculty, even though some of them are sons of high priced alumni.

2. Cut out antiquated and nonsocial courses. Make them all show results in the broadening of altruistic knowledge, and not alone, as so frequently at present, in merely personal satisfactions.

3. Institute courses which shall function in a working knowledge of America as it is, or is to be, under Roosevelt—if anybody can be found competent to teach such courses. If not, do it anyhow; it will educate the faculty.

4. Do away with the execrable injustice of outgrown marking systems and their regimentation of mediocrity.

5. Trim the fraternities of their follies and see that they contribute to the sanity of the campus or go out of business.

6. Abolish "Hell Week" and all of its slanderous publicity, even if you do it with an ax.

7. Build buildings that look more like workshops and less like monumental piles. The places for such is in the cemetery.

8. Pay the faculty "big shots" what they are worth. Keep them on the campus at any cost, even if you have to lop off a few tag ends or other frills.

9. Trim down on nonproductive research, by "non-productive" meaning without social value; and then emphasize teaching ability.

10. Take the Ph.D. degree off its pedestal. The lure of pure intellectualism is gone, and the college may as well accept the fact.

11. Give academic freedom to students who deserve it. Take it away when the fail to do so.

12. Abolish old-fashioned compulsory chapel. Substitute peppy all-college assemblies with a dash of the inspiration or spiritual.

The ideas above represent liberal, if not—dare we say it—radical trends in undergraduate opinion. Quite obviously if the changes above advocated were put into effect colleges and universities as know them now would not exist.

INTOLERANCE OF INTOLERANCE

When word came that Roosevelt had been elected president to succeed the "forgotten man," one good citizen of the land, a true alarmist, rushed into a neighbor's house and said, "Well, the sun is still shining, though I don't see how it can!" And now, after a reign of Roosevelt, the sun still shines occasionally.

All of which is apparently a perfect parallel to the present situation of The Collegian—a number of opinions with typical stodginess are bemoaning the fate of an erstwhile "splendid newspaper," and are sure that it is well on its way to oblivion of the most inglorious kind.

Perhaps it is. But it seems only fair that it be allowed to sing into oblivion in its own way, without sundry kicks to help it gain momentum. And after all, the conservatives may be fooled. It is barely possible that the paper will go on for a while—such things have happened before—and it is the better type of sportsmanship to give a new administration a chance to show its wares before offering criticism. It may be asking too much to admonish people to boost a thing and help it out, but the least they can do is leave it alone and help by being discreetly silent.

Tolerance is a difficult virtue to cultivate, but it is possible. Some sage, in the not too distant past, said, "The only kind of intolerance that should be tolerated is an intolerance of intolerance."—Ruth Thomas.

The vote 15,731 to 14,072 in the Literary Digest's college peace poll favoring entry of the United States into the League of Nations is an encouraging sign that the younger generation is beginning to realize that the sage advice of our forefathers to "avoid entangling alliances" is now, and has been for some time, an impossibility. When the United States landed the first of two million troops in France in 1918, we gave concrete proof of the fact that we are inextricably bound to Europe by economic, cultural, and emotional ties. Blind adherence to a fallacious, outmoded theory of aloofness in international affairs merely because it represents the opinion of the "father of our country" places a grave obstacle in the progress of social enlightenment. The League of Nations, imperfect as it is, represents the greatest single force for the settlement of international differences by peaceful methods rather than by violence. By all means the United States should indicate its realization of its duty among nations by joining the League.

There are no educated men, never have been and never will be, says Glenn Frank, prexy of the University of Wisconsin. Wait until Doc hears that one.

Two pints make one cavort insists a prominent-K-Stater—for the pun of it we suppose.

Two gals who date ATO's right steady like, were called on for the Awful Tight Oysters sweetheart song at dinner one evening. It's sad to confess they knew not even the tune. What do those Fairchild fellows do to pass the time with their women? Now if they were Deits (yes, Wassberg)—or even Tekes—

One right snooty Greek Gal entertained a most gorgeous date all afternoon during final week. Sisters peeking under the transom (or was it over?) discovered her serenely waiting with her younger brother. That's one way to keep up one's social standing.

The Kappa Sigs had a receiving line Saturday.

At Alabama U. a "coke" is a "dope". At Kansas State those who drinkum are "dopes". So?

We hope we don't seem to agricultural (after all, who is our alma mater?) in saying that right now—after The Great Exodus a great many profs seem to plan their courses as Kentuckians build their fences—with such crooked rails that when the pig crawls through he always comes out on the same side he starts from.

No come tonsil brushes for instructors to shove down our throats in those darn Personal Hygiene courses.

There's a Van Ziler to whom we owe a big favor. Some day (come up Friday, Mable) we're going to trust her with a secret so she will feel right important while telling it.

Fashionists announce blue hose for spring. Heck, our limbs have been blue ever since the night the merk hit thirteen below!

The Kansas Supreme court has ruled that a kitchen is not a factory. Have any of those judges eaten "gaa" in chili parlors lately? It tastes like a munitions factory to us.

A senior in journalism is reported to have gained five pounds final week. Our idea is she didn't have a bath. Yours?

With one more crack at those "dirty" journalists we'll be free to go have a coke, without chocolate. (We don't like a coke without vanilla.) Forementioned journo-wournys spend today in Topeka on the Capital. We will go along to get the facts of it all so watch this space Friday.

Vacant Vera can't eat her Friday apple. She has invited the doctor and his wife over for dinner.

Mike Ahearn used to be connected with the department of horticulture. We wonder if this experience with green things was much of a help in his later work.

People are always willing to believe that one is at least fifty per cent less intelligent than he appears.

Life, things, and people are not always what they seem. Generally they are a lot worse.

The nation's press has worked itself into quite a fervor over the fate of the seven Louisiana University journalism students who dared to volubly express their dissatisfaction with the Huey Long domination of thought and action at that college. Would it be too much to draw a parallel with the probable fate of the four drill resistors who refused to submit to ROTC training at this college?

One doesn't have to do much looking around to see how the depression has changed the entire outlook of college students. No longer do they rollick through four years of the usual collegiate light-heartedness, secure in the belief that at the end of the trail there lies an A. B. and any one of half a dozen jobs. The A. B.'s can still be obtained without much difficulty—but where are the lucrative positions?

The college student of today is beginning to do a great deal of thinking. The Rubaiyat is being replaced in collegiate conversation by the latest news of the monetary system. It is an indisputable fact that courses in economics, history and government are becoming more popular. On our own campus we recently saw a very good illustration of this trend in the "Little Legislature."

In other words the college youth of today is beginning to realize what his European brother has long known, that he must take an active interest in his country—that he too is a part of the country and its future.

STUDENT COMMENT

Just like the New Year is the New Collegian—the whole staff has been reorganized, even the old Snooper has been gleefully kicked out and all of you sinners can once more go the ways of all free people. The New Collegian is catering to the anti-fraternity and sorority movement. The bars will be glorified. That, dear friends—quoting much the same time-worn expressions of the Ex-Snooper, is to be the policy of our, or as we should say it YOUR paper.

Since we are trying to get away from frats and sorors we can not tell you about Murdock, Almen, (with an accent someplace), and Blackman. Neither can we compliment upon the Kappa breakfast that surprised everyone and turned out fairly good. It would cramp our style to mention certain political situations such as they are in one department at the college. Furthermore we cannot say anything about the Kappa Sig party.

Fellow students, fraternity, men, and sorority girls, and Betas, heed thee—we are very desirous of delivering upon your well worn doorstep the best that is printable. So we urge you to send us any of the dirt, etc. that you may get wind of. Now, with the New Collegian, we will especially urge all of you not connected with social and other-wise organizations to give us something to say about you. If your best friend gets drunk you need not tell us because that is his privilege and besides we cannot say anything about it in DRY Kansas. If your best friend runs off with the girl friends let us know—we'll really gloat about it. If some Prof. does something wrong let us know and we'll see what we can do if we do not have a class under him. BUT let us warn you—never send anything in print about the Collegian staff—we are on top of the heap now and we intend to cash in on it. So there!

NOTE—The above was handed in by one of the applicants for the position of editor of the Collegian. It was intended as a satire on the policy of the present Collegian staff. It is grossly exaggerated. The Collegian policy is not anti-fraternity and sorority, or is it radically pro peace club. However, the editor firmly believes in complete equality for the non-greasy—equality socially, equality politically. This has distinctly not been true in the past. If you will follow the editorial columns of this paper you will find that the future will clarify our opinions in this respect.—the Editor.

According to a press release from Iowa State college the Cyclones have the best defensive team in the present Big Six conference race. In eight games played by the Ames five the opponents have been held to 27 points per game. Kansas university is in second place with an average of 28 points a game. The rest of the schools rank in the following order: Nebraska, 31 points; Oklahoma, 32; Missouri, 34; and Kansas State, with 39.

Phog Allen and his Jayhawkers are 'on the spot' as far as the members of the Kansas State basketball team are concerned. Losing by only six points last Saturday night in Lawrence and with two more games with the champs here in Manhattan, the men of Coach 'Root' are confident of at least one conference victory over Ebling, Wells, and company. . . . It's been the goal shooting of a Missouri stump-jumper, "Nimble Jim" Freeland, that has made the Wildcat's last two games of interest to all concerned. Freeland's 17 points against the Nebraska Cornhuskers had much to do with the Kansas State victory and his 11 points in the Kansas game was enough to share scoring honors with Frank Groves.

How is your middle name? Are you backward in telling it, even to your best friend? If so, your troubles are over. He is a Big Six conference basketball official backfield coach, specializing in kicking, he plays baseball, handball, and maybe golf, he is a business man in his own right, and a helluva good guy, but his middle name is Leve-Joy. Yes, ladies and gentlemen, Owen "Chili" Lovejoy Colbrane. . . . wotta name! The O in the Lynn O. Waldorf, ex-head football coach, is Oebert. . . . not bad, but the most original moniker belongs to the wrestling coach, B. R. Patterson. . . . the R means Roxex. Frank P. Root answers to the name of Plet-cher when he forgets. . . . Conrad Stephen is the signature of "Coon-ter" Moll. Its Ward Hillman Haylett and Louis Pierce Washburn. Don't forget Head Coach Wesley Leonard Fry. . . . and they used to kid Mike about Michael Francis Ahearn.

Location: Page 9 of last Thursday's Kansas City Star. Object: picture of Frank L. Myers, looking as if he just stepped out of a fashion plate. . . . and, incidentally, in the same picture with Mayor McCombs of Kansas City.

Famous first words: 'reserve last place for Kansas State.' and Coach Hugh McDermott, basketball professor at Oklahoma university, substitutes the word Oklahoma for those of Kansas State in the phrase and sits back to watch the Big Six run over his Sooners. . . . and the conference coaches start leffing up their sleeves. . . . notably Dr. Forrest C. Allen at K. U. . . .

K-State Loses Game With K.U.

Groves and Freeland Were High Scorers in Saturday's Game

The Kansas State courtmen lost their game last Saturday night to the Jayhawkers by six points, the final scores being 43 to 37. The game was unusual in that about forty-three minutes were devoted to the playing of it rather than the regular forty minutes.

The extra three minutes of play may be accounted for by a timing mix-up at the end of the first half of the game. At the end of the first twenty minutes of play the Wildcats were leading with a score of 15 to 14. Then to satisfy the time-keepers another three minutes were played and at the end of this period the score was 19 to 17 in favor of Kansas university.

During the first five minutes of the second half the score was tied up at 21 points. Then in a very few minutes the Jayhawkers made ten points. After fifteen minutes of the second period had elapsed the score was 41 to 27 in favor of Kansas university. The Wildcats began their final drive, but were unable to close up the remaining gap in points before the game was over.

The Kansas State squad played a good game, both offensive and defensive, but were slightly inaccurate in their free throws. Frank Groves, the Wildcat center, and Jim Freeland, forward, were high scorers for the evening with 11 points each. Freeland is becoming reliable as a high scorer for Kansas State. Freeland, in the game with Nebraska a week ago yesterday was high scorer with sixteen points. In that game the Wildcats defeated the Nebraska team, 47 to 41.

WRESTLING AND BOXING
The Wildcat wrestling team will meet the Oklahoma University matmen here Thursday night of this week. The Oklahomans are boasting of a National Collegiate champion, Wayne Martin, and several Big Six champions on their line-up this year.

Yesterday afternoon Coach B. R. Patterson began the tryouts for the coming matches with the Oklahoma team. Those trying out were: 118 pound class, E. C. Betz and B. S. Burdo.

126 pound class, F. R. Fansher and G. H. Shears.

135 pound class: R. H. Campbell and C. P. Walters.

155 pound class, Dukelew and Thomas.

The contender in the 165 pound class will be Claude Young, and in the 175 pound class Dean Swift or R. P. Murphy. The heavyweight will be R. B. Holland or H. T. Niles.

The next boxing matches will be held February 4 with St. Benedicts in Atchison. The Kansas State men entered are: R. S. Fyles, 115; Jerry Lake, 125; George Garrison, 135; Johnny Hemphill or Ray Lowry, 145; Ivan Thomas, 155; and in the heavyweight class Joe Zitrak will fight if his arm is in condition: A fighter is yet to be found to represent the 175 pound class.

SWIMMING MEET NEXT WEEK
The Men's Intramurals schedule is progressing with the horseshoe pitching, touch football, and basketball schedules all finished the first semester. With the completion of these events the W. F. A. C. team is in the lead with 453 point, second in rank is the Kappa Sigma team with 352 points, and the Delta Tau Delta team is holding down third place with 347 points.

The Intramurals swimming meets will be held February 5th and 6th. In these meets eight events will be run off. Each contestant will be required to swim for the winning places.

EXAM WEEK IS SHORTENED

College Permanently Adopts 4-day

Schedule for Semester Finals
The much abbreviated four-day final exam week that so greivously upset many students' plans for last minute "cranking" will be adopted permanently in the future according to F. D. Farrell, president of the college.

The plans for the four-day exam schedule were formulated by the committee on examinations headed by Prof. A. E. White of the mathematics department, and presented to the Council of Deans by whom the plans were approved. The plans will become permanent until action by the same group changes them.

Deadline For Yearbook Is February 6

SENIORS NOT IN SCHOOL LAST SEMESTER CAN GET PICTURES IN

Books Still On Sale

May Be Purchased For Only Short Time However—No Extra Copies Printed This Year

The deadline for all social and non-social organization pictures for the 1935 Royal Purple is February 6, as previously announced by the staff.

All presidents or organizations who have already purchased space in the yearbook are urged to come into the Royal Purple office in Anderson hall immediately to check with the staff to determine if all members are represented. This especially applies to fraternity and sorority groups who have members enrolling the second semester whose pictures they wish to appear in the book. Seniors who were not here the first semester and wish their pictures in the year book may pay their senior dues before February 6, get their picture taken, and appear in the book. Individuals wishing to appear in either their fraternity, sorority, or class sections, also have until February 6 to purchase their photographic receipt and have their pictures taken at the Studio Royal.

For a short while the Royal Purple may still be purchased, according to Spencer Wyant, editor. However, the printer must soon be advised as to the number of copies wanted. When this is done, there will be no more copies sold as no extra copies of the book are being printed this year.

The printing contract for the 1935 Royal Purple was let January 22 by the Royal Purple board to the Joseph B. Havens Printing company of Kansas City, Mo. Members of the Royal Purple board are Prof. E. T. Keith, Prof. H. W. Davis, Asst. Prof. R. I. Thackrey, Gene Sundgren, Leland Propp, and Myra Roth.

This'n That

Ha! Ha! That's the time we pulled a fast one—and it wasn't even intentional. One of the most prominent Beta actives informed us that they gave up long before final time trying to teach their pledges anything but they were starting in already to coach them on how to get reinstated. And he thought that we weren't writing the column anymore.

What was all the trouble the first semester? We simply can't believe that Dan Capid who was so prevalent around these here parts could cause so many young and innocent freshmen not to make their grades. But the facts are—not one single one of the Greeks on the hill reported 100 per cent. . . . It has been stated that the beauty queen, surely you all remember Wilma Lee even after the Military ball competition, took folk dancing last semester so she'd really know how to dance with the folks. Don't blame us; this wasn't our idea.

Kappa Sigma put a damper on the after-final buzz by installing a receiving line practically the full length of the ball room. The invited guests and others present soon managed to overcome this little difficulty, however, before the party had progressed very far.

AGORPHEUM
Coming

A much publicized co-ed from the University of Oklahoma is going to enroll, if she hasn't already, at Kansas State this semester. It seems that a contest when her picture taken in an Indian costume was sent to Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and she received a moving picture camera and a screen test. And Mark Kannal is all atwitter because he feels that he already has the inside track after a swimming pool acquaintance of last summer while she was in town visiting her grandparents.

Although we can hardly believe it—it was told to us that Mary Porter and Gwen Starkey put lipstick in spots all over their face so they could kid their lovers into believing that they really had the measles. We wonder what they made out of that little farce.

What with the Beta Pig so near even, those pledges may get over with the ladies for a little while. One of the illustrious Phi Deits has enough pull or personality to get reinstated after flunking fourteen hours.

AT THE DICKINSON

Broadway Bill

Warner Baxter, the race track fan who married into money and is loved by his wife's younger sister, Myrna Loy, is the owner of a high-stepping horse called Broadway Bill. At one of the family's business meetings, Baxter kicks over the traces and heads for the race track. His horse doesn't click and he writes to his wife asking her to send him the horse's mascot, Skeeter, a ban-tam rooster. The wife refuses to answer the letter and won't send the rooster. The kid sister grabs the rooster and hies off to the hero.

From here the story moves rapidly to a thrilling and surprise climax that is sure to put you on the edge of your seat. In addition to this the Dickinson gives you a Terry-tune and a news-reel.

AT THE VARSITY

David Copperfield
"David Copperfield", now showing at the Varsity, is more than a fitting complement to Dicken's great novel of human characterizations. W. C. Fields in a superb portrayal of the perfect optimist, Wilkins Micawber, captures leading honors and gives an unusual performance, probably one of his best. Running a close second is Edna May Oliver in the role of crochety Aunt Betsy Trotwood into whose cantankerous heart steals little "Davie", Freddie Bartholomew in one of the finest child characterizations of some time. Life for David is hard and his many troubles when confronted by obstacles greater than himself arouse an inner love and pity that is not often occasioned by a mere motion picture.

One of the most human characters in the entire film is Nurse Peggoty, Jessie Ralph, whose devotion to Master "Davie" is nothing less than beautiful. Roland Young in the role of Uriah Heep succeeds in overcoming a comedian-complex which has been built around him.

by splendid depiction of a scheming, plotting, avaricious clerk.

The transition from childhood to young manhood is well handled and as the young man, David, the performance of Frank Lawton merits considerable comment and praise.

The picture is so full of emotion, pathos, and splendid characterizations that it is hard to do justice to all of the 65 important actors who appear in it.

A fact which may be of interest to local theatergoers is that the production has had such sensational success in New York City that it is being held over for another week at Romy's by popular demand.

An all color Harman-Ising animated cartoon and Hearst Metro-tone News complete the bill at the Varsity.

While "David Copperfield" is billed for the entire week, the billing will be broken Wednesday in order to hold weekly Bank Night at which time the picture will be "Wednesday's Child" starring Frankie Thomas, Karen Morley, and Edward Arnold.

—F. B.

AT THE THEATRES

Wareham

"Fiesta", starring Maria Isabel and her company of forty artists, will return to Manhattan today and Wednesday, where they will play at the Wareham theater. The company played at the Dickinson theater July 13 and 14.

Since they were here last summer, several members have been added to the orchestra. The group has played in the east, and several members of it appeared in "Hollywood on Parade."

With the group is a Maria Isabel trio known as the original Carols girls; Virginia Lee, ballet dancer; Gilberto and Erena, sensational dancers of the Basque; and others.

Founder's Day Broadcast On Short Wave

KDKA OF PITTSBURGH WILL BROADCAST PROGRAM IN LOWER WAVELENGTHS

A Varied Program

Significant Advances in Engineering, Agriculture, Arts, and Sciences Will Be Emphasized

Stations KDKA, Pittsburgh, and WREN, Lawrence, have wired Ken-ny L. Ford, alumni secretary, that they will use the Founder's Day program which is to be broadcast from station KBAC over the NBC blue network, February 16 at 7:30 to 8 o'clock. KDKA will broadcast it on two wave lengths, one of which can be heard in foreign countries.

Far reaching and often times unusual developments in engineering, agriculture, and the arts and sciences at Kansas State will be of in-terest, not only to people of Kan-sas but to those of the nation and of the world.

This program, celebrating the seventy-second anniversary of the founding of Kansas State will not be of the conventional type, accord-ing to L. L. Longford, program di-rector of station KBAC. Only one speech will be included and that is to last only two minutes as Pres. F. D. Farrell extends greetings to friends, former students of the col-lege, and more than 10,000 grad-uates who are scattered widely throughout the United States.

The most important events in the history of the college, beginning with its founding 72 years ago and ending with the present time, will be portrayed. Academic work and student activities will furnish ma-terial for other dramatizations.

Alumni have been sent letters by Ken-ny Ford and members of the program committee, headed by H. W. Davis, English professor, to com-municate with their favorite radio station and other stations in the NBC blue network in the territory, urging them to use this program. The use of this program by the 20 stations on the National Broad-casting chain is optional.

The Alma Mater, Wildcat Vic-tory, and other college songs, and the college yell will provide further entertainment for listeners. Musi-cal interludes will separate drama-tizations.

H. Miles Heber, associate pro-fessor of the public speaking de-partment, has charge of the pro-gram.

61 Are Re-instated

About Average Number of Students Dismissed For Scholastic Deficiencies

Wednesday evening, the rein-statement committee had approved 61 and rejected 31 students who had applied for readmittance after being automatically dismissed for scholastic deficiencies. At the end of the first semester 120 were auto-matically dismissed. This is about average.

Any freshman student who re-ceive deficiencies in one-half of his work or any upper-classman who receives deficiencies in two-fifths of his work at the end of the semester is automatically dis-missed and not reinstated may return after a semester has elapsed. The committee of reinstatement is: R. L. Throckmorton, Elizabeth Quinlan, W. M. McLeod, J. H. Robert and E. C. Miller.

Y.M.-Y.W. To Hold Fireside Forums

Series of Forums for Better Under-standing Between Students and Faculty Members

In order that students and fac-ulty members may become better acquainted, the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. are sponsoring a series of "Fireside Forums," discussion meet-ings, which are to be held in fac-ulty homes, February 7, 14, 21, and 28, at 7:30 o'clock.

On each of these nights, forums will be held at three faculty homes. The series of meetings in each home will have a definite theme.

"After College—What?" is the theme of the meetings at the home of Miss Elcock, associate professor of English, and Miss Hostetter, as-sistant journalism professor, 426 N. 17. In this series of discussions a partial survey of the vocational op-portunities in Kansas will be made. "Collegiate Value of Living" is the topic for discussion at the home of H. M. Stewart, associate pro-fessor of economics and sociology, 1122 Vattier. Goals of college life will be considered.

"How Modern is the Bible?" has been decided upon as the theme for the discussions at the home of Dr. A. A. Holtz, Y. M. C. A. secretary. This will be an analysis of the bible.

Members of the Y. W. C. A. cho-sen for the "Fireside Forums" com-mittees are: Margaret Glass, Man-hattan; Charlotte Buchmann, Clay Center; and Elizabeth Pittman, Fergus, Montana. Those on the committee chosen from the Y. M. C. A. are: Leslie King, Wichita; Clayton Buster, Larned; and Char-les Beard.

K.S.C. May Buy Curry's Painting

No Pictures By Prominent Kansan In Any Art Collection In State

A painting by Stuart Curry, who has been called the "Homer of Kansas" by the New York Times, may at last be placed in a Kansas collection. If the necessary funds can be raised one of his pictures will be purchased for Kansas State col-lege.

Curry, a native of Jefferson coun-ty, has paintings in several impor-tant collections in the country. He is one of the best known painters dealing with Kansas scenes. As yet, no Kansas individual or institution has one of his pictures.

The sum of $400 is being sought to complete funds already obtained for the purchase of the picture. Funds already obtained were got-ten through the cooperation of the Friends of Art.

Dr. R. C. Langford of the depart-ment of education, is chairman of a special committee in charge of raising the money with which to purchase the picture. Other mem-bers of the committee are: Dr. J. T. Willard, vice-president of the col-lege; Colonel John S. Sullivan, head of the department of military science and tactics; Miss Margaret Ahlborn, assistant dean of the divi-sion of home economics; Mrs. R. A. Seaton, Mrs. S. M. Paddieford, Miss Helen Hostetter, of the de-partment of industrial journalism and printing; Miss Amy Kelly, of the home economics extension depart-ment; W. H. Riddell, of the depart-ment of dairy husbandry; A. F. Peine; and Ashley Monahan. Doc-tor Willard is treasurer of the com-mittee, and contributions should be sent to him.

Curry's mother, sister, and other relatives have attended Kansas State college. Because of this, he has offered to make a concession to any group purchasing one of his paint-ings for the college.

Three paintings by Curry, from which the selections for the Kansas State collection will be purchased, were displayed in recreation center for several days recently. The choice will not be made until after the money is raised.

Ag Orpheum Is Announced By The Y.M.C.A.

OUTSTANDING STUDENT THE-ATRICAL PRODUCTION WILL BE MARCH 8-9

New System Used

Six Long Musical Numbers By Glee Club to Take Place of the Usual Long Act—Only One Prize

Ag Orpheum, one of the year's outstanding student theatrical pro-ductions at Kansas State is to have its fifteenth annual showing March 8 and 9 in the college auditorium. This announcement was made yester-day by Leslie King, president of the Y. M. C. A. which is sponsoring the event.

Max Burk, Manhattan, is to be the business manager of this year's production, with Max Beiler, also of Manhattan, assistant business man-ager and Prof. H. Miles Heberer of the public speaking department the director.

Plans for the Orpheum were started last week when letters were sent to the presidents of Greek let-ter and other organizations on the campus asking them to submit the general idea for their proposed stu-dents to the committee before Tuesday, February 5. Several acts were immediately sent in and all others are urgently requested to submit their stunts to Professor Heberer before the deadline.

A new idea to be followed this year, which is believed will make the program unusually attractive, is the discontinuance of the com-petitive long acts. In their stead, Prof. Edwin Sayre, of the music de-partment, will direct the glee clubs in six long musical numbers of the same type which featured last year's Orpheum and received much favor-able comment from the audience, the largest to ever witness the pro-duction. Professor Sayre's group has already been practicing on its presentation for over a month.

Competitive numbers will be limited to five short acts chosen from those submitted by a committee to be announced next week. The acts selected will be announced later.

In addition to the competitive acts and the numbers by the glee clubs, the Lillian Amos School of Dancing and the Mason School of Dancing will present non-competi-tive presentations.

Dr. A. A. Holtz, secretary for the Y. M. C. A., will supervise the Ag Orpheum as he has done since his arrival at Kansas State college.

DEXTER IS CHOSEN

Conover, English professor; Ada Rige, English professor; Charlotte Buchmann, Clay Center; and Darlene Shelley, Coldwater.

Students and faculty members may submit material in the form of poetry, essays, sketches, or short shorts. The manuscripts must be sent to Myra Scott, English instruc-tor, in triplicate form with titles and without the author's name. Titles and the writer's name should be en-closed in a separate envelope at-tached to the manuscript. The dead-line for all copy is March 15. May 1 has been fixed as the publication date.

KIMBALL SECOND IN CONTEST

Ned Kimball of Manhattan placed second in the second annual orna-mental contest of the native Sons and Daughters at the Kansas Day meeting in Topeka Tuesday. He represented Kansas State college. Last year Kimball won first place in the contest. Miss Margaret Geiss, Salina, the representative from Marymount college was first.

QUITS FACULTY POSITION

I. K. Landon, assistant professor of agronomy has resigned. Last February he was granted leave of absence to take up soil erosion con-trol work in Wisconsin. He has re-signed his position with the faculty in order to continue that work. While at Kansas State Landon was in charge of the southeast Kansas experimental fields and had head-quarters at Parsons.

Returns to Faculty

Dean L. E. Call, who for more than a year has been president of the Federal Land Bank of Wichi-ta, today will resume his duties as head of the division of agriculture at Kansas State college. Dean Call has been on a leave of absence during which time Dr. W. E. Grimes, head of the department of agriculture economics, has been acting dean, and Prof. Harold Howe has been acting head of the de-partment in the place of Dr. Grimes. They also will resume their normal assignments today.

Count Reveals Big Enrolment

Total This Far Is 2,604—Increase of 452 Over Second Semester of Last Year

The last count at the registrar's office revealed that 2,604 students have enrolled this semester. Statis-tics from the registrar's office re-veal that the enrolment last year at this time was 2,152 a difference of 452 students.

In comparing this semester's en-rolment with last semester there is a small drop. Because of financial conditions many students have found it necessary to attend college for only one semester at a time.

There will probably be an in-crease within the next few days. There are always some students that enrol after their regular enrol-ling periods.

Yearbook By May 1

New Students Should Obtain Pho-tographic Receipts Now—Dead-line Is February 6

The Royal Purple staff is start-ing this week to write copy for the 1935 yearbook and hopes to have the book out by May 1. After this date it will not be possible for any pictures to appear in the book.

Students enrolling the second se-mester who have not yet obtained a photographic receipt should do so at once if they wish to appear with their organization, announced Spencer Wyant, editor.

The deadline for purchasing your 1935 Royal Purple is March 1, ac-cording to Howard Moreen, busi-ness manager of the Royal Purple. The printing contract was let last week and at this date it will be necessary to know positively how many books are wanted. No extra copies are to be printed this year. Snapshots for the features sec-tion are still being solicited by George Hart, features editor.

FORUMS BEGIN FEBRUARY 6

The only World Forum speaker that has been announced thus far is Dr. H. B. Benningshoff, of the University of Waseda in Japan, who is a lecturer on Occidental civ-ilization and on the ideals of Christianity. He is being brought here by the board of education of the Northern Baptist convention.

Dr. H. T. Hill, head of the pub-lic speaking department, and John Bekker, a deserter from the Com-munist army and now a student at K. U., are the other speakers an-nounced for student forum.

Vets and Theft Held for Loss of 2 Mascots

There was the alleged real flesh-and-blood wildcat that lived in the cage on the college campus, that was before the one that occupies the cage at the present time. What became of him or her?

There were stories that rabid Kansas university "mobsters" took the kitty in the belief that it would change the Jayhawk luck, but the story that got the widest circula-tion was the one about the devo-ted but over-zealous "vets" of Kan-sas State.

All over the country the story traveled that the young men of the school of veterinary medicine took the then Wildcat Mascot to their dissecting room with the idea of scientifically determining what there was about the kitty that gave it the powers that other kittens, wild or tame, didn't possess.

The newspaper stories had it that the vet surgeons failed to get the Aggie Mascot put back together properly, so secretly interred it with their other mistakes.

Again within the last few days another alleged Wildcat Mascot has disappeared. Again another "inno-cent by-stander," like the Vets, has been wrongly accused.

Some enterprising reporter told the Associated Press that Roscoe Pitts was sent from his chair of Mascoting at Kansas State into du-rance vile for the theft of 15 cents. It made a good story—but it made the good folks, who lost several hundred time 15 cents, look like heels.

It is not too late to mourn the last two Aggie Mascots—Which went the way of all flesh of their own accord—but it is early enough to plan to provide ample protection and tutorage for the succeeding holders of the throne of luck.

TRYOUTS FOR NBC PROGRAM

REFUSE AMENDMENT TO EX-EMPT CONSCIENTIOUS OB-JECTORS

Opposition Strong

However Bill Is Expected To Pass—Senator Scovgard Strongest Backer Of Measure

Today the state senate will take the final vote on the bill to compel all men students at Kansas State college to take military training dur-ing their freshman and sophomore years. If passed, it will end the con-troversy which has taken place for the last year over compulsory mili-tary training.

Wednesday the senate, acting as a committee of the whole, approved the bill without a vote by roll call.

Although the majority of the sen-ators favored the bill Wednesday, there was strong opposition to it. Senator Benson of Thomas led the opposition.

Senator Skovgard, a member of the investigating committee from the legislative council, which this fall visited Kansas State college, was the principal backer of the bill. He was supported by Senators Ralston and Denison.

As first proposed, the bill would have made four years of military training compulsory, but it was amended in the senate so as to make only two years compulsory.

The senate then voted down an amendment proposed by Senator Probst to exempt those who were con-scientious objectors, or who had re-ligious scruples against military training.

Four amendments were proposed by Senator Benson, but were turned down by the senate. The first of these amendments would have made the course optional with students.

After the defeat of his first pro-posal, Senator Benson proposed an amendment to the bill so that men who had not had two years of mili-tary training would be ineligible to serve on the Board of Regents.

"With but one or two exceptions," said Senator Benson, "The mem-bers of the board of regents have dodged the taking of military train-ing whenever possible."

Another amendment proposed by Senator Benson would have made it compulsory for all men in-structors under the age of 45, who have not had two years of military training, to enroll in the regular course given to students. Benson argued that if the course was good for men students, it would al-so be beneficial to men teachers.

Stating that if students in one state institution should be com-pelled to take military training, stu-dents in all state institutions should take it. Senator Benson offered a fourth amendment making military training compulsory at Kansas State college, Kansas university, and the three state teachers' colleges. This also was voted down by the senate.

The bill, as it stands now, stresses the fact that the federal government granted ninety thousand acres of land for the support of Kansas State college, on the condition that two years of military training be offered. Senator C. E. Friend, Lawrence, a graduate of Kansas State college in the class of 1888, delivered a care-fully prepared address in support of the bill. He stressed the physical, mental and disciplinary advantages of military training, and told how the training was of use in later life.

As a part of his speech, Senator Friend read a letter from Gen. James G. Harbord, '86, expressing the hope that his alma mater would not abandon military training.

Kansas State college for the last year has been the scene of much ar-gument over whether or not mili-tary training should be compulsory. This fall several students refused to take it, and took the fight to the courts. The Shawnee county dis-trict court recently decided that it was within the power of the board of regents to compel students to take military training.

The supreme court of the United States also decided the same way in a case between the University of California and a student enrolled in that institution.

They were the guests of Pres. F. D. Farrell on a tour of the campus yesterday af-ternoon, and of the Rotary club for luncheon.

It is understood that the commit-tee was investigating the need for funds asked for in President Far-rell's recent report. The committee considered especially the need for a new building to replace Denison, burned last summer.

Students Enter In Farm, Home Week Program

WILL SHOW LIVESTOCK IN FITTING AND SHOWING CONTEST

Come For Ideas

People Here From All of State to Discuss Problems—Stress Drought Relief

The annual Little American Roy-al, the time of the year when the agriculture students show their ability to fit and show different kinds of livestock, will be one of the main features of the Farm and Home program to be held the week of February 5 to 8, in the stock judging pavilion at 7:30.

This show is the outcome of a college livestock parade that began as a part of the regular Farm and Home week program. After three years, the feature was turned into a fitting and showing contest for students.

A drawing was made Jan. 26, at which time all students who wished to participate in the contest drew for the animal which they were to get into condition. Only college livestock is used. The student must take complete care of the animal until time for the show.

The judging is done on the con-dition of the animal at the time of the drawing. The points used in judging are the amount of fitting that has been done by the time of the contest, and the ability of the student to show his animal in the pavilion. The basis of judging used makes it possible for a well fitted, poor animal to go further than a good animal.

The contest will have two divi-sions. The Block and Bridle club is sponsoring a contest of hogs, sheep, swine, and horses; and the Dairy club is sponsoring a contest of the different breeds of dairy cattle. The grand champion in each of these contests will receive a silver cup. Other prizes will be ribbons.

The Agriculture association has taken over a part of the sponsor-ship of the contest this year. The aim of this new set-up is to unite the entire division in putting on the Little American Royal, the only time of the year when the agri-cultural students entertain visitors.

In view of the fact that last year was so dry in Kansas and nearby states, the theme of the entire Farm and Home week will be drought re-lief and remedies. The week's pro-gram has been planned to consist mainly of discussions of agricul-ture and farm life on a long-time and of entertainment of a perman-et nature.

WE MUST SAVE OUR BOOTLEGGERS
 With the state legislature considering the liquor question it is imperative that we stop and consider the disastrous fate that faces one of our most thriving and prosperous industries—that of the bootleggers of Kansas. The danger lies in the opinions of men like William Allen White who would legalize beverages of a moderate alcoholic percentage.

Kansas owes its bootleggers a debt of gratitude. When over half a century ago a group of long haired reformists, succeeding in passing laws making the sale of liquor a crime, who was it that immediately came to our aid and despite the barriers of law and public opinion made it possible for us to enjoy ourselves in our usual manner? You know the answer. It was the bootleggers. And from that day on the industry has grown into a vast liquor dispensing network that has worked unceasingly to provide an indispensable product without discrimination as to age, sex, or color. That the people of Kansas were not unappreciative of the efforts of the bootleggers is demonstrated by the fact that during the present depression, although a great many were unable to provide for themselves the food and clothing necessary for decent living, they were always able and willing to pay a high price for the bootleggers' product.

The bootlegging industry in its development has opened up a new career field for a certain type of young man that otherwise would probably have no chance to get ahead. In every generation there is a class that due to hereditary deficiencies, environmental injustices, or a combination of both, are entirely incapable of being assimilated into the complex society of today. It is to this group that bootlegging opens up a profession—and it is recognized as such—to young men who would otherwise, out of necessity, have to earn their living through petty thievery or some other equally degrading occupation. Not only to persons of the type just mentioned does bootlegging provide a haven, but it also is able to care for another group suffering from social maladjustments—the unemployed. In good times and in bad, those whom the state's industry is unable to care for are always able to enter the bootlegging profession with very little financial outlay. Nearly always these persons are able to earn a decent living and quite often they materially improve their pecuniary status.

The bootleggers are probably the most public-minded of any group in Kansas. It is no secret that they are vitally concerned with the affairs of state. Their children attend the same schools, are in the same play groups as yours. Their wives belong to the same bridge clubs, and the bootleggers themselves are interested in the wants, desires, and opinions of each one of us. Not only are the bootleggers interested in us personally, but they make it their duty to keep in close touch with the state's public servants. The influence exerted by this industry in the political campaigns of the state, and their amazing willingness to cooperate with the police, politicians, and other public officials probably has a singular influence in the efficiency with which the state and community governments are conducted.

There is no doubt that the bootlegging business has grown into one of the largest in Kansas. It yearly employs hundreds of men, and it has become so much a part of our everyday life that it has been romanticized in fiction and in the folktales of our people. It is this that the state legislature will destroy if it listens to the insidious demands of radicals like William Allen White who would so liberalize the prohibition laws of Kansas that the very existence of the liquor dispensing industry of this state would be seriously threatened. Of course the industry would not be immediately destroyed. But in time as the states of the people became more educated the almost total extinction of the bootlegger would in all likelihood result.

The pressure of public opinion should be brought to bear upon the legislature to insure a bone dry vote. Kansas must protect its bootleggers!

YOUR OPINIONS WANTED
 It is the belief of the present Collegian editor that a newspaper should not only present the news to the reading public, but that it should interpret and take a definite stand on the significant issues of the day. An important question should not be dodged merely because it might lead to controversy.

The editor plans in the future to actively support certain policies that will undoubtedly incur the opposition of a certain part of the student body. And it is to this group that we remind that the Student Comment and the editorial columns of this paper are always open to articles of opinion. The only reservation is that they be of reasonable length and of sufficient thought content and literary merit to justify publication. If the opinions expressed by the editorial staff of The Collegian will not stand up in argument we want to be the first to know the fact.

The Snooper

Our editor is one of those big souls again ALL fraternities. But the Snooper must be content with one a week. This is sick-of-Sig-Eps week—next time we're going to make it Phoebe-on Phipps!

Jimmie Ketchersid finally admits he can't rate. Our returning St. Satorius (colymist's dream answered!) was heard trying to date up the Sig Eps number as an anonymous O. U. flash.

Dryden of doubtful descent, can tell you all about Kappa Kephotes and doors at dawn, if she wants to. As dawn as 6 a. m. in fact.

Our All-American is having reinstatement difficulties over a lone condition. It seems you must be a Phi Delt to get along on this campus.

Franklin Colladay's skating ability is located, we understand, in one ear and his bench-warmer. Can his grace and skill come from those Beta parlor-tricks the boys practice weekends?

It is rumored that Leland J. Propp, Marion county, Kansas, (Sigma Nu to you) and a blonde Chi O, currently Phi Delt, are considering a re-corporation.

Antehen and Young, PIKA perennials, are again gracing Kansas State varsities. Staggering stags stagger more—or—I'll take mine straight!

The coming senior Pan-Hellenic party brings this gain:

Mary had a Pan-Hel bid.
 Its meaning not quite clear.
 For everywhere that Mary went—
 She had a C—dam beef.

A lesson in institutional economics:

1. Tri Deltis are weekendening at home these days to make the meal budget come out straight. Clay Center and Junction doing most of the feeding—meals, not lines!

2. Deltis are considering closing their dining room until the price of butter comes down. Butter luck next time!

3. Alpha Deltis are singing "Howe-Beattyful—" since their two new pledges are helping to keep the wolf away.

Sig Alphas, we hear, are having trouble with the "brotherly love". There's nothing like cutting down the budget when the boys get out of hand—or the house!

This is That will be burned to know that the Phi Deltis can't stand publicity about their scholars and are threatening extinction for one and all "stink" columnists.

Danny Partner was a bit chagrined in Column Conducting class when R. W. Davis' first assignment was criticism of The Collegian columns—Sport's Eye being a column so D. P. thinks!

The Snooper intends to enroll in "The Family" so the facts of life will come unadulterated—for once!

The Topeka police sergeants really had Ruth Thomas (Truth Thomas, as Chas. L. Morgan insists on calling her) and Virginia Appleton in a sea-green daze Tuesday. Although the girls were driven over streets and sidewalks in the police car—sirens screaming—they failed to bring back a story. "Police don't give us away," begged Ruth.

Van Aken, Beta's biggest blower, has appeared in our midst. Open the windows, boys, and take care of the women first!

Sigma Nus, Deltis, and a certain Chi O would all like to know more about Spec Slaughter's Junction trips.

Gentle Gests

Never tell your secrets to your roommate. It's quicker to run an ad in the paper.

A good manager is one who knows what each of his subordinates is doing even though he himself is busy reading a magazine.

A novel scheme of advertising has been introduced on the Yale, Harvard, John Hopkins, and other eastern campuses that is speedily becoming more popular. A number of prominent students are hired to carry on an advertising campaign by means of gossip. If in the near future some local campus hot shot confidentially begins to tell you of the throat eating qualities of a certain cigarette, or praises the style of a certain brand of clothes, you'll know that at least "whispering advertising" has come to Kansas State.

Book Reviews

"The Chance of a Lifetime," by Walter B. Pitkin

After spending four years getting a college education, it isn't so encouraging to be told that there may never be a regular job for you. But when that statement is accompanied by as much proof as Walter B. Pitkin gives in his latest book, "The Chance of a Lifetime," it must be taken seriously.

After the gloomy beginning, Pitkin paints a more cheerful picture, a picture of cooperative communities whose members raise their own food, make their own clothes, and furnish their own entertainment. But they're not to be backwoods communities. The farming will be done by modern methods, and power generated by the community's own power plant will do the manufacturing.

Socialistic? Sure! But a form of socialism in which private property is respected and private initiative encouraged. However, emphasis would be transferred from making money to aiding the individual to get more pleasure from life.

Included in the book are complete plans for the establishment of a community such as Pitkin suggests, including a list of the best sites in this country for such an experiment.

The book makes excellent reading, especially for those wondering about possible remedies for our present situation. Many of the measures are radical, of course—almost as radical as those proposed by the present national administration.

The Forty Days of Musah Dagh by Franz Werfel

Here is one of the recent novels that has such an amazing power of understanding and sympathy for the people with which it deals that it is regarded by most critics as one of the most remarkable novels in years.

It is a heroic and thrilling novel based on a true incident—the defense put up by a small group of Armenian refugees against the entire might of the Turkish army during the World War. As one reads this episode of actual history one can not but help realizing the thorough knowledge of the Armenian and Turkish character that the author possesses.

Werfel has made of this episode

a universal story of love, courage, faith and devotion on the part of the Armenians who although a peace-loving people, for many years versed only in the arts of the peasant, manage to stave off the attacks of the war-like Turks, who pride themselves as great soldiers.

The leaders of the Young Turks, who were in power at that time, appear as ridiculous, cruel inhuman monsters, who display their wonderful ability as soldiers by driving out helpless Armenian women, children and old men from their homes to die by the thousands in the desert, where there bodies are left to decay and rot in the desert air along the whole of the long tortuous road from Syria to Mesopotamia.

The attempts of the Turks to slaughter a whole race is one of the most monstrous acts of injustice that the world has ever seen. Werfel is a master at depicting human emotions—at times, you will laugh, then you will boil with rage only to shed tears as you read the next passage.

Today in Germany, which was allied with Turkey in the World War, the book is sold only surreptitiously by booksellers who wish to remain in good standing with the Hitler regime.

Franz Werfel, who himself was affected profoundly by the World War, has truly succeeded in "devoting himself to the desperate task of teaching men to love one another and to draw close to the verities of life."

"I Go to Pit College," by Laura Gillilan

What would you do if you had spent four years in college learning to write, and was unable to get any kind of a job after you got out.

Laura Gillilan was faced with just such a problem. And she solved it in a novel way. She spent three months in mining villages of Pennsylvania, living with the miners, and sharing their joys and griefs.

"I go to Pit College," is the story of these three months.

It's a story of ill-paid, overworked miners and their fight to get better wages. It's a record of squalid, unsanitary living conditions. And it's written in a modern style—which means it's unexpurgated. So if you're squeamish about the words used in the books you read, don't read this.

But if you would like to know "how the other half lives," and the reasons for Communism claiming converts in that section, by all means read, "I go to Pit College." It's interesting, and instructive as well—although that shouldn't be mentioned to college students.

Heaven's My Destination by Thornton Wilder

This book is the adventure of a simple-minded and pious traveling salesman in a tough, rough, hypocritical world, determined to make the world Baptist or know the reason why.

George Brush, the Baptist preacher-salesman, is a hundred per cent American who has taken on every virtue he has ever heard of and tried them out on his traveling companions. Through George's travels in the states of the middle west the author presents a true picture of the life of this part of the country.

George gets (by mistake) into all the bawdy houses more often than into churches, falls in love with every girl he meets and tries to convert her, is a total abstainer, a primitive Baptist, an honest man, a shrewd salesman and a believer that the home is all-important—in other words, a true American type.

Like Don Quixote there is a crazy rightness about him that seems to go deeper than his common sense. "I may be cuckoo," says George, "perhaps I am; but I'd rather be crazy all alone than be sensible like you fellows are sensible. I'm glad I'm nuts. I don't want to be different. Tell the fellows I'll never change—"

AT THE VARSITY

David Copperfield

"David Copperfield," now showing at the Varsity, is more than a fitting complement to Dickens' great novel of human characterizations.

W. C. Fields in a superb portrayal of the perfect optimist, Wilkins Micawber, captures leading honors and gives an unusual performance, probably one of his best. Running a close second is Edna May Oliver in the role of crotchety Aunt Betsy Trotwood into whose cantankerous heart steals little "David", Freddie Bartholomew in one of the finest child characterizations of some time.

Life for David is hard and his many troubles when confronted by obstacles greater than himself arouse an inner love and pity that is not often occasioned by a mere motion picture.

One of the most human characters in the entire film is Nurse Peggoty, Jessie Ralph, whose devotion to Master "Davie" is nothing less than beautiful. Roland Young in the role of Uriah Heep succeeds in overcoming a comedian-complex which has been built around him, by splendid depiction of a scheming, plotting, avaricious clerk.

The transition from childhood to young manhood is well handled and as the young man, David, the performance of Frank Lawton merits considerable comment and praise.

The picture is so full of emotion, pathos, and splendid characterizations that it is hard to do justice to all of the 65 important actors who appear in it.

A fact which may be of interest to local theatergoers is that the production has had such sensational success in New York City that it is being held over for another week at Roxy's by popular demand.

Missouri Here For Two-Game Series Tonight

A CLEAN SWEEP WOULD PUT EITHER TEAM NEAR TOP

Wildcats on Upgrade

A Much Improved Team Will Face Tigers—Lineup Same As In Nebraska Game

Starting lineups for tonight's game:
Missouri: Thompson, Strom, Henderson, Jorgenson, Powell.
Kansas State: Freeland, Thornbrough, Groves, Stoner, Rallsback.
Officials: Parke Carroll, Kansas City Journal-Post, and Pat Mason, Rockhurst.

Missouri university, after finishing in the conference cellar in the gridiron sport, has taken issue with Kansas State and tonight opens a two game series with the Wildcats in Nichols gym to decide who will occupy the sixth position in the standings. No other conference games are scheduled.

Both teams have scored over the luckless Cornhuskers from Lincoln and although the line that divides the first and second divisions is distinct, a clean sweep of the two games would put either team near the top.

With the coming of the second semester Carmin Henderson, 6-foot, 4-inch center and forward is available for the Tigers in varsity competition and will be seen in action tonight. Ernest Schaper and Don Handley are also available at forwards. Duke Jorgensen and Evans Powell, guards, seem to have their positions clinched if their present style of play keeps up and the sophomore Ralph Beer and the veteran Gene Thompson will see much service against the Wildcats.

Kansas State will probably use the same line-up that won the Nebraska game and gave Kansas a hard fight last Saturday night in Lawrence, although Thornbrough was forced to miss Wednesday night's practice because of illness. This includes Jim Freeland and "Curly" Thornbrough at the forwards, Captain Stoner and Lee Rallsback, guards, and Frank Groves at center. Gilpin is slated to replace Thornbrough in case he is unable to play. "Army" Armstrong is also expected to see service.

The game tonight is scheduled for 7:30. After the game Missouri will return to Kansas City and then en-train for Lincoln to play the Nebraska Cornhuskers Monday night.

A Wildcat sweep of the series is on tap if the Rootmen keep up the stride they have been setting in previous games. After being beaten twice by Oklahoma and once by Kansas earlier in the season the Wildcats have been steadily improving. Fans first noticed this awakening during the second half of the Iowa State game, during which time the Kansas State team almost beat the Cyclones under the wire after being hopelessly out-classed the first half. In the Wildcat victory over Nebraska this spurge seemed at its height. Freeland, Stoner, and Groves hit from all angles and a good defense kept Nebraska from getting dangerous. In their second conference game with Pflug Allen's Big Six champions at Lawrence the Wildcats were still going strong but the ability of the

The five Missouri Tigers pictured above will face Kansas State on the home court tonight and tomorrow night. Missouri occupies the cellar position in the conference while Kansas State ranks fifth. The Wildcats are considered by most observers to be the stronger team.

Browning, Jorgenson, Hood, and Stoner, All Guards, Are Among First Fifteen

Four Big Six basketball captains all playing guard position are listed among the 15 scoring leaders in the conference. Captain Bud Browning of Oklahoma, one of the strongest offensive guards in the circuit and a vital cog in the Oklahoma offense, ranks fourth with an average of 9.5 points per game. Missouri's captain, Kenneth Jorgenson, a guard, is trailing slightly

Bud Parsons of Nebraska with an average of 7.43 as compared to Parsons' 7.67. Frank Hood, Iowa State's captain, while not among the first fifteen scorers has the best defensive record of any guard in the conference. Captain Oren Stoner, Kansas State's great all-around athlete dropped in the individual records when he was held to one goal in the Kansas game last Saturday. However, he is still ranked among the high 15, ranking thirteenth with a point average of 6.5 points per game.

The top position in the select circle is still maintained by Ray Ehling, Kansas' star forward with a point average of 11. His lead over Frank Groves, who increased his point average to 10.60 by scoring 11 points against Kansas, is slight however.

This'n' That

The Reinstatement Board has met, heard, and refused. Consequently Kaeser and Scales have put in their applications for chief b. h.'s (booth hoppers) at the Palace. . . . That self-styled heart breaker Sy Sartorius is back again and even the Phi Delt is a little chagrined about it. Here's a tip, Sy. When you become tired of having all the other girls refuse you dates you might ask Betty Winter. . . . Now that Major Bliss is leaving town Billie Cowdery is joining that famous Home and Fireside's Club whose motto is, "home and firesides are born, not made". . . . Hide your pins and hold your hats, boys, because Mary Emily Berryman is back in school. . . . Even with a car Bill Lutz seems to have a hard time getting around. According to Bill his latest love is doing him dirt, but he believes in that old saying, "never say die". . . . And then there was the dull dope who called and asked for Jane Cuddepath meaning Jane Nesselrode. . . . We wonder what will become of those Delt bullfests now that Cottin Tietze has graduated. . . . We suggest that since Ken Harris, a pride of the Pi K A's, and Betty Jean Hedges are telling all their mutual friends about their affection for one another they might as well get together and tell each other. . . . It is rumored around that Orin Stoner has another interest on Laramie street besides the one at the Tri Delt house. . . . One of the better Chi Omegas was heard to remark that she certainly would be glad when spring arrived. After all that fire escape does get cold in January. . . . Tufty Haynes had his mind changed by the blonde Venus and decided to stay in school after all, although he seems to be getting plenty of competition from the Sig Ep house.

Foremost French Actors On Screen

"The Three Musketeers" is Being Brought Here by The Modern Language Department

The leading parts in the French screen version of Alexander Dumas' classic, "The Three Musketeers," to be shown at the Varsity Theatre Saturday, are acted by some of the foremost French film stars. . . . This picture was obtained by the modern language department because of the popularity of other foreign shows. It is produced and directed by Henri Diamant Berger, one of the best producers in France. . . . It is reported that as soon as it was known that Berger was going to produce "The Three Musketeers" he received letters from all parts of the world asking him to take Alme Simon-Girard for the part of D'Artagnan. The success that Simon-Girard has had proves that the opinion of these people was correct. . . . Professor Limper of the modern language department highly recommends Simon-Girard's acting. . . . Because of the fact that Dumas pictures Cardinal De Richlieu as a scoundrel, this part is rather difficult to play, but Samson Fain-silver has been able to place in his presentation both history and legend. . . . Blanchemontel, who takes the part of Constance Bonacieux, was already famous in the silent films, and her success in "Three Musketeers" has been unsurpassed in the talkies. Maurice Escande, who is particularly famous for his costume parts, will be in the role of Buckingham. ### First Track Dual With Jayhawkers

Kansas State Will Go To Lawrence February 9—Shrader and Jordan Ineligible

The first dual meet of the season for the Kansas State indoor track team will be held Saturday, February 9, with Kansas University at Lawrence.

If weather permits trials will be held Saturday, February 2, to determine the entries in the various events for this meet.

Final reports have not been made but it looks as if Shrader, in the weights, and Jordan, in the pole vault, will be the only losses from scholastic difficulties, although two or three others still have some incompletes and conditions to remove before they are eligible.

Several new men have reported since the rush of final exams. The most prominent of these are Jesson, in the sprints, and Marsh in the weights. Another valuable addition has been made in Leo Ayres, who has decided to devote his full attention to track rather than to basketball. Ayres' specialty is the pole vault and he may do some broad jumping.

"Little is known about the strength of the K. U. team this year. However, with Dees, in the shot; White and several others in the pole vault; Maguire in the high jump; and Pitts in the broad jump they are bound to be strong in the field events. The loss of Cunningham, Hall and others will be felt in the track events," Coach Ward Haylett stated yesterday.

Early trials have shown that the Wildcats have strength in the hurdles, 440, 880, mile and two mile events. Prospects are also good for a fine 2-mile relay team for the winter and spring carnivals.

AT THE DICKINSON

Broadway Bill

Warner Baxter, the race track fan who married into money and is loved by his wife's younger sister, Myrna Loy, is the owner of a high-stepping horse called Broadway Bill. At one of the family's business meetings Baxter kicks over the traces and heads for the race track. His horse doesn't click and he writes to his wife asking her to send him the horse's mascot, Skeeter, a ban-tam rooster. The wife refuses to answer the letter and won't send the rooster. The kid sister grabs the rooster and his off to the hero.

From here the story moves rapidly to a thrilling and surprise climax that is sure to put you on the edge of your seat. In addition to this the Dickinson gives you a Terry-tune and a news-reel.

APPLICATIONS ARE DUE

Applications by students wishing to participate in the cooperative meal plan should be handed in as soon as possible to Miss Sine Faye Fowler, director of the college cafeteria. Only a limited number of students may be accommodated. The cooperative meal plan at Kansas State is a pioneer in this field and the experiment, which so far has proven successful, is being watched with interest by other schools, states Miss Fowler.

NEW TRAFFIC REGULATIONS

Kansas State students who drive cars should take notice of the new traffic ordinance passed by the city commissioners Tuesday. The ordinance prohibits parking in the downtown area for more than two hours. It also prohibits parking in alleys in the fire zone, except for unloading—and not too long then. For those who might not observe the ordinance, there is a fine of not more than $100 and a jail sentence of not more than 30 days. The ordinance becomes effective February 8.

AG ORPHEUM TO BE HERE SOON

ORGANIZATIONS WORKING ON STUNTS WHICH MUST BE SUBMITTED BY TUESDAY

Max Burk, Manhattan, Business Manager This Year—Besler Assistant—H. Miles Heberer of Public Speaking Department Will Again Direct Production

Organizations are hard at work whipping into final shape plans for stunts they will enter in the fifteenth annual Ag Orpheum to be presented by the Y. M. C. A. in the college auditorium March 8 and 9. Max Burk, Manhattan, has been named business manager this year. Max Besler, also of Manhattan, is assistant. H. Miles Heberer of the department of public speaking will direct the production.

For the first time this year, competitive acts will consist only of five short stunts, a prize different than ever before being awarded the winner. The Lillian Amos School of Dancing and the Mason School of Dancing will be invited to present non-competitive presentations.

Six long stunts will be presented by men's and women's glee clubs under the direction of Prof. Edwin C. Sayre of the department of music. Professor Sayre's presentation "An Old Song Resung" in which three dance numbers, "Dancing in the Dark," "Love Is the Sweetest Thing," and "Two Hearts in Waltz Time," brought a tremendous burst of applause from the largest crowd in Ag Orpheum's history. So just what Professor Sayre will bring forth for Ag Orpheum goes this year, is anxiously awaited.—Adv.

STUDENTS ENTER IN FARM, HOME WEEK PROGRAM

The dairy program is two days long. It also begins on Feb. 5 and is completed Feb. 6. Jack Chelton, Tuling, Tex., president of the American Jersey Cattle club, and A. J. Glover, Port Atkinson, Wis., editor of Hoard's Dairyman and president of the Holstein-Friesian association of America, will be two important out-of-state speakers on the program.

The livestock day, which will terminate in the Little American Royal, will have a special demonstration on curing, storing, and handling pork by Prof. D. L. Mackintosh. This same day, Feb. 7, those interested in beekeeping will meet to listen to Arthur Allen, president of the Federation of Kansas Beekeepers' associations.

In spite of the drought of last year, the annual blue ribbon corn show will be held as usual as part of the agronomy program.

The women will have a program as entertaining as the men's. Information to guide the homemaker in more profitable buying will be given by important home demonstrations agents and leaders. These meetings will last from Feb. 6 to 9.

AT THE WAREHAM

"Limehouse Blues" is the picture at the Wareham today. It stars George Raft, Jean Parker, Anna May Wong, and Kent Taylor.

The scene of the picture is the famous—or notorious—Limehouse district in London, corresponding to the lower east side in New York. It is here that George Raft has his experiences with the London underworld and the fair sex.

A rip-snorting wild and wooly western is on the bill for Saturday. It's Buck Jones in "Rocky Rhodes." As a co-attraction on the same bill is Roger Pryor in "Strange Wives."

DEBATE AT EMPORIA

Teams From Six Kansas Colleges Enter Tournament

A team from Kansas State college will enter the non-decision debate tournament at the Emporia Teachers' college today and tomorrow. The question to be debated is: "Resolved, that the nations should agree to prevent the international shipment of arms and munitions." That is the question chosen by Pi Kappa Delta, national forensic fraternity, for the present debating season.

Besides the teams from Kansas State and the Emporia Teachers' college, others are expected from Washburn college, the College of Emporia, Ottawa university, and Baker university.

Y. W. C. A. Freshman commission meetings will be held the second and fourth Tuesdays of every month in L61. The first meeting is February 12.

Senate Passes Bill To Make ROTC Compulsory By A Slight Majority

ONLY CONSTITUTIONALLY REQUIRED NUMBER OF VOTES CAST FOR MEASURE

House Vote Next

Senator Bender Declares Board of Regents Is Handling Its Troubles to Legislature

By barely enough votes for a majority, the Skovgard-McDonald bill making military training compulsory at Kansas State college, was passed by the state senate yesterday. The vote on the bill was 21 to 16. Twenty-one is the number set by the constitution as necessary for a bill to pass.

The close vote was something of an upset, as a strong majority favored the bill when it was considered last week.

Several who favored the bill last week lined up against it yesterday because they felt that it was a matter for the state board of regents to settle. Sen. Ralph G. Rus of Parsons and Sen. Arnold Todd of Wichita were two senators who took that stand on the question.

Sen. M. A. Bender, Holton, said the board was handling its troubles to the legislature to solve. He also stated that "either all three subjects should be elective, or all compulsory."

The three subjects which he referred to are military training, agriculture, and mechanical arts, which by the terms of the land grant act must be offered in land grant colleges. At the present time, military training is required, while agriculture and mechanical arts are not.

The bill was not debated yesterday, the debate having been confined to the last week. However, a great many of the senators explained their vote on the floor, and asked that their explanation be recorded in the journal.

Sen. E. H. Benson, of Colby, was the leader in the attack on the bill. He characterized military training in times of peace as "a child of Europe," and stated that it should not be permitted in this country.

"The board of regents, the majority of whom did not go to war although of draft age," said Senator Benson, "pulled a bonhead in handling the situation at Kansas State college. As a result we are asked to pass this bill."

Senator Skovgard, a member of the investigating committee from the legislative council which this fall visited Kansas State college, was the co-author of the bill, and chief backer in the debate last Wednesday. He stressed the fact that the federal government granted ninety thousand acres of land for the support of the college, with the provision that two years of military training be offered.

After the bill was passed by the senate, it was sent to the house. If the house passes it, and it is signed by the governor, it will become a law.

Missouri Admits Drill Resister

Student Expelled Last Spring Allowed to Take Physical Education for Drill

Missouri University has again opened its portals to Eugene Ringo, 21 year old Columbia youth who was expelled last spring from the University for refusing to attend military classes. He reenrolled and was excused from military training because of conscientious objections.

Military training was on his program when he registered but he filed a petition with the admissions committee requesting that the military requirement be waived. The committee met and voted to let him take physical education instead of drill.

DEMONSTRATION WEDNESDAY

A meat canning demonstration will be given Wednesday afternoon, February 6, at 3 p. m. in room L41 by Mrs. Gladys Ayers, a graduate of Kansas State college in the class of '28. Mrs. Ayers is now employed by the Ball Brothers Manufacturing company of Muncie, Indiana. The public is invited. Dr. Pittman wishes to stress the fact that this is an opportunity for students interested in commercial home economics, teachers, and extension workers, to see how a demonstration should be conducted as well as to see how to can.

Y. M. C. A. RETREAT AT WAMEGO

Delegations From K. U., N. U. and K. S. to Meet Saturday

A Triangular Retreat with delegations from Kansas State college, the University of Kansas, and the University of Nebraska will be held at the Episcopal Guild house at Wamego, Kansas, Saturday, February 9. Responsibilities for the affair are divided as follows—Kansas State, arrangements; University of Nebraska, program; University of Kansas, social and recreational features. Claude Nelson will lead the retreat.

In charge of the Kansas State delegation will be Leslie King and Dr. A. A. Holtz. This group does not intend to leave Manhattan until after 10 o'clock Saturday morning. Any students wishing to go should leave word at the Y. M. C. A. office immediately as the delegation will be limited.

Orpheum Acts Chosen Today

Five Best Students to Be Selected—Only Kansas State Students To Participate

Manuscripts of stunts submitted by campus organizations desiring to compete for the unusual Ag Orpheum prize this year were to have been given to the Orpheum staff by today. Ag Orpheum is a presentation of the Y. M. C. A. and will have its fifteenth annual showing in the college auditorium March 8 and 9.

The Orpheum staff will select from the numerous entries five stunts that will make a varied and entertaining program. In the past, ten stunts have been selected for presentation. This year, however, since the number has been reduced, only the very best stunts will be entered in the competition, announces Max Burk, manager of the Orpheum.

As the result of a controversy that arose last year when the leading role of a winning stunt was imported from another college it has been decided that only students enrolled at Kansas State college will be allowed in the competitive presentations this year.

To give competing stunts their fullest entertainment value, the staff reviewing the manuscripts tonight will attempt to remedy any obvious defects that may otherwise prevent the stunt from being allowed in the program. This work will be done under the direction of Prof. H. Miles Heberer of the public speaking department, who has had wide experience in all types of stage productions. Mr. Heberer is general supervisor for the 1935 Orpheum.

Beside the competitive stunts, the program will consist of six full stage musical presentations by the college choruses under the direction of Prof. Edwin Sayre, of the college music faculty, and numbers by the Lillian Amos School of Dancing and the Mason School of Dancing. As an added attraction, the Kansas State orchestra has been asked to play.

In making up the program for the Orpheum, its policy of legitimate vaudeville act arrangement will be strictly adhered to.

MAGAZINE OUT THURSDAY

Intake and Exhaust Will Make Debut at Engineers Alloy

Intake and Exhaust, annual engineering gossip sheet edited by Glen Farrar, will make its debut at the Engineers Alloy Thursday night, February 7 in Nichols Gymnasium. The Alloy, sponsored by the Steel Ring and Sigma Tau, honorary engineering fraternities, is the annual engineers spring mixer.

Any engineer who has grievance may relieve his blood pressure by writing of his pet worry in the Intake and Exhaust, although he may be slightly embarrassed, as was one prominent engineer last year, when the copy readers over looked his signature on a rather critical comment on a certain course and its instructor.

One of the features of this year's edition is to be a number of sketches of engineering dignitaries in characteristic poses uttering well characterized and quite familiar quotations.

Two or three short speeches by members of the faculty, several musical numbers, wrestling and boxing, refreshments of doughnuts and cider will complete the evenings entertainment.

FIRST FORUM WEDNESDAY

The first Student Forum of the semester will be held Wednesday, February 6, 12:30 o'clock, at the College Cafeteria. Miss Connie Bonslagle, State home demonstration leader of Arkansas will talk on "The Federal Housing Plan". Miss Bonslagle has spoken on programs throughout the United States and abroad.

Young Peoples' Hour At KSAC

Will Present Opportunities For Training in Art of Living And Making a Living

The young peoples' opportunity hour, a radio program devoted to the opportunities which colleges offer for training in the art of living and making a living, will be broadcast Thursdays from 4:30 until 5:30 o'clock over station KSAC.

Music by student and faculty soloists and groups, discussions by student speakers, explanations of present trends and opportunities in various fields of college study by two faculty speakers, the presentation of an outstanding graduate will be on each program.

The first broadcast of this series, February 14, will concern the college in general. "Who should go to college?" will be discussed by Pres. F. D. Farrell, and M. F. Ahearn, head of the department of physical education and athletics, will talk about "Opportunities for Work and Play at Kansas State". A student, Hal H. Doolittle, Kansas City, Mo., will tell "Why I came to college". The presentation of an outstanding student and music by the college orchestra will follow.

The series of programs will continue with programs devoted to the Division of General Science February 21; Engineering, February 28; Home Economics, March 7; Graduate Study, March 14; Veterinary Medicine, March 21; Extension Service, March 28; Agriculture, April 4; and other phases of colleges and college life each Thursday continuing until May 23.

Last year this program was broadcast early Saturday afternoon instead of Thursday, as now.

NEW MEMBERS ON ORCHESTRA

Dale Schreff, Omaha, Neb., Sid Robinson, Parsons, a former student, and Arthur Endacott, Lawrence, are new members of Pee Wee Brewster's band. Schreff plays a trumpet, and Robinson and Endacott play saxophones. Both Endacott and Robinson have been with Brewster prior to this semester. Endacott having been in school at Lawrence where he is an honor student, and Robinson having been on the road with Henry Lange and his orchestra.

Larger Yearbook

Thus far 326 seniors have made arrangements with the Royal Purple staff to have their pictures in the 1935 yearbook, which is a substantial increase over last year's number at the same time.

The large number of pictures which will appear in the book and the increase in the amount of art work will make it necessary to have over 60 more pages in this year's book than last year's.

The college and the student council have purchased 157 books to be distributed among the leading high schools in the state, in order that the students in these high schools may look over the book and become interested in the college before they leave their respective high schools. For this reason work on this year's Royal Purple is being rushed to have the book out by May 1. In the past the books have not been distributed to the high schools until early in the summer.

Three companies have received material to make up layouts for the cover design and will soon have sample designs sent to the staff for approval, according to Spencer H. Wyant, editor of the book.

Organizations wishing to have the picture of the members who enrolled the second semester in their group organization pictures, are urged to make arrangements at the Royal Purple office in Anderson hall immediately.

Reporter Gets Personal Advice And A Story Too

Am I mad, or am I mad? Why didn't someone tell me about this before? Here all my problems could have been solved without me bothering my head about it and I had to wait till ye editor broke down and told me about this advisory service that is offered by the home economics department.

As soon as I did find out I dashed right over to see about it and found that students and townspeople are coming to the various departments every Friday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock and that they are getting advice on clothing, foods, child welfare, household economics, and household decoration.

Of course I was supposed to be getting this story for the paper but when I went in to see Miss Latzke about clothing, she said that she always gave advice on the selection of becoming dress—in color, line, and fabrics—or on fitting problems, or making over garments. So before I left I had found out that the very thing for me would be a tailored black and white suit of a rough material, and one of those ducky sailor hats. That was worth going after, what?

Miss Gumselmann in the department of household economics told me that her department is offering to assist in helping to budget the income and other problems of finance—either for student or family. Many students, especially those who have apartments, will find sympathy and aid in planning their home work so that it will fit college hours. This department assists not only in time management but in the problem of getting the most out of one's money. The students will be shown how to plan all 24 hours to get the most from their time and energy without over-looking social life. To townspeople they offer help in analyzing problems involved in management of the home such as the choice between the various possibilities in home production (laundry, canning, gardening, etc.) remodeling of kitchen to save time and energy, and questions of division of time among various activities.

The foods and child welfare departments work together to some extent. That is, after a child had been weighed and measured in the child welfare department he usually goes to the foods department to get his diet checked. Dr. Pittman, of the foods department, offers aid to students in their problems of gaining or reducing, giving parties, Sunday night suppers or special diet.

Miss Barfoot, in the department of household decoration and costume design, told me that a great many students have come in to receive advice about costume design—especially on party dresses. More townspeople are taking advantage of the advice on home decoration.

Well when I got through I knew what I wanted to wear, what my room should look like, where I could spend my money best, and what I should eat and why. And that's something! You'd better drop in some time. They will straighten out all your problems in a hurry. Anyway don't say I didn't tell you.

KSC Students Favor League In Digest's Poll

FIFTY-THREE PER CENT WOULD HAVE U. S. ENTER INTERNATIONAL BODY

For Arms Control

Overwhelming Vote Cast For Governmental Regulation of Munitions Industries

Kansas State college students favor entry of the United States in the League of Nations according to returns from the peace poll conducted by The Literary Digest. The vote was 53 per cent "yes" and 47 per cent "no".

The students were asked to express their opinions in this "College Peace Poll" on seven issues relating to war and peace. On the first question as to whether the United States could stay out of another great war, the vote was 65 per cent "yes" and 35 per cent "no". Asked if the individual would bear arms in defense of the United States in case the country were invaded, 93 per cent indicated they would fight, while 7 per cent voted that they would not fight.

On the question of whether or not they would bear arms for the United States in its invasion of the borders of another country, 60 per cent marked their ballot negatively, while 31 per cent showed they would fight even in the case of an aggressive war.

On the fourth question of "Do you believe that a national policy of an American Navy and Air-Force second to none is a sound method of insuring us against being drawn in to another great war," the vote was 67 per cent against such a policy and 43 per cent for it.

An overwhelming majority of 96 per cent showed advocacy of governmental control of armament and munitions industries, while 4 per cent registered opposition on this issue.

Voting on the question "In alignment with our historic procedure in drafting man-power in time of war, would you advocate the principle of universal conscription of all profits in time of war?" the ballot showed 87 per cent marked in favor of such universal conscription to 13 per cent, against it.

Students at the Kansas university and at the Nebraska university voted similar to the students of Kansas State, excepting that University of Nebraska students voted against entry of the United States in the League of Nations by a vote of 54.5 per cent "no" and 45.5 per cent "yes". 325,000 ballots were sent out to undergraduates in 119 colleges and universities by The Literary Digest in an effort to discover their opinions on these issues related to war and peace.

Each year thousands of people from all over Kansas come to open house, which is culminated by St. Pat's Prom on the evening of the last day.

Swimmers To Meet

To Hold Dual Meet With Washburn College Tankmen at Topeka

An aggregation of Wildcat swimmers to Topeka tomorrow to hold a dual meet with the Washburn college swimmers.

This is the first meet of the year for the 5-State swimmers and Coach C. S. Moll. Doesn't know in competition what the team is capable of doing in competition. Joe Creed, captain of the swimming team for the past three years, has the most experience of any one on the team. There are seven years for the K-State swimmers and several other lettermen also making the trip.

The swimmers that will compose the 400 yard relay team are Churchill, Brady, and Lassen. The fourth member will either be Gaume or Waller.

In the breast-stroke will be Blanche, last year's lettermen and Combs.

In the 40-yard free-style coach Moll will have Churchill and Brady competing. Waller and Lassen, will compete in the 440 yard free-style race, while Steele will be the only back-stroke swimmer Coach Moll has in this event.

In fancy diving the Wildcat hopes lie in the hands of Al Gaume a new recruit to the swimming team.

Captain Creed and Umberger, free-style artists, will try their luck at the 220 yard free-style race after competing in the 100 yard free-style race.

The last event of the evening will be the medley relay race. In this race Steele will swim the back-stroke for the Wildcats. Blanche or Combs the breast-stroke, and Creed or Churchill the free-style for the Wildcats.

HI-Y TEAM TO JUNCTION CITY

The Hi-Y extension team gave a program at the Junction City high school auditorium Monday morning, featuring as speaker S. M. Ahl, graduate student from Teheran, Persia. Arthur Willis gave a short talk, also.

The gospel team quartet which includes Paul Jackson, R. M. Fink, Arthur Willis and Wilbur Maddy furnished the music. Raymond Solenberg, president of the Freshman Commission, presided. The Hi-Y extension team also has invitations to appear at Wamego, February 20, and at Abilene in the near future. A. B. Meeker is chairman of the team.

235 NEW STUDENTS ENROL

These Students Not in School Last Semester

Two hundred thirty-five of the 2,604 students enrolled this semester are new students who were not in school last semester. The enrollment for this semester exceeds last year's enrollment for the second semester by 552.

The reinstatement committee reports that 61 of the 92 students who applied for reinstatement were admitted to school again. One hundred seventy students were dismissed at the end of last semester for scholastic deficiencies. The committee is composed of Prof. R. I. Throckmorton, Prof. Elizabeth Quinlan, Dr. W. M. McLeod, Prof. J. H. Roberts, and Prof. E. C. Miller.

Failing grades in one-half of their grades is sufficient for the dismissal of a freshman while upper classmen are allowed failing grades in two-fifths of their work.

Idaho University Professor to Fill Position Vacated by Professor Fitch's Resignation

F. W. Atkeson, head of the dairy department at Idaho university, was appointed as head of the dairy husbandry department at Kansas State college last week. He will fill the position formerly held by Prof. J. B. Fitch who has resigned to take a similar position at Minnesota.

Professor Atkeson, who was a member of the Kansas State faculty before, having served as an assistant in the dairy husbandry department in 1918-19, will assume his duties here April 1.

He received his bachelor of science degree from Missouri university and his master's degree from Kansas State in 1929.

"Professor Atkeson is well known here on the campus and by Kansas dairymen," said Dean L. E. Call in announcing the appointment. "I feel that we are exceedingly fortunate in being able to secure Professor Atkeson to carry on the work in the department of husbandry that has been so successfully administered by Professor Fitch. Professor Atkeson has served as head of the department of dairy husbandry at the university of Idaho for 14 years and has a national reputation in the field of dairy husbandry."

The year after Professor Atkeson was an assistant in the dairy department here, he became a field man for the American Jersey Cattle club. In 1921 he was appointed head of the dairy husbandry department at Idaho university where he served for the past 14 years. During that time he has acquired a national reputation in the field of dairy husbandry. He has written several important bulletins on dairy subjects from the Idaho agricultural experiment station, and a number of scientific articles.

He was chairman of the western division of the Dairy Science association in 1925. Professor Atkeson is a member of Sigma Xi, Phi Kappa Phi, and Gamma Sigma Delta.

He is married and has one child about two years old.

Home Talent Today

Musical and Dramatic Numbers Will Be Presented By Twelve County Groups

To encourage those joining in local talent performances in rural communities, the second annual Home Talent program, consisting of one-act plays and musical numbers presented by representatives of 12 counties of Kansas, will be held tonight at 6:45 in the auditorium. This program is one of the high spots of the regular Kansas State college Farm and Home week, which began this morning with the poultry day program.

Eighteen counties submitted acts for the competition but six were eliminated in county contests held at Newton, Lyons, Dodge City and Manhattan. Each group has a choice of either a 15-minute musical number or a 30-minute, one-act play. The judges of the acts will be Prof. H. Miles Heberer, of the public speaking department and Mrs. E. B. Keith. A 25 cent admission will be charged to cover the expenses.

The program, under the direction of M. H. Coe, state 4-H club leader, will consist of the following numbers: orchestra music, Sedgewick county; Chinese Opera, C. J. Hanson; and Savor, Blessed Savior, L. F. Brackett, with the mixed chorus; Keep Your Vain Watch, E. W. Norman and the Men's two part chorus, all of Miami county.

Goose Money, a play, Barton county; Close Harmony and Home on the Range, male quartette, Butler county; Bread, a play, Harvey county; Sweet and Low and Love's Old Sweet Song, Women's chorus, Comanche county.

Weiners for Wednesday, Bourbon county; Chinese Fantasy, Clay county; Educating Mary, Cherokee county; are all plays.

Sing to Me Gypsy and In the Time of Roses, women's quartette, Rice county; Early Ohio and Rhode Island Reds, a play Gray county; Snow Storm and In Old Madrid, women's chorus, Harvey county; and Goose Money, Riley county.

LET'S PADDLE OUR OWN CANOE

The difficulty of the Kansas legislature is experiencing in deciding whether military training should or should not be made compulsory at Kansas State brings this thought to mind: Just why should this question involving a dispute between the students of a college and its administration be left for the legislature to determine.

The state legislature is particularly unfitted to legislate wisely on a question of this nature. It would be safe to assume that a large majority of the state's representatives have never been intimately enough acquainted with a college to be able to understand and solve its problems. In all likelihood the majority of the legislators are not even college graduates. Most of these men, there are exceptions of course, are typical small town politicians, and in the consideration of a problem their conclusions are conditioned not by thorough analysis and logical reasoning but by political motives—what the voters back home will think. This is distinctly what is not wanted in deciding this question.

Whether or not military drill should be compulsory is a problem philosophical in nature. Such questions as regimentation of thought, and freedom of speech and action have been introduced. Since a university must guard against regimentation of thought, and guarantee freedom of speech and action if true progress in knowledge is to be insured, the questions involved in the pacifists-R. O. T. C. controversy assume a surprising significance. And because they are questions essentially academic, their solution belongs in the hands of the students and faculty of this college, and not to a state legislature remotely removed from the situation.

In this respect, Kansas State should follow in the steps of Missouri and determine this question for itself without the aid of external political bodies.

"A LOT OF BULL" IS RIGHT

Red menace in American colleges and universities! Red scare! Radicalism grips American college students! Institutions of higher learning are hotbeds of communism!

Thus certain large metropolitan newspapers characterize the average American campus as they start the cry to purge colleges and universities and make them safe for "Americanism".

Professors are charged with communistic leanings because they discuss the academic aspects of the theory of communism—the same as democracy, monarchy, fascism, socialism and the other "isms".

We have no "red" menace at Iowa State or any other middle western campuses. Of that we are sure; and if we may take the word of Bruce Barton, the whole business is "a lot of bull." That, in our mind, is a very fair comment on the situation, but it still does not justify looking at the situation from behind one's glasses.

We have as much right to discuss communism along with the other "isms" as we have to discuss economics and its related subjects. We profit by our free discussions. Democracy looks good by comparison—we see it faults.

Knowing the principles of the "isms," we are better able to correct the errors and weaknesses in our government, instead of letting it break down and pave the way for such things as communism and fascism.

Free exchange of ideas gives us a basis for better citizenship. We have no right to be forced in any academic goose-step—no matter what off-campus commentators may say.

Surely we have enough confidence in this great republic that a few of the so-called "reds" are no threat.—The Iowa State Student.

The above editorial taken from the Iowa State Student describes a fear that seems to be very much in vogue at present. There is an opinion prevalent throughout the country (due to campaigns by the Hearst press and to misinformed observers such as Kansas State's own investigating committee) that communism is spreading like wildfire in the colleges of the country, and that we are hourly in danger of an armed revolt. What is usually termed radicalism is but a general awakening of interest among the younger generation in the social issues of the day. And if it leads to radicalism as it frequently does, it is from a sense of futility resulting from the chaotic social structure handed us by our elders.

PRACTICAL FARMING ONLY

Kansas State welcomes the farmers of Kansas to its campus and hopes that their visit here will be an instructive and profitable one.

The students and faculty of the division of agriculture are doing their best to present the latest methods of farming and the most logical solutions to the problems brought on by the drought. Demonstrations and reports by some of the most competent leaders of agriculture in the middle west are to be presented to the Kansas farmers.

All is being done in as practical a way as possible. No untried methods or solutions will be presented. Only that which has been tested and proven practical will be offered the farmers of Kansas. Kansas State college is, truly the agricultural laboratory of Kansas.

The Snooper

Well, we all know is what we sweep out of the Palace and the Canteen but they say the Sigma Nu's are REALLY planning for their jittery jig this weekend.

Phooey-on-Phiphis-Week begins in earnest—Ernest who? Or maybe it's Ernestine. And yet they've lost Neddie to Moyle the polli.

Seven Kappas, lacking looks for their keys, were seen listlessly wandering around Junction City last week. And yet they can't see the advantages of giving their pledges an even chance at K-State's hapless male populace!!!

A great many people hope to escape chemistry and it was one of these trusting souls who gave this into our aged hands:

"There was a little Senator
 Who came to Kansas State.
 But to our new chem-building
 He gave the well-known gate."
 Lord bless him, we say!

Though our great Tom-Tom Bushby has acquired a thoroughly southern accent neither he nor Douglas Russell can claim the notice (or was it notoriety?) they did a year ago. More for brains, not brawn. The former MAY last!

Kappa's red-headed hi-light, Jean Bryan, welcomes Sam Caughron back with open arms. Anything's better than Ketchersid, eh Jean?

Certain of these girls who think they are gaining innocent charm with these new pokebonnets are fooling only themselves. Just a reminder to a certain few Tri Deltas! No bother at all, girls!

Jim Scheu, slickery Sig Alph of only yesterday, is night desk clerk at the Hotel Capitol at Topeka. Which item proves that the Snooper really has a heart beneath this nose of blue. We didn't have to warn you, did we?

Max Burk, of beer fuzz fame, guarantees free demonstrations to all comers. Kappa Sigs now live as cheaply as the fizzy Phf Deltas since he's shown them how.

Lois Narramore Gow and husband (of two hours) spent Sunday afternoon reviewing current history for the Chi O girls.

The adenoidal Alpha Deltas are vainly trying to suppress (?) the Sinclair-Clark, Parker-Pinnick, Palace passions. They must have their notoriety today!

George Garrison has been heard audibly wondering about chances on Billie Cowdrey—Major Bliss being momentarily in the cold it is understood.

Brother Feldt of Phi Delt oblivion thinks he's fooling people about that lodge pin! The Kapering Keeney will be forgetful.

And now Baker, dodering Delt, cuts the meticulous Millican! It looks like another dull Sunset-Fremont feud! We hear there are recruits being called for both sides. Even Moss has company!

The ATO's are telling this fairy tale; When Pete Miller, an ATO pledge, to you, found he had an hour of B along with 19 hours of A he darn near cried and went home to mother. Dear, dear.

It must have been a bit uncomfortable for that Delt pledge who spent an hour under a table in the Canteen among Kappa feet while four Shelta actives "cooked" up front!

Cockrane, Root, et. al., are again musical in the Canteen after a winter's inactivity. But must they be so obvious about it?

Frances Farrell, fondly fathered by "Prexy", was a bit burned when she was forced to put her address on her enrollment check. Ross, we understand, was a little surprised—to think you're dating a campus celebrity and then have that happen!

P. S. Just to keep them contented we're making this next week "Agin-AGR's" week! How's that, boys?

On Thursday Night

Fireside Discussion Groups to Meet in Faculty Homes

The first Fireside Forums in faculty homes, sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. for February 7, 14, and 28, will begin Thursday night at 7:30.

Each series of meetings has a definite theme. "How Modern is the Bible" is the title for the discussions at the home of "Doc" A. A. Holtz, Y. M. C. A. secretary, 419 Dennison. "What the Bible Really Is" will be the theme of a talk given there Thursday night by Rev. B. A. Rogers of the First Methodist church.

"Collegiate Value of Living" will be the theme of discussions held at the home of A. L. Clapp, assistant agronomy instructor, 1109 Kearney. "Loyalty" will be discussed Thursday night. This series of discussions was formerly scheduled to be held at the home of H. M. Stewart, associate professor of economics and sociology; but was changed because of illness in the Stewart family.

"After College—What?" is the general discussion topic for the meetings at the home of Miss Helen Hostetter, assistant journalism professor and Miss Helen Elcock, associate professor of English, 426 N. 17. General vocational opportunities in Kansas will be discussed.

These meetings are open to all students. Their purpose is to acquaint the faculty with students' way of thinking.

Relics To Chicago

University of Chicago Anthropologists Will Determine Age of Fairman Dam Indians

The age and habits of the Indians whose skeletons were unearthed on the Fairman lake site may be known within the next few weeks. College geologists are sending bone fragments and ornaments to the department of anthropology at the University of Chicago.

Pieces of charcoal, beads, tools, and skull fragments will be studied by members of that department with the hope of determining certain facts relating to their antiquity and primitiveness. The charcoal will be studied by dendrochronologists who can determine almost the exact time that these Indians lived by observing the growth rings in the burnt wood. The bone awls, a quartzite hammer, and pieces of pottery will help to bring to light something of the habits of

The skeletons and ornaments are of little value to the layman except as curios but to the scientist they are important in that they help substantiate theories regarding past human life. Very little is known about Indians in Kansas because many of the mounds discovered have previously been vandalized before competent workers could study the remains. It is urged that anyone discovering remains of this sort leave them undisturbed so that proper authorities may study the manner in which the bodies are buried and other data concerning their existence that the layman would not notice.

The beads, tools, and portions of the skeletons will be placed on exhibition sometime during the spring.

K. S. GRADUATES TO TEACH

Four Former Students Receive High School Positions

Through the teacher placement bureau of the college education department, four Kansas State college graduates have been recently elected to high school teaching positions the second semester.

Miss Esther Rockey, who was graduated in 1931 and received her master's degree in 1932, has been chosen to teach history, journalism, and English in the Sylvan Grove high school.

Miss Beulah Siddens, who was graduated in 1928, began her duties as home economics and civics instructor in the Kensington high school January 21. She will fill the position vacated by Miss Mary Dexter following her marriage to F. W. Boyd, both former Kansas State students.

The other appointments are William D. Fitch, Manhattan, who completed his work for a degree the first semester, as music supervisor in the Butler high school, and Harold P. Walker, Bucklin, who will receive his bachelor of science degree at the completion of summer school, as vocational agriculture instructor in the Wamego high school.

AT THE VARSITY

Ann Harding and Robert Montgomery ring the bell again in the "Biography of A Bachelor Girl" now showing at the Varsity.

Miss Harding in the role of Marion Forsythe, played by Ina Claire on the stage, provides both beauty and ability in the portrayal of a difficult part as a bachelor artist who has loved and left numerous men in her career.

She is confronted by Richard Kurt (spelled with a K), Robert Montgomery, the editor of a weekly news-magazine, who succeeds in convincing her that she should write an intimate biography of her life. Overcome by his brusqueness and good looks she consents.

It sounds easy at first but when Leander (Bunny) Nolan, Edward Everett Horton, a former sweetheart and prospective senator from Tennessee, hears of it, he goes to her and implores then demands that she omit their affair from the biography.

From here the story moves rapidly to a dramatic close amid many complications. Clever dialogue, splendid acting, and lots of humor make this one of the seasons best hits.

A Shaw and Lee comedy and Hearst Metrotone News complete the show.

"The Marines Are Coming" starring William Haines, Conrad Nagel, and Esther Ralston will be the feature of Thursday's Bank Night.

AT THE DICKINSON

Myrna Loy and Cary Grant in "Wings in the Dark" offer some of the entertainment that moviegoers are always seeking and seldom finding. Here is a production with humor, drama, action, and a happy ending.

Miss Loy as Shelia Mason, a stunt aviatrix, is lead to believe that she is going to make a transatlantic trip with Cary Grant, whom Myrna regards with admiration and amorousness. However, her manager, Roscoe Karns, has not made the necessary arrangements with Mr. Grant and the publicity that Karns gets for the flight results in someone or other refusing permission for the trip. Both Myrna and her manager are ordered from the place. She stays around and talks Grant into going without permission, and as they are making preparations to leave, a stove explodes, leaving a blind flyer.

Now flying blind had been Grant's specialty, so he figures he can still fly. About the time he perfects his special plane, the owners take it away from him, he and Myrna break up and she tries a flight from Moscow to New York. From this situation comes the happy ending!

A short of Cab Calloway and his band is plenty warm; another of Morton Downey is nice and smooth. The added attractions are just as good as the feature.

AT THE WAREHAM

If you missed "Transatlantic Merry-Go-Round" on its first showing in Manhattan, you have another chance to see it at the Wareham, Monday and Tuesday.

As an entertaining musical comedy with a good plot, clever dance numbers, and a couple of good songs, it offers good entertainment for everyone.

The cast is headed by Jack Benny, of radio fame, in the role of a musical show producer aboard an ocean liner. He is the eternal good-fellow to everyone and the guardian angel of the heroine until the right fellow comes along. Nancy Carroll and Gene Raymond supply the romance with Nancy, the star of the musical troupes and Gene, a clever young crook. Frank Morgan, as an evening husband (of another woman) supplies the murder. Jimmy Grier and his Cocoanut Grove orchestra from Los Angeles supply plenty of smooth music throughout the entire picture.

Supporting members of the cast are Patsy Kelly, Sam Hardy, Sid Silvers, and Frank Parker. A musical college comedy, "The Win-nah!" and Fox Movietone News complete the bill.

Wildcats Up To Fourth In Big Six Play

KANSAS STATE DEFEATS MISSOURI TIGERS IN TWO GAMES HERE

Out From Cellar

Coach Root Finds Right Combination of Players—Play Smoother Saturday Night

The Kansas State basketball team moved into fourth place in the Big Six basketball race, by defeating Missouri twice over the week-end, 32 to 29 and 27 to 20. The Wildcats have dropped out of the race for the cellar position in the Big Six standings with the two victories over the Tigers, Nebraska, who was idle, was pushed to the first rung from the bottom.

The Aggies starting line-up went through both games, with the exception of a few seconds before the final gun each night, when the combination was broken by a removal on personals.

Friday night, it was a rough and tumble, wild-passing game that the Wildcats won from the Missourians, 32 to 29. Missouri's deficiency at the charity lane cost the university the game. Both teams scored 12 field goals apiece but Missouri was able to get only five free throw points in 11 attempts, while Kansas State converted on eight of 12 tries.

James Freeland of Kansas State scored with a field goal and the Wildcats held the lead until the middle of the second half, when Powell's goal put Missouri in the lead 25 to 24. However, Groves soon hit the basket and Kansas held the lead to the end of the game.

Gilpin, who was converted from a guard to a forward early this season, was high point man for the Wildcats with 9 points, and Strom led the Bengals with 10 points.

Referees—Carroll, Mason. Saturday night, Kansas State showed a smooth, passing attack that was the best of the season and consequently defeated Missouri 27 to 20.

Kansas State took an early four-point lead on goals by Groves and Gilpin, but Evans Powell sent Missouri ahead by hitting the ring three times on three attempts. The Wildcats led at the half, 14 to 10, and remained ahead all through the second half despite a comeback in which the Tigers cut the gap to two points early in the period.

Missouri continued weak from the free throw line, hitting only twice in 13 attempts. The Wildcats were little better with three charity tosses out of seven. The margin of victory came to Kansas State because the team hit 19 per cent of its 63 action shots, while the Tigers connected with only 15.2 per cent of her 59 shots.

Saturday night, the Missouri players could not keep Freeland from underneath the basket and "Long Jim" took 26 shots, mostly tip-ins, two of which were good for points. Groves had the best average of the Wildcats, making four goals out of 11 attempts for 36.4 per cent.

Lavere Strom, Bengal forward, was forced to leave the game after receiving a blow on the neck.

Iowa Defeats O.U.

Missouri Also Wins From Nebraska Last Night—K-State Stays In Fourth

Big Six Standings	(Including Last Night's Games)	W	L	Pct.	Pts.	OP

Iowa State	4	1	800	161	130
Oklahoma	5	2	714	237	232
Kansas State	3	5	375	248	287
Nebraska	1	3	250	125	133
Missouri	2	8	200	268	325

Kansas State's fourth place position in the Big Six basketball race was maintained last night as a result of the cellar-dwelling Missouri Tigers' 23 to 21 victory over Nebraska at Lincoln. Had the Cornhuskers won this game, they would have regained fourth position, pushing the Wildcats back in fourth places.

In last night's other conference game, Iowa State downed Oklahoma at Ames 33 to 22. This defeat dropped the Sooners from a first place tie with Kansas to third place, K. U. assembling undisputed control of the leadership in the loop. Iowa State climbed from third place to a second as a result of their triumph.

Sportseye

Kansas State emerged victorious in the two game Battle to Keep Out of the Cellar with Missouri and now rests in fourth place, ahead of Nebraska and the Tigers. The teachings of Waldorf and Fry were very evident and Missouri's failure to have a good line coach last year had much to do with their two defeats. Fans that saw the games got a good idea why Freeland was such a power on last year's Big Six champion football team. Strom, Missouri forward, might testify to that effect. Boing was very much in evidence because the officials missed 'em once in awhile, but in games like those the whistle-blowers are to be pitied—not booed. If they had stuck close to their rule book it is a cinch that every man on both benches would have seen service.

It looks as if the National Intercollegiate wrestling crown will rest on the heads of Coach Paul V. Keen's Oklahoma university matmen again this year. For these Sooner mat artists are out for the title hammer and tongs. On their recent trip through the Big Six conference they defeated the three strongest teams with something like "the greatest of ease," Kansas State was handed one forfeit when the Sooner captain, Siney, gave his match to Jessup. K-State 145-pounder, because of a bad ankle. Score: O. U. 25, Kansas State 5. The Iowa State Cyclones, usually one of the strongest conference contenders, went down under the Sooner invasion 28 1-2-1 1-2 Friday night and Coach Keen immediately entrained his squad for Columbia, Mo., met the Tigers of Missouri university, and won something like 21 1-2-16 1-2. Three har matches in three nights. . . and three wins. A wrestling meet that will create much interest in Soonerland will take place Feb. 8, when the Sooners clash with the Cowboys of Oklahoma A. and M. Both teams boast national champions and the meet will probably have a dash of football mixed up in it somewhere.

This'n That

This second semester slump of affairs is bad for the column writers. We can't figure out whether it is because of the fact that a few of the campus hot shots are no longer with us or merely that there is an epidemic of measles around school. . . . Dale Gamber, of the Delta doxies left for home and mother a little less than a week ago and here he is back again. . . . Gene Ross and Frances Farrell are reported to amuse themselves on their dates by playing patty-cake and making up short snappy poems: Is this the perfect romance? . . . Those uncouth Sigma Nus were up to their old tricks again last Sunday at the movie. First of all, they had to disrupt everyone in the theater by all 26 (?) of them filling in in a great hullabaloo. Then, to make matters worse, they all simultaneously peeled off their coats during one of the love scenes and sat for the remainder of the performance in their shirt sleeves. . . . The way these boys fall for a new girl's line around here is terrific. Kostner and Kannal art at sword's points over Margery Blake (the Oklahoma belle). Kostner's version of the story is that if Kannal has the inside track, Kostner must at least be parked in the quarter stretch. . . . Five of the funsters of Pee Wee's band are planning to take a voyage to China via Hawaii and the Philippines next summer. They are going to earn their "board and keep" by playing their various instruments on the way over. It sounds like a fine plan if people don't find out about it before they book passages on the boat. Kannal says he is going to bring back nine little Chinese girls as souvenirs. He will no doubt name them Yvonne, Ytwo, Ythree, Y—never mind, it's getting a little complicated. . . . We see where Dwight Klinger of the southwestern Klinger's, is again with us. He no doubt came back to take Scale's place just to keep up the consumption. . . . The latest pin-snatching episode took place last Saturday night when Dorothy Hughes and Fritz Beeler passed the Mrs. Stover's up at the Pi Phi house. . . . The Phi Deltas at last have something to brag about. They are now boasting that Pretty Boy Floyd was one of the brothers in the bond. We always thought they looked like a bunch of ex-convicts. . . . Jean Bryan surprised everyone by taking dates with Sammy Caughron while he was here last weekend, but the biggest surprise came when her own Jimmy Ketchersid blossomed out with one of the Tennessee Kappa Deltas. Pardon my southern accent. . . . Then there is the one about the dumb Pi Phi pledge who gave back Johnny Wilcox's Phi Delt pin because she heard he had once had it on some one else. She should try to get her men copyrighted, patented or something. . . . News Flash! The Chi Omegas have gotten rid of some of their duller pledges. It seems like a good idea to us.

Two musical programs will be given also. An organ recital will be given by Prof. Richard R. Jesson, of the music department, at 12:30. A popular concert by the college band, conducted by Geo. Henry, is scheduled at 4 o'clock.

There will also be an agronomy and a beekeepers' program Thursday. Problems of keeping bees and the effect of the beekeepers' codes will be discussed at the bee meetings. At the same time, meetings in the agronomy department will stress production and problems pertaining to wheat growing.

In spite of the drought of last year, the annual blue ribbon seed corn show will be held as part of this program. Prizes will be given for the best ten ears of yellow corn and for the best ten ears of white corn. There will be no cash prizes but the champion ten ears of seed corn will be awarded a silver trophy. The agronomy program will be continued Friday.

Consumer information which will tend to make for more profitable buying among home makers will be the theme for the home economics program which will begin Wednesday and last until the achievement banquet Friday.

Miss Connie Bonselgel, state home demonstration agent of Arkansas, will discuss "Pantry Insurance" and "There is More to Farming Than Just Making a Living." In addition to the talks, the women will have an opportunity to listen to book reviews, to sing, and to play games together.

AGORPHEUM

MARCH 8 and 9

DO YOU REMEMBER?

"An Old Story Resung" the finale act to Ag Orpheum last year by the men's and women's chorus under the direction of Prof. Edwin C. Sayre? Do you remember the dance before the mirror, presented under his direction, to the tune of "Dancing in the Dark"? Do you remember the ensembles that danced, again under his direction, to the melody "Love Is the Sweetest Thing"? Do you remember the audience packed in the college auditorium being held breathlessly still by the sweetness of "Two Hearts in Waltz Time"?

If you do, you may share with the staff its pleasure in announcing that Mr. Sayre will present not one, but six long, non-competitive acts in the fifteenth annual Ag Orpheum here March 8 and 9. And the staff looks forward to the pleasure of announcing to you in the near future, the exact nature of his presentations this year.

Jean Bryan surprised everyone by taking dates with Sammy Caughron while he was here last weekend, but the biggest surprise came when her own Jimmy Ketchersid blossomed out with one of the Tennessee Kappa Deltas. Pardon my southern accent. . . . Then there is the one about the dumb Pi Phi pledge who gave back Johnny Wilcox's Phi Delt pin because she heard he had once had it on some one else. She should try to get her men copyrighted, patented or something. . . . News Flash! The Chi Omegas have gotten rid of some of their duller pledges. It seems like a good idea to us.

A section of the department where Chesterfield tobaccos are blended and cross-blended.

Just what is meant by cross-blending tobaccos . . . and how does it make a cigarette milder and taste better . . .

Well, in blending you take two or more tobaccos and mix them together—a rather simple process. But cross-blending goes a step further . . .

IN making Chesterfields we take Bright tobacco from Virginia, the Carolinas, Georgia and Florida. We take Burley tobacco from Kentucky and Tennessee, and tobacco from Southern Maryland.

Then in addition to these home-grown tobaccos we take tobacco grown in Turkey and Greece.

We balance these mild, ripe home-grown tobaccos with the right amounts and the right kinds of aromatic Turkish.

Then, instead of just mixing the tobaccos together, we blend and cross-blend them so that all the different flavors go together into one full flavor—the Chesterfield taste that so many smokers like.

Cross-blending tobaccos as it is done in Chesterfields gives the cigarette a pleasing taste and aroma—they're mild and yet They Satisfy.

Final Vote On Military Bill Will Be Recorded Today By The House Of Representatives

MEASURE WAS APPROVED YESTERDAY BY COMMITTEE OF WHOLE

Passage Expected

Debate Is Lively However—Opposition to Measure Declares Board of Regents Should Decide Question

After passing the senate by only the bare majority constitutionally required, the bill providing for compulsory military training for all freshmen and sophomore men students at Kansas State, was approved for passage by the house of representatives yesterday. Unless normal procedure is violated, the final vote will be taken today, and if passed the measure will be sent to Gov. Alf M. Landon for his signature.

The house in approving the bill acted as a committee of the whole, and the bill is now subject to final roll call. Voting on the bill was by voice, and there appeared to be little opposition.

When the bill was introduced into the house yesterday, considerable discussion and debate took place. Several amendments were proposed and all were rejected. An amendment to make military training compulsory at all state schools was offered by Jones of Sherman and Wood of Meade. However, when Brewer of Riley suggested that the war department might not be able to supply instructors necessary for the different schools the amendment was voted down. Schowalter of Harvey offered an amendment to make military optional at Kansas State college. He said it was unfair to force training upon farm boys, and pleaded with the representatives to make it optional. This was not passed.

Those lined up for the opposition were Schowalter of Harvey county, Schowalter of Thomas, Scott of Scott, Dubbs of Ness, Jones of Sherman, Cowden of Lyon, Gerstenberger of Douglas, Christian of Grant, and Burnette of Kiowa. While Myers and McFarland of Shawnee, Doten of Miami, Hubbard of Johnston, Murr of Leavenworth, and Morse of Linn furnished the greater part of the support for the bill. "I am a pacifist because I know what war means," said Representative Frank McFarland, "and the best way to assure peace is an adequate military defense." He went on to say that other nations are going ahead to arm themselves for something that might be ahead so why shouldn't the United States? Why Farland represented the National guard and the American Legion.

Murr of Leavenworth stated that his belief was "We should place our trust in God and keep our powder dry." He said that he was a Quaker and upon being asked if that was the creed of his religion he replied that it was his creed as an American citizen.

Meiers of Shawnee, a former student at Kansas State, said that his taking military training did not make him militaristic, and Doten of Miami called objectors to compulsory military training "sissies", and said that the honorable thing to do is to fulfill the contract to the United States government which gave Kansas 9,000 acres of land to establish Kansas State college.

Accusations of Communistic tendencies were hurled at those against compulsory training by the proponents of the bill, in answer to which, Dubbs of Ness stated that he resented being called a red or communist because he opposed the bill and that Mennonites should not be held to scorn because their religion forbade their bearing arms. A motion was pending to kill the bill when a halt of the debate was called.

The board of regents now require compulsory military training at Kansas State and this bill, if passed, would enact into a law the order which has been upheld by the Shawnee county district court. Jones of Sherman stated that the board of regents wanted the legislature to bear the brunt of saying that training is compulsory.

Close Competition

Prizes Given By College Extension, American Royal Livestock Show And K. C. Stock Yards Co

E. L. Schultz and W. R. Wenrich fitted and showed championship stock in the Dairy Cattle and the Block and Bridle Divisions of the Little American Royal held in the pavilion of Kansas State college last night before a capacity crowd of about 800.

E. L. Schultz of Mercer, Kansas, fitted and showed Halesia, a Greensey cow to take the Grand Championship of the Dairy Cattle Division, and W. R. Wenrich of Oxford, Kansas, fitted and showed Butterly Queen, a beef cattle entry, to take the Grand Championship honors of the Block and Bridle Division.

Wenrich's entry competed against the champions in the hog, sheep and horse divisions.

Competition was very close in all divisions; the showing of the stock by the agriculture students showed the fruits of long hours of patient labor.

Comedy relief was introduced by showing of the mixed group, including a donkey, turkey, hog, dog and goat. The donkey was judged the Grand Champion of this division.

Only college livestock is shown at these shows.

A. M. Paterson of Kansas City, Missouri was judge in the Block and Bridle Division. He was assisted by Tom Greer, Tom Dean and W. W. Bales. The dairy cattle were judged by R. E. Romig of Topeka, Kansas, and G. O. Bigford his assistant.

STUDENT IN COLLISION

Morris Gunn, sophomore student from Great Bend, received a broken nose and cuts Wednesday evening when his car struck a Yellow Cab which was parked in the 600 block of Thurston. Gunn's car and the cab were damaged somewhat. Gunn told the police that he was blinded by the lights of an approaching car and could not avoid the taxi.

Five Stunts Are Selected For Orpheum

FRATERNITIES AND SORORITIES SUBMIT THE CHOSEN STUNT FOR Y. M. C. A. PRODUCTION

Might Broadcast

Arrangements Being Made For Transmitting Parts of Program Over Station KSAC

Delta Delta Delta, Lambda Chi Alpha, Pi Beta Phi, Chi Omega, Beta Theta Pi—are the five organizations whose stunts have been selected for competition in the fifteenth annual Ag Orpheum to be presented by the Y. M. C. A. in the college auditorium, March 8 and 9.

The winner will be chosen by a committee of three, judging the first night's performances, and a member of the public speaking department faculty judging the audiences applause at the second night's performance. Members of the committee have not been chosen as yet.

Arrangements are being made with Gene Shields, program director at station KSAC, by the Ag Orpheum staff for the broadcasting of certain parts of the program over that station. There is also the possibility of the presentation of a non-competitive stunt at one of the local theatres. The college orchestra has been asked to play before and during the intermissions.

Beside the competitive stunts, the program will consist of six full stage musical presentations by the college choruses under the direction of Prof. Edwin Sayre, of the college music faculty, and numbers by the Lillian Amos School of Dancing, and the Mason School of Dancing.

As the result of a controversy that arose last year when the leading role of a winning stunt was imported from another college it has been decided that only students enrolled at Kansas State college will be allowed in the competitive presentations this year.

ART BOOKLET PRINTED BY CLASS IN DESIGN

An art booklet known as the ABC's of College Life at KSAC, done by the Intermediate Design class last semester, is now on sale in the art department in Anderson hall.

These booklets are linoleum cuts that require the use of two blocks. They are a color combination with black. The cuts are printed on Japanese fiber paper and all work was done by hand by students. The paper is handmade and has torn, or deckle edges.

The art students who made the booklets are: Belle Forney, Corinne Bolt, Lohse Vinson, Evelyn Armentrout, Robert Spencer, Morna Howe, Ruby Wunder, Edna Anderson, Lorene Otte, Blanche Nattier, and Pauline Pope.

Colorful Indian Student Wears Native Apparel

From Calcutta, India comes Gopal Singh Rathore, G. V. Sc., to attend Kansas State. Today we find him in the clinic of the Vet department, watching the instructor lifting a horse's hind leg off the floor and then starting the animal to trot. Mr. Rathore watches intently. His black hair and dark complexion contrast with the whiteness of his clinic coat. Beneath the jacket he wears jodpurs, brownish in color, which cling tightly to the thin calves of his legs. He is 20 years old and slightly under average in height. The lecture ends and he turns around, his long black lashes shading thoughtful eyes.

The initials after his name signify Graduate of Veterinary Science, the degree he received from the Bengal Veterinary college in Calcutta after almost three years of study. He is enrolled here as a second semester junior.

"Mr. Rathore?" I ask, and we start the interview.

"Why did you come to Kansas State to study?"

"I want to learn more about your animals and agriculture. I might have gone to some school in the east, but I believe this school has the best courses in what I want to study," he answered.

"Your wearing a turban and jodpurs has caused a lot of comment on the campus. Do you intend to keep on wearing them?"

CURRY IS CHAPEL SPEAKER

Rev. Bruce Curry, professor at Union Theological Seminary, N. Y., is to be in Manhattan Sunday and Monday, March 17 and 18. Rev. Curry is an author and popular speaker and is well known here. On Sunday the 17th he will speak at a union young peoples meeting at the Presbyterian church. He will also talk to the student body at a chapel program on Monday morning.

Y. M. C. A. RETREAT TOMORROW

Members of the Y. M. C. A. of Kansas State college will participate in a triangular retreat with the University of Nebraska and the University of Nebraska at Wamego Saturday, according to Dr. A. A. Holtz, executive secretary of the Y. M. C. A. here. The assembly will be at 10 o'clock in the morning. Claude Nelson of New York will be the retreat leader, and C. D. Hayes of Nebraska will be in charge of the devotions. Attendance from each school is limited to 15.

Master Farmers Named Tonight

Ten Outstanding Farmers To Be Announced During Banquet At Close of Farm-Home Week

Announcement of the names of ten farmers who have been chosen as Master Farmers of Kansas for 1934, will be a part of the program at the achievement banquet at 6 o'clock tonight in the cafeteria, which will terminate the annual Farm and Home week.

Ten farmers are chosen and honored each year for their successful farming methods during the year. These farmers are recommended by their neighbors and contact is kept with them during the year by the Kansas Farmer, a Capper publication, which also participates in the selection.

Slightly more than 900 had signed in at the Farm and Home week registration desk in the 4-H club office yesterday afternoon. This is slightly under the average attendance but because of the drought of last year is about the number that was expected to attend.

To add to the achievement theme of the evening, all those who have won in contests which have been held during the year will be honored. The champions of the different contests held during Farm and Home week will be announced and those that haven't yet received them will be given their prizes. The winners of the Home Talent night program will be announced also. The county which has had the largest attendance this year will be awarded a prize.

Six students who have excelled in the work of their division during the year will be presented by Dean Margaret Justin, dean of the division of home economics. The names of the students who will receive that honor will not be announced until that time.

Archer B. Gilliland, Spearfish, S. Dak., will speak on the subject "Secret Sorrows of a Shepherdster." Pres. F. D. Farrell will be toastmaster.

Investigation By The Collegian Reveals Greeks In Complete Control Of Campus Politics

GLASSWARE ON EXHIBIT

An exhibit of old American glassware has been placed along the west wall of the basement corridor of Calvin hall for the use of the students and guests during Farm and Home Week.

The display includes an old berry bowl and dishes in a form of milk glass, a relish dish and vinegar cruet of hobnail, and an old jam pot and pitcher of pressed glass. These priceless pieces are the property of Mr. and Mrs. H. Prideaux, who have loaned them to the Home Economic Department for this period.

K-State Wrestlers Defeat NU Matmen

Win By Score of 26-6—Get Four Falls and Lose Two Decisions

With a score of 26 to 6 the Kansas State matmen defeated the Nebraska university grapplers last night in Lincoln. The Wildcat wrestlers lost only two matches, and those were in the 118 pound and 165 pound classes by decisions.

Claude Young, 185 pounds, lost to Don Flanick of Nebraska and E. C. Betz, 118 pounds, lost another decision to Jerry Swanson of Nebraska.

The Kansas State men won four of their matches by falls.

The complete results: 118 pounds—Swanson, Nebraska, decision over Betz, Kansas State.

126 pounds—Fansher, Kansas State, won by a fall over Smiley, Nebraska. Time 6:09.

The referee was Allie Morrison of Illinois.

Inspect Division

Microvividarium Will Be Special Feature of Tour of General Science Division

The projection of living microscopic creatures on a large screen will be the feature of the campus tour of the division of general science today from 4 o'clock until 5 o'clock by visitors attending the farm and home week. Student and faculty members are invited.

By means of a clever combination of a projection lantern and a microscope, living images, too small to be seen by the naked eye, will be thrown upon the screen. All visitors will be able to watch the fascinating forms which inhabit a drop of water, and many other ordinarily invisible forms. Prof. C. G. Dobrovolsky of the department of zoology will have charge of this part of the tour.

The microvividarium—as the projecting machine is called—was one of the most startling of the new scientific exhibits at the Chicago World's Fair.

The tour is a part of the farm and home week program now in session. Women who are going on the trip will start from the auditorium, and men from Waters hall. An inspection of the gymnasium, biological laboratories, medical center, printing plant, museum, library, with special emphasis on its murals and painting, military exhibits and the radio station will be included.

Twelve members of Dynamis, an all-school honor organization, will serve as guides on the tour.

HILL FORUM SPEAKER

Prof. Howard T. Hill, head of the public speaking department will address the Student Forum meeting February 13. "The Tenants' House" is the subject Professor Hill gives. In this talk he will discuss problems of war.

Students acquainted with Professor Hill all recommend him as a very able speaker. The meeting will be held at Thompson hall, and begins at 12:20 o'clock.

IN LAST EIGHT YEARS ONLY ONE STUDENT NOT AFFILIATED WITH FRATERNAL SOCIETIES HAS BEEN VOTED TO THE STUDENT COUNCIL

Dominate All Elective Offices

With the Exception of the Editorial Staff of This Semester's Collegian Every Student Elective Office Is Held by a Member of a Fraternity or Sorority—Same Condition Is Found in Other Organizations on Campus

Vivian Albright, Netawoka, a student here several years ago, has a unique record. She was the only independent student who has been elected to the student council since 1927, an investigator for The Collegian discovered recently.

Including the spring elections of 1927, there have been 50 different persons elected to positions on the student council, not counting the several elected at special elections to fill vacancies. Of this number 49 have been members of fraternities or sororities. One—Vivian Albright—was an independent.

At the present time, every member of the student council is a "Greek." Joe Knappenberger, a member of Alpha Gamma Rho, is president of the council. Other members and their affiliations are: Paul Neuschwanger, Phi Kappa Tau; Howard Moreen, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Myra Roth, Alpha Delta Pi; Howard Hudiburg, Phi Kappa Alpha; Henry Kirk, Sigma Phi Epsilon and Louise Ratliff, Delta Delta Delta.

Not only is the student council in the hands of fraternity and sorority members, but almost every other campus organization as well.

The three elective officers of the Royal Purple are Greeks: editor, Spencer Wyant, Sigma Phi Epsilon; business manager, Howard Moreen, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; and secretary-treasurer, Marjorie Shellenberger, Delta Delta Delta.

The Collegian last semester was completely in the hands of organization men. Students close to the journalism department will recall the protest which went up when an independent was elected editor this semester.

The majority of the members of the Wampus Cats and the Purple Peppers are organization students. One independent was selected as a cheerleader this fall.

Even the Y. M. C. A., which on most campuses is an organization run by independents, is dominated by the organizations. Only one or two of the minor offices are held by non-organization men.

The independent girl rarely gets elected a beauty queen. Especially is this true of the Royal Purple beauties, in which the contestants are limited to organized houses—sororities and Van Zile.

An exception to the rule of sorority beauty queens was the selection of Georgianna Avery as Ag queen this year.

All this happens in a student body, by far the smaller part of which belongs to organizations. According to a report carried in the Collegian of December 18, 1934, there were 2,734 students enrolled at Kansas State college on November 1. Of these, only 853 were members of Greek letter organizations. This is less than one-third of the student body.

The fraternities had 576 members on November 1, the sororities 247.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon has the honor of having had the greatest number of members on the student council since 1927. She has had eight members elected to that body.

Sigma Nu, Sigma Phi Epsilon, and Phi Kappa have each placed four students on the council. Alpha Gamma Rho, and Beta Theta Pi each have had three men on the council. Other men representatives on the student council have been from Phi Kappa Tau, Phi Sigma Kappa, Pi Kappa Alpha, Farm House, Delta Tau Delta, Acacia, and Kappa Sigma.

Five members of Alpha Xi Delta have been elected to membership on the student council since 1927. Beta Phi Alpha, now disbanded, Alpha Delta Fi, and Delta Delta Delta have each had two representatives on the council. Chi Omega has had one member elected, and one independent woman has been elected.

Of course, this does not take into account the years before 1927. Time alone prevented the Collegian reporter from carrying his investigation farther back than that.

THE WHY OF THIS INVESTIGATION

It has frequently been asserted that the present editor of The Collegian is "agin all fraternities". The lead story in the right hand column of today's Collegian might be deemed adequate proof of that fact by prejudiced observers. In order to avoid misunderstandings it might be wise if our views upon this issue were clarified.

The editor wishes to state definitely that he is not opposed to all Greek organizations. Fraternities and sororities fulfill a useful and accepted place in college life. As long as their activities are devoted to the social and cultural betterment of their members they serve a valuable purpose. But when the Greek organizations use their organization as a means to obtain the power to dominate all student politics, even though they comprise less than one third of the total population of the school—then fraternities and sororities become detrimental to the student body as a whole.

The investigation The Collegian is at present engaged in was prompted by the frequent rumors of questionable doings in the political affairs of this school. This fact coupled with the almost complete absence of independents in student elective offices seems to give basis to the rumors that there is something wrong on this campus. We intend to find out just what the trouble is.

INTERESTING, BUT...

The results of the college peace poll conducted by the Association of College Editors and the Literary Digest are interesting and informative but hardly significant. However, it serves a valuable purpose by revealing certain fallacies that seem to be generally held by college students as a whole.

Particularly is this true of the question asking students whether or not they would fight in a war of aggression. Over 81 per cent answered in the negative. How misleading this question really is, is obvious when you answer the question—When has the United States or any other nation admittedly fought a war of aggression? Seldom if ever is plainly the answer. Whether a war is defensive or not is something difficult for even historians to decide. And it is interesting to wonder just what will happen when the United States becomes involved in an international crisis and the Hearst press begins to scream for war in three-inch headlines, the Gibbons and the Thomases get sentimentally patriotic over the radio, the motion pictures produce more of the "Fall of a Nation" type, and the rest of the country's propaganda machine gets into action. How many of the college youth of the land will stop to analyze whether or not the proposed war is a defensive one. The logical guess would be—few.

The most encouraging results of the whole poll is the favorable attitude of college students toward joining the League of Nations. Although the majority favoring the League is slim it shows that perhaps we are beginning to lose faith in the old fetish of national isolation and are beginning to realize that the possibility of avoiding entangling alliances disappeared with the growth of the modern industrial world.

Because of the recent congressional investigations of the munitions industries and their startling revelations the vote favoring control of munitions and armaments industries came as no surprise. The crimes perpetrated by the munitions industries indicate the greatest need for the reformation of that group. It is essential if world peace is to be insured that strong measures be taken to prevent the repetition of those crimes. All of which leads to the question of whether or not governmental control of munitions and the other "take the profit out of war" proposals now under consideration would really be effective. Throughout most of the history of the United States the control of the country has been in the hands of the capitalists—the class that stands to profit most from war conditions. Because of the control of the government by that class, it is hardly to be expected that they will actively support laws designed to regulate and limit their own activities.

In the final analysis, profits can never be taken out of war without a fundamental reorganization of the economic structure of the country that will eliminate excessive profits by an undeserving few.

A gossip is one who talks to you about others; a bore is one who talks about himself; a brilliant conversationalist is one who talks to you about yourself.—Atlantic Journal.

IT IS RUMORED—

It is rumored that there will be organized on this campus a student League for Industrial Democracy, such as has already been organized on many American campuses.

We venture to say that such an organization would not be out of place on this campus, especially since so many students are so woefully ignorant of the vital problems of today.

The Snooper

Solemn and awful were the warnings phoned us by "The Hand" because of our allegedly unscrupulous (must be a profit) remarks printed not longer than last Tuesday. Our life is endangered and we have raised the salary of our bodyguard one palooka!

"The Toe" (with a corn on the right side) has also been threatening us with extinction. You can't fool us, Leland J., you just want some canned publicity!

Jarrett, Dickie to you, has only three hours off the hill a week according to his assignment and yet he retains his title of Canteen's Champ Coker. Of course, an uncle on the faculty has no connection with those cut privileges.

Must Mary Blackman schnozzle poetry aloud in the Canteen day by day and hour by hour?

"Fossils to Chicago" says The Collegian. Why not give the names of those English profs? We don't want the geology department to get too much credit.

Psychic Photography: Collegian reporters—and staff—had their pictures taken yesterday AT WORK.

WHO is the Hand?

Mark Kannal admits to a dull existence since final week but says—oh, so cooly—"Wait 'til Saturday and will I yip and yell!" Mark, don't you know the Sigma Nus want a chance that night?

Though Marjorie Blake, Oklahoma's gift to the hair-dye industry, fears she'll be Jane Harmon II, the fellows are saying she doesn't have what it takes. And by now, it seems to us, they should know—they should know!

Who is the Hand?

And there's a smart young fellow in journalism that we're going to tell on unless he stops carrying mush poems in his books.

Jaccard is fancying a formal fin-wave for the mustily mad McComb this Sunday next. Aside from a pitiful PIKA or two and perhaps a tittery Tri D we can decide on no guest list at all. Ohme!

Wassberg—woe to wan women—ALMOST took two gals out to dine on hamburgs and such Thursday night but his big heart failed him—as usual. We'd like to see him come through just once. Boy, what a show!

Marion county reaches a new low with our discovery that Rickety Riggs, beloved ATO agony, hails from there too. That TOO being aimed at a certain sickening Sigma Nu sucker.

Who is THE Hand?

Winifred Wolf (the shame of a Y. W. prexy making this col!) plans her marriage for the front of a garage. That's so her mother can perch on the roof, we hear, and sob down a gutter. To think that someone MIGHT gutter-club must be gratifying!

Since the ex-snoop feels that snooping went out when he did we hope he doesn't mind our mentioning that Sig Alph pin on Derby.

We've been waiting all year for that Pi Phi Black (they went into mourning when they got her) to come through. She, along with a sister not, boarded the I. O. O. F. bus Tuesday last instead of the college cracker box and wondered why the merriment!

For the last time—who is the HAND? We're all a-twit and this twat we writ with twet. There—see what its done to us all ready!! What'll we be in a week—wii—week. Well, anyway—ohdearohme!

Hard Work On Book

Staff Hopes To Send 12 Pages of Royal Purple Copy By March 1

The Royal Purple staff have been working intensively the past week on copy for the 1935 book, hoping to have 120 pages in the hands of the printer by March 1.

The deadline for taking pictures for the book was Wednesday, but anyone wishing extra glossies to appear in organization pictures may have them made from their original pictures, according to Spencer Wyant, editor of the book.

Organizations with new pledges for the second semester whose names have not been turned in should see Barbara Claassen, fraternity and sorority editor, immediately.

A number of books have been sold recently. Anyone wishing to purchase their book should get their receipt in the Royal Purple office in Anderson hall now.

Members of the staff working on copy for the book under the direction of the editor and C. J. Medlin, graduate manager of publications, include, Barbara Claassen, fraternity and sorority sections; Louise Ratliff, administration; Frank Shideler, humor; Richard Haggman, military; Dan Partner, sports; Jack McClung, general organizations; and George Hart, features section.

There is still room in the book for choice snapshots of individuals, activities, campus life, views, or groups.

A Lincoln program will be the special feature of the Freshman Commission meeting Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Louise Ross of Wamego will give a book review, and Miss Ruth Haines will discuss inter-racial problems. Roberta Rust of Manhattan will give a reading. There will also be special music and dancing.

Last Minute Plays
Of Game Over Air

Final Plays of Nebraska-Kansas State Football Game to End Founder's Day Broadcast

The last minute play of the Nebraska-Kansas State Big Six Championship football game will furnish the dramatic conclusion for the founder's day broadcast over the NBC blue network, Saturday, February 16 at 7:30 to 8 o'clock, central standard time. Mike Ahearn, director of athletics, will be on the air for thirty seconds.

As the result of the interest and cooperation shown by alumni several broadcasting stations have notified the alumni secretary, Kenney L. Ford and L. L. Longsdorf, college station director, that they will use the founder's day program. These are KWCR in Cedar Rapids, Iowa; W8XK, a short wave station complementary to KDKA in Pittsburgh, Pa.; KGAR in Cleveland; and WKBF in Indianapolis.

The cast for the broadcast have not been fully decided upon, according to H. Miles Heber, assistant professor of public speaking, who is in charge of the program. The dramatic episodes require 40 characters although there will be a duplication of parts in order to reduce the number of people needed. About 60 people will take part in the whole broadcast.

This program, according to L. L. Longsdorf, station director, will not be of the conventional type and will include only one speech. This will be given by Pres. F. D. Farrell in extending greetings to friends.

A LESSON IN HIGH FINANCE

—Question—

How can I see the 3 best pictures of the year "Lives of a Bengal Lancer", "Imitation of Life" and "The Last Gentleman" all the same week, out of my amusement allowance?

Answer

Will admit you to all 3 if you buy your tickets before 7:00. Dickin-son-Wareham.

former students, and more than 10,000 graduates.

Piano music by Professor Stratton, assistant professor of music. Violin music, with college yells and college songs will be included in the entertainment.

Incidents concerning each division of the college will be dramatized beginning with the founding of the school. Many will be humorous; but all portray important developments in fields of engineering, agriculture, home economics, the arts and sciences, or student life at Kansas State.

'Coop' Plan Grows

More Than 160 Students Now Participate In Money-Saving Meal Plan

More than 160 college students are assuring themselves of nutritious food at reasonable cost by participating in the cooperative meal plan at the college cafeteria. This plan allows students to buy a ticket for 68 meals for $9.00 and an average of 12 hours work each month in the cafeteria. There are about 50 more vacancies, according to Miss Sina Faye Fowler, director.

This is the fourth semester for the "Coop" plan, and it is proving popular and highly successful. Mrs. Bessie Brooks West, head of the department of institutional economics and coincidentally head of the cafeteria is enthusiastic about it.

"I like it," she smiled. And we feel that we have answered a campus need by giving students wholesome, balanced meals at very reasonable cost."

Mrs. West stated that the cooperative plan was a progressive idea worked out by the personnel of the department.

Renew Rivalry With Missouri Tigers Tonight

ROOT WILL HAVE FULL SQUAD IN CONDITION FOR GAME

A Two-Game Series

Groves, Freeland, Thornbrough or Gilpin, Stoner, and Railsback Expected to Start

Coach Frank P. Root and nine men left at 3:00 yesterday afternoon for Kansas City where they will spend the night on their way to Columbia, Mo., to renew their rivalry with the University of Missouri basketball team tonight.

The men taken on the trip are: Center: Groves. Forwards: Freeland, Gilpin, Allison, Thornbrough, and Telljohn. Guards: Stoner, Railsback, and Mills.

Although the Aggies defeated Missouri twice last week in games here, Missouri has hopes of changing the story when the Aggies go to Columbia. The Tigers, victorious in a 23-21 upset of the University of Nebraska Cornhuskers last week, are always hard to beat on their home court.

Coach Root put his men through a light workout yesterday before leaving for Missouri. Several different combinations were used in the light scrimmage which the team went through with. Root expects to have the team at full strength for the game tonight. Both Lee Railsback and Wayne Thornbrough were practicing yesterday. Railsback has been troubled with a charleyhorse, suffered in the Missouri game here last Saturday. Thornbrough has been ill with a cold but has sufficiently recovered to play.

According to Root the starting lineup will be little changed. Probably Groves at center, Thornbrough or Gilpin and Freeland at forwards, and Captain Oren Stoner and Lee Railsback at the guard positions.

Select Team For K.U. Meet

Tryouts For Indoor Track Meet Last Saturday—Roehman Jumps 6 Feet 1 1/2 Inches

Tryouts for the K. U. indoor track meet February 9, at Lawrence were held Saturday afternoon. A high jump by Roehman of 6 feet 1 1/2 inches was one of the best results of the tryouts.

Roehman, an old track man, was unable to compete much last year because of a leg injury.

Three additional track men have reported for track practice—The most prominent of these is Robert Jensen, a letter man in the 440 last year. He will not compete in the indoor meets because the sharp curves of the track aggravate an old foot injury. Virgil Unruh, a squad man two years ago will compete in the broadjump. Max Nixon of last year's squad is back in school after a semester lay-off and will train for the two mile event.

The results of the tryouts are: 440—First, Nixon, Second, Rooks, third, Peters, fourth Sweat. Time 54.4.

60 yard dash—First, Knappenberger; second, Hall; time 6.5.

60 yard low hurdle—First, Knappenberger; second, Steel and Kirk tied; time 7.2.

60 high hurdle—First, Knappenberger; second, Kirk and Steele; time 7.7.

880—First O'Reilly; Second, Dill; third, Eberhart; time, 3 minutes, 1 sec.

One mile, First, Wheelock; second, Redfield; third, Messick; time, 4 minutes 42 sec.

Two mile, first, Robinson; second, McCollm.

Broad jump, Edwards, 20 feet, 10 inches.

High jump, Roehman 6 feet 1 1/2 inches.

Shot put, first, Bell; second, Hays; distance, 42 feet.

Tryouts in the field events and the mile relay team will be held this afternoon.

The dope sheet shows that the K. U. team is strong this year and will be defending the championship in both the indoor and outdoor sport.

The Sports-Eye

by Dan Partner

Fans throughout the Valley, with the exception of loyal Jayhawkers, will be pulling for Iowa State when they take on the champions of Phog Allen in Lawrence Saturday night. Not because they don't like the coach or the players but because they like to see the champions fall. Nebraska fell at Lincoln last Thanksgiving and it was a boon to Big Six football. The Cyclones are less than a game behind the leaders and a win tomorrow night would be very much to their advantage.

After two more games with the Missouri Tigers the men of Coach Root should know the Edwards style of play pretty well, and (if the two games at Columbia are like the ones played here) the players should know each others family history. From some of the remarks heard on the floor last Saturday the boys are fairly well acquainted already.

Gene Venzke, who usually chases Cunningham and Bonthron in the distance runs, supplied the thrill of the evening at the Millrose games last week and had most of the crowd of 16,000 and the radio audience pulling for him as he beat the Princeton flash and just allowed the ex-Jayhawk to beat him to the tape. February 16 the famous trio will meet again in the Baxter mile, feature of the New York Athletic Club meet and Cunningham is rated the favorite as the result of his 4:11 mile last week. . . . But its Princeton Bill's time to win and Venzke is tiring of running third or fourth so the race promises plenty of thrills for the fans.

Another Kansas, Elton Brown, from the Pittsburg State Teachers college, is running his way into the headlines in the eastern meets. He has scored two easy victories and will meet Charles Hornbostel, the University of Indiana runner who broke the world indoor 600-meter last Saturday, in a half mile race in the New York Athletic Club games.

They are having quite a rumpus down Oklahoma way over Master Orville Matthews, high school track star, because he has been considering entering some big university out in sunny California. He has been criticized for even considering leaving his home state to be star athlete in college. To which we say, "hokey". We'd much rather see him on the student directory at O. U. but he can't be blamed if the Pacific coast rules regarding athletes are not as strict as those employed by the Big Six conference. . . . Regardless of where he matriculates we'll probably be hearing of him as soon as his eligibility starts. . . . We read of Oklahoma Aggies losing a star athlete, Bob Demaree, Oklahoma state high school champ for two years and a member of Tulsa high school's basketball team. Demaree transferred to Missouri university after attending the Stillwater school last semester. . . .

Dizzy Dean comes through. After disappointing his public by quietly signing his 1935 contract, the Dizzy One announces that he wants $25,000 to win another pennant for the Cards. . . . and prospects are bright for another Dean Brothers strike.

If Kansas State doesn't beat the Jayhawks from Kansas university this season they can at least be proud of the fact that their 37 points scored against the champs is the largest score that Coach "Phog" Allen's cagers have allowed in three years. . . . in either conference or non-conference games. . . .

Boxing Meet Here

Kansas State boxers Working Out For Meet With Missouri Monday Night

Kansas State boxers are whipping into shape for the meet against the University of Missouri Monday night, February 11, here. Tryouts were staged during the early part of this week, each bout consisted of three, two minute rounds.

The following men have been selected in their weight: Pyles in the 118 pound class, Sherer in the 126 pound class by defeating Lake. Garrison in the 136 pound class, Madison in the 145 pound class by defeating Lowery. Thomas in the 155 pound class by defeating Hemphill. Crawley 165 pound class will be unable to compete against Missouri because of his freshman standing. As yet no man has been picked to replace him. Crawley was one of the two men to win in the St. Benedict fight.

Missouri will meet St. Benedict Tuesday night at Atchison.

WRESTLERS TO AMES

The Kansas State wrestling squad will journey to Ames today for the wrestling matches scheduled with the Cyclones of Iowa State tomorrow night.

The Cyclone mat team have competed in only one match so far this season, losing to Oklahoma University by a score of 38 to 1 1-2. The Sooners also beat the K-State matmen 25 to 5, Jessup getting a forfeit from the Sooner Captain to provide the Aggies with their points. The Kansas State wrestling team has also lost a close match to the University of Missouri by a score of 18 1-2 to 16 1-2 and a match to the Southwestern Teachers of Oklahoma, 30 to 0. The latter match is the only one this season in which the K-State matmen have been blanked.

This'n' That

Hurrah! Huzza! Nuts! and other exclamations of joy, bewilderment, and chagrin. With two female columnists turned loose (begging your pardon Miss Snooper) on the unsuspecting Collegian subscribers, dirt should be plentiful—and putrid—and so it may be, but not so's the "This'n' That-er" can notice. Either finals, flunkings, and future flops are preying on our "social butterflies" and "get-arounders" minds so that they don't venture into reckless escapades or else they are getting more adept at keeping all choice dirt to themselves. Probably the latter.

This weekend, however, promises to be a wow on the Alpha Delt and Sigma Nu social calendar what with the annual (of course they couldn't afford to have it last year, but they still brag that it is annual) jig coming off tomorrow night. Plans are being made to enlarge the corners of the ballroom to accommodate those ambitious trippers, but the chapter has promised that they will have enough stags to fill up the rest of the hall. This sounds suspiciously like a dupe to get the gals—other than the ADPI's—to come to the party, but maybe I'm wrong.

Among other fallacies is the so-called Freshman-Sophomore Hop. Although the respective presidents of the two aforementioned classes knew nothing about the affair until they read the posters, it plans to be, as advertised, one of the big all-school rat races of the year—or at least the week. Pee Wee's hungry eleven after an involuntary vacation with nothing to do but practice etc., etc., admit that they'll be in fine shape. Thank Gawd they haven't made any promises about Kaeser entertainment, or he might try to do it.

Speaking of Kaeser reminds us of what he did last week to put the Pi Phi on the map (we're only assuming that they are). After being permitted to answer the phone, he whiny-ed into the mouthpiece,

"Rebecca Home for the Feeble Minded."

The suggestion brought up in the state legislature to put a twenty cent tax on pale beer has caused no end of concern among campus big shots—and again we don't mean you, Wassberg. Twenty cents would put a stop to more than one of these would-be heavy drinkers, but then who would object to that.

And in passing we render a remark to the Betas. . . Boys, you better have your fun now cause there will be other parties later on, you know. And as I've said before—the only girls that aren't fickle are those that have never had the chance.

'Y' Student Forum Meets In Cafeteria

Miss Ruth Atwood Discusses Canning At First Meeting Of Spring Forums

The first student "Y" forum of the spring series was held Wednesday noon in the cafeteria. Miss Ruth Atwood, Director of Home Economics in the National Canners Association, Washington, D. C., spoke on the subject "A relation of industrial research to the consumer's problem."

Miss Atwood spoke in place of Miss Connie Bonelagie, Arkansas home demonstration leader, who was unable to be here.

Out of town guests participating in Farm and Home week found the talk especially interesting. Every community should have the privilege of a consumer education, according to Miss Atwood. This is the problem in which the association is intensely interested. Seventy-five per cent of all the canners belong to this association, whose aim is to make canned foods better.

Primarily, agricultural research made available to the farmers necessary information for raising crops. Some canners furnish seed for the farmers or own their own farms, she stated.

Laboratories in San Francisco, Seattle, and Washington, D. C., and grants at the University of Chicago and Columbia, Calif., carry on extensive research. The research on the tin can came first, with a study of its composition and the endeavor to make it more substantial. "The dull gold lining in cans of vegetables was perfected by our laboratories," says Miss Atwood. A bright enamel lining is being used to enable bright colored fruits to retain their color.

Miss Atwood tells us it is not dangerous to leave food in the can after opened, provided the food is treated as any other cooked food. Very frequently the question is asked, "Does the high temperature of processing affect the vitamin content of foods?" Miss Atwood explained that in the process of canning, by using exceedingly high temperatures and by proper sealing, all air possible is driven from the can and a partial vacuum is formed. This prevents bulging of the can when sent to states of different temperatures. Bulging to most people signifies spoilage. By cooking in the absence of air no vitamin is lost, instead, the highest percentage possible is retained. To prove the point, Miss Atwood reminds us that men on the Byrd expedition, after living almost entirely from canned foods for many months, returned in perfect health. Thus, canned foods supplied all the essentials.

The next student forum will be held Feb. 13 in the cafeteria. Dr. H. T. Hill will be the speaker.

ON HUEY LONG

Nothing is more ridiculous than a would-be this-and-that who tries to force upon a people some pet scheme of his merely to fulfill his ambitions—and does so ignorantly, without taking account of the nature of the people with whom he has to deal. Would-be Dictator Huey Long is just such a person.

His antics have made him the laughing stock of the nation; cartoonists belittle him, editorial writers laugh at him, Louisiana college students pour out their anger at his efforts to censor their press in their editorial columns, and the Square-Dealers of Louisiana rise in arms against this self-swollen figure, who evidently has read that Italy, Russia, and a few of the other European countries are living under a dictatorship and childishly has attempted to imitate.

This would-be dictator of the country of Louisiana may have the governor, the legislature, and most of the higher-uppers thoroughly cowed but he most certainly cannot frighten the freedom-loving people of that state. We prophesy that he is bound for a sad, a very sad disillusionment—like the bad little bully in the grade school reader.

Huey Long should have been born several centuries ago—in the Middle Ages—then he might possibly have been able to venture forth, clad in his knightly armor, and conquer some far off kingdom where he could rule happily ever after without having the good people of his domain rebel against his rule.

And to make things worse, at least for the people of Kansas, the state house of representatives has asked Long to address it. Perhaps they did this only to get a chance to see with their own eyes what manner of man this is. Who can tell the dark and secret processes of a representative's mind?

At any rate we can say that we thoroughly understand the action of the two state senators who sent messages of apology to the president, concerning the representatives' action.

WHY "PASS THE BUCK"?

In passing the Skovgard-McDonald measure making military training compulsory for all freshmen and sophomore students at Kansas State college, the legislature has accepted a responsibility that they should have never assumed. The ROTC dispute on this campus was a controversy between the administration and a student organization. It grew to such magnitude that even the Board of Regents declined to accept the issue and it was passed on to the state legislature—clearly, a form of "passing the buck".

By bringing the compulsory military training argument into the state legislature the element of politics was introduced into a question that should be decided wholly on the basis of the moral issues involved. Obviously the average senator or representative will base his decisions concerning this question solely on political considerations—the effect his actions will have on the voters who elect him. And surely small town politics has no place in this controversy into which question concerning freedom of speech and action have been implicated.

The hope of many that Governor Landon's signature on the Skovgard-McDonald will end the pacifist disturbance in all likelihood has no foundation. Kansas State is not the only college in the United States where the pacifist-ROTC dispute has waxed hot. In nearly every land grant university in the country the question has been raised and argued pro and con. Organizations like the League for Industrial Democracy and the National Student's League have given the dispute a national character. In addition to these collegiate organizations nearly every church denomination in the state has gone on record as being opposed to compulsory military training, and powerful peace groups operating throughout Kansas have taken up the question in favor of the pacifists. It is probable that every legislature following the present one will find this same problem raised again and again, and that each will sincerely wish that the question had been left as it rightfully should be, to the administration of this college and its students.

The Snooper

Farm and Hog Week with its Beta Pig dinner brings a rural touch to our campus in the near future. Those silver loving cups (fine for ash trays!) have lots of yals looking at the Sunset pledges with a new eye.

"The Hand" has been phoning again. But we have us a bullet proof vest now so we're just telling him to go wave himself a good time.

That guilty Sigma Nu conscience is working overtime. The boys have hired "The Duke" pro rata to phone us dire threats of this and that. They are extremely fair about it we must admit—we have been given our choice of any dirty story we know to be spread about us if we don't "hush" about them!

Ralph Olin's penance for the limelight was given "full" play Saturday night. His only mistake was in thinking a street light would do.

The Alpha Delta-Sigma Nu tilt is but a thing of the past. It'll be a blow to some Sigma Nu's to see the Deltas become "belles-of-the-booths" this week—Saturday brings the Delt Drag, you know.

We've heard that old story of the drunk with one foot on the curb and one in the gutter but we never hoped to see it happen. But there he was—big as life—at the Wareham Friday. His expression, we might say, had the least touch of bewilderment.

Remember our wondering about the ex-Snoop's sensitivity? Well, he's got plenty. But that the boy's feelings could be wounded is something of a surprise.

ADPhi's are hand-holding in church these days. Is that as significant as the six Tri Delt hope chests?

The Skaggs may not wear frat pins but they certainly have that Grecian profile.

Seen at Friday's Soft-fresh hop: Lloyd Smith carefully parking cig. butts 'tween dances.

Football may be a bit out of season but some Philpi hillights of former years didn't find it so Saturday night, third floor, Wareham.

'Tis said that Jerry Winters and Betty Jones have formed a merger. The ceremony was a one o'clock in the morning (Saturday) affair.

Lifted from the Ohio State Lantern: "At the University of Alabama a coke is a 'dope'. At Kansas State those who drink them are 'dopes'. Here, a 'dope' is a 'dope'."

Ward Shurts brought his activity ticket along to the ChiO stand-up supper Sunday. It might have been classed as an all-school affair at that.

It was two o'clock Sunday morning when Gilligan started looking for a ride to the Sigma Nu throw. Which is our idea of the proper time to go to one of those things anyway!

Confession is good for the soul—so the PIPhis ought to feel swell. Realizing their Ag Orpheum stunt to be awful they already have a Hedges number trying to bribe Burk for first place. With a bottle of pale, no doubt!

Cart-before-the-horse seems to be Danny Partner's method. After telling all about his late date as early as 11:30 Friday night he was heard still calling for a gal who might consent at 2:30 in the morning Saturday. Personality plus sure get you places!

DuRand gets this week's genuine orchid. He lasted a whole semester—the Canteen and Alpha Delt activities are as yet unabated however.

A psychology professor at Oregon State says that profs give A's to students who are meek and submissive and whose ideas they can easily mold, and that independent and defiant students get B's and C's. Another one to try on Dad.

MARJORIE BLAKE STOOD UP! We told you so! (For those who want to know it was Sunday evening.)

As we were about to go to press the "Hand" sent us warning to cease reference to him or we will be hung by an ear from the second story of Anderson. And we always preferred, the third. (So says the "Duke"—and he should know! He says so!)

We fear we cannot print the name of the one whose favorite story this is, but we can pass it on to you. "Little Audrey just left and left until the room was empty!" We don't think it's funny either!

A Resister Explains Why He Refuses to Take ROTC

daily expounded by bull-headed army instructors (some of whom have attended college for the first time in their lives in that position). Can it be possible that these men, who are so far behind the times, can still maintain that they are authorities on both international history and military tactics?

For the sake of clarity and brevity I shall outline the most outstanding arguments against this imperialistic farce:

I. Morally unprincipled.

(1) The constitutions of the United States and the state of Kansas flatly declare that every inhabitant of the country shall have the power to adhere to principles of religion of his own choosing. Furthermore, they both declare the illegality of conscription,—of being forced to bear arms in any manner during times of peace. It is unconstitutional.

(2) This branch of militarism has been denounced within the last five years by every church body of any importance in the United States. It is contrary to the tenets of all religions.

(3) The officials of the army of the United States of America (the United States is reputedly a democratic republic) dare to call socialists, pacifists, and communists "destroyers of our government," "uncontrolled killers," and "menaces to the common peace and liberty"; while behind the back of the citizen, in the War Department Manual of "Citizenship" prepared to guide military instructors, they define democracy as follows:

"Democracy. Government of the masses. Authority derived through mass meeting or any other form of 'direct' expression. Results in mobocracy. Attitude toward property is communistic — negating property rights. Attitude toward law is that the will of the majority shall regulate, whether it be based upon deliberation or governed passion, prejudice, and impulse, without restraint or regard to consequences. Results in demagogism, license, agitation, discontent, anarchy."

Why do military men so describe democracy? The answer is simple. Military men are imbued with delusions of power and lust. In Japan they have succeeded in reaching the top of the governing machine. In the United States they are seeking their place in the sun.

(4) The attitude that military training is such fine moral and mental discipline is false. One is taught to obey blindly and without reason certain definite commands. Self-control and judgment are, in any intensely militarized groups, appallingly lacking. Only look at the tragedies committed when soldiers or sailors have furloughs, rape, drunken orgies, and brawls of all kinds are prevalent. The astounding crimes committed in Germany within the last few months by Storm Troopers and other like bodies tell their own tale.

II. Economically Unjustifiable.

(1) It is supposed to prepare officers and semi-experienced men for immediate service in case of emergency. The methods used in teaching, and the subject as it is taught are totally useless for securing this result. No methods of self-protection in case of hand-to-hand combat are presented. No methods of modern anti-aircraft technique are taught. No international relations are discussed except in terms of grievances and imperialistic lusts. No extensive methods of first-aid are exhibited. No methods of prevention of social diseases are shown (these are, incidentally, one of the greatest dangers to well-being in any group of men quartered together). Then what knowledge is acquired by the student forced to take part? None whatever of a helpful, constructive nature.

From the standpoint of logic, the promised gains are bluffs. The purpose of compulsory military training is to instill the glory of war into the impressionable minds of youths in order that the "higher-ups" may have a fresh batch of wooden soldiers to march around on maps during the next war.

"If my humble opinion is of any value to you, permit me to suggest that if a change is contemplated you should endeavor to have a thorough course of gymnastic training substituted—a course varied enough to interest American youth, who, as you are aware, possess a temperament peculiarly his own; he is easily bored, and monotonous drills soon lose favor with him. This, however, is a characteristic which I have always admired, and which I have never lost sight of in my work here."

"A thorough physical training develops all the soldierly qualities to the greatest degree, and it does it without injury. If we have athletes we shall never be without soldiers!"

The late Lieut. Col. Koehler was probably the greatest authority on physical training in the United States army has ever produced. His system is the foundation of our modern system in the public schools both here and abroad.

Thus one's expected benefit in physical training must vanish.

(3) A very small per cent of cadets is allowed to take the advanced military science classes; the results desired seemingly achieved in the two years of elementary training. Why is this? Has the youth been equipped to go out and meet the foe in an efficient manner? Or perchance, an attitude has been imparted which tears out his sense of reason and renders him vulnerable to the lies and promises of war. What little knowledge one would assimilate in that brief period, is equal to two months in a training camp (military estimate). Will not the cadet have forgotten in two to five years nearly all he has learned, little though it be, and retain only the mental attitude desired by the war chiefs?

(4) Then if three or four hundred thousand dollars are spent annually on KSC's military division with no benefit resulting to the federal government, what is the advantage to be derived by the student? It would seem to be a colossal waste of his time and energy.

Now we see there is no practical reason (except a subversive one), although there is profit to officers and certain other well known individuals. It is a "frame-up" wrought by greedy racketeers bedecked in gold braid and medals.

Robert Merrell

Grapplers Lose To Iowa State

A Winning Final Match Would Have Given Kansas State A Victory

The Kansas State matmen lost a close dual meet to the Iowa State Cyclones at Ames, Iowa, last Saturday by a score of 15 1-2 to 10 1-2.

The two teams were so evenly matched that a win in the final match of the evening would have given the Wildcats a victory. However, Dave Mathews held the upper hand throughout his match with Rolla Holland, K-State heavyweight, to give him the decision and make Iowa State the winner.

Forest Fansher, 126 pounder for the Aggies, wrestled to a draw with Keith Cranston, an outstanding Cyclone sophomore grappler. After losing the 118 and 135 pound classes the K-State men took three matches in a row. Ernest Jessup, 145 pounder won a decision from Frank Linn, a brother to Hugh Linn who is a former Cyclone champion; "Gene" Howe, 155 pounder, won a decision from Leonard Wilson, a regular in the 145 pound class last year for the Cyclones; and Claude Young, the 165 pound man, won by a decision from Jack Taylor, a new man to the Cyclone squad this year.

Marshall Thayer, who placed third in the National A. A. U. meet last year in the 175 pound class, showed great style in winning by a fall over Dean Swift, the Aggie 175 pounder. Swift was pinned with a front grapevine hold.

The results of the meet are as follows:

126—Fansher, K-State, went to a draw with Cranston, Iowa State.

135—Walters, K-State, lost a decision to Smith, Iowa State.

145—Jessup, K-State, won a decision from Linn, Iowa State.

155—Howe, K-State, won a decision from Wilson, Iowa State.

165—Young, K-State, won a decision from Taylor, Iowa State.

175—Thayer, Iowa State, won by a fall from Swift, K-State.

Heavyweight—Mathews, Iowa State, won a decision from Holland, K-State.

Break Tank Records

W. F. A. C. Sets New Marks in Intramural Swimming Meet Last Week

Two new records were set by the W. F. A. C. team in the intramural swimming meet held last week in Nichols gymnasium. A new record of 1 minute 25 2-5 seconds was created in the medley and a new time of 1 minute 37 2-5 seconds in the 100 yard free style relay was established by the same team with the addition of one other man.

Pattison, Conwell, Hotchkiss, and Ward were the members of the W. F. A. C. team. Conwell did not take part in the medley relay.

W. F. A. C. annexed the team trophy with a total of 52 1-3 competitive and participation points.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon placed second with 38, and Pi Kappa Alpha nosed out Beta Theta Pi for third place 33 2-3 to 33 1-2.

Intramural wrestling will start next Monday but entries must be in by Saturday. A change has been made in the wrestling rules this year. All men must weigh in before each match instead of only once for the whole meet.

All men interested in forming independent teams for volleyball get in touch with the intramural office. Volleyball will start Feb. 27.

Drawings for handball will be made today and posted tomorrow.

Wildcats Break Old Varsity Marks in the Quarter, Half, and Two Mile Races

Kansas State defeated K. U. 68½ to 35½ in the first indoor track meet of the season for the schools. The Wildcats placed first in seven out of twelve events, and established new varsity records in the quarter mile, half mile and two mile races.

O'Reilly covered the 880-yard run in 2:00.1. The old record was 2:01. Nixon stepped the 440 in 53.3. The old mark was 54 seconds.

In the 2-mile race three Wildcats tied to set the record of 9:54.5. Kansas State men so outdistanced Kansas in the mile and 2-mile runs that it was possible for the leaders to pause and wait for mates for a blanket finish.

Knappenger tied the varsity record for the low hurdles, held jointly by himself and Smoots. Elwyn Dees, of Kansas, heaved the shot put for a record push of 47 feet 7¾ inches.

Coach Ward Haylett is well pleased with the outcome of the meet. "All of the team performed very well," he said, "and I am especially pleased with the performances of the sophomores. Several of them came through better than I expected."

In spite of the victory over K. U. it was a serious minded squad out for practice yesterday afternoon. Coach Ward Haylett and his tracksters are anxious to continue their winning campaign at Nebraska, this Saturday.

According to comparative performances, the Huskers and the Wildcats should split the first places with six apiece, the Coach said. The outcome of the meet will probably depend on the second and third placings.

The Kansas State team is weak in the field events, according to Coach Haylett. He urges all eligible men with ambitions and abilities along those lines to come out for practice.

The summary:
60-yard dash—Won by Knappenger, Kansas State; second, Jensen; Kansas State; third, Pitts, Kansas. Time 6-10.

Lose Two Games To M. U. Tigers

Wildcats Drop to Fifth in Conference—Freeland Spurns Ankle in First Game

The Missouri Tigers avenged the double triumph the Wildcats scored over them in Manhattan a week ago by sweeping the Columbia series with the Wildcats last weekend, 44 to 31 and 34 to 20.

The double victory shoved the Missourians from last to fourth place in the Big Six standings and ran their comeback effort into the third straight victory.

The Tiger basketball team shoved Nebraska into the cellar position by trouncing the K-Staters last Friday night, 44 to 31. The Wildcats took an early lead, 10 to 4, but midway in the first half Missouri found itself and swept into a 23 to 17 advantage at the half. Had Kansas State made a reasonable amount of their shots during that half, it would have been able to keep a fair-sized lead over the Tigers but the basket-ers could not connect.

Jim Freeland, Wildcat forward, was forced to leave the game midway in the last half because of an ankle injury and did not play in Saturday night's game. Freeland shared the Kansas State scoring honors with Groves, each getting four field goals for eight points. Captain Kenneth Jorgenson was high man for the Missourians with 15 points. The Wildcats were outscored 18 to 15 in baskets and were thoroughly outclassed at the charity lane. They made one charity toss out of six fouls, while the Tigers scored 8 out of 13.

Saturday night, The Missouri basket-ers presented such a tight defense that Kansas State was forced into a wild long shot attack which was ineffective after the first few minutes of play.

Missouri took a 10 to 3 advantage shortly after the game had started, but Groves soon afterwards dropped in two buckets to cut the Missouri lead to two points, 11 to 9.

The Tigers, however, held the advantage all the way and were in front 17 to 12 at the half.

Lacking the services of "Long Jim" the State team was crippled on offense despite the expert individual work of Thornbrough and Groves.

Thornbrough was high point man for K-State with six points. Darman Henderson, Tiger center, walked away with the scoring honors for the evening with 13 points, a large share of them gathered from tipped in rebounds.

A last-half rally by the Wildcats was a sorry failure and the Tiger defense tightened up and allowed State only one point in the last five minutes.

As a result of the double defeat of the Kansas Staters, they were shoved down into fifth position in the conference standings, with only Nebraska below them.

Big things are in store for the members of the 1935 Kansas State wrestling and boxing teams if the plans of Coach B. R. Patterson turn out as expected. Meets with Lehigh university and the Navy lack only the signatures of the athletic officials of the two schools and negotiations are being made with such schools as Indiana university, Columbia, and Louisiana State.

Prospects are brighter for a Wildcat victory over Kansas university swimmers tonight with the announcement that the Jayhawkers will forfeit the fancy diving event because of the lack of an available contestant. The forfeit assures Kansas State of five points in the event and prevents Kansas from scoring at least four points in case they had entered men and ranked them second and third.

KRAITZER SIGNS WITH DETROIT
Duane Kraitzer, Salina, second baseman on the Kansas State baseball team and a member of the Salina Ban Johnson league team last year, has signed a contract to play professional baseball with the Detroit Tigers, champions of the American League.

Kraitzer was declared ineligible for the coming season by the Big Six athletic board because of having played a post season game as a member of the Salina team against the Kansas City Ban Johnson team after college was officially opened.

It does seem a shame that so many of our would-be prominent co-eds have had to resort to knitting and establishing "settin" societies to relieve the boredom of this mad college life we have heard about.

Things have begun to pick up a little since last week however. The Sigma Nu belly-rub proved to be a boon to humanity (even after the lousy things we said about it last week) with the three bouncing balls, Lutz, Olin, and Haynes, doing things to a turn.

The most publicized man in school (begging your pardon, Wassberg) Frankie, the Gadget Man to you, is no longer with us. After pulling all the strings he could to get back in school second semester, his doctor ordered him home for a rest. The shock of getting reinstated must have been too much for him.

Well, maybe we're wrong, and we hope that we are for a certain Chi Omega's sake—but we've been told that her strong-arm lover fell flat for a flashy-eyed dame from Wichita over the week-end.

Is there really something to this

The winners of the Home Talent program were also announced. The women's quartet of Rice county won first in the musical section of the program, and Harvey and Comanche counties received honorable mention. Riley county took first place in the dramatic contest. Gray and Cherokee counties were given honorable mention.

FORUMS THURSDAY

Student and Faculty Get-Together Held at Homes of Faculty Members

The second of the "Fireside Forums," student and faculty get-togethers, discussion meetings sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. will be held Thursday evening at 7 o'clock. Similar meetings will be held February 21 and 28. These forums take place in the homes of faculty members and are open to all interested students and teachers.

The theme of the meetings at the home of Miss Helen Elock, associate professor of English and Miss Helen Hostetter, assistant professor of journalism, 428 N. Seventeenth, "After College, What?" In this series of discussions a partial survey of the vocational opportunities in Kansas is being made.

"Collegiate Values of Living" is the topic for discussion at the home of Prof. and Mrs. H. M. Stewart, 1122 Vattier. Professor Stewart is in the department of economics and sociology. Goals of college life are being considered.

"How Modern is the Bible?" is the subject for consideration at the home of Dr. and Mrs. A. A. Holtz, 419 Denison. As its name implies, this is an analysis of the Bible and its place in modern living.

AT THE DICKINSON

"The Lives of a Bengal Lancer"

"The Lives of a Bengal Lancer" at the Dickinson not only brings us a four star picture, but also the week's best riddle. After consulting several informational sources of varying degrees of authority and intelligence, we give up and refer the question to you, the people.

In the title, why don't the nouns agree in number? That is why isn't it the Life of a Bengal Lancer, or the Lives of the Bengal Lancers, No answer we got seemed logical. Will you try it?

Aside from this question, there are a few other things which don't go over too well. For instance, the scene in which Gary Cooper picks up a 30-30 machine gun, tripod and all, and shoots down the foe while on the run.

The plot is the old story of a regimental colonel who sees his duty in the army and does it, even when it means losing an only son. Comic relief from the soberness of the story is handled by Franchot Tone and Gary Cooper in a manner which reminds one of the parts that Victor McLaglen and Edmund Lowe used to play so often.

Sir Guy Standing, an English actor, is excellent as the noble old Colonel and Richard Cromwell plays the part of the weak-kneed son satisfactorily.

A cartoon of Popeye in "Barnacle Bill the Sailor" completes the program.

GREEN APPOINTED

Roy M. Green of Kansas State was appointed, Friday, by Gov. W. I. Myers, of the farm credit administration, to conduct research in cooperative grain marketing.

Green's studies will include sales methods and policies, organization, management, finance and operating problems of farm cooperatives.

During the past year Green has been serving as vice-president of the Production Credit corporation of Wichita. He has been on a leave of absence from the college.

Mrs. Bessie Brooks West, head of the department of institutional economics, discusses the food supervisory service that department has made available to Kansas State sorority and fraternity groups, in an article in the current number of Banta's Greek Exchange, a panhellenic journal published in the interest of the college fraternity world.

An institutional economics expert plans balanced, palatable meals, purchases food supplies, gives limited supervision to its preparations, and keeps an accurate record of the food costs for each interested group relates Mrs. West.

Her article is illustrated by a photograph of Calvin hall.

Valentine's Day As Is Would Amaze Pious Saint's Ghost

Our modern Valentine's Day with its satin covered heart boxed candy, insipid love notes, and comic missives would probably amaze the ghost of the Christian martyr, St. Valentine, in whose honor the day was named.

Certainly the name of the saint in connection with this day was probably introduced through some mistake. How could anything else account for the connection of a third century martyr with this day which is celebrated by the sending of love tokens in the form of sweets.

Stacks and stacks of square gray containers which cover red pasteboard and satin covered boxes of chocolates stowed away on the shelves of drugstores and candy shops about town indicate that the custom is still very much alive. From this the conclusion may be that many swains, would be swains, and newly married husbands, are gallantly keeping the old tradition alive.

Dr. Hill Favors Our Entry Into World Court

DECLARES EDUCATIONAL INFLUENCE OF TRIBUNAL ON PEOPLE VALUABLE

R.O.T.C. Negligible

Respects Stand of Drill Resistor But Believes Training Has Little or No Effect on Wars

"The United States should be in the world court," said Dr. Howard T. Hill in his speech "The Tenantless House" in student forum Wednesday noon. Doctor Hill continued with the assertion that the Geneva Peace conference was not a useless attempt to bring about an impossibility, but, a method of educating people in the proper attitude toward peace.

"The Tenantless House," the home of the peace conference at Geneva was donated by Andrew Carnegie in 1906 at the cost of one and a half million dollars. Architects from all over the world submitted plans for the palace. A Frenchman's plans were accepted by the international jury in 1906, as the most practical and suitable for that location.

At the first peace conference in the "House in the Woods" a hopeless skepticism pervaded the minds of all the prominent dignitaries who attended the conference. Since that first meeting, in the latter part of the nineteenth century, a good deal has been accomplished; laws governing international conduct in time of war have been formulated, a well developed system of voluntary international arbitration has been developed and a more wholesome attitude toward war has resulted, declared Doctor Hill.

"I respect the viewpoint of the student who wrote the letter in the Collegian on why he refused to drill in the R. O. T. C., but I do not agree with him," said Doctor Hill in speaking of the importance of this organization to the peace movement.

"The R. O. T. C. would have little or no effect on our getting in to war. The men of the R. O. T. C. must help to fight wars but they do not help to make them. Because a man wears a uniform is no sign that he wants to kill."

Publicity and skillful lying were some of the reasons given for wars. These activities are the work of munitions manufacturers, not in any one nation, but as an international syndicate in which all share in the profits.

The senate munitions investigations were cited as the type of work most important in stopping war.

The newly elected officers of Dynamis are Maxine McKinley, Manhattan, president; Frances Aicher, Hays, vice-president; Clarence Bell, McDonald, secretary; Armand Rousseau, Seattle, Washington, treasurer; and Roberta Shannon, Geneseo, publicity director. These officers were elected at a meeting held February 12 in N77.

Maxine McKinley and Frances Aicher were chairman and sectional chairman respectively of the last Student Faculty Forum.

Excursion Into Heredity Sunday

Professor R. K. Nabours Will Give Third of Sunday Afternoon Scientific Lectures

Dr. R. K. Nabours of the zoology department is scheduled to give the third in a series of six Sunday lectures by faculty scientists, on Sunday, February 17. His subject will be "Excursions into Heredity," and the lecture will be given in room 27 of Fairchild hall. Dr. Nabours has made many excursions, including two trips around the world and has spent much time in this study.

The first talk was given by C. G. Drobosky on "Living Pictures of Microscopic Animals." The lecture last Sunday was by Prof. A. B. Sperry of the geology department, and his subject was "Gems and Semi-Precious Stones." He told of the origin, history, and use of the minerals used in jewelry and in machinery, and showed specimens of many of them.

The fourth lecture of the series will be given February 24 by F. C. Gates of the department of botany and plant pathology, and is called "Trees and Shrubs in Winter: Winter Botany." This includes a discussion of the characteristics of twigs of woody plants, showing the characters by which they may be learned and the means of finding out the names. He will have 60 specimens of twigs illustrating the commonest trees and shrubs of the vicinity.

These lectures are open to the public and have been well attended each time, with approximately 100 to 125 present.

Birth Of Station KSAC Started Founder's Day

"Say, when did Founder's Day start anyway?" a sister reporter sang out at me. I ducked my head and gurgled a la Joe Penner "I don't know!" And right then and there I decided to find out, so I went hunting in the Alumni office files—and I have found the founding of Founder's Day—oh well . . . .

Anyway it seems that back in 1924 the Kansas State Aggies got a brand new radio station; so they gave a radio party on December 1 that year to celebrate their first nation-wide broadcast. From 8 to 12 p. m. all alumni sat clamped onto headphones and listened to their old Alma Mater do her stuff over the 341 meter wave length.

The program was a success and everyone decided it was a great way to establish a relationship between the alumni and the college. A grand chance to keep up that old tradition of "once an Aggie, always an Aggie." So the alumni radio party became an annual affair.

What's that got to do with Founder's Day? Well I'm just coming to that. Things went on and every year the college broadcast shifted from date to date until in 1930 it was set for February 14. About that time the papers began to say that February was a good time for an Aggie celebration anyway because that month should mean a lot to all good Aggies.

In the first place that date had been chosen because the listeners could get in on a play-by-play basketball game—but after thinking it over there was another even bigger and better reason for having a party in February.

For, although the college was es-

I Demand That We Kick Me Out Of School Immediately

A sign was hung the other day on the door leading to the Collegian office containing this alarming announcement: COMMUNIST HEAD-QUARTERS, USSR, Dexter-Lenin.

A certain investigating committee representing the state legislature first pointed out last fall that communism is not only spreading throughout the United States, but that it is actually working its insidious way into Kansas State college itself. To discover that the findings of the investigating committee are not only true but that a student position of responsibility such as the editor-ship of the Collegian is dominated by such a dangerous cult is indeed startling.

Hardly has this Dexter person been elected as editor of the Collegian than he began investigating. He was not even satisfied with conditions that through the past years have gained an aura of tradition and respectability—conditions that through years of association we have come to accept and consider as our obligation to perpetuate. For instance this irresponsible youth had the temerity to suggest that the Barbs who comprise little more than two thirds of the total population of the school, should arouse themselves from their lethargy and take an active part in the political activity of Kansas.

Central Teachers Shutout Kansas State 26-0 In Bowls Last Night

A great aggregation of matmen from the Central Teachers of Oklahoma, at Edmond, shut out the Kansas State grapplers 26 to 0 in a dual match last night at the Nichols gymnasium.

Dean Swift, 175 pound man for the Aggies, turned in the best match of his career along with the best performance of the evening. Schellstede, his opponent, was second in the national intercollegiate tournament last year. During the match it was difficult to tell which one of the men held the most time advantage, because neither one was on top for any great period of time.

Villa Real obtained the Oklahoma's only fall in the 135 pound division with a bar arm and half nelson in 6:12. The Kansas State man, Walters, made it a good match to watch while it lasted.

The results of the matches: 118 pound class—Wright, Central, defeated Betz, Kansas State, by a time advantage of 9:32.

126 pound class—Anderson, Central, defeated Fansher, Kansas State, by a time advantage of 7:05.

135 pound class—Villa Real, Central, threw Walters, Kansas State, in 6:12.

145 pound class—Tomlinson, Central, defeated Jessup, Kansas State, by a time advantage of 8:53.

155 pound class—Knight, Central, defeated Howe, Kansas State, by a time advantage of 7:28.

165 pound class—King, Central, defeated Young, Kansas State, by a time advantage of 9:30.

175 pound class—Schellstede, Central, defeated Swift, Kansas State, by a time advantage of 4:25.

Heavyweight—Clemons, Central, defeated Holland, Kansas State, by a time advantage of 8:05.

The referee was G. F. Branigan.

Kansas State Rifle Team Loses Only One Telegraphic Match In Last Week

The Kansas State college men's rifle team won four out of five telegraphic matches last week, losing only to Utah State college.

The Kansas State team made a score of 3619 for the week as compared with 3571 for Michigan State, 3601 for the University of Dayton, 3378 for South Dakota State, 3504 for Oklahoma A. & M., and 3622 for Utah State college.

W. F. Stewart and W. R. Farmer made the high score for the week with 369 apiece. Other scores are as follows: E. L. Waller and G. W. Honick, 367; R. W. West, 361; H. M. Laude, 360; G. T. Anton, 359; J. F. Gaumer, 359; B. E. Steadman, 357; P. W. Wendell, 351.

In the first stage of the corps area match fired last week the team made a score of 1937 which is 31 points higher than the score at the first stage last year. The individual scores for the prone and sitting positions are as follows: W. F. Stewart, 197; R. W. West, 196; V. M. Butts and G. W. Honick, 195; O. Pattison, 194; J. F. Gaumer and

A DOUBLE VICTORY WOULD KEEP O. U. IN BIG SIX RACE

Squad Is In Shape

K-State Squad In Full Strength With Exception Of Gilpin Who Has Bad Knee

Kansas State will be host to the University of Oklahoma basketballs this weekend in a two game series. The Sooners will be doubly eager to make it four straight over the Wildcats due to their defeat at the hands of Iowa State last Monday night which toppled them from second to third position in the Big Six standings. A double victory will keep them well in the running for the conference championship.

A double win for Kansas State will send the Wildcats into fourth position ahead of Missouri university, who is idle this week. By splitting the twin-bill the boys from State can edge their way into a tie for fourth place with the Tigers. Should the K-Staters lose both contests, they would not fall into the cellar of the conference, even though Nebraska upsets Kansas university tonight.

With the exception of Gilpin, who sustained a twisted knee during practice this week, the squad has fully recovered from the injuries received in last week's battles with Missouri, Coach Root stated yesterday.

A battle for scoring honors is forthcoming in the two game series with Oklahoma. Groves, Wildcat center, and Browning, Oklahoma guard, are tied for third place in the conference standings with 83 points apiece. As Missouri is idle, Groves should overtake Jorgenson, Tiger guard, who resides in second place with 85 markers to his credit. Another battle is predicted between Freeland, State forward, and Warren, Oklahoma forward, who are in ninth and tenth positions respectively with 56 and 55 points.

President Speaks

Only Students Willing to Work Should Attend College Says President Farrell

Only those persons should go to college who are able and willing to make effective use of college opportunities, declared Pres. F. D. Farrell yesterday afternoon in the first of the young people's opportunity hour broadcasts over station KSAC.

"A fine lecture is of no value to a student who will not listen. The same reasoning applies to the classrooms, laboratories, libraries and all other educational facilities that colleges provide."

He stressed the fact that one of the best ways of trying to find out if a high school graduate will derive any benefit from college is to study his high school record. If a student ranks near the top or most anywhere above average he is almost certain to do well in college, the president stated.

Joe Knappenberger, Penelope, president of the Student Governing association, was presented as an outstanding student. The presentation of an outstanding student will be a feature of each of these broadcasts.

M. F. Ahearn, head of the department of physical education and athletics, discussed "Opportunities for Work and Play at Kansas State," and Hal Doolittle, a student from Kansas City, Mo., spoke on "Why I Came to College."

To Lincoln For Dual Tomorrow

Track Team Will Meet N. U. Saturday—Seconds And Thirds Expected To Decide

The Kansas State track team will meet Nebraska tomorrow at Lincoln in an indoor meet.

Nebraska is especially strong in the half-mile, mile, hurdles, and pole vault. The meet with Iowa proved their strength and they defeated the Cyclones 73 to 31.

The meet Saturday will be even if the dope chart is correct. "We should win about six firsts apiece" says Ward Haylett, head track coach of Kansas State. The seconds and thirds will probably decide the meet.

The dope shows that Kansas State should win the low and high hurdles, half-mile, 2-mile, 440, and the high jump. Nebraska should win the dash, broad jump, pole vault, shot put, and the mile. There is some doubt about the mile relay.

Three members of the team will be unable to make the trip due to sickness and injuries. Robert Kirk, hurdles man, has an injured leg. Myron Hooks, 440, has an injured knee, and Jim Edwards is sick with a cold.

The following Kansas State men will make the trip: 60 yard dash—Knappenberger, Jensen, Jesson. 60 yard low hurdle—Knappenberger, Steele. 60 yard high hurdle—Knappenberger, Steele.

440—Nixon, Sweat, Peters. 880—O'Reilly, Dill, Eberhart. Mile—O'Reilly, Redfield, Messick. 2 mile—Wheelock, Robinson, McCole.

Shot put—Bell, Hays, Fanning. Broad jump—Hemphill. High jump—Roehman. Pole vault—Ayres, Hemphill.

1 mile relay—Nixon, Peters, Sweat, and either Hall, Jesson or Eberhart. The Nebraska entries: 60 yard dash—Jacobson, Cardwell, Chapman. 60 yard hurdle—Chapman, Haight, Cardwell.

60 high hurdle—Chapman, Haight, Cardwell. 440—Rall, McGarragh, Pankonin. 880—Roberts, Beaver, White. Mile—Funk, White, Rice.

2 mile—Funk, Rice, Chittendon. Shot put—Rist, Toman, Cardwell. High jump—Toman, McGarragh, Martin.

Broad jump—Cardwell, Toman, Warnke. Pole vault—Nichols, Cosgrave. Mile relay—Rall, Beatty, McGarragh, Pankonin.

K-Fraternity Votes to Abolish the Vigorous Initiations Characteristic of Other Years

At a meeting of the K-fraternity held Wednesday evening in the K-room, it was voted to do away with hazing, a subject which has caused much disagreement in the past in connection with the fraternity initiation. A resolution was also passed recommending to the athletic council that all varsity letter awards on slipover sweaters be not less than eight inches in size and on coat sweaters not less than six inches.

The new officers elected at the meeting were as follows: Ralph Churchill, president; William Shearer, vice-president; and Don A. McNeal, secretary-treasurer. Group pictures were also taken.

SULLIVAN ADDRESSES RESERVE OFFICERS

Col. John S. Sullivan, head of the department of military science addressed the Riley county chapter of the Reserve Officers' association of the United States at its banquet held February 13 at the Wareham hotel. This banquet opened national defense week activities.

Colonel Sullivan suggested various ways in which members of the organization could make themselves useful as reserve officers. The group discussed the military strength of the United States following Colonel Sullivan's talk.

Capt. William F. Rehm, Capt. W. A. Swift, Capt. Ira E. Ryder, and Lieutenant H. H. Myrah were guests of the organization at the banquet.

K-State First Landgrant College In United States

Other than providing for employment of teachers for the deaf and dumb, the location of an insane asylum at Osawatimie, the erection of a penitentiary at Lansing, and a law for funding the old territorial debt, the Kansas Legislature of 1863 decided to establish Kansas State college at Manhattan as a land grant college under the Morrill act, passed by congress. Besides Quantrell's raid on Lawrence and a few lynchings this was about the most important thing that happened in that year.

As a matter of fact, Kansas was the first state to take advantage of the Morrill act which provided for the establishing of a college in each state, with the government furnishing the land. Michigan State was founded in 1857, but it was the state legislature which provided for this college. It did not become a land grant college until 1885. In 1868, Iowa State opened its doors to students and became known as a land grant college. All of this happened several years after Kansas State Agricultural college was established under the Morrill act.

Bluemont College? (yes, I know most of you have heard this before, but the Freshman haven't). Well, Freshmen, Bluemont college was the name of your alma mater before it received the name of Kansas State Agricultural College. Just here now.

ASSEMBLY WILL BE EXACT REPRODUCTION OF TOMORROW NIGHT'S NBC BLUE NETWORK BROADCAST

KSAC Feature To Be Used By 13 Stations Mostly of Eastern United States—Doctor Hill Is Master of Ceremonies

A National Hookup

All of the mysteries of a radio broadcast will be revealed to Kansas State students as the Founder's day program is brought to them in assembly Saturday morning at 10 o'clock in the auditorium.

The mock broadcast in assembly will be an exact reproduction of the program that will be on the air over the NBC blue network tomorrow night from 7:30 to 8 o'clock. Microphones on the auditorium stage will make the sham broadcast more realistic.

The master of ceremonies for this celebration of the seventy-second anniversary of Kansas State college will be Dr. H. T. Hill, head of the department of public speaking.

Announcers for the program are Maurice DuMars, assistant extension editor, and H. Miles Heberer, associate professor of public speaking.

President F. D. Farrell will give a two-minute welcoming speech, Mike Ahearn, director of athletics, and Fred Seaton, former Kansas State student, also will have a part in the program.

Mr. Henry, instructor of music, composed the agricultural theme song which is part of the background music for the program.

Dramatizations concerning every division of the college will be given, beginning with the founding of the school. Bluemont college, a denominational school, was founded in 1858 and five years later, February 16, 1863, the state accepted the institution as an agricultural college and on land given by the government, the first building was erected. Classes began, Sept. 2, 1863 for fourteen students.

An episode concerning the contribution made to the development of concrete roads by C. H. Scholer, professor of applied mechanics, will be given.

The fact that a cure for feline infectious enteritis was developed by the veterinary division provides another dramatic episode.

The fact that eighty-five per cent of the Kansas State home economics graduates are married within five years after leaving college furnishes material for a humorous dramatization.

Interesting facts about Kansas State social life back in the days "when" are revealed. The attitude of officials toward dancing, and other social activities is given. A

NEEDED—A NEW DEAL

A good many students in considering the investigation at present being conducted by the Collegian into the political situation at Kansas State take the attitude that it is all very interesting, and conclusion reached probably quite true—but what of it. It must be confessed that as far as concrete accomplishments are concerned the work carried on by student organizations such as the student council are practically negligible.

The members of the student council seldom hold office more than a year, and their activities are extremely limited by the simple fact that someone else holds the purse strings. Little in the way of valuable results can be, or are expected of such a group. The good that is to be derived either by the student body or the members of the student council must necessarily be of a theoretical nature.

But—and a great deal of meaning lies in that qualifying word—it will be wise to examine a few things before we arrive at any conclusions the uselessness of bothering ourselves with student political problems. No one can reasonably hope to fully equip himself for a life's vocation in any four-year college course. Education must necessarily be of a theoretical nature. College should aim primarily to teach how to think rather than to instill a given amount of knowledge in a given length of time. It should provide the basis for the formation of a workable philosophy of life. It should furnish students with a conception of their place and of their duties in society.

It is in this light that we must consider the question of student politics. To all outward appearances it would seem that it makes very little difference who or how anyone is elected to a student elective office. Yet those habits of indifference with which we regard student affairs in all likelihood will be carried into the life that exists off the campus. The conception of ethics in regard to politics formed here will be reflected in our opinions of tomorrow. These things we regard as irrelevant now because they are theoretical rather than tangible are none the less real because of their subtlety.

At present on this campus student offices are regarded as something of a joke to the majority of the student body. The fraternities and sororities, because of their permanent organization are able through secret blocs to obtain a stranglehold on the campus. Student officers are selected because they represent a certain click rather than because they represent the school as a whole. Social prominence rather than ability becomes the requirement for leadership.

There is only one way by which this condition can be eradicated from Kansas State. And that is for the independents who comprise more than two thirds of the total population of the school to arouse themselves from the indifference that has for so long characterized this particular group, and take an active interest in the political affairs of their school. It is only through the efforts of this large group that student politics can be removed from the petty click control they are now in and placed in position where they will acquire the prestige they deserve in the eyes of the student body.

KANSAS STATE SHOWS SPIRIT

In keeping with the general movement in all colleges, Kansas State has accused its fraternities and sororities of playing politics among themselves until the student government has become a farce. From the looks of statistics presented in the Kansas State Collegian, it would appear that there have no chance to obtain a position on the governing body.

It would seem that the time has come for some fraternity on their campus to put a real feather in the chapter cap by declaring itself out to elect student officers, regardless of affiliations or nonaffiliations. Such a policy would get that fraternity no end of desirable publicity on the campus.—The University Daily Kansan.

After getting their grades many of our sweet college maids have decided to take Bill Shakespeare's advice and concentrate on being good.

The Snooper

We just scooped out the Canteen so's here the dirt:

The Kappas continue to pledge to fit their doorways. That's why there are no keyholes, Miss This 'N' That.

To settle scores before the Deits get into play—the Sigma Nu won all games last weekend by a fade-out—naturally. To the victor belong the spoils and some of the boys were really spoiled, you guess.

"The Isle of Capri" at last proves its worth—Francis (Percy Pink-Pants) Baker industriously searching a map of Europe for the darned thing.

If your boy friend gives a transfusion you should give him your hand to keep up his circulation. At least Virginia Appleton seems to be following that course.

Doing a Garbo—with dark glasses—is Betty Miller's latest bid at notoriety. Here y'are, Lizbeth.

We'd like to think it was jealously that had This 'N' That carrying off our beloved brainchild—columb to you—last Monday evening. Eh, Dawley?

The appearance of Swede Lutz in our midst this weekend last has out debating society at work on this: Is it better to wear our or Rust out?

The year's prize incult goes to our five "typical" students. It isn't sour grapes for anyone to say it can't be much fun to be such an uneventful person. What bores they could be!

Three and a half bucks for a flowery Valentine was Pat Quinn's contrib to yesterday's merriment—was it Matherly's gardenias that shot that five, Pat?

"Matt's Place"—that room across from the gym—has its inhabitants gaily caroling at the passery. Our county jail had the same trouble 'til they used Flit.

"The Man About Town" would prove a lot more popular with us if he sent us items we didn't already know in writing we could read. The "Duke" and the "Hand" please take note.

The Sig Alphas skipped page empty-umpt of Emily Post's "Advice to Aes." Their Sunday formal dinner is to our idea a bit odd. We have those who agree with us, boys.

"Dear Ex-footballer: That sob your girl gives you via 'hone when you pull that dictator stuff is really a giggle muffled under the phone shelf." And unless she stops pulling it we're going to tell our readers right out, names 'n' all.

One of the sweeter Alpha Xi's feels we picked on Oklahoma's Ogler a great deal too much for a new-comer. Our apologies to the AXID's—but this is a "dirt" column, you see.

We bring this news to the attention of our Pecwee's band: At Indiana University the student dance band made a B flat average last semester.

An import for the Delt party (MUST we mention that again!) already has three sororities standing on their ear. Our guess is that the stream-line will have more than its share of reception committees this afternoon. We might all go down and see the fun.

Attention, prexies: Those national inspectors are about due—inflation and all that is quite a tonic to most of them. And don't let phone calls scare you as did two sisterhoods last spring!

Not that we'd really like to know—but has Heeter's bright (?) brogue had any more of those embarrassing moments lately such as that one with the traveling salesman? Oh, it was quite all right—the Piphi house mother was right there. Or was that why it was embarrassing.

Quote: "I'm not a celebrity but I sure can make those columns!" Unquote: Mary Blackman speaking, friends. Ye gods!

One of our supposedly more sophisticated seniors is rumored to have cried for an hour the other night because her sisters in the bond laughed themselves into spasms over the idea of the s. s. in ruffles. Ruff going, eh what!

We hear that a Beta pin is to come out in the open next weekend. Now whose could it be?

Some instructors give grades. Others give personality ratings.

Vacant Vera thinks the new thirteen-month calendar should be adopted. That way she would get an extra pay check each year.

Those who are interested in embarrassing moments might interview the young man who found himself stranded in the men's gym with only his gym shorts for clothing. His clothes were locked in his locker, his keys were at home, and the official keeper of the keys was home for lunch.

Clothes may not make the man, but he won't get very far in this world without them.

Forwards on Coach Frank Root's Kansas State basketball team continue to keep their injury jinx that came upon them a couple of weeks ago. Paul Gilpin, flashy sharp-shooter from Topeka, is the third and latest addict to the curse. "Curly" Thornbrough was out of both of the Missouri contests played in Manhattan and Jim Freeland was forced out of the second Tiger engagement in Columbia. Guards Stoner and Railsback give Root no trouble and seem to be little bothered by playing 40 minutes per game night after night.

The loss of Gilpin for at least one, and possibly both, of the Oklahoma games will be clearly outlined in the box score. The points he regularly chalked up in past games will be missed. . . . and it's a cinch that they'll be needed to stop the fast traveling Sooners.

After their loss to Iowa State last Monday Oklahoma rates pretty well out of the running for the Big Six basketball championship. But nevertheless, fans will see championship basketball when Coach Hugh McDermott's team takes the floor tonight and tomorrow night in Nichols gym. Parke Carroll and Ernest C. Quigley will officiate both games.

Oklahoma university is taking advantage of the fact that Oklahoma state is called 'home' by several major league baseball stars and has invited them to give Sooners diamond aspirants pointers on 'how to play the game.' Carl Hubbell, famous New York Giants southpaw, Lloyd Waner, one-half of the Pittsburgh Pirates' brother act, and Al. Benton, pitcher for the Philadelphia Athletics are all due in Norman sometime this month to practice with Coach "Jap" Haskell's men.

Reports from Bloomington indicate that "Bo" McMillin has started spring football practice in the field house until weather permits outdoor work for his Hoosiers. . . . Coach Wes Fry will probably call spring practice for freshmen the last week in February and everyone will report on or around the first of March. . . .

A Confession: During the last week I attended my first boxing and swimming meets in which Kansas State was a contender. . . . and from now on I'm to be a regular spectator. The bouts Monday night were highly entertaining and well worth attending. The Fleethrope-Higgins go was the high-

Postal matches will be fired with Nebraska, the University of Washington at Seattle, Wyoming, Montana State and Iowa State beginning this week and continuing for five weeks as a part of the National Rifle association competition. A shoulder-to-shoulder match with the above schools will be held April 6, and the winning team will be considered in determining the National Rifle association champions. According to Captain William F. Rehn, coach of the team, the match will probably be fired at the University of Nebraska in Lincoln although the matter has not been definitely decided. The match was held there last year. The University of Missouri won in the Missouri Valley League last year and Kansas State placed second. Missouri is not competing this year, however.

William F. Stewart, high scorer last year, has been announced as the team captain for the 1934-35 school year. Members of the team met and decided that the high scorer during the rifle season shall become captain the following year providing he has one full year of competition left.

Seven matches and the second stage of the corps area match are on the schedule to be fired this week. The matches are with the City College of New York, the University of Pittsburgh, Kemper Military Academy, New Mexico college.

Boston college, West Virginia university, and Michigan university. The women's rifle team has matches at Kemper Military academy February 22 and 23.

Pennsylvania state. The men's team will participate in regional matches at Kemper Military academy February 22 and 23.

KANSAS STATE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE IN 1895

Seventy-two years ago tomorrow Kansas State College was born. It was on February 16, 1863, that the state of Kansas accepted as a gift the land, building, and other property of Bluemont Central College from the brave pioneers who had founded that institution.

The first classes of the new college were held September 2, 1863, with a grand total of 14 students enrolled. The name of the college was then, as you all know, Kansas State Agricultural College.

Since this meager beginning nearly three-quarters of a century ago, Kansas State has grown and progressed until at the present day it is recognized throughout the entire nation as one of the country's foremost land grant institutions.

The college, in the words of her president, Dr. F. D. Farrell, was "Conceived in liberty and she was dedicated to the ideal that people who work should also think . . . Her outlandish dreams have become respectable realities."

One may be proud to say "I am from Kansas State."

Varied Stunts Presented In Ag Orpheum

MANHATTAN MADNESS, BAR-ROOM DRAMA, CLOISTER SCENE AND MORE

All Kinds Of Music

Music to Play Prominent Part in the Six Full Stage Acts Directed by Sayre

Action that ranges from the ridiculous to the beautiful will characterize the stunts to be presented at the Y. M. C. A.'s Ag Orpheum the nights of March 8 and 9 in the college auditorium.

Six full stage presentations to be directed by Prof. Edwin Sayre of the college music department and given by the college choruses will depict such scenes as a Kansas bar-room drama in the times of Carrie Nation and her hatchet, a Negro spiritual scene, a cloister scene reminiscent of old cathedrals, a performance called Manhattan Madness, and many others.

Costume reviews, masked choruses, dances, popular song arrangements, harp, organ, violin-music of all kinds, will play a prominent part in making Professor Sayre's productions entertaining. The groups appearing in the acts have been practicing on their numbers for well over a month.

Five more stunts to be given by Delta Delta Delta, Lambda Chi Alpha, Phi Beta Phi, Chi Omega, and Beta Theta Pi, will appear on the program as competitors for the prize to be awarded to the act thought by three judges and the audience to be the best performance. These groups have been at work for several weeks perfecting their acts. As an added attraction, the manager of the Orpheum has secured the services of two of Manhattan's outstanding dancing schools who will present long presentations. The college orchestra has been asked to play before and during the intermissions.

G.R. Course Here

Training for Senior Girls And Others Interested Will Be Given March 1, 2, and 3

A Girl Reserves training course for senior girls majoring in education and for other senior girls who are interested will be held here March 1, 2, and 3. Miss Florence Stone, state G. R. chairman, will be in charge.

The schedule for the meetings beginning with a dinner Friday evening at the college cafeteria at 6 o'clock is: Friday, 6-9, college cafeteria; Saturday, 1-5, L&S; Saturday, 7-9, L&S; and Saturday, 10-12, L&S.

The cost of the entire course, including the dinner is $1.25. Those who have attended nine hours of the meetings will receive a G. R. certificate which entitles the receiver to be a G. R. sponsor. Last year, 26 certificates were issued. Girls must register at the Y. W. C. A. office in Anderson by February 27 to take this training course.

MAY BUY TICKETS FOR CO-OP PLAN

Students wishing to purchase new or renewal meal tickets to participate in the cooperative meal plan at the cafeteria for the month beginning Tuesday, February 26, may obtain them Saturday and Monday, February 23 and 25 at the cafeteria. On the cooperative plan students get 68 balanced meals for $9 and 12 hours work in the cafeteria. The plan seems very satisfactory both to students and the cafeteria, said Miss Sia Faye Fowler, director in charge. Besides the more than 160 students now participating there are vacancies for about 40 more, Miss Fowler stated.

DEAN JUSTIN SPEAKS

K. S. Wins Every Event With N. U. Since Annexing Football Title

When the Kansas State football team defeated the Nebraska Cornhuskers last Thanksgiving day a new record was started. Since that date Kansas State has not suffered a loss in any athletic event with Nebraska.

The 2-mile team defeated Nebraska 35 to 20 last fall; the basketball team won 47 to 41; the Kansas State wrestlers won 26 to 6. In the conference 2-mile race Kansas State was first and Nebraska fourth. The latest accomplishment was the track team's victory over our neighbors to the north. Although the Aggies were, as usual, classified as the under dogs, they came through in a record smashing contest to beat the Cornhuskers by a score of 54 1/2 to 49 1/2.

This is something of a record and according to Ward Haylett, track coach, "we shall run it while it's news."

OPEN 'Y' MEETING IS WELL ATTENDED

The Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. open cabinet meeting was well attended last night. Prof. Kingsley Given of the public speaking department entertained with readings and writings from James Weldon Johnson. And Jimmie Cowan, student, contributed several piano selections. The program opened with group singing. The program on the evolution of religion in the colored race which had been announced for tonight was postponed because Karl Speed, chairman of that program committee was called out of town due to sickness. Leslie King president of the Y. M. C. A. hopes this program can be given later.

Indian Student's Family Once Ruled All India

G. S. Rathore, veterinary student who recently transferred here from Bengal Veterinary college in Calcutta, comes from a family who once ruled all India. Kings, forts, regal palaces, and one of the most powerful families in India form the background of this colorful student who can be seen daily on the campus in his native attire.

In fifteen minutes Mr. Rathore outlined a family history which reached back almost 1,000 years. His thirty-second great grandfather was King of India. About the time of his twenty-eighth grandfather, a Mohammedan invasion drove the emperor northward into the region of Jodhpur, Rajputana, the state which the family now rules. This state, free from British control, is about 500 miles wide and 300 miles long. Its present ruler is Umed Singh Rathore, a relative of the K-State student.

The monarchs of the region are chosen according to the right of primogeniture, and Rathore has had the misfortune to be out of the direct line of first sons, so he will inherit only a small principality. The lands which are passed from hand to hand in this manner can never be bought or sold.

In describing his country, Rathore

Japanese Life In Lecture By H. Benninghoff

PROFESSOR AT WASEDA UNIVERSITY WILL BE WORLD FORUM SPEAKER

Forum Is April 5-7

Series of Meetings Is Sponsored by Manhattan Ministerial Union And "Y" Organizations

A discussion of Japanese life, history and culture as well as an intelligent survey of the Japanese college student will be brought to Kansas State college by the Rev. Harry B. Benninghoff, D. D., during the Christian World Forum which will be held here April 5, 6, and 7.

Dr. Benninghoff has been a member of the faculty of Waseda university in Japan for the past twenty-five years. Waseda university is one of the two largest universities on private foundation in Japan. It was founded by Count Okuma, one of Japan's great statesmen, at whose suggestion Dr. Benninghoff, a Baptist missionary, was asked to become a member of the faculty as a lecturer on Occidental civilization.

Along with this Dr. Benninghoff was also made director of Scott Hall, a building which houses all activities, educational, social, physical, and spiritual; bringing to them the influences of Christianity. Waseda is perhaps the most liberal of all the Japanese universities. It has had many contacts with American colleges. The base ball team of Waseda has visited America several times, usually under the personal guidance of Dr. Benninghoff, to play with American colleges.

In connection with the university, Dr. Benninghoff has organized Waseda Hoshien, a Baptist Christian Student center. It has helped to interpret American civilization and American life to Japanese students through the international character of Christianity as it rises above nations and races. Waseda Hoshien has been an international influence. There has been a consistent effort to bring American people into active touch with the people and the work within this institution.

To accomplish this the directors have sent Dr. and Mrs. Benninghoff to America for the current school year to exchange contacts and ideas between the institutions and their friends in America.

Kenzo Takayanagi, professor in the college of Law at Tokyo Imperial University says of Dr. Benninghoff: "I have known Dr. H. B. Benninghoff for twenty-five years and have no hesitation in commending him as one highly qualified to speak on the history and culture of Japan. He is able to give an intelligently critical picture of the present situation in Japan which is, at the same time, sympathetic."

Christian World Forum is sponsored by the Manhattan Ministerial Union, the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A.

Red Army Deserter At Student Forum

John Bekker, Now a Student at K. U., Has Had Exciting Experiences

John Bekker, formerly of Russia and the Orient, a deserter from the Red army, and now a graduate student at K. U., will talk about Russia at the Student Forum Meeting, Wednesday, February 20.

Mr. Bekker was born in old Russia of well-to-do parents and experienced the revolution first hand. The family home was destroyed and several of his relatives were exiled to Siberia. He was forced to serve some time in the Red Army, but finally escaped to China.

He stayed two years in China and occupied much of his time studying the language and the people. While there Bekker was employed as a linguist in the diplomatic service. He stayed one year in Japan before coming to the United States.

People of the campus who heard Bekker speak at the Cosmopolitan National meeting held at the University of Kansas the latter part of December say he is an able and interesting speaker.

Bekker is a graduate of Bethel College, Newton, Kansas.

Gripp, Hill City, and Robert Hays, Kansas City, Missouri.

Kansas Becomes A Standard of Value Among Haitians

Down in Haiti if anything is done perfectly the natives exclaim, "That's from Kenz's,"—the Kenz means Kansas—writes Andre Audant, who returned to Haiti from Kansas State almost four years ago, after having completed the course in agriculture.

Audant writes this in a letter which he recently sent to Miss Myrtle Zener, alumni correspondent of the Cosmopolitan club and secretary to Vice-President J. T. Willard.

Audant while he was in school here was president of the local chapter of the Cosmopolitan club. He explains that since he returned to Haiti "almost every day we do speak of Kansas in some way or another. First the boys thought it was a mood of some kind that would faint away after a few months in Haiti. But far from that we do have now certain things that are 'just from Kenz's'."

"So you see that Kansas has not such a bad reputation down here and I feel lucky about it."

"It is a bit queer to explain how that is. But imagine a boy coming down the soccer field with a pair of black and white corduroy pants. Well, 'That's Kansas!' If at the beach someone does a perfect one and a half gainer, well, 'that's from Kansas'."

Audant, who is employed by the "Service National De La Production Agricole et de L'Enseignement Rural," participated in all manner of sports while he was in school. Whenever he gets a spare moment from his work at the government experiment station near Port au Prince, capital of the republic, he explains that he plays soccer, tennis, basketball, or goes hunting, fishing and racing, besides dancing. Audant's homeland occupies the western half of the island of Haiti or Santo Domingo, as it was first named by Columbus's expedition in 1492, and was a protectorate of the United States from 1915 to August of 1934.

He tells of an article in a publication of the Boston Society of Natural Sciences in which are described two new species which he collected last year. One of them a new species of frog has been named "Audanti" after him. The other, a new genus, has been named "Audantia."

KS Boxers Drop Decision To MU

Missouri Reverses Their Defeat Here Last Monday Winning 5 out of 8 Matches

Approximately 1,000 fans packed Boswell gymnasium at Columbia, Missouri last night as the Tiger boxers reversed last Monday's K-State victory and walloped the Wildcat punchers into a 5 to 3 defeat. This was the first intercollegiate boxing matches ever held at M. U. Missouri won decisions in all the bouts except the 119 and 139-pound classes. A forfeit by Jim Higgins, the Tiger's 169-pounder, provided the other Kansas State victory. In the heavy weight class however, the decision was so close that the crowd heartily booed the decision which gave Horace Carl a victory over Don Flenthrope, Wildcat heavyweight. Summaries:

119 pounds—R. S. Pyles, Kansas State defeated Richard Morris, by a technical knockout in the third round.

129 pounds—Hotchkiss, Missouri, defeated Jerry Lake, Kansas State, decision.

139 pounds—George Garrison, Kansas State defeated Castagna, Missouri, decision.

149 pounds—Kenneth Houston, Missouri, defeated Madison, Kansas State, decision.

159 pounds—Sam Justice, Missouri, defeated "Tommy" Thomas, Kansas State, decision.

Beat Nebraska In Indoor Meet For First Time

CORNHUSKERS ALSO GET FIRST DEFEAT ON OWN TRACK

Missouri Is Next

Track Squad to Columbia Saturday—Tigers and Wildcats Strong In Same Events

A record breaking Kansas State track team scored a 54 1/2 to 49 1/2 victory over a powerful Nebraska squad last Saturday to hand the Cornhuskers the first defeat ever suffered on their own indoor track since the present field house was built. This victory was the first for any Kansas State track team over Nebraska and was preceded the week before by the first win from Kansas university in fourteen years.

In the mile and two mile races the Kansas State runners were given very little competition. O'Reilly ran the mile in 4:27 to set a new meet record, clipping 2 seconds from the old record held by Don Landon, former Kansas State mile distance star. The K-State two mile team made a clean sweep of this event to repeat their performance at Kansas university a week previous.

In these two meets Captain Joe Knappenberger was high point man with five firsts and a second. O'Reilly has four firsts to his credit. A clean sweep was registered by the two mile team in both meets.

Next Saturday the Kansas State speedsters will match strides with the Missouri Tigers at Columbia in the sixth meet between the two schools.

The meet next Saturday is regarded by Coach Ward Haylett as a very critical one. Much of the Tiger's strength lies in the same events as that of Kansas State and since this is to be only a two place meet the outcome is doubtful.

A brief survey of the situation would indicate that Missouri will probably dominate the high jump, broad jump and dashes. Kansas State should take the quarter mile, relay, and have a reasonable chance in the pole vault. In the hurdles a battle between Knappenberger and Walker is to be expected with Joe holding a slight edge.

In the distance runs the outcome is a tossup as each school holds a win over the other in these events. The shot put may also be regarded as a fifty-fifty proposition.

A win over Missouri Saturday would definitely class Kansas State as a strong contender for Big Six championship honors.

A summary of the Nebraska meet is as follows:

60-yard high hurdles—Won by Knappenberger, K.S.; second, Haight, N.; third, Cardwell, N. Time, :07.8.

440-yard dash—Won by Nixon, K. S.; second, Pankonin, N.; third, Sweat, K.S. Time, 3:32.

2-mile—Won by Wheelock, K.S.; second, Robinson, K.S.; third, McCole, K.S. Time, 10:08.8.

Mile—Won by O'Reilly, K.S.; second, Funk, N.; third, Redfield, K.S. Time, 4:27.

60-yard dash—Won by Jacobson, N.; second, Knappenberger, K.S.; third, Chapman, N. Time, :06.3.

880-yard run—Won by O'Reilly, K.S.; second, Dill, K.S.; third, Roberts, N. Time, 2:01.3.

60-yard low hurdles—Won by Knappenberger, K.S.; second, Chapman, N.; third, Cardwell, N. Time, :07.1.

Mile relay—Mile relay—Won by Kansas State (Sweat, Hall, Peters, Nixon); second, Nebraska (McGarraugh, Beatty, Ralls, Pankonin). Time, 3:34.8.

Shot put—Won by Rist, N., 46 feet, 4 inches; second, Toman, N., 40 feet, 4 inches; third, Hays, K.S., 40 feet, 1-2 inch.

Pole vault—Won by Nichols, N., 12 feet 6 inches; Cosgrove, N., and Ayers, K.S., tied for second and third, 12 feet, 3 inches.

High jump—Four-way tie between Roehman, K.S.; Harris, K.S.; Toman, N.; and McGarraugh, N. Height, 5 feet, 9 1-2 inches.

Broad jump—Won by Warneke, N., 22 feet, 3 inches; Cardwell, N., and Toman, N., tied for second and third, 22 feet, 2 inches.

THE GREEK RUT

Those who wonder at the almost total lack of student curiosity on this campus concerning anything more significant than a football game or the latest varsity might find the answer in the kind of leadership in the school and the type of student it represents. As it has repeatedly been pointed out in The Collegian recently, the so-called leaders on the campus have been derived almost entirely from fraternities and sororities. And leadership representative of this group is not likely to produce anything that will be of any particular value.

It is no secret that the values emphasized by Greek organizations are of a superficial nature—things that appeal to that group we commonly term society. Ostentatiousness—clothes, money, a 'showy house' (regardless of the mortgage), a remote national standing—all these things of no intrinsic value educationally speaking, are picked up by a group of financially fortunate students and elevated to a position where they become an end in themselves. This little world becomes so intent on the mad scramble to obtain that much desired nothing known in the campus parlance as a "rating" that everything else is lost sight of.

It would be fallacious to assert that what is said above is true of every fraternity or sorority, or of every member of the Greek organizations. However it is true of the large majority. And this majority, through the pressure they are able to exert, due to the intimacy of interorganization contacts, are able to force the minority into the rut of conventionality. Those who are inclined to seek friends and contacts without the Greek circle find opposition of an indirect if not direct nature. Those who belittle the ostentatious values fraternities and sororities exalt are laughed or sneered into silence. Students who question the validity of some of the social theories so long cherished are branded "radicals", particularly if they combine action with their analysis.

Greek organizations because of their innate conservatism act as a check to liberal thought. In this age when social enlightenment is so obviously necessary, fraternities and sororities by emphasizing conformity to traditional forms of thought only serve to magnify the mistakes of the present social system and to serve in their perpetuation. And as long as the leaders of the school—the ones from whom advancement must necessarily find its origin—are derived entirely from Greek organizations little hope for a general student awakening can be held.

JUST WHY, DR. HILL?

In a speech in the student forum held in the college cafeteria last Wednesday noon, H. T. Hill, head of the department of public speaking, asserted that the effect the ROTC had on the peace situation was entirely negligible.

If one takes Dr. Hill's viewpoint it is a bit difficult to understand just why the "powers that be" fight so insistently any movement to abolish compulsory military training on American campuses. Why does the government spend millions in the maintenance of ROTC units? Why did the Kansas legislature find it necessary to interfere in a disagreement between a college administration and its students if the whole question is of no importance? Those questions Dr. Hill did not pretend to answer. Could it be possible that he underestimated certain psychological and educational factors that make the ROTC anything other than negligible in its influence?

YOUTH ON WAR

At almost the same time that the University of Kansas and other colleges and universities in the United States were sounding the alarm that youth, who fights the wars, disapproves greatly of war, and war preparation, the Kansas legislature was passing a bill telling the students at the agricultural college in Manhattan that they must take compulsory military training.

If the feelings of the students in colleges in the United States are of sufficient worth to be taken seriously, it may be assumed that a change of attitude is taking place—almost between generations—youth votes against war and middle age votes for compulsory training. It may be that youth will change its attitude when it passes the age of fighting and reaches the age of law-making.

It is an unusual thing when vigorous and naturally aggressive youth takes a stand against war. The proverbial youth of our ancestors enjoyed a good fight. They still tell about their conquests. But present day youth is a pacifist, proud of his stand. A new patriotism is being born. The Golden Rule may, perhaps, at last be tried, when youth is handed the reigns of the country, but then youth will not be youth any more; it will have become middle age, and its thought will be changed somewhat. Then it may believe in preparedness as strongly as it now does in pacifism. Youth only fights and suggests. When a man becomes old enough to have the intelligence to decide matters of the importance of war, he is no longer young enough to fight.—The University Daily Kansan.

The Snooper

We've been planning to "call" Frances Farrell for appearing on the hill with one black shoe and one brown last week but after she hung out Ross' D Tau D square this weekend we're not asking her to explain.

And we still want to tell that one about Matherly's pink cheeks when people speak of holding hands with a taxi driver, in lieu of paying a fare during the Key-girl's hell-week.

One who claims himself to be a Beta (tho' why claim THAT!) phones us nix on that pin publicity stuff for this weekend. Now we hear, we missed the mark—More than one pin will be chained up. Waitnsee.

Nine o'clock Sunday evening (Ivan (Friend-of-the-People) Wassberg marched into a sorority house and demanded two dates. The lack of timing on that one was practically perfect. Wassberg, coming as it did the night after the Delt party. Even a week beforehand would have had its difficulties for him, we're afraid.

We are dedicating this week (Remember we, unlike our editor, can dislike only one frat a week) to "Take-the-Tekes" Week. You take em, and make mine a lemon coke.

The Oklahoma basketball team carries one player so homely his sole duty is to frighten the ladies into a faint. The home team supposedly then loses its morale thru' loss of rosters. One look at that map and even we asked faintly for water.

One basketball fan politely asked Helen Hall would it be all right if he replaced his hat in the closing minutes of play Saturday night. After one look at the head-piece she decided it would be much safer on than off and so she "stood" the game out.

Bob Vollmer in "Camp Caperings" for the Oklahoma Daily from Norman, tells us that when Little Audrey left and left he hoped she wouldn't come back!

If this weather didn't make us feel like we were up to our neck in molasses we'd give you the details of the blank Claude Ross drew Saturday evening. But perhaps Claude's demonstration of "How to Act Bored" (in one lesson) did it a lot better than we could, anyway.

Lawrence Reed returned to present his "Swoop Park Dance" for us again this Saturday last. With a bit of music he makes a good measuring stick for any carpenter.

Perhaps you have noticed the Royal Purple's insistence that everyone be present for group pictures. Fir Sigma Delta Chi, Journalism hon. for men, one absence was recorded—Spencer Wyant's. Let's see—he's janitor over at the year-book office, we believe.

Several of our brighter lights, dramatically speaking, have reverted to the days of their childhood to appear in the high school production of "The Family Upstairs." Ted Skinner, directing, has haunted the campus the past few days, begging erstwhile friends to buy tickets. We hope he sells one.

One of the local bright boys says that still water not only runs deep but it also stagnates.

What this campus needs is a new frog club—not for swimmers, but for all the croakers. No doubt the membership would be reckoned in the hundreds.

Kfraternity recommends that all varsity letter awards on slip-over sweaters be not less than eight inches in size. Just the size, we suppose, to be easily distinguishable from any point on the campus.

At The Theaters

AT THE DICKINSON
 "Devil Dogs of the Air"

There is not a dull moment in "Devil Dogs of the Air" which is at the Dickinson this week, starting Sunday and running through Wednesday.

James Cagney and Pat O'Brien are a couple of marines in the air corps. Pat O'Brien has been in the marines for several years and he sends, for James Cagney, who was an old friend of his in Brooklyn, to come to California to join the service. He arrives at a most inopportune time and he flies over the government field just as they are having inspection. Of course his plane makes a lot of noise and he insists upon doing several tail spins just for good measure.

It is necessary for O'Brien to remind him when he lands and this starts a series of quarrels between the two which are made worse because of a girl, Margaret Lindsay, who works at a lunch counter; and Cagney's extreme cockiness with the famous Cagney laugh. There is some doubt as to who is going to get the girl but everything turns out quite satisfactorily in the end. Frank MacHugh turns in a good performance as the ambulance driver who never seems to find any patients. There are some very good airplane scenes and all James Cagney fans will be more than pleased with this picture.

There is also a Vitaphone comedy with Bill Robinson in "King for a Day," and a cartoon short "Those Beautiful Dames."

education, physical education, home economics, and general science will select two girls to represent their departments and the Y. W. C. A. will choose one from this group to be chairman of the conference and preside at all the meetings.

Some of the subjects to be discussed are: psychology of the adolescent girl; the meaning of the Y. W. C. A.; and an analysis of a small town and the adviser's relation to it.

Last year fifty-six certificates were awarded girls for attending the meetings.

AT THE VARSITY
 "Evergreen"

"Evergreen," now playing at the Varsity is the swiftest musical comedy you have had a chance to see in many moons. The principle reason for the picture's merit rests in the talents and beauty displayed by Jessie Matthews, a British star who is said to be a great find by movie critics everywhere.

Unlike the majority of musicals, "Evergreen" has a plot that is not merely a vehicle on which to hang a bunch of songs and gags. And that idea in regard to the inability of the subjects of George V to catch the point of a clever joke does a boomerang and slaps the local audiences in the face. There cracks in this picture, made in England and supposed to be for British audiences, that the local Sunday audience muffed badly.

There is considerable difference in the way that chorus girls are clothed in "Evergreen" and the American style, there being a noticeable lack of concealing the figure in the former. But the censors got after the dialogue and cut a few of the bad words out, so the plane of the production's morals remains on the American level.

In the line of dances, Miss Matthews has everything. And when it comes to the rumba, she eclipses even Margo, the rumba specialist. A laughable comedy with Thelma Todd and Patsy Kelly tops the program off admirably.

"LIFE IN COLLEGE is a busy one," says John Cowdery, '38. On top of that, I have a job that takes up three nights a week. So you can see my time is pretty full. I get tired...feel 'blue' sometimes when my energy is at a low ebb. ## In Tie For Fourth

Kansas State Occupies Same Position in Big Six Rankings As Missouri University

The Kansas State basketball team moved into a tie for fourth place in the Big Six standings, by splitting a twin-bill with the University of Oklahoma over the weekend. After losing by a score of 24 to 22 in a thriller-packed game, Friday night, the Wildcats came back and won the second game, 31 to 18.

Through the loss of the second game, the Sooners are virtually eliminated as a contender for the conference championship. This time State shares fourth position with the Missouri Tigers. Both teams have won four and lost eight in conference competition. Nebraska practically clinched the cellar position by losing to Kansas university, Friday night.

The Sooners started out with a brilliant passing attack, Friday night, that netted them four buckets out of five shots within three minutes, the first field goal coming when the game was but 10 seconds old. Rallying, the K-Staters took the half, 13 to 10, by establishing a defense that held Oklahoma scoreless the last half of the period.

A one-handed flip by Gilpin and a charity toss by Rallsback gave State a two-point lead with less than three minutes to play in the last half. Warren, Sooner forward, re-entered the game and connected with two flings putting Oklahoma ahead. The Wildcats tried frantically to tie the score in the last few seconds but failed.

Inability to hit action shots, cost the Aggies the game. Kansas State made 9 field goals in 61 shots averaging 15 per cent, while Oklahoma, who tried but 48 action shots, made 12 baskets for 25 per cent.

Groves took scoring honors with 10 points. Warren and Nelson of the Officials—E. C. Quigley and Parke Carroll.

By setting up a tight defense, which limited the Sooners to five field goals, and by working their plays with precision, the Wildcats trounced Oklahoma, Saturday night 31 to 18.

State grabbed a 9 to 2 lead with fourteen minutes played, but Oklahoma rallied to knot the score. A free throw by Gilpin and a basket by Groves, with less than a half minute to play in the first half, put K-State ahead 12 to 9 at the intermission.

With seven minutes played in the second half, Kansas State lead 20 to 9. A Sooner rally failed and the Wildcats' play took on a conservative attitude, shooting only when it seemed a sure goal.

The Aggies made 19.7 per cent of its 66 action shots, while Oklahoma, who was held to 40 shots, connected on only 5 of them to average 12.5 per cent. Scoring honors again went to Frank Groves, Wildcat center, who garnered six field goals for 12 points. Stoner was second high with 8. Browning, Sooner captain and all-Big Six forward, who was held scoreless Friday night, made one goal and all of his five free throws to lead the Oklahoma team.

Groves went ahead of Browning in the Big Six individual scoring standings, while Warren, Sooner forward, passed Jim Freeland.

Swim Meet Tonight

Kansas State Doped to Win Over Washburn in Dual in Nichols
Gymnasium

The Kansas State swimming team is expected to repeat the victory it recently won over Washburn when the two teams meet tonight in Nichols gymnasium at 7:30.

Although the Washburn team has a good dash man, and a fairly strong distance swimmer, the second places are expected to win the meet. "This is the first time in a few years that Kansas State has had a well balanced team," says Coach Moll, "and we are going to give all of the team a good match."

Joe Creed, Kansas State swimming captain and dash man is expected to win the hundred and the two hundred yard dash.

The probable line up for Kansas State:

200 yard relay—Churchill, Lassus, Umberger, and Brady.
200 yard breast stroke—Blanche and Combs.
150 yard back stroke—Steele.
60 yard free stroke—Creed and Brady or Churchill.
440 yard—Lassen, and Waller or McNay.
100 yard—Creed and Umberger.
220 yard—Creed and Umberger.
Diving—Gaume and Churchill.
Medley relay—Steele, Blanche, and Brady.

FIVE MEETS LEFT

It's a two team race for the 1934-35 Big Six basketball title... the Cyclones of Iowa State and the four-time Kansas university Jayhawkers. This weekend Kansas State has their last crack at the champs in a two game series and if the brand of basketball that the Wildcats have shown in their last two encounters keeps up, the boys from Lawrence will be amply entertained during their stay in Manhattan... The primary difficulty in beating the men of Doc Allen, is to stop Ray Ebling. Bottling up Ebling won't win the games but it is a big step in the right direction. We're hoping for, and expecting, at least one win for the Wildcats... and in any case it is a cinch that the games will be interesting.

From the Tulane Hullahaloo, who admit that they swiped it from the Northwestern, we find a new kind of winter sport that might be worth trying on Wildcat creek some wintery afternoon....

According to the Northwestern, the game is played as follows:
"The players are two friends of Dutch, the white bulldog of North campus. The puck is Dutch himself. The field is any convenient stretch of ice, preferably the frozen pond just north of University Hall.

"The two players stand at opposite ends of the field. Calling Dutch's attention to a stick, they throw the stick across the ice to the opponent. Dutch follows in eager pursuit. As the stick arrives at the end of the field ahead of Dutch, the player at that end lifts it up into the air.
"Dutch leaps for the stick, and because the ice is slick, his hind legs continue forward. If he slides over on his back in a perfect half-gallop, the player scores ten points. If he only loses his balance and skids on his side or face, the player scores as many points as the length of feet Dutch travels.
"As soon as the puck is worn out the game is ended. The player with the highest score wins."
Dutch loses

SOCIETY

By Barbara Claassen—Dial 3539

Society calls for comment this week—with the approaching close of winter formal as evidenced by Delta Tau Delta's party Saturday night—with continued grace of the weekend formalities at the Sigma Alpha Epsilon's buffet supper Sunday—and with numerous Greek house parties over the weekend. Recent formal initiations held by Chi Omega, Clovia, Phi Kappa, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Alpha Xi Delta, Kappa Delta Pi and Zeta Tau Alpha climax their pledging season for the first semester.

Delta Tau Delta:

The Delta Tau Delta winter formal was held Saturday evening, February 16, at the Warehouse ballroom. Guests were: Col. and Mrs. John S. Sullivan, Capt. and Mrs. I. E. Ryder, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Alexander, Mrs. W. W. Davis, Capt. W. A. Swift, James Ryan, Frank Byrne, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Isaacson, Ralph R. Lashbrook, V. D. I give you the mildest smoke, the best-tasting smoke. You wonder what makes me different. I'll tell you. It's center leaves. I spurn the little, sticky, top leaves . . . so bitter to the taste. ## Records Fall As K.S. Track Men Beat M.U.

WILDCATS SET FOUR NEW MARKS AND THEIR OPPONENTS TWO

K.S. Captain High

Knappenberger First in 60-yard High And Low Hurdles, Second in 60-Yard Dash

The Kansas State track team continued its winning stride to defeat the Missouri Tigers, 51 1-2 to 41 1-2, in their dual indoor meet at Columbia, Saturday.

The Wildcats placed first in seven events, and set new meet records in the 60 yard low hurdles, the quarter mile, half mile and 2 mile races. Lochner, of Missouri heaved the shot put for a meet record toss of 42 feet 7 1-2 inches, and Waters broadjumped to a new distance of 23 feet 4 inches.

Joe Knappenberger, Wildcat hurdling star, equalled his old mark of 7.5 seconds in the high sticks and shaved a tenth of a second off the low stick mark of 7.1 seconds, set by Schmutz of Kansas State two years ago, and then added a place in the 60-yard dash for a high individual score of 13 points.

Justice O'Reilly took first place in the 880-yard run and clipped 6.8 seconds off the mile record when he won that event in 4 minutes 24.4 seconds to make himself the only other double winner.

More points possibly would have been added to the Wildcat score had not Robinson, a 2-mile runner, fallen at the last 50 yards of the race. Peters who has not competed before in the high jump in college competition took second place.

The Wildcats strength on the track and weakness in the field is attested by the fact that the Tigers won only one victory on the cinders while Kansas State men did not win a single field event.

The summaries:

60-yard dash—Won by Cooley, Missouri; Knappenberger, Kansas State, second. Time 6.3 seconds, (ties previous meet record).

440-yard dash—Won by Nixon, Kansas State; Sweet, Kansas State, second. Time 6.3 seconds, (ties previous meet record).

60-yard high hurdles—Won by Knappenberger, Kansas State; Walker, Missouri, second. Time 7.5 seconds, (ties previous meet record).

Pole vault—Won by Teter, Missouri; Ayers, Kansas State, second. Height 12 feet, (ties meet record).

Shot put—Won by Lochner, Missouri; Hays, Kansas State, second. Distance 42 feet 7 1-2 inches, (new meet record).

Two-mile run—Won by Wheelock, Kansas State; Beasley, Missouri, second. Time 2:6.7.

RELATES COLLEGE HISTORY

K. S. First to Teach Dressmaking Says Dr. Willard

Kansas State college in 1873 was the first college to give instruction in dressmaking, Dr. J. T. Willard, vice-president of the institution, told the Co-operative club at its weekly meeting Thursday night in the Wareham hotel.

Dr. Willard, who has been connected with the institution since 1879, with the exception of two years, mentioned all of the presidents of the college in the order they served.

The club program also included the membership charge to Frank C. Clark by Dr. A. A. Holtz, and two vocal selections by Thomas Mason, accompanied by Donald Engle.

Original Stunts In Ag Orpheum

Song Written by Mrs. Christine Root Will Be Featured in "Smoke Dreams"

A song written by Mrs. Christine Root, wife of Frank Root, Kansas State head basketball coach, will be featured in "Smoke Dreams," one of six presentations to be given by Prof. Edwin Sayre, of the college music department, in the Ag Orpheum which will be presented by the Y. M. C. A. in the college auditorium, Friday and Saturday, March 8 and 9.

The title of Mrs. Root's song is "Smoke Dreams," from which the stage presentation derives its name. The action portrays the reminiscence thoughts of a man smoking a pipe before a fireplace. Dancers visualize his reveries. Songs by the men and women's choruses supplement the scene. Two other numbers, "Beat of My Heart," and "Solitude," with incidental music complete the act.

Originality in this year's Orpheum is apparently in abundance, for none of Professor Sayre's presentations are adapted from other productions. For instance, "Kansas Barroom," the fifth of the presentations on Professor Sayre's program features the dance of the Carrie Nations. The movements of six dancers clad in costumes reminiscent of the famous woman prohibitionist, portray the antics of the notorious hatcheter.

Then there is another stunt composed of savage dances to the mad rhythmic music of the Russian composer, Stravinsky.

The remainder of the acts by Professor Sayre and his groups will enact such drama as a cathedral scene, Negro spiritual scene, and a big performance called Manhattan Madness.

Kansas State students will find humor in Delta Delta Delta's take off on Romeo and Juliet, wise cracks in Beta Theta Pi's idea of a news broadcast from the K. S. C. campus, beauty in Phi Beta Phi's song and dance numbers, amusement at Chi Omega's human weiners, buns, and mustard jars, and laughter at Lambda Chi Alpha's burlesque politicians.

Hunter In Chapel

Chancellor of Denver University Who Is a Former Football Coach Here April 5

F. M. Hunter, chancellor of Denver University, will be on this campus April 5 and will address Kansas State students in assembly.

Formerly a football player and later a coach, this man is now interested in trying out new educational ideas. He attended the teacher college at Columbia and later received his PhD from the University of Southern California at Berkeley. He belongs to numerous honorary fraternities and is professor of educational administration at Denver University in the summer session.

63 REGISTER WITH ALUMNI LOAN FUNDS

Alumni loan funds made possible enrollment for 63 students at Kansas State college the second semester, Dr. W. E. Grimes, chairman of the loan board, said. The loans of which nearly 20 per cent already aggregated approximately $2,500, has been repaid. At the beginning of the autumn semester, 182 students borrowed $5,246.10, and all has been repaid.

KANSAS YOUTH TO CAMPUS

Kansas youth will meet on the college campus March 29-31, in the Kansas rural youth conference sponsored by the college 4-H club. The theme this year is "Better Rural Life." Howard Moreen, Salina, is in charge of the conference arrangements.

Grid Men Soon To Begin Play

Emphasis on Spring Practice This Year Due To Insufficient Time in Fall

Equipment for spring football practice is being checked out at present in preparation for five weeks hard practice, according to coach "Wes" Fry. Coach Fry said that spring practice will be stressed heavily this year because of the short period of time, thirteen practices, available before the first game with Duquesne next fall.

Freshmen will report Wednesday for practice and will receive special attention on work on stance and shifting, familiarizing themselves with the general routine before the varsity men report on the following Monday.

"There will be no great changes over last year's style of play except that forward and lateral passes will be emphasized more," said coach Fry.

A list of those out for practice is not available at present and the exact number who will probably turn out is not known but Fry believes that the number can not be too great. "I would like to see 200 turn out," said coach Fry.

The present schedule of spring practice calls for several open practices and at least two full time scrimmage games. Practice will last until April 6.

FASCISM IN DISGUISE? ...

From the Oklahoma Daily.

The optimistic illusion persists that the United States is enjoying an unparalleled era of freedom of speech, and the vicious propaganda of such public enemies as William Randolph Hearst is apt to be lightly dismissed as of no consequence. As far as the national government is concerned it is probably true that the freedom to express any and all opinions has never been greater.

But if one watches the labor press and the news reports of groups devoted to defending political prisoners, the conclusion is inescapable that locally in every section of the Union the Bill of Rights is becoming a scrap of paper and violence the order of the day.

California and Louisiana in this respect are no longer news. The following not on repression are enough to show which way the wind is blowing in many other states. In Oklahoma City federal officers jailed 16 persons for communistic activities under a sedition law passed during the Civil war. The offense consisted of mailing to federal officials "threatening" postcards at relief headquarters last May. In Chicago, late in January, police raided and wrecked the West Side Workers' forum during a dance and arrested 33 persons on charges of operating a disorderly house.

Meanwhile legislation compelling loyalty is finding its way into various state legislatures. In Albany the Ives law is on the books and another has been introduced requiring an oath of loyalty from every college freshman. In Nebraska, the Elks, as part of a nation-wide campaign, are circulating petitions to make communism and communists illegal. The conflict of economic interests which breeds fascism is growing sharper as recovery is delayed. . . . And let no one imagine that fascism always arrives as a strange young man in a colored shirt. It is much more likely to be ushered in by an old familiar Hearst wrapped in a yellow sheet.

A GREEK ANSWER

In answer to the editor's editorial "The Greek Rut" in the last issue of The Collegian we offer the following points as a parallel to his article:

First—The society places scholarship high in its so-called "aided program". It does not specify that the student be garbed in the height of fashion in entering the library door, but that he at least appear neatly dressed. One must admit that cleanliness is next to godliness, and neatness is, psychologically speaking, an aid to orderliness of mind.

Second—As to financial status, we cite the number of students wearing the Greek insignia who are working their way through school. This number, in some instances, received their initiation dues as a gift. Surely, one does not refuse a gift simply because it gives one an otherwise denied pleasure. The name Greek does not class one as wealthy.

Third—In defense of the social side—does not even the Barb have his party? Does not he attend the school dances? Can one find the Greek and Barb so far apart as to not enjoy a show side by side? Belonging to a Greek society does not limit the number of friends of any Greek who would not under other circumstances be termed a "high-hat". Friendship depends on a personality—not a badge.

These three arguments are given in answer, as previously stated, to the editor's own viewpoints. Were he to look further into the question, he would find the Greek society offering financial assistance to all worthy students asking it; and providing on the whole, a wholesome association.—Virginia Sidingler.

AT LAST—A WORTHWHILE CHAPEL

The hour from 11 to 12 o'clock last Thursday morning should go down in history as one of the most important in this year's Kansas State history. It marks the first and only time that a speaker with liberal tendencies has stood upon the platform in student assembly and addressed the student body in an intelligent, reasonable manner on vital problems of the present day. Dr. Harold Case is widely known as a leader of youth and his speech was vividly presented and thought provoking in content.

If the students of this college are ever to be aroused to follow the lead of other universities and take an active leadership in the formation of opinion in public affairs they must be brought into contact with more thinkers like Dr. Case. What a powerful educational force student assemblies could become if men of this type were frequently obtained as speakers!

The Snooper

We're not really trying to make this a matrimonial Bureau for Betas but you've gotta admit we were a fair forecaster for Murph and Rat-Hiff, and Seaton and Holton. To think that Seaton used to ridicule hanging fraternity hardware, as he called it!

Now we are trying it again—three more Beta pins are going visiting as soon as the new initiates get their own girl-bait on their vests, waitsee.

If we were six feet two and proportionately awkward it's hard to believe we would take our first roller-skating lesson in Aggieville in front of our tuxedoed, erstwhile friends. But Blackman will be Blackman!

We have never known Don Isaacson well so we have always liked him. Therefore it can be only a friendly tip when we advise him that if he must run about town at eight o'clock in the morning in pajamas and robe, to try some more alluring color combination than baby blue and grass green. It seems so blitious!

Alice Kimball's hair is, we note, abruptly red—after many years of her being a little "brown Babe!"

Sigma Nus had Marie Buchanan and "Sis" Antrim calling 3322 (Manhattan Floral) for Jimmy Mayden Saturday evening. We've never thought of Mayden as a shrinking violet but maybe they know him a lot better than we do.

Soapy Woodbury's pin stayed on Frankie a much too short a time this weekend for respectability. He claims she'd been "messing" around too much but we could tell that by looking at her the first time we saw her!

Helen Hanson and Bob Wilson, who passed candy and cigars to the ChiOs and Betas a year ago, were surprised by the Snooper buying china and glassware this weekend.

"The Isle of Capri," Percy Pink-pants triumphantly announces, is in the Bay of Naples and has an area of six square miles. And they can take the song right back as far as we're concerned!

"I didn't know George Washington was an AGR," was Leslie King's futile remark to Mary Jean Edelblute after a glance at the decorations Thursday evening. The fact that the entire nation celebrates the birth of our First President didn't seem to have its impression on the famed King intellect.

Our genuine paper orchid for the week goes to the gink who cracked, "You may be a Ubangi to your mother but I want none of your lip."

The POP party will re-echo this weekend in the hearts of a few aged alumnae.

Speaking of POP (Warner this time)—one bright junior lass murmured guilelessly, "Why do they call Verne 'Popeye.' Is it because he 'looks' so much!"

Now is the time for all good men to send the monthly check to daughter—and son.

"I'd Beta not" is the classic supposedly turned out by one of K-State's brighter dames in refusing a bid to the Sunset boys "Free Food For Fems." We feel sure she was not quite bright, tho', in deciding to "steady" a guy not a Beta the week before the Pork and Bean spread.

We hear that our Piph Yancey REALLY left school because the sisters refused her initiation after her grades merited her the arrow. Shelpus, if it isn't a fact.

"College days," says Danny Partner, "are fine but they don't compare to college nights." Let's see—who visited at the PIPhi house this weekend from Hutchinson?

And it's Gertrude Arnold who insists that a friend in need is the one who keeps you broke.

Those pained expressions on a great many co-ed faces can be blamed not so much on your boresome monologue as an intramural basketball which begins in earnest soon, after some fairly odd practice periods. The pansy who surprised us with her basketing was Kappa's Woodburn. It must be nice to be worth something to your house at least!

This week, we are happy to state, is "Cultivate-a-Clovie" Week. But like preparing for a rabbit stew—first you have to catch one!

How many Betas can or will explain the main events of Friday afternoon as far as the Beta Barn is concerned?

Gentle Gests By Elma Edwards

Never do today what you can get someone else to do tomorrow.

One way to get a laugh in these distressing days of depression and five-week quizzes—just read the college-catalogue descriptions of some of those courses you are taking.

Our nomination for this week's most unusual people: the young man whom the student directory lists as living at Van Zile hall, and the young woman who had never been to Sunset park.

Before attending a basketball game everyone should learn to boo. The game is more interesting if he learns what he is booing about, but the latter is not essential to a thorough enjoyment of the playing.

The real reason is one's own interpretation of the other fellow's excuse.

The little boy who used to drive his father wild practicing on his horn is now playing in the military band doing the same thing on a slightly larger scale.

AT THE DICKINSON

"Sweet Music"

Even if you have never liked musical comedies, you'll like "Sweet Music," which started at the Dickinson Sunday and runs through Wednesday. And if there is such a thing as your not liking Rudy Vallee you'll like him in this. It surpasses anything he has ever done.

However, the fact that there are such players as Ann Dvorak, who by the way can really dance. Ned Sparks, Allen Jenkins, Alice White, you remember her, and Helen Morgan; she sang one song, she didn't need to sing more, you remembered it, makes it a real hit.

If I seem to be bubbling over with enthusiasm think nothing of it, but if you are used to going to a musical comedy and hear someone who doubtless can sing very well start singing at his work and then the first thing you know he has a whole orchestra accompanying him—well, the effect is unreal of course. There are no such situations in Sweet Music. Rudy Vallee has orchestra starts out playing be a college music club, then they play in vaudeville then over the radio. It is to this orchestra that Ann Dvorak sings and dances.

If the show could be stolen by any one person, it would be by Allen Jenkins who is Vallee's enterprising press agent. Ned Sparks runs him a close second as Ann Dvorak's Agent.

WHEN YOU WANT TO MAKE UP AND DON'T KNOW HOW...

I'm your best friend

I am your Lucky Strike

Others may disappoint. I never do. I'm always mild, always fine to taste—because I'm made of fragrant, expensive center leaves, only. Turn your back on top leaves. I do. They're raw, bitter, stinging. Turn your back on bottom leaves because these coarse, sandy, grimy bottom leaves don't belong in your smoke. Before I consider it worthy, every leaf must be a center leaf, mild, fine-tasting, fragrant. That's why I'm your best friend.

Wildcats Drop Pair Of Close Games To K.U.

JAYHAWKERS WIN FRIDAY NIGHT 39-33; SATURDAY NIGHT 36-30

Groves, Ebling Star

Score 13 Points Apiece in First Tilt But Ebling Totals 14 to Groves' 13 Saturday

The Kansas State Wildcats were shoved back down into fifth place in the Big Six conference standings, when the Kansas university basketball team lost two games from the Aggies over the week-end, 39 to 33 and 36 to 30. Although trailing at the half both Friday and Saturday nights, the Jayhawkers put on whirlwind finishes in each game that left State six points behind at the final gun.

Ray Ebling, leading scorer of the conference, demonstrated perhaps too fully for the spectators why he is likely to repeat his selection as All-Big Six forward this year. Twice Friday night his goals placed the Jayhawkers ahead of Kansas State. Saturday night, with State leading by a point and only five minutes left in the ball game, Ebling turned on the team and hit the ring four times in four tries, putting the game on ice for Kansas.

The expected scoring battle between Groves, State center, and Ebling was quite close. Both men garnered 13 points Friday night, but Ebling shaded Groves in Saturday night's contest by a point, getting 14 to Frank's 13.

Friday night, the K-Staters dominated the first half, which ended 16 to 14 in favor of the Aggies. Aided by a charity toss and three field goals by Ebling, Kansas took a seven point lead early in the second half. State rallied in turn and grabbed the lead again 27 to 25. Gilpin's "goofy" shot tied the score and Rallsback took the next tip-off to put the Wildcats ahead.

After tying at 29 all, Ebling came through to put the university in the lead, where they stayed for the remainder of the game.

The Jayhawkers started fast Saturday night and took an 8 to 1 lead with five minutes played. A minute and a half later State tied the score at 8 all and then proceeded to take the first period 17 to 14.

Coming out strong, Kansas once again tied the score, only to have the K-Staters pull away to a five point lead. With only five minutes left in the game, the Aggies led by a point and then Ebling started the fireworks. His brilliant shooting exhibition put the contest safely in the bag for the university.

It was the last home appearance of Oren Stoner, Wildcat captain and guard, and James Freeland, forward. Stoner's play, both nights, was marked by aggressiveness and good defensive work. Freeland's height helped the Aggies numberless times around the backboard and aided him in getting 10 points Saturday night.

Kansas university had an exceptionally good average on action shots Saturday night, making 27.27 per cent of her 54 shots. Four of the university basketballers had an average of thirty per cent, or better, something which is very seldom done by any basketball team.

Wes Fry Is Satisfied With Number Of Football Players Reporting For Spring Drill

84 MEN HAVE CHECKED OUT EQUIPMENT—FIRST PRACTICE MONDAY UNDER STADIUM

Williamson To Aid

New Assistant Coach Will Help With Spring Coaching—Owen Cochran, Gene Sundgren Also To Be Coaches

Coach "Wes" Fry expressed himself as being well satisfied with the size of the squad that reported for spring football practice Wednesday evening. The squad received a good workout under the stadium as the weather conditions were unfavorable for outdoor practice.

Stanley Williamson, new assistant coach, is expected to arrive in Manhattan this morning. He is driving from Oklahoma City.

Sixty-eight freshmen reported for practice to coach Fry. Owen "Chile" Cochran and Gene Sundgren who will assist in coaching the line during spring practice. The freshmen are being drilled in stance, shifting, and general formations for four days before the entire squad will report on Monday.

Sundgren who completed his varsity competition last fall is called by Fry the best technician in stance and line form that he has ever seen. "He is doing mighty nice work with the line," said Coach Fry.

There are eighty-four men who have checked out equipment up to the present time, however, several of the varsity men, including Captain Dean Griffing, who have not checked out at present, will report Monday.

Beginning Monday the split practice session used last fall will be used. The squad, which will number over one hundred strong, will be divided into two groups, one of which will report at 8:15 and the second group at 4:30. By this means the coaching staff is able to work with the men for a longer time without waste of time to the remainder of the squad.

Tackles: Bill Wright, N. H. Lindbloom, Lehnus Hurst, Floyd Olson, C. E. Kert, Orval Jacoby, Joe Lane, Paul Nelson, J. S. Dukelow, Eugene Danier.

Guards: Dan Partner, Duane Murphy, Jack Stephens, Frank Hund, Floyd Tannahill, John Dukelow, Rola Holland, Augustus Cardarelli, Ray Olson, Ray Lowry, Jim Eskildson, Bob Root, L. W. Marsh, Vernon Maresch, Harry J. Witt, Harold King, Howard Myers, Loren Skinner, and Roger Crow.

Centers: George Root, H. A. Witt, Riley Whearty, Ralph Long, Ivan Wassberg, E. L. White, George Dean, Harold Urickson, John Harrison, Eugene Minor, Kenneth Brechelsen, and J. W. Tonkin.

Quarterbacks: Ray Hook, Earl Ruff, Grant Freeman, Fred Fair, Donald Oman.

Iowa University Ends Hell Week

California, Iowa, Wisconsin, Illinois, and Kansas Universities Have Ended It

The University of Iowa yesterday joined the ranks of institutions that have abolished Hell Week.

Although hell week has not been banned officially at Kansas State, several fraternities have done away with the custom.

The president of the men's pan-hellenic council at Kansas State, H. L. Beckett of Garden City, said that nearly all Greek organizations have eliminated the roughest practices of physical hazing. The K-fraternity—an organization of lettermen in athletics on this campus voted about a week ago to abandon hell week.

Before that time that initiation had been considered among the worst work outs at the college.

The Iowa interfraternity council definitely outlawed the practice at a meeting Wednesday night. Only one dissenting vote was cast. It was given up voluntarily at the University of Wisconsin. The interfraternity council at the University of Illinois voted to do away with it, and students at the University of California and California Agricultural College abandoned it of their own accord several months ago.

Hazing activities at the University of Kansas were restricted in 1928 and a year or two later they were banned entirely.

The same problem is now being considered at the University of Michigan.

DISCUSSION GROUPS PLANNED

"Love and Marriage" Subject of Y. W. C. A. Discussion Groups

A series of joint Y. W. C. A.-Y. M. C. A. discussion groups on the subject of "Love and Marriage" is being planned for the month of March. Qualified speakers will give talks and then lead discussions of the topic of the meeting. A discussion group on this topic is held every other year and in the past has proved very popular with the students.

The dates and subject of the meetings are as follows: March 7, "Choice of a Life Partner"; March 14, "Economics of Marriage"; March 21, "Physical Side of Marriage"; March 28, "Romance in Marriage." The meetings are to start at 7:30 o'clock. The place of meetings has not been decided upon yet. Virginia Dole is chairman of the Y. W. committee and Allan Settle is chairman of the Y. M. committee planning the meetings.

March 9 Is Set As Final Date For Yearbook

NO BOOKS MAY BE PURCHASED AFTER THAT DATE

To Be Out Early

Yearbook Will Be Distributed May 1 If Student Body and Organizations Cooperate

The last date when books may be purchased has been set for March 9 according to Spencer Wyant, editor, and after this date it will be impossible to order any more books. The order for the exact number of books wanted will be definitely fixed March 9, and no extra copies will be printed. Those wishing to buy a book should make arrangements at the Royal Purple office in Anderson hall immediately.

The entire staff has been working especially hard for the last month, and will have half of the copy completed and ready for insertion into the binding by tonight. With cooperation from the student body and those organizations and individuals in the book, it will be possible to deliver the Royal Purple to the student body May 1, instead of a few days before the end of school as in former years.

This year the student council and the college have purchased 157 books to be distributed to the larger high schools of the state to interest prospective Kansas State students in the activities and opportunities of the college.

Appropriation For Building Is Approved

$300,000 WILL GO TO K-STATE IF BILL PASSES

Replaces Denison

Science Building To Take Place of Structure Burned Last Summer Is Planned

A bill providing for the appropriation of $150,000 a year for two years for the purpose of building and equipping a physical science building at Kansas State college was introduced by the state senate ways and means committee Wednesday. Appropriations for three other buildings totaling $386,000 were also introduced.

Planning is already under way for a new chemistry and physics building although nothing definite has been decided. Plans are being considered by the architecture department who will work under the supervision of the state architect. The physics and chemistry departments are being consulted concerning any ideas which they may have.

Prof. Paul Weigel, head of the department of architecture, stated that nothing definite had been decided about the type of structure of the proposed building and that it would be two or three weeks before any report could be given concerning it.

Two sites, the one of the former chemistry building which was destroyed by fire, and the plot of ground west of the green houses, are being considered for the placing of the new structure. The new building will be constructed of the same stone as the other buildings on the campus.

The bill introduced by the ways and means committee also provides for appropriation for the construction of three other buildings for state institutions and for the repair and completion of another. They are: An additional hospital unit at the State Sanatorium for Tuberculosis at Norton; A connecting link, colored ward, dispensary building and equipment at Bell Memorial hospital at Kansas City; A criminal insane ward at the Larned State hospital; and the repair and completion of the Dyche museum at the University of Kansas at Lawrence.

The budget department of the state only recommended the funds for the buildings for Kansas State and the Bell hospital unit. The appropriations are the same as asked by the institutions and $456,000 in excess to what was recommended by the budget department.

The amount allowed for each institution is: Sanatorium at Norton—$125,000 each year in 1936 and 1937. Bell Memorial hospital—$125,000 each year in 1936, and 1937. Dyche museum—$46,000 in 1936. Physical science building for Kansas State—$150,000 each year in 1936 and 1937.

The building at Kansas State replaces one destroyed by fire and the Bell memorial unit will replace a building which is a fire hazard. The two other state institutions will be adding additional buildings.

—An Editorial—

Election System Subject To "Shady" Politics

The third phase of the investigation that The Collegian is making into the politics of Kansas State is directed toward the election system by which student elective offices are filled. Some rather startling revelations have come to light.

After nearly every student council election the campus is rife with rumors concerning the honesty with which the election was conducted. Particularly was this true of the election last spring. Two students, Kenneth Davis, assistant editor of The Collegian last year, and Chester George, a general science senior now attending Kansas State, doubted the honesty of the election and made an investigation in order to prove or disprove their beliefs.

"Because of the many rumors concerning the honesty of the election," said Chester George in an interview recently, "Davis and I decided to attempt to obtain the student directory in which the names of those who had voted were marked. With this directory we planned to check on whether or not all the students whose names were marked had actually voted. We inquired every place we thought it could possibly be, but we were unable to find it. Evidently it had been destroyed." Another investigation conducted by Kenneth Davis and Mark Kannal also failed to disclose the missing directory.

The above facts themselves would not constitute any particular grounds for suspicion if other facts did not emphasize their significance. Max Burk, last semester's editor of The Collegian, was heard to boast in the Mercury-Chronicle office one night last fall that he with the assistance of some others, had illegally cast over sixty ballots in the student council election. Burk explained that they had taken the names of students who were in school the first semester, but not the second—their names were still in the student directory—and had voted for them. This fact, coupled with the early disappearance of the student directory used for marking the names of those voted, seem to provide more than reasonable grounds for doubt as to the honesty with which last spring's student council election was conducted.

A junior in electrical engineering, had this to say, "In the student council elections last spring, I saw some student walk up to the fellow in charge of distributing the ballots, and while he was talking to him he picked up about six ballots. I don't think the fellow in charge knew about it."

A glance into the system under which elections at Kansas State are conducted demonstrates why it is easy for elections to be dishonestly manipulated. A quotation from the Student Governing Association constitution will help clarify. Section five under article five entitled "Election of Student Council Members" reads, "It shall be the duty of the secretary of the council to provide a place and necessary material for general elections and to appoint all necessary officers including three judges who are to certify the results to the President of the Council and the President of the college. Voting shall be by ballot. The polls shall be open from 8:30 a. m. to 5 p. m."

From the above quotation it can be seen that with the exception of such minor details as the time the polls shall be open, there is no established, definite way elections are to be controlled. The manner of balloting, and the selection of the judges are left entirely in the hands of the student council in power. Obviously there is no check on a student council that happens to be controlled by politically unethical persons.

MEDLIN PUBLISHES ARTICLE

Is Author of Article on Yearbook Subscriptions

C. J. Medlin, advertising manager of college publications, recently wrote an article on "Selling Yearbook Subscriptions" which appeared in the January issue of "The Scholastic Editor," a magazine for student journalists. In selling an annual, the business manager should first sell himself upon the value of the annual, then he is prepared for the campaign, he says.

Mr. Medlin feels that the largest single source of the revenue of an annual is from the circulation, therefore, a lot of time should be devoted to the planning of the subscription campaign through the use of the school paper, bulletin board, and stunts and announcements at school assemblies.

SCHOLAR RETURNS

C. H. Scholer, professor of applied mechanics, has recently returned from New York where he attended the American Concrete Institute meeting of the American Society for Testing Materials.

DAIRY CLUB ELECTS

Election of officers and a discussion concerning plans for the Little American Royal for next year was the program in the Dairy club meeting held recently.

The following officers were elected: L. G. Harmon, Hutchinson president; W. R. Smittle, Columbus, vice president; E. L. Morgan, Ottawa, secretary-treasurer; and E. L. Borgelt, Zenda, sergeant-at-arms. A new office, that of program chairman, was created, and H. J. Scanlan of Abilene, was elected to fill the position.

K. S. PROFESSOR ON PROGRAM

Dr. A. E. Aldous, professor of pasture improvement, and Prof. R. I. Throckmorton of the department of agronomy will appear on the program of the Central States Farm association meeting in Topeka tonight.

Dr. Aldous will address the meeting on "Problems of Pasture Management in 1935." Professor Throckmorton will speak on "Conservation of Soil by Terracing and Crop Rotation."

COOP MEAL GROUP TO DINNER DANCE

A dinner dance for the cooperative meal group at the college cafeteria will be held tonight, March 1, at 8:30 o'clock in the second floor dining room of the cafeteria. Members of the group are urged to bring guests. The dance is being sponsored by charter members of Phi Alpha Mu, a social organization within the "co-op" club. There will be music for the dinner hour, and several special quartet numbers during the evening. The dance music will be by the recording public address system used for the Y. M. C. A. dances. To help meet expenses one dime will be charged of all persons who dance. Dinner plates for non-cooperative guests will be twenty-five cents.

HORT CLUB ELECTS

The Horticulture club installed the following officers at its meeting recently: Harry Grass, La Crosse, president; L. C. Calahan, Abilene, vice-president; William Yerkes, Hutchinson, secretary-treasurer; and T. C. Stebbins, White City, program director. These officers were elected February 11.

Wrestlers Take Second Victory Over Jayhawks

KANSAS STATE ON TOP BY SCORE OF 18 1-2 TO 7 1-2

Howe Wins A Fall

Howe, 155 Pounds, Earns Only Fall, Defeating Noland Of Yesterday's Invaders

The Kansas State wrestling team again defeated their rivals, Kansas University, in a dual match last night in the Nichols gymnasium by a score of 18 1-2 to 7 1-2. This bettered their score of last January 10 when they defeated the Jayhawks 18 1-2 to 9 1-2.

Betz, Aggie 118 pound man, started the scoring by going to a draw with Roberts, The Kansas University 118 pounder. Last time Betz did not make the trip and Roberts was not eligible at the time, so this was the first meeting of the two men.

Fansher, the Kansas State 126 pounder, showed great class in defeating his opponent, McDougal, for the second time this year. However, McDougal came in fighting to win so that he could make up for the loss to Fansher earlier in the year.

The match that was the closest was the match between Claude "Hungry" Young, K-State 165 pounder, and Anneberge, Kansas University's 165 pound man. Young had four minutes advantage in this match.

Gene Howe, K-State 155 pound man, showed great class in defeating Noland, K. U.'s captain and Big Six champion in the 145 pound class last year, by a fall in 6:30. Noland, who was on the bottom at the time, attempted a double wristlock, but was unable to make a success of it. He was forced to rest just a moment too long on his shoulders and was consequently pinned. Howe and Noland were former class mates and came from the same town. They looked forward to this match with eagerness.

The match between "Tiny" Moore of K. U. and Holland of K-State drew the most applause from the crowd because of the difference in sizes of the two men. "Tiny" Moore, who weighs 275 pounds, looked like a mountain beside Holland, who weighs 192 pounds. Holland got a big hand from the crowd when he made a decisive come-out from underneath, but could not hold the advantage for very long.

The results of last night's matches are as follows: 118—Roberts, K. U., and Betz, K. S., went to a draw. 126—Fansher, K. S., won a decision from McDougal, K. U. 135—Douglas, K. U., won a decision from Walters, K. S. 145—Jessup, K. S., won a decision from Childs, K. U. 155—Howe, K. S., won by a fall from Capt. Noland, K. U. 165—Young, K. S., won a decision from Anneberge, K. U. 175—Swift, K. S., won a decision from Tilford, K. U. Heavyweight—Moore, K. U., won a decision from Holland, K. S.

All matches, except the fall, were awarded by a referee's decision instead of by time advantage. The referee was June Roberts, former Kansas State wrestler and who had a brother wrestling for Kansas University in the 118 pound class last night.

Sodium Lamps To Light Road At Open House

VERY LATEST DEVELOPMENT IN ILLUMINATION TO SHOW WAY TO VISITORS

Better Television

Improved Equipment Will Project And Receive Nearly Clear-Cut Black and White Images

Two full scale sodium vapor lamps, the very latest thing in illumination, will be used to light the campus road in front of the engineering building during the fifteenth annual Engineers' Open House program March 15 and 16, according to Dwight Gillidett, publicity director. These two lights will, in addition to lighting the road without glare, add a golden yellow tint to the brilliance of the flood lights that will play on the Engineering building at night.

For several years electrical engineers all over the country have been searching for a light that would produce a minimum of glare, and now they believe they have found it in the new sodium vapor lamp.

They not only are glareless but have a high efficiency, spreading an abundance of restful golden light. There is greater visibility and economy than in ordinary lighting. The lamps will be especially adapted for use on highways, where numerous accidents will probably be eliminated.

To demonstrate the highway use of these lights, the civil engineers are using scale models to light their model highway-railroad project. Their exhibit will not only show a completed railroad and road paralleling each other, but will have a section in the process of construction, showing the models of the machinery actually used. The railroad will be complete, even to a working model of the new Union Pacific streamline train.

In order to make the new television equipment more practicable, Junior Howard, electrical engineer, has finally completed a Kerr cell which is efficient in turning the television lights on and off at any rate up to the point of a million times a minute. In the process of preparing this cell, Howard has had to distill benzene down to the purest nitro-benzene.

Pictures projected by the equipment this year will have little resemblance to those sent last year. A new and larger screen and scanning (Continued on Page 3)

COME UP SOMETIME, SENATOR

Kansas State's communists, socialists, anarchists, fascists, and the followers of any of the other "isms" may well fear for their safety. Senator Skovgard, that staunch defender of 19th century "Americanism", is on the warpath and intends to expose to the people of the state any and all of Kansas' radicals from the "parlor pinks" to the most violent reds. Providing Senator Skovgard's proposals for an investigating committee to look into this alarming growth of liberalism in the state schools is approved by the state legislature, the college may look forward to another exposure of "subversive activities."

Contrary to what Senator Skovgard may believe, or desire to believe—there is a total lack of any organized liberal or radical movements on this campus. This fact has been repeatedly pointed out in the editorial columns of The Collegian. In other colleges and universities throughout the United States, organizations such as the League for Industrial Democracy, and the National Student League have been active in the promotion of radical and liberal movements among the students. However the only liberal movement on this campus remotely resembling the L. I. D. and the N. S. L. was the late peace club—an organization now definitely dead. Kansas State students even show a marked apathy towards school politics.

All of this brings up the thought as to whether these so-called radical movements the senator and his associates so regard with horror, are really detrimental to the school. Movements such as those promoted by the L. I. D. and the N. S. L. are designed primarily to encourage understanding and analysis of the conditions that are responsible for the depression that the world is now in, and after that analysis is effected to take steps in the direction they deem advisable to remedy those ills. In many cases the results of this analysis have led to activities that have violated accepted theories and traditional lines of thought. For this reason they have antagonized the controlling authorities. Conflicts have thus resulted between the student bodies and the college administrations. The peace club is an example of this. Although in existence little more than a year, it raised a controversy on a fundamental question that was of such import that the state legislature found it necessary to decide.

To many controversies of this sort seem a lot of needless bother about nothing. Yet this view is the more harmful of the two. We are now in a period of chaotic confusion. Our believes and standards of the past have failed in this new world. The remedies we had formerly depended on seem only to emphasize our difficulties. That far-reaching change is necessary if our social structure is to survive is obvious and undisputable. Radicalism has always been the vanguard of things that later became accepted fact. The theories we reject today as visionary and dangerous, may, and in probability will, become the theories that tomorrow's conservatives will defend.

Because the radicalism of today may contain what may prove to be our future salvation it is essential that we do not unthinkingly refuse to consider it. Liberal and radical movements like the L. I. D. and the N. S. L. through their agitation are invaluable in the promotion of thought among the students on American campuses. They cause us to examine and re-examine our traditions, customs, our accepted theories, and to determine our fallacies. And in this examination we come to have some conception of the future course we must follow.

It is this sort of thing that the Senator Skovgard has become alarmed about. These men would even prevent an academic classroom discussion between professor and student of some of the leading social theories of the day. And in this blind, unthinking stupidity—this refusal to remove themselves from the deepgrooved rut of yesterday's thought—this obstinacy to recognize that change, progress, evolution, are inevitable—it is this that America must fear if we are to have a government based on scientifically determined principles.

If Senator Skovgard's proposed investigating committee becomes a fact, and if in his snoop-ings on this campus he can produce a liberal or radical movement and through the resultant publicity give it impetus, we of Kansas State should give him a large vote of thanks. A good healthy touch of radicalism would provide a much needed stimulus to thought on this campus.

AN OLD ART REVIVED

The coming to Kansas State of the Olivera Street Marionettes March 11, under the auspices of the art department recalls that the art of puppetry is one of the oldest forms of amusement known to man.

The art of puppetry anti-dates Christ. Work-abel models have been found in some of the ancient tombs of Egypt, and the Greeks and Romans were known to be fond of this form of amusement.

Possibly the most ancient reference to this fascinating art is in the Sanskrit word for stage-manager, which means string puller. The early Orientals used puppets in some of their religious ceremonies, where the use of people would have been impossible.

The center of the marionette stage world during modern times is in Italy, where companies have been giving regular shows for many years.

Many people, when they hear of marionettes, think of the old Punch and Judy shows that every traveling carnival used to have. To dispel this idea it might be mentioned that for the manipulation of one puppet there may have been as many as 47 strings used, and four people were necessary for its operation.

The figure of the present time is nearly four feet in height, and can do nearly everything that a person can do. The nervous system of a marionette may be just a few strings, but under the adept fingering of an expert they can move most naturally.

The Olivera company is from Los Angeles, and because of this proximity to Hollywood, many of the movie celebrities are portrait-puppets.
 The inimitable Will Rogers and Marie Dressler take the stage as marionettes. The idiosyncrasies of these and many other famous stars are satirically handled by this group of artists.

The radio and phonograph have done much to renew the interest in modern puppetry. The accompaniment furnished through these media and the lighting effect possible on a smaller stage join to give a most vivid and delightful performance.

The Snooper

With uplifted hand we swear oblivion for Betas and Blackman hereafter in this year column. We furthermore pledge ourselves to concentrate only on prominent persons—something we have not done in the aforementioned instances.

And because we have just promised ignore-ance for Blackman we can't tell you about the little apple-polishing act she pulled off with that other dull dill, Maser. Lashbrook was on the receiving end and he readily admits he likes big red apples so well he was almost late for class in order not to waste the core.

Better late date than never.

The United States has been off the gold standard for a long, long time but Kansas State still persists with her Gold diggers Balls. This time the Theta Siggers are diggers. March 22 is the latest, (and third) date they have selected.

When Jane Kahl plaintively murmured, "The cokes ket weaker every week," and absently handed Brownie a penny she really had the right idea.

A Kappa day keeps the knocker away.

That's a Phi Lambda pin Virginia Appleton's wearing. Our friend, Johnny Ayres of the zoo department, brought it from Kalamazoo.

A lecturer on psycho-neuroses (how's that?) comes to the defense of left-handers—such as your Snooper. He claims a deliberate obstinacy for us. But we've been told it's just a stubbornness!

There are lots of gals who will be after Johnny Wilcox with that slickery Pontiac. That'll be a change!

And Beeman, at the Sigma Nu house, figures to get around with that new Ford. What some people will do for popularity! Incidentally, the rest of the Sigma Nus hope to cash in on it, too.

Gentle Gests By Elma Edwards

We wonder what correlation there is, if any, between the broadness of a person's mind and the number of windows he opens after coming in from a brisk walk in the cool outdoors.

And, speaking of doubtful relationships, just what is the connection between medical science and the ability to dole out pink or white pills?

Vacant Vera couldn't get to sleep the other night because by the time she started counting nearly all the sheep had already jumped over the fence.

A great number of students could quite honestly paraphrase Will Rogers with "Well all I know is what I read on the billboards."

Vacant Vera wondered if the supreme court decision would have any effect on the contents of the Golden Book.

Curiosity is that quality which prompts one to read the book after he has already taken the quiz.

STRICTLY AN ADVERTISEMENT

The Ex-Snoop at Ag-Orpheum

Do not hold it against us for this bit of matter, as they would say in the vernacular. We have very little to do with it; the manager of Ag Orpheum got a bright idea, discarded it and finally ended up with this as a happy, below-par-medium. We are attempting to describe the Ag Orpheum stunts as they are viewed by the layman. The various organizations are slightly "in the raw" at present as far as technique is concerned but before the performance next Friday and Saturday they no doubt will benefit by H.
 Hiles Heberers help.

Lambda Chi

The first stunt, dear friends, is proposed by dear old Lambda Chi Alpha. If you've never heard of them may we enlighten your mind and tell you that Joe Creed, the "Tarzan-like" puts his feet upon the chapter table of this outfit. The skit is entitled "Campus Politician," a clever act with Loran Skinner and Bob Jones putting on a rasslin' match during a fitful speech by Wilbur Combs. Wilbur finally ends up by throwing himself into the fray after trying to give a speech for the betterment of assembly programs. Junior Fulton, an able accordianist (sort of tricky, one might say), adds the finishing touches with his playing of Fight, You Aggie Wildcats. As yet Junior does not know the piece—after all he is just a freshman.

Tri Delta

The Tri Delta came upon the scene like a small whirlwind the other night as we watched the progress of the show in its metamorphic stages. The Delta gals finally decided, after much dissection in the ranks, to call their act "Shakespeareta," and, may we add, that is not a slam at old William. The fireworks start when Marjorie Shellenberger flits across the stage belowing, mind you, at poor little Mary Jane McComb who plays the part of the innocent bystander.
 Mary Jane sings various songs at appropriate places throughout the skit and to top it off the great Margery Blake, you know the famous movie actress—in whatever way you want to take it—who pledged Tri Delta, (we shall now continue) lowers herself to become a porter.
 She flashes a few eyes across the audience, which happened to be a mass of empty seats during rehearsal, and goes about her business sweeping the stage. There is a death scene in this act which is accompanied by a cheesecloth ghost. Ellen Payne is the villain, lover, and hot-shot all combined under the name of Romeo.

Following the Tri Delta the Pi
 Phi's advanced across the stage.
 Three or four of the girls are going to be left at the house the night of the performance to answer calls from ardent fans. This act is the hardest to put on, in our opinion, thus far. Of course you understand that we have seen only two before this. Such campus notables as: Jean Johnson, Esther Hedges, Betty Jean Hedges, Iris Miller, Winifred Win-ship, Janet Murdock, etc., make up this act. The red-headed Murdock makes quite a spectacle as she gracefully goes through her individual dance routine with apparently the greatest of trouble. The Hedges sisters put on a tap dance that looks at present (censored by the manager), but wait until they practice.
 Barbara Peters is going to give an acrobatic dance that is really twister. Oh yes, we nearly forgot—the name of the skit is "Ring Ching." The girls sing, they dance, they play, they laugh, they wear scanty apparel, and there are several blonds.

Chi Omega's
 The Chi Omega's, like the Tri Delta, have been entering the arena with two much weight but a good workout every night will fix the situation. The Chi Omega's are practicing some sort of a dance affair called "Poor Hot Dawg." Such notables, as far as the Chi Omega's are concerned, appear on the card as Keeney, Millican, Holman, and Buckman—you know the Snoopers in the Kansas State Collegian. Step up and see her in action. The dance reminds the layman of a funeral dirge at present but you know how these girls can pull through, even if it is just with late dates, they'll do their best to beat the Pi Phi's.
 The intellectuals have a word for what we would like to say but since we cannot find it in an authoritative dictionary maybe we hadn't better divulge too deep in the French derivation of descriptive adjectives.

Betas
 To cap the performance, so they tell us, the Betas practiced their little act. The boys from 500 Sunset, according to rumors, have a very good act for a change. Most of the big shots up at the house are too busy to appear on the program.
 Tom Groody is the main stem in the Beta attack which is called

 "Our Sour Hour?" and then there is the fellow who says why designate just one of their hours? But that is neither here nor there so we'll continue. The Betas have a fake news broadcast on "Why send your brat to college?"—one reason being that the aforementioned brat can enter politics with a clear and wholesome attitude; as kept clean on our campus by the relentless purging of the campus newspaper. To tell the truth and disregarding the polite way of saying it the senate investigation committee catches HELL. A campus election farce is something to keep out of your letters home to the folks also. Tom Skinner, Marner Harris, John Van Aken, the Miller brothers, and Franklin Colladay all lapper at one time or another in the production.

Now for some reason or other we are told to stop. Just how we cannot say except that there is no more paper in the typewriter. Except one more thing: Since these stunts are going to be judged 50 per cent by audience applause—we'll be seel'n you.

K.S. Swimmers Lose A Meet To Nebraska

CORNHUSKERS WIN EVERY EVENT FOR 66 TO 18 SCORE

Break Three Marks

Conference Records Are Bettered by K. S. Opponents in Meet at Lincoln Yesterday

The Kansas State swimmers came in a poor second yesterday afternoon at Nebraska as the Cornhuskers won every event, and in the process breaking three Big Six records, to defeat the Wildcats 66 to 18.

The big thrill of the afternoon came when Pixley, Cornhusker distance man, swam the 440 in 5 minutes, 19.5 seconds, 15 seconds less than the Big Six record. Pixley also won the 220 yard swim.

Other conference marks were bettered by Smith of Nebraska in the 200 yard breaststroke with a time of 2 minutes, 46.2 seconds, and by Lynde of Nebraska in the 50 yard dash with a time of 24.7 seconds.

The Nebraska men experienced little difficulty in winning every race. Practically all the close competition came in the battles for second and third places.

The summaries:

- 400 yard relay—first, N. U. (Rimmerman, Leask, Schroeder, Pixley); second, K. S. (Churchill, McNay, Gaume, Lassen). Time 4:21.8.
- 200 yard breaststroke—first, Smith, N. U.; second, Blanche, K. S.; third, Galtz, N. U. Time, 2:46.2.
- 150 yard backstroke—first, Gavin, N. U.; second, Kuklin, N. U.; third, Steele, K. S. Time, 1:56.6.
- 50 yard dash—first, Lynde, N. U.; second, Rimmerman, N. U.; third, Umberger, K. S. Time, :24.7.
- 440 yard swim—first, Pixley, N. U.; second, Leask, N. U.; third, McNay, K. S. Time, 5:19.5.
- 100 yard swim—first, Lynde, N. U.; second, Creed, K. S.; third, Schroeder, N. U. Time, :57.5.
- Diving—first, Rimmerman, N. U.; second, Kuklin, N. U.; third, Gaume, K. S.
- 220 yard dash—first, Pixley, N. U.; second, Lynde, N. U.; third, Lassen, K. S. Time, 2:29.7.
- Medley relay—first, N. U. (Kuklin, Smith, Gavin); second, K. S. (Stelle, Blanche, Umberger). Time, 3:32.5.

Finish Basketball Season Monday

K-State Plays Cornhuskers at Lincoln Tomorrow Night and Iowa State in Ames Monday

The Kansas State basketball team will wind up their season in a two-game trip this weekend. The Aggies will take on Nebraska tomorrow night at Lincoln and Iowa State, Monday night at Ames.

Should Kansas State win both games and Missouri lose both of her remaining contests to Kansas university, the Wildcats would be in fourth place in the conference standings, undisputed. State and Missouri would be tied for fourth position, if State won both of its games and the Tigers managed to split their twin-bill or if the Wildcats won one of the two remaining contests and the Missourians dropped two games. However, if the Aggies lose to Nebraska tomorrow night, they will have to win from Iowa State, Monday to keep out of the cellar.

Nine men will make the trip according to Coach Frank Root. These will probably be Gilpin, Freeland, Groves, Stoner, Rallsback, Thornbrough, Tellejohn, Mills, and Armstrong. Three of these men, Captain Oren Stoner, James Freeland, and Richard Armstrong, will wear their Wildcat basketball uniforms for the last time in the game with Iowa State.

The history of architecture will be the theme of the decorations of the architecture part of the engineering building. Cities of ancient times, the present time, and those of the future will be compared. There will also be models of a home, country club, schoolhouse, market and transportation building for a small town in a limestone district.

Inexperienced Men To K.C.A.C. Meet

Haylett Will Rest Veterans for Big Six Battle—Cunningham to Race Hornbostel

Some of the greatest track and field stars of the middle west will be seen in action at the Kansas City convention hall Saturday in the twenty-eighth annual meet of the Kansas City Athletic Club.

A special three-quarter mile race between Cunningham and Hornbostel, star Indiana half miler and 1500 meter runner, will be the feature of the meet. Bill Bonthron and Gene Venke, arch rivals of Cunningham for honors in the mile event, were unable to enter this special event because of previous engagements.

Kansas State will be represented in the 440, 880, mile, high jump, and hurdle events. Because of the Big Six track meet next week Coach Ward Haylett is not entering a first string team in this meet. The less experienced men of the squad will be entered in many events to forestall any possibility of injury to first string men and as an opportunity for experiencing a number of men in good competition without costing the team any loss in standing as far as Big Six rating is concerned.

Not all first string men are being withheld however. Those entered in the meet are as follows: Redfield, mile; Peters, high jump and hurdles; Sweet, 440 dash; Dill, 880 dash; Bentley and Eberhart, 880 dash; Warrel, 440 dash; Steel, hurdles; and a relay team picked from the dash men. Roehman, who has been ill with the measles, may compete in the high jump. Larry Schmutz, who finished his competition last year and who was a member of the shuttle relay team which broke the world record, will enter the meet unattached in the high jump and the hurdles.

Between 30 and 40 Kansas State men are expected to report for official varsity baseball practice which begins Saturday afternoon, March 2, at 2:00 o'clock, according to Prof. Mike Ahearn, director of athletics and baseball coach, but only four letter men will be in the bunch.

S. G. Asbill, captain, and Harold Wierenga are the only lettermen available from last year's squad. However, Ralph Marshall, catcher letterman in 1933, and John Underwood, letterman a year ago, are also expected to report for practice.

Besides these men Coach Ahearn has some good prospective material in players who were out last year but did not make letters.

Candidates for the first-base position are expected to include L. Ben Winchester, C. W. Decker, and H. D. Kirgis.

Other infield men expected out are V. M. Stevens, Max Springer, Ralph Churchill, H. G. Kirgis, and Jess Van Zandt.

Candidates to report for the outfield positions are S. G. Asbill, Harold Wierenga, J. W. Lutz, George Dileo, and M. L. Elder.

Pitching prospects so far are limited to Frank Cooley, J. O. Scott and Lyman Abbot.

In the Big Six conference this year any team playing eight or more games is eligible for championship honors. Kansas State already has eight home games and four away from home on the calendar.

Missouri and Oklahoma, according to the dope, should place near the top in the season standings, with Kansas State, Iowa State, and Nebraska the dark horses.

Besides the games indicated on the baseball calendar below Coach Ahearn is also planning on two more early season games.

Bell System engineers long ago began to work out a way to clear city streets of overhead wires. The first telephone cables were crude affairs—a few wires drawn through a pipe. Continuous research brought forth improved designs, better manufacturing methods, cables of smaller size yet far greater capacity. The cable with the greatest number of wires today—3636—is 2 1/2" in diameter.

More than 94% of the Bell System's wire mileage is now in storm resisting cable—one of many developments to improve service.

Madam Fashion Dictates

Blues may truly be termed spring's theme song this season.

"Navy blue always has been popular, but it was so good last spring and fall, I am surprised to see it leading again," said Miss Kathleen Cochran, buyer at Ward M. Keller's store, who has recently returned from Chicago. "One may wear red, gray, white, pink, and so many other colors with it that it is very practical. For evening, though, colors are usually lighter, pastel. Black and brown in woven net with gold or silver threads promise to be worn much, too." Accessories of light blue, cruise red, yellow, dusty pink, and dove gray make smart accents for that blue costume.

"The person who can wear navy with the most success does not have much yellow in the skin," Miss Alpha Latzke, of the clothing department of the college, said. "A mistaken idea some have is that blondes should always wear cool colors and brunettes warm colors," she remarked. "One cannot state a definite rule for color selection without a consideration of skin tone, hair, eyes, and personality. Each person must try out the effect of color under the lighting conditions with which the costume will be worn if a satisfactory effect is to be attained." The very feminine individual can usually wear cool, dainty, pastel colors best; the garconne, or active person, gay sparkling, medium dark colors; and the sophisticated, or dramatic individual, subtle, striking, dark colors.

"We usually think of pink as a dainty color suited to the very feminine type, but dusty pink combined in the right way and having the right texture can even heighten the dramatic qualities of a costume," Miss Latzke said. "If a girl cannot wear navy she may resort to black and white, lighter shades of blue, brown, or a tiny black and white check as a basic color, or perhaps pink in combination with a dark color will do the trick." The most pleasing color effects will be gained after experimentation.

"For early spring, at least, houses are showing gay prints in a 'radium' pattern—streaked like lightning," said Mrs. M. C. Knight of Coles' department store. She believes the floral pattern will not be as good this year as last, because the radium print is newer. In prints, too, blue and black form the background usually.

P. E. Dalton of Coles' store, who returned recently from New York with information on colors, styles, and materials, said, "Navy then black should be good all summer for suits and coats especially. In general colors for spring will be warm. Later pastels will gain prominence. Such combinations as pink and brown, black and white, corn and brown, and, of course, blue with anything—even with green and brown will be worn."

Black and navy are shown for early spring evening wear with white, lighter shades of rose, topaz, and powder blue. Dark shades on pastel colors as well as pale shades on dark gowns will be worn.

A shade between powder and dawn seems to be the most popular of the blues at the Aggieville Hat and Dress shop. Black with sheer white will probably gain favor as the season advances and by mid season the gayer, more vivid shades will have emerged.

Reasons for the popularity of blue and especially navy lie in its wearableness for street fashion, and its adaptability in cloth for tailored or soft styles, Miss Flora Sanders, of the Vogue shop believes.

One last caution—to avoid that "lost in a fog" feeling remember—"We're in the navy now. We're in the navy now!"

Engineers Essential Dean Seaton Says

Points Out Engineers Place in Society in Address Over College Station

"Ours is a technological civilization, dependent to an even increasing degree upon professional engineers," said R. A. Seaton, dean of the division of engineering yesterday, in a radio address for the Young People's Opportunity Hour. "The height to which our economic life can be developed and the very maintenance of our civilization itself, depend very largely upon the caliber of the men who follow the profession of engineering, and the efficiency and understanding with which they carry on their activities. It is the function of the engineering colleges to give to young men preparing to enter professional work in this field the best possible training and inspiration for the difficult and important tasks they will be called upon to perform."

Engineering, as we know it today, is of relatively recent origin. We have had engineering for centuries, but, until recent years, it was largely empirical in character and rough and ready in its methods. It was based chiefly upon practical experience in construction, gradually accumulated through the years and handed down from one generation to another. Not until the physical sciences were applied to the problems of trade and industry, and efforts of the engineering colleges began to be felt in the latter part of the nineteenth century, did engineers become truly professional in character."

Groups Will Meet

Home Economics Workers, Extension, People and Art Teachers To Convene March 15-16

The Kansas Home Economics Association will hold sessions March 15 and 16 at Manhattan. Three special groups are holding meetings in conjunction with the State Home Economics Association: dietitians and institution economists; extension workers; and home economics clubs. The art teachers are also planning a special session. The meetings of the association and other groups convening at this time will be held at Kansas State college. Registration will be in Calvin Hall.

Miss Dorothy Barfoot, head of the art department of Kansas State college announces that an exhibit of water color paintings by Miss Bradley and Mr. Fanning, of Ohio university and an exhibit of costume and stage designs by Olive Ricksbough, will be shown. The Kansas Home Economics Association is unusually fortunate in having two out-of-state speakers for the annual meeting. They are Miss Francis Zull and Dr. Lemo Dennis Rockwood. Miss Zull is head of Home Economics at the University of Iowa and is also a former president of the American Home Economics Association. At the present time she is a member of the Consumer's Advisory Board. Dr. Lemo Dennis Rockwood is field worker in child development and parental education for the American Home Economics Association, Washington, D. C. She is a graduate of the University of Nebraska and her advanced study was done at Merrill-Palmer Nursery School, Columbia university and Cornell university.

Nearly 300 In The Stunts For Ag Orpheum

155 IN STUDENT ACTS, NEARLY SAME NUMBER IN DANCING STUNTS

Give All Program

Manager Announces Entire Program, Names of Stunts, and Order of Presentation

One hundred fifty five Kansas State students will take part in the eleven Ag Orpheum presentations to be given by campus organizations, next Friday and Saturday nights, March 8 and 9. Beside that there will be an almost equal number of people in the Manhattan dancing schools' numbers and in the college orchestra, which will play before and after the production and during the intermission.

Max Burk, manager of the Orpheum, yesterday announced the entire program, the names of the stunts, and the order in which they will be presented. He also said that the prize, which will be awarded to the competitive stunt thought by three judges and the audience to be the best, is on display at the Palace Drug Store in Aggieville.

Next Friday night's program is to start off with a non-competitive presentation by the Lillian Amos School of Dancing. A like feature will also be given on Saturday night's program by the Mason School of Dancing.

The second number to be given on the program is called "Monastery." It is given by the college choruses under the direction of Prof. Edwin Sayre, of the music department. The scene will have as its background the music of "Kamenoi Ostrow" by Rubenstein. The choruses will be in costume in a setting of an altar in red, a cross, candles, and a cathedral window. Incidental music will be given by piano, violin, and a contralto solo.

A humorous number full of wisecracks will be given by the men of Beta Theta Pi. Their stunt which will be a broadcast from the Kansas State campus is called "Our Sour Hour." It is the first competitive number on the program.

The fourth number on the program is called the "Ritual of the Hunt." It is under the direction of Professor Sayre. Savage dances to the rhythmic music of the Russian composer Stravinsky will feature the act.

The second competitive stunt and the fifth on the program is Pi Beta Phi's "Ring Chime." It is a song and dance number.

"Three Songs," the presentation which features the musical number "Smoke Dreams" written by Mrs. Frank Root is the sixth number on the bill. Two other songs in the act are "Solitude" and "Beat of my Heart." Ivernia Danielson and Leslie Fitz will do interpretive dancing to supplement the choruses.

After intermission, the Chi Omega will present their competitive act called "Poor Hot Dawg!" Amusement is predicted for this drama of human weiners, buns, and mustard jars.

"Kansas Barroom" is the name of the next number by Professor Sayre and his group. This drama portrays the saloon busting antics of the notorious hatcheteer Carrie Nation.

Lambda Chi Alpha bases their hopes for the cup on their act called "Campus Politician." This is a laughter provoking burlesque on politics.

"Jubilee" comes next on Professor Sayre's program and is chiefly spirituals. This is to be followed by Delta Delta Delta's act given in defense of their victory won in Ag Orpheum last year. It is called "Shakespeare" being a humorous take-off on Romeo and Juliet.

The last number on the program is a big pageant called Manhattan Madness which will be directed by Professor Sayre.

Following are the names of the students who will appear in the Orpheum:

Members of the choruses to be presented in Professor Sayre's numbers are:

Jean Armstrong, Berta Fricker, Jean Johnson, Esther McMillen, Elizabeth Walbert, Esther Hedges, Mildred Mundell, Frances Bertsche, Geraldine Hammond, Helen McGill, Sayre, of the music department. The scene will have as its background the music of "Kamenoi Ostrow" by Rubenstein. The choruses will be in costume in a setting of an altar in red, a cross, candles, and a cathedral window. Incidental music will be given by piano, violin, and a contralto solo.

A humorous number full of wisecracks will be given by the men of Beta Theta Pi. Their stunt which will be a broadcast from the Kansas State campus is called "Our Sour Hour." It is the first competitive number on the program.

Bruce Curry In Chapel March 18

Theology Professor Is One of Foremost Authorities On American College Problems

Dr. Bruce Curry of the Union Theological Seminary in New York City will speak to Kansas State students in assembly March 18.

Kansas State is one of the many campuses Dr. Curry will visit on his four-month speaking tour in colleges and universities of America from coast to coast. In order that he might make this trip, he has been granted special leave of absence from his teaching at the seminary where he is a professor of practical theology.

During the past few years Dr. Curry has met thousands of college students throughout the United States and Canada. Recently he made three trips to Europe and one to the near East.

Dr. Curry graduated from Davidson College and received his M. A. and Ph. D. degrees from New York University.

"Facing Student Problems," "Jesus and His Cause," "The Bible and the Quest of Life," and "Speaking of Religion," are books which he has written. He has contributed articles to the Intercollegian, The World Tomorrow, and other journals.

Subjects concerning a deeper understanding of student life and the perplexing new world in which the upcoming generation must play its part are the themes of Dr. Curry's addresses and forums.

He is recommended as one of the foremost authorities on the conditions and the needs of the American colleges and as one who thoroughly understands the student mind of today.

Iowa State Clinches Big Six Basketball Title By Downing K. S. 39 to 31 In Hot Battle

VICTORY GIVES CYCLONES 8 WINS AND 2 DEFEATS IN CONFERENCE

Flemming Gets 17

High Point Man For Both Teams, Railsback Gets Five Goals In Last Half

Iowa State ended its Big Six basketball season last night with a whirlwind finish, defeating Kansas State 39 to 31 and winning the championship for the first time in its conference competition.

As a result of Iowa's victory in the hard fought battle Kansas State sank to the bottom of the list. Even if the Kansas university team should win its remaining two games the Iowa State team will still be in first place and Kansas the defending champion will go into second place. Before an audience of 3,500 fans the Cyclones displayed some of the most polished playing of this season. They had a nine point lead over the Wildcats before the first eight minutes of the game were over and before the Wildcats could find the hoop. They kept a wide margin during the rest of the first half. The half ended with the score of 20 to 12 favoring Iowa.

In the second half a rejuvenated Wildcat quintet swept over the court, led by Railsback, Wildcat guard, and put on a scoring spree that brought them within two points of their opponents. The score stood at 27 to 25 at the end of this inspired spree.

Then led by the lanky sophomore, Flemming, the Iowa State team drew away from the Kansas State team and the score stood at 36 to 25 a few minutes before the end of the game. Railsback, whose play in the second half seemed almost inspired, made a field goal from the foul line. Then just before the gun sounded Captain Stoner of the Wildcats sank two field goals and Wegner, Cyclone center, made a goal to end the scoring. The final score stood at 39 to 31.

With 17 points to his credit Flemming of Iowa was the leading scorer. Railsback, Kansas State, who made no points in the first half came back to ring up five goals in the second half. Groves who has been the mainstay of the Wildcats all season, made only two field goals and a freethrow, before he was taken out of the game on fouls five minutes before the game ended. Captain Stoner was second high scorer for the home team, making four goals and one freethrow.

The box score:

KANSAS STATE	G	FT	F
Glavin f	2	1	2
Groves c	2	1	4
Railsback g	5	0	2
Stoner g	4	1	3

Fire Does Damage

Completely Destroys One Room and Damages Contents of Adjoining Rooms—Cause Undetermined

Fire completely destroyed one top story room and its contents and damaged the adjoining rooms by smoke and heat, at the Phi Kappa house Sunday evening about 7 o'clock. A buffet supper was in progress when the fire broke out.

The origin of the fire has not yet been determined. There was no wiring which could have caused it. The entire belongings of three boys, Leonard Zerull, J. J. Winderlin, and Paul Habigher, were burned and the clothing in the adjoining rooms were partly ruined by the heat. The entire amount of damage done has not yet been estimated.

Orpheum Stunt To Honor Sayre

About 150 People Rehearsing Nightly To Whip Acts Into Shape Before Friday

A change in the name of one of the six presentations to be given in the Ag Orpheum March 8 and 9 by the men's and women's choruses has been made in order to honor the director of the group, Prof. Edwin Sayre. The stunt formerly advertised as "Three Songs" features Mr. Sayre's arrangement of three popular songs, one of which was written by Mrs. Frank Root. The act now called "Sayrenade," features Mrs. Root's song "Smoke Dreams," and choral arrangements of "Solitude" and "Beat of My Heart."

Nightly rehearsals of the stunts are being held by about 150 people to whip the acts into perfect shape for presentation next Friday and Saturday night. The Orpheum is to be given in the college auditorium under the direction of the Y. M. C. A.

The cup which is to be presented to the stunt winning in the competitive group is at present on display in the front window of the Palace Drug store in Aggieville. The cup was designed by Lurelle Guild. Judging of the stunts will be by a committee of three for Friday night's performance and a member of the public speaking department judging the audience's applause on Saturday night. The cup will be awarded Saturday night.

Engineers Prepare Novel Exhibit For Open House

A model deep-well air conditioning system for a rural home will be one of the exhibits sponsored by the mechanical engineering department at the fifteenth annual Engineers' Open House March 15 and 16.

In the homes where this type of cooling system has been used during the summer, it has not only proved entirely satisfactory but has also been economical to operate. The plan utilizes the cold water from a well. The water is pumped from the well and is circulated, cooling the air that is passed over it by means of a fan or blower.

One of the exhibits of the applied mechanics department will be a model and plans for a new type of dam spillway proposed for the Seneca dam. The spillway will have a design that is entirely different from those now in use. In this one the stream of water will be broken up into several streams. A great saving in construction is the greatest advantage of this new spillway.

In order to demonstrate the different stresses on gears and parts of machinery, a photoelastic testing machine will be used by members of this department. Bakelite specimens of gears will be used in the demonstration. A special light played upon the article to be tested, is broken up into its component colors which denote the stress that is in force.

Visitors to the Open House program will also be asked to try to overbalance a spinning gyroscope. This heavy wheel is the principle used in stabilizing and steering apparatus on some ships and even on airplanes.

A special soil erosion display has been made possible by the soil erosion service of the department of the interior, at Mankato. Enlarged pictures will show examples of bad erosion, methods of combating the erosion by means of terraces and soil saving dams, contour farming, pasture contours, and machinery building the terraces.

A relief map of the farm at Mankato, showing the actual soil erosion and the methods installed to combat it, will be shown.

In addition to the high way model they are showing, the civil engineers will have a model of a clover leaf intersection and overpass. The cloverleaf intersection eliminates the danger of running into another automobile when transferring from one highway to another at their intersection.

Economic Educator To Talk Wednesday

A. Lawren Brown Believes Scientific Financial Management Cure for Depressions

That education, and not legislation is the cure for depressions, will be the subject of a talk by A. Lawren Brown of the Speakers Bureau of the American Association for Economic Education, in an illustrated lecture to be presented in recreation center Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Since modern civilization has successfully applied science to so many of the great human problems including industry, disease, transportation, and communication why not apply it to money, asks Mr. Brown. Financial ignorance is the fundamental cause of all depressions and financial education—training in the science of money management—must be the cure, he believes. In his lecture Mr. Brown shows how science can be applied to money. His subject which is purely educational will be given as a pictorial presentation and will include stereopticon slides, graphs, stories, and anecdotes.

Mr. Brown is the author of "From Swamp to Metropolis in One Hundred Years" and collaborated in writing of "Crime for Profit." He has two university degrees and has many years experience as a lecturer. He has also written articles for various magazines and newspapers.

During the first six months of 1934, Mr. Brown lectured in more than 96 cities in 38 states and provinces of the United States and Canada, covering 27,000 miles in the interests of economic education. Mr. Brown's presentation has been favorably commented on by educators, banks, clubs, and business organizations in both Canada and the United States. Florence Barnard, educational director of the American Association for Economic Education, sums up the value of his lecture by saying, "From the day we are born and as long as we live money has to be used for or by everyone of us. It is therefore, important that we should know how to use money well, for we can then make more out of our lives, and can contribute more to the lives and welfare of others."

Groves Named Center On All-Western Team

CHOSEN BY 60 LEADING COACHES FOR HONORARY POSITION

To Receive Trophy

Sophomore Wildcat Star is Third Leading Scorer in Big Six Conference

Frank Groves, elongated Kansas State center, whose brilliant play has been the high spot in an otherwise mediocre basketball season, is to be honored soon with a trophy designating him for the center position on the 1934-35 All-Western basketball team.

This recognition of Groves' ability on the hardwood court has been conferred upon him as the result of 60 leading college basketball coaches in America.

Frank's name and picture will also be included in the Kellogg basketball guidebook. Thursday evening, March 14, at 6:45 o'clock, a radio program over the National Broadcasting network will be given in honor of the star basketballers.

Groves, who is only a sophomore, was the third leading scorer in the

FRANK GROVES

Big Six, not far behind Ebling of Kansas and Wegner of Iowa State in total number of points scored so far this season. The qualifications for his selection to the all-star team has not been found out as yet. However, it was a well-known fact that as Groves went so went the Aggies. His spectacular playing which has been featured by twirling one-handed and overhead shots placed the Wildcats back in the running in more than one ball game when the cause seemed hopeless.

Groves was named on the Mercury-Chronicle sports staff nomination for the Associated Press all-Big Six team.

Measure Appropriating Funds For New Chemistry Building Passed By The State Senate

Take Five Places

Sweat, Peters, Worrell Win In Open 440—Redfield and Dill Also Place

Five places were taken by Kansas State runners in the K. C. A. C. indoor track meet last Saturday night.

The open 440-yard run was predominated by Kansas State men. Sweat, who took second in the event, was only a few inches behind the winner. Peters and Worrell of Kansas State placed third and fourth respectively in this same event.

Redfield was fourth in the open mile run, and Dill finished third in the open 880-yard run. Glenn Cunningham, Kansas flyer, walked away with the 1,000-yard special race in the comparatively slow time of 2:16.5.

Only the less experienced Kansas State men entered the meet. Coach Haylett kept his veterans at home to give them a rest before the Big Six meet.

Hughes In Chapel

Will Tell Truth Concerning Vitamins—Reverend Reed to Give Invocation

Something different will be tried in assembly tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock, when Dr. J. S. Hughes, professor of chemistry, will speak on "The Truth About Vitamins."

The invocation will be given by the Reverend A. M. Reed, pastor of the United Presbyterian church. There will be a violin duet by James Bowles and Glen Farrar.

The next assembly will be Friday, March 15. Miss Francis Zull, head of home economics, University of Iowa, will discuss "The Government and the Consumer."

Tryouts Tonight

Team for Big Six Meet at Ames Friday and Saturday, to Be Selected

Tryouts for the Big Six tournament that is to be held at Ames, Iowa, this Friday and Saturday, were started yesterday and are being finished today by Coach B. R. Patterson.

A full team is expected to make the trip, leaving Thursday morning and returning to Manhattan on Sunday.

In the 118 pound class Pete Sherar, last year's letterman in this weight, will tryout with Betz. Sherar has been out for boxing so far this year and has not competed in wrestling.

Captain Dick Campbell will have as his opponent, Bill Walters, who is very eager to make the trip. Campbell has not been able to wrestle the greater part of the season because of an injured back.

The 155-pound class has three contenders trying out. Richard Fowler defeated David Dukelow last Saturday and will have to defeat Jack Cornell before he is able to wrestle Gene Howe, the winner of that weight last week.

In the 175 pound class Dean Swift will find his competition in Ben Kohrs.

There seems to be no one contesting Forest Fansher, 128 pound class; Claude Young, 165 pound class; Rolla Holland, heavyweight; or Ernest Jessup, 145 pound class. The Aggies have won three and lost three of their Big Six matches so far this year.

FEWER POINTS NECESSARY

Requirements For Cut Privileges Are Lessened

The number of points necessary for cut privileges for students whose curricula require 15 hours a semester has been reduced by the Council of Deans from 32 to 30 points for each semester. This new ruling does not apply to students whose curricula require more than 15 hours a semester.

The only change is the reduction in the number of points necessary for students whose normal assignment is 15 hours.

This change was made because students, particularly general science students, whose normal assignment was only 15 hours a semester, could not meet the former requirements for cut privileges even though they had "B" averages.

BILL CARRYING $300,000 FOR K-STATE APPROVED 36 TO 3

House Vote Doubt

Many Believe That Now Is Time to Eliminate Conflicting Courses In State Schools

The building appropriation bill of $1,081,000, including an appropriation of $300,000 for a science building at Kansas State college was passed by the state senate yesterday by a vote of 36 to 3, and sent to the house.

Sen. Claud Conkey of Newton, in voting against the bill, said he believed that sentiment against such a large appropriation was held by the people of Kansas. He also believed that if the state waited the money could be obtained from the public work funds to be passed by congress.

Senator Benson believed that the house would kill the building appropriation bill, and also that all of the buildings were not essential at this time.

In the debate on the bill last Saturday, Senator Dodge made a motion to strike out the $300,000 appropriation for Kansas State college, declaring the legislature "is going wild on appropriations," and that here "is a good chance to cut out $300,000 without hurting anyone."

Senator Dodge declared that the chemistry course at Kansas State could be moved to the University of Kansas without hampering the state educational system in any way.

"It is the duty of the board of regents to coordinate all courses in state schools," Senator Dodge said, "but as they serve without pay, they can't take the time to go into the matter as fully as they should. The school now is a school of engineering or science rather than an agricultural college and this would be an excellent chance to realign all courses to the benefit of all."

Senator Henry Delfendorf, who comes from this district, said the institution had grown so that the course in chemistry was necessary, and the building was vitally needed. Several other senator's in opposing Senator Dodge's amendment, declared that Kansas State college was one of the "outstanding schools of the west."

Other appropriations provided for in the bill:

Norton sanatorium, $250,000, for the construction of a new hospital unit; $150,000 for the university medical school for the construction of a Negro ward at Bell Memorial hospital; Larned State hospital, $250,000 for construction of a ward for criminal insane; Parsons state hospital, $95,000 for construction of new porches; and $46,000 for construction of addition and repairs to Dyche museum at the University of Kansas.

Senator Dallas Knapp, chairman of the ways and means committee, told the senate it was impossible to estimate exactly the effect the appropriation would have on the state levy, but believed it would make an increase in the state levy to about 2.14.

The size of the appropriation was the result of a blunder by the state legislature two years ago in refusing to make building appropriations needed at the time, declared Senator William Schoen of Downs.

THE INVESTIGATION SUMMARIZED

The investigation that The Collegian has been making into the student political situation at Kansas State has revealed a good many things—things that in no way reflect favorably upon the student body of this school. On one hand there seems to be an absolute indifference to the problems involving the student body by the large majority of students—the independents—and on the other hand, the minority—the Greeks—who are in control of affairs seem to show complete disregard for political ethics.

As was shown in the first story published on this investigation there has only been one independent elected to the student council in the last eight years. Here, however, the Collegian must confess to error. Vivian Albright, the student designated by the Collegian was the sole independent elected to the student council, was in reality a pledge to Alpha Xi Delta sorority at the time of her election. Her Greek affiliation was kept concealed in order to get the independent vote. The Collegian printed at the time made no mention of the fact.

This story also demonstrated how complete is the Greek domination of nearly all the major organizations on the campus at the present time.

The second story of the investigation was devoted to the secret blocs that enable fraternities and sororities to obtain their stronghold on student affairs. It was clearly shown that there were two complete political blocs in the last election, and that the winning bloc although composed of about one-sixth of the student body controlled the student council and the Royal Purple. All the evidence pointed to Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Sigma Phi Epsilon, and Delta Delta Delta as the organizations now "representing the student body" on the student council and Royal Purple.

The editorial printed on the front page of Friday's Collegian was a severe indictment of the Greek dominated student politics. Enough evidence was presented that more than a reasonable doubt can be held as to the honesty with which the student council election of last spring was conducted. Moreover, the constitution of the Student Governing Association makes no adequate provisions to insure an honest election.

The underlying cause of the political condition at Kansas State can be attributed to only one thing—the indifference and refusal of the independents to actively participate in school elections. And only through a general revival of interest among this large majority of the college's population can student politics become anything more than the farce they have been in the past. It is to be hoped that the independents will realize this fact at the meeting to be held tomorrow night and will form a political party strong enough to make the student council elections this spring truly an "all school" affair.

THESE EXTREMISTS!

Maybe They're Worthwhile

Throughout the United States various individuals and groups are contending that "subversive minority activity" must be restricted. Red scares are cropping out in virtually every state. Many universities have student associations dedicated to "combat radicals."

Secretary Wallace, in a convocation address recently, maintained that the "middle-of-the-road people do things; the extremists ignore facts in their zeal."

What is the function of the radical? Is he as many say, one who stirs up trouble for the sake of excitement? Does he apparently insult sacred institutions, shatter cherished ideals, for the dubious glory of being an iconoclast?

To a large extent, this is the popular belief. Congressman Fish, for example, sees in every "so-called liberal or radical" a disguised bomb-thrower; and the Babbitts everywhere regard "any -ist as a menace."

Now it may be true, as Secretary Wallace points out, that the middle-roads accomplish things. It may be true, as some citizens contend, that radicals are merely trouble-raisers. But this is to obscure the issue, to blind oneself.

For the middle-road cannot be determined until the extremes are known. New alignments are not made without strong pressure from the sidelines. If those labeled radicals do no more than define the roadway of march for the "accomplishers," if they do no more than give incentive to thought, action or reform, they more than justify themselves. Society without "extremists" could not progress.—The Minnesota Daily.

CONGRATULATIONS, IOWA STATE!

Kansas State along with most of the rest of the Big Six conference was pleased when Iowa State clinched its claim on the conference basketball championship by defeating Kansas State in a close game last night. Not that any of us hold any grudge against our fellow Kansans at Lawrence, but it has become almost a habit for Phog Allen's boys to walk off with Big Six honors. We feel that a new champion will infuse new life into future conference races. Iowa's season record of eight Big Six victories against two defeats is adequate proof that the Cyclones have a team of genuine championship calibre.

We of Kansas State well remember the tremendous lift to the athletic spirit of the school that the gridiron championship gave us last fall. It is to be expected that Iowa State, who has long been a strong contender but seldom a champion, will experience the same sort of thing.

IOWA BANISHES HELL WEEK

Fraternities at the University of Iowa have banished Hell Week, which will satisfy everybody except the sophomores. There is no fraternity brother more insatiable in his desire for punishment of freshmen during Hell Week than the sophomore who a year before was saying to himself: "This is a brutal custom and should be stopped."—Manhattan Mercury.

The Snooper

And now that Herb Beckett has hung his pin on Gertrude Tobias we wonder if he will continue to hold out on the Phi Delta initiation.

With Allan Settle and Virginia Dole leading the Y. W. Y. M. discussions on "Love and Marriage" there ought to be a grand total of nothing accomplished by the groups.

"Wouldn't you expect the Tri Deltas to call their Ag Orpheum stunt 'Shakesperette'? All it needs is Ellen Payne reciting 'Glad Heart, Wild Heart' in her best Y. W. prexy style!"

Nor is it so odd that the Pi Phis "ringohing" their way through their stunt on water glasses that are slightly out of tune!

In case The Public has been wondering (as we have) about the ADP's activity for the past few weeks, now we can rest in peace. They ALL went to the Sigma Nu Paddle Party. Was the connection between the paddles and the gals as obvious to the Sigma Nus as it would have been to us?

If the Ex-Snoop was insinuating last week that we are leading a dog's life, he must admit that we, in our infantile way, are at least a bit waggish at times.

Frances Farrell, passing us in her usual seven-league boot manner, "What cha doing, catching up with somebody behind?"

Despite our New Year's Day slant on things last week we must break our resolution 'gainst Blackman and Betas to tell you of the latest display of the well-known Beta brilliance. It seems their Ag Orpheum stunt features a broadcast and yet one of their number goes into a weird oriental dance. Evidently they believe they were casting a "broad".

ChiOs ate chocolates off Millburn Davidson Sunday: Nancy Jane Campbell is the diamond-fisher. All the gals were singing, "The Campbells are coming" after the orgy.

Then there are those Phi Delta "pin" rumors we just can't pin down. But maybe there'll be something more to tell next time.

You can lead a man to a Varsity, but you can't make him dance.

Speaking of dances—Theta Siggers inform us we were wrong on the date of the Gold Diggers' ball. March 15 is the Big Day with Peewee Prodigious doing their usual. Maybe us girls will get a few extra cokes for a week or so before hand, more fun!

Do the Kappa Deltas and Phi Taus still play baseball in the spring?

We all have the Phi Kappas to thank for a bit of entertainment Sunday eve. But why not be original? After all, that's their second fire in two weeks! And we never did think they were a very hot bunch.

We are only repeating several requests when we plaintively ask that serenading, if any, be carried on before three o'clock in the morning without too much liquor on the side. Someone is apt to be taken for a bunch of cats!

Although we personally have never thought of rabbits except in connection with stew and Philena Merten's coat, Betty McTaggart comes through with the second as a gift this year. The current one has adopted Roberta Shannon, much to her discomfiture, as she already has Hjort to cope with.

Professorial traits are fast appearing in Russ Thackrey, who recently mumbled, "Paul Revere was an engraver, a dentist, and no doubt he could ride horseback." No doubt about it!

We recently saw a co-ed's impression of Niagara Falls. Her snapshot showed only the top half of her Pullman window. And that's probably more than a great many people see at that!

"To Coach Fry" say Tuesday Collegian headlines. Our freshe room-mate of rural background, hopes that it will be like the Fish Fry the Farm Bureau has each summer.

It is to be hoped that dull dill, Wassberg, has at last realized he isn't the only pickle in the brine. He was so slow in deciding he wanted a date Sunday night that the gal changed her mind in a great hurry. For that we give her a bright new orange!

Helen Millican has been playing "Prizefighter and the Lady." But with that jaw (lost tooth to you) she still seems more a prize than either a fighter or a lady.

The Seniors are trying hard for that intellectual look now that job-hunting time approaches. We know three gals who have discarded bangs for glasses. And with Dorothy Parker, we repeat: "Men don't make passes at girls who wear glasses." Swat?

"After Office Hours"

When Clark Gable dictates from his newspaper office desk in "After Office Hours" he dictates in such a snappy manner that Stuart Erwin, the slow-moving camera-man speeds into action—but not so with Constance Bennett, the charming blond music critic. She enters the newspaper business to write musical reviews as they should be written. Unfortunately Editor Gable has his own ideas about what he wants in his paper, so Constance is fired—for a day. Her charm, as well as her standing in society, are too many factors in her favor. She is rehired and Clark discovers that business can be combined with pleasure by falling in love—with the newspaper critic.

An interesting scandal involving the elite furnishes complexities, thrills, and ends in a "scoop" for the paper. Billee Burke, as the "Tighty" mother is an excellent contrast for daughter Constance's suave, coy manner. The comedy "You Said A Hatfull," starring Charlie Chase, completes the entertainment.

CORNHUSKERS WIN 28-21 VIC-TORY SATURDAY AT LINCOLN

Parsons High Man

Nebraska's Star Guard Heads Both Teams in Scoring, Freeland High Wildcat

The Nebraska Cornhuskers shoved State into the cellar position of the conference standings. Saturday night, by defeating the Wildcats 28 to 21.

Missouri's surprise double victory over the University of Kansas not only made it possible for Iowa State to win the Big Six conference by defeating the Aggies tonight, but also ended any hope that Kansas State had of residing in fourth place.

The game got off to a slow start with Nebraska finally taking the lead. State went ahead for a short time after 12 minutes had been played when Freeland scored on a short shot for a field goal. However, Wahlquist put N. bearsak ever, Wahlquist put Nebraska out in front again not long after, and the Huskers retained their lead for the remainder of the period, holding a 14 to 9 advantage at the half.

Coming out strong, the Cornhuskers turned on the steam to take a 14-point lead, which turned out to be too big a handicap for the Aggies to overcome. The Wildcats did, however, cut the Nebraska lead exactly in half as the game ended in a rough and tumble finish, with both teams wildly scrambling to gain possession of the ball. Close to 2,500 persons saw the game which finished the Cornhusker season.

Parsons, Nebraska's crack guard and offensive mainstay of the Husker team throughout the season, was high-point man for the evening with eight markers. Freeland, State forward, topped the Aggie basketball with three buckets for a total of six points. The score:

Madam Fashion Dictates ...

By Margaret McKown
The stir that gold made on Wall street as a result of the recent Supreme Court decisions is just a tremor compared to the shock it's having on women everywhere this spring. Gold jewelry is sweeping the country.

Grandmother's old fashioned wedding ring has been taken from its satin box among the keepsakes and made into an ear ring. And by a tricky means of clipping it looks as though it were piercing the ear.
To match these are wide bracelets with belt buckle tops. "Fobs, similar to grandfather's watch fob, will grace necklines," Paul C. Dooley, Aggieville jeweler said. "Clips, with strands of metal between, take the place of necklaces this year. Charms too, are having their day again."

Catalin jewelry (of dyed bone) is more popular than ever. Bright clips, rings, bracelets added in a minute can make a dashing costume of a drab one. Colors range from delicate pinks to red—and the most daring of reds! Co-eds will love them.

"Fabric, slipper, and tuck-tight hand bags are leading styles this spring," Mrs. Helen Custer, of Cole's store said. "Merry plaid ones will complete the smart woman's costume. Patent leather envelope style, come next and may be had in navy, red, brown, or black. Then of course calf skin bags of either grained or plain design are always acceptable for general use."

Bags for the most part are flat, with a gusset for capacity. They are jany things with little trimming save perhaps a metal clasp.

Grip, as spring heels are the new trend in shoes and they are more and more coming to the in a pretty how beautiful your dress.

"With tailored suits so popular you need a bright coat for that chance you desire," Mrs. Rose Welch, of the Ward M. Keller store remarked. "You may take your choice of the long, short, or triangle styles."

Search come in dashing colors and designs this year and you may choose among stripes, plaids, figures, or plain colors. Some are lined, others as the clever checked accessories, and some with fringed edges. The "Cordons" a small three cornered one with wide silk fringe, is dashing with again in pastel colors.

"Women have gone feminine after the war and the war. What about of these new costumes?"
"These are just one of the new costumes that come, although tailored plans with great buttons are extremely smart."

Mostly all of the colors fit high.

Organdy, lace, moire taffeta, and the new rayon taffeta make cunning neckwear for the co-ed.
"You can shake hands with spring in gloves of lace mesh. Bernberg fabric, chamois, string, or kid," Mrs. Edith Slaughter of Cole's store said. "Glove lengths will vary according to the costume with which they are worn. Spring colors are white, chamois, navy, and brown."

AT THE DICKINSON

"Rumba"
When you leave the theatre after seeing "Rumba" you'll be rumbaing all over. That torrid mixture of the best (and the worst) Spanish and African emotions expressed in dancing has something about it that makes you realize you have some of these primitive emotions hidden within you—that is, unless you are entirely made of stone.

Very likely "much of the stomach rumba-ling was removed to preserve censorship peace." That sentence is clipped but it expresses our opinion.
George Raft, who has been everything on the stage including a gangster, Chinaman, bullfighter, and a pugilist, is his same sleek self. His rather tardy discovery of the rumba in the interior of Cuba, after he has been fired from his job as a dancer in a cafe in Havana, his distortion of it into a stiff, dull vaudeville dance, Carol Lombard's love for Raft against the wishes of her aristocratic family, and a threat by gangsters to kill Raft if he goes through with his rumba dance with Miss Lombard in New York help to complicate the plot.
Lynne Overman, the alert newspaperman, provides the humor. Margo, as the native Cuban dancer who teaches Raft the rumba, is interesting and different. Miss Lombard plays her part excellently in spite of having to stare at Raft's stiff gliding most of the time.

The staging and photography are excellent. The scene of the native Cuban fiesta where Raft discovers the rumba watching 150 expert dancers is the best of all. The directors really succeeded in getting the primitive spirit of the rumba into this scene. One gets a short look into the nature of the Cuban, who can be deliciously happy and sad at the same time.

Spring Underwear is here.

What's your street and number?

When men stepped out on their front porches yesterday morning there was Spring in the air... but it was Winter underneath.

In they came expecting to see the usual Spring weights. Out they went with rainbows under their arms.

You'd think, judging from the style and color of these new shirts and shorts that they were going to be worn right out where everybody could see them.

A thrill for both you and your laundry lady.

Is Your Printing Appropriate?

EACH business, product, or service presents a very different problem... an individual problem in regard to the character of the printing it uses.

Printing that is appropriate for an amusement park would not be appropriate for a church. Printing that is appropriate for auto advertising is not appropriate for a bank or investment house.

One of the most serious mistakes a business house can make is to use printing to get business that is not appropriate to the needs, use, and purpose of the buyer... yet, it is an all too common mistake.

Your printing not only should be appropriate to your kind of business—whether it is mercantile, manufacturing, merchandising or professional service—but it should also possess the character, individuality of your firm.

Track Team, Wrestlers, And Swimmers To Big Six Meets--Haylett's Squad A Favorite

K-STATE MAY TAKE INDOOR CHAMPIONSHIP AT COLUMBIA

Grapplers To Ames

Swimmers Compete at Lincoln--31 Men On the Three Squads Will Represent College

A total of 31 men will represent the Aggies in three Big Six conference meets this week-end, with bright prospects of bringing one conference title to K-State.

Fifteen trackmen are scheduled to battle it out with Oklahoma for the fourteenth annual indoor track and field championship to be held at the University of Missouri today and tomorrow. Nebraska and Missouri are also included in the four teams which have a nearly equal chance of getting first or fourth place.

Captain Joe Knappenberger, who has won all of his hurdle races this season, is rated the best timber-topper in this section of the country. He stands a fine chance of lowering the present record in the high hurdles of 7.6, and is conceded a victory in the low hurdles as well.

O'Reilly's Favorite One of the feature races will be staged between Justin O'Reilly and Lochner of Oklahoma in the mile run. O'Reilly, along with being the favorite to lower the indoor mile record, is also a threat in the 880.

Lochner is hoped to edge out a win in the two-mile race over Wheelock, of the Wildcats, and Beasley of Missouri. Wheelock, Wheelock, a type of runner with a strong finish, may come through with a surprise victory.

The 440 event will be crowded with fast runners and this race should be another one of the features of the day. Ward of Oklahoma and Scott of Iowa State are considered the best in the Bib Six, but the long stride and strong finish of Nixon of K-State makes him a real contender.

Four Champions Back The Big Six champions, who are returning to compete this year, are Ward of Oklahoma in the 440 and broad jump, Lochner of Oklahoma in the shot put, and Moody of Oklahoma who won the 880 in 1933.

The Kansas State entries are: Joe Knappenberger, 60-yard dash and high and low hurdles; Nixon, 440-yard dash and mile relay; Sweet, 440-yard dash and mile relay; O'Reilly, 880-yard dash and mile run; Robert Dill, 880-yard dash and mile relay; Eberhart, 880-yard dash; Redfield, mile run; Wheelock, 2-mile run; Robinson, 2-mile run; McCool, 2-mile run; Messick, mile relay; Barney Hays, shot put; Roehrmann, high jump; Ayres, pole vault; and Steele, high and low hurdles.

Wrestlers To Ames Coach B. R. Patterson with a full strength squad of eight wrestlers left early yesterday morning by motor cars for Ames, Iowa, to take part in the Big Six wrestling tournament held there today and tomorrow. The return to the squad this week of Captain Dick Campbell who has been out with an injured back considerably bolsters the Kansas State team.

By dexterous shuffling of the dope figures compiled from results of this season's dual meets, matmen of Kansas State have a possibility of winning second place in the tournament. Oklahoma University, barring some catastrophe should win first place in every weight. Nebraska is hoped for the cellar position.

Second or Fourth If the Wildcats fail to win second honors they will probably have to be satisfied with a fourth place rating, and will be separated from the winners by Iowa State and Missouri. The Big Six tournament is a bracketed affair and each man is matched with an opponent by drawing. If a man is defeated by the winner in his weight he will have the opportunity to wrestle again for second place. The tournament will decide the champions of the Big Six conference. Dual meetings of the squads previously this season will have no bearing on the result.

ARCHITECTS BUILD A MAYAN TEMPLE

A reproduction of the interior of a Mayan Temple, made by the architecture department, will be on display in the architecture gallery on the third floor of the Engineering building, for open house next Friday, March 15.

This work was started in order to feature the feathered serpents, which is a typical Mayan motif.

Stress Passing In Spring Drill

Coach Fry Hopes to Discover A Good Passing Combination Before Fall

Spring football practice is now in full swing with 110 candidates reporting for practice. With the close of the swimming season and indoor track and wrestling a number of men not out at present are expected to report for practice. Coach Fry expects the squad to number between 130 and 140 by the middle of the practice season.

Passing in both its forward and lateral phases will be stressed and an attempt will be made to develop a number of good passers and pass receivers before next fall.

"We are somewhat weak in both good passers and pass receivers at present, but this is to be expected in a young squad where the boys have not been able to develop coordination to the fullest extent," said Coach Fry.

"Last year, due to the introduction of a system that was new to all of the players the time for build-up a passing attack was considerably reduced. In the first five games last year we did not have any plays off a punt formation except a punt, which is tactically wrong as it gives no chance for deception."

Another important feature of the present practice is the teaching, especially to freshmen, the shift in time to the cadence of the quarter-back. In order to have perfect team work in shifting and changing as a unit it is necessary for every man to have the cadence well in mind so that his timing will be coordinated with the rest of the team.

The line work is in charge of Stanley Williamson, former U. S. C. star center under Howard Jones. Williamson who graduated in '31 from the University of Southern California was center and captain of that years national champions. The championship last year was decided by the Tulane-Southern California game, which Williamson and his team won by the score of 21-12.

Williamson is teaching the right ends and tackles a different stance than any now used in the Big Six. This consists in placing the left hand down and bringing the opposite knee forward, giving greater freedom of movement and more driving power in a charge.

Give Entries For St. Pat, St. Patricia

20 SELECTED AS CANDIDATES FOR ST. PAT AND ST. PATRICIA

Crowned At Dance

Names Will Be Made Known at Shamrock From That Climaxes Annual Affair

St. Pat and St. Patricia, the presiding officers of the Shamrock Prom, which will terminate the Engineers' fifteenth annual Open House program March 16, will be chosen from eleven engineers and nine sorority girls in an all-engineer election next week.

Nominees for St. Patricia are: Pauline White, Zeta Tau Alpha; Berta Frickey, Van Zile Hall; Dorine Porter, Clovia; Pauline Umberger, Pi Beta Phi; Dorothy Jobling, Alpha Xi Delta; Helen Hall, Chi Omega; Kathryn Peterman, Alpha Delta Pi; Louise Rust, Kappa Kappa Gamma; and Beulah Hockaday, Delta Delta Delta; and Ona Lee Burson, Pi Omega Phi.

Those nominated for St. Pat are: Donald Green and B. A. Sellers, civil engineers; Eugene DeGeer and Victor Hopeman, agricultural engineers; Dale Gentry and John Baptist, electrical engineers; Fred Sorenson and Howard Rivers, architecture; and Howard Hudiburg and Allan Schaible, chemical engineers.

The candidates for the honor of St. Patricia were nominated at the different sororities on the hill. Only nine names have been turned in to the prom committee. This procedure of nominating is different from that used in other years. Previously the engineers have nominated both the girls and the boys. Each department of the engineering division nominated two boys, with the exception of the mechanical engineering department, which nominated only one candidate.

Pictures of the 20 nominees will be posted on the bulletin board in the main hall of the Engineering building next week. About Wednesday, according to Dwight Gildert, publicity director, an election will be held to determine the persons who will be king and queen of the prom. These names will be kept secret until the night of the dance. The two winners are usually presented with a ring by the division of engineering.

Shamrocks and decorations appropriate for St. Patrick's day have been planned for the gymnasium, where the dance is to be held. The music will be furnished by Frank Waterhouse, who was a member of Jimmie Joy's Brunswick recording orchestra for more than eight years. He and his orchestra are coming here direct from Southern Mansions in Kansas City, where their two-week engagement was extended three months.

"I'll bet they can't do it! No two men alive could possibly tear down that motor and assembly it in 13 minutes! Let's time them." These expressions of doubt will be used frequently when visitors at the Engineers' open house March 15 and 16, come upon an exhibit loaned to the exposition by the Ford Motor company.

The exhibit consists of a V-8 motor of the type now used. Two mechanics have laid claim to the fact that they have so eliminated waste motions that they are able to tear the engine down to its last cotter pin in five minutes and build it back in readiness for a chassis, in eight minutes.

During the 13 minutes that the mechanics are dissembling and assembling the V-8 power plant, a man, who was on Byrd's north pole trip and on his first expedition to the south pole, will explain the procedure. This display was one of the star

K. S. Graduates Now Excavating Elephant Fossils

According to the Eldorado (Okla.) Courier, two former Kansas State college students have been gaining fame as paleontologists in Oklahoma. S. H. Horner, b. s. '33, and R. R. Ballou, b. s. '34, have been excavating fossil remains of elephants four and one half miles northwest of Eldorado.

An article from the Eldorado paper says that it is believed that at least six skeletons remain in a mound in the vicinity. The type of the elephant found is the largest in the elephant family; their height sometimes being about 15 feet.

The Eldorado newspaper writes about the excavations: "Daily there are groups from adjoining counties who visit the 'bone-yard' as it has become known here, and the reputation of the Eldorado area as a territory unusually rich in fossil remains of prehistoric animals is spreading over a wide portion of the country as news of the local deposits here are carried in the press throughout the state."

Horner, who is in charge of the excavations, and his assistant, Ballou, have arranged a display of these bones. It seems that thousands of visitors have viewed the remains exhibit. The two paleontologists have been giving lectures regarding the finds.

Horner and Ballou are working under the supervision of Dr. J. W. Stowall of Oklahoma university.

Choosing a Marriage Partner Is Dean Van Zile's Topic Before Meeting

"Choosing a lifetime partner," was the subject discussed by Dean Van Zile last night at the first meeting of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. discussion groups dealing with love and marriage.

Four more meetings are scheduled for this month. Is there such a thing as an ideal husband or wife--what are the elements contributing to a successful marriage--Is it safe to get married without an adequate income assured, are some of the questions to be discussed.

On March 14 the economic aspect of marriage will be presented by Prof. C. V. Williams. The physical aspect of marriage will be presented by Dr. B. A. Nelson. The discussion for men will be March 19, and the discussion for women March 21. As yet a speaker has not been obtained to talk on Romance in Marriage, the subject for discussion at the last of the meetings scheduled for March 28.

All meetings will begin at 7:30 o'clock, and will be held in room 58 of Calvin Hall. Students and faculty members are invited to attend.

Stage All Set For Start Of Ag Orpheum

TWELVE ACTS FOR Y. M. C. A. PRODUCTION READY FOR RISE OF CURTAIN

Judges Selected

Three From College Faculty and Three Townspeople To Choose Best Act

The last rehearsals have been held, the stage has been dressed up, and everything and everybody is all set for the initial rise of the curtain on the Aggie Orpheum acts tonight at 8 o'clock in the auditorium.

Judging of the stunts will be in the hands of six judges, three are from the college faculty and the remainder from townspeople. Determination of the final decision will be based 50 per cent on the audience's reaction.

Friday night's performance will be judged by R. P. Martin, president of the Manhattan Chamber of Commerce and an executive in the Manhattan Mutual Life Insurance company; W. R. Purkale, supervisor of dramatics at Manhattan high school; and Prof. M. F. Ahern, director of Kansas State athletics. The stunts are to be judged 50 per cent on entertainment value, 25 per cent on production, disregarding setting, 15 per cent on originality, and 10 per cent on cleverness or beauty.

The audience's applause will be the big factor in the determination of places on Saturday night. The enthusiasm of the audience will be judged by R. R. Lashbrook, a member of the college journalism faculty; H. H. Brewer of the Manhattan Motors company; and Frank Myers, assistant to director of athletics at K. S. C.

The competition will be provided by Lambda Chi Alpha, Pi Beta Phi, Beta Theta Pi, Chi Omega, and Delta Delta Delta, who will present stunts that are timed to six minutes each.

The large loving cup which will go to the winner was designed by Lurelle Guild, who was at one time a class mate of Prof. John Helm, of the architecture department. At present the cup is on display in the front window of the Palace Drug store in Aggieville.

Tickets are being sold in the main corridor of Anderson hall today only. However there will be no reserved seats and tickets may be purchased at the box office on the nights of the performances. The price has been reduced to 25 cents for this year's production.

The complete staff is as follows: H. Miles Heberer, general director; Max Burk, business manager; Max Besler, assistant manager; Paul Ehrsam, stage manager; and O. D. Hunt, master of lights. All settings are executed by Harlan Rathbun and costumes by Mrs. Elwyn Shonogo. Dance numbers were created by a dance committee headed by Gladys Niles and composed of Ivernia Danielson, Esther Hedges, and Beulah Hockaday. The choruses are under the personal supervision of Prof. Edwin Sayre. Dr. A. A. Holtz, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., is the general supervisor.

Kansas University defeated Oklahoma U. for the second consecutive night in the Big Six basketball game held at Norman last night by a score of 47 to 42. These two victories definitely establish K. U. as second place winners in the conference race.

Y. W. C. A. TO GIVE A TEA

A tea sponsored by the social service committee of the Y. W. C. A. will be held at the home of Mrs. Russell Thackrey, 1211 Thurston, Sunday afternoon from 4:00 to 5:00 o'clock. Glenna Sowers is chairman of the tea and Marlene Dappen and Edith McDanel are chairmen of the social service committee.

Kathryn Godfredson, relief and cross administrator of Riley county, will give a talk on local relief work.

Phone your campus news to 3272.

The meeting was called by Richard Fowler, who presided; Kathryn Knechtel, Wilburn Flournoy, and Lucille Glenn. These students have been working for some time making plans for the formation of an independent political party, it was explained. The result of their work so far was revealed, and opinions and discussions were asked from those present.

Need Reform In Elections The discussions held at the meeting were enthusiastically participated in by most of those present. Nearly all were of the opinion that the barbs could control campus politics if a strong organization were formed. Many expressed the opinion that the time was ripe to form that organization.

In the discussions of the platform the party should adopt, there was almost unanimous agreement that the present election system was badly in need of reform. Considerable resentment was expressed over the apparent lack of honesty in the way the student council elections of last year were conducted. Suggestions that the party adopt in its platform a plank demanding a faculty supervised election board for student elections came from the group.

The fraternity and sorority controlled secret blocks that have played so dominant a part in former student elections also was severely criticized. Consensus of opinion seemed to indicate that some means for their elimination from campus politics should be adopted.

Favor Student Union Building

Another suggestion for the platform that seemed to find favor, was that a student union building was badly needed at Kansas State, and that a campaign to create student sentiment for a student union building should be adopted. It was pointed out that this would greatly aid in providing social facilities for independents that are now enjoyed only by the Greeks.

Nothing definite concerning the platform to be adopted was decided. However, a committee composed of Chester George, L. A. Haselwood, and H. L. Vickburg was appointed to consider the problem and make recommendations at the next meeting of the party.

Elect Executive Council

It was decided that the functions of the various divisions of the party should be controlled by an executive council chosen by the members. (Continued On Page Three)

LIBERALISM APPEARS AT N. U.

Students at the University of Nebraska, in line with the spirit of liberalism that is sweeping through the majority of the colleges in the United States, have organized a united movement for the furtherance of peace by fighting all trends towards militarism. The following points have been adopted as their platform by the students of that college engaged in this movement:

1. Abolishment of the military departments in the schools and ridding the nation of militaristic ideals.
2. Take control of munitions out of private hands.
3. Make the general public peace-minded.
4. Establish a permanent spirit of international amity.
5. Rid the nations of their dictators.

This program is similar to the ones put into effect by colleges and universities throughout the country. It is another manifestation of the growing spirit of enlightenment that is taking hold of the coming generation.

The only indication of that spirit appearing on this campus was the peace club that existed until recently. Yet the students at Kansas State not only refused to consider the question of peace and militarism with an appreciable degree of interest, but actually laughed and ridiculed out of existence the only organization that sought to approach and solve the question intelligently. There is something vitally wrong with a student body so mentally apathetic that they refuse to seek an understanding of the future's most pertinent problems.

The Snooper

We snoop to conquer!

Even McComb thought it oddly appropriate that a dog began to bark as she started songstering at Ag Orpheum practice the other night.

Although we, with Dexter, insist that "honesty is the best politics" we still say: what?

If three hundred are in the Ag Orpheum stunts, each organization gets a couple of free passes, has seven stage-hands and a prompter, what is there in it for Burk and Shideler?

It's an ill-wind that blows from the chem. building but what about the odor of the breeze coming up from the state senate over a new building for us?

To an unsuspecting world we announce we have just become a mother! By some reversion of the species we were unaware of our parenthood until we were introduced to our offspring by the proud father, known to yousers as "The Duke." The chee-ld was left on our door-step wrapped in oily rags which we strongly suspect of having originated in a filling station. Since the poor babe's anatomy consisted of two empty Sinclair oil cans she wasn't long for this world. But she had such a beautiful spirit! We named her Danny after Partner, because who isn't?

If it's true, as Prof. Charles Morgan says, that in twenty years we'll use zippers for doors and windows on our houses, we hope our roomie will be around. She needs something simple that won't slam.

And now that St. Patricia and St. Pat candidates have been nominated we will see this campus political machine, to which some of our associates object, begin its usual functioning.

The next assembly will be Friday, March 15. Miss Francis Zull, home economist from Iowa university will be the speaker.

GET A LIFT WITH A CAMEL!

"THERE'S SO MUCH GOING ON in college today," says James Casey, '37, "that an undergraduate can hardly find time to work everything in. I'm studying a business course; am mixed up in several outside activities; and, in my spare time, I'm doing tutoring. So naturally I feel rather weary and 'fed up' at times. To head off fatigue, I always turn to Camels. Smoking a Camel does 'wake up' my energy. It's a delightful experience! And what a great taste Camels have—mild, yet full and rich. I never get tired of Camels. I guess that's why I smoke so many. But steady smoking doesn't bother me—Camels never get on my nerves!" (Signed) JAMES J. CASEY, JR., '37

Talks On Vitamins

Interest In Vitamins Has Grown Rapidly Since Discovery 25 Years Ago

"The word vitamin was first used 25 years ago by Dr. Funk, who isolated material used for fighting beri beri," said Dr. J. S. Hughes in student assembly Wednesday. At that time there were only a few people interested in the study of vitamins, but at the end of 15 years scores of people had become attracted to the study.

Dr. Hughes gave the dates of the discovery of the various vitamins, and the foods that contain each. Next Mr. Hughes showed slides showing the effect of the lack of the various vitamins on animals.

Dr. Hughes pointed out that 20 years ago one baby out of every 10 died under the age of one year. "The great majority of people would have perfect health if they used a normal diet, combined with good heredity and environment," said Dr. Hughes. "Everyone should use more care in the selection of a diet."

"better rural living" and it is organized especially for rural young people from 18 to 30 years of age from over the state, whether they represent rural organizations or not. Important speakers on the program will be Dr. F. D. Farrell, President, Kansas State College; Dr. E. L. Kirkpatrick, Chairman, American Country Life Assn., Madison, Wisconsin; L. E. Call, Dean of Agriculture, Kansas State College; Dr. Eugene Merritt, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.; Dr. H. T. Hill, Dr. George Gemmell, and Prof. Vance Rucker, all of Kansas State College.

The conference will be divided into three main discussion groups as follows: 1. Social adjustments needed for better rural living. 2. Agricultural adjustments desirable for better rural living. 3. Vocational adjustments advisable.

A big banquet and general party will be held on Saturday night. The conference will be free to all. No fee will be charged.

Tri Delt Stunt Judged Winner In Ag Orpheum

MODERNIZED VERSION OF ROMEO AND JULIET GAINS APPROVAL

Receive Loving Cup

Trophy Is Awarded to Delta Delta Delta For Second Consecutive Year

A parody on "Romeo and Juliet" entitled "Shakespeare" given by Delta Delta Delta was declared the winner of the competitive stunts given in the Y. M. C. A.'s Ag Orpheum Saturday night.

A large loving cup was presented on the stage to Gertrude Arnold, Newton, the manager of the act. This is the second consecutive win in Ag Orpheum for the Tri Deltas.

Six judges, three of which judged the applause of the Saturday night's audience and three giving their decisions on paper Friday returned a unanimous vote favoring the Tri Delt stunt. R. R. Lashbrook, Harry Brewer, and Frank Myers judged Saturday night's performance while M. F. Ahearn, W. R. Purkale, and P. R. Martin judged the stunts on Friday.

Modernized Version of Play The winning stunt was a highly modernized version of the fatal romance of "Romeo and Juliet." Modern jazz and slang played a prominent part in the effectiveness of the act.

Ellen Payne, Manhattan, played the part of Romeo Montague; Mary Jane McComb, Wichita, was Juliet Capulet; Juliet's "old man" was played by Marjorie Shellenberger, Hutchinson; and Margery Blake, Manhattan, played Jasper, the porter.

Large Audiences Attend It is reported that the two nights performances drew 1,900 patrons, with 1,000 of them attending Saturday night.

During the intermission of the Saturday performance, Mrs. Frank Root, who produced the number "Smoke Rings" especially for the 1935 Orpheum, was introduced to the audience.

The Orpheum consisted of five competitive acts by Greek organizations on the hill, six full stage presentations by the men's and women's glee clubs of the college, and numbers by the Mason School of Dancing and the Lillian Amos School of the Dance. The college orchestra played introductory numbers and John Barhydt played organ numbers at intermission.

K. S. Grapplers Tie For Second In Conference

IOWA AND WILDCATS TRAIL SOONER CHAMPIONS 36 TO 18

Fansher In Draw

Only Successful Finalist From College Sharing First With Cranston of Iowa State

With the best wrestling team in the "wrestling" state in the union, Oklahoma U. successfully defended her Big Six wrestling title at Ames over the weekend by winning six individual championships, Kansas State and Iowa State shared second place trailing the victorious Sooners 36 to 18.

It looked at first as though the defending champions, Oklahoma university, were going to be dethroned. The Iowa State team placed seven out of eight men in the finals, while Oklahoma only placed six. But after the finals were over the defending champions had six firsts and a third to their credit, while the Iowa State team had to be content with a tie for first in the 128 pound class, two seconds, and five thirds.

Kansas university came in fourth place with a total of 13 points, Nebraska 4, and Missouri 2.

Only Two Falls in Finals There were only two falls in the final matches, the rest of them going to decisions. Moore of Kansas university threw Thayer of Iowa State to win the heavyweight division, and Martin of Oklahoma threw Thomas of Iowa State to win the 145 pound class.

Although the team honors went to the defending champions the individual honors went to the "man mountain" from Kansas university, "Tiny" Moore. He had a total of eight points, the highest that he could get. He won all of his matches by falls, which counted one point each. By winning first in his weight he got the other five points. Martin of Oklahoma was second with a total of seven points. Martin failed to throw Jessup, K-State in the semi-finals and lost his chance of tying for the high point position.

Fansher Only Aggie Winner Forest Fansher, Kansas State 128 pound man, was the only one of the Aggies to place a first. He went to a draw with Cranston of Iowa State in the final bracket and shared the points evenly.

Summary: 118-pound—Carr, Oklahoma, defeated Yarger, Iowa State. 128-pound — Fansher, Kansas State, and Cranston, Iowa State, went to a tie.

Kansas State Captures First Indoor Track And Field Conference Title

WARD HAYLETT

Former K. S. Student Sells First Serial

The novel, "A Morning Without Clouds," is a far step from business letters and commercial correspondence, and a considerable jump from prosaic Accounting II—that's what Godwin Sheller thinks, and he ought to know. But that's not his real name at all, for he was last enrolled in college under his real name, Milton Pelischek, of Leavenworth, in the fall semester of 1933-34, and bade farewell to the academic grooves in January 1934.

In the March number of The Household Magazine, a Capper Publication, Godwin Sheller (sometimes Milton Pelischek, the student) broke into the realm of fiction, and from what has been written by outstanding critics about Sheller's maiden attempt at fiction, "A Morning Without Clouds" is an outstanding novel.

But there is another side in the metamorphosis of Milton Pelischek the student to Godwin Sheller the novelist. This bit of interesting insight came out of an interview with Prof. J. O. Faulkner, who has been given the credit of pushing Pelischek over the fence into a lucky break.

"Early in the fall of 1933, Milton Pelischek became a student in my course in commercial correspondence," said Mr. Faulkner. "I soon discovered that he could write. I called him into my office for a conference, and it didn't take long for me to get from Pelischek that he had already written a 90,000 word novel, 100 or more short stories, several plays, and attempted some poems. I requested him to bring everything he had written to me—everything except the poetry. I later read his novel and his short stories."

"I advised him to stay away from poetry," continued Mr. Faulkner, "that he would do well to become a novelist. Pelischek showed me letters from publishers who had read his manuscripts. I was convinced that this young writer's first novel had the fire that would sell it, and suggested that he send it to the Household Magazine, as I was interested in seeing my young friend break into writing in a Kansas magazine, especially as his novel had a Kansas setting. He did break into publication and 'A Morning Without Clouds' is now running serially in the Household Magazine."

Pelischek is 24, unmarried, writes well, paints pictures in the medium of Birger Sandzen, and plays the piano.

State Captain High Point Man in Meet Winning Both Hurdles and a Third in 60-Yard Dash. O'Reilly Is Victor in Mile Run and Pushed Moody of Oklahoma to a New Record of 1:57.8 in Half-Mile Race

Fifteen Aggie tracksters, proteges of Coach Ward Haylett, presented K-State with her first Big Six indoor track and field title last Saturday by nosing out Oklahoma, 33 points to 31½.

"I'm tickled to death," smilingly stated the happy track coach, "it is not only the first conference championship that State has gotten under my 7-year regime, but also the first in the 14-year history of the meet."

"All the boys came through in good shape," continued Ward, "and I was exceptionally well pleased with their performances."

The Mirror will be ready for publication about May 1.

TO PUT OUT TEST BEDS

Next week the agronomy department will put out test beds of eight varieties of sweet clover and two varieties of lespedeza in about fifteen counties in central and eastern Kansas.

This is the second year that these variety tests are being planted in the state. Last year tests were made in ten counties, but because of the drought five of the tests dried out and a yield was obtained from only two. These yields indicated that there will be outstanding differences in the yielding abilities of the different varieties.

House Refuses Appropriation For Building

AS A RESULT KANSAS STATE GETS NO NEW SCIENCE BUILDING

Congress May Aid

Congress May Advance Construction Funds or Legislature Might Hold Special Session

That Kansas State will not receive appropriations for a new science building in the near future was definitely decided last Saturday when the house ways and means committee let the $1,000,000 building bill die in the committee.

The decision of the committee was explained by Chairman Buzick when he said that since it was probable that congress might pass measures to advance funds for state construction, the federal authorities might consider that Kansas already had provided for its necessary buildings and would not advance it any funds for this purpose.

Should congress pass such an act and federal funds be available the cost to the state would not then be so great.

Special Session Possible

The only other hope for making appropriations for the science building at Kansas State before the legislature meets again two years from now in regular session, is the possibility of a special session for the purpose of making building appropriations.

Chairman Buzick pointed out that it is very likely that the legislature will be in special session later after congress acts on relief and security proposals and that if necessary the building appropriations could then be taken care of. The attorney general has ruled that the legislature can make building appropriations at a special session. Other appropriations provided for in the bill:

Norton sanatorium, $250,000, for the construction of a new hospital unit; $150,000 for the university medical school for the construction of a Negro ward at Bell Memorial hospital; Larned State hospital, $250,000 for construction of a ward for criminal insane; Parsons state hospital, $95,000 for construction of new porches; and $46,000 for construction of addition and repairs to the Dyche museum at the University of Kansas.

Kansas State Gets $1,873,500 A bill providing for appropriations totaling $5,396,871 for various state institutions in the ensuing two years, but not providing for any new buildings, was passed by the senate and house. Kansas State college received $1,873,500 in this bill. This money is used for the general running expenses of the school.

The appropriations provided for in this bill total approximately the same as two years ago when it was $5,387,069. The total was under the budget recommendation of $5,548,071.

Beam In Lecture

Will Speak On "An Approach To Modern Art" March 26, In Auditorium

Mr. Phillip C. Beam, from the staff of the William Rockhill Nelson Gallery of Kansas City, Mo. will speak on "An Approach To Modern Art" Tuesday evening, March 26, at 8 o'clock p. m. in the college auditorium.

Mr. Beam's lecture will be illustrated with slides and his remarks will be confined entirely to paintings. He will outline the long lines of tradition and reaction which converge in modern art, of the background of the modern artists, what they are doing and trying to do.

Things attempted today are often covered with a technique in fashion which blinds people to the fact that they have their roots in ideas centuries old, and are truly about as exclusively possessed by the people of this day as the basic human emotions from which they spring. These are a few hints as to the line of thought and approach that Mr. Beam will take.

Mr. Beam lectured in Manhattan under the auspices of the A. A. U. W. this fall, and his talk was so enthusiastically received that the Friends of Art organization is bringing him back.

WHAT SHOULD A COLLEGE TEACH?

The duty of a university—should it utilize its research and study in current social and political problems, or should it maintain an academic aloofness to contemporary affairs and direct its energies into purely scholastic channels? Much can be said on both sides of the question. The Harvard Crimson and the Yale Daily News present contrasting viewpoints.

THE HARVARD CRIMSON

Despite the great extent of modern university curricula, one field of paramount importance to everyone is barely touched upon, the social and political situation of the present time. . . . The newspapers and politicians are alike useless; the former because by nature inadequate, are infrequently well read, still more infrequently digested, and the latter because they have usually their own axes to grind.

The university remains today virtually the only available institution for the dissemination of true knowledge of the present.

It will be objected that present-day issues have no place in the curriculum of a university. Can it be that altho an archeological expedition to Yucatan is considered a fit task for a professor, a study of the race in armaments is not? Because a Ph.D. can occupy himself profitably with a study of old Slavic roots, is it by the same token unseemly to consider the recent Catalan uprising?

Obviously not, and equally obviously the need for a study of present problems by trained minds is among the most pressing needs of the day.

If men are not trained to understand the problems of the day, they will be useless to society, and society will act not intelligently but blindly.

THE YALE DAILY NEWS

There is an incredible amount of nonsense bandied about the campus concerning what the authorities please to call social consciousness. University notables and critics in the big, vital, Outside World are fond of giving these impractical professor folk frequent fight-talks spurring them on to get into real life, come to grips with Social Problems, and help us get out of this mess. National crises always call forth vast quantities of such plausible drivel. The genuinely disturbing thing is that the universities swallow it.

They are seduced by cheap appeals sentiment. They are asked, "How can you fuss with this theoretical folderol when people are starving?" In a burst of enthusiasm, the academic gentry gallop off to do battle with social injustice, falling off, like the White Knight, first on one side and then on the other. If they would throw over their academic pursuits entirely, they would do no serious damage. But they suppose that they can inject "social thinking" into their various scholastic activities without damaging the value of their investigations.

If we let ourselves be frightened into a panic of petty "social service," we shall go clumsily hanging about in the dark, upsetting everything and finding ourselves at length in a hopelessly chaotic morass. If, on the other hand, the university can recognize that its function is to advance understanding, if its members, rejecting all considerations of utility with fine contempt of the true scientist, can recapture the spirit recently branded as outmoded, namely, the pursuit of knowledge for the sake of knowledge, social advance is inevitable.

PRACTICAL SCIENCE IS NEEDED

The question raised in the above two editorials is a vital one, and the answers given by the Harvard Crimson and the Yale Daily News both need some qualification before acceptance.

If it could be inferred from the Crimson that a university as a whole should commit itself definitely to any particular social, economic, or political philosophy, then we will have to agree with the Yale Daily News that a university should restrict its activities to those of a strictly academic nature. However, as the Crimson suggests there is no reason why a university should not engage in socially significant research and make the results known for the world's benefit.

The Yale Daily News emphatically declares that it is impossible to inject "social thinking" into the scholastic activities carried on by the universities without "damaging the value of their investigations." If it is true as the Daily News points out that consideration of contemporary social problems makes scientific objectivity of thought impossible then in crises such as those of the present time, the world is deprived of the leadership of the men who should logically show the way out. Some of the best minds of the country are in our colleges, and there is no reason why, in times of stress these men should not practically apply the knowledge science has furnished them.

A university should be the testing ground for the best thought of all ages, whether of a social and contemporary, or of a non-social nature. There is no reason to believe that it is a violation of the scientists' code if the knowledge thus derived is utilized at the time when it is most needed.

The Snooper

"Sigma Nu watch?" chirruped a bright blond (Alpha Delta is our guess) in the Palace Sunday afternoon.

Even when you are captain of the football team you can't pick your own shadow, as Dean Griffing has sadly discovered. Since spring football started, that Son-of-a-Wassberg has been haunting the Great Griffing until we expect to trot to school some morning and find the west end of Nichols gymnasium missing. If you look closely you may find shreds of a la Ivan sticking to the debris.

With an original trick such as a take-off on Romeo and Juliet winning our Ag Orpheum ice-bucket (as Ruthana Jones so aptly terms it), plans are already being made by one organization on this campus to present a parody next year entitled, "The Seven Vells—A Take-Off!"

Our nomination for HERO OF THE WEEK: The professor who buys his class ice cream on his birthday. Prof. Amos of the printing dept did just that Friday—And it was two kinds, chocklit and vanilla!

We were a bit disappointed at the Avalon Varsity Saturday night because our usual friend in her white satin flits was unable to make it. She gives the place such a homey touch when she's there!

It was Sunday afternoon that Helen Hall raced up to a fellow driving a car bearing an Alabama license tag. Yes, he had been in Burlington (where the university is located) and knew several notables familiar to our heroine. But when she asked, did he know any of the Chi Omegas there, he climaxed the encounter with a sad shake of his head. "No mam. Ah guess Ah ain't acquainted with dat gentleman. What's his fust name?"

And what instructor (he prides himself on his masculinity) was it that Ruth Thomas asked to buy a ticket to the Gold-diggers' ball?

Now that practice for the Heberer Headache is a thing of the past, we must not forget that star of all performances—O. D. Hunt (Master of lights, they did bill him!) That babe can toe-dance, sing, get lost back-stage with chorus girls, and get in the way better than any two-months-old Scotty! He'd be a swell pet to buy for a mother-in-law. She'd be so busy watching after him that all mother-in-law jokes would be wasted.

And though the KU co-eds may object to so many stags on the theory that they would rather dance with their own dates—us gals can't find any fellows at K-State with whom we would trade the trods all evening.

"Poor Butterfly", as only Bill Guerrant can read it, almost made the program as offered by Pee Wee Saturday night. But they decided the crowd was too big to put such a cornetist into action—the floors (or our ribs), you know.

When this semester was still young we predicted that the Tri Deltis would try for innocence of this and that in the new poke bonnets. But we were afraid our prophecy was a dub until Joanne Stone backed us up by going gaa in one this week-end.

Glass dismissed: That copy-reading class under Lashbrook probably wishes it hadn't decided to cut Friday afternoon (under the leadership of that gal we don't mention in this yere colyum). Just as they made their get-away via the back type room of Kedzie a gust of wind grabbed the door away from them and most properly busted the glass in jillions of small pieces.

Leland J. Propp—Marion county—has been straining for his usual week-end publicity. But it either takes more or he's slipping. And we're afraid he's slipping.

ArtNotes

By Delfie Martin

Variety and contrast are the keynotes of the American Oil Painters' exhibit now hanging in the art galleries of the department of architecture.

"Gold of Autumn" by Helen Hodge is ultra conservative in its treatment. It is almost photographic in its realism. According to Prof. John F. Helm of the department of architecture, its chief merits lie in the rather lovely color. The painter introduced a sentimental note that partly detracts from the more pleasing features. Professor Helm feels that the painting would be much more interesting if the artist had not stayed so closely to nature but had portrayed something of his own feelings and emotions.

Directly in contrast to "Gold of Autumn" is "Abstraction" by Eugenia Worman in which the artist's emotions and reactions to the subject are expressed regardless of any realism.

Midway between these paintings comes "Tropical Plants" by Douglas Parrshall. Its treatment is conservative but beautiful in coloring. The painting of the plants is interesting.

"In 'Apple Tree Shade' by Arthur Meltzer Langhorne and 'Mountain Road' by Roy Brown, the artists have interpreted," said Professor Helm, "the landscape to much greater extent. While the paintings are realistic, they have been arranged and selected so that the personality of the artists and the way they reacted to their subjects are shown. Margaret Sandzen with her vivid treatment so similar to that of her father belongs in this group. Her mountain scene, Professor Helm considers individualized, and very fine in use of solid form.

"Homeward Bound" by Doel Reed, "Indian Village" by Ambrose Patterson and "Pigs" by J. O. Norfeldt are more radical. "The approach in each canvas is altogether different," said Mr. Helm "but in each case the artist has been most interested in giving his own reactions. Indian Village is particularly lovely with its delicate yet vivid colors."

Maynard Dixon's "Witch House" is very unusual. "In this painting," stated Mr. Helm, "Mr. Dixon has simplified his subject to the greatest extent and portrayed only the basic elements. The painting shows the influence of mural work which Mr. Dixon does."

William S. Schwartz paints a city scene, an alley. He uses his typical color scheme and creates his usual purely imaginary fantastic sort of world, according to Mr. Helm. His painting is vivid with color which he uses as a sort of emotional stimulant to carry out his effects.

Two figure studies are in the exhibit—"The Director Rests" by Gwendolyn Meux and "Roberta" by Glenn Golton. The first painting is of a man in a relaxed pose. The second is very interesting. Mr. Golton simplified his form rather than emphasizing it as was done in "The Director Rests." There is an interesting contrast in type of handling of the two figures.

Professor Helm believes the paintings of Margaret Sandzen and Ambrose Patterson to be perhaps the best.

The exhibit will be up for the rest of this week.

Hobby Groups Begin

Home Economics Groups to Hold Regular Meetings on Monday and Tuesday Evenings

The Home Economics club hobby groups are holding their regular meetings, which will be held on Monday and Tuesday evenings of each week. These groups, in charge of Manhattan women, teach college women and townswomen the fundamentals of several of the home-making arts.

The present program includes knitting, embroidery, crocheting and the making of hooked rugs. Other domestic arts groups may be added if there is a demand for them.

The sponsors for the knitting groups are Miss Helen Elcock, associate professor of English, Miss Dorothy Pettis, associate professor of modern languages, and Mrs. Erle Chaffin, housemother of Delta Sigma Phi. Mrs. A. L. Clapp will sponsor the crocheting group. The embroidery group will be headed by Mrs. George Moore and Mrs. H. L. Lobenstein. Mrs. Nina Rhodes, social director of Van Zile hall, will conduct the hooked rug group.

Miss Elcock's group meets at 426 N. 17th from 9 to 10 o'clock Tuesdays. Mrs. Chaffin's group meets in Calvin study from 7 to 8:30 o'clock on Tuesday evenings. The other knitting group under Miss Pettis meets at 1212 Fremont on Tuesday evenings.

Mrs. Moore's group convenes at her home, 1509 Humboldt, from 7 to 8:30 o'clock on Tuesday nights. The other embroidery group under Mrs. Lobenstein meets at her home, 1715 Leavenworth from 7 to 8:30 Monday evenings.

Mrs. Clapp's crocheting group meets at her home, 1109 Kearney, from 7 to 8 o'clock Tuesday evenings. The hooked rugs group conducted by Mrs. Rhodes convenes in the study of Calvin hall from 7 to 8:30 o'clock Tuesday evenings.

Frank Groves Is Center On Big Six Team

ASSOCIATED PRESS PLACES K-STATE PLAYER ON ALL-STAR AGGREGATION

Wegner Is Captain

Ebling, Jorgensen, and Browning Are Other Members—Stoner and Freeland Receive Honorable Mention

Although his team finished at the bottom in conference standings, Frank Groves; lanky Kansas State center was voted a berth on the Associated Press All-Big Six basketball team. Groves was the only sophomore to receive this honor.

The balloting placed Raymond Ebling, Kansas and Waldo Wegner, Iowa at forwards; Frank Groves, Kansas State at center; Kenneth Jorgensen, Missouri and Omar "Bud" Browning, Oklahoma at guards.

Kansas, and the Iowa State team who stopped them in their drive for their fifth straight conference championship, both placed two men on the second team and Oklahoma one.

They are Ted Connelley, Oklahoma; and Jack Flemming, Iowa State forwards; Dick Wells, Kansas, center; Torvald Holmes, Iowa State and Gordon Gray, Kansas, guards. Wells was given the second team captaincy.

Wegner was given the captaincy of the first team, although Ebling a junior was the only unanimous choice of the 22 members of the selecting committee. Wegner was shifted from a center berth to forward to make way for Groves.

Brilliant defensive work in the two Kansas games in one of which he held Ebling scoreless, gave the Tiger captain, Jorgensen, a guard position over Gray of Kansas.

In the other guard position we have "Bud" Browning, the dynamic spark plug of the Sooner offense and a member of the all conference team for the third consecutive year.

Both Ebling and Wegner repeated from last year, Ebling being a unanimous choice in both instances.

Jorgensen, a senior was forced to second string last year by his teammate Denver Miller.

The two graduating members of this year's Kansas State squad were given honorable mention along with Groves. They are: Captain Oren Stoner, at guard, and Jim Freeland who received the only honorable mention at center.

Big Six Swim Title To N. U.

First In All But One Event—L. S. Is Second and K. S. Is Third

Seven records were broken and one tied as Nebraska swept through to the title in the Big Six championship meet at Lincoln Saturday night.

The Husker's scored first place in every individual event except one, Davis of Oklahoma winning the backstroke. The winners scored 54 points, Iowa State 32, Kansas State 11, Oklahoma 10, and Kansas 10.

The Aggie 400-yard relay team with Creed swimming anchor, beat out Kansas to take third place. In the two previous meets with Kansas this year the Jayhawkers nosed out the Wildcats in this event. Kansas revenge itself in the medley relay, winning third place ahead of the Aggie team. The Aggies won this event in the two previous meets.

Gamble of Kansas State placed fourth in the diving event to give the Aggies the first points they have won in this event in a Big Six championship meet since 1931.

Lynde of Nebraska was easily the outstanding man of the evening, winning first in the 50, 100, and 220. Pixley's victory in the 440 was somewhat of a surprise as Davis had been rated as the best man in this class. It is possible that Davis lost some of his speed for the 440 by swimming the backstroke.

Summaries:
400-yard free style relay—Won by Iowa State, (Starbuck, Burkett, Harding, Grant); Kansas State third, Time, 4:26 (equals record).

200-yard breast stroke—Won by Smith; Nebraska; third Blanche, Kansas State, Time, 2:43.8 (new record; previous record of 2:48 held by Sands of Iowa State.)

150-yard back stroke—Won by Davis, Oklahoma, Time, 1:52.4.
50-yard free style—Won by Lynde, Nebraska; third Creed, Kansas State, Time, 24.6 (new record; previous record 24.8, held by Master-son of Nebraska.)

440-yard free style—Won by Pixley, Nebraska, Time, 5:15.4 (new record; previous record of 5:34.5 held by Davis, Oklahoma.)

100-yard free style—Won by Lynde, Nebraska, Time, 55.9 (new record; previous record 56.2 made by Lynde in trials Friday.)
Fancy diving—Won by Kulklin,

Nebraska, 94.4 points; fourth, Gaume, Kansas State, 69.8 points. 200-yard free style—Won by Lynde, Nebraska, Time, 2:26.5 (new record; previous record 2:27.3, held by Davis of Oklahoma.)
Medley relay—Won by Iowa State (Murphy, Fries, Harding); Kansas State fourth, Time, 3:25.8 (new record; previous record 3:32 held by Iowa State.)

The Bull Pen

by BILL McDANIEL

We have great faith in the new assistant football coach which Wes Fry has selected for State—namely Stan Williamson. One thing is certain, he knows his football from A to Z, having gained national prominence at the University of California under the tutelage of Howard Jones. Although only 27 years old, Coach Williamson has held three other coaching jobs since his graduation from U. S. C. in 1931, when he was captain of the Trojans, who were national football champs, and when he was an All-American selection. In '32, he coached the freshmen at Southern California for Jones; then succeeded Wes Fry at Claassen high school and Oklahoma City university in the next two years; finally catching up with Wes, when he was selected as his assistant at State. We wish to take this opportunity to welcome you Stan and may you enjoy the greatest of success.

Congratulations are in order for Coach Ward Haylett and the fifteen tracksters who brought K-State her first Big Six conference track and field championship. Although hampered repeatedly for the past several years by loss of this or that promising trackman, through scholastic difficulties or otherwise, Haylett kept plugging along and was finally rewarded Saturday, when the Aggies crossed the finish line a winner for the first time in the 14-year history of the meet. The Wildcats had to fight and fight hard to clinch their first victory. The meet was undecided until the last event, with Oklahoma and Nebraska also in striking distance of the title. State's mile relay team took second in the last event, getting three points which gave the Wildcats undisputed first place even though Oklahoma won the relay. The conference victory wound up the most successful season State has ever had in track, with four victories and no defeats. State won dual meets from Missouri, Kansas, and Nebraska.

Now is the time of year when the Downtown Coaches get together and pick their all-star teams. Although not a member of that association, I hereby present my Big Six All-Star aggregation. You may not agree with me, nevertheless, here it is:

FIRST TEAM
Forwards: Raymond Ebling, Kansas; and Waldo Wegner, Iowa State.
Center: Frank Groves, Kansas State.
Guards: Kenneth Jorgensen, Missouri; and Omar Browning, Oklahoma.

SECOND TEAM
Forwards: Jack Cowen, Iowa State; and Ted Connelley, Oklahoma.
Center: Richard Wells, Kansas.
Guards: Torvald Holmes, Iowa State; and Rollin Parsons, Nebraska.

Ebling was a natural choice at forward. He was high scorer of the conference and mainstay of the Kansas Jayhawkers throughout the season.

Wegner, second high scorer, was shifted to forward so that Groves could be placed at center, thus assuring the best possible combination.

tion. Wegner played his best ball around the backboard, getting rebounds with precision. Groves could outjump any other center in the conference and was considered as superior to Wegner defensively. Jorgensen was by far the smoothest floor man in the conference, playing in his final series for the Tigers, "Duke" displayed the finest performance and most brilliant bit of covering during the current season, when he held Ray Ebling scoreless from the field in both games at Columbia.

Browning was third in the conference scoring and sparkling of the Sooner attack. He set a new conference record by scoring 27 points against Kansas.

Although there were more Iowa State men in the finals of the wrestling tournament than Wildcats, the Aggies were able to tie for second place by beating nearly all the Cyclones in the consolation bracket. Fansher and Young were the only Aggie men to reach the finals. Oklahoma successfully defended its title by winning six individual championships.

Seven records were broken and one equaled in the conference swimming meet which Nebraska won by scoring a first in every individual event except one. K-State managed to squeeze into third place by nosing out Kansas and Oklahoma.

SPORT SHORTS

Prog Allen is getting surprisingly modest. In his All-Big Six selections, he placed only three Jayhawkers on his first team. Stan Williamson had Buster Crabbe for a roommate when Buster was attending U. S. C. . . . Lynn Waldorff will try to do a little spring football coaching between speeches. The new Northwestern leader has 20 speaking dates ahead of him this month. . . . Captain Joe Knappenberger was the only trackster to win two firsts in the conference track meet. . . . The Star would not put Groves on their All-Star quintet because they did not feel it was fair to shift Wegner to forward. . . . the same paper, however, shifted Browning, Oklahoma guard, to a forward position and thought nothing of it. . . . the cleansing powder company that sent a letter to Coach Allen addressed "Hog" must have heard how his basketball teams dominated the Big Six. . . . a leather belt (on the chin) will be awarded to the first sports writer who calls them "The Ruthless Yanks."

daughter of a famous English character "The Rogue." During the course of the meal we see the two factions of the family, the one believes in family honor, the other in adventure and a free life. Belonging to the latter are the three members of the family who seem to have inherited more of the gypsy blood—Benji, Vanessa, and the grandmother.

How Vanessa partially loses Benji first through a fire, then through the care of an insane man, and finally, through the wisdom of the grandmother, marries him, provides an interesting and colorful movie.

May Robson, as the grandmother, Lewis Stone as the father, and Otto Kruger as the husband, help to make up an excellent cast. Miss Hayes and Mr. Montgomery share equal acting honors.

Richardson is the only entry from Wichita.

Other towns and schools that are expected to have entries are Kansas U., Missouri U., Kemper Military Academy, Wichita, St. Francis, Norton, and Hutchinson.

QUILL MEETS TONIGHT

Quill club meets tonight at the home of Miss Myra Scott, English instructor, 324 Moro instead of 724 Moro as was previously announced. Manuscripts will be read to the group by Elma Edwards, Athol; Margaret McKown, Manhattan; Stanley Morris, and Olive Miller, Mahaska.

Delegates representing the rural youth organizations throughout the state are planning to attend. The theme of the conference is "Better Rural Living".

AT THE DICKINSON

"The Little Colonel"

Shirley Temple comes through again to give a delightful and thoroughly charming presentation which while it is juvenile attracts both children and adults.

Juvenile is the only word that will fit this picture for even the plot had to be made such to give little Shirley an opportunity to present her sweet, convincing self.

Lionel Barrymore as the old Southern gentleman and grandfather of Shirley does an excellent portrayal of the grumpy, wild-tempered old gentleman of the 1870's who hates all Yankees and has forbidden his daughter, Evelyn Venable, ever to set foot again in his house because she is in love with a Yankee of the north, John Lodge, with whom she runs away and marries.

Innocent little Shirley, who inherits the wild temper of her grandfather, is effective in bringing about a reconciliation in the family.

About the only really adult scene in the picture is that in which Bill Robinson gives an excellent exhibition of tap-dancing up and down a stairway, with Shirley doing a good job of it herself. The last scenes are in full color.

One Pound Gun And College Whistle To Open Fifteenth Engineers' Scientific Show

OPEN HOUSE WILL BEGIN TONIGHT AND END IN FROM

Many Are Invited

Expect Near Record Attendance—300 High Schools And Junior Colleges Invited

Kansas State college engineers will open their fifteenth annual open house exposition tonight at 7 o'clock, with the firing of a salute by the one-pounder field piece, belonging to the R. O. T. C. unit, and the blowing of the college whistle.

At this time a photo-electric cell will start to function as an official counter of the number of persons who attend the open house. As each person enters the main door of the Engineering building the cell will not only trip the counting mechanism but will also flash the person's number onto the wall in front of him.

Expect Record Attendance From all indications there will be an attendance that will be the largest in several years, according to Dwight Gillidett, publicity chairman. Approximately 300 high schools and junior colleges have been invited to send students. Although no answer of the letters was asked for, several of the schools have written giving the number of students that they are planning to send.

The first part of the program will be from 7 until 10 o'clock tonight. The Engineering building, the power plant stack, the water tower, and the road in front of the Engineering building, will be lighted by floodlights and sodium vapor lamps.

From Is Grand Climax The Saturday session of the exposition will begin at 1 o'clock and will close at 5. Beginning at 8 o'clock in the evening, the engineers will stage their annual St. Pat's prom in the Nichols gymnasium. Orchestra music by Frank Waterhouse, recently from the Southern Mansions in Kansas City, will be broadcast from 10:30 until 11:30 over station KSAC. The presentation of St. Pat and St. Patricia will be made during this time by R. A. Seaton, dean of the division.

A greatly improved television set will be a part of the electrical engineers' display. It will give an almost clear cut black and white image. This has been possible by increasing the size of the image and scanning disc. Four-minute programs will be broadcast by this unit all during the open house.

Float Metal in Mid-Air Other students from this department will float a piece of metal in mid-air. This is accomplished by induction currents set up by magnets, the same method used in frying hamburgers on ice. Another novel exhibit of this department will be several motors built from a tip can and a length of wire.

A Frigidaire unit of the size that would cool a medium-sized room in warm weather, will be on exhibition in the refrigeration room. This unit is completely incased and has much the appearance of a radio. Two small buttons in the surface of one side are the only control knobs. Several other units of varying size and purpose loaned by the

The Old Order Changeth In Ball Tonight

Boys will be boys but girls will attempt to take their place at the Gold Diggers Ball on Friday, March 15 at the Avalon Ballroom. This time it will be the boys who fret and worry about being asked and getting cut. The girls will stand on the sidelines and give the boys that "Are you worth cutting" look just as they receive them at the regular varities. No other event so well shows up a boy's popularity as does the Gold Diggers Ball, so boys—if you are lucky enough to get an invitation, . . . . .

ORCHESTRA RECITAL SUNDAY

The college orchestra, under the direction of George Henry, will give a recital Sunday afternoon, March 17, in the college auditorium at 4:15. The following program will be given:

Symphony in G Minor by Mozart; Allegro Molto, Andante, Menuetto, Allegretto; Finale, Allegro Assai. From the North by Sibelius; Waltz of the Flowers by Tchaikowsky. French Military March by Saint-Saens, will be conducted by Laura Donat, music student.

ALPHA KAPPA PSI ELECTS

Alpha Kappa Psi, men's professional commerce fraternity, held initiation services Tuesday evening for four pledges. They were: Fred Bramlage, Junction City; Carl Kirk, Winfield; Kenneth E. ## K-State May Have Student Union Building

PLANS UNDER CONSIDERATION BY STUDENT AND FACULTY COUNCILS

Found Elsewhere

Student Unions Are a Focal Point For All Student Activities On Other Campuses

Organization of a "Student Union" is being planned for the Kansas State campus, according to Joe Knappenberger, president of the S. G. A. The movement hopes to duplicate similar institutions on the campuses of many other universities.

Action to be taken this semester will provide only a starter. In a few years it is hoped that K-State may have a building for its student union similar to that of Kansas University.

Work on plans for the organization has been carried for some time by the student council and faculty council, but the purposes were just recently announced. The proposed building would contain recreation rooms, the offices of all college publications, club rooms for all college organizations, a dance hall for student varities, and a confectionery department, which would serve soft drinks and sandwiches. With this building and organization, all these things would be available to the students in better style and for less money.

The S. G. A. Varities which have been held this year were sort of an experiment to find out if a student campaign to make money for a good cause would be successful. This has been proven positively. Money from this source would go to pay for the proposed student union building. There would be many other sources of revenue. The profits from all college publications and all college activities would be put in the fund. The operation of a student book exchange department is also being considered.

Nothing can be stated definitely about the action to take place in regard to the student union until the Student Council draws up a constitution for it. It is probable that the executive part of the union movement will be under a separate body than the executive council of the S. G. A.

Kansas State Engineers Have Open House

Latest contributions of the engineer to public comfort and safety will be shown at the Engineers' Open House of Kansas State College on March 15 and 16. Television, erosion-control, model houses and towns, highway construction and lighting will be among the exhibits. Above is the college power plant, which will be inspected by visitors, and (1) Fred Benson, Grassfield, manager of St. Patrick's Prom; (2) Dean Swift, Olathe, manager of the Open House, and (3) Dwight Gillidett, Plains, in charge of information about the Open House.

New Party Votes To Avoid Blocs

Independents Decide Not To Enter Into Political Agreements With Organized Houses

The newly-formed independent political party in its second meeting Wednesday night in Calvin Hall, voted almost unanimously not to enter into any political agreements or blocs with any organized house on the hill.

This decision came after one member declared that a sorority had offered to block with the independents. In the discussion that followed it was brought out that such a move would be inconsistent with the party's demand for the elimination of secret blocs. Others maintained that forming political agreements with the Greeks would provide a wedge through which fraternities and sororities might gain control of the party before it became firmly established.

Reports of the committees occupied most of the meeting. The findings of the platform committee were read to the group by Chester George, its chairman. The tentative platform proposed by the committee was criticized by those present, and then referred back to the committee for re-wording and reconsideration. This matter will be definitely decided upon at the next meeting of the party.

The business committee composed of Marje Blythe, Howard Aicher, and Elizabeth Pittman suggested a dance for the purpose of raising campaign funds. Tentative plans have been made to hold the affair in Nichols' gymnasium. Definite plans are being held up awaiting the student council's consent.

It was decided to continue to meet regularly every Wednesday evening until the student council elections are over.

INSTALL NEW PLANT

Repeated cleaning with hydrochloric acid has finally worn away the pipes of the distilling plant in the attic of Calvin hall, and a new plant is now being installed. Constant heat causes the lime of the hard Manhattan water to precipitate and deposit on the sides of the pipes necessitating frequent cleaning with acid. The new plant can distill five gallons of water an hour.

HIGH SCHOOL CLUBS HERE

High school home economics student clubs will be represented by over 200 members at the Kansas State Home Economics Association meetings Saturday. They will have their own luncheon upstairs in Thompson hall Saturday noon at which the college home economics group will give its Aggie Pop stunt and Orchestra members will dance. In the afternoon there will be a campus tour.

Kansas State's Engineers Welcome You

The Engineers of Kansas State College take great pleasure in welcoming you to the Fifteenth Annual Open House at 7:00 P. M. tonight. The opening will be announced by firing the one pounder and blowing the college whistle. We have labored long and faithfully in order that an exposition worthy of Kansas State College may be presented. We have brought exhibits and models of the latest developments in highway lighting, television, soil erosion, streamlined trains, and grade separations. We have filled every room with displays. Every laboratory will be open, every engine will be running. Truly this event is unrivaled by any of its kind in this section of the country. Tonight at 7:00 when you present yourself at the front entrance of the "Engine House" we will be waiting to give you an evening's entertainment which you will long remember.

To Crown King And Queen At St. Pat's Prom

ST. PAT AND ST. PATRICIA TO BE PRESENTED BY SEATON

Climax Open House

Dance In Gym Will Close Annual Engineering Affair—Waterhouse To Furnish Music

Dean R. A. Seaton head of the division of engineering, will present St. Pat and St. Patricia at St. Pat's prom, sponsored by the engineers, Saturday night at Nichols' gymnasium.

Patricia and Pat will each have thrones under a large shamrock in front of the orchestra. Soft light from colored lamps suspended from the ceiling will illumine the scene. Heavy drapes will be used on the walls.

Nominees for St. Patricia are: Pauline White, Zeta Tau Alpha; Berta Frickey, Van Zile Hall; Dorris Porter, Clovia; Pauline Umberger, Pi Beta Phi; Dorothy Jobling, Alpha Xi Delta; Helen Hall, Chi Omega; Kathryn Peterman, Alpha Delta Pi; Louise Rust, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Beulah Hockaday, Delta Delta Delta; and Ona Lee Burson, Phi Omega Pi.

Those nominated for St. Pat are: Donald Green and B. A. Sellers, civil engineers; J. L. McIntire, mechanical engineers; Eugene DeGeer and Victor Hopeman, agricultural engineers; Dale Gentry and John Baptist, electrical engineers; Fred Sorenson and Howard Rivers, architecture; and Howard Hudiburg and Allan Schauble, chemical engineers.

The nominees for St. Patricia are from sororities and those for St. Pat from engineering divisions. This is different from the usual procedure in that formerly a committee has selected the nominees for both Patricia and Pat.

Music for the prom will be by Frank Waterhouse who was a member to Jimmie Joy's Brunswick recording orchestra for more than eight years. He and his orchestra are coming here direct from Southern Mansions in Kansas City where their original two week engagement was extended three months.

Those on the prom committee are: Fred Benson, Hugh Maxwell, and George Jobling.

SIGMA TAU ELECTS TWELVE NEW MEMBERS

Twelve new members are to be taken into Sigma Tau, honorary engineering fraternity. They are: Robert F. Adams, F. R. Arnold, Don Barnes, Ralph Brindle, C. J. Chappell, Warren DeLapp, Dean A. Dillon, Don E. Garr, Maurice W. Horrell, L. K. King, W. H. Maranville, and C. T. Thompson.

INCUBATORS TO COLLEGE

Two large incubators each having a capacity of 5,000 eggs, have been loaned to the poultry husbandry department by the Leland Wilson Incubator company at Miriam, Kansas.

These are now at the poultry farm north of the campus and are to be used throughout the year.

Allen To Discuss Economics Of England's Recovery In Student Assembly Tomorrow

France Became A Republic Because Of Stomach-Ache

"The world doesn't run according to rules," said Tom Collins, Sunday editor of the Kansas City Journal Post, in a lecture on "Luck" given Thursday afternoon before the department of journalism.

Luck is an important factor in the world, according to Tom Collins.

"Luck does exist," said Collins, "and it is a very cheerful theory. The chance of luck is always present and it doesn't cost a cent."

A person must grab the breaks when they come to them. Definite rules confuse you greatly. The man who thought all people who came from Indiana had cold feet because his wife from Indiana had cold feet was bound by rules, Collins told in his lecture.

"Many people have gotten jobs just through luck. Charles Swab became head of a steel corporation because he could sing and therefore caught his bosses attention and was promoted from one job to another."

"Sometimes we have luck and we don't know how it happened," stated Collins. He told the story of a captain of a boat who got a bucket of fresh water out of the Pacific. He had luck but it was not due to teaching.

"France is a republic because a man got a stomach-ache. Columbus discovered America because he got thirsty in the right place. Calvin Coolidge became president of the United States because it was hot in Chicago for five days." These are instances of luck as told by Tom Collins.

Another man, Collins explained, became editor of the McCall's magazine because he criticized the magazine before two men who had just purchased ownership of the magazine and they liked the young man's ideas.

"Luck," as defined by Tom Collins, "are breaks that enable us to use our heads." Many jobs have been gotten in a half-hazard way. The people who have the most luck are those that get around the most. Luck can be anywhere and it doesn't cost a thing to try.

"I had a piece of luck myself once," laughed Collins. He was covering a murder trial and had four telegrams ready to send when the verdict was announced. When the verdict came Collins gave the telegram boy the slip to send to his employer. When he arrived at his hotel his employer called him. "Where is the verdict?" he shouted. Collins gave him the verdict. Later he learned the telegram boy had been thrown off his bicycle and knocked unconscious. Anyhow Collins had given him the wrong verdict to mail. That was luck!

"I do believe in luck," stated Collins. "I think it is a swell notion but I am not guaranteeing you anything. You can't learn how to do all things out of books so you must depend on luck."

FORMER KANSAS GOVERNOR IN SPECIAL CHAPEL SATURDAY

Is Engineer's Day

Program is Feature of Engineers' Open House—Dean Swift Is Student Chairman

"Kansas State students are fortunate in having the opportunity to hear Henry J. Allen, one of the state's foremost speakers and a former governor and ex-senator of Kansas, when he headlines the program of the Engineers' assembly Saturday morning." This was the comment yesterday of Glen Farrar, student director of the engineering assembly, which will be held tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock in the auditorium.

Mr. Allen's topic concerns the "Economics of British Recovery" and will deal in part with the changing phases in manufacturing and housing in England. "That Mr. Allen is well qualified to speak on another."

Henry J. Allen

this subject is unquestioned," said Farrar, who recalled that Allen recently returned from England.

Mr. Allen is a world traveler, newspaper man, government official, and public speaker. He was at one time editor of the Manhattan

St. Pat's Reputation A Drummed Up Matter

Browning's Pied Piper of Hamelin tooted his pipe while St. Patrick, Irish hero of Catholic hagiology, wielded a drumstick.

Wherever Saint Patrick went he was preceded by a drum which attracted people to listen to his preaching. Sometimes Pat had a drummer; but sometimes he earnestly beat the instrument himself. His method must have been very effective because he converted the pagan Irish to the Christian faith. They not only followed his teachings but they made him a hero of folk lore and since that time his fame has grown through successive generations of story tellers and miracle mongers.

There is so much uncertainty about this saint's nationality and work, that it is generally conceded that he is a multiple person. In other words, two or more Saint Patricks were rolled into one to make our glamorous hero. For some reason March 17 is the date celebrated as Saint Patrick's day. Using the modern touch, let us look into the snake story which, perhaps, is better known to us than any other.

Saint Patrick had announced to the people of Ireland that he would drive the hated snakes and vermin from their country. Great crowds assembled on a large hill to watch their miracle Saint do his stuff. Beating his drum in the best salvation army manner, Saint Patrick took his cue and started up the hill. Poor Pat allowed enthusiasm to run away with reason.

"He beat the drum until it burst. 'Oh, woe is me!' cried Pat, viewing the shredded drumhead."

Although Saint Patrick knew he could perform the miracle of the snakes without the drum, his act was ruined without it because the people thought his mysterious powers was vested in it. He'd be a crystal gazer without the crystal. "What shall I do?" he despairingly asked.

"Take it easy, old kid," reassuringly whispered an angel, making a timely appearance. She waved her hand over the top of the instrument, making it whole again. "My pal!" rejoiced the Saint looking about for the angel who had disappeared.

"Go on, don't spoil the parade, you fool." An impudent laugh from behind his ear.

With great gusto, Pat then beat his way to the summit of the hill. He delivered his sermon and got the snakes properly told. He scowled and beat the drum.

The snakes, like a modern church congregation, couldn't take it, so they decided to scam.

ENGINEERS ARE HOSTS AT OPEN HOUSE

Today and tomorrow the engineers of Kansas State are the hosts of thousands of Kansans who come to see an exhibition of the latest developments in the various fields of engineering. The engineers are proud of their position as hosts to these seekers of knowledge and they have a right to be.

For Engineers' Open House is the product of their united efforts—only thorough cooperation makes an event like Open House possible.

The plan of making the students responsible for the event was inaugurated last year and was found to be a successful one. A faculty council, composed of one member from each of the departments of engineering, serves only as an advisory body.

While this is a student managed event it could never have attained the success that it has in the past and that we predict for it in the future if it were not for the guidance of the faculty of the engineering division.

Open House has grown from its humble beginning in December of 1920 until it is now one of the most outstanding events at Kansas State.
 It is truly a fit undertaking for an engineering school that is considered one of the best in the country. The eminence of our engineering school is undoubtedly due in part to Open House, which is not only an exhibition of engineering attainments but a stimulus to further research into some of the comparatively unknown fields of engineering.

Probably one of the most significant examples of the stimulus that Open House gives to research is the recent development in the television equipment and the resultant increase in efficiency. Last year visitors to the television laboratory saw only small indistinct figures thrown upon the screen but this year they will see large nearly clear-cut images. An improvement in the sound apparatus will make possible the broadcasting of four-minute programs continually during both days.

Serving as two beacons leading the way to the house of knowledge, two full scale sodium vapor lamps will light the road that curves to the main entrance of the Engineering building.
 In addition to the golden tint of these latest attainments in lighting, floodlights will play upon the Engineering building at night.

All the departments will have special exhibits and demonstrations, and all the laboratory equipment of the division will be open for inspection. This year the student committee in charge promises to have an entirely different line of exhibits and demonstrations in an effort to make this the most successful Open House ever held. This is indeed a worthy goal and while it naturally has been the objective of all Open House committees of the past, we feel that this year's committee will make a success of their work.

Kansas State students can do their part in making this Open House a success and at the same time greatly increase their knowledge of engineering by attending and witnessing the numerous demonstrations and exhibitions.

In the past the attendance has been as high as 7,000 and the average in the past several years has been 5,000.

Letters of invitation have been written to the senior classes of high schools within a radius of 100 miles of Manhattan, to all the larger schools of Kansas and to the engineering divisions of all the Kansas colleges and junior colleges. And not only is this an exhibition that is of interest to students, for annually thousands of farmers and practicing engineers come to Kansas State.

And so to you Kansas State Engineers who are striving to make this the biggest and most successful Engineers' Open House in the history of the school we dedicate this issue.

THE PRINTING PRESSES NEXT

Latest figures on unemployment show that there is 20,500,000 people on the relief roles of the United States. The total cost of this relief burden is about $5,000,000 a day. It would be conservative to estimate that the dependents of those on the relief roles, together with those existing barely above the pauper level would comprise about 40 per cent of the population of this country. Yet Congress in face of this financial drain is busy passing a bill appropriating $400,000,000 more to increase armaments.

The Snooper

PIKA's and ADPI's are in the receiving line for the smokes and sweets with the honky-tonk Hudiburg about to do it again. This time the gal is the effervescent Erikson.

Dorothy Walker is telling this one on herself.
 It seems she bro't up the idea of the Gold Diggers' Ball to the bright young fellow whom she planned on asking. But his instant reminiscence of the chicken dinner he had off his date last time ruined his chances pronto. It may be a bit late to resort to Chaperone advice but: "My son, hold thy tongue when spoken to by a pretty damsel before the Ball of the Golden Diggers!"

"I would gladly marry you Tuesday for a honeymoon today," quips the Kansas State Engineer, coming just before the Open House, that sounds like a "blanket" invitation. Line forms to the RIGHT, girls.

"For a 'pipe' course," says Max Burk, "try Organ I under Jesson."

We would like to hear (the) our maidenly modesty prevents our admitting it! more of the lurid details of the week-end which resulted in the Great Gilligan, et. al. (et. al. standing for room-mate, dear readers,) seeking a new land-lady! At the request of their former double 1!

TO H. W. D.

"Whiffety-whoffety, there goes a toff.
 No, by God—it's an English prof!"

We were a bit startled last evening (Monday by guess) to find we are as poor a sport as several yokels we've been riding for that very thing! We got our fur rubbed the wrong way (in intramural) and did we arch our back and spit!!
 But it's sorta fun being poor sportish, eh Betas?

Stanley Morris—our elongated framework of Colorado flavor—evidently is feeling the Call of Spring. At any rate he has issued a dare (poetically formed) for any gal to "come and TRY to get him." There's a catty remark we

"Alpha Delta this hand, aren't you going to

"No," he shouted. "Come Sigma Nu batch!"
 (She used that gag last week! Editor's note)
 And he ran down stairs.

"Alpha Xi it will you play?" she cried, running after him. Curtain.

THE END

What was it Warner and Blake (a "Dyed-inskip so lightly off the hill Monday evening? Not that we want to know, but—

And then there's that spring tra la rumor about Jack Wiseman and Pauline Pope.

Pardon us while we climb into the pulpit and adjust our toupee—it's spring and class-cutting time. Allow us to present an example of the result of such folly: That class which played hide and seek at the expense of a glass door and Lashbrook's temper got two cuts apiece.
 And they had only thirty minutes longer before class would have been dismissed! Pardon our titter.

Scrimmages Next

Football Squad Will Participate in Three Full-Game Length
 Scrimmages

No practice is scheduled for the spring football squad Saturday, although there will be three scrimmages in which the squads will be divided and a regulation game held.

A number of varsity men who have been participating in other sports reported at the beginning of this week for practice. Among these are: Ralph Churchill, Barney Hays, Joe Zitznik, Rolla Holland, and Leo Ayres who is working on punting and passing while continuing with his track work. Bob Kirk, another varsity man who is a member of the track squad reports for short practices each day.

The squad, which numbers well over 120 members at present, has been drilling a good deal on passes and shift formations. At some near-date Coach Fry expects to divide the squad into red and blue teams for practice purposes, each unit will be taught different plays to some extent so that in the scrimmage games actual game conditions will prevail. By this means Coach Fry believes that it will be possible to give the freshman a half season's experience.

"I am very well pleased with the way the freshman and varsity reserve material have been developing," said coach Fry.

Under the tutelage of assistant coach Stan Williamson, that former All American line man, the tackles, centers and guards are learning how they do it on the coast. "Don't ease into that defensive tackle, shoot across there and sock that shoulder into him," says Stan, and then proceeds to demonstrate his meaning in a very enlightening way.

Spring football is not without its casualties however, Augustus "The Duck" Cardarelli, caught a pass the other evening and stumbled over a helmet to sprain his ankle. "Red" Fleethrope has been unable to participate the past week because of a sore throat which has kept him confined to his bed.

WE ASKED LEADERS IN WINTER SPORTS:

"Is this fact
 important to you?"

"Camels are made from finer, more expensive tobaccos - Turkish and Domestic - than any other popular brand."

(Signed) R. J. REYNOLDS TOBACCO COMPANY

Winston-Salem, North Carolina

FLAVOR! Jack Shea, Olympic Speed Skater: "Camels taste so good that with me Camels get the nod every time. When people mention my being a cigarette smoker, I correct them and say: 'I'm a Camel smoker.'"

ENERGY! "Camel's energizing effect" is a great thing for one who is active," says Paul Thompson, of the world-champion Chicago Black Hawks hockey team. "When tired, there's one thing I want—Camel!"

HEALTHY NERVES!
 Says Ray Stevens, North American Bob-Sled Champion: "When the last heat has been run, I light a Camel and enjoy it to the full, knowing that Camels never bother my nerves!"

MILDNESS! Betty Chase, expert skater, says: "Camels are so mild and appealing! And smoking Camels steadily never tells on my nerves. To me, it's a very important fact that Camels use finer tobaccos."

VALUE! "I'm just an interested winter sports fan," says Edward Kent. "But I'm with Jack Shea and Ray Stevens when it comes to smoking Camels! I get a lift with a Camel when I'm low and need cheering up, or when I'm tired. And the fact that tobaccos of a choicer quality are used in Camels goes far to explain why Camels are so mild and pleasing, and never jangle my nerves. It means a lot to me that millions more are spent for the tobaccos used in Camels."

Win Five Out Of Six Matches From Ravens

KANSAS STATE BOXERS DE-CISIVELY DEFEAT ST.
BENEDICT'S

Wins By Knockouts

Ray Pyles, 124-Pounder, Victor In Second Round of Bout With Clarence Frederick

Slugging their way to victory in five out of six fights, the Kansas State boxing team won a decisive victory over the team from St. Benedict's March 12, before a capacity crowd of boxing fans.

In the 124 pound class, Ray Pyles, of the Aggies, knocked out Clarence Frederick in the middle of the second round after taking the first by a wide margin.

The only Raven victory was in the 147 pound class. Charley Briggs won a decision over Ray Lowry in this bout.

In the 135 pound class, Alvin Dreiling after being beaten badly in the first round came back to put up a game fight against Captain George Garrison, but Garrison was too much for the St. Benedict's fighter and won by a decision.

In the 123 pound class, Pete Sherar won by decision from Jack O'Connor, and Russel Madison took a decision from Ed O'Rourke in the 145 pound bout. The closest fight of the evening was won by John Crawley over Norbert Heim in the 165 pound class.

In the preliminary match between two Kansas State fighters, Fechner easily dejected Isaacson. The results:

123 pounds—Pete Sherar, Kansas State, won, a decision from Jack O'Connor, St. Benedict's.

124 pounds—Ray Pyles, Kansas State, won by a knockout over Clarence Frederick, St. Benedict's.

145 pounds—Russell Madison, Kansas State, won a decision from Ed O'Rourke, St. Benedict's.

147 pounds—Charles Briggs, St. Benedict's, won a decision from Ray Lowry, Kansas State.

165 pounds—John Crawley, Kansas State, won a decision from Norbert Heim, St. Benedict's.

A. A. U. Matmen Convene Today

59 Entries for Missouri Valley A. A. U. Tournament Here Today

With a list of 59 entries, the largest in the history of the Missouri Valley tournaments, the Missouri Valley A. A. U. wrestling tournament will go into full swing at 2:30 this afternoon in Nichols gymnasium.

Such entries as "Tiny" Moore, Kansas university; June Roberts, Manhattan; Bill Doyle, Salina; Jack Hess, Enid; Forest Fansher, Kansas State; and Glen Duncan, St. Francis will show their prowess as wrestlers in this year's tournament.

"Tiny" Moore, the man-mountain from Kansas university, was the Big Six champion in the heavy-weight class this year. Forest Fansher, the only Kansas State man to get a Big Six title this year, will try his luck at the 135 pound class this week. Bill Doyle, who was a national champion in 1931, was also a Big Six champion in 1931 and 1932. He was captain of the Aggie team in 1932.

June Roberts, who seems to be the one who holds the record for the most consecutive wins with four firsts, will try to make it five. He was captain of the Aggie team in 1933, second in the national A. A. U. tournament last year, and two years a Big Six champion.

The most outstanding boy from Oklahoma is Jack Hess, who was the Oklahoma state champion in his weight for two straight years. He is entered in the tournament in the 112 pound class.

The time of the matches will be Friday at 2:30 p. m., and 7:30 p. m., and on Saturday at 2:30 p. m. The finals will be run off Saturday afternoon.

The admission will be 10 cents for the students with activity books. Otherwise the admission will be 25 cents. The Knot Hole band will get in for 10 cents.

The matches will be ten minutes in length and will be decided by the point system of scoring. A take down will count five points, coming out to a neutral position will count three points, and coming out from underneath and going on top will count five points.

The referees of the matches will be George Brannigan, George Watson, and R. H. Campbell.

Ball Squad Gets Peppy Workouts

Coach Ahearn Believes Baseball Team Not Quite As Strong As Last Year's

Three days of bright sunshine have given Coach Mike Ahearn a chance to put his varsity baseball squad of 45 men through snappy practice sessions this week.

In the first practice tilt, held Tuesday, Harold Wierenga served warning for opposing pitchers to beware as he smashed two long homers. Max Springer showed lots of class at short and Captain Asbill hit and threw in his usual fine style.

Numerous changes were made in the lineup; but the teams started with Underwood at first; Wierenga at second; Springer at short; Stephens at third; Asbill, Lutz and Decker in the outfield; Shaffer catching; and Abbott pitching for one team.

The other team had Winchester at first; Van Sant at second; Johnson at short; H. Kirgis at third; Summers, Meyers, and Spencer in the outfield; Stuckey catching; and Byers pitching. Cooley and Scott also worked on the mound.

The pitching department appears to be somewhat stronger than it was at this time last year. Abbot, Cooley, Byers, and Scott are all working nicely. At first base Underwood and Winchester are putting on a great fight for the position.

Coach Ahearn does not believe that the team will be quite as it was last year. "We are weaker in hitting and in general baseball strategy, with only three experienced men on the squad," he says. At least three men, Elder,

Churchill, and Dileo, are expected to make bids for berths as soon as spring football practice is over. Elder is said to be an exceptionally good outfielder. Churchill is an infielder while Dileo is tagged as both a pitcher and an outfielder.

Sign With Detroit

Dougal Russell and Duane Kratzer Will Join American League Champions

Dougal Russell, former Kansas State star football and baseball player, and Duane Kratzer, baseball player who was declared ineligible by the Big Six last year, will join the Detroit Tigers in spring training. They signed contracts and will leave with Steve O'Rourke, Tiger scout, this week. There is a possibility that one other Kansas State player will be taken said Mr. O'Rourke.

Mr. O'Rourke, who picked up Eldon Auker, tiger pitcher, said that Kansas State has always attracted attention because of the proper emphasis placed on baseball. He believes that baseball is a necessary part of education and said although football is a great sport, baseball provides an entering wedge to a profession. Mr. O'Rourke gave "Mike" Ahearn credit for keeping baseball alive at Kansas State when other schools had abolished it.

In speaking of Auker, Mr. O'Rourke said that he not only is a fine ball player but a typical college boy and a credit to the profession of baseball. He said that, with his ability and cunning, Auker should be in for several great years with the Tigers. He did not start out so well when he first signed with the Tigers and was sent to Evanston and Mobile but when he was transferred to Beaumont in the Texas league he hit his stride. According to Mr. O'Rourke, Mickey Cochran is depending quite a bit on Auker in the coming defense of the pennant in the stiff American league fight.

While in the Texas league Auker acquired the name "Big Six" and it has stuck to him into the higher league.

Ray Ebling, crack Jayhawk forward, and conference scoring champ for the last two years, was named last night as a member of the All-American team for 1935, on the Kellogg College Prom broadcast over a network of the National Broadcasting company. It was on the same program that Frank Groves, high-powered center, for the Wildcats, was named on the sectional all-star aggregation. Selection of the all-star teams was on the basis of all-opponent teams picked by 60 basketball coaches, each of whom selected a team made up of the outstanding players met by his particular team. The coaches considered consistently outstanding play rather than flashes of brilliant work, allowed for variations in wear and strong schedules, and fatigue resulting from numerous games played close together. The Big Six is mighty proud to have two representatives on these all-star selections, and we, as Kansans, are doubly honored in that they are both from this State.

An Oklahoma wrestler had the novel experience of losing a wrestling bout in the recent "Big Six" tournament at Ames, despite the fact he had 5 minutes 15 seconds time advantage. The referee, who was well within the rules, decided that the Sooner's opponent had showed a superior aggressiveness and wrestling skill. At the same meet, the Oklahoma squad pulled the following pun concerning Wayne Martin's quick fall over Gall Thomas, of Iowa State, in the 145-pound finals. "Martin took a fall from Gall of the Cyclones with a twister hold in 2:10, winning in a breeze."

"The Stadium Rats" is the nickname acquired by the Iowa State athletes who have their living quarters under the east wing of the Cyclone stadium each year. Six boys have rooms in the stadium, and do their own cooking as well as working for their rooms. Jack Flemming, sophomore basketball star, is among the "rats" who brew their own meals there this year. This aggregation, though much smaller in number, seems to be somewhat similar to the group of K-State athletes, who live in what is popularly known as "The Rat's Nest" down on Fairchild. We wonder what connection there is between "rats" and athletes.

When a runner breaks his leg, he feels like he wants to crawl off somewhere and die. Especially a fellow who loves to run as much as Loris Moody. Sooner star distance man, who proved himself to be a great half-mile last Saturday by cutting nearly a full second off the Big Six indoor 880-yard record set last year by Glenn Cunningham. But, Moody would never have made that record, if he had given up when he broke his leg and sprained his ankle while trying to ride a horse across the pavement near his home a year ago. Many fellows would have pulled off their spiked shoes for good after that, but not so with Moody for he liked to run too well. The story of his comeback reads like a fairy-tale. It was our own Justus O'Reilly who pushed Moody to that new record and their rivalry promises to be a big attraction when the two meet again at the outdoor conference meet.

SPORT SHORTS
Waldo Wegner and Captain

Frank Hood, of the champion Cyclones, are both in their fifth year of school. Both boys were kept out of competition during their sophomore year to gain experience.

Coach Phog Allen will fight any attempt to remove the center jump when the cage coaches meet in Chicago next month. . . . one Nebraska sports editor says, "Master Frank Groves is a veritable lalalooser." . . . 84 candidates turned out to Lynn Waldorf for spring practice, it is the biggest turnout in recent years. . . . Ohio State has named its colored sprinting and broad jumping ace, Jesse Owens, the Ebony Antelope. . . . Incidentally, Owens broke the world's record for the 60-yard dash in the recent Big Ten indoor track meet. . . . Glenn Cunningham says when he runs the first half of a mile race faster than 2:05, the muscles in his burned legs are apt to tie up. . . . for the most unique charm of the late basketball season, we hand an orchid to Gene Thompson, Missouri forward. . . . Gene has definitely established the fact that it inspires a basketballer to eat banana cake before a game. . . . the Sooner home folks were somewhat consoled as they tuned in on Bud Browning's swan song and watched the score board run out of lights trying to register his 27 points. . . . the first spring football game of the season will take place this afternoon, when the remains of last fall's varsity squad and last season's freshman squad will tangle in the dirt, north of the tennis courts.

Serpents Grace Pagan Wall Of Mayan Temple

Realistic Reproduction of Imposing Temple of the Ancient Mayans in Architecture Gallery

Engineers' Open House guests who enter the architecture gallery of the engineering building today and tomorrow will step into a Maya temple.

At least that will be the design and atmosphere of the room as nearly as architect and architectural engineering students can recreate it.

Four feathered serpents with gaping mouths and fearsome aspect anchor the walls of the temple. These serpents afforded the most splendid column designs of Maya architecture—an architecture in which the buildings were erected of carefully cut stone elaborately ornamented with sculpture, all in brilliant reds, yellows, and blues with variations.

The walls of the reproduced temple are adorned with two Maya panels. One of them is of an old man with his attributes, and represents the god of wisdom. The other shows a young man who represents the god of affluence, fruitfulness, and rain.

This tribe of Indians aptly called "The Greeks of the new world" inhabited that part of Mexico and Central America now known as Yucatan, Guatemala and Honduras. Their civilization was in existence at least 3300 B. C. They enjoyed all the attainments of the most famous of the antiquated civilizations.

Their buildings proved that they well knew the fundamentals of good design. Predominance of horizontal lines and strong contrasts between plain surfaces and those of greatest possible richness characterized their architecture.

The reproduced temple is expected to be one of the most artistic of the colorful open house exhibits.

Models of natural stone buildings for a community center, designed by the rural architecture class, will also be included in the architecture department display. Models shown will include: building for a city market, public school, country club house, two suburban homes, and a transportation depot.

A large anamorphic composition of Greek architectural fragments framing a view of the Acropolis, is also expected to arouse much comment.

An art exhibit of contemporary American paintings, sponsored by the Kansas State Federation of Art, is another highlight of the architecture.

In the free-hand studio, on the second floor, student art work including life drawing, water colors, etchings, pencil sketches, and a few block prints will be shown. Students design problems will also be on display. And the plaster casts in the free-hand room will be "dressed up" for the occasion.

LECTURE HERE MONDAY

Professor Linus Burr Smith, Former Faculty Member Will Tell Travel Experiences

Professor Linus Burr Smith, chairman of the architecture department of the University of Nebraska, will give an illustrated lecture on "My Summer in Europe" in Recreation Center, Monday night at 7:30.

Professor Smith, who traveled in Europe last summer, will discuss his trip from the human standpoint rather than from the architectural. He will illustrate his talk with slides.

Professor Smith is a graduate of Kansas State and of Harvard. Until last spring, he was a member of the faculty of this college.

This lecture is being sponsored by the Art and Travel group and the A. A. U. W. The public is welcome.

In one part of the journey through, as the visitor climbs the steps to the architecture department, he will come upon a Mayan temple. This temple has been built in the main hall of the department.

The main display of this department is an exhibition of contemporary oil paintings which has been considered by many as one of the best exhibitions of present day oil.

Models of a rural community have been worked out and will be on show. The whole set is composed of a transportation building, a market, a club house, a home and a school house proposed for a small town in a limestone district.

New Intersection Lessens Accidents
A clover-leaf intersection, proposed for the junction of highways 40 and 75 north of Topeka, will be shown by the civis.

This is a design of a highway junction that will lessen accidents because it eliminates the crossing of two lanes of traffic. One highway crosses over the other by means of an overpass.

In changing direction to the left, the motorist turns to the right and makes a loop which puts him on the right side of the other highway. In this way he meets no cars going in the opposite direction. This department has also secured a four-car model of the Union Pacific streamline train.

The military department have a display showing the history of the machine gun from the getting gun of the Spanish American war to the modern aircraft machine gun.

The former could shoot a maximum of about 200 rounds a minute while the latests model shoots about 700. Various arms used in the World War will have a place in the display.

Texas Tech placed first in the entire contest, Nebraska second, and Kansas State third. A difference of only 38 points separated the Kansas State team from the winner.

J. E. McCool, Emporia, was second high individual in the entire contest and was first in sheep judging. P. W. Ljungdahl, Menlo, was fourth on horses and Howard Morcen, Salina, fourth on cattle. Kansas State placed third on sheep as a team.

Crowd At Open House Surpasses That of Last Year By 900

Kathryn Peterman, Beattie, and Dale Gentry, Garden City, were presented as St. Patricia and St. Pat, respectively, at the annual St. Pat's prom held in Nichols gymnasium which terminated the fifteenth annual Engineers' open house exposition Saturday. More than 300 couples attended the prom.

As the music of Frank Watershouse was put on the air over station KSAC at 10:30, R. A. Seaton, dean of the division, presented the two members of engineering royalty who had been chosen during the week by a vote of the engineers. Each was given a ring by the division.

Miss Peterman is a sophomore in the division of home economics and a member of Alpha Delta Pi sorority. Gentry is a senior in the department of electrical engineering.

Attendance at the entire open house program surpassed that of last year by more than 900. Five thousand, seven hundred visitors cut the beam of the photo-electric counter this year while the total number last year was about 4,800.

Among the most talked about displays of the exposition were the Mayan temple that the architects converted their hall into; the Ford exhibit, in which two men tore down a V-8 motor completely and built it up again within a 13 minute limit; and the model of the proposed spillway for the Seneca dam in Kansas.

England Ahead In Recovery Allen Declares

FORMER GOVERNOR TELLS OF THEIR METHODS IN ASSEMBLY

Criticizes Relief

People Won't Work If They Can Live Without Working Prominent Republican Says

The progressive condition of economic recovery in England contrasted with the situation in the United States was the main theme of the talk by Henry J. Allen, former governor and ex-senator of Kansas, in a special assembly last Saturday sponsored by the engineering division. Mr. Allen recently returned from several months study of the economic situation in England.

"We could learn lessons from their experience that would be valuable to us if we gave it some attention," he declared.

Mr. Allen reviewed the rise and fall of the dole system in England, their flexible tariff policy, the balancing of the English budget, the industrial awakening in England, their banking system, and their housing program.

Public Works Costly "England found it cost 600 times more to take care of a man by public works than it does by direct relief," Mr. Allen stated. Now, of their two million unemployed, one million is taken care of by direct relief and the other by an employment insurance. At the height of the dole system laborers found it more profitable to be on the dole than to have steady work at top wage.

"We are not going back to work when we can live without working," Mr. Allen remarked in criticism of the future program of the AAA.

Other speakers for the conference include the following cooperative leaders of this region: H. C. Morton, manager of the Farmer's Cooperative Commission company, Hutchinson; H. E. Witham, secretary of the Farmer's Union Jobbing Association, Kansas City, Mo.; G. W. Glenn, manager of the Dodge City cooperative exchange; C. V. Cochrane, president of the Kaw Valley Potato Growers' association, Topeka; Phil Evans, manager of the Producers' Commission association, Kansas City, Mo.; George W. Hobbs, manager of the Farmers' Union Livestock commission, Kansas City, Mo.; Howard A. Cowden, president of the Union Oil company cooperatives, North Kansas City, Mo.; Axel W. Meyerton, manager of the Nemaha Cooperative Creamery association, Sabetha; and Otis Allen, Topeka, Pure Milk Producers.

Leaders To Meet

Cooperative and General Farm Organization Men to Campus This April

Kansas State college will be host to cooperative and general farm organization leaders at their state meeting to be held in Manhattan April 18 and 19 and sponsored by the Kansas Cooperatives.

A banquet for the delegates will be held in the college cafeteria the first night of the session. President F. D. Farrell will preside as toastmaster, and the principal speaker of the evening will be Ralph Snyder, president of the Bank for Cooperatives at Wichita.

Dr. W. E. Grimes, head of the department of agricultural economics at the college, will appear on the opening program to speak on "The Relation of the New Deal to the Cooperative Movement."

Two speakers of national note are scheduled for the program the second day: R. M. Green, principal agricultural economist, of the Farm Credit Administration, Washington, will speak on "The Credit Program in Relation to Cooperatives;" and Dr. F. F. Elliott, chief of the production planning section of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, Washington, will discuss the future program of the AAA.

The only people who do not know about consumer's education are those who cannot read, Miss Frances Zuill told in her lecture Friday before the student assembly. She said this situation was due to the amount of publicity the subject had received the last year or so.

Miss Zuill is now the home economics representative on the National Consumer's Council. She is also head of the home economics department at the University of Iowa.

The Consumer's Advisory board under the N. R. A. has had but little publicity, the speaker explained. Much of the publicity has been unfavorable. This board was too complicated to do much.

The three items set up by the board were enumerated by Miss Zuill—writing industrial codes, watching the operation of codes, and providing long time consumer education. These codes came out too fast for efficient examination by the board and one-half of the codes were in operation while one-half were being prepared.

The board says the consumer has a right to know what he is buying, the quality, and the right to pay the lowest possible cost and to pay different prices for different qualities. Although people complain they have not put the pressure of public opinion back of the program.

One way to determine whether you are paying a fair price for goods, as Miss Zuill explained, is to make yourself consumer intelligent. It takes years of study to become a good buyer.

"College students with their knowledge of economics, etc. should be able to show better consumer intelligence," said Frances Zuill.

STUDENT DISCONTINUES WORK

Oran F. Burns, a sophomore horticultural student from Topeka, has discontinued his college work for the remainder of the spring semester to take up the management of a new commercial greenhouse at Highland park in Topeka.

He was a student employee at the college greenhouses and will resume his work there on his return to take up summer school work.

Will Choose The Possible Student Council Candidates And Plan For Dance

The new independent political party will hold its third meeting in room 58 of Calvin hall Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock.

They will hear a report of the committee appointed to nominate candidates for the student council elections. It was decided at the last meeting of the party this committee would select a list of possible candidates and then the party would choose a definite number of candidates for the elections.

The business committee will present its report on the possibilities of holding a dance in the gymnasium for the purpose of raising funds. Definite plans concerning the dance were held up last week because the party was awaiting the student council's consent. Marje Blythe, Howard Aicher, and Elizabeth Pittman are on this committee.

Discussion of the party platform will be continued from last Wednesday's meeting. Further organization plans will also be perfected.

Fry and Williamson Take Over Kansas State Team

Spring football practice for Kansas State, Big Six champions, is being directed by Wes Fry, new head coach, and Stan Williamson, assistant, whose selection is in accordance with the past policy of choosing outstanding young coaches "on the way up." Fry, former All Big Ten fullback at Iowa, has chosen as his assistant Stan Williamson, former All-American center and captain of Southern California's national champions of 1931. Fry started coaching at Classen high school, Oklahoma City, as a sideline to his law practice. His teams won 44, lost 9, tied 1. A year at Oklahoma City University, where his team won 8, lost 1, brought a decision to abandon courtroom for gridiron, and he assisted Lynn Waldorf in coaching K-State to a championship last fall. Williamson succeeded Fry at Classen and at O. C. U. No radical change in coaching policy is planned by Fry, who believes in "fundamentals and fun" in football.

Sob Sister Sobs Editor's in Tears He Done Her Wrong

"I ain't got no beat—no beat what brings me news!" And that ain't all—that I'm trying to say is that I'd probably be "Lost in a Fog" if I got a few inches in this school paper more than "Once in a Blue Moon." Maybe I just don't have that "College Rhythm." Whenever I go after a story they either tell me "Annie Doesn't Live Here Anymore" or "No, No, A Thousand Times NO!" Once I did almost get a scoop but someone else grabbed it right "Over my Shoulder."

I've just about come to the conclusion that maybe I don't "Fit into the Picture" so after another try "Believe it Beloved" readers I'm going to board the "Good Ship Lollop" and go "Sailing" to the "Isle of Capri." Anyway I won't have to try to get news there and can sit around all day in "Solitude." "Throwing Stones at the Sun" at least until the "Smoke" Gets in My Eyes.

If this gets in the paper "I Believe in Miracles" and I'll send the dear editor "A Little White Gardenia."

Dean Margaret Justin will lead the discussion at the Conference of Parental study groups at the Topeka high school Thursday.

THE FRATERNITY—A REACTIONARY INSTITUTION

Most of us while in college can do little towards remodeling the present rotten social system other than informing, educating, and equipping ourselves for the fight that is to come. Yet the majority of us determinedly disregard the institutions in our very midst that are trying for change, and easily, smoothly slide along in the pleasant, sheltered environment that is ours.

It is well that Dr. Bruce Curry pointed out in his address in student assembly yesterday, that one of our "untouchable" institutions—the fraternity—is essentially derogatory in its influence on the students of the school. Dr. Curry indicated that Greek organizations tend to build up social barriers and cause privileges to be given to the over-privileged at the expense of those who need them most.

Any institution to justify its existence must progress. It must be adaptable to an ever-changing society, and definitely contribute to the development of a personality for its individual members compatible with conditions of the world in which we are living. An institution should exist for the purpose of adding to the individual, rather than to shape and contour human personality to fit its own demands.

The fraternities and sororities have failed in this fundamental task. In an age when socialization of our resources, both human and material, is necessary, when enlightenment and understanding of our collective obligations is vital if we are to avert social chaos—it is at this time that Greek organizations have not only failed to contribute with any degree of understanding but have actually obscured the intrinsic issues.

A concrete illustration of this is the student political situation at this college. It is hardly necessary to repeat that student politics are, and have been for years, completely dominated by fraternities and sororities. It would also be mere repetition to state that under the Greek regime student politics have been corrupt. When faced with these facts those who control the student political world are inclined to rationalize and excuse the present condition. Secret blocs, dishonesty in elections, and the like are passed off with the remark that "you can't blame us for taking all we can get," or that it is impossible to clean up student elections so why bother.

It has to be admitted that student politics considered in the light of their immediate significance present nothing vital. Yet when considered as to the effects of this indifference to politics in the future and the problem begins to assume proportions. Much of the present condition of this country is due to indifference and neglect of politics by the citizenry, and when this attitude is encouraged and fostered by an institution within a college its effect in the future is obvious.

The single greatest harm from fraternities results in the social stratification they set up on college campuses. This stratification, as Dr. Curry explained, only adds privilege to the most privileged at the expense of those on the outside. The basis for these social barriers lies no deeper than material ostentatiousness. Yet this basis is accepted, defended, and every effort is made to continue it. And among college folk, considered the most intelligent class of young people in the land, social understanding and enlightenment, is made impossible by barriers set up by an archaic institution established before they set foot in college.

Greek organizations are merely collegiate manifestations of the existing social order. They are unable to progress—to fill their niche in new conditions. They cramp and distort human personality into narrow unenlightened molds instead of adding to and broadening it in its development. They help sugar-coat the existence of bright young college folk and protect them from uncomfortable reality. Fraternities are reactionary institutions existing to shape individuals to fit an old, wornout, corrupt world.

NEW YORK STUDENTS OPPOSE LOYALTY OATH

The united action of more than 8,000 New York State students brought about the death of the Numan-Devany bill that would have required "loyalty oaths" for students entering New York college. The bill would have required students and faculty members to take an oath to support the constitution.

The fact that students met in Albany from all parts of the state to protest against this bill does not indicate any disloyalty to their fatherland; rather it indicates their desire to support one of the fundamental principles of the constitution itself—freedom. The bill was a threat to their academic liberty and the right of students to speak and act on social issues.

The Snooper

"The forgotten man" is, as we see him, Dale Gentry as St. Pat. It took us until Monday noon to find out who reigned over the Engineers—and with our snoopish ways at that!

Us: "You know, I just can't keep these Delt freshmen apart!" Roy Fritz: "Neither can I. They're always fighting!" Dull repartee? Dull.

Danny Partner was all full of girlish excitement when he was paged at the Varsity theatre Friday night just as the second show began and asked to go to the Gold Diggers' Ball by Betty Powell. After fluttering home to shower and shave he began to smell rats and had Christensen phoning Powell for a check-up. It's too bad he had to miss the show and dance too, but PiPhi will be PiPhi and have their little fun!

We have always connected knitting in our mind with our Great-aunt Tillie who was slightly deaf and carried peppermints in her handbag. Even the industry of the Pi Phi's over shawls and mitts failed to remove the stigma. But now that we have seen husky footballers purr and knit two we've lost our grip on things!

Things we'd like to see: Red Flentrophe's measles. Pienor without Keller. I. Victor lies in a tap dance. The PIKA Vinkler with a hair ribbon. Kay Holman with her hair out of curl. Frank Byrne without his dopey look. This column printed as it is written. This column without the Betas and Blackman. A Sigma Nu without a jitter. Prexy Farrell in kilts.

That story about the lost keys that Dick Fleming and Jane Daughters plus ten more peoples' are passing about Saturday night has a ring of truth to it if you don't care what you say! The scene was the White House tavern. Time after cheese sandwiches (?), two hours after closing time at our so-called organized houses. Swhat.

If and when Dick Armstrong feels he needs a good alibi, he can tell people he has been driving taxicabs. His double does—A Diamond cab.

What happened to that diamond that ADPI Erickson put on Rush Week?

Sorority gals are friendly again after marked frigidity during the recent stay of high school seniors during the Home Ec. convention.

Why did it disturb Matherly so to see that osculating couple at the Gold Diggers' Ball? The osculating couples didn't draw her second glance. We'll admit they did pick the spotlight for their act of mutual affection but, don't they do that the Kappa house?

It's an independent that brought this gem to us:

Dexter had a little sheet—
 An ornery little brat.
 And every time that Dexter wrote,
 It cried, "g-Damn that frat!"

That's an odd story Mary Jean Edleblute is telling about that sprained wrist she suffered jumping off (or on) sofas in "Flying Trapeze" style.

It must have been a bit disconcerting for several fellows when those three Kappas, under the capable leadership of Jean Claire Homes, ordered plates at the Palace last Friday night. Then they calmly proceeded to bring forth a bag of bread and butter sandwiches. Like an elephant, a Kappa never forgets—and it really hasn't been so long since the last Gold Diggers' Ball.

A RED WITH PINK IDEAS

Doctor Slevor had theory.
 He had raised it from a pup.
 If he fed us all with pink pills
 He could cure our ailments up.

It has never been told 'til now but a favorite trick of Helen Penny Hottetter of the journalism department is to call a friend, chat a few minutes, and then, "I'd like to see you. Where are you now?"

A certain warmth in the air tells us that before long spring will be here and we can forget our sniffling role as Snooper and become merely a Scooper. Mama, what's a blanket party?

England Ahead In Recovery Allen Declares

the relief program in this country.

England Adjusts Trade
 In the last three years England has made more than ten thousand reciprocal trade adjustments. The United States has made three, according to Mr. Allen. Though England was the last nation to do away with free trade it has not done away with all the idealism of free trade, and their's is a tariff of business for business. The food market in England is fifty per cent domestically undersupplied, and many of the trade agreements have to do with the exchanging of manufactured goods for food products.

The English balanced their budget by cutting governmental operation costs through the adoption of a reformed civil service, by refusing to pay war debts, by doing away with the dole, and by increasing taxation from 11 shillings to 12 shillings out of a pound, Mr. Allen explained.

Becoming Self-Sufficient
 And England went off the gold standard because of economic necessity, we left it because of economic politics.

England is seeking to occupy that position in the industrial world of intensified capacity and intensified quality that Germany occupied before the world war, as well as to become industrially self-sufficient, Mr. Allen declared. For example, electrical gadgets formerly purchased from the United States, finishing tools from Germany, and silk from France are now manufactured at home.

Not a bank in England has failed during the depression, neither has a single banking law changed. And there is plenty of money in their banks now. The reasons for this condition of security, as Mr. Allen enumerated them are: refusal to loan money abroad; refusal to float colonial enterprises; and increased business confidence due to the balancing of the budget.

Social Program Extensive
 The moral anxiety of the English people to wipe out tenements and slums is the basis for their wide spread program. Mr. Allen said. And out of 420,000 dwellings erected in the past 19 months, 300,000 have been financed by private capital of 20,000 mortgages held by a building and loan company only two were derelict. Mr. Allen found. And of all the mortgages in England less than one-tenth of one per cent are in default.

We are not the last generation of Americans in spite of the seriousness with which we regard ourselves. Mr. Allen said in concluding his talk. Although we became rattled by social and economic disasters we could not understand, our pioneering enterprise and courage will reassert itself in ultimate recovery.

AT THE DICKINSON
"Ruggles of Red Gap"

If you have any aversions to seeing a show about rich westerners with a social climber for the wife and a plain back slapping hand shaking husband, forget about them and go to see "Ruggles of Red Gap" at the Dickinson starting Sunday and running through Wednesday, because it has Charles Laughton in it, and it's his show from beginning to end—he is Ruggles, a valet; first to an English lord and then to the aforementioned husband who is played by Charlie Ruggles. You find a different Laughton in this picture than you saw in Henry VIII or as the stern father in Little Women—he is a comedian of no mean ability. You'll especially like his "butlerian" gait in riding clothes and his dismounting from a horse.

The supporting cast does its part to make the show a success. Mary Boland is the climbing matron and nagging wife. She manages to give some good touches of comedy and Zasu Pitts gets in some fairly decent hand waving of the Pitts caliber and then the beautiful, questionable, "Nell" of Red Gap is done by Leila Hyams. Oh yes—there's some extra color given by the hard shooting, hell-for-leather cowhands that hung around Red Gap (this

Now I'm making it sound like a "Westerner", but the story opens in Paris and who ever heard of a "Westerner" opening in Paris? Lots of checked suits of '08 variety are shown. Well—whatever I've made it sound like, it was darn good entertainment and it has that certain something that makes a show click.

Haylett's Men Dash To Three Wins In Relays

KNAPPENBERGER AND O'REILLY WIN FIRSTS IN ARMOUR RELAYS

Win Other Places

Wheelock Is Fourth In Mile And Nixon Finishes Third In 880 Dash

Coach Ward Haylett's crack track squad continued their winning ways at the Armour relays in Chicago last Saturday by winning three firsts a third and a fourth place.

Captain Joe Knappenberger was the outstanding performer of the meet. The Kansas State hurdling ace finished first in both the 70-yard high and low hurdles.

O'Reilly broke the former varsity record of 4:21.9 held by Don Landon of Kansas State to win the mile event in 4:20.8. Wheelock finished fourth in the same event.

Nixon, the other member of the Kansas State squad to place in the meet, finished third in the 880 yard dash.

Knappenberger's time for the high hurdles was 8.9 while in the low he equalled the relay record of 7.8. No definite proof is available at present, but Coach Ward Haylett believes this to equal the world's record also.

Kansas State was the only entry of the university class to win more than one first. No team trophies are awarded at these relays however.

Next Friday and Saturday the Wildcat squad will compete in the relays at Indianapolis, Indiana, in this meet team trophies as well as individual trophies are awarded.

The Bull Pen

Several times lately, the question has arisen as to why the Kansas City Star, the most renowned paper in this section of the country, has apparently forgotten that Kansas State is a member of the Big Six Conference. Repeatedly this year the Star has shelved important athletic stories to the second page or obscured them in some relatively unimportant corner where the casual observer would never notice them. It all started last fall with our well-known paper backing Nebraska, Oklahoma, and Iowa State as potential conference football champs. It was not until K-State had beaten the Cornhuskers on Turkey Day that C. E. McBride, Star sport's editor, feebly apologized for not paying more attention to State and let it go at that. We had no reason to be puffed-up over our basketball team and expected no undue publicity, but when the Aggie tracksters won the Big Six indoor track title for the first time in 14 years, we rather thought we deserved a good story near the front page. Where was it? Buried on the fourth page! Then our Wildcats went to the Armour Tech relays and won three firsts in the university class—the only entry to do this. Our star timber-topper, the best in this section of the country, and our ace miler remained undefeated in their favorite races by beating the best Big Ten stars. And what kind of publicity did we get for that—none, absolutely none. The Star did not deem it fit to even bury the story. We could see how it would be possible to receive the results too late to place in the Sunday edition—but how about the Monday morning paper? K-State could use some publicity and now that we have our best chance in years for it, we are simply ignored. Perhaps if McBride of the Star would give up the sports line altogether and devote his entire time to reviewing the motion picture theatres, we would get a break.

Two years ago last fall, a tall, gawky, frail-looking lad reported to a beginners swimming class at the University of Nebraska. Upon questioning it was found that the young fellow was a freshman, who could not swim a stroke, but who was anxious to learn. He gave his name as Glyndon Lynde. At the Big Six swimming meet, a little over a week ago, this same frail-looking lad led the Cornhuskers to an easy victory by winning three events. Not content to just win the 50, 100, and 220-yard dashes, he had to break the records in all three of them. Lynde's sensational rise as a swimmer has been due to the fact that he is a "natural" tankman. Although in outward appearance Lynde does not seem to have enough stamina to swim across a pool, he in reality has a world of endurance and a wealth of natural speed that carries him through the water fast enough to easily outdistance his opponents. With another year of competition left, the Cornhusker star should not find it hard to retain his laurels at the conference meet next year, nor should he find it hard to crack those records wide open again.

Diet has always been an important factor in the life of an athlete. This is especially true when this or that athlete is about to compete in some contest. The star trackster watches himself to the nth degree and will not eat or drink those things which will endanger his condition. The football player eats poached eggs, toast, and tea before going into a hard battle. It seems that the less an athlete eats the better it is for him. However, I have at last found one man who has a very different idea of diet. It is "Torchy" Peden, world's cycling champ. "Torchy" eats only nine times a day and this daily ration consists of one gallon raw milk, 1-2 pound raw carrots, 1-2 pound raw turnips, four to five pounds of chopped sirloin steak, the yolk of 20 raw eggs, one pound of raisins, a loaf of bread, and one pound of cooked rice. It sounds more like the diet of Primo Carnera, but then some athletes always have had funny ideas about their eating.

Don Landon was on hand at the Armour Tech relays in Chicago, last Saturday to see Justus O'Reilly break the indoor mile record which he formerly held. . . . Jack Baer, Oklahoma's cocky freshman quarterback, made a 51-yard field goal from placement in the final spring football practice. . . . Davis, Sooner swim star, attended Wichita East high in his pre-college days. . . . Sir Malcolm Campbell has a stock of 60 tires for his Bluebird and each costs $500. . . . Coach Dana Xenophon Bible, of Nebraska, thinks that any further liberalization of the rules would make football a combination of rugby and basketball. . . . Lynn Waldorf drove 4,078 miles to attend high school football banquets, father-and-son dinners and so on this winter. . . . I see by one of the better-known Kansas papers that a fellow by the name of Cunningham is the king of milers. . . . Incidentally, Glenn shattered a 13-year old record when he won the 100-yard run at the Knights of Columbus games in Madison Square Garden last Saturday night. . . .

Coach B. R. "Pat" Patterson announced the four members of the Kansas State wrestling team that will make the trip to the National Intercollegiate tournament to be held in Lehigh university, Bethlehem, Pa., this Friday and Saturday. They will leave Manhattan this morning and will return to this city next Monday or Tuesday.

The wrestlers that are making the trip are Richard Campbell, Claude Young, Dean Swift, and Gene Howe. Campbell, captain of this year's squad, Claude Young, and Dean Swift are all three seniors. Gene Howe, the captain-elect for next year, is a junior. The weights that they will represent are Campbell, 135; Young, 165; Swift, 175; and Howe, 145.

Because you cannot make a good cigarette from just one year's crop there are today 4 1/2 miles of warehouses filled with cigarette tobaccos from the crops of 1931-32-33-34—most of it for Chesterfield cigarettes.

Just as money accumulates interest, two and a half years of ageing makes these tobaccos milder and naturally sweeter.

Independent Political Party Adopts Platform In Meeting Held Last Wednesday Night

WOULD BREAK BLOCS, SUPERVISE ELECTIONS, ESTABLISH STUDENT UNION

To Hold A Dance

Affair to Raise Funds in Gym March 30—Gold Coast Band Will Play

The adoption of a platform and the decision to have an independent dance featured the meeting of the independent political party held Wednesday night in Calvin hall. Tom Wherry was chairman of the meeting.

The dance is to be held in Nichols gymnasium the night of March 30, from 8:30 to 11:30. Music will be furnished by the Gold Coast Band, and all independents are invited. Members of organized houses must be invited in order to attend. Professor and Mrs. M. J. Harbaugh and M. A. Durland, assistant dean of the engineering division and his wife and one other couple will chaperon the affair.

Arrangements for the dance were made by a committee composed of Marjorie Blythe, chairman, Russell Deulton, Howard Alcher, and Elizabeth Pittman. The purpose of the dance is to raise campaign funds for the coming student council elections. Admission is fifty cents for dates and seventy five cents for stag. Tickets will be on sale in Anderson hall March 29, and 30.

The platform was prepared by Chester George, Anson Hasselwood, and Helen Vickburg who were appointed by the executive council. The platform was adopted by vote of the group.

The platform protests against the domination of campus politics by fraternity and sorority controlled blocs, and proposes to "break any such clique and thus establish a student government which will represent the student body as a whole."

Favor Faculty Supervision
The platform also favors a faculty supervised electoral system and proposes to make the functions of the student governing association and the student council public with the exception of disciplinary cases.

A determination to create sentiment for a student union building is expressed in the statement "We propose to have on our campus a student union and a union building such as those found on more progressive campuses."

The platform adopted by the party reads as follows:
"We, the independents at Kansas State college deplore the status quo of our political situation which permits a small clique of fraternities and sororities to dominate every elective office."

WE PROPOSE:
1. To break any such clique and thus establish a student government which will represent the student body as a whole.

2. To establish a faculty supervised electoral system. To keep records of all election business which shall be open to the public at any time.

3. To publish business of the Student Governing Association and the Student Council.

4. All meetings to be announced in the "Kansas State Collegian" and held open to the student body, except that at the discretion of the Student Council private hearings may be held in disciplinary cases.

5. To record and publish records of financial transactions of any organization which expends student fees.

6. To place in the field candidates who are honest, capable, and who represent the majority of the students on our campus.

7. To promote forums in which the student has an opportunity to express himself on vital current problems.

A committee was appointed by the executive council to select capable candidates for the coming student council elections. Sarah Lister, Ruth Linscott, Robert Pink, and Wayne Herring make up this committee. Suggestions of candidates were made by the group at the meeting, and additional suggestions may be made to the committee at any time.

DR. G. E. JOHNSON

Dr. Johnson, Prominent K.S. Zoologist, Dies

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR FACULTY MEMBER HELD WEDNESDAY

Noted Mammalogist

Has Published Several Papers Dealing With Investigation and Research in That Line

Funeral services for Dr. George Johnson, a noted mammalogist, were conducted Wednesday afternoon by the Rev. Perry L. Platt at the Congregational church. Interment was in Sunset Cemetery.

Dr. Johnson died Monday afternoon following an illness of long duration. At the time of his death he had not fully recovered following an operation undergone last November in Rochester, Minn. He was 45 years old. Pallbearers for Dr. Johnson were Dr. A. K. Nabours, Dr. J. E. Ackert, Dr. R. C. Smith, Professors A. B. Sperry, C. R. Thompson, and C. F. Lewis. All are college faculty members with whom he was closely associated.

Here Since 1924

Dr. Johnson has been connected with the college zoology department since 1924. Prior to that time he had been professor of zoology at the University of Porto Rico and had held a position in the zoology department of a Mississippi college. He became a professor at Kansas State in 1932.

He was the author of several scientific papers dealing with his investigations and research in mammalogy. He also was a prominent member of the Kansas Academy of Science, and held the position of secretary and treasurer at the time of his death. Dr. Johnson was highly instrumental in the reorganization of the academy. Partly through his efforts the organization was divided into sections with the result that membership increased by four times its former enrollment. Because of the illness of Dr. Johnson, Dr. F. C. Gates of the college has been serving as secretary pro-tempore of the organization.

Degree From Harvard
Dr. Johnson was born in Clear Lake, South Dakota, May 3, 1889. He received his bachelor of science degree in 1913 from Dakota Wesleyan university, Mitchell, South Dakota. He continued his scientific education at the University of Chicago where he received his master of science degree in 1916. In 1923 he won the degree of Doctor of Philosophy from Harvard university.

Besides being active in the Kansas Academy of Science he held membership in several other organizations including the American Society of Zoologists, the American Society of Mammalogists, and in Gamma Alpha, Sigma Xi, and Gamma Epsilon Delta, fraternities. He was also a member of the Manhattan Country club.

His widow and two children, Romaine who attends the high school, and Arvella who is in the first grade at Eugene Field school are members of his immediate family to survive him.

USE NEW PRESS

A new laboratory press is being used by the department of food economics and nutrition in an attempt to discover any correlation between the amount of juice pressed from cooked meat and the flavor due to juices present. The experiment is under the direction of Miss Gladys Vail.

Many Bacteria Are Found With Dust Particles

The dust storm that completely hid the sun for a time Wednesday carried a dangerously high bacteria count according to Prof. A. C. Fay of the bacteriology department. About 34 per cent of the dust particles carried germs of which many were of the harmful variety.

At 3 o'clock after the worst of the storm was over, Professor Fay exposed a plate of glass to the air for one minute. After some fine counting it was determined that in that minute's time 70,000 particles of dust had settled down on each square foot of surface. More would undoubtedly have been found earlier in the day when the dust was heavier. Since 34 per cent of the dust particles carried germs the bacteria count per square foot per minute was 24,000.

This dust and bacteria count is about 100 times the normal number, Professor Fay said.

TO LAWRENCE SATURDAY

Prof. R. M. Gerchner of the electrical engineering department and M. A. Durland, assistant dean of the engineering division, will meet in Lawrence Saturday with Prof. D. C. Jackson, of the University of Kansas, and Prof. M. I. Evinger of the University of Nebraska to make preliminary plans for the 1935 fall meeting of the Kansas-Nebraska section of the society for the promotion of engineering education.

Building Funds By Next Year Says C. Brewer

FUNDS INCLUDED IN GENERAL STATE LEVY FOR FISCAL YEAR 1936

Expect Gov't Aid

Bill Held Up Because of Indecision As to Action of Congress, Representative Explains

Money for the replacing of Denison hall, the chemistry-physics building on the Kansas State college campus which was destroyed by fire last summer, was included in the general state levy for the 1936 year as passed at the recent session of the legislature and will become available in 1936, Chester C. Brewer, Riley county representative to the state legislature, declared in a recent interview published in the Manhattan Mercury and the Morning Chronicle.

Through the bill, No. 438, introduced in the senate by the senate ways and means committee, which would have appropriated approximately $1,000,000 for state buildings, Kansas State college was to have been allotted $300,000 for the new science building and for equipment. This bill passed the senate and was sent over to the house.

"When it came up for consideration by the ways and means committee of that body the question was raised as to whether the government could approve grants for purposes for which the legislature had definitely appropriated funds. It had been the intention to apply to the government for funds to carry on the building program if the four billion or more relief and public works program was passed by congress.

"The bill was therefore held up in the house committee awaiting a definite opinion with relation to this question. Another question was raised which was that if the bill was carried over to the special session in May, awaiting government actions, could the special session appropriate any money legally, and make a levy to cover them.

"Lacking definite decisions on these two questions which were of vital importance, it was finally agreed in the last few hours of the session that the cost of the building program would be included in the general state levy for the fiscal year 1936.

"If governmental cooperation is not obtained before the special session it is planned that a specific appropriation bill will be passed covering the entire building program," declared Representative Brewer.

Throckmorton Tells How To Prevent Wind Erosion

Soil blowing of the type that cast a very heavy gloom this week over a large section of Kansas, including Kansas State college, was the subject of a radio talk given recently by Professor R. I. Throckmorton of the department of agronomy.

Professor Throckmorton contends that soil erosion by wind, commonly called soil blowing, is much easier to prevent than to control after blowing has commenced. Expanding on this idea, the speaker said "Soil blowing may be prevented by maintaining a cover on the soil throughout the winter and early spring, as by leaving wheat stubble or a stubble of sowed feed crops on the land, or by having a good cover of winter wheat.

When the soil is dry on the surface, quite fine, and relatively smooth, it is in ideal condition for wind erosion. If the atmosphere is dry and the wind is relatively strong," said the speaker, "then climatic conditions are favorable for soil blowing. Both of these con-

Annual Out May 1

Half of Copy Sent to Printer and Only Four Pictures Left For Engraver

The Royal Purple is to go to press April 1, and will be out ready for distribution by May 1, according to Spencer Wyant, editor, and C. J. Medlin, manager of student publications.

There are only four more pictures to go to the engraver, and approximately half of the copy for the book has been written and sent to the printer. Many more pictures will appear in this year's book than in that of last year.

Practically all of the greek organizations will have a page in the Royal Purple, and there are 321 senior pictures in the senior section. There will be snapshots scattered throughout the book, as well as those found in the feature section.

The Royal Purple staff has ordered a few extra copies, and advises that anyone wanting a book can still place an order at the Royal Purple office in Anderson, or with Mr. Medlin in Kedzie hall.

SOPHOMORES AND JUNIORS PLAN FOR DIAMOND JUBILEE AT MASS MEETING YESTERDAY

All Groups To Aid

One Hundred Student Organizations Will Participate In Program—Dr. Willard Busy Compiling History of College

At a meeting of members of the sophomore and junior classes in the auditorium yesterday afternoon, it was decided that the two classes should begin to plan for participation in the Diamond Jubilee celebration planned for 1938 in honor of the 75th anniversary of the college.

Although the program will not be given until the students of both classes are alumni, it will be such an extensive affair that it is necessary to begin planning for it now, according to Gladys Poole, who presented the plan.

In connection with the school-wide fair that will be given at that time, Dr. J. T. Willard, vice-president of Kansas State college, is writing a history of the development of the college. To make this book complete, illustrations of the various phases of the history of the college will be used.

Suggest Classes Collect Pictures

As the appropriation for writing and printing 10,000 copies of this history, which will be issued in 1937, does not cover the cost of cuts for these illustrations, it was suggested that an effort be made by the classes to collect these as one of the projects in preparation for the jubilee.

The 100 student organizations of the campus will all aid in presentation of the celebration. As the plan of organization stands, each group will have one delegate on the committee in charge of the jubilee. The president of the S. G. A. will be the chairman of the committee. This committee will be subdivided into smaller committees for specialized work.

A motion was passed in the meeting to call a meeting of representatives from each of the college organizations, for April 4, at which time plans for the preparation for the diamond jubilee will be discussed.

Junior-Senior Prom April 5

Shepard's Crook Will Be Presented By Seniors to the Juniors At the Dance

The annual junior-senior prom that each year is featured by the presentation of the historic shepard's crook by the outgoing senior class to the junior class will be held this year in the Wareham ballroom April 5.

The shepard's crook to be presented to the juniors is a historic symbol of the prom. As it is traditional for it to be presented to the juniors it is just as traditional for the sophomores to try to steal it before the prom. In the past the disappearance of the crook has been taken seriously enough that warrants for the arrest of the sophomores stealing it have been sworn.

At present the crook is in the hands of the members of the senior class but that is the most definite information that can be obtained.

The prom this year is being sponsored by Scarab, and L. R. Wempe, president of that organization, is in charge.

JUDGING CONTEST IN APRIL

The fifteenth annual vocational agricultural judging and applied mechanics contest is to be held at Kansas State College Monday and Tuesday, April 29 and 30.

The college is expecting about 500 high school students for this contest. The Manhattan chamber of commerce will sponsor a banquet Tuesday night, April 30, when awards will be given to the contest winners of animal husbandry, dairy husbandry, grain, and poultry husbandry.

Dr. W. E. Grimes will be a speaker at the cooperative school in McPherson, Kansas, Wednesday evening March 27. This school is being held as a part of the Consumers Cooperative Association program.

20th CENTURY AMERICANISM

During the last few months a significant series of political disturbances has occurred in several American universities. In October came the strife at the University of California, culminating in the suspension of five student officers for alleged radical activities. Also in the same month the administration and students of the City College of New York became embroiled over the refusal of the authorities to allow a student mass meeting in protest against the visit of the Italian Fascist students.

The most recent outbreak of reaction took place within the last fortnight at little Oglethorpe university. A visiting lecturer from neighboring Emory university who was scheduled to give an address on communism before the International Relations club of Oglethorpe was subjected to the "bum's rush", by some hundred footballers who attended the lecture in football uniform. The speaker was insulted, pulled from the platform, and rushed to a street car bound back to Emory.

The important factor in this and all similar occurrences has been the attitude of the university administrations. Provost Moore of the University of California based his appeal for student support on patriotism saying, "I know of no better work for the fraternities and sororities in the colleges and universities of the United States than for their people to become the active helpers of the United States in its day of difficulty." Likewise President Thornwell Jacobs of Oglethorpe, a protégé of Hearst, made the following illuminating comment upon the action of the football squad: "It was a most refreshing exhibition of good, old-fashioned Americanism." President Robinson of CCNY reveals his political tendencies by remarking: "the time might come when it would be clear that a college cannot permit its students to publish papers."

Fascism is a strange bird. Its feathers, or rather shirts, are of many colors. Under the pretense of a red scare, university authorities have arbitrarily suspended college editors and student officers. They have forbidden students to assemble and discuss problems and have called to their aid muscle men wearing football uniforms. This might seem a far cry from concentration camps and a dictatorship. In reality the transition from faculty and trustee domination to complete suffocation of opinion follows readily.

Many universities have thus far not been subjected to such flagrant acts of oppression. It may be that radical movements are not as vigorous here as in the universities cited. Any university, however, which follows the false gods of Reaction and Fascism, which beats down by force what it cannot overcome by intellect, which seeks to crush independent thinking in its students, shames its claim to intellectual freedom. Such a policy may be called "Americanism." It is actually a manifestation of the strange and brutal doctrine which has been aptly termed "the last resort of Capitalism."—Daily Princetonian.

ARMIES AND PEACE

Chancellor Hitler's recent declaration that Germany's army would be increased to 400,000, or 300,000 more than is permitted by the Versailles treaty, emphasizes the apparent failure that has been met by recent peace-promoting efforts of the world.

With armies of the leading nations of the world even larger in some instances than in 1913, prior to the World war, the outlook for continued peace is dark indeed. Preparation for war is general. With the nations prepared in a military way for almost any emergency, they would not hesitate long to take action in event of an international insult in spite of the financial hardship prevailing throughout the world.

Among the leading powers, France is topping the military spenders at $19 per capita. Others are in this order: Great Britain $12.50, Germany $7.30, the United States $6.30, Italy $5.40, and Japan $4.40. The Japanese figure does not reflect the true picture, however, because of the low pay given Japanese soldiers and cheap ration expenditures.

Here are how the peace-time armies of the principal powers in 1913 and 1935 compare:

	1913	1935
U. S. A. B.	1,200,000	830,000
France	720,000	644,000
Germany	870,000	480,000

Italy	250,000	610,000
Britain	182,000	445,000
Japan	250,000	225,000
U. S. A.	92,000	135,000

The Snooper

Definite knowledge of spring comes with the news of the first Kappa Sig picnic of the year. They haven't changed a bit from last year's outings, girls.

"The prof of my dreams
Is the sweetest prof
Of all the profs I know."

It was Gertrude Arnold who burst forth thus in class Thursday morning. Her story is that she was proving her meter correct in a parody on the Sigma Chi favorite. Our story is that Arnold grows childish with advancing years.

Well, well, well—here's news of the Junior-Senior Prom. And who'll kidnap the dear old crook this year for dear old Junior honor (not for publicity, of course)? Incidentally, the Scarabs are scared to death someone will find out they are backing the affair. Why?

Gene Ross recently confessed to us that his ears were designed for catching dirt. Was this last storm big enough, Gene?

One of the friendliest gestures this spring is that of the Zeta Taus. Each member had a feminine dinner guest Thursday evening. The avowed purpose of the entertainment was for better acquaintance of the different girls on the hill with the same high ideals.

Alpha Deltas are having the Sigma Nus over to dance this weekend, although they're styling it their "Spring Party" just like a regular sorority.

"Scoop," publication of one of the typography classes, has the facts down pat. To an unsuspecting world it reveals that your Snooper REALLY goes get the dirt. The paper continues REALLY does get the dirt. The paper continues penciling out all his friends and pet projects. We don't have to hint—we know!

If, as one faculty member insists, the neck is the head's ankle—we saw a couple really "hot-footing" it out behind the Palace under the lights Tuesday night.

The segregation of fellows and girls in the Y.W.-Y.M. marriage discussion groups this week is a bit hard to understand. We hadn't noticed that mixed company is passing up dirty stories. Why taboo a nice, clean discussion? (That is, we HOPE it's clean!)

With Sigma Tau and Alpha Zeta making hunchbacks and cowhands out of our contemporaries, we expect the Independents to announce a Farm-Labor bloc most any day.

At first, anonymous phone calls after midnight for the Snooper didn't bother us much but our spring fever has us grumpy when half the drunks in town adopt that for a pastime. It is, to our notion, almost as high schoolish as calling the drug store for "Grandpa's Soap" and then demanding that the proprietor give it back to the dear old gentleman.

Not three minutes after the Soph-Junior meeting Thursday afternoon to discuss the "Diamond Jubilee" of dear old Kansas State that a bright youth quipped, "I had a diamond jubilee all my own when I finally made my pin." Yes, he was a Beta pledge of several years standing! Cute, eh?

What football player is secretly married? Don't ask us, because we'd tell if we knew!

After passing the Vet building one warm, breezy day this week it is easy to understand why five of the vets are going to China. Anything's better than keeping them here—and you know, there Chinese ARE clever!

Society note: Phi Sigs had a Varsity last weekend. Phi Taus will hold a free Varsity this coming weekend. (At this rate the stags will be saving enough on dates to pay for laundering those Tux shirts.)

We like that name Mary Blackman has for Danny Partner—"Lovells." But why must it be those two. They simply haunt us—we have nightmares—we lose weight—we make resolutions. Yet week after week they pop up in the Snooper column. We don't put 'em in—they just show up!!! (Ed note: That eerie shriek was the Snooper being led away in her straight jacket!)

Gentle Gests
By Elma Edwards

It's on days like last Wednesday that even the best of friends don't speak to each other on the street.

A so-called honorary society recently "took in" several pledges.

It isn't just the music students that give recitals. Just ask some professors the tales they hear told as excuses for skipping classes.

Vacant Vera thought it would be sort of expensive to use ten-penny nails in building anything.

If a machine were out as quickly as some people do it would be overhauled or just discarded.

Landon To Campus

Dust Storms Bring Governor to Confer With Farrell And Extension Staff

A discussion of the problems arising from the dust storms and wind soil erosion brought Governor Landon to the Kansas State campus Tuesday, when he met with President Farrell and the members of the college extension staff at luncheon. Governor Landon was accompanied by Judge A. S. Foulks, legal adviser to the state executive, and Jay Parker, assistant attorney general.

No program to deal with the problem of preventing soil blowing was arranged as a result of the meeting.

After attending the meeting Tuesday, Prof. L. C. Williams of the extension staff went to Topeka where he talked with the state officials about the problem in the afternoon.

Prof. R. I. Throckmorton, head of the department of agronomy, said that the blowing of the last few days had caused considerable damage in the northcentral portion of the state as well as the northwestern and southwestern parts where the dust storms hit earlier. The grass in some of the dust covered areas may be killed, he added.

Although the dust storms themselves had no effect on the livestock, according to Dr. C. W. McCampbell, head of the department of animal husbandry, the stock eats less of the dirt covered food since it is much less palatable.

Before this year efforts to control soil blowing were confined to a very small portion of the counties of the state; however, preventive steps are being taken all over the state at this time.

According to R. I. Throckmorton, head of the department of agronomy, prospects for a wheat crop are worse than last year in the western part of the state. Because of the dryness spring crops were not planted, and if dust storms continue the wheat remaining will be ruined.

The dust blown into Manhattan during the past few days came from the west Throckmorton said. Local fields remained relatively unaffected. Pastures further west may suffer permanent damage in small areas where drifting occurs.

The recent dust storms have been the worst in the history of the state. Dust has blown as badly in small areas before, but previously the effect has not been so general.

Abolish Hell Week

Intrafraternity Council of Oklahoma University Votes to Do Away With Hazing

Oklahoma university is the latest school to join the ranks of the colleges abolishing hell week when the intrafraternity council of that school voted 19 to 2 to eliminate initiations of that sort. A loss of one semester's social privileges is the penalty to be imposed upon the violators of the rule.

Representatives of some orders argued that the council should not be forced into accepting such regulation, but the opinion of the majority was that hell week as defined by Dean James F. Findlay is offensive and should be punishable.

This is only characteristic of the movement in universities and colleges throughout the country to abolish hazing. Iowa State college voted to do away with hell week and it was given up voluntarily at the University of Wisconsin recently.

K Fraternity, an organization of lettermen at Kansas State, noted for its hazing, has eliminated it this year.

The University of California and California Agricultural college abandoned hell week of their own accord several months ago. Hazing at the University of Kansas was restricted in 1928 and banned entirely a year or two later. The intrafraternity council at the University of Illinois also voted to do away with this phase of fraternity abrogations, and the University of Michigan is now considering it.

Ten Tracksters Will Enter In Butler Relays

Haylett Skeptical

Belives Team Has Poor Chance For Trophy Because Middle-Distance Stars Cannot Enter

Ten State tracksters will attempt to bring a team title back to Kansas when they compete in the Butler Relays at Indianapolis this weekend. The Wildcat trackmen left Manhattan yesterday afternoon and will return sometime Monday.

The Butler Relays differ from the Aggie Tech Relays, which the Aggies attended last week, in that a trophy is awarded to the team with the highest total score. According to the opinion expressed by Coach Ward Haylett, the Wildcats have a poor chance to capture the trophy because of the fact that he cannot enter his middle-distance stars in their favorite races.

Knappenberger in Hurdles

Capt. Joe Knappenberger, ace hurdler, will enter both the 60-yard high and low hurdles. He is expected to repeat his double victory of last week in Chicago. The four-mile relay team, has a good chance for a win, but first must conquer strong teams like Michigan and Michigan State. Justus O'Reilly, Big Six mile champ, will anchor State's quartet of milers in their attempt to finish ahead of the best in the middle-west.

The two mile team has a fairly good chance to annex some points for State. Coach Haylett has not decided as yet whether to enter a medley or mile relay team. He will not decide until he has definitely seen which will run into the better competition and thus stand less chance of succeeding.

Texas Relays Next

Next week, the Aggie tracksters will continue their series of jaunts by traveling south for the Texas relays. Coach Haylett announced Tuesday that Oklahoma A. and M. college has been added to the Kansas State outdoor schedule. Oklahoma sends its team to Manhattan, May 11.

State entries at Indianapolis are: 60-yard high and low hurdles—Capt. Joe Knappenberger.

Mile relay—Ray Mesick, George Eberhard, Louis Sweet, and J. B. Nixon.

2-mile relay—Robert Dill, George Eberhard, J. B. Nixon and Justus O'Reilly.

4-mile relay — H. E. Redfield, Charles Robinson, William Wheelock, and Justus O'Reilly.

Practice Game For Ball Squad

Coach Ahern Will Divide Varsity Baseball Team Aspirants Into Teams Tomorrow

The baseball squad will wind up another week of practice with a game between two selected teams in the city park tomorrow afternoon.

Coach Ahern has announced the starting lineups but adds that he will make many substitutions to give each of the forty candidates a chance to show what they can do. One of the teams will have Underwood, Van Sant, Scott, and Harold Kirgis in the infield, with Henry, Meyers, and Wilcox doing the fly chasing. Cooley and Abbot will work in the mound, while Shaffer will be behind the bat.

The other team will see Homer Kirgis, Wierenga, Springer, and Jessup in the infield, Asbill, Lutz, and Spencer in the outfield, while Ilse and Beyer will do the twirling with Stucky backstopping.

Coach Ahern has been well impressed with the new men who have turned out. He says that there are more men who seem to know how to play baseball than he has had for some time.

The problem of developing a strong hitting attack is worrying Ahern more than anything else. He believes that he can develop fielders but so far has found no natural hitters to take the place of such sluggers as Kratzer, Gentz, an Boyd. Kratzer's average for last season was 400.

According to Ahern, freshmen will not be called out before the first of April. Since the varsity must be entirely rebuilt it is necessary to spend more time than usual in looking over the prospects.

First Scrimmage For Spring Squad

Actual Game Conditions at First of Three Football Games Saturday Afternoon

The first scrimmage game for the spring football squad will be held Saturday afternoon. The squad will be divided into two sections and the scrimmage carried on under actual game conditions as nearly as possible.

There was no practice session Wednesday because of the dust storm.

Only two weeks of spring practice remain and coaches Fry and Williamson are making every effort to cover the extensive program which they have outlined for the spring practice period.

Considerable time is being devoted to the perfecting of stance for linemen both defensively and offensively. Williamson has devoted most of his time to work of this nature with the guards and tackles. Passing and plays from punt formation are being stressed also as Coach Fry feels that this department of the game was not fully developed last season due to lack of time.

The time at which the two groups are to report for practice has been changed slightly, the first group will now report for practice at 4:30 instead of 3:30 and the second group will report at 5:15.

Practically the entire squad originally checked out are reporting at present. There are usually enough men reporting at any time in the session to form five or six teams.

There will be scrimmage games on the following two Saturdays making three games in all before the end of the season.

WRESTLERS TO LEHIGH

The Kansas State wrestling team is scheduled for some very good competition when it takes part in the national collegiate tournament at Lehigh university Friday and Saturday. The most outstanding teams are Lehigh, the eastern intercollegiate champions, University of Illinois, who has a number of Big Ten champions, and the defending champions, Oklahoma A. & M. Oklahoma university, the Big Six title holders, will also send a team.

Kansas State wrestlers to make the trip are Captain Dick Campbell in the 135 pound class; Claude Young, the 165 pound man; Dean Swift, 175 pound class; Gene Howe, the captain-elect for the 1936 team, and accompanied by Coach B. R. Patterson.

A strong finish is one of the best attributes of the star performer in track. In fact, it is the one thing which distinguishes the mediocre trackster from the real champion. Paavo Nurmi, though long since retired, displayed the best finish ever developed by a dash man. His famous "flying leap" sent him across the line a winner in many a close contest. Bill Bonthron's finishing "kick" gave him three victories over Cunningham in their collegiate days. Several of K-State's runners have recently shown that a final burst of speed is a great help in winning races. Justus O'Reilly, in his last two meets, has won the mile event easily because of this rally. Joekeying for position through the greater part of the contest, Justus turned on the steam in the last 220-yards and left his opponents far behind. Joe Knappenberger, in the low-hurdle race at the Armour Tech relays, trailed Fleming, of Pitt, over the last barrier, but the Wildcat timber-topper, in a blazing finish, crossed the line a victor and in record-equaling time. The greatest of runners recognize the value of such a finish and put continual stress upon the development of this part of their technique.

Looking out to the west coast one hears that Coach Dean Cromwell of Southern California, who developed Paddock, Wykoff, Borah, and Drew, some of the world's greatest sprinters, predicts that George Anderson, of the University of California, within a year will be the fastest 220-yard runner in history. Another startling bit of information is the fact that Stanford will have no track captain this year. It seems that a jinx has pursued the last five. Gus Meier, Ben Eastman, Ike Habes, and Podge Smith were lost to their squad through injuries while Eric Krenz was drowned.

Glenn Cunningham, better known in track circles as the Kansas Flyer, told an interviewer not long ago that he had traveled approximately 60,000 miles in America and Europe and had run in 59 competitive miles during his undergraduate days at the university. He was beaten only 6 times in those 59 starts. It is interesting to note that Don Landon, Wildcat miler last year, is one of the two men to ever beat Glenn three times. Don first took the measure of the Jayhawker in the national scholastic meet several years ago. That was the first and last time that Landon ever won from Cunningham over the mile route. However, the first time the two met in the two-mile event, Don emerged the winner, and later added another victory over the University star at the same distance. It is true that Landon never won from the Jayhawker after the latter became nationally known, but it has become a significant fact that only one other trackster has been able to snatch three victories over the Kansas Flyer.

SPORT SHORTS

When asked what type of football system he expected to use next fall, Wes Fry replied, "I always look my material over and judge what system will work best with the men I have to work with and then I use that system." Oklahoma's powerful medley relay team of Ward, Chaney, Moody, and Lochner, hope to better the world mark, when they compete in that event at the Kansas Relays. Bobby Grayson, Stanford's star backfield man, has refused at least three offers to become a pro wrestler. The Kansas Flyer went night-clubbing with Sally Rand after his ironman performance at the K. of C. meet last week. Bo McMillin pressed clothes to defray expenses while going to college. Oklahoma also has a shuttle relay team in the making that, in preliminary estimates, is half a second better than the K-State team that set the world's record at the Kansas Relays last year. George Sauer, former Nebraska fullback, will join the Green Bay Packers of the National Professional league next fall. Sauer, who is one of the greatest players in Nebraska football history, was offered $4,000 to play for the New York Giants not long ago, but refused. The dust storm Wednesday, caused Wes Fry to call-off a football practice for the first time in his coaching career.

first of April. Both hard and soft baseball will be played. Entry blanks have been mailed to the permanent organizations and any independent teams wishing to enter should go to the intramural office for information and entry blanks. All entries must be in the intramural office by March 26.

Results of volleyball games played Tuesday: Alpha Gamma Rho 40, Lambda Chi Alpha 27; Kappa Sigma 40, Sigma Alpha Epsilon 22.

Games End Monday

Seven Volleyball Tussles Monday And Then Semi-Finals and Finals to Be Played

The regular intramural volleyball schedule will end Monday night with seven games in Nichols gymnasium. Semi-finals and finals will be run off after that. There is also a possibility of several ties in the brackets which would force playoff games to decide the championships in some of the groups.

Kappa Sigma by defeating Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Beta Theta Pi need only one more victory each to win their group.

Intramural baseball will start either the last part of March or the

Early Entries for Kansas Relays

Wayne Slocum of the University of Minnesota, is expected to compete in the Kansas relays in some of the longer races, as is Jimmy Owen, University of Iowa, who has been cleaning up in indoor sports this spring. Coach Jacobs at the University of Oklahoma is grooming two teams with hopes of bettering existing records. He has good groups available for the shuttle relay.

It's an ultra-short wave radio telephone antenna—before being raised above the dunes of Cape Cod.

For some years, Bell System engineers have been studying ultra-short waves. They have developed automatic transmitters and receivers which may be connected with regular telephone lines at points far from central offices. They hope such radio links will be useful in giving telephone service to points difficult to reach by usual methods.

The installation on Cape Cod—which is now undergoing service tests—is just one more example of Bell System pioneering in the public interest.

Why not telephone?

Madam Fashion Dictates . . .

By Gladys Gould

Mary, Mary quite contrary, how does your wardrobe go? Taffeta plaids, ruffles, laces, and pretty blouses all in a row.

With so promising a suit season confronting millady this spring it is no wonder her wardrobe goes "blousey." Buttons down the back, shirring at the shoulders, or frills around the face may be her choice.

Printed blouses will be worn with smart navy, black, or brown suits. The tailored suit for the breezy or athletic individual calls for a tailored blouse, but the very feminine individual could wear lace, ruffles, or frills on a blouse less tailored.

"Taffeta is coming into its own as a material for blouses," Miss Kathleen Cochrane of Ward Keller's department store explained. "Taffeta plaids in bright gay colors and prints are very good."

Laces, linens, printed silks, organdies, and cottons join the ranks in the spring blouse parade. As for colors—they may be as white as Hebe or as bright as Apollo. A color to fit the suit and individual is the only caution necessary.

"Blouses are for the most part tailored this season," P. E. Dalton, of Cole's department store said. "Bright colors—taffeta plaids, for instance, are very popular. Laces are good too." A gay blouse seems to work wonders in brightening a dark suit.

When life begins with an 8 o'clock class, nothing is easier to slip into than a dainty blouse. Dame fashion leaves milady to choose her very own blouse this spring, but she hints that three are better than one.

Remember, a blouse of beauty is a joy all season and this spring it is its own excuse for being.

"Cooney" Moll's Sore Toe Solves A Deep Mystery

The coaches locker room in the Nichols gymnasium has a mystery that is liable to shake the whole Big Six conference to its very foundation—that is if something doesn't happen pretty soon.

The elements of this mystery are simple but definite. There are twelve things involved in the mystery, a watch, a shoe, a coach's locker, a lot of good advice, no detectives, and last but not least, eleven unsupported alibis.

'Twas a cold and dark night. The wind came blowing its way across the ruins of the old chemistry building and through the trees. Coach C. S. Moll, otherwise known as "Cooney", came into the locker room and went to his locker. Whether it was the night, the wind, the mysterious atmosphere of this peculiar night, or just a desire to know what time it was, it is not known. Anyway, something caused this mystery to have its beginning.

"Cooney" looked for his watch, which he thought that he had left in his street clothes, but he couldn't find it any place. He believed so thoroughly in honesty that he didn't suspect dirty work at the crossroads.

"I left my watch here in my pocket," Mr. Moll explained to the other persons, "I have just looked for it and it is gone. Have any of you fellows seen it?"

The police and amateur detectives called it an "inside job". Naturally Mr. Moll's associates were suspected and gave many alibis. Such alibis as out of town, had a better one, not vulnerable, out hunting bugs and one, "Chill" Cochrane, gave that he couldn't tell time.

Together with these alibis they had prepared a chart that had every place he could possibly put his belongings designated on it. Every time he would come in to the locker room to change his clothes, he would check the chart in the places designated on the chart. This made it possible that "Cooney" would not have any reason to lose his next watch, that is if he ever obtained another one.

But before the chart or the detectives could check the alibis, Mr. Moll developed a sore toe, and as the day went on it became worse. One coach, a little more constructive than the rest, said, "Maybe you have a rock in your shoe". Upon investigating the suggestion he found that the trouble had been his own watch.

How the watch got into Mr. Moll's shoe, when, how and if it was placed there, and a thousand other mysteries remain a secret. But there is no secret about the chart for it hangs in his locker and he is checked by the other coaches.

Mr. Moll has forgiven the coaches for everything but one thing and that is taking his watch and hiding it in his shoe and neglecting to tell him about it until he had worn a large stone bruise on his big toe.

Practice Game Given Football Squad Saturday

PROSPECTS FOR ANOTHER WINNING TEAM LOOK GOOD

Purple Wins 7-0

Stress Placed on Defense in Practice Sessions Probably Accounts for Low Score

Kansas State football fans are again becoming enthusiastic over the prospects of another championship team after watching the first game of the spring football practice season last Saturday on Ahearn field.

Hard hitting, blocking, vicious tackling and a general business like manner in carrying out assignments characterized this first regulation practice game.

The lone touchdown of the game came in the third quarter when Jim Edwards plunged over from the one yard line for the purple team. A 25 yard pass from quarterback Jim Lander to halfback Ed Klimek, had placed the ball on the one yard stripe. Captain Dean Griffing converted the extra point from placement.

Since Fry and his assistant Williamson have been spending a big majority of practice periods so far in defensive tactics, both teams showed up well in this department. Only three days have been devoted to the offensive side of the game. Another day was planned, but the dust storm last Wednesday made it impossible.

Both teams while exhibiting great power appeared ragged in their play at times. Fumbles cost both teams several scoring opportunities, part of the blame was laid on the thick covering of dust on the ball that made it hard to handle.

Coach Fry expressed himself as being well pleased with the work of the squad in general. He termed the work of Ralph Churchill and Kenneth Conwell as outstanding. Captain Griffing displayed his wares at center very effectively, while Dan Partner, Holla Holland, Mac Jensen, A. F. Krueger, and D. W. Buxton also showed up in line play. Some of the best backfield performances were turned in by J. K. Fleming, Richard Hotchkiss, Ted Warren, and Jim Edwards.

Saturday's game brought out three promising candidates for the quarterback position. Fans may be surprised at the play of Jim Lander when the season opens next year. Fred Sims, a freshman flash and all-Oklahoma state quarterback back from Tulsa looks like promising material for Fry. Leo Ayres, Kansas State's all-Big Six quarterback of last season will also be counted on heavily when the 1935 season rolls around.

Although an injured ankle has been keeping Maurice "Red" Elder on the sidelines he will probably report this week to take his regular post at fullback. Don Flenhroe has been confined until recently to the college hospital with a case of measles, but has recovered sufficiently so that he will probably be out this week also. Other regulars who missed Saturday's practice game are Leo Ayers, Bob Kirk, and Paul Fanning.

Injuries in the game were confined to a slight side injury for Winter Pollom and a sprained shoulder for N. H. Lindbloom that might keep him out of the remaining spring practice sessions.

Cochrane Married

Miss Myrtle Broberg Becomes Bride of Assistant Football Coach in Ceremony Friday

Owen L. (Chill) Cochrane, assistant football coach at Kansas State, and Miss Myrtle Broberg were married at Abilene Friday.

Mrs. Cochrane is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Broberg of Manhattan. The ceremony was performed by Rev. David Townley of the Presbyterian church. Mrs. Cochrane is the sister of Mrs. Townley.

They will spend a brief honeymoon in Kansas City and afterwards they will be at home in the Virginia apartments, 822 Poyntz.

Mr. Cochrane, before becoming an assistant football coach and scout, played quarterback three years for Kansas State under Coach Charles W. Bachman.

P. M. Noble, graduate of the civil engineering department in 1926 and now of Yuma, Arizona, visited the campus last week.

MISS FELTON IN RECITAL

Presents Organ Music in Spirit of Lenten Season

A candle light organ recital played in the spirit of the Lenten season was given by Miss Marion Felton in the college auditorium Sunday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock.

"The Ninety-Fourth Psalm," a piece written by Reubke when he was still a young man was the feature of the program. The piece calls upon the Lord of Vengeance to punish the wicked.

"Christ Lay in Death's Embrace" was also emphasized by Miss Felton. The rolling sixteenth notes in the pedal of the organ represented the rolling away of the stone of the sepulchre.

Other numbers included "Sister Monica," (Couperin-Farnum), a seventeenth century composition; "Minuet and Gigue," (Rameau), also a piece from that same period; "Sarabande," (Karg-Elert), by a German composer recently deceased; and "Wings of Light" (Shure), based on the Psalms 18:10.

Pres. F. D. Farrell To Washington

Will Confer With Department of Agriculture Officials On Means to Stop Dust Blowing

Pres. F. D. Farrell left last night for Washington, D. C., where he will confer with department of agriculture officials concerning possible aid for meeting the soil erosion problem in western Kansas. He will return Saturday or Sunday.

Gov. Alf M. Landon has been in Washington since Sunday conferring with government officials. Yesterday Governor Landon was assured by Colonel Lawrence Westbrook, deputy relief administrator, that "the government is ready to start an emergency program to check dust storms in the central states."

The plan advocated by Landon and President Farrell for a temporary solution of the problem consists of strip listing four or five rows at intervals of 20 rods, except for moving land, which must be entirely listed.

L. E. Call, dean of the division of agriculture, estimates that this listing can be done for one dollar an acre. Because many farmers do not have the necessary funds, Governor Landon and President Farrell are trying to get the federal government to furnish them out of the FERA funds.

Work preparatory to listing has already been started in anticipation of securing the needed money. Committees for the local supervision of the listing have been appointed during the last few days by the college. Agricultural agents in all affected counties have been instructed to call community meetings, organize county committees, and map the stricken areas by townships.

That the proposed strip listing is merely a temporary measure is generally recognized. According to President Farrell, a long time program should be started using grass and other plants which will form a sod and prevent the soil from blowing.

Dean Call, in a statement released yesterday, stated that the situation would not be solved by general rains. The soil is so level, and the dust so thick, that the water will evaporate before it can soak into the ground, and blowing will recur shortly after even a heavy rain. If the ground has been listed, the rough surface will aid the water to soak in to the ground before it evaporates.

Harry Umberger, dean of the division of extension, blames part of the blowing on the wheat stubble fires of 1931. The stubble was so thick during that year, he said, that many farmers found it necessary to burn it. This removed the soil protection, and the dry weather which has prevailed since then has made it easy for the winds to whip up the soil.

That the dust storms are a menace to health was a fear expressed by Governor Landon recently. "The great clouds of dust are laden with bacteria, and if they continue, the health of many persons, especially small children, will be impaired."

That the dust storms are a menace to health was a fear expressed by Governor Landon recently.

The Wildcat's heavyweight, Don Flenhroe, has not sufficiently recovered from the measles to allow him to participate.

Competition ran high in the try-outs for the 155-pound class with Bill "Red" Hemphill winning the right to compete over Walt Fehner and John Crawley in tonight's fight.

Captain George Garrison has been in charge of the team's work-outs in the absence of Coach B. R. Patterson. "Pat" is with the wrestling team at Lehigh university, Bethlehem, Pennsylvania, but will try to be present at tonight's match.

The Wildcats close the boxing season next Tuesday, April 2, with a return meet in the Nebraska ring at Lincoln.

Sixty-five men and women representing 26 counties of the state are attending the meetings. Hans Holberg, assistant supervisor of workers education, sponsored by KERC, who is in charge of the institute will also give several talks, and Cal Ward, president of the Kansas Farmers Union is scheduled to address the group. Professors Grimes and Howe will have charge of the program for all lecture periods from 10 to 11:30 o'clock every morning, and from 1:30 to 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

All meetings of the institute will be held in the lecture room in the west wing of Waters hall. The aim of the project is to instruct those attending for the management of adult education in the social sciences and farm problems so that they will be able to conduct classes in their local communities.

After the instruction given here the group will go to Kansas university for a similar meeting to study industrial and labor problems. Later they will return to Topeka to summarize their work. Many of the persons attending the institute are unemployed school teachers.

Wherry is a well-known engineer active in that division. He will be manager of the engineering open house for next year, is assistant business manager of the "Kansas State Engineer" and is a member of Steel Ring and Sigma Tau, honorary engineering organizations. He has actively participated in the independent party since its formation.

The executive council also completed plans for the dance sponsored by the independents for next Saturday. The affair is to be held in Nichols gym from 8:30 to 11:30 o'clock. The Gold Coast Band will furnish the music.

Debaters Win Two

Nathan Shapiro and Walter DeLapp Represent Kansas State at K. U. Tourney

Nathan Shapiro, Manhattan, and Walter DeLapp, Elk City, members of the debate team representing Kansas State at the tournament at Kansas university, Saturday, won two out of five debates. Twelve middle-western schools competed.

The Universities of Iowa, Kansas, Oklahoma, and Texas tied for the championship each winning four out of the five debates on the question of unicameral legislature. The Kansas State debaters were accompanied by Prof. H. B. Summers, coach.

The Kansas State representative in the Missouri Valley oratorical contest, John Barhydt, Hutchinson, became ill with pneumonia and was unable to compete in the event which took place Saturday. Barhydt was sent to his home in Hutchinson.

Miss Pauline Schlossens, Fredonia, and Miss Beulah Browning, Abilene, represented Kansas State in a non-decision debate with Washburn college Sunday night in the Unitarian church of Topeka. Government versus private ownership of munitions manufacturing plants was the question.

Thousands Will Strike Against War April 12

COLLEGE STUDENTS WILL PARTICIPATE IN NATION-WIDE MOVEMENT

Movement Growing

Despite Opposition From Militarists And Police Four Times as Many Will Participate This Year

At 11 o'clock the morning of April 12, 100,000 students representing leading colleges all over the United States will participate in a demonstration against "imperialist war," fascism, and the R. O. T. C.

This demonstration is being sponsored by such student organizations as the National Council of Methodist Youth, Inter Seminary Movement (middle atlantic division), the National Student League, the Student League For Industrial Democracy, the American Youth Congress and the American League Against War and Fascism.

Religious Leaders, Publicists, and educators are expected to support the movement. Every clergyman in America is to be asked to speak on peace movement the Sunday preceding the demonstration.

Four times the number of students who participated in the strike held last year are expected to engage in this one. This year's demonstration is expected to extend to Canada, Mexico, and Argentina.

Counter-demonstrations will provide opposition for the antiwar strikers. In many colleges the demonstrators expect bombardments of overripe vegetable from militarists. In other colleges the police are expected to interfere.

Last year in the College of the City of New York the center of a great deal of antiwar agitation, 2,000 students were attacked and clubbed at the flagpole by police because they refused to disband at the Dean's order. At Harvard university the Michael Mullins Chowder Club counter-demonstrated with "Down with Peas" signs and cheering "We Want War." The ROTC students at John Hopkins university fired decayed vegetables at strikers and turned the water hose on speakers.

Teachers To K. S.

Unemployed Teachers Given Special Work By Child Welfare and Euthenics Department

A special training school for teachers appointed to the emergency nursery schools over the state is being conducted here for one month by the department of child welfare and euthenics in cooperation with the Kansas Emergency Relief Committee and the state department of public instruction.

Twenty-one unemployed teachers who are already partially qualified to do nursery school teaching make up the group. They will attend classes each day and will observe the work in the department nursery school where twenty town children from 2 to 5 years old are now students.

The county nursery schools where they will teach are a part of the Kansas relief program. Children come from needy, unemployed families, or neglected or underprivileged homes. The administration is in the hands of local school officials but case supervisors, visiting teachers and other welfare workers aid in the work.

Miss Thelma McClure, Hutchinson, is a government instructor at the school. She received her A. B. from Kansas State in 1930 and her M. A. in 1932. She has also attended the Merrill-Palmer school in Detroit.

Dr. Helen W. Ford, Dr. Martha Kramer, Dr. Dorothy Triplett, Miss Jennie Williams, and Miss Helen Fisher will also conduct classes.

FRATERNITY LOYALTY—A NARROWING INFLUENCE

There is a very definite thing known as fraternity loyalty; and for those who have been keeping in touch with the wave of criticism of fraternities that is sweeping the colleges of the country, it might be well to inquire into that loyalty, and the effect it has on the students of a college.

Fraternities as they were originally organized were literary and scholastic groups formed to meet an educational need in the embryonic colleges in early American times. In the course of their development, however, they have degenerated into institutions designed primarily to enable the individual to share in the dubious advantages of that class known as society. With this degeneration of the fraternity into a purely social organization, the ideals of society came to be fraternity ideals. Money, family position, sophistication, clothes, and other material elements came to be recognized as the requirements for influence and leadership.

To protect this superficiality the fraternity has developed fraternity loyalty. The spirit of "right or wrong we stick by the organization" has grown. Conformity to the ideals of the fraternity has become a fetish. Instead of serving as a means for the further development of the individual every effort is made to transform the personality of the individual into the stereotyped fraternity pattern.

The method by which this fraternity loyalty is developed is nothing unpleasant for the individual. Fraternity pins symbolize virtues and ideals of the group. The songs of the organization extol the glories of fraternal brotherhood. The barbaric practice of hazing pledges acts as a force to drive individuals into line. Truth sessions, or "stooling" as they are usually called are a form of group pressure designed to draw all into the rut of conformity.

More powerful than the above named influences is the attitude of the members of the fraternity. The intimacy of interfraternity relationship plus the desire of individuals to appear favorably in the eyes of their fellows effectually checks intelligent criticism.

It is not to be construed that this has been a conscious process. The contrary is probably true. This thing we call fraternity loyalty, like many of the other evils of our present social system, has rather unobtrusively evolved.

Thus the fraternity has become a static, conservative institution instead of a progressive one. By elevating false ideals, and then manufacturing personality to conform to those ideals it has destroyed the possibility of development coming from within. The fraternity has become a reactionary institution that serves to perpetuate existing mistakes.

This unreasoning, uncritical loyalty fostered by Greek organizations is of the same breed that causes millions to swallow the subtle propaganda of a few controlling capitalists, and jump headlong into war at their bidding. Because it is a class loyalty, it prevents the understanding of our collective obligations that is so necessary. It is the same stupid, unthinking loyalty that makes us glorify the status quo and for this reason inhibits change when change becomes essential.

HEARST TO THE RESCUE

The arrest and threatened deportation of John Strachey is an ominous testament to the pernicious influence exercised upon the action of highly placed officials by the rabid, red-baiting Hearst press and organizations such as the D. A. R. and the American Legion which attempt to stamp out free expression of opinion. Furthermore, whatever one may think of Mr. Strachey's politics, the time to pass judgment upon him was before he entered and not at the very end of his lecture tour. Certainly the immigration commissioner could not have been so cloistered in Ellis Island that he had not heard of "The Coming Struggle for Power" or "The Menace of Fascism."

The most cursory examination of these books would have revealed on what side of the political fence Mr. Strachey was. We question seriously whether the English communist exercised an evil influence upon the opinions of Americans. Citizens of democracy should be able to take Mr. Strachey's ideas for what they are worth and to separate the wheat from the chaff. Only by free, untrammelled airing of opinions can democratic institutions hope to survive and evolve workable schemes to perpetuate the best interests of all.

We are forced to the unpleasant conclusion that the immigration commissioner in admitting Mr. Strachey knew full well the latter's political beliefs and, through the activities of certain unsavory pressure groups already mentioned, was compelled to about face and threaten to deport the Englishman, although the latter had committed no crime, nor provoked any disturbance in this country. The commissioner's action is a credit neither to the government nor to the democratic ideals of America.—The Daily Princetonian.

The Snooper

Harold Rea—sidekick to Pink Pants Percy—(between them we have a wit!)—has been quoting this little bit of sweetness and light the last few days:

"The trees are veiled with green again
The birds are off their nut—
The shops are filled with dizzy hats,
It's spring again—so what?"

We hope there are others to whom the picture of one of our popular young professors running about the town Saturday night hatted and tuxedoed but sockless is as humorous as it is to our small mind.

Out of the slime that is our lot we hand the Zeta Taus a lily. And do they thank us? They do not. It seems they passed a national ruling again being called by that awful moniker, "Zeta Tau". Undignified, or somepin' like that. And it seems we erred. Sorry, Zeta Taus. We won't let it happen again, Zeta Taus.

With the rise in the price of gasoline and the new tax on pale, it's a safe guess that the Sigma Nus and Kappa Sigas are going to have a hard time having fun this spring. There's always tiddlywinks, fellows.

We're susceptible to bribes and those four Kappas who have been making it a habit to take in Topeka, the Phi Delta chapter there, and the so-called night clubs of the town can start with a chocolate malt every afternoon and shows twice a week as long as our eyes hold out.

Just head those football lettermen yell about the way the yearlings chewed them into confetti Saturday and Monday.

When are the Acacias going to explain to an anxious world just what the honor is in being elected to the Ancient Order of Yellow Dog, which they celebrate with such ceremony each spring?

If Orchestis could get Sam Caughron and "Babe" Kimball to repeat that comedy fall they pulled the other night that organization could pull down some fat contracts round about. We'll be sothearted and hope that the duplication would leave them without the stiffness the original did.

Speaking of the Kimballs, Patty—sister to the acrobatic "Babe"—is shyly confiding to all and sundry that she'll be residing in Clay Center soon. The latter being the home town of Jack Householder, notable chiefly for his ability to blow up alcohol tins on third at the Beta barn.

Bill McDanel suggests we begin charging by the column inch for publicity, inferring that's the "Bull Pen" method. What a business Bill Lutz, Tyne Wassberg, Leland J. Propp and the Betas would give us. We could trip to Kansas City once a week.

What was the percentage that Carl Isaacson gave Thane Williams and Dick Hamilton for trotting out in those queer sun helmets Saturday afternoon when the sun did finally come through the dust? ## HEDGING INSURES AGAINST LOSSES

In a lecture Thursday afternoon to the milling seminar, R. W. Hoffman, Kansas City, president of the Kansas Flour Mills Corporation spoke about hedging.

He explained that hedging is a process of marketing by which the marketer protects himself against heavy losses. If we do away with hedging it would mean from ten to fifteen cents lower price for our wheat per bushel and also a very big risk for our farmers, he stated.

All graft has been ironed out of hedging and it is impossible to get a corner on the market now, he declared. The planting restriction in the spring wheat area has been removed but he believes that unless there should be quite a change in weather that the acreage would still be about the same as under the government restriction.

COOKING BOOK IS READY

The fourteenth edition of "Practical Cookery and the Etiquette and Service of the Table" is off the press. The booklet was originally designed to conserve time spent in the college laboratory food preparation.

The first edition of the booklet was a loose leaf hand book published in 1908. The second, in 1910, was a bound volume edited by Dean Mary Pierce Van Zile then in charge of the home economics division of the college. Thirteen hundred volumes of the book were sold last year.

AT THE VARSITY

"West Point of the Air" Perhaps you have never felt particularly inspired over the advance of aviation or what the air corps means to the United States, but whether or no, you will leave "West Point of the Air" having seen the best acting Wallace Berry has done for some time along with a pleasant sense of having been entertained. It started at the Varsity Sunday and is running through Wednesday.

Airplanes—everywhere—spinning, crashing, roaring, burning—but the thing that makes you grab the arms of your chair, chew your nails, or and so forth, is the fact that there are people in them in which you are vitally interested.

It starts at what is now Camp Randolph, but was, in the days when aviation was young, known as Camp Travis. Three kids are running around the hangers who later turn into Robert Young, son of Wallace Berry, a sergeant in the air corps, Maureen O'Sullivan, and Russell Hardie, children of a general, Lewis Stone. The general walks up to Wallace Berry and the children are picked up and kissed and some remarks are passed to the effect that the boys must surely go to West Point when they grow up, no mention is made of the little girl but you just know she'll grow up to love Robert Young.

But it's terrifyingly interesting to see an old time aviator (take a good look at his helmet) hop into an '07 model plane—he's entirely out in the open with just some straps tied around him—and grimly takes off, only to crash and be killed.

There is a snatch of an Army-Navy game in which Wallace Berry can't see his own son win the day on account of a chubby Navy woman landing in his lap—it rather gets you when Russell Hardie, the aforementioned general's son who cracks up and is sent to the hospital, wants the nurse to move his leg because it is getting numb, and it has really been amputated—may sound maudlin, but it isn't. The situation of the Lieutenant son and Sergeant father rather complicates matters for a while as you may have guessed, but the pinning of the wings on Robert Young by his father is the best scene of the show—Berry uses that proud shy look of his—you can't help but like it.

There is also a Heart's Metronome News and a colored Metro Goldwyn Mayer musical.

Start Outdoor Track Season This Saturday

THUS FAR SUCCESSFUL TRACK TEAM TO GO TO TEXAS RELAYS

Favor Nebraska

Haylett Gives Advantage To Nebraska In Big Six Because of Its Strength In Field

The track team of Kansas State college Big Six conference indoor champions, winners of the Armour Tech relays at Chicago, and winners of the second place silver trophy in the 4-mile relay in the Butler relays at Indianapolis last Saturday, is pointing for an equally successful season of competition in the outdoor meets which begin Saturday, March 30, with the Texas relays at Austin.

Coch Haylett is planning to take his 4-mile relay team (O'Reilly, Wheelock, Redfield, and Robinson), Farming in the discus, and Knappenberger in the 120 yard hurdles to Texas.

Coch Haylett sees a decided advantage to Nebraska in the Big Six outdoor race with the inclusion of the 100-yard dash, 220-yard dash, discus, and javelin in outdoor track meets because of Nebraska's strength in field events. "However," he said, "we are going to do our best and we would like to do as well on the cinders as we have indoors."

In addition to the usual lineup as followed in the indoor meets the 100-yard dash will be taken care of by Jensen, Hall, and Knappenberger; Jensen, Hall and Worrel will compete in the 220-yard dash; Panning, Bell, and Warren in the discus; and Herrman, Hemphill, and Bell will throw the javelin.

Oren Stoner and Lee Railsback, hurdles, are out for track now that basketball is over and they will increase the potential strength of the squad.

Coch Haylett is highly pleased with the results of his team in indoor competition. "We have just concluded the most successful indoor season in the history of track at Kansas State," he said. "And two things have contributed largely to this—the good spirit on the team, and the excellent care the boys have used in observing training and practice principles."

The outdoor schedule: March 30, Texas Relays, at Austin, Texas.

April 20, Kansas Relays, at Lawrence.

April 26-27, Drake Relays, at Des Moines.

May 4, Kans.-Neb.-Kans. St., in Manhattan.

May 11, Okla. A. and M.-Kans. St., in Manhattan.

May 17-18, Conf. Meet, at Lincoln.

June 14-15, Nat'l. Collegiate, at Berkeley, California.

Wrestlers Lose In National Tourney

All Kansas State Men Eliminated By End of Second Round at Lehigh

The hopes of the Kansas State wrestling team to place any men in the eighth annual national collegiate tournament at Lehigh university, Bethlehem, Pa., were definitely shattered in the second round of the tournament.

Gene Howe, the K-State 145-pound man and 1934 captain-elect, was the first one to be eliminated. He was defeated in the first round by Glenn Shively of Washington and Lee university by a time advantage of 9:09.

Claude Young, Kansas State 165-pound wrestler and Missouri Valley title holder two years ago, was defeated in the second round by Earl Kiehlorn of Iowa university.

Richard Campbell, K-State captain and 135-pound man this year, was thrown in the second round by Archie Witt, Virginia Military Institute, in 6:58 with a chancery and crotch hold.

Dean Swift, Kansas State 175-pounder, also lost in the second round to Orville Nickerson, Southwest Oklahoma Teachers, who held a time advantage of 4 minutes 13 seconds over Swift.

The Oklahoma Aggies, 1934 title holders, successfully defended their title by chalking up a total of 36 points. Their old rivals, Oklahoma university, was second with a total of 18 points. Indiana university and Illinois university tied for third with 15 points each, and Lehigh university and Penn. State tied for fourth place with a total of 8 points each.

The K-State team and Coach B. Patterson will drive continuously from Bethlehem, Pa., and will arrive in this city today.

The Bull Pen

by BILL McDANIEL

The desk in Coach Ward Haylett's office, in Nichols' gym, has been recently adorned with a beautiful trophy. To State's four-mile relay team, who placed second at the Butler Relays over the weekend, goes the credit of winning this shiny, new silver track shoe. Coach Ward will tell you that only a scant yard and a half kept the Wildcats from bringing home a similar trophy in gold—and that yardage seems very meagre when compared with four miles. Our relay team, which was anchored by Justus O'Reilly, ace distance runner, broke the old relay record by ten seconds, but was still nosed out of first by the crack Michigan university team. O'Reilly picked up over 40 yards on Smith, Big Ten champ, but could not quite overtake the Wolverine. It was a two-team race all the way with Ohio State a half-lap behind, in third place. (Confidentially, Ward will tell you that he likes the silver trophy better than the gold one even though it does signify a second-place rating.)

Captain Joe Knappenberger was defeated in both hurdle events for the first time this season. But in losing, he bowed to some of the best timber-toppers in the country. Captain Knappenberger ran the fastest low-hurdle race of his life at Indianapolis, only to be beaten by Jesse Owens, Ohio State's septa star. Incidentally, Owens equalled the world's record in winning the 60-yard dash, which all the more proves that Joe's company was by no means slow. A blanket finish occurred in both hurdle races so that picking the winners was a difficult job even for the best of judges. State also had an excellent chance of coping the two-mile relay title, but unfortunately for the Aggies, Bruce Nixon developed a cramp and had to drop completely out. With K-State in third place at the time, and O'Reilly still to run the anchor laps, the Wildcats had an exceptionally good chance to cross the line the winner had it not been for the accident.

"If something is not done to cut out that damnable 'pivot' play, gone will be your crowds and all your interest in basketball," states Ernest C. Quigley. The play which the prominent referee dislikes so much is one in which the player on the offensive team takes a stand in or near the free throw line with his back to the basket and attempts to wheel and toss the ball with one hand through the hoop. Personally, I heartily disagree with the attitude which Quigley has taken. I am firmly convinced that there is not a more spectacular shot in basketball than this so-called pivot shot.

To me it seems a masterful art for a cager to fake the opponent guarding him out of position and then whirl in the opposite direction to toss the ball swishing through the mesh by a simple twist of the wrist. The crowds will never diminish as long as there is a chance to see two good pivot men fling a basketball from all conceivable stances and in all kinds of ways in the charity lane. I will venture to say that a good percentage of the spectators turn out to see a basketball game nowadays for the express reason to watch a battle between two giant pivot-men.

Haylett Gives Relay Entries

Kansas State college was the first to send in entries for the Kansas relays to be held at Kansas university, April 20, according to reports from Lawrence. Ward Haylett, track coach, said he would have representatives in at least 15 of the 17 events.

Kansas State relay teams hold two records in the university class of the relays. The shuttle hurdle relay team set a new world record last year with the time of 1:01.7. The team was composed of Douglas Russell, Oren Stoner, Lawrence Schmutz, and Joe Knappenberger. Don Landon, Dean McNeal, Larry Darnell, and Francis Castello hold the record for the medley relay set in 1933.

Captain Joe Knappenberger is expected to be one of the leading contenders in the high hurdle event.

11-Inning Game Tests Aspirants

Practice Saturday Brightens Coach Ahearn's Hopes For a Successful Season

A hustling 11-inning practice game in the city park Saturday afternoon brightened the hopes of Coach M. A. Ahearn for a successful baseball campaign this year.

Both good and poor baseball was displayed as each of the many candidates was given an opportunity to play. Coach Ahearn expressed his approval or disapproval of performance with such remarks as, "That's the way to hit that ball!" or "Go ahead and boot it—it's a football!"

However, Ahearn expressed himself as very well satisfied with the workout as it gave him a chance to see where the most work is needed.

The starting lineups were kept under the first five innings with the opposing moundmen. Cooley's wildness and lack of support allowed three unearned runs in the third. The score at the end of the fifth was 3 to 1 in favor of Abbott's team.

During the remaining innings, R. G. Wiltsie, C. H. Beyers, and J. L. Scott worked in the box. Beyers, a southpaw, was the most effective. He and Abbott appear to have an edge in the pitching department.

Harold Wierenga may be sent back to the outfield as a pair of promising infield recruits, R. E. Jenkins and Max Springer have been uncovered. Arthur Stuckey and Leland Shaffer handled the catching assignments and should be able to handle this position between them.

Bill Lutz, Lloyd Somers, Joe Spencer, and D. K. Henry showed up well in the outfield and will furnish competition for the lettermen. Asbill and Wierenga.

Ahearn is getting some real assistance from Frank Whittam. Whittam gave expert advice to the hitters during the early innings and umpired efficiently the latter part.

Tracksters Place At Indianapolis

Four-Mile Relay Team Breaks Record By Nearly Ten Seconds But Trail Winners

A second in the four-mile relay a third in the high hurdles and a fourth in the lows were won by the Kansas State track team in the Butler relays held at Indianapolis, Indiana, last Saturday.

Although the four-mile relay team broke the meet record by nearly ten seconds it still finished second a yard and a half behind the victorious Michigan university team. O'Reilly, anchor man for the Wildcats team, picked up over 40 yards after he got the baton but failed by a narrow margin to break the tape.

Capt. Joe Knappenberger who has been victorious in every hurdle race he has run until Saturday won third in the high hurdles and fourth in the lows. In the high hurdles, Knappenberger trailed Fleming of Pitt whom he defeated in the Armour Relays the week before.

In the half-mile relay Nixon was running third when cramps overcame him and he was forced to stop. This was costly to the Wildcat team as O'Reilly, star anchor man, was waiting for the baton when Nixon was forced to quit.

The Kansas State four-mile team received a silver track shoe trophy for their efforts. In this event the old record of 18 minutes-12 seconds was broken by 9.5 seconds;

both Michigan and Kansas State breaking the old record.

The University of Michigan won the team title for the meet with a balanced team which took a number of seconds and thirds besides the first in the four-mile relay.

An upset was scored in the 600-yard exhibition run when Charles Hornbostel, fleet indoor trackster, was beaten by Ivan Fuqua, former Indiana star.

The 60-yard high hurdles were won in 7.8 seconds by Calmeyer, Indiana's Big Ten champion. Ward of Michigan was second and Knappenberger, Kansas State finished third.

Jesse Owens, Ohio State hurdle king, won the 60-yard low hurdles in 6.8 seconds; he was followed by Mullins, Western State Teachers. Fleming of Pitt nosed out Knappenberger of Kansas State for third.

The record-breaking four-mile relay team from Michigan finished in the fast time of 18 minutes 2.6 seconds, with the Wildcats finishing one and one-half yards behind.

The college two-mile relay record was broken by the Emporia Teachers in the fast time of 8 minutes 2 seconds, or 9.2 seconds under the old record. The Teachers also finished second in the college medley relay race, with the Pittsburg Teachers third.

AT THE DICKINSON "Life Begins at 40"

You'll smile and you'll chuckle and finally you'll break right out in a riot of laughter, when you see Will Rogers in "Life Begins at 40." And when he stages a hog calling contest to break up a politician's picnic you'll simply double up and gasp with glee.

As the editor of a small town paper who solves everybody's problems, Mr. Rogers does the best acting of his film career. After George Barbier, the banker, takes over his paper because Will insists upon befriending Richard Cromwell, an ex-convict, he starts an opposition sheet printed on wrapping paper and runs Slim Summerville, the town loafer, against Barbier for head of the city schools.

Then the fun begins. And what with hog calling contests and hat and feather parties, to say nothing of duels with tomatoes as bullets the picture turns the audience into a laughing marathon.

Will finally clears Cromwell's name and gets his paper back. Cromwell wins the village school marm, Rochelle Hudson. And Slim gets the job of lightning rod inspector—but there aren't any lightning rods.

VAN ZILE HALL MAY OPEN THIS SUMMER

Tentative plans are being made to operate Van Zile hall during the coming session of summer school. For the past two years the hall has not been open to students during the summer months but because of the numerous requests for cooler rooms the proposal to open the hall is receiving favorable consideration. Even though the hall is open to students, meals will not be served there.

Those interested in staying at the hall are asked to call at Dean Van Zile's office for information.

Art Ideas Old

Phillip C. Beam Says in Lecture Our Art Ideas Are Found In Past

After tracing the development of art through romanticism and realism down to modern work, in his lecture last Tuesday night in the college auditorium, Phillip C. Beam of the William Rockhill Nelson gallery staff in Kansas City, reached the conclusion that "our ideas in art are found in the past."

The French artists of the nineteenth century stressed romanticism, Mr. Beam said. "No attempt was made to intellectualize," he explained, "and a repulsion of art occurred later in the century."

With the development of realism painters began searching for new ideas, and the personality which had formerly been glorified became unimportant.

Modern painters, according to Mr. Beam, began a revolt against realism.

Since the first American settlers were chiefly concerned with tilling and fighting Indians they had little use for art, and it was not until 1903 that the portrait brought art into being. At that time Paris became the art center of the world. America began to think about art only about ten years ago, according to Mr. Beam, and then art schools were established.

CURRY'S WORK FINDS APPROVAL OF ARTISTS

"Sun Dogs," the Curry painting purchased last month by the college, has the approval of two artists, recent visitors to the campus. Dr. Birger Sandzen of Lindsborg, called the dean of midwestern artists, praised the painting and said he thought the college had made a very wise selection. He congratulated Kansas State college for being the first institution in Kansas to have a Curry painting.

Phillip C. Beam of the William Rockhill Nelson Art Gallery at Kansas City, who lectured here Tuesday, was very enthusiastic about the painting selected by the college, saying it was one of the best he had seen. He liked the "Sun Dogs" better than the "Storm Over Missouri," and thought it comparable to the "Tornado." Our painting, he said, would wear better than others such as the "Storm," because it is less dramatic.

Mr. Beam praised the fine composition and beautiful coloring of the "Sun Dogs," and spoke of the splendid feeling for western Kansas which it embodies.

Strike For Peace By K. U. April 12

The University Will Join Nationwide Movement With Orderly Demonstration Against War

A Strike for Peace at 11 a. m., April 12, on the Kansas university campus has been arranged by the K. U. Student Strike for Peace committee. This is in accord with hundreds of similar student protests against war throughout the progressive educational institutions of the country.

Plans for the strike were made in response to several hundred signatures to a declaration against war. It will be held after the Honors Convocation, and will last for an hour. Two faculty speakers and two student speakers will be asked to address the group of dissenters. The rest of the demonstration will probably be a parade on the campus.

"The strike will be an orderly protest against war that again threatens as a means of settling international disputes," a representative of the Strike committee said. "That this will be an orderly demonstration led by competent persons, was emphasized by the committee. The movement is dedicated to an earnest endeavor to interest all students in the peace movement. It is the aim of this group to point out to the leaders of the nation, that if such things happen in colleges all over the country, that the college men and women have definitely aligned themselves against those factors in American life that are incentives to war.

The committee believes that the University officials should consider dismissing classes in connection with the peace strike, since school was let out for a hobo day.

Knockout Five In Win Over Cornhuskers

ONLY ONE N. U. FIGHTER FINISHES ON HIS FEET

Lose A Decision

McDonald, 179-Pounder, Wins Close Bout From Irvin In Lone Nebraska Victory

Winning five out of six fights by the knockout route, the Kansas State boxing team swamped Nebraska university last Tuesday night in their last appearance in the home ring for this season.

The only Nebraska victory came in the 179-pound class when Les McDonald won a close decision from Irvin Irwin. It looked as if the Wildcats were going to make a clean sweep of the meet until this last fight. The fight was a slugging match and both men were about out when the bell rang.

Ray Pyles, who knocked out the feather weight from St. Benedict's two weeks ago, repeated against Francis Elkins of Nebraska. Pyles came out of his corner swinging hard. Both fighters were hitting very hard when Pyles caught Elkins for a count of seven. In the second round after flooring Elkins twice, Pyles was awarded a technical knockout as Elkins was unable to go on.

In the 129-pound fight Sherar after outpunching Meyers during the first round came back in the second to floor the Nebraska fighter for the count of nine. Immediately after Meyers got to his feet Sherar rushed out and put him down for the ten-count.

Captain George Garrison, Wildcat 139-pounder, rushed from his corner at the bell and plastered Banghart with blows until the Nebraska went to the floor for the count with the first round not yet finished.

After hitting the canvass three times in the first round of the 149-pound fight, Blumer was declared technically out and the fight was awarded to Madison.

In the 158-pound go, Thomas and Taylor put up a slugging match during the first round with Taylor on the ropes a large part of the time. In the second round Thomas was awarded a technical knockout when Taylor was too dazed to finish.

"Red" Hemphill, muscular 169-pounder, started the fight by flooring Gatewood of the Nebraskans. Gatewood got up quickly and after several blows found himself on the floor again, this time for the count of nine. When Gatewood arose, Hemphill rushed across the ring and with one blow knocked him out. Less than half the round was (Continued on Page Two)

Tells About AP

Edward Stanley, News Editor Southwestern Division, Explains Scope of News Organization

A description of the organization of the Associated Press was presented by Edward Stanley, news editor of the Southwestern division, who spoke before journalism students in their seminar yesterday.

His explanation dealt with the world-wide scope of the Associated Press the collection and distribution of news, the style of writing desired, and the method of direction used by the AP.

Stanley who has spent four years in AP work in London discussed several English newspapers for the audience, and contrasted English and American working conditions in the newspaper business. To enliven his talk the speaker told a few personal experiences in the line of gathering news while in England and Ireland. Among the topics were a brief discussion of the London Palace, incidents relative to Round Table Conference in London to which Gandhi was a delegate several years ago, and a few glimpses of the English rural family.

Previous to his talk in the journalism seminar Stanley spoke to men students in the journalism department at a smoker held in the Delta Tau Delta house.

CLAPP GETS APPOINTMENT

Is Secretary-Treasurer of Kansas Crop Improvement Association

A. L. Clapp, of the Kansas State college agronomy department, has been appointed secretary-treasurer of the Kansas Crop Improvement association to succeed E. B. Wells, formerly of the college staff, who is now in commercial seed business.

During the last 15 years Mr. Clapp has devoted much time and effort to improvement of Kansas crops; and for the past 4 years he has been in charge of cooperative experiments in agronomy and has obtained valuable information regarding the best varieties for planting in different parts of the state.

Approximately 300 Kansas farmers make up the organization of the Kansas Crop Improvement association. These farmers make it their business to grow certified high quality seed from varieties of field crops adapted to their locality. They cooperate with the department of agronomy and work under regulations which insure a high quality seed that is true to its name, free from disease, and contains no mixtures, weed seeds, nor hybrids.

To be certified a variety of seed must have been tested by the agricultural experiment station and found to be superior in quality and well adapted for planting in Kansas soils. It must also be tested in the state laboratory and the field in which it was grown must pass inspection.

The Kansas Crop Improvement association has sponsored this program of growing certified seed for more than 25 years and has distributed many thousands of bushels of certified seed. The result is that a large proportion of Kansas fields are planted with certified seed or seed but a few years removed from certification.

THE PESSIMIST HAS HIS DAY

The cynic looks into the future—

Some trifling international incident, meaning nothing in itself, will be picked up by some nation in Europe—will be magnified beyond all that is reasonable—and the whole continent will be plunged into the catyism of war.

Immediately our Yankee capitalists will substantiate their well-known reputation for business acumen by expanding our productive machinery beyond all the bounds of normalcy. Our factories will hum. Unemployment will disappear. The price of agricultural produce will skyrocket. Boom times will appear as though through the magical providence of some benevolent genl.

Our bankers, good Christian gentlemen that they are, will lavish credit upon the warring nations of the world so that they might purchase United States goods.

The Du Ponts and their allied friends in other countries with that touching navette that characterizes that group, will generously and indiscriminately furnish all warring nations with the means for murder.

But complications will develop. Some country—of course without any justifiable reason—will protest against our selling our products to all concerned.

However, our famed Yankee shrewdness will save us. We will weigh all evidence—pick the logical winner of the war—and enter on their side.

WE will win the war.

Then, in order to further serve the humanity we entered the war to save, we will help draw a treaty that violates all the tenets of ordinary human decency.

Peace will come. The inevitable contraction of our war-gear industrial machine will take place. Depression will follow.

We will be right back where we started.

WHY CRITICIZE THE FRATERNITY?

There has been considerable resentment among organized houses on the hill at what has been termed the anti-fraternity stand of the Collegian. The question has frequently been asked the editor why he has attacked these hitherto untouchable institutions.

This question might first be most effectively answered in the negative. The editorials printed so far on the fraternity question have not been the ravings of a social introvert that would deny others the pleasant associations of fraternity life. Nor is the editor hounding an unjust fate that kept him from membership in these organizations. The editor has no personal hatreds of fraternity men or women that have twisted or contorted his viewpoint. And emphatically, he holds no hope that he can establish a social utopia by abolishing all Greek organizations.
 If the above is true, what then is the reason for the stand taken by the Collegian?

The college campus is a world in miniature.
 Our campus institutions grow out of and are representative of the life outside the college.
 Truly enough we are far removed from reality—particularly in this true of Kansas State, situated in one of the best business districts in the United States. We have no slums, no outstanding examples of maldistribution of wealth, no labor-capital disputes to speak of. But nevertheless campus life is parallel with the life outside college. We have our political situations, our economic inequalities, our class distinctions, nearly all of both the good and the bad of society. We are a manifestation of the world at large and are conditioned by it.

Certainly the happenings since 1914 are sufficient grounds for doubting the adequacy of our present social system. Change has become plainly necessary, and the question today is not whether or not that change must occur, but the directions that that change should take. If our social order is to develop in the right directions we must analyze the institutions that are the props of our present society, discover their faults and fallacies, and ruthlessly publicize them in order to avoid repetition of the same mistake.

While in college we can do little towards actively changing and reforming the present social system. However we can turn the spotlight of analysis upon ourselves. We can examine our own accepted institutions, find where they are at fault, and take steps to remedy those faults. The fraternity is the most established and accepted institution in this miniature campus world of ours. Because they have been so long established, and because they are so conspicuously a part of college life, they better illustrate the conditions outside college we will face upon graduation. The glorification of the material as opposed to the intellectual and spiritual; class distinctions and the resultant tendency to place clique loyalty above the obligation to the whole; the manufacture of human personality to fit an institution rather than that institution serving to further develop the individual; the innate conservatism that acts as a deadening agent to progress—all these things and many more that are found in institutions outside the college, are a part of the fraternity system.

There is no doubt that the fraternity can fill an invaluable part in college life. But there is no reason for placing it on a pedestal and declaring it untouchable. It is only through realization of our faults based on intelligent criticism that lasting progress can be made.

The Snooper

Just for your own satisfaction—What fad will the PIKA's pull down a commission on this week-end? Darn clever, those lads!

And while we're on this questionnaire—Does Fropp really think he can out-Tarzan Stoner with the Niles gal?

It was no later than Wednesday that "Russ" Thackrey, in speaking of Mrs. Horace Greeley, said "She was much too intellectual to keep house." That should be enough to keep any home ecker down for a few days but Dean Justin's request to the seniors of that division has more than a few of us glad we don't belong over there.

She referred them to the Lifebuoy ads, and assured them also there was absolutely no truth to this "lift from a cig" idea. Please would they remember that before attending the tea for seniors next week? Phooey!!

The Lambda Chis even have their alumni journeying to dear old Kansas City before their little frolic this Saturday. Or so we understand.

 it. The college could use a few people like that —on the lawns we mean.

There are several remarks that COULD be passed about the Kappa Sig picnic that ended in taxis—girls, blankets and all. The explanation—(there always is one, you know) is that

We just can't keep this to ourselves any longer—what was the REAL reason Heeter so ups and gets mad and homes to papa about? And how did he get her back here? If we ever got away—well—if any of us got away—COULD anyone or thing get us back?

"I Won't Dance" may be the theme of many a stag line but there's many a gal who has transformed it into "I Can't Dance."

"Spring romances" are an idea recently per-seems you adopt the man of your dreams, an-

 "spring romance" and you leave the rest to fate.
 The first of the season, however, struck a snag when the young man in the case absolutely refused to attend a seminar Thursday—if it was home ec we can understand.

No less than TWO Greek gals are the objects of requests by our dear editor to show him a whole weekend of "having fun". It seems he is trying hard to change his mind—but how a "picnic, show, and dance" (his words, dear readers) will do the trick we leave for him to explain.

Weavers of Textiles
On Display Claim
Divine Inspiration

"Opal-tinted paradise" is the Indian name for the coloring of the hand woven textile of spun silk displayed in the south wall case on the second floor of Calvin hall.

The weavers of these textiles claim to be the descendants of an Indian mystic of countless centuries ago who was taught the secret by Allah.

The story is that he wished to play with colors as a poet plays with the music of words—producing a harmony of sound. He wished to capture in his craft the elusive loveliness of moonlight, the dewy wonder of dawn, the sparkling light of jewels, the tender charm of cool velvet flowers dreaming beneath the golden sun.

One evening he sat weaving his soul longing for the perfection his hands could not attain, and Allah was filled with sympathy for such noble aims so he wafted the soul of the weaver to paradise where he and his angels spent four days and four nights in imparting to the old man the lovely art of blending colors harmoniously, musically, and poetically.

During the days and nights the four spheres of heaven were visited and the harmony of each world separately visualized and captured in silken thread.

The four worlds were, the blue lake of dreams, the opal tinted paradise, the world of dewy roses, and the splendor of the orange sphere.

The textile is loaned to the department of clothing and textiles by Dr. Martha Kramer.

Listing Needed For Preventing Soil Blowing

DEAN CALL BELIEVES FROM TWO TO THREE MILLION ACRES INVOLVED

Paper To Capital

President Farrell Takes Call's Statement On Urgent Problem To Washington, D. C.

Listing between two million and three million acres of western Kansas land will be necessary to control blowing of soil in the state, Dean L. E. Call of the division of agriculture believes.

Dean Call has recently returned from an eight-day inspection trip through western counties. While on this trip he conferred with business men, farmers, county commissioners, county agents, and others relative to the soil blowing problem. He has prepared a lengthy statement on the problem, which was taken to Washington D. C. by President F. D. Farrell who left Monday. The statement will be given to officials who are expected to cooperate in an effort to control soil blowing. With the statement is a map showing the counties where the problem is the most serious.

Dean Call reports that farmers in the areas where this condition is the most serious are anxious to cooperate but are hindered by the lack of funds for the purchase of fuel, gasoline, feed and repairs which they find necessary before they can carry out the strip listing program. After talking with the county commissioners from 19 southwestern Kansas counties Dean Call estimated that $1.00 for each acre to be listed would be a sufficient fund to complete the work. He states that even general rains will not solve the erosion problem completely.

Dean Call points out that the seriousness of the condition in the blowing area cannot be overemphasized. Houses will not exclude the fine dust and living conditions become too impossible for farmers. The dust is a menace to livestock and some are dying. It also injures the stacked and shocked feed.

Three types of conditions in the counties Dean Call visited were cited:

First, areas where there is a soil cover on growing wheat, representing sections that received showers last fall. Very little blowing has occurred in these areas but fields are covered with a thin layer of dust and the fields where the wheat is thin should be strip listed as a protection until good rains come.

Second, areas where extreme blowing has occurred and where the soil blows whenever heavy wind occurs. These areas vary in size from two or three sections to a hundred sections or more. "It is futile for individual farmers to attempt to control soil blowing in such areas," Dean Call said. "Every foot of cultivated land in a territory of this kind should be listed solidly and deeply."

Third, areas intermediate between these two extremes, comprising 50 to 75 per cent of the cultivated land in the blowing territory. In this type there are many individual fields, ranging in size from small patches to a section or more, that are blowing. Such areas can be controlled by individual farmers if the fields are solidly listed and if surrounding territory where conditions are favorable for blowing is strip listed.

Factors which make it difficult to control blowing were cited by Dean Call:

Land operated by non-resident owners and operated by resident tenants who do not have sufficient interest or who are not financially able to do the work.

Land in the hands of resident owners who do not have sufficient funds.

Lack of funds available for county commissioners to pay for work which they have the authority to order done.

The statement which President Farrell is carrying to Washington, D. C. says: "The acreage of cultivated land remaining in this area should be listed either solidly or strip listed, as a protective measure against blowing and as a preparation for the planting of spring crops and for fallow."

GLASS IS CCC DIRECTOR

K. S. Professor To Head Forest Service In Kansas

John S. Glass, professor in charge of rural engineering, has been appointed director of the forest service CCC work in Kansas. Mr. Glass returned recently to the college from Manhattan where he was engaged in soil erosion work with the United States department of the interior.

The soil erosion program includes the planting of trees and is a combined project of the United States forestry service, the college, and the state government.

L. E. Willoughby, associate professor in the department of extension engineering, will be in charge of the agronomy part of the work. Four camps are now available for soil erosion work and the personnel of the CCC will be enlarged. The new units as they are added will be used for soil erosion work instead of for additional lake and dam construction.

"All lake and dam projects now under construction will be completed, however," said Mr. Glass. "We cannot use CCC labor for a project which will benefit one individual, but only where the work will be of benefit to an entire community. If a farmer wishes to terrace his land we can build water courses to remove the water diverted from its course and protect his terracing operations, but we cannot do the terracing for him."

"Any gully extending through a number of farms and regarded as detrimental to a community can be remedied by CCC men," he declared. "Any work necessary to stop further erosion will be carried out by these supervised groups."

The headquarters for this conservation work have been transferred from Toronto to Mr. Glass' office in the engineering building.

the entire world.

Prof. F. W. Bell of the animal husbandry department, and Lawrence Hall of the education department will leave for Eldorado Friday afternoon. Several students in the department of animal husbandry are planning to make the trip. Those who will probably go are: Walter Lewis, Wayne Herring, Ed McCole, Arthur Asherman, and Fred Dutte.

Four members of the rural press class of Prof. F. E. Charles will go to Glen Elder this weekend and remain through the first part of next week to report for the Glen Elder Sentinel, edited by Perry Betz, K. S. C. graduate. The students will help on a special soil erosion issue of the paper. Those who will go are: Stanley Morris, Paxico; Barbara Claassen, and Gertrude Arnold, both of Newton; and Edward Rupp, Moundridge.

'BARBER OF SEVILLE' IN SUNDAY CONCERT

The college band, under the direction of George Henry, will present the tenth of a series of Sunday concerts, Sunday, March 31, at 4:15 in the afternoon.

The program includes Rossini's overture, "Barber of Seville;" R. B. Hall's "Independencia;" and Chenette's "The Big Parade." Three Caucasian sketches of Ippolitow-Iwanow are featured in the second part, with three other numbers of R. B. Hall, Alford, and K. L. King.

Miss Lucille Howenstine, Manhattan, will play a trumpet solo in Casey's "Polka." The other selections in the third part of the program are Ganne's "Father of Victory;" Miller's "On the Way;" and Huffine's "Them Bases."

Championship Tilt In Gym Tonight

Team and Delta Tau Delta
Will Play for Intramural Volleyball Title

The "Y" team, winners of the independent championship in volleyball, will meet Delta Tau Delta, winners of the organized house championship, tonight at 7:30 in the gymnasium for the intramural championship. Delta Tau Delta defeated Kappa Sigma 40-19 last night to gain the final round. They had previously defeated Phi Kappa Alpha 40-13 and Kappa Sigma had defeated Beta Theta Pi 40-17 in the playoff of group winners.

Kappa Sigma, Phi Kappa Alpha, Beta Theta Pi, and the "Y" team won their groups without tasting defeat but Delta Tau Delta was defeated once and had to go through a playoff to win in their bracket. At the close of the regular schedule Delta Tau Delta, Sigma Phi Epsilon, and Acacia were tied for the lead in group I with four victories and one loss each. In the playoff, Acacia defeated Sigma Phi Epsilon 42-40 and Delta Tau Delta won from Acacia 40-18.

Twenty-eight teams have entered in hard baseball. Professor Washburn says that the tendency seems to be swinging toward softball as always before the teams have been almost evenly split. The number of teams this year is an increase of five over last year's entries.

The regular volleyball schedule was finished Monday night with the following results: "X" team 40, Methodist Men's club 9; Acacia 40, Farm House 16; Phi Kappa Alpha 40, Tau Kappa Epsilon 26; "Y" team 40, W. F. A. C. 27; Phi Delta Theta 40, Alpha Kappa Lambda 30; Phi Sigma Kappa won from Sigma Nu on a forfeit.

Final standings of teams exclusive of playoffs are as follows:

In Game Saturday

Baseball Candidates in Full Time
Practice Tilt—Cooley and Abbott On The Mound

Batting and fielding drills with short games between picked squads has been the program of Coach M. F. Ahearn's baseball aspirants during the past week. Another full game on the same order as last Saturday's practice tilt will be played tomorrow in the City Park beginning at 2:30.

Judging from this week's performances, the game tomorrow should see the best pitching yet exhibited this season. Frank Cooley and Lyman Abbott have shown a good brand of hurling and are expected to furnish an interesting duel. Beyer and Scott will also pitch.

Coach Ahearn has not yet decided on a definite first team lineup. He has tried a great variety of combinations, and the competition continues for all positions. At first base, John Underwood probably will get the call because of his fine stick work, but Ben Winchester has an edge in fielding. Winchester is a left hander and guards the initial sack with lots of class.

Behind the bat Stuckey and Shaffer are waging a close battle. Both will probably see much action during the season. Van Sant may hold down the short stop assignment if he shows that he can control his throws. He has been doing some heavy clouting.

The starting lineups for the game tomorrow have been announced as follows:

Meyers	c	Henry
Stevens	3b	Jessup
Lutz	2b	Jenkins
Underwood	1b	Winchester
Asbill	lf	Somers
Wierenga	rf	Wilcox
Springer	ss	Van Sant
Stuckey	c	Shaffer
Cooley	p	Abbott

Kansas State Third

Win Place in Missouri Valley Intercollegiate League Matches—
Maxine Gibbs Fires Exceptional Score

The Iowa State rifle team defeated the Kansas State rifle team by a score of 1373 to 1346 in a match fired last week. This was Kansas State's last match in the annual Missouri Valley Intercollegiate League matches and placed Iowa State second in the league and Kansas State third. The contesting schools placed as follows: University of Washington 6924; Iowa State 6884; Kansas State 6796; University of Nebraska 6627; Montana State 6563; University of Wyoming 6504.

The University of Missouri defeated Kansas State in a postal match held during the past week by a score of 3711 to 3620. The individual scores were as follows: S. H. Swayer 372; W. R. Farmer 369; W. P. Stewart 367; W. R. West 364; G. W. Honick 360; G. T. Anton 359; E. L. Waller 358; J. F. Gaumer 357; M. O. Pattison 356.

On Thursday of last week, Miss Maxine Gibbs, a member of the women's rifle team, fired the exceptional prone score of 399 out of a possible 400. The first target on which she fired was for practice, and after firing a perfect score she fired her match target for the week on which she again made a perfect score. She continued firing and once more made a perfect score on her third target. On her fourth target Miss Gibbs dropped one point which gave her a total of 399 out of a possible 400.

This is undoubtedly the best prone score which has been fired at this institution for a number of years in either men's or women's competition.

Frog Club Will Enact The Drama Of 'Fish Tales'

What is Kansas State coming to! A coeducational fish school on our campus? No, no, nothing like that. It's this way—"Fish Tales" is to be told and enacted by the students of the Fish and Frog division of Kansas State college. The drama showing the rise of the famed division is light, but still it includes the common everyday occurrences, human problems such as cramming and "Fisical Examinations."

As all school life usually begins, this too, starts with a bell ringing in the distance, as two boys appear on their way to school. One decides to play "hooky"; the other attempts to discourage him.

The conscientious one continues on his way to school, while the would be fisherman picks up his pole, baits his hook, and throws out his line. The fishing is poor, drowsiness slowly creeps over him, and the boy falls asleep. He dreams of a fish school assembling to the teachers signal.

The period of learning ended, school is dismissed with the closing exercise. One problem fish is being disciplined by the teacher, and therefore is not allowed the privilege of the final exercise. At this point, the scene changes, when the dreamer is awakened by his companion's return. The two hurry on as the dreamer relates his unusual experience.

And so on April 9, at 7:30, the Frog Club will present "Fish Tales." Those who are good, bright, dull, or even poor fish, will then have a chance to attend the "school of fish."

AT THE DICKINSON
"Gold Diggers of 1935"

"Gold Diggers of 1935," starring Dick Powell and Gloria Stuart, is billed at the Dickinson for a week's run starting Sunday, March 31. Warner Brothers have gathered together a great collection of stars in this "musical," and the resulting production equals, if not surpassing,

Dick Powell, who never fails to ring the bell with his golden tenor voice, performs as usual. But the singing honors go to the feminine vocalist, Dorothy Dare, a ravishing brunette whose looks and musical ability have not hitherto received the break they deserve. She sings "Lullabye of Broadway," the show's catchy feature tune. "The Words Are in My Heart" and "Going Shopping With You" are the other songs.

Busby Berkeley, dance creator and director, directs the whole show in the big song and dance number, "Lullabye of Broadway," and outclasses any of his previous work. The gowns as designed by Orry-

Kelly, are enough to stop the heart of any clothes conscious mortal.

But with all the foregoing talent, the comedians run away with the show. First, there's Hugh Herbert. For a long time he rolled them in the aisle with his expression—with little talk or action. Now he blossoms out as a millionaire Snuff Box king who thinks of nothing more risky than snuff boxes, and still gets hooked for breach of promise. His ambidextrous talking is even more expressive than Zasu Pitts' handwaving.

Backed up by Alice Brady, a tightwad millionaire; Frank McHugh, her playboy son; Adolph Menjou, a rakish dramatic director; a good supporting cast, and a clever script—comedy captures "Gold Diggers of 1935."

Madam Fashion Dictates . . .

New coiffures are here with a bang, for bangs and variations of bangs are the most important hair-dress for Spring.

The delightful off the face bonnets, the snappy sailors, and the perky toques have made bangs a pleasing necessity for those who can wear them.

Nor must they be straight; some may be bunched in uneven curls; and still others may be dramatically arranged in three rolls of graceful ringlets above long straight bangs.

"Hats determine the mode," said Freda Hervey of the College Beauty shop. For hats turned low over the eye, the hair is swept smoothly from the forehead and clustered in curls at the back.

The "Sorority Girl" coiffure is among the "musts" for the smart set of 1935. It sports a turned over roll on the right front high on the head, combined with loosely formed waves and curls in the back. College and high schools girls endorse this widely.

Laura Pugh of the Lady Beautiful shop says, "The trend is for coiffures to be dressed higher in the head."

Gowns also determine the style of hair dress. The "Marie Antoinette" showing the regal simplicity of past ages is lovely for off-the-shoulder gowns. The curls are on top and back leaving the sides straight and brushed neatly behind the ears. The curls may be round or open. The new "streamlining" is being adapted to hair styles this year," said Mrs. Maude Miller of the Ideal Beauty Shop. "Very little wave is used, the detail entering around curls which sweep back and up from the face, producing a flowing effect."

Between rows of curls may be ornaments—sparkling silver or crystal ones for evening and hair-color bope ones for daytime wear. It's surprising how neatly they keep the hair in place.

"Braids are still favored by both old and young," said Emma Caster of the Primp Shoppe. "Most wear the plain braid style for sports wear and dress it up with ringlets for evening."

Coiffures are on the spot along with hats this spring. A girl can be made more than attractive by a well-kept coiffure. She can be individualistic and that's what counts for 1935.

ately begin wondering why Francis went to Nebraska, for they did not enroll the same year at the Cornhusker institution as Francis graduated from high school a year earlier than Brill. Can it be possible that our college lacks so in appeal that we cannot even entice the prominent athletes of this state to remain within its boundaries. If so, I recommend that something be done as soon as possible for we could use them to good advantage.

Yale has won 138 consecutive swimming meets . . . Primo Carnera's wrist watch is the size of an ordinary pocket timepiece . . . John Guhman, captain and star second baseman of the Missouri university baseball team, was declared ineligible to play this season . . . it seems that he played one season with the St. Mary's college in Kansas before entering Mizu . . . Joe Louis, prominent Negro boxer chews four packs of gum a day . . . Glendon Lynde, Big Six conference champ in the 50, 100, and 220-yard free style from Nebraska, and Jack Davis, backstroke champ from Oklahoma, started last Monday for Cambridge, Massachusetts, to compete in the National Collegiate tank meet today and tomorrow . . . Tom Kassiss, assistant coach at St. Benedict's college, was asked the other day how spring practice was coming and he replied "Not so well, some of the men are still able to eat their supper after practice. Next week we get going."

Call For Entries

Coach Patterson Asks Freshman Boxers and Wrestlers to Sign Up for Tournament

The call for all freshmen that are interested in wrestling or boxing has been issued again by Coach J. R. Patterson for the purpose of obtaining more entries for the freshman tournament that is to be held May 1, 2, and 3.

The first place winners in the boxing tournament will receive gold medals while the second and third place winners will receive silver and bronze medals respectively. The medals will be obtained with the money that is taken in at the gates.

To the wrestlers will go the usual numerial sweaters.

Any freshman is eligible to compete in the tournament and it is the hope of Coach Patterson to have about one hundred entries in the two tournaments.

Weighing in of the contestants will begin soon. The weights for both the boxing and wrestling are 118 pounds, 126 pounds, 135 pounds, 145 pounds, 155 pounds, 165 pounds, 175 pounds, and heavyweight.

One of the main purposes of these tournaments is to supply the coach with the most likely prospects for next year's squads.

Tracksters Leave For Texas Relays

Haylett and Six Men Will Compete In Their First Outdoor Meet of Year

Coach Ward Haylett left Thursday to direct six of his Kansas State track men in the Texas relays at Austin, which will mark the first outdoor appearance of the season for the Wildcats. Haylett took four of the men by motor car. Captain Joe Knappenberger and Justus O'Reilly went by rail.

Knappenberger, who has proved himself one of the outstanding hurdlers in the country, will compete in only one race. He will give all his attention to the 120-yard high hurdles. Paul Fanning, a sophomore, will make his first appearance with the varsity team in the discus event.

If there is sufficient time between events to give them rest, William

Wheelock and Charles Robinson will run in the 3,000-meters race as well as the four-mile relay.

The four-mile relay team, which forced the University of Michigan runners to a new record in the Butler relays last week will line up with George McColm taking the place of Harold Redfield. The other members of this quartet are Wheelock, Robinson, and O'Reilly. Following these games in the south the Aggie tracksters will have a few weeks layoff from competition before the outdoor dual meets and relay carnivals to come in April and May.

Swimmers To AAU

Captain Creed, Umberger, Steele, Will Appear for Last Time in Collegiate Competition

Coach C. S. Moll will take his Wildcat swimming team to Kansas City tomorrow to compete in the Missouri Valley A. A. U. swimming meet.

This will be the last meet of the season for the Aggie team and will see the last appearance of four swimmers under Kansas State colors. Joe Creed, three times captain, David Umberger, and Grover Steele will graduate, while James Gaume will attend Creighton next year.

Coach Moll believes that his team will be able to place well in the meet. He hopes to pick up a number of points with second and third places. If Creed is in his best form, he should establish a new Missouri Valley 100-yard dash record. Several times this season he has speeded through the distance in better time than the present record of 57.3 seconds which is held by Kirby of Washburn.

With the participation of Paul Montgomery the Kansas Staters will be stronger than in any previous meet this season. Montgomery is a three-letter man from Washburn who came here last fall but was not eligible for Big Six competition this year.

The strongest competition is expected from Wyandotte and other

Fry To Speed Up Offensive Play Of Squad

TO INCREASE NUMBER OF PLAYS FROM 65 TO 90

Alternate Teams

One Eleven Could Not Stand Pace So Two or More Will Be Used in Game

Speed is to be the keynote of the Kansas State football team for the coming season, according to Coach Wes Fry. By increasing the number of plays per game from 65 to 90 Coach Fry believes that the offensive power of the team will be greatly increased.

"I realize that one team could not maintain this pace," said Fry, "but by the use of two or more complete teams who will alternate in a game this system can be used very effectively."

"The increased number of plays will be made possible only by cutting down the time in the huddles, speeding up the cadence and hustling back for another play. It will depend entirely upon the attitude of the players and not on any set rule of the coach," continued the Wildcat mentor.

Ohio State uses this system of top speed throughout the game with very successful results.

Offensive tactics have been stressed in practice the past week by Line Coach Stan Williamson, although work on defensive is still being carried on.

The line has received considerable attention this week on low charging. A taut rope stretched about six feet in front and three feet above the ground under which the line charges is the means by which this football essential is being taught.

Before the game last Saturday a number of action pictures were taken of various men in the backfield and line. With the aid of these pictures it will be possible to point out faults in stance, punting form, and charging to the entire squad. The pictures will be used at a night session this week.

The practice game Saturday will be divided into eight periods. By this means both purple teams will play both red teams, each team playing the other approximately eight minutes.

In doing this Coach Fry believes that scoring will be greatly increased over last Saturday's lone touchdown.

In the kicking department, Maurice "Red" Elder, star fullback of the past season has been doing some outstanding work, getting some boots away for as much as 70 yards. Elder was kept out of practice for some time because of a sprained ankle. He will be available for Saturday's game.

Don "Red" Flenhroe, two-letter tackle, has not been out for practice so far because of a serious throat infection followed by a case of measles. The big tackle is now back in uniform but will scrimmage little if any in the game Saturday.

There will be one more week of Spring football practice after Saturday's game. The last practice session will be a game Saturday, April 6.

Adhesive tape has done much in the way of preventing injuries to Iowa State athletes this last year according to George Veenker, director of Cyclone athletics. The adhesive tape used would extend for several miles and the tape bill amounted to around $300, but with the exception of a leg injury which kept a Cyclone football player out of the final game last fall there have been no serious injuries since the current season opened. Trainer Leroy Timm required each matman to take an alcohol bath after every workout during the wrestling season and successfully prevented epidemics of skin disease among members of the grappling team. Joe Creed, Aggie swim star, has had much to do with the lack of injuries at K-State this year. Working down in the tape room during the football and basketball seasons, Joe has taped many an ankle and given numberless rub-downs to team members. All cuts, sprains and bruises, no matter how slight, are reported to him immediately and the tankman so far has done an excellent job of doctoring up the athletes. In his present job, Joe is one of the unsung heroes of the campus and his loss at graduation will be doubly felt by the athletic department.

We have often wondered why it is that so many of Kansas' topnotch athletes have drifted up to Nebraska university. The latest report from the Cornhuskers tells us that they have discovered another potential football star by the name of Harold Brill. It seems that Brill ran his last Saturday in a spring football game and in doing so gathered in four touchdowns, several by long runs. Looking farther, we find that Brill attended high school at Norton, Kansas. And again we ask why did the young fellow go to Nebraska, when there are two good schools in Kansas? Brill will tell you that he went north because he and Sam Francis decided while still in high school to enroll in the same college. To go deeper in the story, we find that Francis is a product of Oberlin, Kansas, and the two had played against each other during their pre-college days. And now we immedi-

—so far as we know tobacco was first used about 400 years ago

—throughout the years what one thing has given so much pleasure..so much satisfaction

It was a matter of pride with a host in Colonial days that his guests should smoke tobacco grown on his own plantation.

Today the Governor of North Carolina says to the Governor of South Carolina—
"Have a cigarette"

TODAY people all over the world use tobacco in one form or another.

They chew it, they smoke it in pipes, they smoke cigars and cigarettes, and here is what an eminent physician said about cigarettes:

"I have been something of a student of cigarettes, and it is my belief that they offer the mildest and purest form in which tobacco is used."

Yes, nowadays the cigarette is the most popular form in which tobacco is used. A good cigarette certainly gives men and women a lot of pleasure.

Have a Chesterfield—

For one thing—they're milder.

For another thing—they taste better.

Presidents Of Groups Will Plan Jubilee

HEADS OF 100 STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS WILL MEET THURSDAY

Writing A Book

Dr. Willard Compiling History of College That Will Be Published At Anniversary Celebration

Plans for the Diamond Jubilee, celebration of Kansas State's seventy-fifth anniversary in 1938, are now getting well under way. Presidents of each of the 100 student organizations on the campus will form a committee known as the "Diamond Jubilee Committee," which will meet in Recreation Center, April 4 at 4 p. m., to consider the plans. This group will plan and stage the jubilee, and aid the publication of Dr. J. T. Willard's history of the college which is to be his contribution to the spirit of this occasion.

Honor Dr. Willard

No other man has contributed so notably to the development of Kansas State college as Dr. Willard. It was stated in a recent bulletin put out in the interest of the project. The publication of his book, "Diamond Anniversary History of Kansas State College," will be the notable event of the year preceding the jubilee. It is planned to have 10,000 copies of the book published.

The Diamond Jubilee will consist of several special events, radio broadcast, etc., which must be planned in advance, participants trained, exhibit accessories constructed, and advertising put out. It is probable that the main event will be an All-College Fair, lasting one week, and in which all divisions will be on display, and every activity will be represented. It will be a miniature world's fair, and will include displays of Kansas history, products and industries, as well as of the life of the college, and of activities of alumni. All details of planning will be left to the "Diamond Committee."

Students To Take Initiative

The magnitude of the undertaking requires plans which must be made years in advance. Initiative for this planning should come from the student body, who will honor former students. At the time of the celebration there will be a few of the oldest graduates still living. The jubilee is dedicated to them, and the planners hope to make it an honor which will be a memorable occasion in the old grad's lives.

100 In Committee

The Diamond Committee will consist of 100 members representing the 100 student organizations on the hill. Its chairman will be the presidents of the organizations represented, unless the president delegates the duties to another. For convenience, the Diamond Committee will have an Executive Committee made up of the presidents of the following organizations:

Student Governing Association, Men's Senior Panhellenic, Women's Senior Panhellenic, Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., Inter-Society Council, Agricultural Association, Engineering Association, Quill Club, Omicron Nu, K Fraternity and Dynamis.

Diamond Committee Sub-divided

The Diamond Committee will further be divided into sub-committees, according to the following groupings of activities:

Subcommittee of Classes: six members representing Student Governing Association; freshman, sophomore, junior, and senior classes.

Chairman: President of S. G. A.

FORMER INSTRUCTORS HERE

Miss Helen Roberts who is now home demonstration agent for Bourbon county and Miss Esther Cornman of the Kingsdown School near Detroit visited the home economics division last Saturday.

Both are former Kansas State instructors.

Wes Fry Will Take Over Squad When Football Ends—Ahearn To Handle Golfers

Coach M. F. Ahearn will turn the varsity baseball squad over to Coach Wesley L. Fry, head football mentor, as soon as the latter has rounded out his spring football session. Coach Ahearn is anxious to begin working with the 1935 Aggie golf team. He will also devote some time to freshmen candidates if time permits.

The practice game, scheduled for the diamond candidates Saturday afternoon, was called off because of the cold weather. Coach Ahearn was afraid that some of the boys might injure their throwing arms.

Research Report Published

Experiment By Esther Bruner and Mina Goehring in Article

The report of the experiment of Esther Bruner and Mina Goehring of the home economics department on the deterioration of silks by light of different wave lengths is included this month in the publication of the United States Institute for Textile Research.

A detailed discussion of the procedure and the results is given. The general summary indicates that lead-weighted silks show greater deterioration upon exposure to regions of the spectrum studied than pure-dye or tin-weighted silks. That the greatest deterioration in all of the silks under observation occurs during exposure to the entire region of the spectrum. And that deterioration appears to become more rapid as the time of exposure is increased beyond 72 hours, particularly in the case of lead-weighted samples.

The chairman of the board of editors of the publication is Professor E. R. Schwartz of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Miss Bruner worked with Professor Schwartz last summer in Cambridge.

Dr. C. W. McCampbell and A. D. Weber went to Kansas City for the annual Herford roundup sale.

GETS POSITION IN CHICAGO

Miss Dale Norris left last night for Chicago where she has accepted a position in the testing laboratories for Sears Roebuck and Company.

For the past month she has been working in the household economics laboratory here filling the vacancy left by Miss Helen Roberts who is now a home demonstration agent in Fort Scott. Miss Norris received her M. A. degree from K. S. C. last year.

MAKES PUBLIC HIS RESIGNATION HANDED IN A WEEK AGO TO PRESIDENT FARRELL

Effective Sept. 1

Will Continue His Present Position To End of Summer School Then May Go Into Private Practice

Dr. C. M. Siever, head of the college student health department, yesterday made public his resignation which will become effective Sept. 1. President F. D. Farrell stated that the resignation had been in his hands for about a week.

Doctor Siever will continue his present position through the rest of the school year and through summer school. After that he said he had as yet no definite plans but he will probably go into private practice in this city.

Has Served For 19 Years

In explaining his decision he indicated that he had served in his present capacity for 19 years and that he wished to go into a field less trying.

Doctor Siever came to Kansas State in 1916. Previous to his coming in the same year he served in the medical corps of the army along the Mexican border. He had practice in medicine at Holton from 1909 to 1916, having been county health officer there for six years. Most of his life before coming to Kansas State was spent in or around Holton. He received medical degrees from Trinity university in 1903 and from Kansas university in 1907.

Treat 100 Students Daily

In 1916 the student health department consisted solely of two rooms and very few fixtures. Now the department employs two full-time physicians, three part-time physicians, four nurses and the physical matron. Records show that over 100 students are treated daily at the student health department.

To choose a successor to Doctor Siever the regular procedure will be followed. Applications will be sent to President Farrell who will send his recommendation to the Board of Regents for approval.

A FEW DEFINITIONS TO CONSIDER

Most of us steeped in the solid, conservative Republicanism of Kansas seem to have an unwholy fear of any idea that suggest any fundamental change in our mode of living. We hastily label any person or any idea not in conformity with our viewpoint as "radical" and avoid those persons or ideas as though they were some contagious disease.

Thus an anarchist is someone who throws bombs and starts labor riots. Socialist is some mentally disarranged person suffering from the delusion that we should all share our shirts, furniture, toilet articles, and what not with our fellow man. The term communist has a stronger connotation to most of us. It suggests a secret alliance with the U. S. S. R., violent revolution, free love, and a complete loss of that hallucination of individuality we all possess. The word radical is a much handier term in that we can classify any and all ideas differing from our own in this criteria.

Our friend Webster with that uncomfortable inclination to stick to facts suggests that maybe we are a bit loose in our terminology of foreign ideas. Thus Webster defines:

Radical—of or pertaining to the root; proceeding directly from the root; hence: of or pertaining to the root or origin; original; fundamental; as radical evils; a radical error; reaching to the center or ultimate source; affecting the vital principle or principles; hence, thoroughgoing; extreme; as radical reform; a radical party; a radical course.

Socialism—A political and economic theory of social reorganization, the essential feature of which is government control of economic activities, to the end that competition shall give way to cooperation and that the opportunity of life and the rewards of labor shall be equitably apportioned.

Communism is rather unsatisfactorily defined as "a system of social organization in which goods are held in common—the opposite of the system of private property."

No doubt, Herbert Hoover of "Hoover Prosperity" fame would have a few rather emphatic statements to say if you suggested anarchism to him, but nevertheless Webster suggests a close alliance between the two. "Anarchism is—
... an economic, and social system where each person produces what he pleases and consumes as he pleases what produces, free from any interference or regulation."

Gentle Gests

It does no good to turn over a new leaf when it is just a continuation of the same story.

Vacant Vera wondered if it was the breed of the feed that made some cows give white milk and some that brown chocolate kind.

It's nice to have ideas, but it's more fun to try to foist them on someone else.

Now is the time to start embroi-dering fly-swatters for this year's Christmas presents.

Live in Kansas and see the blow by your back door.

The Snooper

"SPRING SONG"

"Though assemblies may be good for youth,

I'll take mine in a Canteen booth!"

—Borrowed

Faculty members have been chuckling over this one: It seems an alumnus died and went to heaven. Over in one corner he spied a fellow grandly smoking a cigarette and viewing the inhabitants with calm contempt.

"Who is that queer old duck?"
he queried of St. Peter.

"Oh, that's God," came the answer. "He's got a superiority complex—he thinks he's H. W. Davis."

Things have come to quite a state when sorority freshmen are not permitted to knit unless they have a B average!

"Though the 'Prom Waltz' as featured by Jan Garber is supposedly sweeping the country, it'll never take Kansas State by storm.
These cow-hands can't even do a 'barn-yard waltz!'"

Ellen Payne passed the chocolates at Y. W. Cabinet Meeting Monday night.

Sid Robinson thinks he'll get a lot of publicity with that blood-red shirt of his but we're sure fooling him—we aren't going to mention it to a soul.

"Grandpa" Olin, Sigma Nu pride, really aged this weekend. His version has it that he fell off a porch.
Our story adds a bit—WHY did he fall from the porch?

Someone really took a Tri Delt's name in vain to perpetrate a dull April Fool joke on one of our collegium-shy Beta Monday eve. But he caught on much too soon to give our phoney any fun—she's still mad.

Junction City has a new curfew going in at 9:30 for all kids under sixteen. Remember not to be too childish when you run over for the evening.

"Pink Pills" Slevier finally aban-dons his ideal of a healthy student body. Congratulations to the Health Department will be received at Dr.
Dykstra's office, according to a brief statement issued today.

The Tri Delt, who had two fellows tearing down an orchard for apple blossoms evidently has forgotten that cider plays a large part in her fall life.

Do we or don't we owe Heeter an apology? Our reporterial instinct has been unable to help us find an answer to that one.

Jack Householder has offered to send us over an alcohol tin (empty) for us to blow up so we can "have fun". As soon as he does we'll give recommendations on the possibilities for springtime frolics!

Did Mother Pehling, Tri Delt terror, really believe the tale Starkey had her sisters telling about the Wamego Starkey—Heinsohn marriage ceremony?

We note the Tri Delt's have been eating spinach—they up and came out of the cellar for the whole week-end—read all about it in today's Snooper!

Speaking of cellars—where have the Sig Alpha's been lately.

DON NO JUAN

There was a young fellow named Porter
Who tho't himself a gay courtier
But the girls in the town
All turned him down
'Cause he talked a lot more than he oter.
Well—as Mark Kannal says—
"Take Good Caricoa."

Tennis Season Opens April 12

Nebraska First Opponent—Team Candidates Have Been Working Out Under Captain Hoglund

Coch C. S. Moll, having completed his work with the swimming team when it competed in the Missouri Valley A. A. U. meet in Kansas City Saturday night, has turned his attention to tennis.

Several prospective team members have been working out for the past few days under the direction of Capt. Garland Hoglund, who is one of the two available lettermen.

Moll has but two weeks to whip the team in shape before its first match, which will be held here April 12 with Nebraska. He announced that anyone who is interested in trying out for tennis should report to him at once.

With only two returning veterans, Moll is making no predictions as to the team's chances. LeRoy Butler, the outstanding member of last year's team, did not return to school. Leo Ayers and R. Fritz, sophomores who made numerals as freshmen, are expected to make bids for tennis recognition. Richard Fowler earned a letter two years ago but not last year.

Those who are out for practice are: Hoglund, Fowler, Art Graham, W. W. Young, Wayne Thornbrough, and J. Wallingford.

Reverend Platt Analyzes ROTC Textbooks

The ground usually alleged for the opposition to R. O. T. C. is that it fosters militarism. The defenders of the R. O. T. C. deny the charge, saying that it teaches only good citizenship. Rather than waste time calling names, it will be profitable to observe what the R. O. T. C. considers good citizenship, as revealed in the R. O. T. C. manuals, the student textbooks in the course.
I quote from the 1934 edition of the Basic Manual of the Coast Artillery division, the textbook for the first two compulsory years, and from the 1934 edition of the Advanced Manual for the same division, the textbook for the two optional years of advanced work.

The Basic Manual (pp. 20-21) discusses the fundamentals of state and military policy. Prussia (1) and the United States are cited as good examples of the proper relation of the two policies. It is said that international politics like business, involve making demands on others, and in "plain language, when an individual makes a demand, the probability that his demand will be graciously complied with, is usually influenced in great degree by his power to enforce the demand." Similarly, "the orators at the international tribunals speak with the voices of the guns behind them." The extensive discussion of military history does not once suggest that American policy ever has been, or might be, unjust or not worth the cost of military violence.
In fact the Advanced Manual even approves wars of conquest by implication, in its complaint that through military unpreparedness in the War of 1812 we lost "a splendid opportunity greatly to extend the national domain" (p. 39, cf. Basic, p. 29f.). Thus students are encouraged to accept our foreign policy without question as justified, and to expect military force to be used to back it up.

At present, the Basic Manual assumes that our policy will include the maintenance of international peace. The role of America is thus described:

"In spite of many painful lapses there is evidence that we are making progress in this way. But if we are to make progress it is the great and powerful nations that must lead the way. No weakling was ever a leader. To be a leader one must be wise and strong and brave. If he is also gentle and kindly and unselfish he leads the world to better things. On this continent of North America we have built up the greatest nation of all time. The world looks to America to lead it to happier times. It expects leadership from us and is ready to follow that leadership because we are strong. It is our duty to maintain our strength and to use it wisely, temperately and justly, but also 'firmly' in the interests of peace" (page 30f.).

If this proposal of American domination would be more readily acceptable to the world than the proposal of certain Prussian militarists to treat us all to German 'kultur,' or of certain Japanese militarists to force Japanese culture upon us, I am entirely misinformed about the spirit of the world. That paragraph confirms the opinion of Dr.
George A. Coe and the other more than 3,000 leading educators who signed his anti-R. O. T. C. petition.
They held that the instructors of the R. O. T. C. are untrained for efforts, as witness the following quotation regarding the World War:

"Such warfare is expensive, and in accordance with the law of compensation or equilibrium this fact provides a necessary and effective check"—notice that word
"effective"—"on what threatened"— notice the past tense—"to become an intolerable evil. War is now so expensive that we cannot afford to indulge in it"—what an indulgence!
—"except on very great provocation, especially as under modern conditions war is very apt to be as expensive and almost as disastrous for the victor as for the vanquished.
Thus we perceive the working of the stable law of equilibrium which governs the universe" (Advanced Manual, p. 182).

The War Department has discovered a law of physics which relieves mankind of the necessity of organizing and working for peace, and this law is already in a position to prevent war becoming an intolerable evil. Peace workers and mothers of sons of military age, take notice and calm your fears.
However, the War Department seems to have strange ideas of a tolerable amount of war. Farther down the page we read:

"We have occasion to note, and with some regret the absence in the World War of that 'mobile warfare' which has made the campaigns on the American continent so 'entertaining' to the student of history.

And so the World War in military retrospect seems less 'picturesque' and 'sprightly' than the American Civil War" (Advanced Manual, p. 182, quotes mine).

Keep on stuffing the munitions coffers to increase armaments, and the next war may be as sprightly as Gettysburg and as picturesque as Sherman's March to the Sea, for the text says a little later that the more entertaining type of war might return.

With such blindness to the urgency of international action for peace, and such uncriticalness of American international policy, it is no wonder that the Basic Manual states as the conclusion of its discussion of conscientious objectors, whom it classes among the "superstitious" (p. 16):

"Congress has and will exercise the power to declare war when it sees fit, to compel citizens to render military service, and to tax them to meet the expenses of the war. Such is the law of the land which the good citizen is morally

This article was extracted from an article, "The Military Training Issue," written in "Advance" by Rev. Ferry L. Platt, Jr., minister of the Congregational church, Manhattan. The quotations mentioned do not apply to the basic manual for this year. That book has been reduced to merely a technical manual containing none of the militaristic philosophy. The remainder of Reverend Platt's article will appear in a later issue of the Collegian

teaching international relations and are teaching ideas contrary to those held by the better trained civilian instructors in history and social sciences.

How, then, is peace to be preserved? The R. O. T. C. program is summed up in two planks—big armaments and universal conscription of men in time of war. The first plank is directly in line with the program of the munitions racketers, who are in such close touch with the War Department that it has been reluctant to reveal all the facts to the Nye Investigating Committee. The R. O. T. C. is a branch of the War Department.
The way from the munitions makers to the R. O. T. C. textbooks is quite close, and the propaganda is very similar—no disarmament, no faith in international courts (Basic, p. 21), just more guns and battleships.

The textbooks expect international peace to be achieved by an automatic process without human and all are legally required to obey, regardless of what personal views

they may hold" (p. 17).

That is a direct contradiction to one of the basic principles of Christian morality, as underlined by Protestants at least, ever since the time of John Calvin, "We must obey God rather than men" (Acts 5:29). That is the crux of the conflict between Christianity and the demands of militaristic nationalism. Of course no nation can turn every citizen loose to do as he pleases, letting his conscience be his guide. But the command to perform such a morally questionable act as killing fellow men is one which, under some circumstances, every good citizen is morally required to disobey, and any government, at all concerned about the moral integrity of its individual citizens, will be very hesitant to give such a command regardless of conscience.

A. A. U. swim in Kansas City Saturday took points in several events.
In the men's 200-yard relay won by Tulsa university club in the time of 1:47.7, Kansas State took third, Washburn was second in the event.

Paul Montgomery of Kansas State placed third in the 150-yard back stroke in an event that found a new record of 1:47.3 set by Luadrick Harman of Tulsa. Leslie Mo-Intyre of Tulsa was second.

In the medley relay, Kansas State placed third, with Montgomery swimming back stroke, Capt. Joe Creed free style, and Robert Blanche swimming the breast stroke.

K-State Boxers End Season At N. U. Tonight

WILDCATS WON FIVE OUT OF SIX BOUTS LAST WEEK

Lineup Unchanged

Unless Crawley Takes Irwin's Place Same Men Will Fight as Last Tuesday

The Kansas State boxers will close a successful season tonight when they meet the Cornhuskers in the Nebraska university ring tonight.

In their last two matches, the Wildcats have lost only two fights and these by close decisions. In these two matches, the Kansas State men scored seven knockouts and won four decisions.

Knocked Out 5 Last Week When the Wildcat fighters met the boys from Nebraska in the home ring last week, the outcome was overwhelmingly in favor of the home team. In this match the Kansas State men won three knockouts in the first round and two in the second round, and lost one fight by a close margin.

The Nebraska lineup is unknown yet, and there may have been changes in it which will upset some of the hopes of the Kansas State team.

Crawley May Fight

Coch "Pat" Patterson will take the same men to Lincoln for tonight's battle who fought last week, with the possible exception of substituting John Crawley for Irwin in the 179-pound class. Irwin lost a close decision to Les McDaid in their last meeting. Crawley is a veteran of the team, the last match being the only one he has not taken part in so far this year.

Walt Fechner, who did not fight last week because of the failure of the Nebraskans to bring a heavyweight, will also make the trip to Lincoln.

The Kansas State ringmen are in top condition and all pre-match dope points to another Wildcat victory in tonight's match.

Game Shows An Improved Squad

Spring Football Practice Game Saturday Reveals Good Offense And Defense Work

The second spring football practice game last Saturday afternoon showed a greatly improved squad, both offensively and defensively.

The scrimmage was divided into eight periods of eight minutes each and an extra period of six minutes. In the regulation period the purple team scored 13 points while the red team scored 6. In the six minutes overtime period however, the red team crashed over a second touchdown but failed to make the extra point in an attempted end run.

Flaming scored for the red team in the first quarter of the game on a line plunge. Maurice "Red" Elder scored both of the purple touchdowns after goal line rallies and long marches down the field. Douglas crashed through the line for the red team's second tally.

Both teams while showing more offensive power than last week appeared ragged in blocking and interference running.

Elder turned in some outstanding work in the punting department, getting a 46-yard punt against the wind.

The two teams completed five out of eleven attempted passes and relied largely on running plays and punting for their extra gains.

This, the final week of practice will be devoted largely to offensive blocking and the technique of interference running. Some group work will be done on Duquesne charges and blocks.

Because of the large amount of work to be completed in this last week Coach Fry announced that a scrimmage will probably be held Wednesday afternoon as well as Saturday.

Coch Fry does not hope to have the team in game condition this spring. But by stressing the work this spring more time can be given to physical conditioning of the team next fall in the thirteen practice sessions before the Duquesne game.

"As to the comparison of college and pro football, there is none," Red Grange says. "In college, only the surface of the real game is scratched." Approaching Wes Fry on the subject, we find that he more or less agrees with ball-toter of "galloping ghost" fame. Wes, who played two years with Grange's New York Yankees, will tell you that the pro footballer is much smarter than the average college player for the simple reason that he has many times the experience behind him. According to Wes, when a weak spot appears in a college team, time must be taken to develop a relatively inexperienced player to strengthen the position, while in a pro team there are no weak spots. If the pros need more strength, they go out and buy a player, whom they know is capable of filling the position. Asked if it were true that more of the professionals came from small colleges than large universities, Wes suggested that a look into the roster of the pro league players would show that quite the opposite prevails. It seems that the story of the small-college player, who makes the big pro teams, is emphasized and played-up in much the same manner of the sandlotter, who crashes into the major league baseball circles. Although the paid-players seem to be more lazy to the spectator, they have in reality learned the art of relaxation which is so lacking in the college athlete. As soon as the ball is snapped, the pro goes at top speed until the play has finished, at which time he slumps into a state of relaxation until the ball has been snapped again. Wes will tell you that the common habit of believing a pro team is simply a mechanical machine without any spirit is decidedly in error. He will agree that perhaps it is not so enthusiastically displayed and it may possibly be of a slightly different type, but nevertheless it is there. It has long been a subject of debate as to just how much chance the national college football champs would stand against a good pro team. Personally, I should like to see a game under these conditions, but I fear the pros would have it all their own way.

It looks as if Oklahoma will have a new coach next year in the person of Captain Lawrence "Biff" Jones, a star of West Point a few years back. The Sooners have already asked for the transfer of "Biff" from Louisiana State to the Oklahoma school. As yet, the war department has not made its decision, but the contest has been virtually assured. Jones resigned as head coach at L. S. U. a few months ago after a lengthy dispute with "Hooy" Long concerning the method of coaching. During his year at the southern school, the former Army player met its football team on a higher level than it had ever been before. However, it seems that in one important game the Kingfish thought he would sit on the player's bench, but "Biff" politely asked him to find a seat somewhere else. Undaunted, the Senator from Louisiana decided to give the players a "do-or-die" for dear old Siwash" speech between the halves, but Jones thought better of it and so Long again went out. A few days later, Jones handed in his resignation. The war department enters into the situation because "Biff" was also military instructor at L. S. U. and still has to serve a year in that capacity at some institution. If transferred, it is expected that he will remain there only one year. Lewis Hardage, present coach, and his assistant, Bo Rowland, have a verbal agreement with the athletic board to remain for another year. They were retained in this manner because of plans made by members of last year's Sooners team.

Coch George Edwards of Missouri has been gathering statistics for the last week to take to Chicago with him for the coaches association meeting in an attempt to convince his colleagues that basketball rules be amended to permit larger baskets. In the last week, Tiger athletes have made 16,000 heaves at the basket. Half of them were made from ten different positions on the floor at a regulation size basket, which is 18 inches in diameter. 36 per cent of these shots were made. The other half were directed at a basket 20 inches in diameter. 44 per cent of these split the meshes. All this has Edwards convinced that the game will be speeded up because players will take more and longer shots.

Intramural basketball will be begun tonight as the games last night were postponed on account of the weather. There are two groups in hard baseball and four in playground ball. The grouping for hardball is as follows:

Group I: Alpha Gamma Rho, Phi Sigma Kappa, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, and Theta Xi.

Group II: Aggie Knights, Independents, Miller A. C., and Vets.

Softball groupings are as follows: Group I: Sigma Phi Epsilon, Beta Theta Pi, Acacia, Phi Delta Theta, and Phi Lambda Theta.

Group II: Delta Tau Delta, Farm House, Alpha Kappa Lambda, Phi Kappa, and Architects.

Group III: Pi Kappa Alpha, Alpha Tau Omega, Lambda Chi Alpha, Phi Kappa Tau, and W. F. A. C.

Group IV: Tau Kappa Epsilon, Kappa Sigma, Delta Sigma Phi, Sigma Nu, and Methodist.

The following softball games are scheduled for Tuesday and Wednesday nights: Tuesday, Sigma Phi Epsilon vs. Phi Lambda Theta and Delta Tau Delta vs. Phi Kappa at 4:15; Beta Theta Pi vs. Acacia and Farm House vs. Architects at 5:15; Wednesday, Pi Kappa Alpha vs. Phi Kappa Tau and Tau Kappa Epsilon vs. Sigma Nu at 4:15; Alpha Tau Omega vs. W. F. A. C. and Phi Kappa Sigma vs. Delta Sigma Phi at 5:15.

No hardball games will be played until Friday night.

AT THE VARSITY "Roberta"

Don't miss it! It's the show that everyone should see. It's "Roberta," the picture at the Varsity theater, which started Friday, March 29, for a weeks run. The singing of Irene Dunne, together with the dancing of Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers, will give you your money's worth of entertainment, besides a fashion parade which is eye-filling.

Ginger Rogers teams with the master-hoofers, Fred Astaire, not only in leaps and taps but in humor. She is not always in the rehearsal costume of breeches-boy (the number has a cute tune and patter)—but she had Fred drift back in the refrain of "Lovely to Look At." Fred also does a couple of neat solo numbers in which "I Won't Dance" is his best rendition. The plot concerns a Russian princess who was a shopkeeper, and a football star, who inherited a Paris dress shop. Randolph Scott is the football star and Irene Dunne is the princess who goes into the trade. She has a very regal appearance and her voice is lovely when she sings "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes" and "Lovely to Look At."

Fred Astaire, Randolph's buddy, get off some good comedy and occasionally calls to his assistance a homely gent who plays bass fiddle and speaks in a from-soprano to bass-voice.

The character of Madame Roberta, Randolph's aunt, who dies leaving him the shop is portrayed by Helen Westley.

"Roberta" has its own sort of flash—the flash of a musical fashion parade.

Chapel April 12 Will Be Devoted To Peace Question

MEETING PART OF MOVEMENT
IN WHICH 100,000 STUDENTS ARE EXPECTED TO PARTICIPATE

YM-YW Sponsors

H. T. Hill and Arthur Peine Will Discuss War Problem and Means of Insuring International Peace

In a chapel sponsored by the YMCA and the YWCA at 11 o'clock next Friday, April 12, Kansas State will join colleges all over the United States in seeking an understanding of the causes of war and the means by which international peace may be insured.

According to the tentative program outlined by the sponsoring organizations, Dr. H. T. Hill, head of the public speaking department, and Arthur Peine, manager of the Perry Packing Co. and former professor of history and government at this college, will be the featured speakers. The chapel will be opened by Joe Knappenberger, president of the Student Governing Association. Dedication services led by Winifred Wolf will close the meeting.

The theme of the meeting as announced by the YMCA and the YWCA is: "To present to the student body and the faculty of the college an intelligent approach to the problems of war and to indicate constructive measures that may make for the attainment of world peace."

A National Movement
The action taken at Kansas State is only part of a movement that is national in its aspect. The National Student Federation declares that 41 colleges in every part of the country have already indicated their intentions of participating in the peace movement. It is estimated that over 100,000 college and high school students will engage in anti-war demonstrations April 12.

Every clergyman in America has been asked to speak on the peace movement Sunday according to its leaders. Publicists, educators, and religious leaders are expected to support the movement.

The national movement is being sponsored by student organizations such as the National Council of Methodist Youth, Inter-Seminary Movement (middle Atlantic division), the National Student League, the Student League for Industrial Democracy, the American Youth Congress, and the American League Against War and Fascism. The chapel at this college has no official connection whatever with the national movement.

May Assist In Balloon Flight

PROFESSOR CONRAD ASKED TO HELP WITH STRATOSPHERIC EXPEDITION

Prof. L. E. Conrad, head of the civil engineering department, who is a representative of the U. S. Coast and Geodetic survey, has been asked to cooperate with the survey in connection with a proposed stratosphere balloon flight shortly after the first of June.

The flight is expected to begin from Rapid City, South Dakota and continue to the eastern half of Kansas, approximately 450 miles. In order to check more closely on various stratospheric and atmospheric conditions, the course of the flight is to be checked by ground observations.

Observation posts will be maintained all over the territory which the course will cover. The posts are to be about 30 miles apart and will be made up of two men, one with a transit and the necessary equipment for measuring the elevation, and the other with a short wave receiver for receiving information as to the location of the balloon.

Professor Conrad would have charge of all necessary activities in Kansas. Some 46 posts will be established throughout the flight area.

Debaters Claim Profit System Cause Of War

NYU TEAM DECLARES MUNITIONS INDUSTRIES ONLY PARTLY RESPONSIBLE

No Decision Given

Debate Held in Assembly Tuesday—Pauline Schloesser and Beulah Browning Represent K. S.

Munitions industries grossly overcharge the government, furnish obsolete weapons of defense, and control the national military policy through lobbyists and propaganda, were the charges of K-State co-ed debaters, Pauline Schloesser, and Beulah Browning, in their debate in student assembly Tuesday afternoon on the question "Government Ownership of the Munitions Industry." Mortimer E. Greif and Raymond Fagan of New York university, upheld the negative side of the question.

Must Nationalize All Industry

Mr. Fagan, explaining that his philosophy of the purpose of debate is to get at the truth of a question, frankly admitted that every charge the affirmative speaker had made against the armament manufacturers was true. He said that the munitions makers were merely doing what every other business man must do—make a profit. In an analysis, Mr. Fagan showed that every other industry had part in the causes of war and that if the people of the world really want to abolish the possibilities of future wars, they must nationalize not only the munitions industry, but every business which is run for a profit.

Munition Makers to Blame
Miss Browning came back with the contention that munitions makers were more to blame for the causes of war than other industries since they had a much better chance to reap a profit. She showed that American armament makers have sold war equipment to countries not on friendly terms with the United States and at times, even to enemies. Any nation able to pay the price can buy from them the latest machines for war, patents, and secret formulae. Thus our own country is comparatively weakened. Then the government is envious to purchase more war equipment: battleships, and heavy artillery, instead of airplanes and light cruisers, the weapons which will be of greatest use in the next war. To remedy these evils, it was proposed that the munitions factories be taken over by the government and put directly under the supervision of the army department.

Profit Limit Not Effective
This would make little difference in the motives for war, because all other industries, such as chemical supply houses, cotton growers, wheat farmers, and iron foundries, would still be able to make a profit by selling to the government, declared Mr. Greif of the negative. He said that he was absolutely sincere and

Make Further Plans For K. S. Birthday Event

ALL-SCHOOL FAIR TO EXHIBIT ALL DIVISIONS IS ONE PROJECT

Will Issue Stamp

Would Print Special Stamp In Commemoration Of Event—Much Planning Needed

Plans for a miniature World's Fair, for the publication of Dr. J. T. Willard's history of Kansas State college, for the issuing of a special Diamond Jubilee stamp, and numerous other suggestions to raise funds for the occasion of Kansas State's 75th birthday celebration were explained at the first general meeting of the Diamond committee in recreation center yesterday afternoon.

The committee in charge of planning for and staging the event to take place in 1938 is composed of the presidents of the 100 student organizations on the campus.

Need Much Planning

The magnitude of the event necessitates planning which must be made years in advance, it was explained by Gladys Poole, project chairman of Dynamics, at the meeting. Dynamics, all-school honorary organization, is one of the organizations that has taken the lead in this project.

Miss Poole explained that the fair would last one week during which time all divisions will be in display and every activity will be represented. The Diamond Anniversary stamp would have the shape of a diamond, printed in purple on a white background, with a purple border. It would also have a picture of Anderson hall and the dates 1863-1938. The price would be one-half cent. It would be used on the backs of envelopes as Christmas seals are used.

Other sources of revenue would include semester dues for the representatives on the Diamond committee amounting to fifty cents, a reasonable request for funds from the student-activity fund, limited use of benefit dances or performances and voluntary contributions.

A Student Affair

As yet there has been no official action taken in regard to the publication of Doctor Willard's Diamond Anniversary History but it is planned to make its publication the outstanding event of the year preceding the celebration and to print 10,000 copies.

Miss Poole explained that heretofore all the most important celebrations have been controlled by the faculty but that this would be a student-controlled event.

To facilitate the work of the committee it will be broken up into an Executive council and sub-committees. The council will be composed of the presidents of the S. G. A., Women's Senior Panhellenic, Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., Inter-Society council, Agricultural association, Engineering association, Quill club, Omicron Nu, K Fraternity and Dynamics.

Japan Believes We Have It "In For Her" Says Speaker

By Faye Young

"The Japanese people, as a whole, think that America has it in for them," stated Dr. H. B. Benninghoff, professor in the department of political science, Waseda University Japan in an interview last night. Positive that I must have misunderstood him, I repeated my question. He drew his bushy eyebrows together and repeated his reply. Continuing, he said, "This attitude is caused by America's antagonistic attitude toward Japan. America seems to have singled Japan out to 'pick off.' Right now, maneuvers are being planned to be carried out in the sea in June near Japan."

"Do you think Japan and America will go to war?" I queried, just a bit hesitantly.

"Not unless America attacks Japan!" immediately came the answer. "Then, of course Japan would fight." Speaking of the Japanese student's attitude toward American students, Dr. Benninghoff said, "The Japanese student's attitude is very friendly. More than that—they want to cultivate friendship."

"Japan's attitude toward China is complex," came the answer to my question concerning Japan and China. "Japan is closely related to China culturally but not racially. Culturally, Japan is almost as closely related to China as we are re-

To Hand Down Historic Crook

SENIORS TO PRESENT SYMBOLIC SHEPHERD'S CROOK TO JUNIORS TONIGHT

The historic shepherd's crook, symbolic of authority and adorned with colors of the graduating classes since 1898, will again change hands at the junior-senior prom to be held tonight in the Wareham ballroom.

Bill Stewart, president of the junior class, will receive the crook from the hands of Al Thornbrough, senior class president. Often in the past this emblem of leadership has mysteriously disappeared and has been found in many out-of-the-way places. Once it was found at Washburn college in Topeka. This year the seniors promise to guard the crook with their lives.

Bailey Rose and his orchestra will furnish the music. Bob Young will be the featured vocalist. The prom is informal and the admission will be 75 cents.

AG ECONOMISTS HERE

Kansas State college experiment station workers will be hosts today and tomorrow to agricultural economists from seven states who meet here to discuss research in agricultural adjustment in the hard red winter wheat belt. Representatives from college experiment stations in Nebraska, Colorado, New Mexico, Texas, Oklahoma, Wyoming, and Kansas will attend the meeting.

Dr. W. E. Grimes, head of the department of agricultural economics at Kansas State college, is chairman of the convention.

PROGRAM BY TELEVISION

KSAC, the college radio station, and W9XAK, the television station, will combine their facilities to broadcast and televise simultaneously a program sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. late in April. If the program is successful, there will be a regularly scheduled simultaneous broadcast in the future.

MUSICIANS IN BROADCAST

Miss Alice Jefferson and Miss Clarice Painter, both of the music department, played eight duo-piano numbers over the young people's opportunity hour broadcast, yesterday at 4:30 o'clock.

DOCTOR BENNINGHOFF WILL SPEAK IN STUDENT ASSEMBLY AT 10 O'CLOCK THIS MORNING

A Tour Of World

Topics of International Interest To Be Discussed By Four Men At Numerous Student Meetings

The topic "What Japan Thinks of America" in student assembly this morning at 10 o'clock by Dr. H. B. Benninghoff, professor of political science and associate dean of Waseda university, Japan, starts the three-day Christian World Forum series of lectures starting today and lasting through Sunday.

Dr. Benninghoff has been a member of the faculty of Waseda university for more than twenty-five years. Waseda university is one of the two largest universities on private foundation in Japan. It was founded by Count Okuma, considered as one of Japan's great statesmen, at whose suggestion Doctor Benninghoff, then a Baptist missionary, was asked to become a member of the faculty as a lecturer on Occidental civilization.

From his many contacts with Japanese people, Doctor Benninghoff will present their attitudes and ideas concerning American people to Kansas State students.

The other speakers of Christian World Forum are: the Rev. Carter Harrison, rector of the Episcopal Church, Lawrence; Dr. Lambertus Hekhuis, dean of the department of religious education and philosophy at Wichita university; and Dr. Edward Hislop, superintendent of the Kansas City district of the Methodist church.

Has Traveled Extensively

The Rev. Carter Harrison is student pastor at Kansas university. He has traveled extensively over five continents during the past ten years, spending much time in Europe and the Holy Land. He studied particularly the life and conditions in Europe's south-eastern danger zone.

The Rev. Harrison was formerly student pastor at South Dakota university. He will present his views on international problems in "Outlook for World Peace." "Germany As I Saw It," "Christian America in the World Picture," and others.

Authority on Student Problems
Bill Stewart, president of Voorhees college, Vellore, India for ten years, Doctor Hekhuis is recognized as an authority on student problems. He will address Kansas State students concerning their personal problems. "What College Does to One's Religion," is the subject of one of his talks.

Dr. Edward Hislop will discuss the religious side of life in his talks. He has held pastorates in several college towns such as Greeley, Colorado; Salina and Lawrence. He is now superintendent of the Kansas City district of the Methodist church.

People who wish interviews with the speakers may arrange for them through the Y. W. C. A. office in Anderson.

Y. M. QUARTET TO SING

The Y. M. C. A. quartet will sing at the mass meeting of the local chapter of the Veteran Voters' league to be held Monday, April 8, at 8:30 o'clock, in the Community house. Their program will consist mostly of popular songs. Art Willis, Paul Jackson, Bob Pink and Wilbur Maddy are the members of the quartet.

The Bible College Gospel team will have charge of the College Hill Sunday school services, April 7. Art Willis will have charge of the program, and the Y. M. C. A. quartet will sing.

TEAM TO CONVENTION

Several members of the debate team are attending the Pi Kappa Delta biennial convention and tournament which is being held April 3-6 at Southwestern college, Winfield.

The entries from Kansas State are as follows: Women's extempore speech—Pauline Schloesser and Marjorie Blake; Men's oratory, John Barhydt, and Men's extempore speech, Harold Lortscher. These people left Wednesday noon and will return Sunday.

THE PEACE QUESTION ON THIS CAMPUS

This is the second of a series of two articles taken from an article "The Military Training Issue" written in "Advance" by Perry L. Platt, minister of the Congregational church of Manhattan.

In conclusion, what is the general influence of the R. O. T. C. and its supporters on colleges?
 Some campuses report more interference with freedom of thought and expression than is exercised at Manhattan. No peace speakers have been forbidden on this campus, and it is said that resistance has been offered to pressure demanding that the Student Peace League, which has instigated the fight on the R. O. T. C., be allowed no meeting place on the campus. Civilian instruction in history and social science, so far as I know, is by no means so reactionary as the R. O. T. C. instruction, but the R. O. T. C. course is the only required course for all men touching these subjects. The R. O. T. C. textbooks grant that freedom of discussion should be allowed even to conscientious objectors in peace time. The supporters of the R. O. T. C. are not so generous. Last spring, when the Student Peace League first made itself known, the State American Legion and the Reserve Officers Training Corps Association passed resolutions, demanding the expulsion from the campus of students and instructors who might hold conscientious objections to war service. Several members of the faculty hesitate to assert their opinions on compulsory military training because they are uncertain whether the administration would or could maintain them in their positions if they opposed the military program.

The most notable R. O. T. C. day on the campus is the Armistice Day Celebration, for which the State Commander of the American Legion is the usual speaker and officers from Fort Riley are honored guests. The R. O. T. C. unit is required to attend in a body—the only convocation with any compulsory attendance in the year.
 When the Student Peace League proposed to distribute very moderate and dispassionate peace bills at the door of the chapel after the service, this year, they were earnestly requested by the bad taste, comparable to that of attempting to Administration to forbear from displaying such break up a funeral service. They acceded, and were permitted to mail the bills through the college postoffice the next day. The chapel speaker, Ralph T. O'Neal, past national commander of the American Legion and a member of the Board of Regents, devoted his address not to memorializing the dead, but to an attack on any peace program except that of the American Legion. Opponents of compulsory military training were accused of being tools of communist, so dangerous as to be deprived of constitutional rights. He said:

"Free speech is one thing and we believe in free speech, but it is quite a different thing when a student or citizen goes forth and is used knowingly or unknowingly as an agency to tear down the administration of school affairs, which indirectly is an attack on our national defense act, and which causes a general disturbance and could very possibly bring about civil warfare and revolution" (Quoted in the Manhattan Mercury, No. 12, 1934).

American citizens, sons of the authors of the Declaration of Rights of our Constitution, do you want people deprived of free speech for non-violent and moderate agitation as these students have conducted? Mr. O'Neal and some of the other defenders of the compulsory drill consider Americanism so similar to German Hitlerism that they may that proposal.

The question which Kansas faces is this:
 Will it compel all men students in one of its colleges to be subjected to the propaganda of this group? We have observed that the information in its textbooks on international policy is so incomplete as to be very misleading. We have observed that, on the basis of this very superficial survey, it proposes the munition makers' program of bigger armaments as the sole guarantee of peace without even considering the practical difficulties of armament races. We have seen that it teaches obedience to government regardless of conscience, just as Mussolini does in Italy, or Hitler in Germany. We have seen that the most active defenders of the R. O. T. C. are not even willing to grant freedom of speech to their opponents. Is that such an eminently American program of citizenship training, that men should be denied admission to a tax-supported institution if they refuse to take it?

QUESTIONS TO CONSIDER IN THE PEACE CHAPEL

The decision of the YMCA and the YWCA to sponsor a chapel to discuss the war problem April 12 in conjunction with students all over the United States is one of the most encouraging signs of an awakening interest among the student body of this college in some of the more vital questions of the day.

This chapel offers an opportunity for the students of Kansas State to analyze some of the forces at work in the world that prevent realization of the dream of peace. It is a chance to intelligently approach some of the various arguments of different schools of thought as to why war should constantly recur.

There is a considerable group of thinkers who declare that peace is an impossibility under the present capitalistic system of government. This view was presented by the students from New York university who debated in chapel last Tuesday when they declared that war could never be abolished as long as the profit system exists.
 All of this leads to the significant question—to what extent is capitalism responsible for war, and can war ever be abolished as long as capitalism in its present form exists? Because this question is of such fundamental importance it should certainly be given consideration in the peace chapel.

In nearly every college in the country where the ROTC is offered as a course, determined opo-sition has developed against it. In a good many of the colleges striking against war April 12, anti-ROTC demonstrations will occupy a major part of the program. Even at Kansas State the question has been important enough that the legislature was forced to decide the dispute. The widespread interest in the ROTC and its relationship to the whole peace movement warrants its consideration in the peace chapel.
 It is a concrete campus example of present day militarism that every student in this college has come in contact with.

These questions are inextricably a part of the peace problem. To ignore them is to dodge the real issues.

The Snooper

Could it be that Iris Miller is "Slaughtering" her longing for Dale Gamber?

The department of Journalism is hanging its head over the betrayal suffered at the hands of Barbara Claassen and Gertrude Arnold this last weekend on a press trip. They actually allowed the Glen Elder Sentinel staff to show them "type lice"—which, like left-handed monkey wrenches, are used on every greenhorn in the trade. Dirty water is slushed up from the type into the unsuspecting faces, and we know Prof. Amos must be regretting that he never was able to catch the two unaware.

ATO's are the headaches and hangovers for the current weekend according to the calendar as sent out by Dean Van Zile.

In a book dealing with philosophy in architecture, Louis H. Sullivan insists that an oak must be "true to its acorn" and never try to be a pine tree or a beech. A nutty idea that hit Kansas State long before Sullivan ever wrote his book!

Then there's that Sig Ep who gallantly instructed a feminine voice on the phone the correct technique of stringing a kite. An unsuccessful attempt brought a second appeal. Before the afternoon was over we find the Sig Ep playing kites as joyfully as the femme and the six-year old nephew who inspired it all.

The Sig Alphas have tied down their roof with good hemp rope with the advent of Joe Manzie, former SAE flash, now home for spring vacation from Ann Arbor, Michigan. And coming home from there is time enough—time enough!

Danny Partner always does things in a big way so when he decided Shakespeare, Kents, and the boys needed a little shaking up, here is the lyrical way he did it:

 The dust blew.
 Nevertheless,
 I love you!

It is probably just as well that names aren't chosen to fit personality types. The world would be overrun with Oscars.

Many of our worries are over things which we are too lazy to remedy.

"You have a high courage in the face of adversity and nothing can make you admit defeat"
 one of those weighing-machine fortunes tells us.
 That's nothing, people have told us we were set in our ways before.

A bargain is something you won't need for six months but can get a nickel cheaper now.

We wish that these people who are having conferences to regulate dust storms would next do something about the race question.

You'll always look good to your

In the senate investigation now being conducted by Mr. Nye and others, Bernard Baruch urges that profits of all businesses be limited to about 2 per cent. By doctoring the books, industries could show that they had made little or no profit, as was brought out in the senate investigation in the case of the Bethlehem Steel company. To reduce their apparent profits they

WE ASKED OUTDOOR PEOPLE:

"Is this fact
 important to You?"

"Camels are made from finer, more expensive tobaccos... Turkish and Domestic... than any other popular brand."
 (SIGNED) R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company
 WINSTON-SALEM, NORTH CAROLINA

MILDNESS!

"Every woman prefers a milder cigarette," says Miss Helene Bradshaw, an enthusiastic horsewoman. "Camels are the only cigarette I've ever found that is mild—and pleasing to your throat."

HEALTHY NERVES!

"I've smoked Camels for 14 years, without a sign of upset nerves," says Bill Horn, former Gold Cup winner and outstanding figure in American motorboat racing. "I like Camels and they like me!"

ENERGY! "As a master builder,
 I have learned that any work requiring 'push' just naturally calls for Camels," comments Frazer Forman Peters. "Camels always give me new energy when I'm feeling listless."

FLAVOR! "It's been thrilling to have a part in the vast enterprise of building Boulder Dam," says Edwin Jones, Boulder Dam engineer.
 "Plenty of strain. Many long hours of exhausting work—that's the lot of an engineer on this job! A recent check-up shows that most of us here at Boulder smoke Camels. Man, what a swell flavor Camels have! Mild, cool, mellow! You can tell they are made from choice tobaccos, too, because they don't get 'flat' or tiresome in taste when you smoke a lot."

VALUE! "I've seen how Camels are 'manufactured,'" says Charley Reiden, who runs the big Pritchard ranch in Wyoming. "They are made from costlier tobaccos. No wonder Camels have such a rich, cool flavor!"

Repeat Win Over N. U.

KANSAS STATE BOXERS WIN SIX OUT OF SEVEN BOUTS

Duplicating an earlier victory over Nebraska university, the Kansas State boxing team won six out of seven bouts last Tuesday night in Lincoln.

Les McDonald was the only Nebraska winner, winning a technical knockout over Walt Pechner of Kansas State in the first round. The big Nebraska football player was the only member of his team to score a victory in either of the two matches with Kansas State.

Russell Madison, hard-punching 147-pounder of Kansas State also won a technical knockout in Tuesday's match. Madison came out of his corner, and before the first round was over had McGowan of Nebraska so groggy the fight had Only ten or fifteen unfinished pages remain to be completed on the Royal Purple. It will be ready to go to press probably Monday or Tuesday of next week, according to Spencer Wyant, editor, and will be ready for distribution May 1, as planned.

The staff has ordered a few extra copies and it is still possible to get a Royal Purple by going to the Royal Purple office in Anderson, or seeing Mr. Medlin in Kedzie hall. The extra copies are limited.

The Bull Pen

by
BILL McDANIEL

We heartily agree with McBride, of the Star, when he says that there is considerable house cleaning to do in the Big Six in regards to basketball crowd muckering. Likewise, we are glad to see Coach Allen, of Kansas university, take a healthy crack at "boo-ing" in his report to the national basketball coaches meeting in Chicago, now in progress. The topic has always been one of interest to us and even though the cage season is past, it is still well worth mentioning.

Kansas State has not been one of the principal offenders in the Big Six, yet there seems to be an uncommonly large number of Aggie fans, who flop themselves down upon the bleachers in Nichols Gym with the sole intention of obtaining a fine evening's entertainment by "ragging" the players or the referees. We have been told by several that it is all done as a matter of horse-play. To us, however, such a group of persons could never qualify as bona fide college students, rather they seem more like a bunch of Hill-Billy farmers, who are literally attempting to turn the basketball games of our college into an amateur hog-calling contest.

One sport's writer suggests that: now since the public-at-large has taken the hard-wood game under its wing, it would be much better to take the "boo-ing" with a grain of salt rather than have NO fans. Personally, we believe the "boo-er" is in the minority and that such a person is really more annoying to those around him than to the players. Therefore, would it not be logical to imagine that more persons would attend a game if they did not have to put up with the "razer?"

Coach Allen hits the nail on the head, when he says, "The increasing boo-ing is Public enemy No. 1 to college and high school basketball. No other school sport is subject to such atrocities as basketball." To us it is exasperating to see some fellow, who thinks he is basketball "wise" give a player or referee the "bird" because he seemingly makes a mistake. If this would-be player has some secret misgiving, then please let him keep it to himself. Everybody in town is not going to groan just because he has a pain.

We recognize the fact that rules and codes will not make a sportsman out of a mucker, but it might help to transform his spirit. We repeat the fact that the conference needs cleaning-up, and we can do much by cutting out the rowdism in games here at State.

SPORT SHORTS

Under Professor Gallagher, 17 Oklahoma A. and M. wrestling teams have gone through as many seasons without defeat. . . . eight of these won national championships and more than 40 of his pupils have won national individual titles. . . . Pug Lund, All-American half-back for Minnesota last year, has taken a job in the Ford plant in Minneapolis. . . . John W. Bunn, former assistant basketball coach at Kansas university and now at Stanford, leads the fight for the elimination of the historic tip-off play at the national coaches meeting in Chicago. . . . Luther McVey, a pullman porter, has traveled 58,000 miles with Nebraska university athletic teams. . . . two of the Cornhusker ends next year will be at least six foot-five or better. . . . Coach John Nicholson, of the Notre Dame track team, says, "It will be a long time before another comes along with Jack Torrance's size, weight, and muscular coordination to put the shot any farther than he has." . . . Horton Smith, winner of the first Master's golf tournament last year at Atlanta, Georgia, thinks that host Bobby Jones will be more than just a host during the second tournament, which started yesterday. . . . last season, Bobby was 10 strokes behind Horton to finish in a tie for thirteenth. . . . reports from the enemy camp indicate that the Cornhusker pass-attack next fall will be somewhere near sensational. . . . the thing that has pleased Coach Wes Fry the most during the present spring practice is the hustling attitude shown by all the squad members. . . . "All games should have a beginning fraught with expectancy," so says Dr. Allen. "You might as well start a football game without a kickoff as a basketball game without the tip-off."

WOMEN SWIM I-M START

The first competitive meet of the swimming intramurals was held Monday afternoon. The X-team led in the scoring with a total of 40 points. Alpha Xi Delta placed second with 24 points and Phi Omega Pi third with 22 points. Van Zile and Kappa Delta followed with 20 and 18 points respectively.

Souvenirs for Ladies

"Sure, enjoy yourself," said Jim. "It's a ding good cigarette."

I was working way late at the office one night and ran out of cigarettes. When Jim the watchman came through I tackled him for a smoke.

"Sure," says Jim, and he handed over a pack of Chesterfields. "Go ahead, Mr. Kent, take three or four."

Jim said he'd smoked a lot of cigarettes in his time, but he'd put Chesterfield up in front of any of 'em when it came to taste.

... "and they ain't a bit strong either," is the way Jim put it.

That was the first Chesterfield I ever smoked. And I'm right there with him, too, when he says it's a ding good cigarette.

Nine Thousand Attend World Forum Session

ESTIMATE MADE OF ATTENDANCE AT NUMEROUS MEETINGS IN THREE DAYS

Clash In Europe

Harrison Believes That If Present Rearmament Policy Continues Crisis Will Come

Nine thousand people heard the Christian World Forum speakers at various Manhattan groups Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, according to an estimate given yesterday by Dr. A. A. Holtz, Y. M. C. A. secretary.

Phases of life in Japan, Germany, and India, and personal problems were discussed by the four speakers, Dr. H. B. Benninghoff, professor in the department of political science at Waseda University, Japan; the Rev. Carter Harrison, Rector, Episcopal church, Lawrence; Dr. Lambertus Hekhuis, dean of Wichita University, and Dr. Edward Hilsop, superintendent of the Kansas City Methodist church district.

Beat Us At Own Game
"The Japanese have learned to play our own game and beat us at it," said Doctor Benninghoff, addressing Kansas State students on "East Versus West—A Clash of Attitudes" in assembly Friday.

Japan adopted the policy that the only way to win out in the race of nations was to learn and master their technique. With the imperial edict of 1873, Japan began to adopt western economics and political structures.

In 1889 a constitution was adopted and soon after a legislature of two houses was established, suffrage was given to all the people, and foreign educators were brought in to educate the people. "Now 99 per cent of the people of Japan are literate," Doctor Benninghoff declared. "I have never seen in the 27 years that I have lived there, a boy or girl who could not read or write."

Japanese Are Desperate
"The Japanese people are desperate," said Doctor Benninghoff in summing up the Japanese situation. "Their island, which is about the size of California, is overpopulated and, as yet, they have found no solution to their problem."

Dr. Hekhuis discussed personal problems of the college student, dealing principally with the phase of religion as an active factor in student life.

"Religion must march along with the other achievements of college life," insisted Doctor Hekhuis. "Religion is uncompromising loyalty to the highest."

Must Make Own Decision
Doctor Hekhuis warned his listeners that different creeds have different attitudes toward religion and that the individual must make his own decision between them.

Doctor Hekhuis who was president of Voorhees college, Vellore, India, also talked of life in India.

A new interpretation of Christianity is coming out of India, "the cradle of religion," in the opinion of Doctor Hekhuis. "It is a land worthy of investments of the best that we have."

"Socially, India is like a giant pyramid," he said. On the top are five different castes which form sort of a capstone, and underneath this are 2,400 different layers. The upper class does not associate with members of the lower class.

"Mahatma Gandhi is not a statesman, but an idealist who has captured the fancy of the people of India, according to Doctor Hekhuis, although he spoke highly of Gandhi and his work."

Predicts A Clash
In discussing the situation in Germany, the Reverend Carter Harrison said, "If Europe keeps on as it is now going, sooner or later there will be a serious clash somewhere."

Doctor Harrison stated that he did not consider the rearmament policy of Germany any more dangerous than the armament policies already in force by Great Britain, the United States, and France.

He described the rearmament policy of Hitler as a master stroke, causing all Germany to rally behind him. Hitler has given Germany a magic 'shot in the arm' which is 90 per cent national appeal and 10 per cent economic promises, said the Reverend Harrison.

Doctor Hilsop discussed the religious side of life saying that life may be better compared to a voyage than anything else. "People should be contented with their life and not merely satisfied," he said. (Continued On Page Two)

EXPERIMENT WITH LIGHT

Staff members of the television station have been experimenting with fused quartz cones in order to get a large amount of light through a small hole. The cones act in much the same manner as a funnel, only they are for light. The concentration of light on the aperture has been increased 40 times, producing a much brighter picture than was previously possible.

Purple Team Wins In Final Practice Game

WINS BY SCORE OF 19 TO 18 OVER WHITE TEAM SATURDAY

Prepare For Fall

Smooth Running Attack and Teamwork Shows Squad in Condition To Defend Title

The purple and the white football teams of the Kansas State spring practice squad battled to a 19 to 18 score, Saturday, with the purple team the winners again in the final scrimmage of the season.

The smoothness of the running attack and the coordination and teamwork of the groups proved the squad to be in an advanced stage of preparation for next fall's schedule.

Eighty-two plays was the average for each team in Saturday's regulation contest. The extra speed in getting plays under way was due to Coach Wesley L. Fry's desire to have his team running more plays per game next fall than the 75 average established by last year's championship team.

Score In Five Plays
It took only five plays in the first minute and half of play for the purple team to make a touchdown Saturday. Jim Lander, quarterback, scored on a wide end run from the four yard line following good ball juggling by Ralph Churchill and George Rankin. Captain Dean Griffing plane kicked the extra point.

Rankin went over for the second touchdown of the game a little later in the period on a wide lateral play. Griffing's kick was wide and the quarter ended 13 to 0.

The white-shirted aggregation got under way in the second period and marched to a touchdown from the purple 44-yard line. Maurice (Red) Pider carried the ball across from the two-yard line. J. K. Fleming failed to kick the extra point.

Fleming scored the second counter for the whites before the half ended after Elder and Fred Sims helped him carry the ball from the purple 34-yard line to a spot near the goal line. Griffing's kick was wide.

Lander made the third touchdown for the purples late in the third period after Ted Warren and Lander had lugged the ball from their own 45-yard marker to the six yard line. Griffing's kick was wide.

Fleming's 46-yard dash off tackle after the white's drive from their 20-yard line accounted for the white's third touchdown. Elder's attempt to tie the score by carrying the ball across for the extra point was unsuccessful.

The cold drizzle during the second half made the ball hard to handle and caused slippery footing on the gridiron.

DESCRIBES RESEARCH WORK

The weekly meeting of the Cosmopolitan club was held last Thursday evening in recreation center. Dr. John Parker of the agronomy department spoke on "Research of Students at Cambridge University, England." He told how he had an opportunity to work at Cambridge which he obtained through an international educational board fellowship for two years. His work there concerned plant breeding.

He compared the living and educational conditions and advantages of American and British institutions. Dr. Parker showed lantern slides of the buildings at Cambridge. He gave the full history of the development of the College of Agriculture which started in a two room basement and has now grown to be one of the leading agricultural institutions of the world.

A play "The Maker of Dreams" which was arranged by Dr. Parker was presented at the meeting.

Collegian And Yearbook Boards Are Abolished By Student Council

POSITIONS ON PUBLICATIONS TO BE FILLED BY PUBLICATIONS BOARD

Six Are On Board

Three Students Elected Same Time As Student Council And Three From Faculty Are Members

The old Collegian and Royal Purple boards, which formerly selected the editors and business managers of Royal Purple and the Kansas State Collegian, have been replaced by a new Publications board consisting of three students and three faculty members, according to the recent action taken by the Student Council, and approved by the Faculty Council of Student Affairs and President F. D. Farrell.

Students on the Publications Board at present are Myra Roth, Leland J. Propp, and Eugene Sundgren. The appointments of professors H. W. Davis, E. T. Keith, and C. E. Rogers to the present board are to be continued for the next year by order of President Farrell. Prof. R. I. Thackrey is now serving in place of C. E. Rogers, who is absent on leave and doing publicity work in Washington, D. C.

Student Members Elected
The Student Council originally recommended that student members of the Publications Board be appointed by the Student Council. This was changed by the Faculty Council on Student Affairs. It is now arranged so that student members shall be elected annually by members of the student body in the same manner as Student Council members are elected. The head of the journalism department is chairman of the board, and the other two faculty members are appointed by the president of the college.

"The Publications Board shall have no power to abridge the freedom of the student expression through censorship," it was stated in the joint recommendation of the student and faculty councils, "and no power to authorize the Graduate Assistant to abridge the freedom of the student press."

Appoint Graduate Manager
The board is to appoint a graduate manager "uninterested politically in campus affairs—from another college if necessary" for the Royal Purple and the Collegian.

This graduate manager will approve the selection of business managers. Selections are to be made from the staffs of the publications. His salary will be paid from the funds of the two publications, but is not to be guaranteed by Student Council funds.

The new publications board will take over duties formerly held by the Collegian and Royal Purple boards respectively and the present group will have full authority until a new board is elected.

Aquatic formation, seahorses, butterflies, crystal figures, dolphins, and porpoises, formed with a musical background, will make attractive human pictures.

Diving and racing, with James Gaume as Kansas State college's big fish diver, are to be featured. A mixed medley with two women contestants and the freshmen men's swimming team will be one of the races for honors. Several women divers will compete for the championship of K. S. C. stunt divers.

Teachers To Come

Emporia Teachers College Trackmen Will Engage in Dual With Wildcats Saturday

The outdoor track season officially opens this Saturday for Kansas State when the Emporia Teachers college tracksters come to Manhattan to engage in a dual meet with the Wildcats.

Coach Ward Haylett and his proteges are out to avenge the defeats which the Teachers have administered to the K-Staters for the last two years. According to Coach Haylett, however, Kansas State has little chance for annexing a victory. Last year Emporia won by a score of 74 2-3 points to 59 1-3 points.

Outstanding men of the Teachers include: Crooms, star negro sprinter, who won the 100 yard dash at the K. U. Relays last year; Haring, who placed in the high hurdles at the National Collegiate last year; Rhodes, the Central conference record holder in the half-mile; Sam Romani, the Kansas conference mile champion and who is said to be running this distance under 4:20 at present; Kirkpatrick and Shannon, who have broad-jumped over 23 feet; Dryer, Colton, and Lewis, who have put the shot farther than 43 feet; and Smith, who captured the discus in the meet against Kansas last year.

The meet will start at 2:00 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the college stadium.

STUDENT RECITAL TODAY

Students in the music department will give a recital this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in the auditorium. They are: Eleanor Wellar, piano; Robert Glotzbach, piano; Shirley Ann Sanders, piano; Robert Dawley, violin; Nelta George, voice; Geraldine Lennen, piano; and Naomi Oleen, piano.

Did Kansas State's Peace Movement Fail

It is generally conceded—even by the former members of the late peace club—that the peace movement on this campus totally failed in every objective it set out to accomplish. It is considered that the law passed by the state legislature last fall making the ROTC compulsory at this college, definitely marked the end of the liberal movement at Kansas State in recent history. But before we too hastily accept this opinion as the truth, it might be well to re-examine the history of the peace movement in the light of some of the later developments that have transpired.

As most of you know the peace movement on this campus originated with the formation of the Kansas State League for Peace. Under the leadership of Kenneth Davis, last year's assistant editor of the Collegian, that organization started an intensive educational campaign to focalize student thought on the question of peace. Because the R. O. T. C. is a campus manifestation of militarism that every student at this college, comes in contact with, it was adopted by the peace club as their focal point. A blistering editorial campaign against the ROTC was carried on by Davis in the Collegian. A petition recommending the abolition of compulsory military training for students of Kansas State was circulated and over 1,300 signatures were obtained. Plans were made and funds raised for a drill resistance campaign for this year.

With the start of the first semester last fall, four boys, Raymond McMahon, Russell McNutt, Robert Merrill and Gordon Joltz, refused to take military training basing their objections on conscientious grounds. A temporary injunction was obtained by McMahon, preventing his dismissal from school until the case could be brought up in regular court. This test case was held last January and was financed by such men as Senator Arthur Capper, Nelson Antrim Crawford, Marco Morrow, Dr. Harold Case, Maynard Van Dykes, and other state figures. Ed Rooney, one of Kansas' outstanding lawyers volunteered to try the case without fee. The case was lost but plans were made to appeal it to the state supreme court.

The case of the drill resisters had now become so hot that it was more than the administration of this college and the board of regents cared to handle. In order to avoid the rather embarrassing position of being forced to definitely themselves on the question the regents and the administration asked the state legislature to decide the problem. Thus a moral question demanding intelligent analysis was changed into the mind of state politics. The decision of the legislature is now well-known. The student body of Kansas State is not too well informed on this matter because of the voluminous editorial policy of a college newspaper to learn to even actively oppose the peace movement.

It does seem that the peace movement on this campus has been crushed without having accomplished anything constructive. Yet it brought up an issue that raised serious controversy among the student body on a socially significant question. This in itself is a notable accomplishment in a school so untouched by anything approaching liberalism as Kansas State. This controversy was not confined to the student body but was sufficiently important to reach the state legislature. And the law passed by the legislature making military training compulsory met with such strenuous opposition in its passage that it barely passed both the senate and the house.

The seeds planted by the peace club still survive. Students in general have clarified their opinions concerning the R. O. T. C. whether pro or con. And the whole question of peace still remains before the student body. The fact that Kansas State is devoting a chapel sponsored by the two prominent student organizations, the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. to the question next Friday indicates this. It is true that the program outlined for this chapel is "safe" enough and is hardly likely to produce anything in the way of liberal or radical innovations for our thinking. Yet it is evidence that the peace question is before the student body, and this is directly traceable to the efforts of the peace club.

Liberalism has been a long time coming to this college—buried out in the middle of an ultra-conservative Republican state. Kansas State has lagged disgracefully in its conception of the trends of thought in a changing world. But liberalism is coming. And it would not be too wild a guess to prophesy that the future will see the rebirth and ultimate success of a peace movement now commonly considered dead.

Judging by those walking autograph albums, originally suede jackets, nearly 90 per cent of all the boys coming on the hill at eight o'clock in the morning go to Kansas State college.

(By Helen Millican)

Could those trick falls that Buster "Unlucky-in-love" Brown pulled at the Coffee Shop Saturday night have been a publicity stunt? Perhaps he was right when he informed us that even publicity has its price. Careful "Brownie" anything you say may be used against you.

The Daily Trojan of Southern California says that women are like newspapers because they have forms . . . they are in bold faced type . . . they always have the last word . . . back numbers are not in demand . . . they have a great deal of influence . . . they are well worth looking over . . . you can't believe everything they say . . . if they know anything they usually tell it . . . they carry the news wherever they go . . . they are never afraid to speak their own minds . . . they are much thinner than they used to be . . . every man should have one of his own and not borrow his neighbor's.

Most pathetic sight of the week—Pee Wee Brewster buying ONE hamburger for the band after the varsity Friday night.

Life is just one fool thing after another; love is just two fool things after each other.

The Junior-Senior affair was just a varsity. The usual people were there, with the usual people, doing the usual things and after all it takes the unusual to make news.

Local talent night at the varsity was aided a great deal by the golden voice of Esther Hedges—if only some one had given her a few instructions on how to sing through a mike the boo-ing might have been less.

There's more than one way of being the life of the party. Frank Elaver comes through with a lovely whistle as a noise maker. Maybe he is still celebrating New Year's.

For awhile we thought our eyes had gone bad on us at the A. T. O. party. To see Jay Payne and Jack Wiseman to-gether was just a bit too much. They might be termed the Long and Short of Kansas State. If Jay reaches the five foot mark then Jack must be six foot four.

Nine Thousand Attend World Forum Session

At the last meeting of Christian World Forum, Sunday night at the Congregational church, the Reverend Carter Harrison said, "We must readjust our meaning of patriotism. Heretofore much patriotism has been merely national hysteria. The old idea is that to be a patriot, you must die for your country. What we need today are good, honest, men to 'live' for our country."

"These men must be men who have their eyes on the next generation and not politicians with their eyes on the next election," said the Reverend Harrison.

At the conclusion of his talk, the Reverend Carter Harrison stirred his listeners by an effective dramatization of a personal talk with the rib of a world war soldier buried on the battle fields of France.

AT THE DICKINSON "Mississippi"

Yessir, W. C. Fields cuts right through and steals this show, and "dragging a canoe behind him." It's "Mississippi" playing at the Dickinson this week starting Sunday and running through Wednesday.

King Crosby is starred in this picture about a show-boat on the Mississippi river with W. C. Fields as the Captain. Crosby is from Pennsylvania and somehow gets down south to fall in love with an old southern gentleman's beautiful daughter, but he refuses to fight a duel over the love of the dame, so he is booted out by the old man and the girl too. However, the blond haired little sister, Joan Bennett, highly approves of his peace-loving and crooning nature so she declares her love for him as he is leaving to join the show-boat. He meets her later, and seems to think that she is more grown-up and realizes what a sap he has been to love anyone else but her, etc. etc.

Crosby has side-burns and a waxy blond mustache in this show. He sings two or three songs. However, it's W. C. Fields that you'll simply roll in the aisle over. Joan Bennett is very sweet as usual—she does all right.

Expressiveness

To be effective—to produce results—your printing must be expressive of the nature of your business and also the character of your product or service.

This is the secret of profitable printing—expressiveness—the expressiveness of your printing depends on the training, the talent, and the resourcefulness of the men who produce it. That is worth thinking about the next time you order printing.

8,271 men and women visited the Chesterfield factories during the past year...

A man who visited a Chesterfield factory recently, said: "Now that I have seen Chesterfields made, I understand better than ever why people say Chesterfields are milder and have a better taste."

If you too could visit our factories you could see the clean, airy surroundings; the employees in their spotless uniforms, and the modern cigarette making machinery.

You could notice how carefully each Chesterfield cigarette is inspected and see also how Chesterfields are practically untouched by human hands.

Whenever you happen to be in Richmond, Va., Durham, N. C., or San Francisco, California, we invite you to stop at the Liggett & Myers plants and see how Chesterfields are made.

Pathways of Peace Theme for Assembly At 11 This Morning

CHAPEL HAS NO OFFICIAL CONNECTION WITH DEMONSTRATIONS ON OTHER AMERICAN CAMPUSES

National Movement

At Least 40 Colleges Will Participate in Anti-War Meetings By 100,000 Students Throughout the Country

Although not officially connected with the National Peace "strike" committee the Kansas State college student chapel in the auditorium this morning at 11 o'clock will be an expression against war with "Pathways of Peace" as the theme of the meeting.

Forty-one American colleges, according to the National Student Federation, have already indicated that they will take part in this peace movement. More than 100,000 college and high school students, it is estimated, will convene in anti-war demonstrations today.

The chapel is sponsored by the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. Dr. H. T. Hill, head of the public speaking department, and Arthur Peine, former professor of history and government at this college and now manager of the local Perry Packing Co., will be the speakers.

Many Will Defy Officials
The method of Kansas State college in expressing its desire for peace will differ from that of colleges throughout the U. S. in that this will be a faculty-sponsored meeting while in numerous other colleges "peace strikes" will be held in defiance of the wishes of the college officials and those attending the anti-war demonstrations will cut classes, running the danger of dismissal from school, or rotten eggs and ridicule.

At the same time that Kansas State students meet this morning Kansas university students will be striking in an anti-war demonstration defying the officials of the college who have not sanctioned the strike. Edward Rooney, Topeka attorney, who recently defended two Kansas State students in their protest against the state ruling of compulsory R. O. T. C. training at this college, will be one of the speakers at K. U.

Talk Over Radio Network
Yesterday, on the eve of the strike, two speakers discussed the national student strike against war in a special broadcast over the WABO-Columbia network. They were Joseph P. Lash, editor of the Student Outlook, and Albert Hamilton, chairman of the Student League for Industrial Democracy and chairman of the Social Action committee of the National Council of Methodist Youth.

The chapel will be opened by Joe Knappeneberger, president of the S. G. A. A prelude will be played by the college orchestra. The Y. M. C. A. quartette composed of Arthur Willis, Paul Jackson, Wilbur Madie, and Robert Fink will sing, following which Mr. Peine and Doctor Hill will speak. The meeting will be closed with a prayer by Winifred Wolf.

All Clergymen Asked to Speak
Every clergyman in America has been asked to speak on the peace movement Sunday, according to its leaders. Educators, publicists, and religious leaders are expected to support this nation-wide movement.

The movement is sponsored by student organizations such as the National Student League, the Student League for Industrial Democracy, the American Youth Congress, the National Council of Methodist Youth, the Inter-Seminary Movement (middle Atlantic division), and American League Against War and Fascism.

HOUSEMOTHERS' CLUB ELECTS
The Housemothers' club held election of officers at their regular monthly meeting Thursday at the Chi Omega house. The new officers are Mrs. Ransom Stephens, president, and Mrs. Nina Rhodes, secretary-treasurer. Table decorations were carried out in the Easter theme, and the favors were chicks with nests of Easter eggs.

STUDENTS WORK ON EXHIBIT
An exhibition of the work of Kansas State students in etching and block prints is on display in the La Salle hotel in Kansas City, Mo. About 40 prints were sent down.

PAULINE SCHLOESSER ELECTED PRESIDENT

Pi Kappa Delta, national honorary forensic organization, elected officers at their initiation banquet, Tuesday evening. The following people were elected to office: president, Pauline Schloesser, Miltonvale; vice-president, Albert Worrell, Manhattan; secretary-treasurer, Elton Wann, Manhattan. Speakers included on the program were: Professor C. M. Correll, who discussed the use of words; Dr. J. E. Kammer, Professor Kingsley Given, Miss Schloesser, and John Barhydt. Miss Buelah Brown gave a reading, Charles Moore, the retiring president, was in charge of the meeting.

Library Receives 100 New Volumes On Many Subjects

More than 100 new books touching almost every branch of human knowledge and imagination have been received at the Kansas State college library recently. The majority of these volumes were obtained at the request of various departments in the college.

The books treat subjects from finance to botany—from history to mechanics—electricity to sex—classical fiction to contemporary drama—medicine to law—chemistry to politics. Beauty hints, political optimism, vacation tips, health ideas, charming autobiography, and the pertinent law for home owners are to be found within their covers. The subject matter included in the list contains twenty-eight distinct classifications.

A few of the books with general reader appeal are: "On Our Way" by Franklin D. Roosevelt; "The Best Plays of 1931-1932"; and "The Best Plays of 1933-1934" by Burns Mantle; "The Rocky Mountain Wonderland" by Enos A. Mills—also three other volumes by Mills; "Plain Anne Ellis" by Anne Ellis; "Law for the Home Owner" by John B. Green; "Skin Deep" by M. C. Phillips; and "Food and Health" by Henry C. Sherman.

Included with the more technical books are: "Economics of Clothing and Textiles" by William H. Doolley; "The Social Foundations of Education" by George S. Counts; "The Diffraction of X-Rays and Electrons by Amorphous Solids, Liquids, and Gases" by J. T. Randall; "The Practice of Dietetics" by H. L. Newburgh; "Economic Principles and Problems," revised edition in two volumes, by Walter E. Spahr and others; "Diesel Engine Design" by Harold F. Shepherd; and "The Consequences of the War to Great Britain" by Francis W. Hirst.

Prairie Print Exhibit Now On

Annual Exhibition Is Now On Display in Architecture Gallery of Engineering Building

Etchings, drypoints, aquatints, block prints, wood engravings, colorblock prints, and lithographs are all in the architecture gallery of the engineering building.

This organization was started in Kansas by 10 print makers: C. A. Seward, Charles Capps, Floyd Foltz, Leo Courtney, and William Dickerson of Wichita; Arthur W. Hall and Norma Bassett Hall of Howard, Kan.; Dr. Birger Sandzen of Lindsborg; Marshall Logan of Salina, and Copley of Milwaukee. Prof. John F. Helm, Jr. is also a member.

New members are William Auerbach-Levy, well known for his beautiful portraits and etchings, some of which are to be found in this exhibit. Ivan Summers, whose landscapes will be shown here, Chauncey Ryder, well known painter, and Mary Huntton.

A study of an Indian girl which was among the 50 best American prints of 1934, is among the prints shown in this exhibit. It was done by Del Reid of Stillwater, Okla. The Prairie Print Makers have now become a national instead of a sectional organization, with two members in Canada, and one in Hawaii. Their exhibits have always been a favorite with Manhattan art lovers.

Prof. L. F. Payne, head of the department of poultry husbandry, will speak at the annual meeting of the Kansas poultry and eggs shippers association in Wichita, April 16.

BRAIN EXPERT TO LECTURE TONIGHT

Interest is being shown at the college in the approaching meeting of Sigma Xi at which Dr. K. S. Lashley will give the annual Sigma Xi lecture. According to Dr. J. C. Peterson Dr. Lashley's published experiments have won for him outstanding recognition in the fields of neurology physiology and psychology, and he has made notable contributions to the experimental literature of genetics.

These contributions have been recognized by various universities and scientific societies in which Dr. Lashley holds membership and positions of honor. Only last week the Journal "Science" announced that Dr. Lashley has accepted an appointment as professor of psychology at Harvard university.

For nearly twenty years Dr. Lashley has been making experimental inquiries into the effects of brain lesions on subsequent behavior. His presidential address before the American Psychological Association in 1929 was a presentation of the facts disclosed in these studies. In his lecture Friday evening on the recovery of motor and mental functions after brain injury, Dr. Lashley will bring a wealth of first-hand observations and experiences to bear on this intriguing problem.

Dr. Lashley is also delivering the annual Sigma Xi addresses at the universities of Missouri and Kansas. Following the initiation of new members into Sigma Xi and the annual banquet, the lecture will occur at eight o'clock in Recreation Center. The public is invited to attend.

AG ECONOMISTS HERE

Research in agricultural adjustments, especially in relation to problems of the red winter wheat belt, was discussed Friday and Saturday by agricultural economists in a meeting at Kansas State college. Representatives from college experiment stations in Nebraska, Wyoming, Colorado, Texas, Oklahoma, and New Mexico attended the conference. Dr. W. E. Grimes, head of the department of agricultural economics presided at the meeting.

Honor Willard On Birthday

VICE PRESIDENT TELLS OF PLANS FOR COLLEGE HISTORY AT FORUM

Dr. J. T. Willard, a member of the college faculty for 52 years, was honored on his birthday at student-faculty forum last Tuesday night in recreation center. The forum was devoted to discussing plans for a Diamond Jubilee in 1938 to celebrate the seventy-fifth anniversary of Kansas State college.

A large bouquet of roses was presented to Dr. Willard by members of Dynamis, all school honorary fraternities, who are sponsoring the student-faculty forums.

Frances Aicher gave a report of the sophomore-junior class meeting and the meetings of the committee heads appointed to carry out plans for the celebration. She also discussed celebrations of this kind which have been held at other schools and suggested a number of features for a jubilee here. Some of these were: a pageant of the development of the school, a meeting of the association of land grant colleges here that year and an athletic reunion.

Dr. Willard, who is writing a history of the college from data gathered over the last 50 years, gave a brief resume of what he proposes to do in this history. It is the hope of those sponsoring the jubilee that this book will be ready for publication in time for the celebration.

The history when complete will be an account of the development of each department in the institution rather than a chronological account of the development of the school as a whole. The accumulation of historical facts of the school was begun by Dr. Willard as a hobby and not with the intention of writing a book. It was not until his appointment four years ago as vice-president of the college, that he definitely decided to publish his work.

Susanne Beeson spoke on "Franks of Early Classes." She told of the class fights of the past, of the old custom of attempting—some times successfully—to steal the clapper out of the college bell, and many other pranks of the long ago.

Glenn Farrar gave two violin solos. A list of graduates before 1900 who are residing in Manhattan was read and recognition given to a number of those who were present. The presiding officer was Gladys Poole, student-faculty forum committee chairman.

Waltzing Guinea Pigs Compete With "Jitterers"

Jittering coeds and their mates who with a fast hopping motion marked by little, if any, progress across the floor, make the springy dance floors weave and surge, now have competition from an unexpected source on the campus.

Waltzing guinea pigs are attracting no little attention. The waltzing "pigs" do not have all the spotlight, however, as they must share attention with the tremblers and more recently with the trembler-waltzers, all in the guinea pig family.

Trembling and waltzing pigs were described on the inheritance of nervous defects in guinea pigs, prepared recently by Dr. H. L. Ibsen of the college genetics staff.

Three such types of defects have occurred in the college laboratory during the past 18 years. In no case has any attempt been made to produce them. They are unique in that none of them have been known to occur elsewhere.

Two of the defects, trembling and waltzing, have occurred comparatively recently and are inherited as recessive characters. When tremblers are mated to each other they produce nothing but tremblers. Similarly, waltzers produce nothing but waltzers. In tremblers the entire body shakes throughout the life of the animal. There are brief periods however, when no motion is apparent.

Waltzers are highly excitable and tend to run in circles like the so-called waltzing mice. This continual running wears them down, retarding growth. Nothing is known as to the changes of structure which are responsible for the behavior of either waltzers or tremblers.

When waltzers are mated to tremblers all the offspring are normal. When offspring from the cross are mated, several types of individuals are produced. Besides normals, waltzers and tremblers, there is a new type, a trembler-waltzer which both waltzes and trembles. The trembling interferes so much with the waltzing that these animals are able to make better growth than are those that are only waltzers. When trembler-waltzers are mated to each other all of their off-spring are like themselves.

Congenital palsy, which appeared earlier than the tremblers and waltzers, causes the animal to lack nervous control. With care it can be made to stand but a sudden noise like the clapping of hands causes it to fall on its side in a spasm. These animals die young, hence heredity has to be studied indirectly through normal individuals that have defective offsprings. The defect is inherited as a recessive. There is evidence that the defective animals inherit an abnormally small parathyroid gland, and that the under-secretion from this gland causes palsy.

Student Council Elections Are To Be Held Wednesday April 24 In Rec. Center

PUBLICATION BOARD MEMBERS WILL BE CHOSEN THEN

Petitions Are Due

Must Be Presented To Louise Ratliff By 6 O'Clock Next Wednesday—Expect Hot Fight

The student council elections for this year are to be held in Recreation Center Wednesday, April 24, from 8 to 5 o'clock according to action taken by the student council in a meeting held last Tuesday evening.

At this time three student members will also be elected to the newly created Publications board. This board consisting of three faculty representatives in addition to the student members will appoint the editorial and business staffs of the Collegian and the Royal Purple for the next year.

Petitions Due April 18
Any member of the Student Governing association is eligible to become a candidate for the student council upon the presentation of a petition signed by twenty-five members of the association. These petitions are to be presented to Louise Ratliff, a member of the present student council, not later than 6 o'clock Wednesday evening, April 18.

The student council consists of seven members; five men and two women. Those receiving the highest number of votes will be elected.

Hot Fight Is Prospected
All indications point to an unusually hot fight in the elections this year. The newly organized Independent political party is expected to add the first competition from non-organized groups in some time. At present there is no evidence as to the future political moves of the fraternities and sororities.

For the past eight years the organized houses have completely dominated the student council elections. During this time no student not a member of a fraternity or sorority has been elected to the student council.

BULLETIN OFF PRESS

Kansas State college bulletin number 34, just off the press and ready for distribution, records the results of informal investigations made by the road materials laboratory and Kansas highway commission of proposed methods for making tests on portions of concrete beams from flexure tests.

L. H. Koentzer, assistant professor of applied mechanics, prepared the bulletin for the engineering experiment station of which Dean R. A. Seaton is director. Free copies will be mailed to citizens of the state who direct a request to Dean Seaton.

LOCKARD IS DIRECTOR

Robert I. Lockard, Kansas State graduate of the department of architecture, and former temporary instructor here, is now assistant to the director of the William Rockhill Nelson Gallery of Art in Kansas City, Mo.

Mr. Lockard is exhibiting his water colors with the Society of Independents at New York City, and at the University of Nebraska at Lincoln. The latter exhibit will be shown at Kansas State sometime in May.

New York critics highly commended Mr. Lockard's work at the Independent show.

Skeletons Pre-White In Age

Age of Remains Found at Fairman Dam Estimated By Anthropologist at Chicago University

According to Pay-Cooper Cole, chairman of the department of anthropology at the University of Chicago, the bone and implement fragments found at the Fairman dam site west of Manhattan the first of this year are probably "pre-white" in age.

Samples of beads, pottery fragments, and bones were sent to Chicago by the geology department of the college in an effort to determine the age and culture of these former residents of Riley county. Mr. Cole stated that the pottery fragments appear to be a late phase of the Woodland Basic Culture. But on the other hand the long shell beads and the tubular bone beads are more commonly found in the lower and southern Mississippi sites. The bone awls are found in both. Thus indicating a people who have had contact with both Woodland and Mississippian cultures. The Woodland Culture represents a race that hunted for a living while the Mississippi Culture indicates an agricultural people.

Samples of charcoal sent for an analysis to determine the approximate age of the relics had to be disregarded by dendrochronologists because of the tree ring sequence, with which they would have been compared, for Kansas has not yet been established.

Junior Fulton and James Smith Injured in Automobile Accident North of Walton

Two Kansas State college students, J. W. (Junior) Fulton and James Smith, were injured Saturday afternoon in an automobile accident north of Walton while they were on their way to their homes in Wichita. Both are in the Axtell hospital in Newton. They were unconscious for a time.

Six youths were riding in the car that collided with another coming towards it started to pass an automobile which was parked on the highway. Another boy, Don Smith of Wichita, is in the Newton hospital, and the two occupants of the other car are in a hospital at Peabody.

The parked car left the scene of the accident and as yet no trace had been found of it. Fulton received injuries around the head and shoulders, and James Smith received a deep cut on his forehead by flying glass.

Women Beginning To Enter Public Life In China

"China can no longer be called the sleeping giant—for she is beginning to awaken," said Dr. Lucy Wang, president of Hwa Nan women's college in Foochow, China, in an interview yesterday.

Dr. Wang is small and dark with straight black bobbed hair, presenting an Oriental-American impression, both in dress and manner. She was quiet but became quite enthusiastic when telling of the progress of her country.

Education Increasing
"One indication of this awakening is the new educational movement," said Dr. Wang. "It is called the 'thousand character movement'."

By the old Chinese system of reading and writing, a person with an education equivalent to that of high school should know 5,000 characters. This new vocabulary has only 1,000 characters. Four million adults have been taught to read and write by this simplified system in the last few years," said Dr. Wang enthusiastically. "The second thousand group of characters is being added for the use of professional people."

The new elementary school books in the Chinese language have been simplified. They no longer deal with deep, life philosophies; but are written in order that small children can understand them. Chinese school children must study both the Chinese and the English languages.

Women's Status Improving
Dr. Wang's eyes twinkled as she answered my question concerning the status of women in China thus: "The women of China are entering all walks of life. They are going into business and politics. They are very enthusiastic."

"We have all modern conveniences in China, except in the interior, where they are slowly being introduced. We have cars and airplanes. The cars, however," said Dr. Wang with a little grin, "are mostly Fords."

"There are 200 girls in my college," said Dr. Wang, speaking of her work. Eighty-seven of them are in the college department. There are seven departments in the college. "Our college course is practically the same as yours," stated Dr. Wang proudly.

Dr. Wang was the speaker at a Kappa Phi dinner given for 50 girls Wednesday night by Rev. and Mrs. C. E. Holman. Dr. Wang answered the girls' questions after she finished speaking.

TALKS ON KANSAS ARTISTS

Prof. John F. Helm, Jr., talked to the Twentieth Century Club in Wichita Tuesday on "Kansas Artists." He so conferred with Mr. Seward about the annual meeting of the Kansas State Federation of Art which will be held at Salina, May 4.

TALKS TO HATCHERY GROUP

Prof. L. F. Payne, head of the department of poultry husbandry, spoke yesterday evening to the National Hatchery coordinating committee in Abilene. Other speakers included AAA representatives from Washington, D. C. This meeting was for all hatchery operators of Kansas.

RUNNING EVENTS TO BE REPLACED BY A SERIES OF RELAY RACES

"A Tough Meet"

So Says Coach Haylett As His Indoor Conference Titleholders Start Their Drive For Outdoor Championship

The Kansas State college trackmen will compete against the Emporia Teachers in a series of relays, Saturday afternoon in the college stadium, instead of participating in a dual meet as has been the custom in their four previous meets since Ward Haylett has been track coach for the Wildcats.

Coach Haylett made a special trip to Emporia yesterday, to confer with Frank Welch, the Teachers track mentor, and final arrangements for Saturday's relays were made.

"It will be a tough meet, and that's all I know about it," Coach Haylett said yesterday, as he watched the sturdiest of his men workout inside the east wing of the stadium.

Each Won Two Lost Two
The winners of Saturday's relays will be one up on trackmeet competition between the schools for they have split two and two on the four dual meets previously held.

The entries in the track events listed in the order in which they will be run off beginning at 2 o'clock are as follows:

120-yard high hurdles, Knappeneberger, Stoner, Steele.

2-mile relay, Messick, Eberhart, Dill, O'Reilly.

100-yard dash, Knappeneberger, Jensen, Worrell.

Shuttle hurdle relay, Kirk, Hays, Railback, Steele, Stoner.

440-yard relay, Brubaker, Worrell, Hemphill, Edwards.

1-mile four-man team race, McCole, Messick, Redfield, Robinson.

880-yard relay, Jensen, Worrell, Nixon, Knappeneberger.

Medley relay, Dill, Eberhart, O'Reilly, Wheelock.

1-mile relay, Jensen, Peters, Rooks, Nixon.

Competition in the shot put, high jump, and broad jump, will begin at 2 o'clock. The discus, pole vault, and javelin are scheduled for 2:45 o'clock. The entries in these events are:

Shot put, Bell, Hays, Hemphill.

High jump, Roehman, Harris, Peters.

Broad jump, Edwards, Hemphill, Railback.

Pole vault, Ayers, Hemphill.

Discus, Fanning, Bell, Marsh.

Javelin, Herrman, Hemphill, Bell.

TO RECEIVE ENGRAVING

A beautiful wood engraving, probably of a Kansas scene, will be presented soon to the Friends of Art by Hershall Logan of Salina.

Mr. Logan won the Kansas State Federation of Art prize at the eighth annual American Block Print Show with his "Lovely Farmhouse." This print is shown in the Prairie Print Makers exhibit in the architecture gallery of the engineering building.

The Snooper

(By Helen Millican)

Critics fans of the Sally Rand variety cost, we note, $350 each. No wonder fan dancers insist they are exponents of an art. There's nothing cheap about it!

No tears mark the departure of Ralph "Grandpa" Olin—he's slipped so much that no one noted his absence for two days!

"Fraternity Hears Call" stated Chronicle headlines Thursday. Gamma Phi Delta can explain it was the dean of agriculture if they wish but we know darn well it was Spring, sweet Spring.

How many of the Scabbard and Blade initiates realize that the reason so many are tripping over their nobs is that they are wearing them backwards?

S. C. A. Varsityes are costing stage an extra quarter—the theory being less money for liquor, we suppose. Carrie Nation and Frances E. Willard incarnate!

Would "Car-Seat" Lutz care to explain just why he needs must carry the article from whence cometh his name out of the Simmons apartment Wednesday night? We've heard of using car seats for picnics in the woods (in the Spring tra la) but never in apartments before!

Shirley Temple is vacationing in Hawaii. She would enjoy our Saturday afternoon off just as much and we'd be perfectly willing to be self-sacrificing and trade!

Perhaps Ed Rupp has some explanation of the way in which he acquired the name "Rural" on a recent press trip. We believe an editor took just one look at him. There are a few others of our Aggies, however, who could edge him out of his title in fair competition. Such as Charley Team—or Howard Moren—or Don Charles.

Plea to clothing and art teachers: If you really must have life-size "silhouettes" of your students for costume designing, please keep 'em to home. One little girl found herself in an embarrassing moment (without a Murad at that!) in the Canteen Thursday. A masculine acquaintance carefully unfolded the paper outline and at once began to practice as a wall-paper demonstrator. Need we mention his PiKA affiliations?

It was a sorority president who remarked that the Frog Club water pageant "Fish Tales" got its name, no doubt, from the stories all good housemothers hear about 1:15 on weekend nights.

The latest in engagement presents is to give your love a K sweater. If you have more than one just have one cleaned for her and she's yours. At least this is the unique idea of one of the waiters at the Dorm and his love, a Van Zile girl.

This week the Kappas rate all the jellies. Queer isn't it how all the eligible boys follow the calendar? For those not in know, Saturday night brings the Kappa Party.

Jane Kahl and George Maddox created quite a commotion Sunday when they came into the Palace leading a five year old boy between them. Their explanation was that he was Donald Keeney's nephew.

The chief attraction the Mercury office holds for a great many budding reporters for the Collegian rests in the telephone building. The telephone gals and repairmen lean out to wave and the reporters wave back. And everyone has such a jolly time! It sounds like a Soapy Woodbury idea to us—and is.

Gentle Gest

(By Elma Edwards)

"Since taking her midsemester quiz in chemistry Vacant Vera has given up all hopes of ever getting into Phi Kappa Phi.

A sympathetic listener is one who waits until you are all through laughing at your own joke before he tells his.

Vacant Vera is afraid that some of these people who have been saving for a rainy day won't ever get to spend their money.

We will believe nearly all Kansas drought stories, but we would have to be there in person to believe that the dandelions were killed.

Is it so much easier to leave a thing unsaid than to try to unsay it.

In the spring a young man's fancy just gets a little fancier.

Student Comment

There has been much talk in the last few years about the horrors of war by pacifists. There has also been much talk about the necessity and unavoidability of war by militarists. Yes, and there has even been talk of the benefits of war. Everyone knows that no nation received any financial profit from the last war. Everyone knows that the tremendous loss of life and the horrible tortures the soldiers were subjected to were the worst calamities which ever happened to civilized man.

But, in order not to be too hasty to condemn war on such a basis, think of its supposed benefits. First there is the heroism that armed conflict brings out in men. In days of old, knights fought for their lady's love and honor. They fought for the love of their king, their comrades, and their country. Valor and virtue were benefits of war in the ancient days. The gallant warrior's dress, insignia, and his noble bearing told that he was a prince among men, and that he fought for a righteous cause.

Look at the modern soldier, who might inherit all the noble qualities of his worthy predecessor. Is he a hero? Let's see. Instead of fighting for his lady's honor, he goes to war for fear of what she will think of him if he refuses. Instead of fighting for his king, he fights for some politician who has bull-dozed his way into power. Instead of fighting for his comrades, he fights against another man who is of his own rank and class. The two who should be comrades, fight against each other. And all that is really his to defend in his country is a few memories and a little chattel property which he puts in a rented room.

As for valor; the whole thing is a mechanical slaughter-house. In such an instance, there is no place for virtue and valor. The only place the soldier could show the heroism of the knight is in the hand to hand conflict of bayonet fighting. "Manual of Military Training," by Moss and Lang, Vol. 1 furnishes a few lines which disprove the fairness of this mode of warfare. "In all bayonet disarming tactics—remember to drive the knee to the crotch whenever an opportunity offers." (p. 24) And, "A butt stroke or kick will only temporarily disable an enemy, who must be immediately killed with the bayonet." (p. 21)

Truly war as practiced is 'virtueless, a thing of horror to be abolished. But Kansas State students have refused to accept the organized local movements against war, the purely pacifist movement.

Perhaps the reason is this. No matter how uneconomical and how brutal war may be, there are certain ideals and certain conditions which would demand armed conflict. Then the only question to be settled is what circumstances warrant military action. What stake would repay the soldier for his sacrifice? For the answer, consider the commandment of a prominent class of social reformers: "Thou shalt fight no war except the class war."

There probably will be another war, and if there is, stop to consider what you are fighting for. You will have a chance to fight for a just cause. You can fight to abolish the economic system which fosters national hatreds, the system which permits immense profits to be gathered from the mass murder of humanity. When such a cause triumphs, then and not till then the world will be freed of the barbarous burden of war. Don't be fooled by lies about a "War to end war," but fight to end the inconsistencies of an antiquated economic order—the only way to really end war.—Harold Rea.

KANSAS STATE RIFLE TEAM WINS A PAIR

The Kansas State rifle team defeated the rifle team of Johns Hopkins university, Baltimore, Maryland, by a score of 1381 to 1141, and the team from Davidson college at Davidson, N. Carolina by a score of 1381 to 1360, in postal matches fired last week.

Word has also been received that the team placed tenth in the Hearst Trophy match in which 36 teams completed.

This completes the firing of postal matches with the exception of the national match. Because the Kansas State team placed third in the seventh corps area match it was selected to fire in the national match. These targets are being fired now.

Will Speed Up Offensive Play

Motion Picture Used to Eliminate Time Wasting By Players

"If we are able to throw plays at our opponents next fall so fast that they can't stand up under the pressure, then and then only will we have any chance of retaining our Big Six title," stated Coach Wes Fry yesterday.

During the entire spring practice, Coach Fry has laid particular stress on the speeding up of the offense. He is definitely planning to use at least two or possibly three teams next season in order to gain his objective.

Throughout the last few weeks of practices, motion pictures have aided Coach Wes in picking out the faults practiced by each player that increases the amount of wasted time. A player, who is slow in returning to the huddle, or a quarterback, who is slow in calling signals may be a bit dubious when Fry tells him of his fault. However, that same player cannot reject the facts as recorded by the "movies," and Coach Fry realized this when he employed the camera to help him in his fight against wasted time.

Another time-waster, which the K-State mentor is attempting to cure, is the idea carried by some of the players that there must be 11 signal callers in the huddle in order to have a "crackerjack" team. Wes has absolutely forbidden any player to make a suggestion to the quarterback, who in times of stress will make a welcome grab at the first play offered by a teammate.

"Statistics show," quoted Coach Fry, "that the actual playing time in the average football game does not exceed 10 or 15 minutes." With the game speeded as Wes proposes, a player will now get in as much playing in one quarter as he formerly got in three quarters. He hopes to increase the actual playing time more than 50 per cent.

The head man at State does not entertain the idea of "shock troops" in which there is always a 'first' team on the squad. Rather he wishes to have two or three teams of nearly-equal strength ready to put on the field at any time he sees fit.

The Wildest coach pointed out the fact that it would be quite impossible to pick out the four best backs on the squad and develop one strong backfield, but that he believed it was better in the long run to place them in different combinations and have four equally good backfields.

anything when I heard the roar from the crowd around the green. When that wild howl went up, I felt for just a second like crying."

In a dual tennis meet last week, the Sooner net team played a total of nine matches, instead of the usual six. Coach John Moseley believes this is a good plan to follow as it interests more men in tennis, develops more material for future seasons, and does away with the 'star' system where a school with one or two crack players can dominate a dual or conference meet. This method would be more representative of a school's strength in the sport and the school with the best balanced team would win. The Oklahoma mentor does not claim credit for introducing the nine-match plan, which although new to this country Oxford University has always used it.

Among the hundreds of sure scoring plays submitted by Michigan supporters to Coach Harry Kipke last fall was one from an admirer in Texas, "Have your left end block the opposing right tackle and so on down the line, each Michigan man being responsible for taking out one opponent. If you can block 10 adversaries out of the play, that leaves only one man to tackle the ball-carrier, and if the ball-carrier cannot dodge one man, what the Hell have you got him in there for anyway?"

SPORT SHORTS

George Anderson, University of California sprint flash, always gets off and talks to himself before a race . . . "We put up a fight. It took the U. S. Army to put us out," says Bo Rowland and Lewie Hardage, former Sooner's football coaches . . . according to the student religious survey just released at Notre Dame, football ranks eleventh as a diversion or entertainment . . . movies are the favorite campus recreation, then comes walking, reading, conversation, sports in general, swimming, golf, tennis, handball, baseball, and football . . . "It was the greatest thrill I've ever known in golf, or ever expect to get again," says Gene Sarazen . . . Kansas State is going to be represented in practically every event of the Kansas Relays . . . Dave Schroeder, a student at K-State last year, is entering the decathlon competition at the coming relays . . . catchers seem to be the most versatile baseball players at Iowa State this spring . . . at least four boys, who caught on their high school nines, are now playing infield positions for the Cyclones.

Tennis Season Opens Saturday

HOGIUND, FOWLER, YOUNG AND THORNBROUGH IN K-STATE LINEUP

Kansas State racket men will open the tennis season against the Nebraska university team tomorrow at two o'clock.

Although the exact strength and personnel of the Nebraska team will be unknown until tomorrow, they are reported to have three veterans in their lineup. They are Shaffer, Paden, and Dean, who should make it tough going for the Wildcats.

Weather conditions have driven the Kansas State men into the gymnasium for practice. They practiced there last night, and if the wind and rain continue they will hold practice there again to-night. Even though practicing conditions have been bad the last week, all of the court men appear to be in the top of condition. Tomorrow's spectators should see a hotly contested match.

Captain Garland Hoglund, Dick Fowler, Wayne Young, and Wayne Thornbrough will make up the Kansas State team for tomorrow's matches. Hoglund and Young, and Fowler and Thornbrough will be

Team Needs Work

Baseball Practice Sessions Have Been Cut Short By Unfavorable Weather Conditions

With the first games of the season scheduled with Missouri at Columbia April 16 and 17, the Kansas State baseball team still needs two weeks' practice according to Coach Wes Fry, who took over the baseball squad this week.

The squad has had only one day outdoors since Fry has been in charge. In spite of the cold weather a practice game was held Monday. Workouts were held in Nichols Gymnasium on Tuesday and Thursday, but the dust storm prevented practice Wednesday.

"There is not a pitcher on the squad who has gone five innings in one game this spring," said Fry in discussing the team's condition. "There are only five pitchers available and we may have to use all of them against Missouri."

Fry hopes to have practice games both today and tomorrow. He is satisfied with the work of Winchester and Underwood at third but is undecided on the remaining positions. Lutz has been working at second with Springer at short. Van Sant, who has hit well in practice is being tried in the outfield.

For the practice games the squad will probably be divided with Van Sant, Asbill, and Spencer in the outfield; Winchester, Lutz, Springer, and Underwood in the infield; Jessup catching and Abbott pitching, for one team, and Myers, Henry, Somers in the outfield; Decker, Johnson, Jenkins and, Stevens in the infield, and Stuckey receiving with Cooley pitching, for the other team.

Games Postponed

Weather Has Prevented Intramural Baseball From Being Played This Week

Rain, dust, and cold have combined to cause postponement of all intramural baseball games scheduled so far this week except those played on Monday night in which Sigma Phi Epsilon, Beta Theta Pi, and Delta Tau Delta each won their second victory in as many games. Only one night of hard baseball has been played because of postponements.

Baseball Team Begins Season At Missouri

ARRIVED AT M. U. LAST NIGHT FOR GAMES TODAY AND TOMORROW

Coach Fry Hopeful

Says Team "Looked Better In Last Practice"—Beyers Will Start On Mound

Aggie diamond men, 16 strong, slipped into Columbia last night to open their baseball campaign today and tomorrow with the Missouri Tigers their first foes.

The team left by bus yesterday afternoon after a light hitting and fielding drill on the college diamond.

Coach Wes Fry remarked that the boys "looked better" in their practice games Friday and Saturday, when weather conditions were favorable for the first time since the football mentor took over the baseball squad.

Batters in Condition
Both teams showed a real punch in Saturday's tilt as they pounded out a total of 30 hits, including homers by Captain Bill Asbill and C. W. Meyers. "Lefty" Beyer and D. K. Henry had a perfect day at bat with three and four hits respectively.

Fry announced that he had tentatively chosen Beyers to start on mound this afternoon. He said, however, that he will wait until he has watched the men warm up before the game to make his final selection.

According to Fry, the team will line up for the first game in the following batting order: Lutz 2b; Asbill cf; Wierenga lf; Underwood 3b; Jessup c; Van Sant rf; Winchester ss; Springer ss; Beyer p. Other men making the trip are: Abbott, Cooley, and Scott, pitchers; Henry and Myers, outfielders; and Stevens an infielder.

K. U. Strike Is Quiet; Others More Violent

PEACEFUL MEETING AT LAWRENCE—JEERING AND HECKLING AT OTHERS

Many Near Riots

Fist Fights Narrowly Averted at Ohio—Denounce Militarism, Fascism, Roosevelt, Hitler, Long

Although some trouble was expected to occur during the "peace strike" held by Kansas university students Friday, the whole affair passed off quietly and orderly, according to dispatches from the University. At other colleges over the country the meetings were not so peaceful, as much rioting and heckling took place.

The K. U. speakers were all students who cut classes to ask the gathering of 700 students to take a stand against war, work for peace, and berate the munitions makers. All speakers denied any communistic feelings.

In direct contrast, the meeting at Ohio State was marked by jeers directed at the speakers as members of the National Student League and R. O. T. C. students tried to drown out the attempts of each other speakers. Fist fights were narrowly averted.

A dramatic moment occurred when one peace speaker forcefully reminded a heckler that he was laughing at a time when his life was in danger from war.

Little concern was shown for the movement at Oklahoma university and no meetings were held.

Wellesley College (Mass.) took a stand for world peace in a big peace assembly held under the sanction of school officials.

At Salina the student body of Kansas Wesleyan cut classes for one hour to participate in the strike against war. Russell McNutt of Topeka, a Kansas State college drill master and a member of the regional council of the student Y. M. C. A. was the principal speaker. McNutt vigorously denounced the students to make a stand now in preparation for a future war.

Students at Southwestern in Winfield assembled in a very quiet demonstration to hear addresses by ministers and students.

A model of a cemetery studded with white crosses was shown to students at the University of Louisville, the swastika was burned at the University of Colorado, and 3,000 students at the University of Minnesota heard Gov. F. R. Olson declare that no government had the right to require citizens to bear arms in aggressive warfare.

War Subject Of Assembly

HILL, PEINE PRESENT "INTELLIGENT AND PEACEFUL" APPROACH TO PROBLEM

"To defend the nation against war, rather than by war," was the object of the assembly program April 12, sponsored by the college Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. Arthur F. Peine, Dr. Howard T. Hill, head of the public speaking department, and Winifred Wolf, former president of the Y. W., were the speakers.

This "intelligent and peaceful" approach to the problem of war was favored by the organizations over the radical war strikes which were staged by students in many schools throughout the country. Legionnaires who criticized the University of Kansas Peace Strike pointed to the K-State program as a better way to handle the situation.

A breakdown of our intense economic nationalism and the development of common sense among people in regard to our national honor were points cited by Mr. Peine as necessary for the establishment of an enduring peace. He stated that we must re-define patriotism and religion which in the past have contributed greatly to our being involved in imperialist wars.

Dr. Hill urged that every student keep an open mind and liberal attitude toward solution of the war problem. Education of world common sense and use of normal selfishness were his suggestions to maintain world peace.

"The war system is our real enemy, and we should dedicate ourselves to work against it," Miss Wolf quoted from an address given to youth by Harry Emerson Fosdick.

PETITIONS DUE

Petitions of candidates for the Student Council and the Publications Board must be presented to Louise Ratliff before 6 o'clock Wednesday, April 17. Each petition must have at least twenty-five signers. Each student may sign only one student council petition and one publications board petition.

TOM WHERRY REPRESENTING PARTY ENTERS A PROTEST TO STUDENT AND FACULTY COUNCILS DECLARING S. G. A. CONSTITUTION VIOLATED WHEN ELECTION DATE SET

Admit Move Unlawful

However Councils Declare Present Constitution Obsolete and Precedent Justifies Action—Election Dates Given Less Than Two Days For Student Body to Get Acquainted with Candidates—Discussion and Questioning Done Chiefly by Faculty

A written protest charging the Student Council with having violated the constitution of the Student Governing Association in setting the date for the student council election was presented at a joint meeting of the student and faculty councils yesterday by Tom Wherry, chairman of the executive council of the Independent Political Party. Wherry's request that the date of the election be postponed was unanimously refused by the councils.

The protest named specific instances where the actions of the Student council were not compatible with the constitution. The protest reads:

"Declare Action Illegal
"The Executive Council of the Independent Political Party protests the action of the Student Council in setting the date of April 24 for the coming S. G. A. elections for the following reasons:
"1. The action is illegal.

"The Student Council is not given the power by the Constitution of the Students' Governing Association to set the date for the above mentioned election. Article 3 section 2 specifically states that the Students' Governing Association in regular meeting shall arrange the time of the election. The Student Council and the Students' Governing Association are not the same and cannot be so construed according to Article 1 sections 1 and 2.

Two Days For Campaign
"Furthermore, the petitions of the nominee were not presented at the above mentioned regular business meeting as should be done according to Article 3 section 2 and Article 5 section 2. Furthermore, the Student Council did not act in accordance with Article 2 section 4 which states 'Notice of all regular and called meetings shall be published in the Collegian at least one week before the date of the meeting.'

"2. The action is unfair to the students.
"Inasmuch as the approval of petitions of nominees cannot take place before Wednesday evening April 17, and that the election comes on April 24 with Easter holidays intervening; there will be only two school days in which the students can become acquainted with the candidates. The students cannot find out the qualifications of the candidates and decide which are best fitted for the offices in so short a time.

"Uphold Student Council Action
The protest was read at the meeting of the councils and Wherry was extensively quizzed. Then a vote was taken. It was unanimously decided to uphold the previous action of the Student Council in setting the election date.

After the meeting of the councils Knappenger president of the Student Council refused to make any statement whatever for publication other than declaring that "I am in favor of the recommendation as passed by the student and faculty councils". Dean Mary P. Van Zile who presided at the meeting also refused to comment.

Constitution Out-of-date
Tom Wherry when interviewed after the meeting stated "Nearly everyone present at the meeting admitted that the action of the student council was a direct violation of the constitution. They defended themselves however, with the argument that the constitution was obsolete and that precedent justified their actions. It seems to me that if the constitution is obsolete, as it most certainly seems to be, it is the duty of the student council to bring it up to date."

When asked what else had taken place at the meeting Wherry replied, "I explained that since the students would have less than two days to get acquainted with the candidates for the student council the action of the student council was purely a political move to keep the fraternities in power. The Greeks are already well organized."

Make Staff Change
Publications Board Abolishes Office of Secretary-Treasurer For The Royal Purple

Next year's staff of the Royal Purple will have an editor and business manager but no secretary-treasurer it was decided at a meeting of the Publications board yesterday. The abolishment of the position of secretary-treasurer is the only change in the staff itself.

According to a recent ruling of the Student Council, Faculty Council and President Farrell the two positions on the staff of the yearbook are no longer elective offices but will be filled by the Publications board. A meeting of the board will be held in the near future to elect students to the Royal Purple staff. Several applications have already been received. All applications are to be sent to Prof. E. T. Keith, chairman of the board, by Thursday.

ENGINEERS TO LAWRENCE

Prof. R. E. Kioeffler, E. L. Sitz, L. C. Paslay, and Fred Schumann, all of the electrical engineering department, accompanied by 21 members of the student branch of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers went to Lawrence Thursday to attend a joint meeting with a similar branch of the society at the University of Kansas. They visited the radio station in the afternoon and in the evening, papers were presented and movies of interest to electrical engineering students were reviewed.

KANSAS STATE'S POLITICAL MACHINE

The Student Council definitely proved itself to be a tool of a small political bloc yesterday when it refused to postpone the student council elections after members of the student council admitted that their action in determining the election to be in direct violation of the constitution.

The constitution of the student governing association, specifically states that plans for student council elections are to be made at a meeting of the student governing association (not the student council) to be held the second week in April. Notice of the meeting is to be given in the Collegian one week in advance.

The above requirements were not complied with. The election date was determined by a meeting of the Student Council last Tuesday. The president of the Student Council refused to give any information whatever to interested persons as to the time of the election before the meeting.

The Student Council defended their action saying that the present constitution is obsolete. If this is true any student could justly protest the payment of the Student activity fee. If the constitution is obsolete then it is the duty of the Student Council to revise it and bring it up to date. No attempt has been made to do this.

In addition to the above the Student Council made no attempt to give publicity to the creation of the new Publications Board which will select the editors and business managers of the Royal Purple and the Collegian. Their reason is obvious. Three students are to be elected to this board from the student body. It would be politically advantageous for those in power if this was kept quiet.

Three students were appointed by the Student Council to serve on the Publications Board after its creation. Although legally the Board has no power until after May 15, an attempt was made recently to have that Board appoint the editor and business manager of the Royal Purple before that time. If the Board waits until after May 15 a new set of student representatives will have been chosen in the coming elections. Again their reason for not living up to the laws they themselves make is obvious. The bloc in power wishes to appoint their own representatives to the staff positions of the yearbook.

The Student Council and the Faculty Council also refused the Collegian the right to have a reporter at their joint meeting held yesterday. Why should not the Collegian be allowed the right to bring the proceedings of the student lawmaking bodies to the public?

The student council members were elected as representatives of a bloc of fraternities and sororities. There were two such blocs in last year's election. The total membership of the fraternities and sororities is less than one-third of the population of the school. Thus the present student council is representative of one-sixth of the student body.

More than reasonable grounds that last year's student council election was dishonestly conducted have been presented by the Collegian. There is sufficient evidence that the Student Council represents not the student body as a whole but a small clique.

It is time that the student body realizes the deplorable condition of the political situation at Kansas State and takes steps to place it on a plane that reflects favorably to the college as a whole.

Gentle Gests

(By Elma Edwards)

Vacant Vera—"I guess it is just the Mrs. Roosevelt in me, but I like to go places and do things."

Famous last words—"Didn't I meet you at the dime dance?"

Advancement of civilization note—On April 12 when students the country over were talking peace Scabbard and Blade with their unerring sense of the fitness of things paraded their initiates around the campus in the regulation drill clothes.

Vacant Vera didn't hear the fire whistle the other night because the person sitting next to her at dinner was eating celery.

Some people seem to have the theory that the harder one slams the cards on the table the more they count.

The Snooper

Were we glad that Dexter gave us Millican's by-line last time after the lads of dear old Mortar and Ball got on her neck for referring to them as the initiates of Scabbard and Blade (scummy was their adjective)! They were just a bit messy we understand, although Joyce Simmons got a big kick out of being their "Queen"—beauty or popularity an unknown factor.

Pee Wee and all the lads blacked up Friday night to "brass" a Varsity. The Snake Dancer may have gotten a few faces as red as her dress but Thaine Williams shined up Dean McNeal in great style from which vantage point they both enjoyed the floor show as much as the ATO's over on the east side.

Max Burk has an equal chance at last—a Plymouth coupe, a graduation gift, is the opening wedge. Goodluck, Max!

Then there's Mary Danner's idea of hot stuff—after vainly trying to follow the GREAT Dexter's intricate jiggling she sat her down in the middle of the dance floor at the Kappa Kaper for a time-out. Dexter figured he was such a devil with the women that someone might misunderstand so he stayed on his feet.

The Farm House had over all their favorite profs for a good old apple-polish Saturday night. A few alumni of the Glenn Fox school gave it the air of a Spring formal—the more air the better.

Our idea of optimism (plainness to us oldsters!) is a baseball game in a dust storm. Wassberg maintains that a high wind—say 60 or 70 miles per hour—just helps his pitches "break" right. The only reason he isn't on the college team is, no doubt, his desire not to embarrass the rest of the pitchers.

This weekend we got a good look at KU in its tux and formal mood. The stags came in assorted sizes but only two kinds got as far as the dance—those of seven feet in stature and the four-foot guys. When the former dance with you both trip over the runs and when a "shorty" claims you, the tall ones swoop by to kick you in the chin. Maybe us farmer folk up here at Manhattan aren't so bad after all!

The Kappas are reported much disgusted at one rushee this weekend who insisted on listening to a serenading group who were having the ill-bred taste to sing Pi Phi and Chi O songs all over the Kappa backyard.

"Madam Z," current girl-friend to the band, initiates a new spring style at Varsity with a stiff-brimmed straw hat and white flats. It is expected to remain an individualistic style!

Sports editors take note: Joe McNay, former K fraternity president and more lately starring under the management of "Blondie" Jean Johnson, now "pigtailed" for the tennis team. In reality, he seems much more at ease than he has for a long time.

PIKA's and Betas both report initiations Sunday night. The beer-battered Betas admit severe drowsiness during the ceremonies but the properly-pickled PIKA's almost had to start all over again when one of the brothers began a "shoutin' revival" in the middle of the solemnities.

That K-sweater idea for the best girl-friend (as introduced by the Van Zile gal and her water-boy lover) brought the lad in the case so much razzing from the demimure gurgles after Millican's mention of the fact that he resigned from his job in favor of his brother. True love just CAN'T run smooth!

Bad eggs: We have heard of henfruit blowing up if left alone too long but getting hysterics when "stood up" is a new wrinkle in the social system as sponsored by Eleanor May Jett.

We'd like to know: Why Dean Van Zile saw fit to change the hours of the PIKA party from a ten o'clock start to a 9 o'clock beginning. (No one'll get there before ten anyway.) Why the Student Council, which is the Student Governing Association to most of the campus, was a bit disgruntled over the inability of the Independents to swallow a few technicalities on the date of the coming election. Why the fourteen-weeks quizzes MUST follow Easter. If the Deltas still pull down A's in the Cornelia Crittenden classes. If anyone ever reads this far down. Where people got the idea that white shoes were sartorially smart when the temperature had the fur coats in action.

...says Tokyo

Translating the symbols, the Tokyo telephone operator says, "The connection is made—go ahead, please." Meaning that now you can talk to Japan from any telephone in the Bell System.

Interestingly, Japanese was the first foreign language ever transmitted by telephone—when in the winter of 1876-77 three Japanese students at Harvard visited Alexander Graham Bell in Boston. These men have lived to see the day when they can talk with Boston from their homeland!

Seeking to put the whole world on such easy speaking terms, Bell System service now enables you to reach more than 93% of the world's 33,000,000 telephones.

Emporia Beats K. S. In Track, Field Events

WINS CLOSELY CONTESTED MEET BY SCORE OF 68 2-3 TO 59 1-3

Four Field Firsts

Wins in Javelin, Pole Vault, Discus and High Jump Offset Yellow-Jackets' Sprint Victories

The Kansas State track team lost in dual competition for the first time this season when the Emporia Teachers won a 68 2-3 to 59 1-3 victory in the relays run Saturday on the Memorial stadium track. The winner of the meet was not decided until the mile relay, the final event of the afternoon, was finished. Had the Wildcats taken this race they would have won the meet 2-3 of a point.

The Wildcat team despite its defeat turned in the best balanced set of results of the season. Firsts in the field events picked up points to offset the sprint wins of the Yellowjackets, and the distance men performed up to their usual standard. The showing made in the field was particularly encouraging to Coach Ward Haylett. Fanning's first in the discus and Herrmann's winning toss of the javelin combined with the first place tie of Roehman and Harris in the high jump and Ayers' first in the pole vault kept the Wildcats very much in the scoring.

Robinson Wins Mile

The Kansas State entries won an easy victory in the four-man one-mile team race when Charles Robinson, H. E. Redfield and George McCollm finished first, second and third, respectively. Ray Messick came in close to Bantz, who placed fourth, to clinch the race.

Joe Knappenberger, ace hurdler, won the 120-yard by a four yard lead. The anticipated battle between Knappenberger and Lee Haring, widely touted hurdler from Emporia, failed to materialize. Haring dropped back to fourth place after Knappenberger gained a substantial lead early in the race.

The time turned in for the mile relay by Mack, Rhoads, Bridges, and Crooms of Emporia set a new record for the track here in that event. The 880-yard relay saw the Yellow-jacket sprint men pressed to a close finish after Knappenberger picked up some ten yards on Hold-

Emporia Disqualified

Emporia was disqualified in the medley relay when Brigham cut in on Dill in the quarter mile race. The Wildcats won the event anyway, but the foul kept the Yellow-jackets from getting three points for second place.

The meet was a special relay tournament patterned after the program of the Kansas Relays carnival to be held at Lawrence, Saturday. Coach Haylett will hold try-outs this afternoon to select men to make the trip to Lawrence. He expects to enter a full-strength squad in the Relays. The track team's weakness at the present time is in the middle distances.

The results for the Kansas State-Emporia Teachers relays are as follows:

120-yard high hurdles—Knappenberger, Kansas State, first; Brigham, Emporia, second; DeMott, Emporia, third. Time :15.2.

Two mile relay—Emporia, first (Mack, San Romani, Rhoads, Bridges); Kansas State, second. Time 7:53.5.

100-yard dash—Crooms, Emporia, first; Knappenberger, Kansas State, second; Jensen, Kansas State, and Holder, Emporia, tied for third. Time :10.2.

Shuttle Hurdle relay—Emporia first, (Dodd, DeMott, Carroll, Brigham). Kansas State, second. Time 1:04.8.

440-yard relay—Emporia, first (Farrow, Austin, Holder, Crooms); Kansas State, second. Time :44.

Four man one mile team race—Kansas State, first, (Robinson, McCollm, Messick, Redfield); Emporia, second. Winning time 4:41.6. 880-yard relay—Emporia, first, (Shannon, Austin, Holder, Crooms); Kansas State, second. Time 1:30.

Distance medley relay—Kansas State, first, (Dill, Eberhart, O'Reilly, Wheelock); Emporia, disqualified when Brigham cut in on Dill in the quarter mile race. Time 10:54.

Mile relay—Emporia, first, (Mack, Rhoads, Bridges, Crooms); no second place points awarded. Time 3:22.

High jump—Roehman and Harris, both of Kansas State, tie for first; Wood and Carroll of Emporia and Peters of Kansas State, tie for third. Height 5 feet, 7 inches.

Pole vault—Ayers, Kansas State, first; Cook, Emporia, second; Hemphill, Kansas State, and Harness, Emporia, tie for third. Height 11 feet.

Broad jump—Shannon, Emporia, first; Crooms, Emporia, second; Kirkpatrick, Emporia, third. Distance 23 feet, 9 3/4 inches.

Discus—Fanning, Kansas State, first; Colton, Emporia, second; Smith, Emporia, third. Distance 138 feet.

Javelin—Herrmann, Kansas State, first; Lewis, Emporia, second; Bridges, Emporia, third. Distance 176 feet, 8 inches.

Shot put—Dryer, Emporia, first; Hemphill, Kansas State, second; Colton, Emporia, third. Distance 45 feet, 3-4 inch.

time. We realize this is a ticklish subject to broach on for there are many here at State whose race prejudice is so strong that they would do most anything to prevent a Negro from participating on a Wildcat athletic team. Personally we think it is a very silly idea and would very much like to see a change in the policy of the Big Six, which would literally mean a change in the attitude of the southern schools in the conference. The colored sprinters of this country have definitely proven that they are equal to their white brothers and in some respects have shown themselves superior. Michigan has Willis Ward, Ohio State has Jesse Owens, and Marquette has had Ralph Metcalfe to help put them in the national spotlight. The Big Six, we are sure, has several capable sprinters, but who will never have a chance to be developed under a prominent and capable coach due to a shallow-brained rule enforced by the moguls, who stand guard over the conference. We simply cannot understand why the four schools, who would favor such a change, sit by and let the remaining two schools dictate such a policy. It is also hard to imagine that after 70 years, it is possible for a school to stick to a petty prejudice so pugnaciously.

SPORT SHORTS

Governor Landon will be the honorary referee of the Kansas Relays. . . . our own Mike Al'arn will act as a timer at the relays. . . . Captain "Biff" Jones is a devotee of the double wingback formation. . . . Loris Moody, Oklahoma's conference half-mile champ, is also a clever gymnast. . . . "Bo" McMillin is said to have a price schedule of $50 for afternoon speeches and $100 for talks at night. . . . a statistician comes up with this one: The average big league ball player is 28 years old, 5 feet 11 inches tall, and weighs 177 pounds. . . . Fred Perry, British net ace, has been paying court to Marian Marsh, blonde cinema star, in Hollywood. . . . Ohio State will be the best football team in the country next fall, according to Harry Kipke, Michigan coach. . . . Bobby Jones says the only way he could hope to regain the form he once possessed, would be to join the winter troupe and play in 8 or 10 consecutive tournaments. . . . Michigan has won either the indoor or outdoor track championship of the Big Ten for five straight years, but has been unable to win both titles in the same year. . . . Willis Ward, negro sprinter and most important part of the Michigan track team was told to take a light drill the other day by his coach. . . . he high jumped 6 feet 3 1/2 inches, ran the 100-yard dash in 9.7, floated over the 120-yard high hurdles in 14.6, and broad jumped 24 feet 1 inch.

We have heard the comment several times lately that the best dash men in fact the only good dash men in Kansas are Negroes. ## Set A Record In Two-Mile Relay At K. U.

O'REILLY FLASHES BY ARIZONA ANCHOR MAN TO WIN EVENT

K. S. Captain Hurt

Knappenberger's Leg Injury Forces Shuttle-Hurdle Relay To Withdraw From Race

Kansas State's 2-mile team, composed of J. B. Nixon, Lloyd Eberhart, Robert Dill, and Justus O'Reilly, set a new relay carnival record at the thirteenth annual Kansas relays when they circled the oval track eight times in 7:45.7.

O'Reilly, ace of the Wildcat distance men, brought the Memorial stadium crowd to its feet when he flashed by the University of Arizona anchor man to win by inches after making up 10 yards. Oklahoma and Indiana were third and fourth respectively.

The old record of 7:46 was held by the famous Indiana quartet that boasted Ivan Fuqua national 440-yard champion, and Charlie Hornbostel, national half-mile title holder.

Indiana Wins Relay
At the end of the distance medley relay, State and Indiana traded records once more. This race went to the Big Ten school after Lash, crack two-miler of the Hoosiers, stepped out to finish with a new relay record of 10:21.2. Nixon, Dill, Eberhart, and O'Reilly again made up State's quartet.

The old record was held by Kansas State at 10:27.4 with Francis Costello, Larry Darnell, Dean McNeal, and Don Landon running.

Michigan State won over the four-mile relay team of Harold Redfield, George McGinnis, Charles Robinson, and Tom Wheelock, by almost three-fourths of a lap. The two teams had tied in a four-man one mile race earlier in the season at the Texas relays.

Fanning Third in Discus
Paul Panning, Kansas State's sophomore weight man, placed third in the discus throw, Petty of Rice Institute (Texas) set a new record of 154 feet in this event.

The Kansas State shuttle-hurdle team was forced to withdraw from this relay event because of a leg injury received by Capt. Joe Knappenberger when he struck a hurdle in practice last week.

Knappenberger began to run in the 120-yard high hurdles but fell after hitting one of the hurdles. Sam Allen, Oklahoma Baptist star, set a record of 14.5 seconds in this event.

Eighth in Decathlon
Bill Hemphill finished eighth in the decathlon competition, which Clyde Coffman won with a total of 6,719 points. Hemphill garnered 5,725 points while Larry Schmutz, former Kansas-Stater, got 5,474 points for eleventh position.

Glenn Cunningham, star miler, disappointed the home folks by bowing to Glen Dawson of the Tulsa Skelly club in the slow time of 4:17.4. It was Glenn's first loss in ten starts—the first since Bill Bonthron passed him up in record time at the national collegiate championships last summer.

Other Kansas Relay records were—Dees of the University of Kansas with a heave of 51 ft. 3 3/8 inches in shot put; University of Texas mile-relay team, running the distance in 3:16.1; University of Iowa ran the 440-yard relay in world record time of :40.5; and the same quartet broke the world mark in the half-mile relay with the time 1:25.2.

FACULTY CHEMISTS TO MEETING AT NEW YORK

Four faculty members from the department of chemistry, Dr. H. H. King, Prof. C. H. Whitnah, Prof. H. N. Barham, and Prof. J. S. Hughes left for New York last Thursday to attend a meeting of the American Chemical society.

The party visited the University of Illinois and the University of Ohio to inspect the chemical equipment at those colleges. Several stops will also be made on the way home.

Professor Whitnah presented a paper before the meeting of the society yesterday. The paper dealt with the comparative effects of lactose and sucrose on feeding of rats. Experiments conducted with the help of Prof. O. W. Alm of the education department and Ralph Bogart of Manhattan and G. N. Woodruff of Kansas City, Kan., graduate students, provided the basis for the paper.

Parade, Rally Will Be Held

Bonfire Meeting in City Park Planned by Independent Party

A parade through the student residence district near the campus ending in a political rally around a large bonfire in the city park is planned by the campaign committee of the Independent party for tonight, on the eve of the Student Council election.

The parade, which the committee promises will have enough musical talent and other attractions to attract all independents in school, will be preceded by a house-to-house canvass by groups of independents.

A. S. Rosenwald, Manhattan, Russell Madison, Clayton, Minnesota, and Ruth Gresham, Manhattan, will be the student speakers at the bonfire-lit rally in the park tonight.

The parade and the rally are part of the campaign of the Independent party to arouse an active student interest in the election.

Wayne Dexter, campaign manager, will preside at the meeting.

Grimes Is Speaker

Addresses Kansas Farm Groups on Relation of New Deal to Co-op Movement

Dr. W. E. Grimes, head of the department of agricultural economics, was the first speaker on the program at the opening session of the conference of Kansas cooperative and general farm organizations held in room 331 of the west wing of Waters hall Thursday afternoon. Dr. Grimes spoke on "The Relation of the New Deal to the Cooperative Movement."

"The effect of the new deal on the cooperative movement cannot be appraised at this time," Dr. Grimes stated. "Twenty years from now it will be possible to look back and appraise its effect and to judge the actions that should have been taken which will be most effective in furthering desirable objectives of cooperative effort."

Dr. Grimes also said that it is reasonable for us to expect that many, but not all, of the changes that have occurred and which may occur in the next year or two, will become a definite part of our economic system.

The rest of the afternoon session was given over to a series of 10-minute talks. At the opening session 90 were enrolled and nearly 120 persons were in attendance.

REQUEST GOVERNMENT RENEW FEDERAL AID

A request that the student employment bureaus in Kansas colleges and universities be enlarged for the next year will be made to the federal government.

Representatives from 41 Kansas schools met with John G. Stutz, executive director of the Kansas emergency relief committee, at Topeka last Thursday, voted approval of the program and adopted resolutions asking a greater allotment for next year.

Chancellor E. H. Lindley of the University of Kansas will convey the request to Harry L. Hopkins, federal relief administrator. Chancellor Lindley recently conferred with officials at Washington regarding the program.

During the first semester of the present school year an average of 2,046 students were employed on the CSEP according to the Chancellor. Research studies that would otherwise have been dropped due to lack of funds, collecting material for museums, working in libraries, and assembling material for technical studies was carried on by students working on these projects.

TAKE ADVANTAGE OF TWO WALKS TO GET 3-2 WIN OVER M. U.

Kansas State opened its baseball season with a 3-2 win over the University of Missouri at Columbia, last Tuesday. The second game, scheduled for Wednesday afternoon, was postponed because of rain.

Although outth and outfielded, the K-Staters took advantage of the two walks handed them in the fourth inning to garner two runs and break a tie at one-all.

Lyman Abbott went the entire route for State and allowed only five hits. Ernest Jessup worked at the other end of the battery for the Wildcats.

State started out as if it meant to walk away with the ball game by getting a run the first inning. Bill Lutz, Wildcat second baseman, was the first Kansas State man to reach first base. After getting a walk Lutz circled the bases to bring in a run before the side retired.

Kansas State completed its scoring in the fourth inning when Harold Wierenga, outfielder, scored on a Missouri error and Jess Van Sant walked to first base to later tally on a sacrifice by "Whitey" Stevens, State infielder.

Ralph Beer, Tiger hurler, scored first for Missouri in the third inning after getting a single and scoring on an error by the Wildcat shortstop, Max Springer. The other Tiger score came when George Blase, Missouri infielder, singled and then crossed home plate on a teammate's hit.

The Tiger pitcher won a pitching duel on hits, allowing only four hits to Abbott's five, but his two passes in the fourth inning cost him the game.

Memorial To Be Voted On By Seniors

CLASS WILL DECIDE WHETHER OR NOT TO CONTRIBUTE

A Special Ballot

Voting Will Be at Same Time and Place as Student Council Elections

The senior class will vote on a special ballot Wednesday on whether or not each member is to contribute fifty cents towards a memorial gift to the college. This election will be held at the same time and place as the student council elections.

Those voting to contribute the money will be asked whether or not the money obtained should go to the fund for the Campanile tower or some other gift to be selected by the memorial committee of the class of 1935.

Thornbrough Appoints Committee
The memorial committee was appointed by Albert Thornbrough, president of the senior class, from the three senior honorary organizations, Scabard, Blue Key, and Mortar Board. Lillis Wempe, representing Scabard is chairman of the committee. Henry Kirk representing Blue Key, and Pauline Compton, Mortar Board, are the other members.

The fund for the Campanile tower was created in an all-school election in 1929. It was voted to ask the Board of Regents to take $1 out of the $10 graduation fee and transfer it to the memorial fund. The regents granted the request.

Money Used in Loan Fund
Money was paid into the fund by every class up to and including the class of 1932. At this time the state legislature voted a general 25 per cent reduction of all school fees. This reduced the graduation fee to $7.50. Since that time no money has been paid into the memorial fund.

The Campanile fund now amounts to $2,964.75. At present the money is borrowed by the alumni loan fund at 3 per cent interest compounded annually. Prof. Paul Weigel of the architecture department is in charge of plans for the tower. A model of the campanile that has been on display in Anderson hall for some time this year was made by Jack Resch, '32.

The estimated cost of the Campanile is from $25,000 to $50,000.

DISPLAY PHOTOGRAPHS FROM ALL OVER WORLD

Examples of photography of artists from all over the world are now on display on the second floor of Anderson. This display is the annual American exhibition of photography, which is sponsored by a magazine devoted to the art of photography. Manhattan secured this exhibition for the first time last spring. The display will end April 29.

"There will probably be about one hundred photographs as last year," stated E. J. Wimmer, who with F. J. Hanna was instrumental in getting the collection here. "And the subjects will doubtless again be wide in range. Cats, landscapes, flower studies, still lifes, women, babies, city scenes, by photographers in Japan, Czechoslovakia, England, Honolulu, as well as the United States were in last year's exhibition."

Y. M. C. A. PROGRAM FOR JOBLESS

The Y. M. C. A. sponsored a program given before a meeting of the unemployed and their families Wednesday night in the community house. Prof. William Lindquist, of the music department directed the men's glee club in several numbers. The program also included a whistling solo by Miss Elizabeth Campbell, humorous readings by Miss Lucille Bilderbach, and a trumpet solo by Charles Tolman. Raymond Sollenberger and Horton Laude were in charge of the program.

Keith Myers, 19-year-old freshman in mechanical engineering who died last Tuesday of streptococcal meningitis, was buried at Sharon Springs his home town, last Friday. The meningitis, developed from infection in his ears resulting from a cold and was non-contagious.

His body was taken to Sharon Springs by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clement Myers. Before he was taken to the down-town hospital in which he died, Keith was a patient in the college hospital.

He is survived by his parents and four brothers and sisters. His father is a Union Pacific locomotive engineer.

Curry Painting Is Purchased

"SUN DOGS" OBTAINED FOR COLLEGE BY SUBSCRIPTION CAMPAIGN

Dr. R. C. Langford announced last week a successful culmination of the campaign to raise funds for the purchase of "Sun Dogs," an oil painting by John Stewart Curry. The painting, now on exhibit in Recreation center, will be presented to Kansas State college as a part of its permanent art collection.

Doctor Langford was chairman of the Curry painting fund committee. Other members were Dr. J. T. Willard, treasurer; Mrs. R. A. Seaton, Miss Amy Kelly, Miss Helen Hostetter, Miss Margaret Ahlborn, Mrs. S. M. Paddelford, Colonel John Sullivan, Prof. W. H. Riddell, A. F. Peine, and Ashley Monahan.

Painting Valued at $1200
The purchase was made through the Ferragil gallery, New York City, which handles the work of Curry, Thomas, Benton, and Grant Wood, the three midwestern artists whose works are outstanding for portrayal of "the American scene."

The price of the painting was not announced; but it was explained that the painting, valued at $1,200, was purchased at a substantial reduction. The artist and gallery courteously agreed to this because of the fact that the painting goes to a public collection in Curry's native state. Mr. Curry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Smith Curry of Dunavon.

Funds Raised by Subscription
Funds for the purchase of "Sun Dogs" were obtained entirely through public subscriptions of individuals and organizations, the bulk of the money coming from faculty members, business men, students, and women's organizations.

In the art world considerable comment has been caused by the fact that although Curry's works are found in several well known art collections, heretofore none have appeared in the public collections of his home state. The University of Nebraska contains his "Road-mender's Gap," but "Sun Dogs" is the first Curry painting to appear in a public collection in Kansas.

The oil, portraying a winter scene, was painted on the Heart Ranch in Barber county.

Maynard Walker of the Ferragil gallery said "Sun Dogs" that Curry "has put into this canvas more of the loneliness and vastness of the prairie in winter than in anything else that has ever been painted. . . . I am sure this picture will be tremendously famous some day."

The Royal Purple will be ready May 1, according to Spencer Wyant, editor. They urge that all those who have not paid all the money due for their book come into the Royal Purple office in Anderson immediately so that the staff will be able to distribute the books as soon as they arrive. This will help to avoid delay. Practically all of the organizations that have ordered space in the book have paid but there are still a few who have not. They are urged to do so immediately. It would also be appreciated if the seniors who owe money would come into the Royal Purple office to see about it. Promptness in paying for space or for your book will allow the staff to pay the printer and thus increase the assurance that the book will be ready.

Mr. Medlin, manager of student publications reports that the staff has just received word from the printer that 990 books will be received. This means that there are about ten additional copies for sale. So if there are those who have not yet purchased their book it will still be possible if they will see Mr. Medlin or some member of the staff immediately. For people who ordered their Royal Purple on or before Nov. 10 the price is $3.50 and for others the price is $4.00.

TWENTY CANDIDATES ARE RUNNING FOR PUBLICATIONS BOARD AND STUDENT COUNCIL POSITIONS

Expect Hot Fight

Independents Enter Into Race For First Time In Years—Rumor of Split Among Greeks Is Heard

Tomorrow students of Kansas State will go to the polls in what promises, according to all advance indications, to be the hottest election in recent college history.

With the newly formed Independent political party which represents the first entrance of the non-Greeks into the political arena for some time, taking an aggressive stand, the pre-election campaign so far has been particularly warm. Last Monday Tom Wherry, chairman of the executive council of the Independent party carried a written protest to a joint meeting of the Student Council and the Faculty Council charging that the manner in which the time of the election was set was unconstitutional.

Refuse Wherry's Request
Wherry declared that the constitution provided that the plans for the election were to be made at a meeting of the Student Governing Association instead of the Student Council to be held during the second week in April. He further declared that the manner by which the election date was set was obviously a political move to protect the group in power because only one day was allowed for the student body to become acquainted with the candidates.

Members of the Student and Faculty Councils agreed that the election date that had been set was unconstitutional but defended their action on the grounds that the constitution was obsolete and that precedent justified their actions. Wherry's request that the election be postponed was refused.

Between Greeks and Independents
The nominating petitions turned in last Wednesday revealed that the fight this year is between the fraternities who have completely dominated campus politics for at least eight years and the independents. The Greeks selected their candidates through the pan-hellenic organizations. Each house put up candidates and the final selection of those who were to run for the Student Council and the Publications Board was made by ballot.

Rumor has it that a bloc within the Pan-hellenic organizations was formed that controlled the nomination of the candidates. It is further rumored that as a result of this blocking the fraternities have split into two factions.

Candidates for the Independent Party were selected by a nominating committee from prospective candidates suggested by the party as a whole.

Deans Select Election Board
The election will be handled somewhat differently from past years. An election board made up of two students from each division selected by the deans of the divisions will be excused from school to take charge of the election. This board will be supervised by members of the faculty.

The names of those voting will be checked on divisional lists. The election will be held in Rec Center from 8 to 5 o'clock Wednesday.

TRAINING COURSE ENDED

Thirty unemployed teachers finished a one month nursery training school course at the college last week in preparation for conducting nursery schools in their various home communities. The project has been sponsored by the Kansas Emergency relief committee, the state department of public instruction, and the college.

The entire staff of the department of child welfare and eugenics has assisted with the training of the unemployed teachers.

ALUMNI SECRETARY RETURNS

Kenney I. Ford, alumni secretary, and Mrs. Ford returned last week after an extensive trip through the southern and eastern states. Mr. Ford attended various alumni meetings at which motion pictures of Kansas State's Big Six championship football team were shown, including the Wildcat-Cornhusker game.

At Washington, D. C. Mr. Ford attended the annual meeting of the American Alumni council.

FACULTY CONTROL OF STUDENT AFFAIRS

In the past Kansas State students have been so apathetic toward student politics that no more than a few hundred out of the several thousand students enrolled ever actually voted. This has unquestionably been true not because the students of this college are mentally incapable of determining the importance of a Student Council election or because they are absolutely uninterested in campus politics.

No, the exact opposite has to a great degree been true.

Many students on this campus have taken enough interest in the elections of the last few years to take time out and judge the importance of the event in their college lives. And the conclusion that these students have come to is clear to anyone. They have found the elections uninteresting and in no way of importance to them.

Why have these students come to this conclusion? The answer is that student elections of the past few years have not been worthwhile and have not in any way vitally affected the college life of hundreds of students on this campus.

Recent Student Council elections have been held only to further the interests of a certain small group. In no way representative of the majority of students and having no other interest but that of acquiring the prestige that a position on the council gives. Once in office these students have done practically nothing to justify the existence of a Student Council.

This stagnant condition of the council has been due to the absolute control that the Faculty Council has over it. Everything that the Student Council attempts to do has to be approved by the Faculty Council and by the president of the college. The constitution of the Student Governing Association provides for this. Obviously there has in fact been no need for a Student Council that can do nothing without the consent of the faculty and the administration of the college. Student government on this campus has been a farce.

Under the present setup all that is needed is a Student Council presided over by the president of the college.

The political bloc that has been in power the last few years on this campus has been satisfied to let this condition exist. They have gotten the prestige of the offices and have been satisfied with that.

The Independent political party that has been created this year has as one of its most important objectives taking whatever steps are necessary to make the Student Council the active student organization that it should be. This new party has come out openly and opposed the present faculty-dominated system of student government.

This is the crux of the whole political system at Kansas State.

Once this condition is corrected the student government of this college will actually be a student government. In tomorrow's elections the students have an opportunity to correct this condition by voting for the party that has ever actually opposed the present condition. Here is a problem worthy of every student's consideration.

Faculty control of student government must be abolished.

Gentle Gests

(By Elma Edwards)

Romance is not truly dead until balconies become just locations from which to shake carpets.

A sense of duty is that intangible something that keeps one sitting up until 3 o'clock in the morning doing what he should have done the afternoon before.

You can tell how grownup a person is by watching the poses he takes before a mirror when he thinks no one is looking.

A girl may not be able to tell you what is in the shop windows but she can tell you the ones having the best angles for reflecting her image when she walks down the street.

Vacant Vera didn't go home this vacation. She figured it was not much use since she had neither become engaged or bought any new clothes since the last time she was home.

The Snooper

Saturday night the Elk's club in the city was the scene of much gaiety as the P. K. A.'s had their traditional get-together with the P. H. T.'s. From the rumors I guess a good time was had by all.

Now that Easter is over and all the girls have attended their quota of announcement parties of the school-mates left behind, and all the fellows who wanted a good old "beer" fest with the boys home from other schools have found out that the sidewalks at home roll up at the same old time, maybe we can settle down to some gentle blanket parties, Panhellenic beer-busts and liquid spring frolics.

There is some doubt in our mind whether the Spring causes Dan Partner to give hyena calls that can be heard four blocks from the Beta house or those same calls causes Spring. Those yells get a lot of folks hot under the collar so what must they do to the trees and grass!

The Phi Delta party passed quite unnoticed due to the coming vacation. We hear that Donald Keeney caused a little excitement when she spilled her cocktail at the very lovely dinner. Can it be that she is not used to these formal affairs?

The P. K. A.'s really know how to choose a night for a party. Every-one stayed over and such a lovely time was had by all. Some of the boys had such a lovely time that they forgot to go home as they were

After riding from Topeka on the outside of a car Joe Eckert was a bit worried about his chapped lips. We realized the cause of his worry that night when we saw him with the younger Danielson. Try some white lip-stick next time Joe.

And since it's spring, what is more seasonal than intramural baseball? Games have been going on for several weeks among the fraternities but the funniest story yet is the one they are telling on little Dickenfeld, Delt dude. It seems that he hit a nice safe two-bagger but as he rounded first he caught BOTH feet under the sack and fell flat on his nose. Good authority has it that as the game progressed he finally did come on in home but he didn't touch another base all the way in—he jumped them all by at least six inches.

After weeks of screaming about the knitting fad the trip home was just too much for us and the only relief from the monotony seems to lie in knitting so it has got us too. I still hope that the day will never come when I will lower myself to take it to the Palace.

Swift Gets Award

Outstanding R. O. T. C. Student Received Free Ten-Day Trip
And Pershing Medal

Dean Swift, selected recently as the outstanding R. O. T. C. student in the eight states included in the Seventh Corps area, left Wednesday April 17 for a ten days, expense-paid trip to Washington, D. C. and other points in the East. The trip is awarded each year to one R. O. T. C. and one C. M. T. C.

student in each of the nine Corps areas of the United States.

While in Washington, Swift was awarded the Pershing gold medal for military merit, which is presented by Gen. John Pershing to each of the R. O. T. C. and C. M. T. C. students making the trip.

Among other places the itinerary included a visit to Williamsburg, Virginia, the seat of William and Mary college. Other points visited are Mt. Vernon, the White House, and places of historical interest in and about Washington. A Kansas university student, A. W. Anneberg, also made the trip with Swift. Anneberg is the C. M. T. C. student selected to make the trip from this Corps Area.

Rifle Team Wins First In Valley

Seventh in National Intercollegiate Match—Stewart Fourth in Individual Scoring

Official notice of the Kansas State rifle team's first place rating in the Missouri Valley rifle league was received recently by the college military department from the National Rifle association, Washington, D. C.

According to Capt. William F. Rehm, coach, a comparison of the team's score with the scores of other schools in the country places K-State rifle team seventh in the determination of the National Intercollegiate champion, which this year is the U. S. Naval Academy. The winning team was followed by Cornell, Drexel Institute, U. S. Military Academy, Lehigh Minnesota, and Kansas State.

W. F. Stewart, captain of the Kansas State team, placed fourth among all individuals firing in the national competition. Compilation of the individual scores of the season for members of the Kansas State team show Stewart also leading this group and followed by W. R. Farmer, E. L. Waller, S. A. Swyer, and J. F. Gaumer.

Medals which are to be given to the Kansas State team by the National Rifle association will be presented at the R. O. T. C. inspection

April 29. Stewart and Farmer also won medals in the individual firing events at Kemper Military school recently, both winning second place awards.

"This excellent showing brings to a close a very successful rifle season," comments Captain Rehm. "The team won 28 and lost 13 postal matches. It placed third in the Kemper meet, third in the Seventh Corps Area matches, and tenth in the Hearst trophy firing."

Art Group To Meet

Will Elect Officers And Exhibit Prints Purchased by Society For College Collection

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Friends of Art group last week it was decided that the annual meeting of the group will be held April 30 in Recreation Center. All old members and new members who pay their dues before or at the time of the meeting may participate in the meeting at which officers will be elected.

The society has purchased five prints for the college collection during the past year and will purchase two more before the annual meeting. The group has also cooperated in purchasing the Curry painting for the college.

The prints purchased by the group will all be displayed together with the additions to the college collection through the Public Works of Art Project several of which were framed by the Friends of Art.

"On Fifth Street," one of Herschel Logan's prints is one of those obtained by the society. The gift print for 1935 is a wood engraving by Logan who is considered one of

Tennis Team Goes On Trip

WILL PLAY AGAINST OTTAWA UNIVERSITY AND KANSAS UNIVERSITY

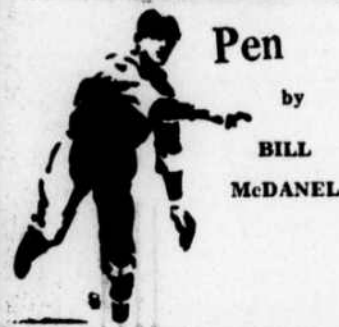

Kansas State racquetballers left this morning for a two-day trip to include tennis matches with Ottawa University and the University of Kansas. The Wildcat players led by Capt. Garland Hoglund will meet Ottawa this afternoon and will compete at Lawrence tomorrow.

The Jayhawkers, who tied Nebraska earlier in the season, are expected to provide stiff competition for State, who bowed to the Cornhuskers in a recent combat, winning only one match. Voss, conference singles champ, is the mainstay of the university team. Little is known about the strength of the Ottawa squad.

Central State Teachers college of Oklahoma had been scheduled for a match with State here this Saturday, but asked for a postponement until May 8. Coach Moll, at present, is attempting to obtain another team for a match this Saturday.

Those making the two-day trip are: Capt. Garland Hoglund, Richard Fowler, Arthur Graham, and Wayne Thornbrough.

The Bull Pen

by BILL
McDANIEL

Officials and others attribute Glenn Cunningham's failure to beat Glen Dawson at the Kansas Relays to four definite reasons. They are: 1. a 2:10 first half, 2. travel weariness and lack of condition for the outdoor suns, 3. failure to draw away sufficiently to offset Dawson's noted "kick" in the stretch and, 4. a lingering attack of intestinal influenza.

It was practically necessary for the officials to immediately establish some definite, plausible alibi to satisfy the several thousand spectators, who were disappointed in Glenn's showing. However, the young fellow proved his true sportmanship by not giving flimsy excuses when asked what was wrong. His explanation was: "I just didn't run fast enough."

Today's little dramer: It seems that Bo McMillin attended a recent football clinic at Purdue, and the following statements developed later. Noble Kizer, head coach at Purdue—"Bo came up here with a long face. Since he looked over the squad, he has been all smiles." But Bo says—"I was a sap to come up here. Now I'll do nothing but worry until November."

Fielding H. Yost, athletic director at the University of Michigan, was asked his opinion of modern youth on his recent trip to the west coast. His answer was—"What do you think of them and what does the government think of them? We borrow 40 billion for this and 40 billion for that. More debt to help pay adults! And what are we going to do with this debt? We are going to hand it over to the younger generation to pay. What do I think of the modern youth? Modern youth will have to be pretty good to handle all we are turning over to them." Your opinion is well-expressed Mr. Yost, and we too feel that something should be done about it—but what?

Jack Davis, star Oklahoma tankman, probably had the most unique experience of any of the swimmers entered in the recent National Intercollegiate Swimming meet held at Cambridge, Massachusetts. Jack returned from the meet with two victories and no defeats to his credit, yet failed to place in either of the two events in which he was entered. He won his heats in both races, but remained out of the running because of time comparison. The Sooner flash won his heat of the 440 by ten yards, and his 1,500 meter heat by more than 50 yards. It was unfortunate for Jack that he happened to draw slow heats where the competition afforded was insufficient to make him "open-up" and show his real ability. Incidentally, Jack Medina, Uncle Sam's brightest hope for the coming Olympics and who has broken a record practically every time he jumped into the water this winter, obligingly showed Davis a new turn while at the National meet. Now the Sooner paddler, adopting the Medina form, swims a mile per day as preparation for the not far-distant Olympics tryouts.

Millers Meet Here

Dean Call Welcomes Delegates to Association of Operative Millers Saturday

Dean L. E. Call, of the division of agriculture, gave the opening address at the joint meeting of districts one and two of the Association of Operative Millers in Waters hall Saturday. After welcoming the delegates, he told of the necessity for continuous work in the improvement of wheat.

Prof. A. L. Clapp, in charge of the crop experiments at the college, described the wheat situation in Kansas. Prospects for wheat in the western third of the state range from total failure to 20 per cent, he said. In the eastern third of the state the prospects are good, and the prospects range from poor to medium in the central part.

Prof. Linn Helander, head of the department of mechanical engineering, spoke on the related efficiency of various kinds of power. Prof. R. O. Pence, of the department of milling spoke on the topic, "Dividing the Flow Sheets Into Individual Units for Practical Use in the Mill."

The future of the milling industry was discussed by Dr. C. O. Swanson, head of the department of milling, in the closing address of the meeting. He also suggested new experiments which could be performed by the college if the funds and workers were available.

The division of home economics entertained the wives of the visiting millers. Miss Margaret Ahlborn, assistant dean of the division of home economics, spoke on, "The Aims of the Division of Home Economics." Miss Myrtle Gurselman, assistant professor of household economics told about, "The Consumer and the Markets."

One hundred thirty-two registered delegates attended the meeting.

A Capable, Responsible Student Leader Interested in the Welfare of Kansas State

Statement by Bruce Nixon

In the event of my election to the Student Council, there are a number of things which I will strive to accomplish. I would (1) hasten the plans for the erection of a Student Union building, (2) work for a smoking room on the campus, (3) keep the price of varsity dances down to 50c, so that more students might attend, (4) try to establish a closer contact between the student body of this college and high school students of the state, with the purpose being to bring more outstanding high school students of the state to Kansas State. All of these items are, I believe, desirable to the student body, and are for the students' welfare. I also believe they are possible to accomplish.

Beer at Every Gate is Request of 1935 Seniors

"A tanker of beer at every campus gate." This was the suggestion of the average senior voter Wednesday as a suitable memorial to leave in memory to Kansas State. "Beer, beer! We want beer!" thus ran the unquenchable thirst.

Several sensible souls weakly scrawled "Union building" or "Student center building." This one comparison of answers proves what we have suspected all along—the average collegiate mind concerns itself more with beverages than buildings.

"Increase the growth of the grass and eradicate the dandelions", was the idea of one optimistic senior. This suggestion, while being timely, presents a difficult problem. Considering the situation from cause and effect: The cause for the over supply of dandelions on our beautiful campus is the absence of grass. The constant marching of the R. O. T. C. boys wears down and kills the thick grass growth which is our campus pride. Naturally when the grass is worn away, the dandelions being more resistant to general wear and tear, take its place.

Therefore it follows that the only way to eradicate the dandelion growth on our campus is to remove the cause of their growth.

Thus, for a senior memorial, it is proposed—a tanker of beer at every gate, a student union building, with a bar and easy chairs, and the abolition of R. O. T. C. at Kansas State.

TO ANNOUNCE QUEEN OF K MEN TUESDAY

The "Queen of the K men" will be announced next Tuesday night at the annual spring party of the K fraternity, organization for varsity letter winners.

Track Squad To Des Moines For Annual Relays

ATHLETIC CARNIVAL STARTS TODAY AND LASTS THROUGH SATURDAY

Knappenberger Out

Leg Injury Keeps Star Hurdler at Home—Fanning is Down With The Measles

Eleven members of Coach Ward Haylett's track team will endeavor to uphold K-State's prestige on the cinders in the Drake relay carnival held today and tomorrow at Des Moines, Iowa. Lloyd Eberhart, Bruce Nixon, Myron Rooks, Robert Dill, and Justus O'Reilly accompanied by Coach Haylett left for Des Moines yesterday by motor car. Charles Robinson, Bill Wheelock, George McColm, Harold Redfield and Clint Roehman will drive up early today. Bill Hemphill, traveling by hitch-hiking methods left Wednesday.

Two Men Are Out

Captain Joe Knappenberger, star hurdler, could not make the trip because of a leg injury received in practice last week and made worse when he struck a hurdle in preliminary trials at the Kansas Relays last Saturday. Paul Fanning who was rated a strong contender in the discus throw because of his third-place performance at Lawrence is confined to his home at Melvern with the measles.

Despite these absences Coach Haylett expects the Kansas State squad to give a good account of itself at Des Moines. The two-mile relay team composed of Nixon, Eberhart, Dill, and O'Reilly hopes to equal its record breaking time established last Saturday when it lined up against practically the same teams tomorrow in the Drake stadium. The Arizona quartet which finished only a few inches behind the Wildcats at Lawrence are expected to make a strong bid for leadership in the race.

Enter Distance Medley

The two-day arrangement of events will make it possible for the members of the two-mile team to race in the distance medley relay, today, and in this event they will face about the same field in which they placed third at the Kansas games. The team will be fresh this time and may be able to nose-out the University of Indiana team which broke at K. U., the Kansas relays record set by a Kansas State quartet.

The Wildcat four-mile team will be strengthened with Bill Wheelock's complete recovery from a cold. Redfield, Robinson, and O'Reilly or McColm, will be the other members of this team. If O'Reilly is fresh enough to take part in the four-mile relay McColm will run the open two-mile race, otherwise he will take his usual place on the four-mile team.

Rooks, a quarter-miler, will take the opening lap of the distance medley relay in place of Nixon. Roehman will compete in the high jump, and Hemphill in the discus and javelin.

TO K. C. SATURDAY

Miss Dorothy Barfoot, head of the art department, and six members of the principles of art II class, Jennie Nelson, Faye Young, George O'Dell, Morna Howe, Rachel Martens, and Evelyn Turner, will go to Kansas City Saturday, April 27, to visit the Rockhill Nelson Gallery of Art.

First Of Two Games With N. U. Is Today

NEXT WEEK TWO GAMES WITH M. U. AND TWO MORE AT LINCOLN

Same Team Again

Nine That Defeated Missouri Will Play Except That Frank Cooley Will Pitch

Baseball holds the spotlight for sport fans as the Kansas State Wildcats play their first home games of the season today and tomorrow with Nebraska. Four games will follow next week to give the team the strongest tests they have had this year.

This afternoon's contest will be called at 4 o'clock, and Saturday the same teams battle at 2:30. Monday and Tuesday the Missouri Tigers come to Manhattan hoping to avenge the defeat handed them at Columbia last week-end. The Wildcats move into Lincoln next Friday and Saturday for a return series with the Cornhuskers.

Coach Wesley L. Fry announces that Frank Cooley will start on the mound this afternoon, with Lyman Abbott, who hurled the team to victory against Missouri, ready to step in if needed. If Cooley stays in the game, Abbott will probably start Saturday's tilt although "Lefty" Beyer is also ready, according to Fry.

All-Sophomore Infield

The same lineup will start at that which saw action at Columbia. Ernest Jessup will be behind the bat, Benny Winchester at first, Bill Lutz at second, Max Springer at short, V. M. "Whitey" Stevens at third, with the two veterans, Captain Bill Ashbill and Harold "Doc" Wierenga patrolling the outfield along with Jess Van Sant.

"Even if we lose all six games, the boys will get much needed experience." (Continued On Page Two)

DEAN JUSTIN TO CONVENTION

Dean Margaret Justin will go to Kansas City today to attend the bi-annual convention of the American Association of University Women.

Renewed activity to raise a larger quota for the million dollar fellowship fund is one of the most important questions to be discussed. The purpose of this fund is to make possible further study for promising women.

Most of the fellowships are awarded to women who have completed all the work for the Ph. D. degree except the treatise.

Dean Justin will return Sunday.

TO HOLD "Y" RETREAT

Dr. Langenwelter of Friends university at Wichita, will be the speaker at the Y. W.-Y. M. retreat Saturday. The retreat, which is to be from 1:30 to 7:30 p. m. at the Vinton church is open to the cabinets and all interested students. Those who plan to go are asked to see Ruth Heines at the Y. W. office.

WILL CONDUCT CONTEST

Instructors in the agricultural division of Kansas State college will conduct a state high school vocational agriculture judging contest, April 29 and 30.

The dairy and livestock contests will be held Monday and the poultry and crops contests Tuesday. A large number of contestants are expected.

Seniors Vote To Contribute

WILL GIVE FIFTY CENTS A PIECE TO MEMORIAL FUND

Ballooning 125 to 103 in a special election held Wednesday the senior class voted to contribute fifty cents each towards a memorial gift to the college. Out of those voting yes 122 asked that the money obtained go into the fund for the Campanile tower.

An all school election in 1929 created the tower fund. At that time the Board of Regents agreed to take $1 out of the $10 graduation fee and give it to the memorial fund. This practice was continued with every class up to and including the class of 1932. A general 25 per cent reduction of all school fees at that time reduced the graduation fee to $7.50. No money has been paid into the fund since that time.

The fund, amounting to $2,964.75, is at present borrowed by the alumni loan fund at 3 per cent interest compounded annually. A model of the campanile, made by Jack Resch '32, has been on display in Anderson hall for some time this year. The cost of the tower is estimated from $25,000 to $50,000. Prof. Paul Weigel of the architecture department is in charge of all plans.

VISIT ART GALLERY

Miss Vida A. Harris, Miss Mildred Grossman, Miss Thirza Mossman, and Miss Marion Pelton spent Friday and Saturday in Kansas City, where they visited the Rockhill Nelson Gallery of Art.

PHOTOGRAPHS EXHIBITED

The annual American exhibition of photography, which includes photographs from all over the world, is now on display in A88. This exhibit will be up until April 29.

RADIO MEN TO HELP IN BALLOON FLIGHT

Prof. L. E. Conrad, of the civil engineering department, and Prof. E. R. Dawley, of the applied mechanics department went to Wichita, April 13, to engage the support of the amateur radio operators, who held their convention there April 13 and 14, for observations on the proposed balloon flight to be made this summer, and to examine the roads for hills satisfactory for wind resistance tests on automobiles. L. E. Oberhelman, student in electrical engineering, accompanied them.

Vanity Determines What The Co-ed's Purse Will Contain

Vanity seems to be the leading factor in determining what the college girl will carry in her purse. According to a survey of ten pocketbooks taken at random in a sorority house, out of this number six contained compacts, seven lipsticks, seven mirrors, and four combs.

This must truly be a lean year, because the sum total of money in all ten purses was only $4.32. The smallest sum in any purse was 6 cents and the largest $1.23. Three of them contained no money.

School supplies seem to be a dominant note in the college girl's bag. Five contained pens, three pencils, one an eraser, three schedules, two quiz blanks, and three notices of meetings on the hill.

Unpaid bills, old letters, check blanks, keys, stamps, cigarettes, and matches were found in a great many of the ten bags. Buttons and bobby pins were found in abundance. The college girl will be well-groomed at all times at any cost!

Bottle-Openers Too

A few oddities were found such as directions for knitting, and old driver's license, old post cards, family group pictures, and in one purse a bottle opener and bottle thumb.

The most unusual purse was a small black one which contained a letter, a package of cigarette, three ear-rings, a comb, four receipts, two pencils, two compacts, three bobby pins, a mirror, 24 buttons, two keys, a box of matches, a shopping list, and 11 cents. In contrast to this was one which contained only a stamp, two bobby pins, and a notice of a meeting.

The days have gone forever when pocketbooks were for the purposes of carrying money and a dainty white handkerchief. In the ten purses examined not one contained a handkerchief. It would seem that girls of today need to carry small suitcases which fit snugly under the arm and have compartments to house the various articles carried.

MAKE COLORED POSTERS

Gay colored posters of cut paper will be used on the campus to announce Hospitality week. These were made as a part of the regular class work in elementary design II under the direction of Miss Darst.

EVERY OFFICE ON THE STUDENT COUNCIL AND THE PUBLICATION BOARD IS WON BY PAN-HELLENIC CANDIDATES IN ELECTION WEDNESDAY

Unusually High Vote Cast

1,306 Go to Polls—Bruce Nixon, Don McNeal, Ronald Cooper, Maurice Street, Leonard Zerull, Virginia Dole, Frances Tannahill, New Student Council Members—Jim Ketchersid, Ed Murphy, Mildred Buckwalter, Publications Board

A clean sweep was scored by the Pan-Hellenic party in the annual Student Council elections last Wednesday when every office in both the Student Council and the Publications Board were won by fraternity and sorority candidates. The Independent Party failed to place a single student.

The new Student Council will be composed of Ronald Cooper, Don McNeal, Bruce Nixon, Maurice Street, Leonard Zerull, Virginia Dole, and Frances Tannahill. Jim Ketchersid, Ed Murphy, and Mildred Buckwalter were elected to the Publications Board.

Interest in the election ran high with 1,306 votes being cast. This substantially surpasses last year's record total of 1,130. Three faulty ballots were thrown out.

All indications pointed to a rather strict adherence to party lines on the part of both the Independent and the Pan-Hellenic parties. The number of ballots cast for the successful Pan-Hellenic candidates ranged from 703 to 860. The limits in the ballots cast for the Independent candidates were even more narrow with a low of 506 and a high of 576.

Nixon High Candidate

Bruce Nixon polled the heaviest vote with a total of 860. Don McNeal was close behind with 838. Jim Ketchersid received 763 votes to lead the Publications Board candidates.

The campaign this year was definitely between the Independents and the Greeks, rather than between two or three factions of fraternities and sororities as is usual. The Pan-Hellenic organizations were used this year by the Greeks as a political basis. Each house put up candidates and those who were to represent the Pan-Hellenic party were selected by ballot.

Old Bloc Killed

The entrance of the Pan-Hell into politics as a unit spelled the end to one of the most prominent blocs in hill politics. Only one man from the Sigma Alpha Epsilon—Sigma Phi Epsilon—Delta Delta group was selected as a candidate in the new Pan-Hell party. Rumors are flying thick and fast that a coalition of several houses within the Pan-Hell blocked to keep the old crowd out.

For the ninth consecutive year the Independents have failed to obtain a representative on the Student Council.

G. W. GERBER ELECTED PRESIDENT OF CLUB

G. W. Gerber, Oneida, was elected president of the Agricultural Economics club at a meeting last Tuesday. Other officers were as follows: vice-president, K. G. Shobmaker, Pomona; treasurer, G. J. Brown, Circleville; recording secretary, L. F. Miller, Agra; and corresponding secretary, Ned O. Thompson, Manhattan.

PLAN FOR BREAKFAST

Evelyn Thacker was elected secretary-treasurer of the college sister meeting on April 15. At the meeting next Monday night, plans for the college sister breakfast, May 12, are to be discussed. The breakfast is to be at 7:30 and tickets are now on sale.

DEMONSTRATION SATURDAY

The annual meats demonstration for the foods II classes will be given by Prof. D. L. Mackintosh Saturday in the meats laboratory of the east agriculture building. He will show the various cuts of beef, pork, and lamb. The public is invited to attend.

TO FRATERNITY CONVENTION

Judging Contest Starts April 29

High School Boys and Girls Will Be Here From All Over State

About 500 high school boys are expected to attend the fifteenth annual high school vocational agriculture and farm mechanics contest which will be held here next Monday and Tuesday.

Seventy teams will compete in the judging contests. Each team is composed of three members. However, additional members of vocational agriculture classes will attend the meetings and visit the college. Each team and vocational agriculture class will be accompanied by the teacher or coach. No team or individual member is eligible that has previously competed in any judging contest of state-wide or national importance.

The Chamber of Commerce will give a banquet for the boys and their coaches Tuesday evening in the community house. This meeting will be in charge of the Future Farmers of America and at that time the prize winners will be announced.

Arrangements have been made with the extension division and the athletic department to provide sleeping quarters for the boys and coaches in Nichols gymnasium while attending the contest.

Calvin Hall, on the campus of Kansas State College at Manhattan, will be the state's center of interest for high school girls on May 3 and 4, when the home economics division of the college holds its fifth annual "Hospitality Week." Visitors and their instructors will see all phases of home economics work, tour the women's dormitory and home management houses, and take part in several contests. Dr. Margaret Justin is dean of the home economics division, Marion Buck of Abilene chairman of the Hospitality Week committee, and Ruth Jorgensen, Manhattan, president of the Home Economics Club.

A CLEAN STUDENT ELECTION

For the first time in several years the campus seems entirely devoid of rumors concerning the honesty with which the Student Council elections were conducted. This is particularly significant when compared with last year's election when stories of stuffed ballot boxes were heard on every hand.

The balloting was handled considerably different from other years. Divisional lists containing only the names of those in school were used. The students voting were entirely isolated from outside interference. Due to an agreement reached between the Independents and the Greeks there was very little if any campaigning inside of Rec Center. The entire election was in charge of students representative of both political factions chosen by the deans of their divisions.

The efficient handling of the election system of this year by the outgoing Student Council deserves recognition from the entire student body. It represents the actual accomplishment of a long needed reform in Kansas State politics.

THE CAMPAIGN VIEWED IN RETROSPECT

The Collegian has been frequently criticized during the past campaign for the pro-Independent stand it has taken. Critics have asserted that a college newspaper should reflect student life as a whole rather than taking sides with any particular faction.

However it is the belief of the present Collegian staff that a newspaper should be something more than merely a mirror of contemporary life. A newspaper should interpret as well as present facts. In its interpretation if the conclusion becomes inevitable that certain elements are working in a fashion detrimental to the general good it is the duty of a newspaper to take a strong and vigorous stand on those issues.

It was no secret that for some time student politics at this college have been in a bad state as far as the student body as a whole was concerned. A small clique through secret blocking rather than open politics was able to absolutely control the campus despite the fact that they comprised less than a sixth of the total population of the school. Rather definite proof has been obtained that politics under these conditions have been extremely unethical.

It was to help eradicate the above conditions and to bring about a fairer representation on the Student Council that the Collegian backed the Independent party which was formed this year.
 The Independent Party was handed a crushing defeat at the polls failing to place a single candidate. Yet despite the thoroughness of the whipping administered them the Independent Party was indirectly responsible for several worthwhile accomplishments.

One of the most favorable characteristics of this year's election was the surprisingly large number of student voting. This year's total came very near to setting an all-time record and there is no doubt that this is directly traceable to the ability of an Independent party to muster the comparatively large number of votes that it did. The interest created in the election alone justified the efforts of the Independents.
 Student interest in student government has been sadly lacking at Kansas State.

As distasteful as mudcracking is, the spotlight thrown on the shady politics that characterized last year's election resulted in a general cleaning up of the electoral system of the college that lifted this year's election to a much higher plane. And by forcing the Greeks to stick together through the Pen-Hell the Independents were responsible for crushing the bloc that for so long has controlled the campus. However, it must be admitted, that from all appearances a new bloc working underground in the Pen-Hell party merely superseded the old one.

It has been emphatically shown in the past two weeks that the present constitution of the Student Governing Association is completely obsolete. The constitution leaves several loopholes for evasions through technicalities, is self-contradictory, and on the whole amateurishly written. It is absolutely inadequate to meet the demands of student government. The new Student Council should realize that fact and take immediate steps to provide Kansas State with an adequate constitution.

Although unsuccessful at the polls the Independent Party has been directly responsible for many worthwhile things. It was able to win enough votes to give some indication of the power it may have in future elections. An Independent-Fraternity coalition that would drive college politics from its present system of secretive clique control into the open would be a desirable step for a more efficient student government.

The Snooper

Plans are now being completed to disinfest the auditorium after the annual visit of all the brawny athletes for their so-called Recognition day. The odor will be just one more excuse for those fraternity and sorority freshmen to use on the actives for chapel-cutting.

At Stillwater, Oklahoma, co-eds who signed a pledge not to eat more than fifteen cents worth on a date are finding themselves very popular, according to the Daily O'Collegian. If the gals around here spent that much they'd get booted out on their ears and get to walk home. (Editor's note: Voice of Experience?)

Well—Erikson finally put out that Hudiburg pin! It was the night of the PIKA drag. Now she's ill and can't flash it around—which is someone's idea of a spring tragedy.

One of those things which would have an old-time printer or newspaper man on the floor in a faint: Type-cases painted cream with a green trim. And yet the Clay Center Dispatch office manages to keep from being a sissy joint in spite of the innovation for "back rooms".

An introvert is a man who buys his own cig-rettes, says Elinor Uhl.

Persistence: That former ATO pledge who still drifts about the city to sit in on the poker games that spring weather have brought out in the open. Saturday it is rumored he lost twenty-six bucks at one shot. Sunday he lost eight more dollars.

Kenny Davis—of "Peace Club" "Leonardo" fame hit the campus this vacation to give it the once over before returning to Wisconsin to finish his work toward a master's degree. We wonder if there is a R. O. T. C. unit on the campus there!

In Wednesday's election the seniors were asked not only to vote yes or no on a class memorial to be presented to the college but also to give their suggestions of a fitting form for this gift to take. The two most notable—and frequent—were to serve beer between classes, or to serve beer at both ends of the stadium during football games.

The Kappa Deltas are a-twit and a-twat over the marriage of one of their number—Louise Scheu being the blushing bride. And it wasn't Brooks who took her on for better or worse either as one might have suspected a short time ago!

Jane Murdock reminds us of a strong lemon sour. Dean Griffing, a half-raw beef-steak with a mound of fried spuds on the side. Richard Haggman of ham gravy and cornbread. Ivan Wassberg a ham sandwich. Instructor Moggie of the education department a hard-boiled egg —and too much pepper. And Joe Knappen-berger of liver and onions—fried hard.

Fraternity freshmen are complaining that ping pong games have slipped behind the last two weeks entirely too much—and dandelions are getting the blame.

The college calendar lists the Van Zile vehicle, the Echilades entry, the Clavia caper, the Sigma Tau throy, a Varsity, and the Alpha X anklor for this weekend. The celebrated Vet dance about which Dykstra's boys have been talking for weeks doesn't even rate a listing.
 Yet they insist it is coming off Saturday evening.

Vacant Vera wonders how these people who have such a hard time remembering names and faces get along in their school work.

Nomination for the most overworked word in the English language—sophisticated.

There is no proofreader half so thorough as the budding author.

We wonder if the people responsible for the final examination schedule and the program of commencement activities realize that there are 365 days in this year just the same as there has been in all the other years.

Vacant Vera wonders if there is anything one can do with old raincoats. She's afraid hers will be out of style before the next rain.

We would like to see these five students who placed at the livestock contest.

Some organization on the hill that desires to bring to this campus entertainment suitable to the high level of intelligence and mature attitudes of our student body might try to get a hold of Colleen Moore's doll house.

COSMOS INITIATE SIX NEW MEMBERS

Cosmopolitan club initiated six new members, Hyman Pogorelsky, Poland; J. J. Sarason, Palestine;
 Tibor Rosza, Hungary; Frances
 Caldwell, Eldorado; N. B. Shapiro, Boston; and Morris Plotkin, Russia; in their meeting in Calvin hall, at 7:30 o'clock last night. Dr. O. M.
 Dill, of the student health department was voted into membership in the local club, since she was a member of another chapter.

Mr. Plotkin sang two selections in his native language and Lucille Howenstine and Gordon Jolitz played cornet duet as the musical part of the program. Zelda Acken-hauser gave a reading.

The club will have a picnic next Sunday April 28 near Topeka at the camp of Carolyn Stark it was announced.

COMMITTEE TO MEET

An Estes Park committee meeting will be held in the Y. W. C. A.

 perience," Coach Fry said last night. He pointed out that he has an all-sophomore infield that is rounding into shape nicely. Weather conditions have been unfavorable for practice sessions, but nevertheless the team is in good condition.

Coach Fry is pleased with the play of Stevens at third. "Whitey" made the most outstanding play of the day at Columbia when he snagged a Tiger drive out of the dust and came up with it after turning a somersault. Springer and Lutz are also handling the ball nicely, and Winchester should be one of the classiest first baggers in the conference.

Kansas State has not played as many games as have the other Big Six teams. The coming series will enable the Wildcats to catch up with the other schools, each of which has seen five or six games.

was sitting in the stands at a dual meet for which low grades had made him ineligible. The meet was progressing slowly and the fans began to shout:

"We want Marty."

He was dressed in a woolen shirt, heavy shoes, and corduroy pants, but obligingly went out on the field. The bar was at 6 ft. 1 in. and the contestants had all failed at that height.

Marty moved it up to 6 ft. 5 in., and hoisted himself over, heavy pants, shoes and all.

Francis Cretzmyer, University of Iowa hurdler, figured in one of the most peculiar accidents on record at the relays last week. He was leading in his heat in the preliminaries. As he cleared one hurdle, his arm trailing, the man behind him caught his spike in Cretzmyer's thumb, ripping it open. The Iowa, thrown off his stride, came in third and failed to qualify.

Had Cretzmyer used the method of clearing the hurdle with both hands reaching out in front, the so-called unorthodox style popularized this year by Sam Allen, Oklahoma star, the accident would have been prevented and perhaps the Iowa would be a Kansas relay champ today—all of which is merely a wild guess on our part.

Jesse Owens, Ohio State's Ebony Antelope, took a flying start and flashed his spikes through 100 yards last Tuesday in :08.4 seconds. He started 20 yards behind the first marker and was hitting his full stride as he went into the measured distance. Three watches caught him in :08.4, a full second under the world mark from a crouching start. Considering the flying start, it was three tenths of a second under the best time for which anyone else has been given credit. Larry Snyder, Owens' coach, believes that the sepla runner can cut two tenths off Tuesday's mark.

A short right field fence atop a London hotel got the best of Babe Ruth on his recent world tour. Babe was asked to hit a golfball off the roof. He wound up and started the ball on a trip to Dublin, but his direction was poor and the pellet bounced off the fence, striking the slugger in the chest and flooring him.

Lynn Waldorf proved his versatility recently when he served as chairman of a debate between Northwestern and Syracuse, his alma mater. . . . every box seat and 31,000 reserved grandstand seats have been sold for the all-star interleague baseball game to be played at Cleveland's Municipal stadium July 8. . . . six of the sprinters entered in the Drake Relays this weekend have covered the 100 in :09.6 or better. . . . Tex Oliver, Arizona track coach, thinks sprinters can travel faster in the middle-west than in the southwest. . . .

The Bull Pen

by BILL McDANIEL

The entire University of Iowa's sprint team, that rocketed over the Kansas cinders to smash two world's relay records last Saturday, is composed of sophomores. In that :40.5 quarter, each of the streamlined Iowans covered his 110-yard leg of the race in :10.12 seconds. With flying starts over the 100-yard distance, each man averaged :09.225 seconds. Each second saw the Iowa flyers 10.86 yards nearer the tape.

Covering the half mile course in the dizzy speed of 1:25.2, each of the sensational sophomores covered his 220-yard stretch in the average time of :21.3. No wonder these four Iowan speedsters have been nicknamed the "human hurricane."

Walter Marty, the great high jumper of Fresno State college in California, was a crack all around athlete while in high school. The story is told that one day Marty he said his half mile team in the Kansas relays ran seven seconds faster than he thought they could run. . . . Chance Sun and Omaha are co-favorites to win the Kentucky Derby, which is less than two weeks off.

Over 1,000 Military Students Will Parade Before Officers Monday, April 29

On Monday morning, April 29, the entire R. O. T. C. regiment of the college, composed of over 1,000 military students will have their annual military inspection. The inspecting is to be done by Col. R. H.

McMaster, R. O. T. C. officer of the Seventh corps area.

He will be assisted by Major H. L. King of the Coast Artillery Corps, Topeka; Major A. J. McFarland, Wichita, infantry; and Major John Miner, Veterinary Corps, Fort Riley. The inspection is to be carried out in three phases, according to Capt. I. E. Ryder. There will be a preparatory drill at 9:00 Saturday morning, April 27; the final inspection at 9:00 a. m. April 29; and a class room inspection. The military administration will be inspected April 30. The storeroom, military books, and papers will be subject to this inspection.

The units are to be rated on formations, discipline, set-up, promptness, and the general military tone and seriousness with which the work is done.

The final review and inspection are the only external indications of the efficiency of the R. O. T. C. units," according to Captain Ryder, "and it will establish the military rating of this college for one year."

Entire ROTC Unit Marches For Reviewers

COLONEL R. H. McMASTER OF OMAHA SUPERVISES ANNUAL INSPECTION

Students Honored

Thornbrough and Swift Given Sabers for Their Work—Present Honorary Officers

Annual inspection of the entire military department at Kansas State took place yesterday and today under the supervision of Col. R. H. McMaster, R. O. T. C. officer of the seventh corps area from Omaha, Nebraska. Honorary majors and the honorary colonel of the corps were presented and military honors were bestowed.

Those who were honored, the college military officials, President Farrell, and the visiting officers reviewed a parade by the troops, after which various units of the R. O. T. C. worked out tactical problems.

Medals to Rifle Team

Cadet Colonel Albert A. Thornbrough and Cadet Lieut. Col. Dean Swift were presented sabers by the military department for their outstanding work this year. Swift recently returned from a ten day trip to Washington, D. C., an award he received in connection with being chosen the outstanding R. O. T. C. student in the seventh corps area.

The Kansas State rifle team composed of Capt. William F. Stewart, W. R. Farmer, E. L. Waller, S. A. Swoyer, and J. F. Gaumer, were awarded medals for winning first place in the Missouri Valley intercollegiate shoot held recently. This team also ranked seventh in the United States.

Has Three Phases
The Kansas State women who were elected by the entire R. O. T. C. to be honorary officers of the battalion also took part in the review. The honorary colonel is Don Johnson, and the honorary majors are Ivernia Danielson, Gladys Niles, and Betty Powell.

Inspection was divided into three phases consisting of review of the troops, classroom inspection, and inspection of the administration's books, papers, and storeroom.

In conjunction with Colonel McMaster, the inspection was carried on by Major H. L. King, Coast Artillery Corps, Topeka; Major A. J. McFarland, Infantry, Wichita; and Major John Miner, veterinary corps, Fort Riley.

The Kansas State campus will become the center of interest of high school girls and their home economics teachers from all over the state next Friday and Saturday when the fifth annual hospitality week sponsored by the home economics division takes place.

The theme for this year's hospitality week is "Let the Buyer Be Wise." What to consider when buying hosiery, food in the can or in bulk, household furnishings, hats, or a dress ensemble will be dramatized in amusing skits each afternoon. In the banquet to be held Saturday night in Thompson hall that climaxes the program, Dean Margaret M. Justin and students will further elaborate on the subject of buying.

Orchestra in Program

Friday night in the auditorium Orchestra, college dancing organization, will give a dance program for the guests.

Tours in which the high school students will have an opportunity to inspect the home management houses, Van Zile hall, Anderson hall, and the college library will be under the supervision of Omicron Nu, honorary home economics organization.

Van Zile to Entertain

Friday and Saturday afternoons from 3:30 to 5 o'clock the visitors will be entertained by Van Zile hall with teas.

INCREASE OF CSEP QUOTAS IS ASKED

A 100 per cent increase in the quotas of jobs for CSEP students in Kansas institutions was recommended at a recent meeting in Topeka of the representatives of educational institutions in the state which Dean R. A. Seaton, engineering division, attended as a representative of Kansas State college. Chancellor Lindley, chairman of the college student employment project, University of Kansas, reported that H. L. Hopkins, national relief administrator is pleased with the work and has asked for suggestions for its improvement. The group was also in favor of an increase in the average allotment per student from $15 per month to $18 per month with $24 as a maximum.

K-Fraternity, organization for men who win varsity athletic letters, held formal initiation recently for 31 Kansas State athletes. Ralph Churchill, president, conducted the ceremony.

Staff Announces 1935 Royal Purple Is Ready For Distribution Today

MAY BE OBTAINED THIS AFTERNOON IN YEARBOOK OFFICE

A Larger Annual

This Year's Book Has 378 Pages—Pictures of All Faculty Members Included

The Royal Purple is to be shipped from Kansas City this morning and distribution of the yearbooks will begin in the Royal Purple office this afternoon. Individuals who have subscribed are asked to bring their receipts.

The sample copy of the Royal Purple has arrived and several added features are to be noted. This year's book has 328 pages and four division page views of the campus in four colors are contained in it.

Large Number of Pictures

This year's book also has pictures of many more people than the book of last year due to the fact that pictures of all faculty members are included. Also a large number of general organizations have group pictures of their entire membership instead of just the officers, as previously. The athletic section is 12 pages larger, and the military department, formerly not represented, has a section of 11 pages.

A few additional copies will be sent from Kansas City so if anyone has neglected getting his book he should see about it in the Royal Purple office immediately. The price will be $4.00.

Handle New Books Carefully

The books have been in the bindery for a week. Any new book is easily broken if care is not taken about how it is handled when it is first opened. According to C. J. Medlin, manager of student publications, "The life of your annual depends largely upon how you treat it the first hour it is in your possession. Your book will endure only as long as its binding. Before opening it stand the closed book on its back (or bound edge) on a flat surface. Hold the pages in this upright position, leaving the covers fall open. Then begin opening the pages at the front and back, working toward the center, turning down ten or twelve pages at a time and creasing gently at the binding edge. Repeat this several times, and the binding will have become permanently flexible. The few minutes you take to do this will add years to the life of your book."

PLAN PROGRAM FOR ESTES CONFERENCE

"An unusual recreational program is being planned for the Estes Park conference, June 7-17," reports Ruth Haines, who with Ellen Payne, Y. W. president, has just returned from a meeting with Dr. Harold Case and Mrs. Case, and Harold Colvin, Y. M. secretary, and Mrs. Colvin at Topeka.

Late in the afternoons at the conference, hobby shop groups will gather to work out projects in the following fields: Kodakery, which is to include the taking and development of pictures; creative art; creative writing; poetry interpretation; and dramatic; instrumental music; and such things as clay modeling, wood-working, etc. A special call is being made to those talented along musical lines to join their group. In addition to the hobby groups, there will be the usual athletic tournament, hiking, and tennis. Dr. and Mrs. Case are in charge of all recreational activities at the conference.

A rally for those interested in going to the conference will be held May 9. Anyone desiring information concerning the conference, should see Ruth Haines. Special student loans are made to those wishing to go.

WORKING ON BRIDGE

W. S. Reeder, graduate of the Civil Engineering department in '28, is now working for the Union Bridge and Construction company, B. M. A. Building, Kansas City, Mo. At the present time he is working on a bridge over the Mississippi river at Hannibal, Missouri.

PURCHASE NEW TRUCK

A 1935 Chevrolet pick-up model, half ton truck has recently been purchased by the agricultural engineering department. Previously an old army ambulance truck had been used.

SHELTERBELT PROJECT OFFERS STUDENT WORK

The Plains Shelterbelt project will offer employment for a number of the engineering students this summer. The work will be of two kinds, the first, including tree planting, tree nursery, and tree seedling. The second, land acquisition, and mapping. The work is open to anyone who has had two years college education with prerequisites to a degree in forestry, botany, range management, agronomy, or engineering.

PASLAY MAKES VOLTMETER

L. C. Paslay, electrical engineering department, has recently completed a new vacuum-tube voltmeter for use in television with its broad range of voltage to be measured. This voltmeter will measure voltages from 0 to 200 volts with accurate responses to frequencies as high as a million cycles. The older type had a range of only three volts.

Will Present Dance Drama

ORCHESTRA TO GIVE COMEDY DANCES AND A DANCE CYCLE FRIDAY IN AUDITORIUM

Orchestra, honorary dancing organization, will present a dance drama Friday night at 8:30 o'clock in the college auditorium for the guests of the home economics hospitality week.

The program will be divided into two parts with a short intermission between them. The first part is divided into comedy dances, "Alice in Wonderland" and "A Drama of the Russian Ballet."

A dance cycle, each part of which portrays the spirit of various ages in chronological order, makes up the second part of the program. Dances in this division are: primitive, rhythmic; Greek, solemnity; Medieval, ecclesiastic; Renaissance, spontaneity and artificiality; 19th century, romantic; Modern, mechanistic; Future, known and unknown.

In the last dance, Future, the dance of various political bosses, military dictators, revolutionists, and unknown leaders of the future will be given.

Newspaper Exposes Hearst's Attempts To Start Up Wars

"You furnish the pictures; I'll furnish the war," was William Randolph Hearst's reply to his artist's report that there was no disturbance in Cuba and that he wished to return home. This and innumerable other sins of journalistic journalism as practiced by Mr. Hearst during the last four decades are exposed in the "Jingo Press Supplement" of the Chronicle of World Affairs, a newspaper published in New York, and now being distributed on the campus by the college Y. W. C. A.

There are many other jingoistic papers in the country, the article states but the Hearst papers are examples of the most extreme type. It further declares that if Hearst did not alone, with his New York Journal, bring about the Spanish-American War, he had much to do with whipping up the passion among the American people that caused it.

"Today, with the whole world in a state of high nervousness, it is everywhere understood to be unusually useful that all inflammatory utterances be avoided. There have been wild words on both sides of the Pacific," the Chronicle declares with reference to the war the jingoistic press has been trying to bring about with Japan. "And wild words and a wild act or two might easily result in a major, and wholly unnecessary tragedy. But this does not prevent Hearst from dispensing lavishly the wild words."

REPORT IN MAGAZINE

The report of Dr. Martha Pittman, head of the department of food economics and nutrition, on modern methods of cooking meat was printed recently in "American Cookery," published in Boston. This phase of the research sponsored by the United States department of agriculture as a cooperative meat project deals with the testing of different cooking methods. An innovation is the meat thermometer. Inserted directly into the meat, it registers the temperature of the inside of the roast and one has only to wait until it indicates the correct temperature for rare, medium, or well done meat.

K-State Drops First Game To Missouri 8-3

BEER KEEPS WILDCAT BATTERS' HITS WELL SCATTERED

Two Games Today

Will Engage In Doubleheader This Afternoon—Cooley, Abbott On Mound For K. S.

The Kansas State baseball team bowed to Missouri 8 to 3 yesterday afternoon on the local diamond in the first of a three game series, to even their standing for the season. Beer, Tiger pitcher, held the Wildcat batters well in hand and they did not score until two were out in the ninth when they scored three runs on two hits and two errors.

C. H. Beyers, southpaw for the Wildcats, started his first game in varsity competition and backed by tight fielding pitched shut-out ball for four innings, allowing only two hits. In the fifth inning he developed a wild streak and four passes, a balk and a hit, abetted by an error gave the Tigers four runs.

Scott Kelleves Beyer

Beyer continued to have trouble finding the plate in the sixth inning and walked another run home. He was relieved by J. L. Scott who entered the game with the bases loaded and no outs. Scott forced the first batter to pop out to him, and then fanned the next two to retire the side without more scoring.

Scott ran into difficulty in the seventh inning when Missouri scored three hits and two errors. He was replaced in the ninth by R. G. Wilcox.

The Wildcats' rally was started by Wierenga's clean single. He scored from second when Halter Missouri's shortstop, made a wide throw to first on Winchester's grounder. Winchester stole two bases and came home when Halter threw away Stuckey's hard drive. Stuckey also tallied the third score when Wetger, Tiger centerfielder, dropped Elder's high fly after a hard run.

Beer Plays Entire Game

Beer went the route for the Tigers and allowed only eight scattered hits. He might have had a shutout had it not been for the errors of the Tiger shortstop.

This afternoon the two teams will play a double-header. The first game will make up for the contest that was rained out at Columbia two weeks ago and will go only seven innings. Play will begin at 2 o'clock.

Coach Wesley L. Fry has pitchers Frank Cooley and Lyman Abbott ready for the double bill this afternoon. Abbott won from Missouri at Columbia. The regular single game price will give admittance to today's double-header according to an announcement by Frank Meyers of the athletic department.

The Wildcat team divided a two-game series with the Cornhuskers Friday and Saturday. Friday they completely routed the Nebraska team and scored 20 runs against 3 for the Huskers. The K-State team connected for 25 hits to 8 for their opponents. Nebraska made nine errors in the game and Kansas State made five. Cooley pitched five innings for the Wildcats and allowed only one hit and struck out four batters. He was relieved by J. L. Scott who finished the game.

K. S. Loses Saturday
The Nebraska team defeated the Wildcats 8 to 7 in the nip and tuck game Saturday. The local team made a strong bid to tie the score in the ninth but failed in the attempt when Jessup was thrown out at the plate on Wierenga's single (Continued On Page Three)

A Student Editor or a Faculty Representative?

It is not generally realized among the student body just how significant a change that the creation of the Publications Board has made in student government. Few realize that it takes one of the most responsible student positions on the hill—that of the censorship of the Collegian—out of the hands of students and places it directly under the control of the administration.

The Publications Board is composed of three students and three faculty members. It has the power to appoint the editors and business managers of the Collegian and the Royal Purple.
Under the old system the Collegian board was made up of four students and one faculty member. Two of these students were elected from the student body. The remaining two were appointed to the Board as a result of their election to the presidency of Sigma Delta Chi and Theta Sigma Phi, honorary journalism organizations for men and women. The Collegian Board had the power to appoint the business manager and editor of the Collegian. A similar board was responsible for the staff positions on the Royal Purple.

The Publications Board places the power of appointing these responsible student positions directly in the hands of the faculty by putting an equal number of students and faculty members on the board. It will be generally realized by those acquainted with the situation that on any board the influence of any faculty member is at least double that of any student.

This would make little difference as far as the position of business manager on the Collegian and the staff positions on the Royal Purple are concerned. But with the editorship of the Collegian it is an entirely different matter. The editor of a paper is responsible for the policy of that paper. That policy determines whether or not the paper will be a mirror of opinion or merely a reflector of contemporary life—whether the paper is going to take an active, aggressive stand on what it believes to be right, or whether it is going to hide behind the skirts of those who hold the balance of power because it is the safer thing to do—whether the paper is going to be alive, vital, possessed with a definite personality, or a dead-alive sheet fearful of deviating the slightest from the approved lines of thought and conduct.

With the Collegian going to every student on the hill next year the editorship of the Collegian will be the most powerful position in school. If future editors are to be leaders of student thought with that thought coming from the student body rather than from the faculty, the responsibility for appointing the editor of the Collegian must be returned to the students.

It is not to be interpreted that actual censorship of the press is here inferred. The opposite is specifically provided for in the ruling that established the Publications Board. But the possibility for a more subtle form of censorship exists in the fact that the faculty, and through them the administration, are able to appoint the editor they wish. By appointing students who will be "safe"—students who will represent the faculty and administration rather than the student body—a very effectual censorship can exist.

If the Collegian is to stay a student newspaper rather than becoming an administration organ —another "Kansas Industrialist", the power of appointing the editor must be returned to the student. To do this it is not necessary to destroy entirely the present publications board.
There is no necessity for changing the present student personnel. However it is imperative that the number of faculty members be reduced.
A ratio of three or four students to one faculty member would be ideal.

The Snooper

With at least two girls each practically certain that she is the current "K" fraternity queen the interest in the party tonight waxes high—as high as most of the stags, no doubt!

The Kappas at last burst through with an original thought when they gave Claire Harris his new name, "Love in Bloom." That he really enjoys the rather doubtful distinction has the girls well pleased with their wit.

Milton Bilgers of Topeka, who is better identified as the Delt pledge who set a new record in flunk-outs last semester, returned to the campus Monday with two red-headed cuties and an A-model Ford with forty horns and a coat of red barn paint.

Bill "Frankie Fritsch" Lutz developed a new high in self-glorification with the signs he has posted about the campus concerning his baseball stardom, as he would style it. Power to you, Bill, if it keeps you happy.

Max Burk, who believes that Kappa Sigma was founded as the perfect fraternity for the perfect college man (that's Burk), was in dire distress when the Tri Delt broke down and gave him a stag bid to their spring drag—after all, they have to have some one in the stag-line.
It seems, however, that the address was Max Burk, Sigma Phi Epsilon, college. It was not until we pointed out that the Sig Eps would probably feel as badly about it as he did, that Max finally settled down to a few last frothings at the mouth.

OUR WIRES CROSSED: We were all a-twit Monday when Ellen Payne told us we had been the inspiration for a really grand poem by our old friend Paul Blackwood which is to appear in the forthcoming "Mirror" (not an adv.). So it was a bit disconcerting when she went on to say that it was after he saw us in our one vain attempt at curly hair via the wire curler route that he composed "Wires".

And it HAD to be the impeccably groomed Kay Hoffman, who faints every time she hears of a dust storm, who walked unconcernedly under a tree sprayer as she rounded a corner in Aggieville and got herself drenched with bug-spray. She was completely upset for hours!

The PiPhis had a dinner the other night and sat around and talked about themselves for a couple of hours, in what they choose to term a "Founder's Day" banquet. Just to avoid monotony, the Hedges dills had prepared a dance which they planned to give with Jean Johnson covering up their mistakes at the piano. Mary Blackman, who was toastmistress because she is never at a loss for something to say, announced the dancers. Jean played the introduction and a mately preliminary chord. No Hedgeses.
Jean played the introduction and struck the chord as if she'd like to hit the sisters. No Hedgeses. After Jean had reheard the introductions four times the girls finally bounced in the WRONG door, nearly knocking several gals over in the rush.

To date George Maddox has not yet seen the newspaper story he "wrote" and which took the combined mentalities of "Rus" Thackrey,
"Wes" Fry and Lynn Waldorf to "ghost". He confesses only a slight interest in his supposed narrative on "How I Play Tackle".

The only thing worth remembering about the military review (that is, the part of the military play-acting WE saw) is the coy manner in which Dick Jaccard managed to wave at all his little friends while he supposedly stood at attention just beyond the corner of Clark Kostner's eye.

Those Tri Delt who insist they were too "tired" to make up beds and preferred to spend the night in bath-tubs one night last week, are slipping. In the olden days a Tri Delt would never have been satisfied with a story like that.
Not they!

The thing about that Tri Delt story that intrigues us so much is just what all "Bus" Brown, of the Anna Jean Marks-Browns, knows about it. Incidentally, it was the same night that "Bus", with the aid of a few friends, staged this annual serenade, which was entirely unappreciated by his various audiences if reports can be credited.

"Though it's an old trick, habit, and custom—Lee Baker is the first to bring it to our notice this spring. It seems that Lee prefers a tux shirt to any other form of sleeping apparel, but he was a bit bothered when his brother Delt reminded him of it during the Sister dinner Sunday.

Sara Jane Antirm earned the unflinching hatred and scorn of two Chi Omega freshmen when she released their pet lizard, Myra, shortly after their triumphant capture of the little beastie Monday noon. Her self-instituted humane society nearly became extinct without any action to commemorate it when the lizard sent her running for the door when it "lizzed" when it should have "zzarded" as she expressed it later.

Gentle Gests By Elma Edwards

If we could just get that twenty-years-from-now perspective on today's little worries, life would seem a lot simpler.

Isn't it nice that quintuplets don't run in the Long family?

Some talk like small change makes a pleasant rattle, but amounts to little.

Just try those shallow steps in Fairchild to bring out the Oriental in you.

The literature of the world might be decidedly different if erasers weren't so cheap.

ing up her correspondence the way it is.

Student Gets Case of Nerves as Doom Approaches

It is a bright, sunny day (yes, we still DO have days like that occasionally) but as far as I am concerned "All de world am sad and dreary". Now I know how the condemned prisoner feels as he awaits his dreaded doom.

Twenty minutes more! A peculiar sensation has developed in the region of my stomach—as if I had swallowed a revolting door. My heart starts thumping faster than its habit. If only I wouldn't think about it!

Fifteen minutes more! And to think that I had once considered the feeling one has on the way to the dentist's unpleasant That feeling was ecstasy and joy compared to the dread that engulfed me now.

Ten minutes more; My once steady nerves have developed a tremor that would make an aspen look as steady as the rock of Gibralter by comparison. And to think that I had walked into this with my eyes wide open! I had no one but myself to blame. I had been warned but I had not heeded the warning.

Five minutes more! By now my nervous state would interest a psychiatrist. Inwardly I hope that I will be able to maintain at least a semblance of poise and not reveal my perturbation to those around me.

There! At last it has come! Dr.

"HANSEL AND GRETEL" IN AUDITORIUM TODAY

Thirteen majors in musical education and children of the Woodrow Wilson school will present "Hansel and Gretel", Humperdinck's opera, in the college auditorium today, at 4:15 p. m.

mance as she was if its first performance several weeks ago in the high school auditorium.

The Woodland dances which were a part of the first performances will not be repeated. A cutting of the original opera will be used.

GRIMES IS PRESIDENT OF THE ROTARY CLUB

Dr. W. E. Grimes, head of the agricultural economics department at the college, was elected president of the Rotary club at a recent meeting of the organization's directors. Dr. J. T. Willard, vice-

BRITISH FILM HERE

"Lover Divine," a British film, portraying the life of Prince Schubert, will be shown at the Varsity theatre on May 9, 10, and 11.

This film, the music of which is Schubert's "Unfinished Symphony," is sponsored by the Manhattan music club. The funds raised from this show will be used for the Scholarship fund of the local club.

ADD TO EXHIBIT

Dr. Julius T. Willard's "Bridegroom's Cup," a large mustache cup of white china decorated with flowers of green, blue, rose, and gold, is one of the items now in the display case in the basement of Calvin hall. Other items include a Staffordshire plate with a steamboat motif, Dresden, Delft, and Haviland ware, and a Chinese tea cup.

There is also a white Clarksville baking dish with Wedgewood design and colored measuring cups.

WRITES MAGAZINE ARTICLE

Mrs. Bessie Brooks West, professor of Institutional Economics, was the speaker at a meeting of the Retail Meat Association last week. Her subject, which was about meats, was published in the latest edition of the "Meat Dealer." Mrs. West has had several articles and speech-

Letters To Seniors

Receive Invitations to Join Alumni Association By Paying Fifty Dollars

All seniors in school have received letters asking them to sign up for a life membership to the Kansas State Alumni association, sent to them by Kenney L. Ford, alumni secretary.

There are several ways of paying the life membership pledge—graduates may pay $5.00 a month for five months or they may pay on the yearly plan, so much a year plus interest.

All the money received by the association is placed in the student loan fund which is used to help students to enroll in school. During the first week of the first semester of this year students borrowed about $9,000. This semester during enrollment week about $7,000 were loaned. Approximately $4,000 have been borrowed at other times during the year.

Members of the association receive the Industrialist, official college publication, for a lifetime, and through its pages keep up with the news of the college. The association also sponsors meetings of alumni all over the United States.

JESSON IN PROGRAM

Richard R. Jesson, of the music faculty, will play on the program Thursday at the bi-annual conference of the American Guild of Organists. This conference includes three states: Texas, Oklahoma, and Kansas.

Dalles Frantz, pianist; and Mile.
Renee Nizan, organist, are the two guest artists who will be present.

Make Staff Change

First Lieut. Carl Frank Will Take The Place of First Lieut.
H. H. Myrah

A change in the Kansas State military department that will bring a former Kansas State student,
First Lieut. Carl Frank, to replace First Lieut. H. H. Myrah, was announced recently by Lieut. Col.
John S. Sullivan.

Lieutenant Frank returned recently to the United States from Panama where for three years he has been on duty in the Coast Artillery corps. He is due here tomorrow to visit his parents, Col. and Mrs. George Frank of this city. He has been on leave in Los Angeles.
At the military department yesterday it was unknown where Lieutenant Myrah would be detailed.

Many Spectacular Photographs From Other Nations Here

Hot rays of sun on a sifty mountain of sulphur, with steel cranes and a slanty, shadowy building and a sand truck in the background—that's from Boston, Massachusetts.
A quiet still-faced woman with her hands resting lightly on the strings of a huge harp—it's from Stockholm, Sweden. For black and white shadows in many different intensities and forms from countries all over the world and many parts of the United States go to make up one of the most arresting exhibitions of photography ever brought to Kansas State college.

The Manhattan Camera club is sponsoring this exhibition of prints which is on display in room 68 in Anderson Hall. All of these prints have been reproduced in The American Annual of Photography for 1935. The collection will be on display until April 30.

One hundred prints go to make up this exhibition. Still life, landscapes, portraits, are all represented. A glimpse into the life and emotions of many countries can be seen through those bits of photography as only a camera can see them. For instance: from Bombay, Italy, comes a picture of oxen contentedly standing in hay, eating, while streams of sunlight cast a bright glow over the very crude surroundings, and then a glimpse of a fishing boat with a peculiar reflection of sun on the waves, from Hungary.

A soulful pained expression in the eyes of a bloodhound with huge shadowy ears is the center of at-

2-Mile Relay Team Wins At Drake Carnival

O'REILLY, K. S. ANCHOR MAN, OVERCOMES OPPONENTS' LEAD

Fourth In 4-Mile

Four Mile Relay Team Runs Behind Indiana, Drake and Ohio State

The Kansas State college track squad won the two-mile relay and placed fourth in the four-mile relay against some of the best collegiate track talent in the country at the Drake relay carnival held at Des Moines last Friday and Saturday. Coach Ward Haylett's crack two-mile team composed of Bruce Nelson, Lloyd Eberhart, Robert Dill, and Justus O'Reilly nosed out Oklahoma and Notre Dame to win the race in 7:46.8.

O'Reilly, the Kansas State anchor man picked up from third place to finish a yard in front of the Oklahoma runner who came in second. The time was about two seconds slower than the record established by the same Wildcat team in the Kansas Relays last Saturday which Coach Haylett says is the best two-mile relay performance in college competition so far this season.

Indiana Takes First
The Wildcat four-mile team made up of Bill Wheelock, Harold Redfield, Charles Robinson, and O'Reilly were beat out by Indiana which took first, Drake which placed second, and Ohio State which came in third.

K-State did not compete in the distance medley relay because Coach Haylett thought it best to save his men for the 2-mile event. Had Clinton Roehman cleared the bar at the pegs he went out on he would have placed fourth in the high jump. Bill Hemphill competed in the semi-finals in the discus throw but did not qualify for the final round.

Jesse Owens, negro flash from Ohio State, established a new American record for the broad jump with a leap of 26 feet, 1 3/4 inches, Friday and won the 100-yard dash in record time for individual scoring honors. Sam Allen, speedster from Oklahoma Baptist college of Shawnee Oklahoma, who won the hurdles event at both the Texas and Kansas relays, tied the 120-yard high hurdles mark of 14.4 seconds which he shared with the late George Saling, Olympic champion from the University of Iowa.

Annual Track Meet Saturday

KANSAS STATE, NEBRASKA, AND KANSAS UNIVERSITY COMPETE HERE

A combination triangular-dual track meet between Kansas State, Nebraska, and Kansas will give fans of the cinder path a chance to see many of the outstanding Big Six track and field stars in action Saturday afternoon on Ahearn field.

All events of the regular Big Six track meet with the exception of the half mile relay will be included on the program. Scoring will be on a double basis; one score on the basis of a dual meet between Kansas State and Nebraska, Kansas State and Kansas, and the other as a regular triangular meet.

With the exception of the Big Six conference meet, this meet should be the outstanding track event of this section of the country, according to Coach Ward Haylett. These three schools with Oklahoma are the outstanding contenders for Big Six outdoor track honors, and the results of Saturday's meet should give a fair indication of the strength of the opposition.

Big Six Stars in Action
Some of the outstanding of last year's outdoor and this year's indoor stars who will be seen in action are:

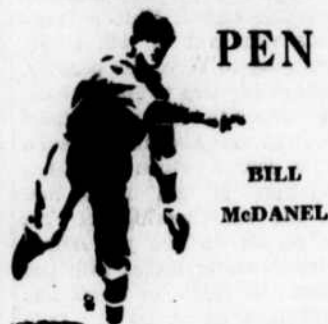

For Kansas—Noble, in the pole vault, winner of the K. U. Relays in this event with the height of 13 feet 5 inches; Dees, in the shot-put, winner of the K. U. and Drake Relays, best heave over 51 feet; Pitts, winner of the Big Six indoor broadjump this season; Gray, tied for first in the pole vault last year, and an outstanding contender in this event this year; Wellhausen, tied for first in the high jump at the conference indoor meet; McCaskill, state high school 440 yard champion in '33, running his first year in the Big Six; Graves, 440 yard dash, state high school champion in '32.

Outstanding Nebraska entries are Rist, and Francis, in the shot-put. Francis was national high school champion with the 12 pound shot in '33; Chambers, javelin, second place winner at Texas Relays; Cardwell, broad jump, his leap of 24 feet and 2 1/2 inches failed to place at the Drake relays Saturday. In this same event is Warnke, who has covered 24 feet 1-4 inch this season. Funk, middle distance star, second place winner in the 1500 meter event at the K. U. relays; Jacobson, star 100-yard dash man may not be able to compete because of leg injuries received at the Drake relays.

Against this galaxy of stars Kansas State, winner of the indoor conference meet, has Captain Joe Knappenberger, winner of the conference high and low hurdles. O'Reilly, star miler, and Wheelock, outstanding two-miler. Members of the Kansas State, two-mile relay team will be used in the individual events as there is no two-mile relay in the conference meet.

THE BULL PEN

It is exceedingly unfortunate for Kansas State that the National Collegiate track and field meet does not list the two-mile relay as one of its events. So far this season, State has shown itself the cream of the two-mile teams throughout the country. Improving steadily after a bad start in which the team lost a slow race to the Emporia Teachers, the quartet of half-milers, including Nixon, Eberhart, Dill, and O'Reilly, have since remained undefeated.

At the Kansas Relays, the K-State established a new relay carnival record in a thrilling finish with the University of Arizona. Last weekend at the Drake Relays, Coach Haylett's proteges won the two-mile event in what was called one of the most evenly matched races ever seen. Arizona and Indiana set a blistering pace at the start, with Oklahoma and Notre Dame forging ahead later as pace-makers. State lagged close behind but a brilliant spurt in the home stretch by Justus O'Reilly sent the Wildcat team home a winner.

Comparative times show that Kansas State covered the two-miles three seconds faster than the winner of the Penn Relays, also held last weekend. The best schools of the east, south, middle-west, south-west, and far west were represented at these three relay carnivals. Further time comparison will show that at the present time State has the fastest two-mile team in the country. However, it appears as if our potential collegiate champs must remain in an obscure position for the rest of the season, content to win its remaining contests (if any more are run) and claim a mythical title.

Aside for Jesse Owen's phenomenal leap to a new American record in the broad jump, Coach Ward Haylett said he thought the most outstanding thing about the Drake Relays was the fact that "No one school dominated the university class relays." The seven relay titles went to seven different schools ranging from California to Michigan and as far south as Texas. Even the highly touted University of Iowa relay team which broke two world's records at the Kansas Relays failed to win both its favorite races.

SPORT SHOTS

Not a single bottle of pop was sold in Yankee stadium on opening day. . . . Link Lyman, new line coach at Nebraska, halted spring practice long enough the other day to buy a horse for $90. . . . He sold it for $250 the same day. . . . Some ardent Wildcat baseball fan pulled this one at the Nebraska game last Saturday "Isn't Babe Ruth a pitcher?" . . . for your information, Yes! (about fifteen years ago). . . . Cleveland has the tallest pitching staff, 10 men over 6 feet, and the smallest catcher, Frank Pytlak, 5 feet 6 inches, in the major leagues. . . . Lynn Waldorf is back in town again. . . . the University of Missouri will start next season with 8 Touchdowns. Miss Touchdown, the team's dog mascot, has presented the team with seven little Touchdowns. . . . to us that sounds like a big handicap to give, even to old Mizzi, in next year's football race. . . . a fan gave Frank Lamanske, Brooklyn pitcher, a coin 1,000 years old as a good luck charm. . . . Frank promptly dropped it into a slot machine, winning the jack pot. . . . The poorest of Jesse Owens' jumps at the Drake Relays was still 8 inches better than the best produced by the entrant who placed second.

Frosh Tournament Starts Wednesday

third places in boxing. A sweater will be given for first in wrestling, and medals for second and third. So far 101 Freshmen have sent in entry blanks, 45 boxers and 56 wrestlers. Wrestling entries are evenly divided but in the boxing division there is still a scarcity in the heavy and 126 pound classes.

Win Golf Match

Season Opener Is Won by Kansas State Over Nebraska 9-7 Last Friday

In their first intercollegiate match of the season, the Kansas State golf team won a nine to seven victory from the Nebraska university team last Friday on the Manhattan country club course. The three point scoring system was used in this match.

Competition was close throughout the entire match with the Wildcat team leading all the way. The score was six to five in favor of the Kansas State golfers at noon when the singles matches had been completed: In the afternoon, after the first foursome play was completed the lead was raised to nine, but the second match went to Nebraska leaving the final score nine to seven in favor of the Kansas golfers. The low medal score for the match was shot by Willard Kramer of Nebraska with a card of 71 in the morning and 75 in the afternoon round. The scores of the others: T. D. Williams, Kansas State, 73-75; Roger Crow, Kansas State, 72-77; Bob Phillips, Kansas State, 75-75; Bill Glenn, Nebraska, 76-74; Whitey Reed, Nebraska, 76-76; Jerry Hunt, Nebraska, 76-77; and Barney Hays, 79-80.

STUDENTS

Now is the time when you are planning your late Spring and early Summer shopping. Before you buy, look over the ads in the Collegian. They are the messages of reliable merchants and business men who carry merchandise students want and need. The items they quote are priced right—otherwise they would find it inadvisable to advertise them. In most instances you will find Manhattan merchants quoting prices at marked savings compared to prices in the larger cities. This is not the boast of the local merchant, it is actual comparison. Again, we say, look through the ads in your Collegian before you buy. It will profit you to do so.

Mr. Merchant

Are you taking sufficient lineage in the Collegian? Local merchants who have used the Collegian advertising columns most consistently this year have found the results entirely satisfactory. It is their stores where the students are found shopping. Collegian advertising pays the man who wants to get student business. One of the most recent proofs of the worth of Collegian advertising was found in the Student Council election held at the college last week. The number of votes received by the different candidates varied almost in direct proportion to the amount of money spent for Collegian advertising. The two candidates who placed well ahead of the rest of the ticket spent the most—none of those who felt they could not afford to advertise were elected.

If there is any information you would like to know regarding rates, terms, etc.—

NEWSPAPERS EXPOSE HEARST'S ATTEMPTS TO START UP WAR

(Continued From Page One) J. William Terry, the writer of the piece about Hearst, exposes the various attempts to bring about the Mexican war, and the lies and forgeries used to arouse the public into a fighting mood. He exposes the direct connections between munitions makers, the jingoistic press and patriotic societies. And the efforts to arouse international hatreds over everything from national honor to the mistreatment of women and children by "foreigners" are exposed.

"Wars are made by newspaper headlines," someone has said," quotes Mr. Terry. Today the war-farmer Mr. Hearst owns 23 newspapers, whereas he formerly had but two. That means that there are over four million readers who can be goaded into battle with the jingoist's misinformation concerning world affairs.

AT THE VARSITY "Laddie"

Gene Stratton Porter's simple love story, "Laddie," has been realistically produced on the screen and is now showing at the Varsity theater. For lovers of this popular novel, the movie's interpretation will not be a disappointment. Each character introduces to the audience the Laddie, the Pamela, and the Little Sister which the novel has for so long presented to its readers.

John Beal, the sincere "Little Minister," who again plays a similar role as "Laddie," is well qualified for this part. His ardent loyalty to his profession, a tiller of the soil—his understanding of Little Sister, whose fancies he could interpret—and his love for Pamela, are well presented. Little Sister holds the leading "attention role" throughout the show.

For movie-goers wishing to spend two hours in an idealistic setting, "Laddie" is advised.

AT THE DICKINSON

"Go Into Your Dance"

A conceited Broadway singer with a tendency toward leaving shows flat on opening night and a weakness for women and horse races—that's Al Jolson in the opening scenes of "Go Into Your Dance," now showing at the Dickinson. He drops the first habit when he starts producing his own show starring the great Al—himself—but the second little foible stays with him well on into the picture. And he picks a dangerous time to "come to," because it's the wife of his gangster-brother whose embraces he tardily refuses. Result—the woman scorned tells hubby that his money is wasted, that Al's 100,000 dollar night club isn't opening. She thinks she's telling the truth, and she is, almost. Then one of those last minute miracles unfolds itself. The show goes on—but not until the husband-gangster-producer has dispatched two of his trusty men to "bump off" our Al.

But Ruby Keeler and Glenda Farrell have struggled all through the show to save Al from himself, and Ruby finishes the job for him here. The show ends with everybody happy, audience included. It's corking good entertainment, and two of Al's songs are worth hearing many times—"About Quarter to Nine," and "She's a Latin from Manhattan." Glenda Farrell is the hard-boiled saviour-sister, and Ruby Keeler is well-cast as the faithful little hoover who does guard duty for Al and his mistakes, loves him through everything, and, of him through everything, and, of brilliant, fast moving, thoroughly enjoyable show.—K. K.

Members of the committee in charge of the dinner are Mrs. R. W. Conover, Mrs. E. L. Holton, Mrs. Wendell Beals, Dorothy Barfoot, Helen Elcock, and Mrs. Laura Baxter.

Nebraska And Kansas University Here Tomorrow For Triangular Meet

EVENT WILL ALSO BE SCORED AS A TRIPLE DUAL

K-State Is Strong

Cornhuskers and Wildcats Expected To Fight It Out—Winner May Be Conference Champ

Three of the four strongest contenders for Big Six outdoor track honors will stage a triangular triple-dual track meet here tomorrow at 2 o'clock when Kansas State, Nebraska and Kansas meet in their eighth annual triangular track meet on Memorial stadium track.

Fans of the cinder path will have an opportunity to see one of the best contests in this section of the country according to Coach Ward Haylett.

Five Out of Seven to K. U.

The meet was started in 1925 and has been an annual affair since with the exception of 1929, '30, and '31. The University of Kansas teams have won five of the seven meets with Nebraska taking the other two, and Kansas State placing third in all meets.

The outcome will be a good indicator of the strength to be shown by the leading contenders in the Big Six games at Lincoln May 17 and 18. Oklahoma, the other contender for conference honors, is the only team missing from the meet to make it virtually a conference meet with the four strongest teams in the race.

K-State a Strong Contender

Haylett's team will enter the meet with its best chance of victory since the triangle contest was started. Kansas State and Nebraska appear to be the teams to fight it out for first place but a greatly improved Kansas team gives every indication of being in the money.

Although champions of the indoor meet the Wildcats will go up against a handicap tomorrow with the addition of the 220-yard dash, and the discus and javelin events. Nebraska weight men will probably dominate in the discus and javelin and add a few more points in the shotput.

Fanning Will Compete

Fanning, sophomore weight man for Kansas State, is just recovering from measles and probably will not be able to near his old marks. A further handicap to the Wildcats chances is the difficulty Captain Joe Knappenberger is still experiencing in getting over the hurdles with his injured leg.

The Jayhawk squad will have the additional support of Noble, Gray and Wellhausen who did not compete during most of the indoor season because of basketball duties. Noble and Gray are leading contenders in the conference for pole vaulting honors.

Dees in Shotput

Other stars who will appear in action are: Dees, K. U. who holds the Kansas and Drake Relays record in the shotput with a heave of over 51 feet; in this same event will be Rist and Francis of Nebraska. Cardwell and Chambers, both of Nebraska in the broad jump and javelin respectively.

The scoring of the meet will be on a double basis, as a dual between Kansas State and Nebraska, Kansas State and Kansas, and as a regular triangular meet. In the triangle meet fourth place scoring will be used.

The Entries.

For Kansas State:
100-yard dash—Knappenberger, Jensen, Hall, and Worrell.
220-yard dash—Jensen, Hall, Worrell, and Knappenberger.
440-yard dash—Nixon, Rooks, Worrell, Sweet, and Peters.
880-yard dash—O'Reilly, Dill, Eberhart, Messick, and Sweet.

Today W. H. Riddell and W. J. Caulfield are on a similar inspection trip with about fifty senior veterinary students.

John Stuart Curry Presents Art Works To Friends Of Art

Five art works, including a water color and four lithographs were presented to the Kansas State college art collection by John Stuart Curry, noted Kansas painter, it was announced at a meeting of the Friends of Art here Tuesday afternoon.

The gift, made through Curry's agent, the Ferargil galleries in New York was presented to show the artist's appreciation to the natives of his home state because of the fact that, in spite of hard times, they collected enough money by public subscription to buy an oil painting of his for the Kansas State collection.

The water color, "Horses in a Pasture," was sent framed and is an excellent study of a Kansas pasture on a bright day. "Hounds and Coyote," "Coyotes Stealing a Pig," "Ajax," and "To the Train," are the lithographs.

The announcement of two additional gifts by Ronald Adams was made at the meeting of the art group. Other art works acquired by the college in the last year were exhibited.

A woodblock, "Woodside Shack," which will be presented to dues paying members by Herschel Logan, Salina, was also shown. Dues for non-students were announced to be $1 and for students 50 cents.

FRED BENSON GIVEN SENIOR RECOGNITION

Fred Benson, Grainfield, was awarded senior honor recognition by the civil engineers for having the highest grades in the department at a "smoker" held last night in the Community hall. F. W. Epps, secretary of the Kansas section of American Society of Civil Engineers, made the presentation to Benson, who will have his entrance fee into the American Society of Civil Engineers paid by the Kansas section.

Professors L. E. Conrad, civil engineering department; L. V. White, civil engineering department; and H. B. Summers, public speaking department, were speakers. M. W. Furr made the announcements, and the college Y. M. C. A. quartette furnished music. George Epps, son of F. W. Epps, was present from the University of Kansas chapter.

GOLFERS TO MEET K. U. TOMORROW AT TOPEKA

Coach Mike Ahearn will take the same group of golfers that defeated Nebraska 9 to 7 last Friday to the White Lakes course in Topeka tomorrow to meet the club swingers from the University of Kansas. This will be the second match of the season for both teams.

Bob Phillips, captain of the 1935 team, Roger Crow, T. D. Williams, and Barney Hays are the men who will compete against the Jayhawkers.

Williams was low scorer for the Wildcats in last weeks competition with 73 on the first 18 holes and 75 on the next. Crow was next low with 72-77, with Phillips 75-75, and Hays with 77-80 following.

The daily improvement of the Kansas State golfers is exceeding Coach Ahearn's fondest hopes. Golf is a Big Six sport this year and a championship will be awarded.

BREWER TELLS ABOUT STATE LEGISLATURE

Representative C. C. Brewer of Manhattan was the speaker at the monthly meeting of Alpha Kappa Psi professional fraternity, Tuesday evening at the Phi Kappa house. Brewer explained the routine and functions of the state legislature. He gave the members a view of the legislature as they would see it if they would visit a session.

Following his talk a business meeting was held, and plans were made for initiation to be held next Tuesday evening. A banquet will be held at the Wareham hotel, after the initiation, and the election of officers for the next year will be held at that time.

TO INSTALL CABINET

Installation services for new cabinet members of the Y. M. C. A. will be held in Recreation Center Tuesday evening, May 7, at 7:15 o'clock. Music will be furnished by a male quartet, and a demonstration of magic will be presented by V. R. Hurst. All Y. M. C. A. members are invited.

770 LOANS ARE MADE FROM ALUMNI MONEY

Approximately 770 loans have been made to students from the alumni loan fund in the past eight months according to Dr. W. E. Grimes, '13, treasurer. Some students have received more than one loan, however about 400 are represented in this number.

Students are economizing and borrowing the least amount they can possibly get along with at the present time, consequently the loans this year have averaged smaller in amount than in years preceding the depression, said the treasurer. To date, no loans have been charged off as uncollectable and few are in arrears. Payments are received from all states of the union and from many foreign lands.

TO ART CONVENTION

The annual meeting of the Kansas State Federation of Art will be held at Salina tomorrow. Prof. Paul Weigel who is president of the organization and Prof. John Helm, Jr., who is secretary-treasurer, will attend.

Edith Fritz, art major, who teaches home economics in Bazine, brought a class of 13 sophomore girls to visit the college Friday and Saturday.

A change in the procedure of honorary chapels at Kansas State college is being instituted in today's assembly at 10 o'clock in the college auditorium. Honor students will sit in the pit rather than on the platform as heretofore, and no individual recognition will be given to either teams or persons. Dean L. E. Call, of the department of agriculture, representing Kansas State college will express the thanks of the institution to the honor winners.

Dean E. L. Holton, of the department of education, will give the main address which is entitled "A New Deal in Education". ### FACULTY MAKES PICTURES

Sets of three pictures from each instructor of the art department comprise the exhibit on display in A-68. This exhibit was sent to the Western Art Association convention in Chicago in April.

ETCHINGS, ENGRAVINGS OF ADAMS EXHIBITED

An exhibition of etchings and engravings of Ronald Adams, graduate of Kansas State college in 1930, is on display in the gallery of architecture in the engineering building. "Mr. Adams' work shows very careful draftsmanship, beautiful technique, and reveals the architect's approach to his subjects," declared Prof. John Helm, Jr. "His picture are admirably adapted to home use."

Mr. Adams has recently given two of his etchings to the Friends of Art.

Following the Ronald Adams exhibit Robert I. Lockard's water colors will be on display. Mr. Lockard is a former graduate and assistant instructor of Kansas State college who is now assistant to the director of the William Rockhill Nelson Art Gallery.

Graduation Plans Revised For This Year

DATES ARE CHANGED FOR CONVENIENCE OF VISITORS

Diplomas May 27

Spakers Will Be President Farrell—Rev. Francis C. Kelley of Oklahoma City in Baccalaureate

Important changes have been made in plans and dates for the seventy-second annual commencement of Kansas State college. Eleven graduating classes will have reunions. The major changes are the transferring of alumni day to the Saturday preceding baccalaureate instead of the Wednesday following and setting the date of commencement exercises up from Thursday to Monday.

Alumni day will be Saturday, May 25, baccalaureate services will be Sunday, May 26, and graduation exercises will be Monday, May 27. The baccalaureate sermon will be by the Rev. Francis C. Kelley of Oklahoma City, bishop of Oklahoma City and Tulsa. The commencement speaker will be Dr. F. D. Farrell, president of the college.

Expect a Larger Crowd

Those in charge of commencement believe that the changes in date will be more convenient and time saving for all alumni, and will make it possible for many more to be present. The new calendar is expected to be more convenient for parents and other relatives and friends of members of the graduating class to be here for baccalaureate and commencement on successive days, rather than remaining from Sunday to Thursday, inclusive.

Continuing a practice started last year, both baccalaureate and commencement exercises will be held in Memorial stadium instead of in the college auditorium as was the practice for years. This will make it possible to accommodate all visitors, and an unusually large group is expected to attend those activities and the various alumni gatherings.

To Hold Class Reunions

This year the classes of '80, '85, '90, '00, '10, '15, '20, '25, and '30 will have reunions, according to E. A. Allen, '87, president of the K. S. C. alumni association. Each of the eleven chairmen of the welcoming committees for each five year reunion group has written a letter to members of the class. The chairmen are:

Class of 1880, Emma Knostman Huse; class of 1885, Carrie Secrest Hungerford; class of 1890, Bertha Kimball Dickens; class of 1895, Ada Rice; class of 1900, C. M. Correll; class of 1905, A. F. Turner; class of 1910, E. H. Dearborn; class of 1915, James W. Linn; class of 1920, C. J. Medlin; class of 1925, Frank L. Myers; class of 1930, R. D. Caughron.

ROY LANGFORD HEADS FRIENDS OF ART GROUP

Dr. Roy C. Langford was elected president of the Friends of Art at the annual meeting held in Recreation Center Tuesday afternoon.

Other officers elected are: vice president, Charles Matthews; and secretary-treasurer, Thirza Mossman. Arthur Peine and Mrs. Guy Varney were elected the two members at large. Prof. Paul Weigel and Prof. Dorothy Barfoot are permanent members.

At this meeting the Herschel Logan print to be given to each 1935-36 member was shown, as well as the later acquisitions of the Friends of Art, the prints given by John Stuart Curry.

High Schools Send Groups To Annual Hospitality Week

Former Graduate Making Good As Sports Writer

Paul Gartner, journalism graduate in 1928 from Kansas State college and former captain of the Wildcat track team, has become a successful writer for outdoor sport magazines.

Gartner is a regular contributor to six or seven national outdoor magazines, including Field and Stream, Outdoor Life, National Sportsman, Popular Mechanics, Hunting and Fishing. He averages about two articles a month and has 21 articles sold to magazines and awaiting publication.

Last August he published a book called "First Aid Afield". He is planning a new book on approaching outdoor sports from a juvenile viewpoint.

He was chosen last autumn by a New York writer as one of the nation's 15 leading authors of fishing articles. The K. S. C. graduate was twelve years younger than any of the others. He is credited with writing on a greater variety of outdoor sports than any other person. Much of his material comes from a two month trip that he makes each autumn into British Columbia.

He recently became the fourth person to be made honorary captain of the Santa Monica police force because of the publicity that he has given his home town.

Team From Newton Wins Third Time

Earns Title in Vocational Agriculture Contest Third Straight Year

The Newton high school judging team won the vocational agriculture judging contest, in which more than 70 teams took part, in connection with the annual state meeting of the Future Farmers association here this week. This is the third consecutive year that Newton has won the contest. The Newton team finished first in the poultry and crops judging contests.

Oberlin high school won the farm mechanics contest. Newton and Oberlin were announced as winners at the banquet given for the 600 high school students and their coaches Tuesday night at the community house by the Manhattan Chamber of Commerce. W. A. Cocheil, editor of the Weekly Kansas City Star, was the principal speaker on the program. Music on the program was furnished by students from Fairview, Smith Center, and Ottawa.

Paul Renish, Newton, was high individual in the vocational agriculture contests and Michael Younger, Quinter, was second. Quinter high school was first in the dairy division of the contests with Max Dawdy, Washington, high individual. Eugene Temple, Howard, was high ranking judge in the poultry division.

In the animal husbandry judging, Fredonia and Pratt high schools tied for first place and individual honors were taken by Junior Nory, Pratt, who won over John Banbury, a teammate, by one point.

Newton high school was far ahead of the rest in the crops division contest. Maynard Reinecke, Ottawa, was high scorer, but was closely followed by Aaron Schmidt and Paul Renish of the Newton group who tied for second.

B. McCartney and H. Brown composed the two-man team for Oberlin which won in the farm mechanics contest. H. Brown, Oberlin, was high individual in all contests in farm mechanics. B. McCartney, a teammate followed him closely. Twenty-four Future Farmers of America members were raised from the rank of Future Farmer to that of a State Farmer at the banquet, and the newly elected officers of the organization took their new duties.

Student Goats

A hundred football men, wearing Oglethorpe university uniforms, recently yanked a visiting lecturer from the platform and shoved him on a street car back to Emory university. The speaker was scheduled to discuss communism before the International Relations Club of Oglethorpe.

This revolting display of intolerance and suppression of speech was not enough.

"It was a most refreshing exhibition of a good, old-fashioned Americanism," said the university president, Thorne Jacobs, giving his approval to the action of the "muscle men" called into stop a speaker whose topic was not in accordance with the administration's views.

Within the past few months, Louisiana State, City College of New York, the University of California at Los Angeles, Denver, Columbia, and Santa Clara have been among those who have not hesitated to show that they will control student opinion by force if necessary—not unlike the control of speech and press under European dictatorship.

The danger to education is apparent. The threat to personal liberty is more appalling. Faculty domination is but a step from governmental domination. Already Wisconsin, Massachusetts and New York have considered bills which, if passed, would have proven weapons against freedom of speech.

Students, goaded on by yellow journalists behind the "red scare," have been led to fascism in their endeavors to be "real Americans." They have been the willing goats for those who would suppress dissenting opinion for their personal gains. At Oglethorpe as at U. C. L. A., they have been taught to use force to break up intelligent discussions with which they might disagree—shades of storm troops.

Do the students, acting for the administration, realize that under the guise of "Americanism" they are actually bringing us close to fascism and away from the real principles which form the basis of American democracy?

MERELY ANALYZING THE SITUATION

The passing of Joe College and the "rah rah" halo which hovered over camp for many years was officially recorded recently by Dr. Walter A. Jessup in his first report as president of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching.

Dr. Jessup's report indicated his belief that the boy who went to college to enjoy life and obtain some social luster, to gain that certain degree of sophistication and to offer to die at any time for dear old Alma Mater, is disappearing from the campus.

To the present-day college student this is not news. Though not impressed with any great biological difference between him and his predecessor, the college student of today has sensed a change that has come over the campus, and its inhabitants, even in the few short years that he has known it. The analysis of this change, as carried out by Dr. Jessup and others, however, does throw some light on the problems that have been prevalent on the campuses of recent years.

In fact some of these analyses confirm present undergraduate action and stand as a defense against the criticism that alumni of the "halo era" often heap upon the students of today. Many of the so-called traditions, dear to the hearts of the older alumni, have been trampled under foot by the staid tread of today's students.

The abolition of the prep cap and off-campus day on our own campus stand as notable examples in this respect.

On other campuses, especially in the east, a decreasing emphasis on fraternity membership is also being interpreted as a result of the advent of the more thoughtful and serious type of student. Always noted as being one of the more reserved institutions in the middle west, this tradition probably will not be in evidence at Iowa State for some years to come, if ever.

And another reaction, often misinterpreted by those not acquainted with the situation, is the greater independence of thought among college students of today. Behind the screaming headlines of communism, fascism and "red" one is more likely to find a wholesome interest in the affairs of the world than any nefarious intents on the present social structure of the nation of the world.

It's simply that the college student is doing more thinking.

—The Iowa State Student.

The Snooper

It was Virginia "Harpo" Maser who was worried about double pneumonia on rainy Monday after she discovered that she had a hole in each shoe.

The traditional senior sneak day comes on Tuesday, May 7, this year. Though the day is supposedly spent in gay get-togethers, we'll lay a small one on the side that the sissies cram for those last minute quizzes now coming up and the boat of us just SLEEP.

Ben Sellers, Acacia Ace, is getting a jolt out of this one that's all out of proportion. It seems, says Ben, that four men were shipwrecked in mid-ocean. Without food or water, they managed, however, to dig up three cigarettes among them. Lack of matches made the find valueless until one of them had a bright idea and threw one of the cigarettes overboard, making the boat a cigarette lighter.

LOST: (See Monday's Mercury-Chronicle) Black car robe Sat. Sunset park. Reward. Dial 2-6157, after 6, 3-8475. Katherine Geyer, instructor of the phys. ed. department, is listed for both numbers. You figure it out.

One of our Aggie co-eds (Sorry we didn't get the name) has been enrolled in one of Dr. Nabours' classes all semester. When she arrived late one morning she slipped into a seat near the door rather than cause annoyance by crossing the room to her assigned seat in a far corner. After class, Nabours, with a fine show of friendliness, approached the girl and after a cordial welcome ventured the hope that she was enjoying her visit to college classes for the day. The girl's ego has been considerably deflated ever since.

Jimmie McCampbell may not have enjoyed it at the time but he has had a good time ever since telling about how he sat on a fire extinguisher at play practice one night. It seems the dern thing went off and smothered the lad in a blanket of obnoxious fumes. It the extinguisher had only lived up to its name we might have been spared the details.

Not that we feel the Home Ecers are being pretentious, but isn't it carrying things a bit far to designate two days as Hospitality "Week"?

The Betas are making their spring frolic a house dance Saturday night next. At that it's probably easier than having to transport the stuff to a hotel room. They were bothered no end at their Pig Dinner and dance earlier in the year, so they're making experience count.

One of our buddies was a bit bothered when he discovered that the Tri Deltis have invited fourteen more guests to their dinner than they can possibly seat. In fact, it was several minutes before we remembered the time-honored "cellar-gang". The number has been raised, though, since hard times!

Fred Perry, more noted for his poetry than his wit—and the former doesn't rime, has canceled the Palace from his calling list since he discovered their new shipment of straws won't twist up as well as the last.

The newest chain letter demands that you send a blond to the top name. Imagine getting 16,687 blonds in the mail. Now if it was Snooper items—or even gum drops—how we'd fall for it!

Journalists awarded their AP (apple-polishing) cup on their picnic last night and chose Max Burke to make the presentation speech. He managed a brick-red shade when an unanimous vote gave him the trophy. Since he thought the idea up in the first place there is some cause for his discomfiture.

Gentle Gests By Elma Edwards

Vacant Vera says she doesn't make very good grades in the courses she takes, but sometimes she's the only member in the class that answers those rhetorical questions.

The response that these chain letters are getting among college students would lead one to believe that all an education can do for a sucker is to teach him to bite.

Then there is the boy who studies his current history lesson while he waits for his call to go through at Van Zile hall.

Vacant Vera doesn't see why it doesn't rain. According to that conservation of energy law they passed when she was back in high school that water has to be someplace.

A big town is one in which everybody in the block can turn on the faucets at the same time and get a steady stream of water.

Then there was the boy who lacked what the psychologists call scope. He started to caper on the pavement when he read the sign on the back of the city bus "Go Into Your Dance" now.

Start Meet Monday

Intramural Outdoor Event To End Tuesday—Allow Five Entries For Each Group

The intramural outdoor track meet will be held on Ahearn field Monday and Tuesday afternoons. Events will begin at 4:15 o'clock.

Entry blanks were sent out Wednesday. So far only one has been returned, the Betas having entered all events but the pole vault. Each organization is allowed five men in each event. Last year there were 177 participants.

Events to be held Monday are the 100 yard dash, broad jump, pole vault, shot, 440 yard dash, and mile run. The qualifying distance for the broad jump is 15 feet, for the pole vault 8 feet, and for the shot put 25 feet.

Tuesday will see the 200 yard dash, high jump, discus, low hurdles, half mile, and half mile relay. A qualifying jump of 4 feet 7 inches is required for the high jump, while a throw of 60 feet is necessary to qualify for entry in the discus event.

Intramural hard baseball is nearing the finals with Alpha Gamma Rho out in front in the first group and the Aggie Knights leading the Independent group. Alpha Gamma Rho defeated Sigma Alpha Epsilon Wednesday night 4-2, and will play Phi Sigma Kappa Saturday in a game which will decide the first group championship.

In softball Sigma Phi Epsilon and Delta Tau Delta are leading their respective groups, while in the third group Phi Kappa Tau is tied with W. F. A. C., each having won three games, and Kappa Sigma and Delta Sigma Phi are even in the last group with two games won and one lost.

K. S. GRADS TEACHING

At the weekly meeting of the Kiwanis Club, Dr. George Gemmell, head of the home study department at Kansas State college, said that the number of Kansas State college graduates teaching in junior colleges had increased from one to thirty in the last seven years. The number was taken from the junior colleges in Kansas alone.

The students from Kansas junior colleges that are attending KSC now has increased to 300. Hutchinson junior college has the largest delegation with thirty here in school at the present time.

Missouri And KS Split Twin Bill Tuesday

WIN SECOND GAME 6 TO 2
AFTER DROPPING OPEN-ER 3 TO 2

To Lincoln Today

Scott or Abbott Scheduled to Start
On Mound for Kansas State
This Afternoon

The Kansas State college baseball team won the second game from Missouri 6 to 2 in Tuesday afternoon's double-header on the home diamond after dropping the opener 2 to 3. Frank Cooley went the route in the nightcap and showed good form in his second victory of the season. Missouri collected eleven scattered hits but could tally only in the second inning, when they grouped four straight.

Score in First Inning
The Wildcats scored twice in the first inning on a walk and two errors and went out in front to stay when Jessup circled the bases in the fourth after the left-fielder let his double down the foul line roll by. Stevens scored for Kansas State in the sixth, and they collected two more runs from four consecutive hits in the eighth inning to sew-up the game.

A Missouri rally was halted in the seventh when Jessup picked up a slow-rolling bunt to tag Lawhon coming in. The Wildcat catcher made another putout at the plate in the same inning when Cooley relayed a dropped fly from the outfield.

Wetger, who pitched for Missouri, allowed only six hits but Kansas State took advantage of them to tally that many runs. Each team made three errors in the game.

Scott Holds Tigers to Seven Hits
J. L. Scott gave only seven hits in the opening game but his team-mates could get to McLagan of Missouri for only three. The Tigers scored two runs in the first inning on an error two passes and a single. McLagan won his own ballgame in the fourth period when he singled to get on and was scored by two singles.

Stevens, connected for a home run in the third inning to put the Wildcats in the scoring column, and Wierenga came in a few minutes later on a wild pitch. Missouri was walked up with two errors and Kansas State six.

By winning the second game Kansas State divided the seasons games with Missouri two and two.

Scott Holds Tigers to Seven Hits
The Wildcats will go to Nebraska today for a game this afternoon and another tomorrow. Saturday's game may be played in the morning. Wesley Fry said. Scott or Abbott will probably get the first assignment on the mound. After winning the first game with Nebraska 20 to 3 Kansas State lost the second 8 to 7 to split their series here last week.

Stage Tournay Finals Tonight

FRESHMAN WRESTLERS AND BOXERS TO BATTLE FOR CHAMPIONSHIPS

Tonight at eight o'clock in Nichols gymnasium will be staged the finals in the freshman wrestling and boxing tournament which has been in progress the last two days. Last night the semi-finals ended. In both the opening night and last night's bouts real fighting ability and sportsmanship was displayed on the part of both wrestlers and boxers.

A new tournament record was established by Darwin Berry, shifty 145-pounder, in last night's wrestling match with Larry Cutshaw. Berry pinned Cutshaw in the remarkably fast time of fifteen seconds.

Rugged Fighters Will Meet
Tonight's finals will bring together two of the ruggedest and scrappiest 145-pound boxers seen in the Wildcat ring for a long time. They are Dale Duncan and Gerald Abbey. Both are short and muscular and go in for heavy hitting. This fight should top tonight's boxing bouts.

All the matches will be closely contested, as tonight only the best of over a hundred entries are left to fight it out for the freshman championship and the first place prize.

A Jayhawk Sweep

Win Every Match Wednesday—Emporia Here This Afternoon And Washburn Saturday.

The Kansas university net men scored its second clean sweep of the season over the Kansas State tennis team Wednesday afternoon on the varsity courts by winning every match for a 6 to 0 victory.

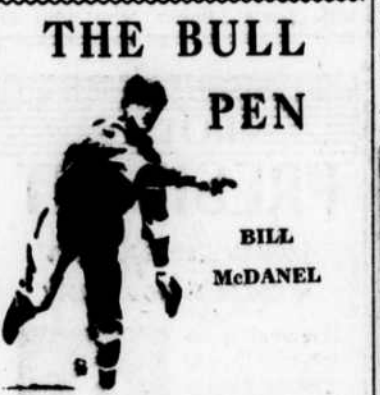

This afternoon the Kansas State Teachers college will come for a return engagement with the Wildcats, and Saturday Washburn will be here.

In the Wednesday matches, Leo Ayers, star quarterback on the football team and pole vaulter on the track squad played the number three position vacated by Art Graham who has taken a job in Topeka with the state highway department.

Ayers will continue to play the number three position in the matches today according to Coach C. S. Moll, although a substitute will have to be found in the Saturday matches against Washburn. Ayres will be competing in the triangular track meet to be held in Memorial Stadium at that time.

Results of the singles matches

Curry, K. U., defeated Ayres, Kansas State, 6-3, 6-2.
Kell, K. U., defeated Fowler, Kansas State, 6-1, 3-6, 7-5.
Voss, K. U., defeated Hoglund, Kansas State, 6-0, 6-1.
Oyler, K. U., defeated Thornbrough, Kansas State, 6-3, 9-7.
Results in the doubles play:
Voss and Kell, K. U., defeated Fowler and Thornbrough, Kansas State, 6-2, 6-3.
Oyler and Curry, K. U., defeated Hoglund and Ayres, Kansas State, 6-4, 2-6, 6-4.

The experts say there won't be any weak teams in the Big Six football campaign next fall. Most of the coaches are optimistic over their chances. Nebraska is looking for one of its greatest teams. The Missouri Tigers, who couldn't sink lower than they were last year, have picked up new power and momentum under Don Faurot, it's new coach. Twenty-three eligible letter men, the finest freshman class in long years, and a new coaching personality in Biff Jones has brought Oklahoma enthusiasm to new peaks.

"Give me two good ends and I'll have the best team to represent Kansas since 1930," says Coach Adrian Lindsay. Iowa State should be able to maintain a high tempo for a considerable longer time than last fall due to greater reserve strength. And as for Kansas State's chances, well let Coach Fry tell you what he thinks: "The boys know they must respect every team in the league, but they have no reason to fear any of them."

The consensus of opinion seems to be that K-State, Nebraska, and Oklahoma will be the top runners in 1935, with the Wildcats having a hard time holding what they got last Thanksgiving day. Most of the critics lean toward the Cornhuskers because they don't think they can be kept out of the running two years in a row.

We here at State, however, feel that with the brilliant array of material left from last season and the highly promising group of yearlings coming up that it will require a tough bit of shodding for any team to keep us from repeating our triumph of last season.

Comparison of the thirteen events common to the three relay carnivals—Kansas, Drake, and Penn—shows that Kansas had the best time or distance in eight, Drake had the best in three, and Penn in two. The Kansas relays topped the field in every relay race from the quarter-mile through the four-mile, including the 400-yard shuttle event, and also had the better record for the shot put and the discus throw.

Drake led the other institutions in three field events, the broad jump, the high jump, and the javelin. Penn's leadership was shown only in the pole vault and distance medley. The fact that all but one of the relay races found their best time in Kansas was probably due to the slightly cool weather combined with a track which was in the best of condition.

SPORT SHOTS

They say up in Bloomington, Indiana, that both the first and second string lineups that appear in spring practice games are more powerful than the Indiana eleven that whipped Purdue, 17 to 6, in the final game last fall. . . . Biff Jones, new coach at Oklahoma, is 5 feet 3 inches and weighs 235. . . . Al Simmons uses the longest bat in the majors. . . . Red Russell, All-American fullback at Northwestern in 1930, is now a cowboy actor in the movies. . . . when Dizzy Dean is 39, he will have annuities paying him $200 a month for the rest of his life. . . . E. C. Quigley, veteran official, is serving his twenty-third year as a baseball umpire. . . . Babe Ruth estimates he would have hit 100 home runs in 1927, if the Yankees had not moved out of the polo grounds. . . . at the request of the players themselves, Bo McMillin extended spring football practice 10 days at Indiana. . . . the experts figure that your chance to shoot a hole-in-one are one in 107,610. . . . the names of Col. E. R. Bradley's horses always begin with "B," which was carried to extremes by the turf reporter who wrote:

"Boxthorn breezed bravely before breakfast, bubbled Bradley's billion backers."

GET A LIFT WITH A CAMEL !

FREDERICK HEATH—MEDICAL. Heath says: "I'm in first year of medical school now, with the idea of specializing in neuro-surgery. Anatomy 'lab' takes three afternoons a week. Tuesdays and Thursdays—embryology. I spend three mornings a week on bio-chemistry, three on physiology 'lab' and lectures. And I have to face an exam in about one subject per week. I relieve the strain by smoking Camels. I prefer Camels, because when I'm feeling tired or distracted they unlock my supply of energy—soon refresh me. Camels are extremely mild. Not just mild-tasting, but really mild. They never tire my taste or get on my nerves. Camels taste so good 'I'd walk a mile for a Camel!'"

K.S. Trackmen Win Triangular Meet Saturday

FILE UP 70% POINTS TO 56% FOR NU AND 35 FOR KU

Nixon Cracks Mark

Steps Off Quarter in 49.2—Dees, Jacobson Set Records in Shot-put and Century Dash

Kansas State's track team captured the annual triangular track and field meet with Kansas and Nebraska Saturday afternoon on Ahearn Field for the first time in the history of the meet. Piling up 70 1-2 points, the Wildcats had a wide margin over the Cornhuskers with 56 1-2 points and the Jayhawkers, who trailed with 35 points.

Scoring the competition as three dual meets, Kansas State defeated the Cornhuskers 73 to 58 and the Jayhawkers 92 to 39, while Nebraska gained an 84 to 47 victory over the Kansans from Lawrence.

Nixon in Fast Quarter

Wintery north breezes which swept across the stadium, sending shivers through the spectators and officials, failed to hinder the track performances. Although the discuss and javelin throwers may not have made their best efforts in fear of injuring their arms, the marks were sufficiently high to give the meet outstanding recognition.

The day saw three new meet records established and another tied. Kansas State's contribution was made by J. B. Nixon in the quarter-mile. His time of 49.2 seconds lowered the previous meet record of 49.7 held by England of Nebraska and is a new varsity record here, being faster than this race has been run in the stadium before.

Dees Cracks Record

Jacobson of Nebraska set a new low time in the century dash, speeding over the cinders in 9.8 to shatter the record of 9.9 which was held by Hall of Kansas. Captain Dees of the Jayhawkers, champion of the Big Six bettered his own mark with a heave of 51 feet, 7 inches, and his team mate, Wellhausen, equaled the record in the high jump of 6 feet, 1 inch, set by Dodd, a former Jayhawk.

Joe Knappenberg, State captain, gathered 13 of his team's points to take the individual scoring honors. He won both of the hurdle races and placed second to Jacobson in the century dash. Cardwell and Jacobson each garnered 10 points for the Cornhuskers.

Clean Sweep in Half Mile

Kansas State got out in front early and held a safe margin throughout the afternoon. The biggest scoop came in the 880-yard run when Robert Dill broke the tape, followed by Lloyd Eberhart, Justus O'Reilly, and Ray Messick, all Wildcats. Seven first places went to State while Nebraska won (Continued On Page Three)

Grade Standards For Activities

To Be Eligible Students Must Maintain Eligibility Requirements Demanded of Athletes

From now on all students to be eligible for participation in major student activities will be required to maintain the same minimum scholastic standards that are required of athletes according to a ruling passed on the recommendation of a student-faculty committee.

The major activities to which this rule applies are: the executive council of the Student Government Association, all elective offices of the college Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A., all elective or appointive officers of the staff of all general student publications, intercollegiate competitive activities, elective offices of all-campus honorary societies.

Under the new ruling students in engineering and veterinary medicine departments are required to have credit in 28 hours and students in other divisions 27 hours in the last two semesters registered in college. Students are required to carry at least 12 hours at the time of eligibility and be credited with 12 hours the last semester preceding participation.

SELECTED BY PUBLICATIONS BOARD IN MEETING YESTERDAY

A Larger Yearbook

If Regents Approve New Activity Fee Annual Will Go To Every Student in 1936

Georg Hart and George Eicholtz were named yesterday by the Publications Board to serve as editor and business manager respectively of the 1936 Royal Purple.

Both Hart and Eicholtz were on the staff of this year's annual. Hart was assistant editor and also acted as snapshot editor. Eicholtz was assistant business manager.

Three candidates were selected from four applicants by the Publications Board composed of Mildred Buckwalter, Ed Murphy and James Ketchersid, student members; and Prof. R. I. Thackrey, Prof. E. T. Keith, and Prof. H. W. Davis, faculty members. Only students who worked on this year's yearbook were considered.

Abolish Secretary-Treasurer Selection of the staff members was done differently than in former years. Before this, the editor and business manager were chosen in an all-school election. Under the old plan applicants had to be recommended by the Royal Purple Board in order for them to become candidates.

The secretary-treasurer on the yearbook was this year eliminated by the Publications Board. Providing the new activity fee plan voted by the student body in a special election last fall is approved by the Board of Regents, about 3,000 copies of the Royal Purple will be printed next fall. Each student in the college will receive a yearbook in 1936. It is expected that next year's annual will be larger than those of former years.

Hart is a sophomore in industrial journalism and a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity. Eicholtz belongs to Sigma Nu and is a junior in architectural engineering.

The new staff replaces the old composed of Spencer Wyant, editor; Howard Moreen, business manager; and Marjorie Shellenberger, secretary-treasurer.

RAY WOMER PRESIDENT NATIONAL PEP GROUP

Ray Womer was elected president of Phi Sigma Chi, national women's pep organization, at the convention held at Lincoln, Neb. April 27. Other officers were Ruth Stockwell of Kansas University, vice president; and Elizabeth Sherer of the University of Nebraska, secretary-treasurer.

At the convention plans were made for an expansion, a booklet of the activities of Phi Sigma Chi being sent to several other schools to create enthusiasm.

Proceedings were started for a charter, and ways to be of service to the respective schools were discussed.

The Development of Education

CO-ORDINATION IS IN

Many decades ago courses in "natural philosophy" were offered in all colleges. These courses dealt with "science" as known at the time, covering the subject generally from a comprehensive viewpoint. Since that day the trend in education has been to specialize along various specific lines, a process which has culminated in the current practice of numerous "departments" in the curriculum.

The study in scientific subjects in college reflects the development of separate scientific research paths, in the fields of biology, chemistry, physics, geology, etc. But in recent years another development has taken place: leading men of science demonstrate the fact that the sciences are not as separate from each other as present curricula would lead undergraduates to believe. The present trend is to admit that the various scientific "fields" do overlap each other to a great extent even in the elementary stages, while in their advanced stages they actually merge with another.

Universities have done little, however, in keeping pace with this change in thought; curricula have remained practically unchanged and without any plans for change—except at Bryn Mawr college. Realizing that mathematics is the corner stone of science, and fully cognizant of the growing ties between the sciences, the heads of the departments of mathematics and the four natural sciences at Bryn Mawr have agreed to revise their general plan of undergraduate work. According to a recent announcement from Bryn Mawr, the purpose of this change is to "break down the imaginary barriers between the sciences" in order to give the student "opportunity for seeing that biology, chemistry, geology and physics should be considered as a whole."

This revision of the curriculum will undoubtedly be branded as "revolutionary" but nevertheless is a move which should be closely watched by all other higher educational institutions. The present trend in science must eventually be reflected by all colleges and universities. The sooner the better.—Daily Princetonian.

SPECIALIZATION IS OUT

Specialization, it has been truly remarked, is an ear-mark of contemporary civilization. So powerful has its influences been that it has effected radical changes in college education. The old Harvard tradition of a "broad general education" has been almost completely discarded as "out of date." Six courses in one field of concentration is the absolute minimum. Tending as it does to make a student somewhat of an authority in one branch of learning, such concentration, for those who desire it, is of inestimable value.

However, there is room for a type of general concentration which would include two or more of the present "fields". The experiment of combining history and literature is a proved success, with many more students clamoring to be admitted than is possible under the present limitations. Hundreds of students would like so to arrange their curriculum that two or three fields would assume equal importance.

For these students, most of them steadfastly maintain this belief throughout college, diversification of studies would vastly increase the utility of college life. Particularly for members of this group, specialization in one field is no guarantee that they will want or be able to continue in the same lines of endeavor after graduation.

Even the most ardent partisans of concentration admit that college cannot and should not be a vocational school. While specialization in one field is desirable for those who have dominant interests, it is folly to assume that all students are naturally specialists.

The combination of history and literature is a happy augury. To satisfy an increasingly vocal demand, more generalized and inclusive fields in the humanities and in science should be provided.—Harvard Crimson.

The Snooper

When Papa Moore bought "Chuck" as a graduation gift that new Chevvy—or is it a Ford?—he forgot one rather important item. Had he consulted the registrar first he might have been saved the expense. The sad news, my pets, is that Chucky-wucky will still be with you next year.

Gilligan—of Phi Kappa fame—had a moment's difficulty in the Palace Monday evening when an irate feminine voice demanded telephonically that he bring the car right up! It developed that Helen Millican in trying locate brother Ted had gotten the wrong party but while the fur flew it flew!

Two senior girls at one of the "mortgage hill" palaces who have been in school here all four years decided they owed the sisters in the bonds a thing or two. Though they lacked prospects of pin-hanging they felt it was up to them to pass the chocolates before school was out and set the date for Wednesday evening. Imagine the surprise of one of the girls when her companion informed her that the deal was off because the latter planned to do the trick Sunday with a gentleman friend which she had pulled out of one pocket. Will tell you about that later when we find out the identity ourselves.

We set ourselves up neither as Emily Post or as the National Council of Safer Driving but we feel that Don Hadsell could read up a bit on car courtesy. His current and favorite trick is to drive at people as they cross the streets yelling at them to get out of the way and laughing at their frightened haste. People are still remembering Clark, Hadsell, and it might not be a bad idea to tone down!

The Beta party, in spite of our predictions, progressed quietly Saturday evening marked only by Lee Carlson's extreme pride in himself after he discovered himself to be something of a sleight-of-hand expert with cookies.

Bib Dill, new PIKA prexy, is all a dither. It seems he fixed himself an extra special date for the PIKA picnic this coming Sunday and since that time has had a bad time convincing his brother there should be such an event.

The Acacia-Phi Kappa party which supposedly celebrates the friendly relationship of the opposed groups nearly started a riot Saturday night and the echoes still are rumbling about the hill. It seems the Phi Kappas used carte blanche in inviting and transporting the entire body of delegates to the Catholic convention being held in Manhattan Saturday to the dance.

It only added fuel to the Acacia flames when Holuba, Phi Kappa pres, decided it would be out of form for the date of Howard Haas, Acacia prexy, to stay in the receiving line since he himself was "staggering it". The final insult to injury occurred when the Phi Kaps refused to go with the Acacias on the serenade (you see—we got the story from the Acacias!) and the latter had to carry on alone.

The Betas imported a rushee, Shaver by name, for their house party this weekend. He was poison to half the Sunset boys and the rest "knew" he was practically a Beta pledge already because he sure was swell—and all Betas are swell—or some such tripe!

On the other hand, he made himself at home at the Delt house most of Sunday and created much the same situation there that he had aroused at the Beta Barn. Now both groups are politely handing him back and forth on a silver platter, vainly trying to "unleech" him.

And speaking of Delt's we might as well tell of their newest idea in entertainment for rushees. The boys are hauled about the countryside in search of a site for the Delt barbecue which is scheduled for May 19. The joker is that the rushees are trotted home after the place is found and about half the chapter holds what might be termed a "practice barbecue. Clever, these Delt's.

Ralph Laubsbrook of the journalism department is rating again—it's a new car that's doing it.

Gentle Gests By Elma Edwards

A group is judged by its loudest member.

If it is illegal to take part in games of chance, Vacant Vera wonders how these Kansas weather forecasters get by.

Some of these people that are collecting nickels to send mules back to the holy land are going to be in the same position as the boy who cried "wolf" when they really want to borrow a nickel.

A little glory can do more than any drug to make a person think he is an entirely different person.

Life would be as dull as a bridge lesson if we had everything we wanted to start with.

Now is the time for the sweet girl graduate to start getting sleep so that she can act the part without the handicap of dark circles under her eyes.

Win One, Lose One To Husker Baseball Team

K. S. IS VICTORIOUS SATURDAY
16 TO 3 BUT LOSES FRIDAY
13 TO 2

Cooley Is Pitcher

Wins His Third Game of the Season, Allows Ten Hits—Errors Are Numerous

The Kansas State college baseball team split the two-game series with the University of Nebraska last weekend by taking the Saturday contest 16 to 3 after dropping Friday's 13 to 2.

The Wildcats took advantage of 16 hits and 8 Cornhusker errors to return to Nebraska the drubbing handed out Friday. Kansas State scored seven runs in the fourth inning on six hits, including a home run by Jess Van Sant, and three Nebraska errors to put the game on the shelf. Elder set the hitting pace for the home team with a single, a double and a home run.

Frank Cooley allowed only ten scattered hits to win his third game of the season. Nebraska made ten errors to three for Kansas State.

In Friday's game Joyce held the Wildcats to two hits, while the Cornhuskers got to Abbott, Scott, and Beyers for 13 and were aided in their scoring by five Wildcat errors. Joyce fanned seven batters and issued six passes.

Nebraska scored one run in the second inning, four in the third, three in the fourth, and five in the fifth. The game was called at the end of seven innings by agreement because of the cold weather.

The Wildcat team has a two-game series with the conference leading team from the University of Oklahoma Friday and Saturday afternoons on the home diamond. The Sooners have not been defeated in conference competition so far this year and Coach Wesley Fry is prophesying two tough games for his team.

THE BULL PEN

Congratulations are in order for Coach Ward Haylett and his proteges, who romped away with the triangular track meet here last Saturday. K-State not only won her first in the present series of triangular track meets, that started back in 1925, but decisively whipped both Nebraska and Kansas, giving a good indication that the Wildcats are now definitely established as the foremost contender for the conference outdoor title.

A prominent physician recently stated that, in American automobiles are the big reason for the Negro superiority in running the dashes. The colored boy usually comes from a poor family and has to walk wherever he goes, while the white lad rides about in a car. The continued walking increases the power and spring in the leg-muscles of the tan-skinned youth and thus enables him to travel the 100-yard route in .09.5 consistently, while the auto-riding tends to soften the white boy's muscles and slow him up considerably.

Glenn Cunningham is working on a master's degree at the University of Iowa, his research including a hunt for a missing one-tenth of a second which separates the timing of races by hand and by electrical devices. Hand timers usually are a one-tenth second faster in clocking races than the electrical contraptions and Cunningham's investigation have led him to believe that it is the anticipation of the finish by the human timers that causes the difference.

Many persons have often wondered how A. N. (Bo) McMillin got his nickname. It is said to be in the following manner. Years ago when McMillin was a youngster it was the custom among the kids when they met to greet each other with "Hello, bo," just as they might say "Hello, kid," today. A cousin who visited the McMillin home always addressed the youthful A. N. with "Hi, bo!" Somehow the "bo" stuck to McMillin and is still with him.

BOXING AND WRESTLING CHAMPIONS CROWNED LAST FRIDAY NIGHT

Freshmen boxing and wrestling champions were crowned in the final round of the tournament sponsored by Coach B. R. Patterson in Nichols gymnasium, last Friday night.

Because of the success of this year's tournament, "Pat" says it will be continued as an annual event.

Dale Duncan holds the unusual honor of being champion of both boxing and wrestling in the 145-pound class. Duncan was state high school wrestling champion before coming to Kansas State.

Although knockouts were plentiful during the quarter and semi-final rounds, Jack Stephens, hard-punching 165-pounder, was the only fighter to get credit with one in the finals. He was awarded a technical knockout in the first round of his fight with George Fugitt.

All but three of the wrestling bouts were won by falls in the finals.

Results of the finals in boxing are:

118-pounds—Bob Kane forfeited to D. Jacobson.

Everything that Science really knows about making cigarettes is used in making CHESTERFIELDS

LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

The cigarette industry could never have been what it is except for these modern cigarette machines...

They make good cigarettes and smokers know each individual cigarette receives the most careful inspection.

You'd hardly believe such attention to detail possible unless you could see it with your own eyes.

When the Chesterfield tobacco comes to the cigarette making machines it has been blended and cross-blended.

Then it is cut into long even shreds just the right size to smoke right and burn right.

Every Chesterfield Cigarette has to be perfectly made to get by our inspectors.

Until you open the package yourself the cigarettes are scarcely touched by human hands.

Mild ripe tobaccos, skilled workers and the most modern up-to-date machinery all help to make Chesterfield the cigarette that's milder, the cigarette that tastes better.

Phi Kappa Phi Honor Chapel Held Yesterday

THIRTY-THREE STUDENTS FROM ALL DIVISIONS ARE RECOGNIZED

Willard Speaks

Vice President Points Out Good and Bad of Honor System—Grade System History

The annual recognition assembly honoring those elected into Phi Kappa Phi for the spring semester was held yesterday in the auditorium at 9 o'clock for thirty-three students representing every division in the college.

Phi Kappa Phi certificates were presented to the newly elected members by the president of Phi Kappa Phi, Stella M. Harris, assistant professor of chemistry.

Willard Gives Address
An address, "Honors for All" by Dr. J. T. Willard, vice president of the college, featured the program. Dr. Willard pointed out some of the faults of an honor system and sketched the history of the grading system at this college.

"Some of the serious defects of an honor system," said the vice-president, "are: imperfection of the grading system, assuming accurate ranking, temptation to cheat or to memorize material rather than to develop individual thinking." Under our present honor system it is impossible to honor all of those to whom honor is due. Dr. Willard declared. Some students put forth supreme effort but fail to earn recognition because of physical or mental handicaps.

Bernice Covey Gives Solo
"The merit of an honor system is that a superior group of men and women are sifted out," Dr. Willard stated.

The prelude "Second Pomp and Circumstance," by Elgar, played by the college orchestra and directed by George Henry opened the program. Following the invocation lead by Buell Wesley Beadle, "Hindu Chant," by Rimsky-Korsakov-Kreisler, a violin solo was played by Bernice Covey highest ranking student from the music department.

Thackrey Family To Celebrate 50 Year's Attendance

The Thackrey family will celebrate half a century of almost unbroken attendance at Kansas State college at a reunion May 25-27, the dates being the same as that of commencement.

The first descendant of Samuel and Eleanor Thackrey entered Kansas State in January, 1879, more than 56 years ago, but the record which the family celebrates this year was started in the fall of 1885. Since that time a direct descendant has been enrolled at the college in every calendar year, and in every college year save one, 1901-02.

The first of the family to enroll was the late Sarah Thackrey (Mrs. S. M. Harris), who registered in January, 1879. Samuel I. Thackrey, Manhattan, entered on September 10, 1879. The 50 year record was started with the enrollment of James E. and William E. Thackrey, '96, in September 1885.

Samuel I. and Eleanor Thackrey came from Indiana to Kansas in the fall of 1885. Nine of their eleven children attended Kansas State and four graduated. Thirty-six direct descendants of Samuel Thackrey have attended the college, 23 of them grandchildren, four great-grandchildren. Of the 36 attending 24 have been graduated from K. S. C. and five took master's degrees here.

Two great-grandchildren are now in college. They are Donald S. Harris, Lakewood, Ohio, a freshman in mechanical engineering, and Richard E. Totten Clifton, freshman in electrical engineering. Three descendants have been members of the college faculty. They are Frank C. Harris, '07 and '17, Lakewood, Ohio; Miss Vida Harris, '14, assistant professor of art; and R. L. Thackrey, '27 and '32 assistant professor of journalism.

Frank A. Thackrey will represent the family on the alumni-senior banquet program.

Start Series With Oklahoma This Afternoon

SOONERS HAVE ONE OF STRONGEST NINES IN BIG SIX

Cooley Or Beyers

Either May Be Starting Pitcher—Games Today and Tomorrow Start at 4 O'clock

The Kansas State college baseball team will meet the Big Six conference leading team from Oklahoma university in a two game series to be played today and tomorrow at 4 o'clock on the college field.

Either Frank Cooley or Carl Beyers will start on the mound for the Wildcats according to Coach Wes Fry. An infield composed of Benny Winchester at first base, Bill Lutz at second, Jess Van Sant at shortstop, and Whitey Stevens at third is a lively starting combination. Ernest Jessup will be behind the bat.

Oklahoma Strong
Capt. Bill Ashill, Harold Wierenga, and Maurice "Red" Elder have proved themselves to be the Wildcats' strongest outfield combination.

At the beginning of the season Oklahoma was rated one of the strongest teams in the conference. The Sooner team embraces a bunch of sluggers that have proved worrisome at all times to opposing pitchers. Tuesday they defeated Nebraska 15 to 2. Today's game will be the first meeting of the two teams.

Since their practice game Tuesday evening the Wildcat team has been stressing fielding and batting practice. Coach Wesley Fry was called out of town Thursday to attend a funeral. Frank Meyers had charge of the practice.

Several Professors Are Former Gridiron Stars

Football seems to have been a great sport with the members of the Kansas State college faculty when they were in college, according to returns from a questionnaire sent them recently by a student in the industrial journalism department. The survey showed that about one-fourth of the men on the faculty participated in the sport.

Remarks on the questionnaire showed that many had tried for the team but were too light to compete with the larger men. Several stated that they had worked their way through school and did not have time for football, while others said that organized football was not played when they were in college.

Some of the former stars now on the faculty are: Prof. C. D. Davis of the department of agronomy, who played end and quarterback for Kansas Wesleyan in 1902; Prof. W. B. Balch of the horticulture department who played end on the freshman team at Cornell university; Prof. R. F. Morse of the civil engineering faculty who played fullback and kicked for Cornell in 1916 and for Upper Iowa university in 1919-20.

Haymaker a Star Quarter
Dr. H. H. Haymaker, professor of Botany and plant pathology, was a small quarterback but was the star of Kansas State football teams

Student Council of Kansas State

Members of the student council at Kansas State College, elected by a Pan-Hellenic coalition, are shown above. The newly formed Independent political party, although making a creditable showing, failed to elect a candidate. Council members shown are Leonard Zerull, Ellis, electrical engineering; Don McNeal, Winchester, industrial journalism; Virginia Dole, Salina, home economics and dietetics; Ronald Cooper, Wichita, commerce; Bruce Nixon, Paradise, commerce; Maurice Street, Yates Center, civil engineering; Frances Tannahill, Manhattan, home economics.

Genetics Ph. D. Over 100 Into Now Available

IS THE FIFTH DOCTOR'S DEGREE OFFERED BY KANSAS STATE COLLEGE

Graduate work will be offered in genetics beginning June 1, in order that a degree of doctor of philosophy can be conferred by Kansas State college, Dean J. E. Ackert, of the division of graduate study announced recently.

Genetics will be the fifth course in which the college offers a degree of doctor of philosophy. It is now offered in bacteriology, entomology, chemistry, and milling industry.

The experiment station projects in genetics in the departments of zoology, agronomy, animal husbandry and poultry husbandry makes this school unusually well prepared to offer advanced degrees in this field, according to Dean Ackert. The library contains nearly all the important works in this field. For several years, there has been a persistent demand for graduate work in genetics.

Block and Bridle Contest Saturday

Students Will Judge Livestock In Stock Pavilion in Thirty-Second Annual Event

The thirty-second annual livestock judging contest sponsored by the Block and Bridle club will be Saturday, May 11, at the stock pavilion.

This contest is divided into two distinct groups: a junior and a senior division. Contestants in the junior division will judge classes of three animals and write reasons. Anyone may enter the junior division except those who have had class work in judging. In the senior division there will be four animals to a class and reasons will be given orally.

Students who have had training in judging may enter except those that were members of the senior livestock judging team.

Entries for the contest will be open until the time of the contest. Entrance fees will be twenty-five cents for the junior division and thirty-five cents for the senior division.

There will be two classes of each of the following animals: horses, sheep, hogs, and beef cattle. National Block and Bridle will give a gold medal to the winner of the senior division and the local chapter will give silver and bronze medals to the respective second and third place winners in both divisions. The American Royal Association and Kansas City Livestock Exchange will award the high individual in the junior division with a silver loving cup.

A gold medal will also be given to the high individual in the breeding livestock classes in the senior division. Twenty-five other prizes will be given to the three highest of each division for judging horses, sheep, cattle and hogs. These prizes are breed papers given by those who are interested in student livestock work.

The awards will be given at a special meeting of the Block and Bridle club to which all the contestants are invited to attend. The meeting will be Monday at 7:45 o'clock in east waters hall. At the meeting Capt. Dan Casement will talk about "Beginnings."

Phil Ljungdahl, president of Block and Bridle, has been in charge of general arrangements, and Ed McColm in charge of publicity. Maurice Wilcox has been working on the prize list and Clarence Bell and Willis Wenrich have been making arrangements for the meeting Monday.

Faculty members of the animal husbandry department will be judges of the contest. Royal Purple pictures for sale cheap, after next Monday. Kedzie, 28-B.

Unknown Student Shows Gratitude by Sending $20 Check

Several years ago a student at Kansas State college received from an unknown source $20 to help him out of financial difficulties—today this student having obtained a job, paid off all debts and being grateful to the benefactor who helped him in his time of need, has sent a $20 check to the alma mater to help some other struggling student in need of money.

The check accompanied by a letter of explanation was sent to a former schoolmate, R. L. Evans, Sabatha, several days ago. The student, who requested that his name not be made public asked in his letter that the money be given to a student in need of it, just as he was assisted when he was an undergraduate at this school. Like his benefactor, he preferred that the recipient of his gift remain in ignorance of the identity of his helper.

Evans upon receiving the letter and the check kept the money for several days not knowing of anyone to whom he could give the money to as the writer of the letter asked him to do. Finally he turned the $20 over to Prof. Fred L. Parris, chairman of the Campus Community Chest Committee, so that he could place it within the reach of students in need of money on this campus through the agency of the Student Aid Fund.

Professor Parrish deposited the money at the college Business Office to the credit of the Student Aid Fund. This fund was created three years ago as a revolving fund for students that is constantly being used. Loans of various amounts are made to students throughout the year and through the year these students pay off their debts—very few losses have been sustained by the administrator's of the fund and these few have always been of small amount.

SIEVER IS ELECTED TO VICE-PRESIDENCY

Dr. C. M. Siever, who recently resigned as director of the student health service of Kansas State college, was elected vice-president of the school for Kansas health officers and public health nurses at the 24th annual session held at Topeka this week.

Dr. J. H. Saylor, Marion county health officer, was elected president, and Dr. J. S. Fulton, physician for the Topeka schools, was chosen as secretary-treasurer. Doctor Siever's duties in the health department will continue until the end of summer school when his resignation will become effective.

FORMER K. S. STUDENTS WILL VISIT EUROPE

They expect to be gone three months and during that time visit England, Scotland, and three or four continent countries. They all are members of Beta Theta Pi fraternity. Wright and Seaton are Kansas State graduates and Culter was a Kansas university student.

The pictures are in Kedzie hall, room 28-B.

Expect a Quarter-Mile Thriller

Cosch Ward Haylett expects the Oklahomans to be strongest in the sprints, with Kansas State having the edge in the high hurdles and distance runs. The quarter-mile race should prove one of the best events of the meet with Gray of Oklahoma expected to furnish strong competition for Nixon, who set a new Wildcat varsity record of 49.2 in the triangular meet last Saturday. Joe Knappenberg, star Kansas State captain, is hoped to find Wright and Gallagher hard to beat. The broad jump should also be close, with Barnum representing Oklahoma.

Second Meeting of Schools

In the discus event, Fanning of State will meet the Missouri valley conference champion, Tichenor, for the third time this year. Tichenor was victorious in the Texas relays but Fanning defeated him in the Kansas relays.

Kansas State and Oklahoma A. and M. track teams have met only once before. A Kansas State team took a beating at Stillwater in 1908, 60 to 49. This will be the last dual meet of the year for the Wildcats. The Big Six conference outdoor meet will be held at Lincoln May 17 and 18.

Twenty-one high schools have entered the regional meet and more are expected. Last year there were over 200 participants representing 41 school in the meet. The schools entered are: Maple Hill, Alma, Agenda, Menden, Lost Springs, St. Marys, Ellsworth, Haddam, Kackley, Holton, Frankfort, Oketo, Hillsboro, Marysville, Washington, Delphos, Emmett, Assaria, Hope, Mahaska, and Clay Center.

RICHARD GARINGER INJURED BY GLASS

The skylight was being cleaned when the glass broke. It fell about thirty feet before it struck Garinger, who was standing at the loan desk. Some of the glass was imbedded in the top of the loan desk.

Garinger received a deep cut on his shoulder. He was taken to the college hospital and later removed to Charlotte Swift, where he will be confined for some time.

Emotional Folly or --- ?

Since the nationwide anti-war strike last April 12 there has been a great deal of criticism of the strike on the ground that the whole affair was mainly an emotional outburst that was in no way constructive or educational in its effect. Critics claim that if anything lasting is to be done towards eradicating the war evil it must be done through gradual education—through an appeal to the intellect.

It is true that the success of the strike depended to a great extent upon publicity—upon sensationalism. Those were the tools that the strikers had to depend upon to impress upon the minds of the public the problem they wished to focus on—that of peace. The movement had to be radical to the extent that it would awaken the public to that fact that something was happening.

Because publicity is the only method by which the question of peace can be focalized in the public's attention the apparent extremeness of the strike was justified. It is scarcely necessary to point out that the great masses of the people are singularly apathetic as far as realizing the need for change when that change is due. It took a world wide depression to make us realize that perhaps the system under which we live could hardly be called ideal. It takes extreme conditions and extreme measures to arouse the great majority of us to the realization that action on our part is vitally necessary.

Admittedly the peace strike did not insure the world against war. The clouds of threatening conflagration loom up as darkly as ever. Yet the strike did focus the peace question in the minds of many. It started people thinking along lines a bit new to many. It was the subject of frequent editorializing in the press. The very fact that the movement created opposition is proof of this.

The peace movement could not be called radical in any reasonable interpretation of the world. It was extreme only insofar as it depended on sensational means to gain attention. All of the violence done was perpetuated by counter-demonstrations—police, administration authorities, the ROTC. Like all extreme movements it was bound to fail if its success is measured in terms of immediate results. But by arousing the masses to some extent to consider the question of peace and the methods by which it can be attained to perform a service that may prove to be of inestimable value to mankind in helping eradicate the war evil.

CAN DICTATORSHIPS REPLACE DEMOCRACIES?

The rise of Fascist dictatorships continues throughout the world. That Italy and Germany are ruled by iron dictators we all know. We are, however, inclined to overlook the fact that many other nations—Poland, Latvia, Bulgaria, Yugoslavia and Austria—have succumbed to dictatorships just as ruthlessly, although less publicized. That there is scarcely a country in the world which has not a Fascist group striving for power should hold special significance for all Americans who want to retain the liberties they now enjoy. As the rising tide of Fascism threatens to engulf the world, one fact remains clear: those governments which are incapable of solving the complex problems of today are the ones being replaced by Fascist dictatorships. The question which we in America have to face is this: can our democratic parliamentary type of government learn how to settle the problems which machine civilization and rapid cultural advancement have forced upon us, or will we also have to submit to one-man rule, merely to get things done?

Our democratic institutions can survive only if we can get trained, intelligent representation in our government. Immediately after the Roosevelt election, America underwent a mild dictatorship when congress conferred extraordinary powers on one man—the President. The step was necessary then because the country was confronted with problems which needed prompt and extra attention, and our congressmen were for the most part untrained for their jobs of running the government—they did not know how to meet the situation.

If we had wanted to avoid that temporary benevolent Roosevelt dictatorship, we would have put trained men in congress—not backslapping politicians. Going further, if we want to forestall the rise of a permanent iron dictator and the loss of our political freedom, we must start right now electing trained, intelligent men to government positions. Log-rolling politicians can't handle the complex problems of the modern state; in the future either a congress of experts, true representatives of an intelligent electorate—or a dictator—must rule America.

The problem falls squarely in the lap of students and teachers; it is they who in the secondary schools and colleges represent the voters and governmental officials of the next decade. If they can give us expert officials and, what is more important, voters intelligent enough to vote for them, all will be well. If they fail us, then America, too, must bow to the will of a dictator.—Exchange.

The Snooper

Scarab is holding one of its annual shin-digs this Friday evening, but there are few who realize that the fraternity was originated as an architectural honorary. The only plans these boys could draw up would be for a beer bust!

Darrel Porter, Kappa heartbreaker of a few years back, is reported wearing a Kappa Sign pin, with plans for immediate matrimony. He's a Washburn law graduate, Meek by name if not in spirit. The happy home will be in Clay Center.

Before we got the story straight Groody had passed the cigars and chocolates for hanging his pin on an Indiana girl and on a Tri Delt. By the time we finally discovered it was Mary Danner, Kappa gal who specializes in modeling for life classes, we had forgotten what we had to say about the event.

The Chi-O's are finding a great deal of competition to their party Saturday night in the dime dance in Rec center. Their only consolation is that ye red-headed editor has expressed his preference for the latter event.

It was Mary "The Great" Blackman who classed herself as a super expert in apple-polishing in an essay prepared for one of H. W. Davis' classes. Dear teacher upheld the gentle art, however, to the great surprise of the rest of the class who immediately put into practice some of the better methods suggested by the authority herself. So if you see H. W. wandering about the campus munching apples or sniffing of sweet posies we've told you where to put the blame.

Twenty (their own count!) PIKA pledges held a little sneak of their own Wednesday night. The actives might not have minded it so much had their underlings been willing to share the refreshments—but no, they behaved just like upper classmen. Now they are paying for it in sundry and various ways, all of them uncomfortable.

And that trick with alcohol tins on third floor has spread from the Beta Barn, we head, to the Delt domicile. Just a rumor, but one we couldn't help passing on.

A highly surprised and more than slightly chagrined cook at the Chi Omega house strode in the back door, dangling a be-slopped purse. She had found it in the garbage pail—here comes the point—it belonged to Esther Hedges on further investigation. When interviewed Esther was a bit hazy about the whole thing, but there have been remarks passed on the appropriateness of the receptacle by more than one would-be observer of Life (please note capital L!)

Had any sane and disinterested person visited the Canteen at any time Tuesday afternoon he would have been convinced that the students of Kansas State were afflicted with an advanced form of lunacy. Supervised chain letters (at a dollar per) took the place by storm—and it was all your life was worth to try to get in or out of the place in safety. More than one late-comer got "hooked" when the craze began to wear out.

Sigma Nus, Ligama Sooveys to you, are preparing for a big time Friday night when they come out of hiding for their VERY OWN Spring frolic. It is rumored the boys are all albinos and afraid of the light but maybe they can overcome the unaccustomed noise and glare for a few hours. Here's luck to ya, boys!

Gentle Gests By Elma Edwards

About the only thing that Vacant Vera remembers from her general psychology course is the fact that one can study more efficiently if he takes frequent rest periods.

Our nomination as candidates for extermination: those people who must consider both sides of even the most insignificant questions.

If we could see ourselves as others see us we probably wouldn't pay so much attention to ourselves.

We wonder if the professor who thought that the line of demarcation and the international date line were the same thing puts stags, small talk, and country telephone wires in the same convenient pigeon hole.

If Vacant Vera has it figured out right she is going to have five hours on May 27 when all she has to do is to get ready to go to Commencement, pack her bags, vacate her room for the summer school occupant, show her folks around town, throw away all her notebooks, and carry on the normal life processes.

C. by a 7 to 1 score last night to gain the right to play in the finals. There will be a meeting of intramural managers Monday night at 7:15 in the K Room in Nichols gymnasium.

HEARST'S WAR SCARE PROPOGANDA EXPOSED

William Randolph Hearst, owner of 23 newspapers and influencer of over four million readers, has been exposed as a "warfiend" and "jingoist journalist" in a special edition of this month's Chronicle of World Affairs.

In the Collegian last week a summary of this special edition, published in New York, told of the lies and forgeries used by Hearst to arouse the public into a fighting mood and of his unscrupulous efforts to stimulate international hatreds.

Copies of this edition of the Chronicle of World Affairs are on sale today in the Y. W. C. A. office at five cents each.

AND, "How does kib like that?" Such questions sound senseless — yet they play an important part in making articulation tests on new types of telephone apparatus at Bell Telephone Laboratories. In making these tests, 6336 meaningless syllables are spoken — while observers record what they hear. Comparison of sounds actually spoken with those heard, shows how well the new apparatus reproduces the many sounds of which speech is composed. Such thoroughness is typical of Bell System methods. Years of inventing, improving and testing have led to the apparatus which transmits your words so clearly.

Morrow Talks To Journalists

Assistant Publisher of Copper Publications Spoke in Seminar Yesterday

People are divided into four divisions: liberal, radical, conservative, and reactionary, according to Marco Morrow, assistant publisher of the Copper Publications, who addressed the journalism students at journalism lecture yesterday afternoon.

"The division which has the most people in it will be the one which will determine public opinion," Morrow went on to say "and public opinion in turn determines what will go to make up the newspapers, because newspapers can do no better than give what people want them to print."

Difficult to Classify Self
"It's often hard for us to place ourselves in the right division because we cannot as a rule tell how far our thought is influenced by prejudices, friendships, or most of all our economic condition," Morrow stated. "We should ask ourselves, am I looking at conditions as they affect my city, my state, the public in general, or how it will affect me and my pocketbook?"

"You who are engaged in journalism three or four years from now will have problems tied up with economics, politics, and society in general. The newspaper is very closely united with all of this. Try to look facts in the face with as little bias as possible despite the fact that the social responsibility with which a newspaper is charged cannot sometimes be lived up to because of commercial trends in journalism. But in spite of this there is a great deal of idealism and patriotism among the editors in this country."

"Golden Mean" Wisest
Morrow added that if any present were idealists, he didn't want to discourage them but, he quoted, "the should and ought must always be balanced against can and will." The latter, not the former constitutes the problem.

He ended with saying that the middle course is the best to follow. If one can compromise between idealism and commercialism without the feeling of having sacrificed too much, then it is the best course to follow, and if radicalism, conservatism, and reactionism could be combined then public opinion would be helped considerably.

Opera Star To Sing Before Senior Class

PHRADIE WELLS OF METROPOLITAN OPERA COMPANY TO SING

Program Is May 26

To Be Held In College Auditorium In Honor of Those Graduating This Year

Under the auspices of Kansas State college in compliment to the senior class, Phradie Wells, soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company, will sing in the college auditorium Sunday, May 26, at 4 p. m.

Miss Wells was born in Kirksville, Mo., and was graduated from the State Teachers College, receiving the B. S. degree. After study in her home town she went to Chillicothe, Mo., where she became supervisor of music in the public schools. However she was dissatisfied with this work and went to New York to continue her studies of the opera with the teacher, Oscar Saenger. Her voice soon developed into a lyric soprano of unusual range. She was interested in languages and worked hard to master all the roles in the original language, and soon after she had a chance to sing for Mr. Gatti-Casazza, who engaged her immediately. The success of her first season resulted in a re-engagement for four years. She has since appeared in over one hundred performances at the Metropolitan. Miss Wells is one of the few American trained singers who have attained such immediate recognition at the Metropolitan Opera House.

Has Sung In Many States
Miss Wells has appeared in many states including Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi, Missouri, Kansas, Iowa, Colorado, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Ohio, South Carolina, and New York. She is a member of the D. A. R. and the P. E. O., and last year was made an honorary member of the National Musical Sorority, Delta Omicron.

The New York World says of Miss Wells "She has excellent stage presence, and youth and added to these a rich, brilliant voice." And the opinion of the Akron (Ohio) Press is "Miss Wells possesses a beautiful soprano voice and a fine stage presence, and sings with the finish of a mature artist."

The Reading (Pa.) Eagle says, "She is gifted with a voice of unusual power and range and beauty of tone qualities. Coupled with these facts she has an entertaining personality when singing, which has a charming effect on her auditors. She deserves the rounds of applause which followed each of her selections." And quoted from the Pittsburgh (New York) Daily Republic, "Miss Wells made use of her exquisite voice with a feeling that immediately won her the support of her audience."

K. S. Grad Directs Work of Sending Needy To Alaska

Don Louis Irwin, who was a student in agriculture at Kansas State college from 1910 to 1915 and who holds from Winfield, is in charge of the Alaska rural rehabilitation corps for needy families being sent to Alaska by the federal government.

Up until three years ago when he first journeyed to the Matanuska valley, to head the government experiment station there, Irwin said that about the first job that he would do would be to clear the mosquitoes, which are the chief handicap. The Matanuska valley to which they are assigned contains 70,000 tillable acres which now support only 177 families. Two hundred families are on their way now and if the plans work out all right, more may be sent later.

The two hundred families that accepted the government's offer and are now enroute to Alaska are on relief because a combination of drought, dust storms, floods, and late freezing weather over a period of several years left them almost destitute.

MRS. KATE KEITH DIES SATURDAY AFTERNOON

Alumni members present were Raymond Schlottelbeck, coach at Wichita North high school, and Fritz Knorr, coach at Waterville high school.

A short meeting was held after the banquet and Jim Edwards was chosen as the delegate to represent this chapter at a district convention to be held at the Fontanelle Hotel in Omaha, Nebraska, on May 27.

Explain New Fee To Harger

NEW ACTIVITY FEE MADE CLEAR TO BOARD OF REGENTS MEMBER

Four members of the new and the old Student Councils accompanied by C. J. Medlin graduate manager of publications motored to Abilene yesterday afternoon to present an explanation of the new activity fee before C. M. Harger, member of the Board of Regents. The board must approve the new activity fee ruling before it can become effective on this campus.

The new ruling was previously presented to the board by Pres. F. D. Farrell. The board will vote on the question either the last of this month or during the first days of June, Harger explained to the Student Council delegation.

The four students who went are Joe Knappenberger, president of this year's Student Council, Louise Ratliff, secretary of this year's council, and Don McNeal and Leonard Zerrull, both members of the newly-elected Student Council.

The new activity fee ruling provides for a payment of $15 a year or $7.50 each semester. Proceeds would go toward the support of student activities, including athletics, judging teams, debate, oratory, musical, literary, dramatic, and divisional activities. Those paying the fee would automatically become members of the Student Government Association and would receive subscriptions to the Collegian and the Royal Purple.

Clinch Title In Win Over Kansas State

OKLAHOMA SOONERS DEFEAT WILDCATS 9 TO 5 LAST FRIDAY

K. S. Errors Help

State Men Juggle Five Chances—Cooley and Parks Go The Route On Mound

With the aid of five Kansas State errors the Oklahoma university baseball nine captured the first of a two-game series from Kansas State team 9 to 5 Friday afternoon at the college diamond.

The victory clinched the title for Oklahoma university. The Sooners have won seven consecutive Big Six conference games and have a season record of 11 straight wins. Although there are still a few games to be played in the conference race the Oklahoma team is far enough ahead to assure the championship.

Kansas State Is Third
In the percentage ratings so far Iowa State is trailing the Sooners with four wins and one loss. Kansas State is in third place with five victories and five defeats while Missouri and Nebraska follow in order.

Frank Cooley, Aggie pitcher, hurled the entire nine innings, allowing 12 hits. Parks, the Oklahoma hurler, also went the entire route and allowed 9 hits to the Kansas State nine. Both pitchers are first year men in college competition.

Wierenga, Jessup Hit Well
Harold "Doc" Wierenga, left fielder, and Ernest Jessup, catcher, were the most effective hitters for the Aggies, both getting two hits out of four trips to the plate. Wierenga, the first man up to bat in the Aggie half of the second inning, clouted out a triple to gain third base, from where he scored on Van Sant's grounder to second base.

Jessup knocked out two doubles, one in the fifth when he was the first man up and the other in the seventh which scored Asbill who was on base due to a wild pitch and then went to second on a right field error. Kansas State scored in the seventh when Stuckey, who was batting for Elder, got a hit to bring Van Sant in from third base. Van Sant had gone to third on Jessup's double. Jessup was then caught off second.

Sooners Make Double Play
The other two Aggie scores came in the fourth when Stevens, Kansas State third baseman, hit a single to get on first. From there he went to third on Wierenga's single and then scored when a throw by the Sooner catcher, Steinbock, to catch him at third rolled on out of reach of the third baseman. Winchester went to third on the error and then scored on Captain Asbill's hit.

The only double play of the game went to the Oklahomaans when Van Sant, Aggie shortstop and right fielder, drove out a line drive that the Sooner second baseman managed to get in front of and make the catch and also to make the put out (Continued On Page Three)

Plan For Flight

Stations Being Established Throughout Middle West for Stratosphere Balloon Ride

Prof. L. E. Conrad of the civil engineering department has been chosen by R. S. Patton of the Coast and Geodetic Survey to act as chief clerk for Kansas during the 1935 stratosphere balloon flight.

The flight is to be made this summer under the auspices of the National Geographic Society and the U. S. Army. It will begin at Rapid City, South Dakota, and end at Amarillo, Texas. It will take place as soon after June 1, as weather conditions will permit.

Observation stations to determine the balloon's altitude are being established in Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, and Missouri. A larger area is being covered in Kansas than in any other state. The primary purpose of the ground observations is to check on the barograph, the automatic recording device on the balloon. Kansas has a territory covered by forty-eight triangulation stations located throughout the region which are about thirty miles apart.

Each station observer will have a surveyor's transit and an automobile equipped with radio receiving set. After data has been obtained simultaneously from two stations the height of the balloon can be determined.

The helium-filled balloon to be used in the 1935 flight is larger than any used in any other previous flight. In the 1934 flight an altitude of 60,000 feet was made. This year they hope to reach an altitude of 75,000 feet.

Professor Conrad has notified the forty-eight stations in Kansas and has received a favorable reply from the thirty-one stations that have replied.

Last week he gave demonstrations throughout eastern Kansas using terraces and tractors. Recently he began demonstrations in the north central part of Kansas using cat-cpillar equipment.

Each of the demonstrations takes 2 days, the first to teach farmers how to lay out the land for terracing and the second for actual terracing. At each terracing about 3,500 feet of terrace is built which gives protection to about 13 acres of land against soil erosion.

Install Fraternity

Electron Club Is Initiated Into National Electrical Engineering Fraternity Kappa Eta Kappa

The Electron Club, a local electrical engineering group, was initiated into the national electrical engineering fraternity, Kappa Eta Kappa, Thursday night, May 9, and will be known at the Eta chapter. The initiation was held at the Wareham Hotel and was followed immediately by a banquet served in the Grill Room of the hotel.

The initiation was put on by twelve of its members from Kansas University, and three faculty sponsors of the same school.

Kappa Eta Kappa is purely an electrical engineering fraternity, semi-professional by nature and does not intend to support a house. This is the only fraternity on the hill that consists entirely of electrical engineers.

The following is a list of the charter members and officers of the new chapter: Berwyn Brewster, pres.; C. F. Crandell, sec'y.; Wendell Dubbs, treas.; Stanley Merrill, Paul Neuschwander, Don Garr, Robert Evans, Sam Elliott, Gene Danford, Tom Wherry, C. O. Files, William Helm, Raymond Chitwood, Ralston Waters, Leonard Aubuchon, Otis Clouse, Lehman Madsen, and Seyth Kuykendall.

Subways Under Moscow

The Russians have finally built themselves a subway. It has indirect lighting, glazed tiling, and mosaics, and is reported to be without equal for beauty and comfort. But the financing and building of the system disclose the most primitive methods and show how much the Soviets still have to learn. The simply appropriated the money and built the subway, and now charge a half-penny a ride. How much better we should do the same job! A droszky once ran over the route of the subway, then a horse car, later a trolley. The Soviet authorities, blind fellows, see in them only outmoded means of transportation to be abandoned, but in this country such relics are the material of our financial artists.

The history of transit in any American city shows how much more efficiently we do these things. First we organize a Droszky Transportation company and get a perpetual franchise. Then we organize the Imperial Moscow Horse Car corporation, which takes over the franchise at a fat rental. His Majesty's Trolley company takes over the Horse Car corporation's rights in the Droszky company's franchise, paying the Horse Car corporation a rental. The subway company rents the rights of the trolley company in the horse-car corporation's rights in the droszky franchise.

Old Colonel Morganbiltzky owns the stock of the droszky, horse-car, trolley and subway companies, but that fact is never referred to in public. With all these rentals to pay to himself, he proves before the Moscow Public Service corporation that a 7-cent fare is needed for a fair return on his subway. From the 7 cents the Colonel pays himself a 10 per cent return on the (inflated) value of a droszky that went to pieces in the blizzard of 1888, a 6 per cent return on horse cars last seen in 1903, a 5 per cent return on trolley cars that will now carry no passengers, and a 7 per cent return on the subway, including its going value, good-will, franchises, replacement cost, and atmospheric displacement.

Later Colonel Morganbiltzky organizes an All-Russian Subway Holding and Management corporation which charges the subway so much to manage its manager that—in order to safeguard a fair return—the Moscow Public Service commission raises the fare to 10 cents.

True the people of Moscow will be paying 10 cents instead of a half-cent a ride, but think of the advantage in up-to-date capitalist financial methods. Anybody can build a subway.—The Nation.

The Snooper

Bob Jaccard is a bit crushed at a letter he received recently from a person that called him—self the Rev. H. DeCoursey Devine. It seems that he is giving a campaign in the "chaste and holy cause of temperance." His former subject and living example of the evil effects of liquor has passed away and he has been referred to Bob as a possible successor. It would have been a good joke if we had been perplexed about the sender but the postmark on the envelop gave it away. There is only one Wichita flash that would be interested in Bob's welfare. We wonder if jealousy could have entered into it?

Larry Antenen was having a lovely time directing the orchestra at the Sigma Nu party Friday night. What got us was that he chose such a spot as under the piano as a choice place from which to lead it. Maybe Larry forgot that he was no longer a member of that frat, (if you choose to call it one).

The Chi O freshmen were a funny looking bunch late Saturday afternoon after having bunched up about five hundred balloons. Did they sigh to see all that lung power go to waste when the balloons were all broken within a half hour after the party started.

The Deltas were a bit perturbed when they were unable to sleep early Saturday morning. The story goes that the laughter from Costner's car kept them all awake. If we are not mistaken Clark had a date with Louise Rust that night.

The picnic that Bob Dill was having such a time sponsoring for Sunday night went off with a bang. It was a very different kind from what we expected the P.K.A.'s to sponsor—and even their housemother was impressed.

After three practices the Delt barbecue should go off with a bang. Wouldn't it be too bad if the weather should have another rain and spoil it, after all the training they have been giving their freshmen?

PLEASE EXPLAIN

Who is sponsoring the party Tuesday night and why are all the girls wearing their oldest formal—why did Roger Crowe leave the Sigma Nu party yester talking to two girls—what house mother did Chet Freeman try to get a date with and why—why was Johnny Van Aken backing up to booths and scratching his back in the Palace Sunday night? Maybe his shoulder was "Aken"—why weren't more of the Scarats on their serenade—why did Harold Engleman fall down and drag four others with him at the Chi O party?

Next weekend the Kappas, Tri Deltas and Chi Omegas will press their noses on the windows while the Pi Phi's rate for the ONE time this semester.

It is rumored that all the Alpha Deltas have managed to get back after a Founders' Day banquet in Kansas City. It's a question in our mind how they could get there in the first place after the Sigma Nu party Friday night.

Gentle Gests By Elma Edwards

Vacant Vera thinks it's all right to adopt children but she thinks this "buy a poppy" business is going just a little bit too far.

A really rugged individual is one who laughs whenever he wants to without bothering to look around to see what the others are doing.

Sometimes it isn't so important what one decides as it is that he decide something while everyone else is still in his right mind.

When your family thinks you're good, it means little; when your classmates think you're good, you're probably above average; but when your in-laws think you're good, you're good.

Vacant Vera insists she's not getting initiated into anything; that's just her new spring hat.

To get along in this world one must have something to sell, be able to do something well or get organized.

Wildcats Win Track Dual With Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA A. AND M. IS 76 TO 41 VICTIM OF KANSAS STATE

Record For Fanning

Star Sophomore Discus Man Boosts Own Mark to 143 Feet 1-4 Inch—Beats Tichenor

Kansas State college field and track team closed its home season Saturday afternoon with a 76 to 41 victory over Oklahoma A. and M. College. The team, under Coach Ward Haylett, will enter the Big Six conference meet at Lincoln Friday and Saturday as a favorite to take the championship for outdoor competition.

The meet Saturday, held jointly with the state high school regional meet, was the first for the two schools in recent years.

Sweep in Six Events
Setting a new varsity record in the discus throw at 143 feet 1-4 inch, Paul Fanning, sophomore weight star on the Wildcat team, gave the outstanding performance of the meet. Crowding Tichenor, Oklahoma A. and M. Star, into second place, Fanning averaged a defeat by Tichenor at the Texas relay earlier in the year.

Early in the meet, Kansas State gained a strong lead, which gradually increased as the meet progressed. Scoring clean sweeps in six of the 15 events, they showed impressive power in nearly all the events but the dashes.

So completely did the Wildcat distance men dominate the field that they finished in ties in the 880, mile, and the two mile events.

Joe Knappenberger, Kansas State captain and well known hurdle star, finished behind, Oren Stoner, in the 120-yard high hurdle event after leading into the final dash.

Tichenor High Point Man
Tichenor, Oklahoma A. and M., was high man in the meet with 12 points made with first place in shot put, tie for first in the high jump, and second in discus. Although he weighs 240 pounds, he cleared the high jump bar at six feet splitting the points for first and second with Roehman of Kansas State.

Second place in individual scoring went to Wright of Oklahoma with 10 points which he took in winning the 100 and 200-yard dash events. Knappenberger placed third with 9 1-2 points.

Mile Relay Team Disqualified
Although they had built up a good lead and finished in first place the Kansas State quarter mile quartet was disqualified when the anchor man went out of the limit for changing the baton in the mile relay.

Because of the soft condition of the cinders and a stiff wind from the south, records of the events on the track were held down somewhat.

The summaries:
High jump—Tichenor, Oklahoma A. and M., and Roehman, Kansas State, tied for first. Height 6 feet.
120-yard high hurdles—Won by Stoner, Kansas State; Knappenberger, Kansas State, second. Time 16 seconds.

CORNHUSKERS SCORE WIN IN EVERY MATCH

The Cornhusker tennismen crushed the Kansas State tennis team winning every match for a 6 to 0 victory at Lincoln Saturday afternoon. Only one Kansas State player, Wayne Thornbrough, in the final set, reached the four game mark in a set. No match ran more than two sets.

The summaries:

THE BULL PEN

BILL McDANIEL

A Big Six school has never won the three conference track championships—two-mile, indoor, and outdoor—in a single year. Nebraska has been the biggest winner in the conference so far, copping both the indoor and outdoor titles in 1928, 1932, and 1933, although in the latter year the Huskers shared the indoor honors with Oklahoma. Kansas was king of the indoor and outdoor tracksters last year. K-State won her first and only outdoor championship back in 1919. Iowa State is the only team in the conference which has not won either of the larger-team titles, while Oklahoma has never captured the outdoor meet.

At the present time, the prospects are exceedingly bright for Kansas State to be the first to smash the above-mentioned precedent, thereby bringing all three titles to Manhattan. All indications, however, point to a real cut-throat battle between K-State and Oklahoma at Lincoln this weekend. Both will be gunning to achieve that which has never been done before—the Sooners want their first outdoor championship just as badly as State wants her third successive title for the year. On the basis of having won the conference indoor meet, the Wildcats are accorded a slight edge in the pre-meet dope to take the coming contest.

According to statisticians and sports critics, the result of the meet will lie largely in the outcome of the half-mile, mile, and high hurdles. Oklahoma trackmen in their dual meets this spring have established three new school records, two of them being in the high hurdles and the mile run, events which were won by Kansas State at the indoor meet. The other record to fall from the Sooner onslaught was that for the 880-yard run.

The new Sooner record in the high hurdles was made by Burk, who skinned over the sticks in 14.8. However, Captain Joe Knappenberger is in fine shape and should have little trouble with Burk or any other competitor in the conference for that matter. The new mile record was set by Lochner in 4:19.8, which incidentally is a full second better than the best time of Justus O'Reilly this season. And Justus, by the way, was State's conference indoor champion. O'Reilly has not seriously extended himself this spring and should give Lochner a great battle in the feature race of the day. Moody and Barrett ran a dead heat in the half mile to set a new record of 1:56.9. Moody was conference champ, but he will find some stiff competition in O'Reilly, Dill, and Eberhart, members of State's crack two-mile team all of whom have run the distance in 1:57 or better.

For the first time since he accepted the chair of running and throwing at Nebraska more than 15 years ago, Pa. Schulte's pupils lost a dual meet on their home playground last Friday afternoon. The mile relay was the deciding factor in the meet which the Huskers lost to the Sooners 67 1-3 to 63 2-3. Using the dope-sheet method, Coach Ward Haylett had figured Oklahoma to win 72 to 59. The closeness of the contest came as a complete surprise to Ward, who remarked, "Never before in my life have I been so far off in my calculations." The times were comparatively slow and several of the favorites turned in disappointing performances in their respective events.

SPORT SHOTS
Bart Ward, star Sooner quarter miler is gaining almost as much fame for his water color studies as for his running and jumping. Wayne King, the band maestro, is a former Valparaiso University backfield man. Lefty Groves has reduced his daily quota of cigars from 12 to half a dozen.

Bill Bonthron, Princeton runner, always begins training for a big race by playing 18 holes of golf daily for a week or 10 days. . . . The Dempsey-Carpenter fight at Boyle's Thirty acres was the first bout ever broadcasted. . . . Mickey Riley, Olympic diving champ, gets a nickel for every bathing suit or trunk bearing his name. . . . Fred Perry already has signed to play professional tennis it is rumored out west. . . . The gossip say he will not play on the British Davis cup team for fear his signing will leak out and he will be black balled in his home country. . . . Notre Dame and the Navy, who have been meeting on the football field annually since 1925 never have had a contract. . . . they simply talk it over, shake hands and let it go at that. . . . It has been reported that Southern California is waiting to receive Harold Brill with open arms. . . . Brill recently had to drop out of Nebraska due to scholastic difficulties.

Hunter, Sooner right fielder, was the heavy scorer of the day with a home run in the fourth inning far out between the Aggie center and left fields. In the fifth inning he got on base in Stevens' error at third, to score on Clark's hit the next play. In the seventh, the inning in which the Sooners rapped out five hits for four runs. Hunter hit to get on and went to third on Clark's hit. He scored after running back and forth between third and home plate.

Hardwick, Shapiro, and Clark were the other Sooner scorers of the seventh inning. Cooley struck out three men to retire the side. Neither team scored in the last two innings of the game.

Defeat Creighton

Kansas State Golfers Down Omaha Team 11 1/2 to 9 1/4—Conference Matches Are May 17-19

Kansas State's golfers defeated Creighton University, Omaha, Saturday afternoon, by a score of 11 1/2 to 9 1/4.

Low scores were made by Fraser of Creighton and Williams and Hays of Kansas State with a total of 73 each. Both singles and doubles matches were played in the same round because of the lateness of getting started.

In singles competition Fraser won over Williams 2 to 1; Phillips, Kansas State, beat Connors, Creighton, 2 to 1; Hays, Kansas State defeated Lewis, Creighton, 3 to 0; and Crow, Kansas State, beat Conlin, Creighton, 2 1/2 to 1/2.

In the team play Hays and Crow beat Connors and Lewis 2 1/2 to 1/2, and Fraser and Conlin defeated Phillips and Williams 2 1/2 to 1/2. The conference championship golf match will be played this weekend at Lincoln.

Beat The Regulars

Baseball Stars Found First Stringers to Win 5 to 2 in Six Inning Practice Game

The "reserves" of the Kansas State college baseball squad beat the regulars 5 to 2, Tuesday evening, in a 6 inning practice game. Three home runs by the "reserves" produced their margin of victory. Two of the homers were registered by C. W. Decker, reserve first baseman, and the other by Jenkins, reserve third baseman.

The reserve team made nice hits off Frank Cooley and Lamar Albott, who pitched for the regulars. J. L. Scott and E. G. Wiley on mound duty for the reserves permitted only four safe hits.

Hits by Frank Cooley Bill Lutz, and Ben Winchester in the third inning failed to push across a score. Lutz scored in the first and Stevens in the sixth to tally the regulars two runs.
Jenkins poled out his homer in the third to start the reserve scoring and Decker hit for the circuit in the fourth and fifth innings. Joe Spencer circled the bases in the fourth when his hard-hit single got away from Elder and rolled to the right-field fence. Frank Stuckey, reserve catcher, drove out a double in the fifth inning and scored on an error to make the last run for the reserve team.

Zoologists Invent Air Elevator For Grasshoppers

An air-stream elevator for grasshoppers is the latest skin-saving device invented (patent not applied for) by the zoology department of Kansas State college. It is the grasshoppers' skins that are being saved. Grasshoppers by the millions—or grouse-locusts as the zoology department learnedly prefers to call them—are used in heredity experiments conducted by Dr. R. E. Nabours, head of the department.

According to a 10 years ago item in the Kansas Industrialist Doctor Nabours had studied the results of mating a million grasshoppers. This year he is experimenting with more than a million of them. Lifting that many grasshoppers from one cage to another by means of tweezers is a tedious process for the operator, and a painful one for the "hoppers."

Edgar Millenbruck, undergraduate assistant to Doctor Nabours and H. C. Manns, graduate student in entomology, have provided a glass chamber with a suction tube and now give the grasshoppers a roomy air-stream ride, instead of pinching their tender bodies every time they

To catalog every item of our youthful, summery apparel would mean that we'd have to publish another "Anthony Adverse."

Every morning at parcel post time we bring to town four or five new ideas that no one had an idea of before.

Sports clothes, you may call them. To us they are the finest shirts, odd trousers and jackets, hester and neckwear that youth ever had designed for itself.

are transferred from one cage to another. Suction for the tube is furnished by either a common water air-pump or a small vacuum sweeper unit.

To pick up the young "hoppers" it is necessary to only pass the mouth of the tube over them and they are gently but rapidly lifted into the receiving chamber. When the "elevator" is loaded the operator cuts off the suction, opens the chamber, and counts out the passengers.

Aside from saving considerable time this invention may not be so important to the zoology department—but think what it must mean to the grasshoppers.

HOSIERY EXHIBIT EXPLAINS TERMS

A hosiery exhibit, to explain terms to the modern girl, is being shown on the second floor of Calvin hall. The newest hosiery has woven in to the top, two numbers, the first indicates gauge, the second thread range.

Gauge tells the number of needles in one and one half inch on the knitting machine. The higher the gauge the greater the elasticity and fineness. The numbers run from 42 for service weight hose to 51 for the sheerest chiffon.

New knee-high hose are also shown and old fashioned pairs crocheted of white linen thread or knitted of creamy luster yarn.

1935-'36 Best Sports Year In K. S. History

Kansas State college athletes and coaches will this weekend wind up the most successful season of inter-collegiate athletic competition the school has ever known. Big Six conference meetings golf, tennis, and outdoor track will be held Friday and Saturday at Lincoln, with Wildcat teams participating in each of the meets.

The Wildcat baseball team will close the season with two games against Iowa State to be played Friday and Saturday in the local field.

"The success of our athletic teams during the past year is a source of deep satisfaction to me," said Mike Ahearn. "Just thirty-one years ago it was my privilege to watch members of the football team of Kansas State test their mettle against sturdy young men from other institutions in the Missouri valley. Each year since then I have closely followed the fortunes of the 'Varsity' at home and abroad. There have been lean years and fat ones but the season of 1934-35 has been the most outstanding and the most satisfying."

Big Six crowns in football, indoor track, boxing and the two-mile event top the Kansas State athletes' list of achievements for the past year, but they have been very much in the running in every type of conference competition.

Bruce Nixon

Neal the new vice president was second high with 838. Because of the record number of votes cast in this year's Student Council election it is highly probable that Nixon's vote was the greatest ever cast for any single candidate.

All of the members of the new Student Council were candidates representing the Pan-Hellenic party, a coalition of the fraternities and sororities on the hill to fight the Independent party that formed before the election.

Members of the outgoing Council are Joe Knappenberger, Howard Hudiburg, Louise Ratliff, Howard Moreen, Henry Kirk, Myra Roth, and Pete Neuschwanger.

RECEPTION TIME CHANGED

Install Speakers

Visitors For Livestock Feeders' Day Will Be Able To Hear This Year

Visitors attending the twenty-third annual livestock-feeders' day here next Friday, May 24, will not need to worry about being able to hear the speakers in the pavilion, according to Prof. A. D. Weber of the animal husbandry department of the college. Weber has arranged to have installed loud speaking equipment, which not only will carry the voice of speakers to all corners of the south wing of the pavilion but will carry it to the north wing as well. In years past the feeders' day crowd usually has more than filled the south wing, so that many were forced to stand outside. This year the overflow crowd can be accommodated in the north wing of the pavilion where they can hear all that is said.

Feeders' day visitors are urged to arrive at the college at 8 and spend an hour inspecting the beef cattle breeding herds. At 9 the schedule calls for a meeting in the pavilion, where President F. D. Farrell will deliver an address of welcome. The usual Saturday afternoon session with reports of experiments is scheduled to follow the noon-day lunch.

To Hold Radio Class Tryouts

Students Aspiring to Enroll in Next Year's Radio Classes to Display Ability Tuesday

Tryouts for students interested in radio speaking and announcing classes for next fall will be held on Tuesday, May 21, in the radio studio, from 2 to 4 o'clock in the afternoon. No advanced preparation is necessary for the tryouts. All students interested in enrolling in the beginning course or in working on the program without formal enrollment may attend.

The tryout consists only of reading before the microphone. The membership in the beginning class is limited to approximately 16.

The program for next year will contain three informational types of broadcasts—"National Affairs," "International Affairs," and "What's New in the World." The two programs, "On Campus," and "This Week," will be continued and a third, "Behind the Scenes," will be added. The latter is an entertainment type of broadcast. The other programs will present in dramatic form important events leading up to significant current happenings.

All six programs will be written, planned, directed and presented by students. About five people will take part in the informational programs and about 10 on the entertainment type, totaling about 40 students for each week.

Kansas State was one of the first schools offering work in radio speaking and announcing. In February of 1932 when this class was first offered, the University of Iowa and Washington State college were the only other schools offering this work. Now about 30 schools in the country have classes in radio work.

HAYLETT HOPES TO ADD OUTDOOR TRACK CHAMPIONSHIP TO SEASON'S RECORD

Oklahoma Strong

Cornhuskers And Wildcats Are Doped About As High—K. S. Strong in Mile, Two-Mile, 880, 440, Hurdles, Discus

Coach Ward Haylett and his Kansas State track and field team hope to add the Big Six outdoor championship to this season's laurels, which already include the indoor and two-mile team titles, in the conference meet at Lincoln today and tomorrow.

Haylett believes the Wildcats have the best chance they have ever had to win the meet, which has been an annual affair for seven years and is one of the most outstanding track events in the Midwest. The only outdoor title ever taken by the Manhattan school was the Missouri Valley League championship.

K. U. Has Little Chance to Repeat
Oklahoma, Nebraska, and Kansas State are rated one-two-three, with Oklahoma a slight favorite. Missouri is stronger than Kansas, who, without Glenn Cunningham, Ed Hall, Clyde Coffman, Paul Harrington, and others has little chance to repeat last year's victory.

Kansas State's strength lies mostly in the mile, two-mile, 880, 440, both hurdles, the discus, and the mile relay, according to Haylett. The State coach hopes to win enough of these events to gain a margin over the Sooners, while he is counting on Kansas to help hold down Nebraska's points by placing well in the field events.

Captain Joe Knappenberger, one of the best hurdlers of this section, should be the high point winner for the Wildcats. He will enter both the hurdles, the 100-yard dash, and possibly will be in the 880-yard relay team.

Knappenberger captured the high hurdles last year in 14.9 and is favored to take both barrier events this year. The Wildcat star's best time of the season for the high hurdles is 14.7 set in the preliminaries of the Texas Relays. Burk of Oklahoma has the next best record of 14.8 while his team mate, Nelson, has hit the tape in 14.9. Knappenberger ran still faster in the Texas meet when Sam Allen of Oklahoma Baptist nosed him out in the final.

Kansas State was one of the first schools offering work in radio speaking and announcing. In February of 1932 when this class was first offered, the University of Iowa and Washington State college were the only other schools offering this work. Now about 30 schools in the country have classes in radio work.

Scarab, Kansas State men's political organization, elected the following officers in a meeting Tuesday evening: president, James Ketchersid; vice-president, Leonard Zerull; secretary, Keith Lassen; treasurer, Max Wann; sentinel, A. A. Boeka; and scout, Paul Montgomery. The membership in this organization consists of two men representing each fraternity.

14.3. In the low timber event Knappenberger's best time of 24.2 has been eclipsed by Burk this year. Haight of Nebraska has the next best time in this race.

An O'Reilly-Lochner Deal

Cardwell of the Cornhuskers, and Cooley of the Tigers are the standouts in the century dash, each having a 9.8 to his credit. Knappenberger's best time is 9.9, but he is not expected to take first place. Justus O'Reilly will find Lochner of Oklahoma hard to defeat in the mile. Lochner has a record of 4:19.8 which shades the Wildcat mile's 4. 20.8 made on the Armour Tech boards. Funk of Nebraska is rated third best man in this event.

O'Reilly will also compete in the 880. He has run the half-mile in 1:56 with the two-mile relay team. His strongest competition will be from Chaney and Moody of Oklahoma and his team mates Dill and Eberhart.

Strong Quarter-Mile Field
In the quarter-mile run Bruce Nixon of Kansas State will be the outstanding contender although

THE BULL PEN

BILL

Bart Ward, star quarter-miler of the University of Oklahoma, is going to sacrifice opportunity for personal glory this weekend, to play a bigger role—that of bringing glory to the entire Sooner team in its bid for the Big Six Conference outdoor track and field title. Oklahoma has never won an outdoor team championship but by using Ward in the 220-yard dash, broad jump, and as anchor man on the Sooner half-mile and mile relay teams, Coach Jacobs believes the slender Oklahoma could do what the school far more good than if he ran the open 440-yard race. The quarter comes first on the program and is so strenuous it leaves little in Ward's legs for the broad jump and other races.

Ward is undefeated in his three years of Big Six competition in his pet event. He has won five conference 440-yard championships, which is more than any other Big Six trackster has done. By competing and winning this Saturday, he could establish a perfect record, both in indoor and outdoor competition, but Ward has accepted his new assignment cheerfully, thus showing his true sportsmanship spirit.

If the Big Six track title were to be given on the basis of the best performances made by the conference schools last weekend, the University of Oklahoma would be assured of first place by a wide margin. A compilation of the summaries of the four meets in which Big Six schools engaged shows the Sooners had top performances in eight or the 15 events and a tie in a ninth. Nebraska has four best performances and a tie; Kansas has two and a tie; Iowa State a tie; while Missouri and Kansas State had nothing but victories in dual meets.

Best performances in this case, however, do not tell the true story. While Oklahoma and Nebraska were fighting it out tooth and nail, K-State was breezing through Oklahoma A and M, content to keep in good condition and making no effort whatever to establish any records. As it was, the Wildcats made a clean sweep of six of the 15 events. Coach Haylett's proteges should reach their peak this Saturday and if they do, we do not hesitate to say that there is no team in the Big Six that will be able to whip them.

George Anderson, University of California speedster, was clocked by three official watches and four others held by unofficial observers in .09.2 in the 100-yard dash at the West Coast relays last Saturday. He was robbed of the time because one timer refused to believe the evidence of his own timepiece, got "buck fever," and wouldn't turn it in. The head timer finally decided to give .9.5 as the time because he felt "that the boys beat the gun."

SPORT SHORTS

For the first time in history, every school has entered a complete track team in the conference meet. . . . Bobby Jones thinks Lawson Little is five shots better than any other amateur now playing golf. . . . Earl Sande and Isaac Murphy, the colored jockey, are the only three time winners of the Kentucky Derby. . . . Sande won on Zev in 1933, Flying Ebony in 1925, and Gallant Fox in 1930. . . . Babe Ruth is plenty mad at National league managers who play their first and second basemen in short field when he is at bat. . . . second basemen are throwing him out on what ordinarily would be singles. . . . Mildred (Babe) Diddrickson's ambition to achieve the women's national golf title received a sharp blow Wednesday. . . . The United States golf association ruled her ineligible for amateur competition because of participation as a professional in other sports. . . . Sonja Henie, world's figure skating champion, has announced her retirement, effective after the 1936 Olympics. . . . Jack Doyle, Broadway betting commissioner, offered 1,000 to 1 against Cincinnati winning the pennant a few months ago, but he was swamped with so many offers that he cut the price to 50 to 1. . . . 17 fighters hold decisions over James Braddock, designed by the New York boxing commission as No. 1 challenger for Max Baer's title. . . . about the only reason any one would pick Braddock to lift Baer's crown is the fact that no champion ever has successfully defended his title in Long Island bowl. . . . just a few short months ago Braddock was standing in a bread line. . . .

WILDCATS WILL BID FOR BIG SIX TITLE AT N. U. TOMORROW

Barnett of the Sooners will push him to the limit. Graves of Kansas and Ward of Oklahoma also should place well in this event. Ward is favored to cop the 220-yard dash. He has a time of 21.7 while Cooley of Missouri has a record of 22.1. Jacobsen of Nebraska is another strong candidate for this event.

Elwyn Dees who won the shot put last year seems certain to repeat Saturday. During the season he has consistently bettered his record of 51 feet 7 inches. Francis and Rist of Nebraska are rated the next best of the shot heavers.

Fanning Has Best Distance
Paul Fanning of Kansas State has the best record in the discus event. His best throw of 143 feet 1-4 inch is several feet better than those made by his closest rivals, Rist, Berger of the Iowa State team, and Oklahoma's Reynolds.

Nebraska has the outstanding javelin tosser in Chamber. He has one throw of 192 feet 2 inches to his credit. Walter Herrmann of the Wildcats and Kilgore of Oklahoma will also be watched among the spear hurlers. Clinton Roehman should bring Kansas State some points in the high jump, although Short of Missouri and Wellhausen of Kansas have the best performances.

Kansas State doesn't stand much chance to place high in the pole vault nor the broad jump. Noble of Kansas is the standout in the former event while Ward, and Cardwell and Warnke of Nebraska, are outstanding in the latter. Coach Haylett believes Leo Ayres may place in the pole vault. He recalls that Norman Booth placed third unexpectedly in 1933.

Seven Champions Back
Kansas, with a record of 3.20.1 this year, is rated the best of the mile relay teams. Oklahoma rates second with Kansas State third.

Besides Knappenberger and Dees there are five others in the meet who will be defending last year first place titles. Ward won the 440 in 49.9, Short of Missouri tied Barnum of Oklahoma in the high jump at 6 feet 3 inches, and Gray of Kansas tied Lyons of Iowa State in the pole vault at 13 feet 3 7-8 inches.

Kansas State's need for an adequate field house was apparent this week when the team was unable to hold workouts because of rain. Attempts were made to hold outdoor sessions Monday and Tuesday but according to Coach Haylett they were not satisfactory.

Haylett expects to use his men in the various events as follows:

To Big Six Meet

Captain Hoglund, Thornbrough and Fowler Will Represent K-State at Lincoln Tennis Matches

Kansas State's tennis team with Coach Moll left Thursday for Lincoln for the Big Six tennis meet Friday and Saturday.

A three man team, this is the limited number in a Big Six tournament, composed of Captain Hoglund who will play number 1 singles, Fowler, number 2 singles and Thornbrough who with Hoglund will play the doubles, made the trip. Drawing for matches will be at nine o'clock Friday morning, play will start at ten.

Voss of the University of Kansas the defending singles champion is favored to repeat in this event this year. Oklahoma's doubles team, Upsher and Rollins also defending champions of last year are the favorites in this event. A team trophy is awarded on the basis of the number of men reaching the finals and semifinals; won by Oklahoma last year. There is a strong possibility that it will be retained by them this year, although Kansas will be a strong contender.

The matches scheduled with Washburn college last Tuesday were canceled at their request. The Kansas State netsters have failed to place in the win column in their four Big Six meets this year.

Providing the sun shines enough to dry off the field by Saturday a doubleheader may be played then.

The possibility that the games may be postponed until next week is unlikely. The Cyclones have two games with the University of Nebraska the first of the week and two more at the end of the week. If the games are not played this week as scheduled they will probably permanently be cancelled.

The Wildcats scored 9 points in the singles competition. Baker made only 3 points in the singles matches. In the singles competition Williams, Kansas State, beat Crosten, Baker, 2-1; Hays, Kansas State tied with Martin, Baker, 15-15; Hollis, Kansas State, defeated Finley, Baker, 3-0; and Crow, Kansas State won from McCall, Baker 2-0.

Each team took one match in team play which was for nine holes only because of rain. Crow and Hollis; Kansas State, won from Finley and McCall, Baker 2-0; and Crosten and Martin, Baker defeated Williams and Hays, Kansas State 2-0.

The golfers are leaving today for Lincoln, Nebraska to participate in the Conference Championship Golf Match.

ATHLETES SAY: "THEY DON'T GET YOUR WIND!"

Read below what leading sports champions say about Camels

With the preference of star athletes overwhelmingly for one cigarette, that cigarette has to be exceptionally mild! Its name is well known to you—Camel. Here's what an Olympic champion diver, Harold ("Dutch") Smith, says about Camels: "I've found a great deal of pleasure in Camels. They never interfere with my wind." Rip Collins, of the St. Louis Cardinals, says: "Here's the best proof I know that Camels are mild: I can smoke them steadily, and they never get my wind."

Rowland Dufton, of the New York A. C., says: "Squash is a game that requires A1 condition for tournament play. I've found that Camels are so mild I can smoke all I want, and they never upset my nerves or get my wind. That's what I call real mildness!"

Dick Shelton, world-champion steer dogger, says: "I must be sure the cigarettes I smoke are mild. Camels are very mild—don't get my wind." And those two brilliant golfers, Denny Shute and Helen Hicks, have come to the same conclusion—"Camels do not get my wind."

How this mildness is important to you too!

Camel smokers can smoke more—and enjoy smoking more, knowing that sports champions have found Camels so mild that they never jangle their nerves or get their wind.

YOU'LL LIKE THEIR MILDNESS TOO!

YOUR OWN PHYSICAL CONDITION is important to you too. So remember this: Camels are so mild you can smoke all you want. Athletes say Camels never get their wind or nerves.

Commencement Week Offers Varied Program For Alumni And Students

PROGRAM STARTS SATURDAY, MAY 25, AND ENDS MON-DAY, MAY 27

Opera Star Here

Phradie Wells of Metropolitan Opera Company to Sing Sunday—200 Old Grads Back

Beginning Saturday, May 25, at noon, with the Class Reunions, and ending Monday evening with graduation exercises, commencement week offers a full program to alumni as well as for the candidates for degrees.

Saturday, May 25, is the official alumni day with a class luncheon at noon, an alumni business meeting in the afternoon in Recreation center, and a banquet to the seniors at 6 p. m. in Nichols gymnasium, followed by a dance for the banquet guests. Tickets will be given to all seniors for their personal use and they are at liberty to purchase as many more as they wish for friends and relatives. Members of the committees in charge of plans for the reunion expect over 200 old grads back for their class reunions—with some registrations from the class of 1885.

Kelley To Give Sermon
E. A. Allen, Raymore, Mo., president of the alumni association is to be toastmaster at the banquet, and A. A. Thornbrough, president of the senior class will give the response.

Bishop Francis C. Kelly, Oklahoma City, Okla., will give the baccalaureate sermon, at 8 p. m. Sunday, May 26, in Memorial stadium. President F. D. Farrell will deliver the address at eight o'clock Monday evening, in Memorial stadium, concluding the commencement exercises.

Phradie Wells, nationally recognized soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company will sing in the college auditorium, commencing the seniors, Sunday afternoon. Miss Wells studied with Oscar Saenger in New York, and according to critics, her voice has developed into a lyric soprano of unusual range.

Five Years With Company
After one successful season with the Opera Company, she was immediately re-engaged for a period of four years, and has since appeared in over one hundred performances with Metropolitan, and is one of the first American trained singers to receive such recognition. Senior final examinations, which started last week, will have been completed Monday, May 21, as all grades for students expecting degrees must be in the registrar's office not later than noon, Tuesday, May 22.

397 Seniors Graduate
Of the 424 degrees to be conferred, 397 students will receive either bachelor of science or doctor of veterinary medicine degrees. Twenty-four students will receive master of science degrees. Three honorary doctor's degrees will go to James T. Jardine, Washington, D. C., Professor Ernest Harrison Freeman, Chicago, and George Washington Wildin of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. Prof. Freeman and Mr. Wildin are both graduates of this college. James Jardine, brother of a former president of Kansas State, is chief of the office of experimentation in Washington, D. C., and in that capacity he supervises the work of all experimental agricultural stations in the United States.

REJECT OFFER TO BUY
PROJECTING MACHINE
The offer of the 4-H club to pay $500 on a motion picture projector complete with sound equipment to be placed in the college auditorium has been rejected for the present time. This offer was made with the understanding that the college was to pay the remainder of the cost and keep the machine in repair and operation. This would have called for an initial cost of approximately $1,000 by the college and it was decided that the cost was too great to consider at the present time, however it has been promised more consideration in the near future.

Miss Ruby Corr of Clearwater, is in charge of the plans the college 4-H club is making in regard to the state 4-H club round-up to be held on the campus June 3 to 7. The college club plans to take an active part in the arrangement and carrying on of the round-up this year.

Mary Lebow will sing, accompanied by Grace Umberger, "The Fountain" composed by Grace Umberger and "Serenade" written by Mary Lebow. ### To Offer German

Six Hour Courses in the Language
Will Be Offered in Summer School

German courses will be offered in summer school this year for the first time, according to Prof. L. H. Limper, because of the increased enrollment in the regular classes. In French, Spanish, and German courses, the work of the first two semesters will be covered during the summer session as one course. These classes will meet for two hours each day.

"A similar double course in Spanish was offered last summer at the request of the students and the arrangement proved very satisfactory," said Professor Limper. "This arrangement has certain advantages because in beginning a course in a foreign language much contact with the instructor is necessary and outside work which the student might do is likely to be faulty and even useless," he added.

Since second semester courses in these languages are not offered during the fall semester it is an advantage to the student to be able to take both semesters during the summer session, Professor Limper pointed out. Also it is an advantage to those students who attend school only in the summer to get both semesters instead of having to wait a year to finish the course.

The six hour course in German offered during the summer session is a prerequisite for Scientific German which will be offered only during the fall semester.

SOONERS FIRST WITH 65½ WILDCATS SECOND WITH 54 NEBRASKA THIRD

K.S. Captain Stars

Knappenberger Wins Both Hurdles and Places Second in Century
—O'Reilly, Fanning Place

Kansas State placed second to the University of Oklahoma in the Big Six championship track and field meet held on a rain-drenched field at Lincoln Saturday. It was the first time the Sooners have won the title.

Coming up with a rush in the late events, the Oklahomans finished with a 1½ point margin over the Wildcats, who had made it a close battle all afternoon. The winners scored 65½ points, Kansas State 54, Nebraska 36, Iowa State 32, Missouri 29, and Kansas, last year's champions, trailed with 24½ points.

Kansas State had been conceded the best chance in its history to annex the meet, but after holding a 40 to 28 lead after the first 10 events the Wildcats faded out of the picture when Oklahoma grabbed both of the relays. The Sooners won seven first places, six of them in track. Bart Ward soared 23 feet 11 5/8 inches for their only first in the field events.

Jayhawkers Set Records
The only record-breaking honors went to the last place Jayhawkers. They lowered two marks in field events, which were not effected so much by the rain as were track events. Elwyn Dees performed as predicted to lower his previous shot put record of 80 feet, 1 3/4 inches with a heave of 51 feet, 3 3/4 inches. He made this mark in the preliminaries and it weathered all of Saturday's attacks.

Clyde Coffman's pole vault record of 13 feet 5 5/8 inches, set in 1931, was smashed by another Kansan, Ray Noble. The sturdy sophomore Jayhawker swept over the bar at 13 feet 8 1/8 inches.

Joe Knappenberger again came through with wins in both hurdle races and also placed second to Cooley, of Missouri, in the century dash. All of the times were considerably slower than usual because of the wet track.

Lochner of Oklahoma ran in both the two-mile and mile races, winning the longer distance with Bill Wheelock of Kansas State second. Justice O'Reilly pulled in first in the mile with Lochner on his heels.

Fanning Wins Discus
J. B. Nixon, Kansas State's star quarter miler, was led to the tape by both Janz and Barrett of Oklahoma. The 880-yard run saw the Wildcats coping all but first place, Chaney of Oklahoma being followed by Dill, Eberhart, O'Reilly, and Messick, in that order.

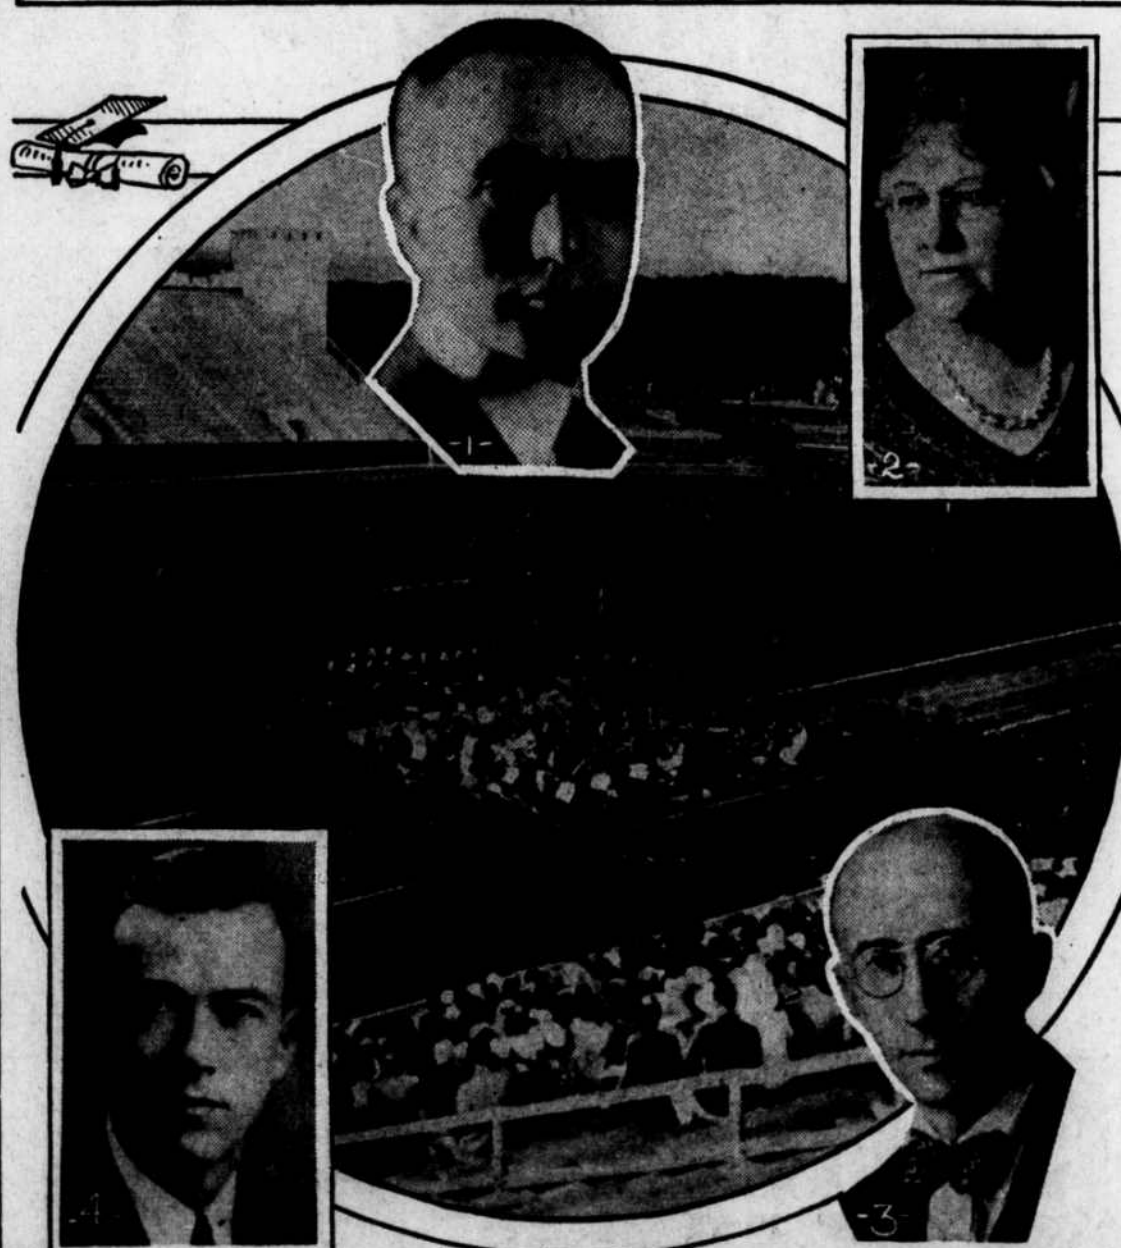

Paul Fanning, Wildcat discus star, was in form to add another triumph to his impressive record. His throw of 141 feet 3 inches was several feet better than his nearest rival, Berger of Iowa State, could do. Roehman and Harris got a tie for second place in the high jump for the Wildcats along with Miller of Iowa State and Wellhausen of Kansas. Short of Missouri captured first.

The summaries:
Two mile run: Won by Lochner, Oklahoma; second, Wheelock, Kansas State; third, King, Iowa State; fourth, Robinson, Kansas State; fifth, Beasley, Missouri. Time 9:47.2.
Pole vault: Won by Noble, Kansas, 13 feet, 8 1/8 inches. (new conference record, old record of 13 feet, 8 1/8 inches); second, Cosgrove, Nebraska; third, Gray, Kansas; tie for fourth between Whitmore, Iowa State, and Burk, Oklahoma.

Low Hurdles to Knappenberger
220-yard low hurdles: Won by Knappenberger, Kansas State; second, Nelson, Oklahoma; third, Walden, Missouri; fourth, Burk, Oklahoma; fifth, Freeman, Iowa State. Time, 24.8.

880-yard relay: Won by Oklahoma; second, Nebraska; third, Missouri; fourth, Iowa State; fifth, Kansas State. Time 1:28.8.
Mile relay: Won by Oklahoma; second, Nebraska; third, Kansas; fourth, Iowa State; fifth, Kansas State. Time 3:35.2.
Broad jump: Won by Ward, Oklahoma, distance, 23 feet, 11 1/8 inches; second, Pitts, Kansas; third, Cardwell, Nebraska; fourth, Waters, Missouri; fifth, Warnke, Nebraska.
Mile run: Won by O'Reilly, Kansas State; second, Lochner, Oklahoma; third, Funk, Nebraska; fourth, Redfield, Kansas State; fifth, (Continued on Page Three)

This Radical Sheet

The editor of the Collegian has frequently been criticized during the past semester for what has been termed his radical ideas and practices.
 It is only with regret that we are forced to admit we haven't lived up to the reputation gained.

The term radical is probably the most abused word in the English language. Under it any and all are classified whose ideas happen to differ from our own. But to literally interpret the term radical, we would find that those we thus classified are entitled to a great deal of respect.
 Radicalism means essentially to go to the root of a problem—to find the basic faults. Inevitably if this is done the individual will be forced to advocate changes in our mode of living of an extreme nature.

In an ultra-conservative school such as Kansas State anything tinged with liberalism is immediately branded radical by quite a large element in the school's population. As one professor recently said, "there are more conservatives per square foot in this college than almost anywhere else in the world." While the majority of the colleges in the country actively support several radical movements Kansas State is singularly devoid of any semblance of an organized liberal or radical movement. Students on the whole here seem quite unaware that the war with the resultant world-wide depression we are now in, has demonstrated startling defects in our social structure.

Conservatism of this sort is the worst sort of disease. Anyone that can remain conservative amidst the social conditions of today is either too well-fixed as far as wealth is concerned for his own or society's good, so completely intro-verted so as to be oblivious to his environment, or suffering from an advanced form of mental stagnation. The fact that change of a liberal, and in some cases radical, nature is essential if we are to emerge safely from the morass we are now in is obvious. Our future depends on the success of our liberals and radicals in waking us from our sloth in time to make necessary changes. Only ultimate destruction can result in following the path of the reactionary or the ultra-conservative.

The radicalism of the Collegian has been of a very mild nature. True enough some of the editorials have intimated that socialization of our resources and a more equitable distribution of our material wealth was desirable. Other editorials have been slightly anti-ROTC. By turning the spotlight of examination of the fraternity and in disclosing its defects draw a parallel with conditions in society we will have to face after graduation—an extremely audacious thing for any individual to do, attack an established institution—the Collegian probably gained its greatest reputation as a radical organ. Considerable muckracking in regard to rotten student political conditions was also engaged in. But as far as analyzing our social structure to its fundamental faults, and then taking active steps to bring about the necessary reorganization—the self-appointed duty of genuine radicalism—we have contributed little.

Most radicals live ahead of their times and seldom live to see the realization of their ideals.
 Radicalism means the loss of social prestige, and those other things most of us hold dear. True radicalism involves self-sacrifice to an ideal the individual considers of more value than his individual self.

We appreciate the compliment of being called a radical and only regret that it is misapplied.

The Snooper

This past weekend brought R. L. Parker back to the Aggie campus and to the Chi Omegas. He was a bit nonplused when he walked into the Chi O. house and yelled "yoo-hoo Chi Omegas," and his calls brought forth only freshmen who were a bit disgusted with his foolishness.

Naturally there was no applause when the Deltas serenaded the Pi Phis. They were then all walking out the front door. Have fun gals—you go to college but once. Seems like a dirty trick on the Deltas though as they planned the serenade for their benefit.

It certainly is too bad that the Deltas didn't get to have their ill-famed barbecue after they trained so religiously for six consecutive Sundays for it. Life is just full of hard knocks—especially for the Deltas.

Naomi Nichols, still faithful to Ralph McAtee, tries so hard to convince everyone that the reason he fell down so many times at the Sig Ep house party was because Ralph has had the measles and lost his sense of balance. Maybe her story is right but still it doesn't sound logical to us and we'd like more evidence before we're firmly convinced.

We certainly are sorry that closing hours kept us from seeing Jim Mayden and Bill Brown wading in Aggieville Sunday. We hear that their costume was unusually funny. Just the idea of it sends us into convulsions so ask them about it and enjoy a good laugh with us.

It was a good thing that the Wareham was not in use Saturday night. The Pi Phis would have had a terrible time getting there with all their boy-friends in "party spirits."

The "Last and Best" varsity turned out to be a flop. Only the "barbs" found time to go.
 The rest of the flashes preferred to make love as the parting will be soon. Rumors say there may be another one Saturday night but we think we'll wait and see how many people are planning on going before we waste the evening.

Things We Could Do Without

Seniors who have already finished their finals and want to play all the time—Esther Hedges singing (through her nose) her own compositions about sitting on damp beaches watching waves beat on the shore. We hope the Pi Phis liked it—Finals—People who insist that Manhattan is the hottest place in Kansas when they know we are planning on enrolling for summer school—Those persons who say they know something swell for the column and then refuse to tell it.

Thank heaven we now bring to a close this column and we don't envy the one who gets it next year. It has been fun but at the same time it has caused some hard feeling. Remember all that has been said has been said in fun and only for the sake of having something to say.
 To keep out of print one must not do the unusual as that is what it takes to make news.

Gentle Gests
By Elma Edwards

Courage isn't a matter of magnitude. Sometimes it takes valor of the highest type just to take one little swallow.

Now will some social benefactor find an inexpensive, certain, and sanitary way of exterminating those household pests, the self-appointed news commentators who get in their best work before anyone else has had a glimpse of the morning paper.

Project for some one with time and money on his hands—start a fund for making a prettier rock garden out of the old chemistry building site.

Live today so that you won't have to rack your brains thinking up things to tell your grandchildren.

After trying to find street corners to wade across in the rain the other day Vacant Vera has begun to wonder if it is really a fair test of rat intelligence to judge them by their actions in a maze.

The appeal of the medical profession and the hold it has over those who practice it in small communities is explained in the "Country Doctor" by Darlene Shelley. "In A Free Land" by Barbara Claassen portrays the small blue pined upon humn life by our industrial machine if the individual is a Mexican of foreign birth. A short poem "Life" by the same author is also included.

Humor by Elma Edwards

Readers of the column "Gentle Gests" in the Collegian will find the same humor in "Shoutaqua" by Elma Edwards. Another article of the humorous variety "On a

A sketch "Transition" by Beth dream of a lifetime is the plot of the story "Empty" by Roberta

 Nelda Carson completes the prose of the Mirror.

Dust Storms Inspire Poem

Anyone who has lived through the recent siege of dust storms will readily appreciate the poem "Dust" written by Winifred Wolf. If you have never stopped to consider just how big a part wire plays in our

 Paul Blackwood will bring that thought emphatically to your mind.

"THEY DON'T GET YOUR WIND" ATHLETES SAY

LOU GEHRIG has played in more than 1500 consecutive big league games. Such an athletic achievement takes "wind"— healthy nerves—"condition." Lou says: "For steady smoking I pick Camels. They're so mild they never get my 'wind' or my nerves."

So mild, athletes smoke as many as they please—and that's real mildness!

Of course you want mildness in a cigarette.
 And the athletes—to whom "wind," healthy nerves, "condition" are vitally important—insist on mildness.

Lou Gehrig, baseball's "Iron Man," says:
 "Camels are so mild they never get my 'wind.'" George Barker, intercollegiate cross-country champion, says: "Camels are so mild, they don't cut my 'wind' in any way." Bobby Walthour, Jr., star of the six-day bike grinds, says: "I've got to have 'wind' in bike racing.
 For my cigarette I long ago chose Camels."

Tommy Armour, speaking for the golf stars, Bruce Barnes for tennis, and Betty Bailey for the aquatic sports—all agree:
 "Camels don't get your 'wind.'"

What this mildness means to you!...It means you can smoke as many Camels as you please. Athletes say Camel's costlier tobaccos never disturb your nerves—never tire your taste—never get your "wind."

'Tie-ology' Is New Method of Reading
Character of Men

Girls, what color tie does your boy friend wear? If he has your guessing by "tie-ology" on him.
 This method of reading character by the color of the worn is as simple as A. B. C. Why, you may even try it on the professors.

If the "big moment" wears lots of blue ties he's a dreamer, has talent, has strong emotions, and likes sweet gentle girls.

If he invariably wears red ties he should be peppy, a good sport, and lots of fun. But he has a hidden and inner self, so govern yourselves accordingly.

If it's your fate to know a wearer of purple ties be careful. Purples indicates passion, a bad temper, jealousy, snobishness, but a deep, deep loyalty. Lavender, watch out, is often a signal of effeminate ways and indicates a critical person.

Gray is ideal. Its wearer will be agreeable and interesting, helpful, kind, considerate, and adaptable.
 Black is deceiving.

The very conservative and very dashing types are both apt to prefer black. With the first it signifies instinctive good taste, a hidden romantic character. With the second it assures smartness, a clever personality and deep understanding.

Green means a breezy attitude, natural wit, a love of sports, lots of energy and ambition. There's a bit of selfishness indicated, however, yellow stands for a colorless and undecided person, one with no certain aim or purpose. Maybe he's shallow, or maybe he's restless and wavering. He laughs a lot about nothing. (Not all of this group wear yellow.) He doesn't fall hard.

Brown is often worn by affectionate people. They make fine friends.
 Cultivate the wearer of brown ties,
 for he will be forgiving.

The chap who continually wears orange ties you'd best check off of your list for he's suspicious, weak-willed, deceiving. Also if he sticks to checked or mottled ties, of no particular color theme, leave him alone, for he is like his ties, commonplace.

"Tie-ology" applies to ties the wearer has purchased himself only.
 If he is wearing out a gift tie don't judge his character on the taste of someone else.

Big Six Delegates Elect King, Ahearn

Former is President of Faculty Representatives and Latter Heads Directors

Dr. H. H. King, head of the Kansas State college department of chemistry, was elected president of the faculty representatives of the Missouri Valley Intercollegiate Athletic association, which is the official name of the Big Six conference.

At the same time Mike Ahearn, director of athletics of Kansas State was elected president of the director's division of the Athletic association. These two men, the senior members of their divisions, were also selected as a committee of two to revise and codify the rules and regulations governing the athletic activities of the conference, which has not been done since 1931.

The meeting of the association was devoted largely to interpretation of rules and the reinstatement of the members of two Missouri minor sport teams who competed against a junior college. Because this is a breach of Big Six ruling it was necessary to reinstate the men whom the board decided were not at fault.

The directors' meeting did some preliminary work on scheduling conference football games for 1937.
This is the first time than any attempt has been made to arrange a schedule for more than a year in advance, but, due to the fact that all conference games must be scheduled before any intercollegial games, it was deemed advisable to schedule the games for the conference over a longer period of time in order to allow the various schools an opportunity for scheduling more advantageous intercollegial games.

This meeting also voted to return to the old round robin schedule in basketball.

W.F.A.C. Has Lead

Margin of 150 Points Assures Team of This Year's Intramural Championship

Although rain has postponed the playing of the softball finals and the semi-finals and finals in both tennis singles and doubles, it is impossible for any team to overtake the W. F. A. C. team in the fight for the intramural championship.

Their lead of approximately 150 points over Delta Tau Delta and Kappa Sigma is sure to withstand all attempts to dislodge them.

Sigma Phi Epsilon and Delta Tau Delta have yet to play their final game in softball which has been postponed for more than a week.
Some of the tennis matches have been played in the gymnasium.

Turner will play young this afternoon for the championship. Young defeated Godfrey yesterday in the gymnasium, 6-1, 3-6, 6-2.

In the semi-finals in the doubles
Turner and Godfrey, Independents, will play Groves and Fritz, Delta Tau Delta, and Tysor and Engleman, Independents, will play Jon-nard and Eckart, Beta Theta Pi.

Turner, Independent, defeated Groves, Delta Tau Delta, in one of the singles semi-finals 6-2, 8-6.

The first six teams in the total points standing not including baseball or tennis are as follows: W. F.
A. C. 242, Delta Tau Delta 209 1-4,
Kappa Sigma 569, Pi Kappa Alpha 531, Sigma Alpha Epsilon 444, and Beta Theta Pi 418.
